Welcome to the 2006-2007 academic year.

Since the first chemistry, philosophy and classics classes were taught at King’s College—U of T’s precursor—in 1843, the Faculty of Arts and Science has evolved into one of the largest and most comprehensive and diverse faculties in North America and established itself as the heart of one of the world’s truly great universities.

This Calendar is your guide to the wide range of academic choices available to you as a student in the Faculty of Arts and Science. With more than 2,000 courses in some 300 programs, the number and variety of options is unparalleled in Canada.

While such choice is exciting, it can also be a little intimidating trying to decide what courses to take. There are many people who work in Arts and Science whose job it is to answer your questions and assist you in getting the most out of your university experience. Your college registrar’s office is your first stop for assistance, including advice about course selection, degree requirements and so on. I encourage you to take advantage of these services, whether you are at the beginning, middle or end of your university career.

The Faculty of Arts and Science is firmly committed to a top quality experience for our students. We value your feedback on all aspects of your student life. Let us know how you feel your courses and professors measure up by completing the Arts and Science Students’ Union course evaluations. Pass along suggestions to your college registrar’s office about ways in which services could be improved or drop a note in the Faculty of Arts and Science Registrar’s office suggestion box. Take part in campus surveys measuring student satisfaction. Through your feedback, we can continue to improve the quality of the educational experience in Arts and Science at U of T.

With best wishes for a great academic year,

Pekka K. Sinervo

Important Notices

While Departmental counsellors and the Registrars of the Colleges are always available to give advice and guidance, it must be clearly understood that THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with prerequisite, co-requisite requirements, etc., for completion of Program details, for proper observance of the Distribution Requirement and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc. Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt; misunderstanding, or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, program or degree requirement.

Degrees Offered on the St. George Campus

Effective for students registering in a degree program in the Faculty for the first time in the 2001 summer session or later, the St. George Campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science has discontinued the 15-course (three-year) B.A. and B.Sc. degrees; ONLY 20-course (four-year) Honours B.A., B.Sc. and B.Com degrees will be available. Students registered in a degree program in the Faculty before the 2001 summer session may still choose a 15-course (three-year) degree.

Changes in Programs of Study, or “Subject POSSts”

The subject POSSts, or programs of study, that our Calendar lists and describes are available for the years to which the Calendar applies. They may not necessarily be available in later years. If the University or the Faculty must change the content of programs of study or withdraw them, all reasonably possible advance notice and alternative instruction will be given. The University, however, will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such changes might cause.

Changes in Courses

For each subject POSSt offered by the University through the Faculty, the courses necessary to complete the minimum requirements of the program will be made available annually. We must, however, reserve the right otherwise to change the content of courses, instructors and instructional assignments, enrolment limitations, pre-requisites and co-requisites, grading policies, and timetables without prior notice.

Regulations and Policies

The University has several policies that are approved by the Governing Council and which apply to all students. Each student must become familiar with the policies. The University will assume that he or she has done so. The rules and regulations of the Faculty are displayed here. Applicable University policies are either fully displayed here or listed here. In applying to the Faculty, the student assumes certain responsibilities to the University and the Faculty and, if admitted and registered, shall be subject to all rules, regulations, and policies cited in the Calendar, as amended from time to time.

Enrolment Limitations

The University makes every reasonable effort to plan and control enrolment to ensure that all of our students are qualified to complete the programs to which they are admitted, and to strike a practicable balance between enrolment and available instructional resources. Sometimes such a balance cannot be struck and the number of qualified students exceeds the instructional resources that we can reasonably make available while at the same time maintaining the quality of instruction. In such cases, we must reserve the right to limit enrolment in the programs, courses, or sections listed in the Calendar, and to withdraw courses or sections for which enrolment or resources are insufficient. The University will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such limitations or withdrawals might cause.

Copyright in Course Lectures

If a student wishes to tape-record, photograph, video-record or otherwise reproduce lecture presentations, course notes or other similar materials provided by instructors, he or she must obtain the instructor’s written consent beforehand. Otherwise all such reproduction is an infringement of copyright and is absolutely prohibited. In the case of private use by students with disabilities, the instructor’s consent will not be unreasonably withheld.

Person I.D. (Student Number)

Each student at the University is assigned a unique identification number. The number is confidential. The University, through the Policy on Access to Student Records, strictly controls access to Person I.D. numbers. The University assumes and expects that students will protect the confidentiality of their Person I.D.’s.

Fees and Other Charges

The University reserves the right to alter the fees and other charges described in the Calendar.

Admission to the Faculty

Detailed admission requirements are contained in the University of Toronto Viewbook, which is available in secondary school guidance offices throughout Ontario or on the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca or through the Faculty of Arts and Science Student Recruitment Office. They are also available on the University's web site for prospective students at www.myfuture.utoronto.ca. Candidates from countries other than Canada should also consult the International Undergraduate Admissions Bulletin available on the Admissions and Awards web site.

Minimum Admission Requirements for Applicants from Ontario Secondary Schools

Applicants must be eligible to receive the Ontario Secondary School Diploma, present six Grade 12 U or M courses including ENG4U/EAE4U, and meet any prerequisites for their intended program of study. Appropriate combinations of OAC and Grade 12 courses will also be considered.

Minimum Admission Requirements for Applicants from Outside Ontario Secondary Schools

The Faculty of Arts and Science is home to a rich and varied student body. Although most of our students are from Southern Ontario, we have students from every province of Canada and from over 90 foreign countries. We encourage application by qualified students from outside Ontario. Applicants must present a satisfactory academic record from recognized academic institutions and meet the requirements listed in the International Undergraduate Admissions Bulletin, available for download from the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca. The specific average or standing required for admission varies from year to year.

Canadian Students

Applicants from the Province of Quebec must present twelve academic C.E.G.E.P. courses. Applicants from all other provinces and territories in Canada must present grade 12 matriculation. For detailed information, check the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

American Students

Applicants from the United States must present Grade 12 matriculation and results from two College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Tests and three Achievement Tests (American College Testing scores are also accepted). For detailed information, check the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

Other Applicants

Information on admission requirements for applicants from overseas is available on the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm.

All Applicants from Outside the Ontario School System

In addition to meeting the Faculty of Arts and Science admission requirements, students intending to enrol in Commerce, Economics or Science programs must have completed, or must take, a full credit secondary school course or equivalent in Calculus which covers the geometric notion of a limit, the differentiation and integration of elementary functions and provides them with a geometric grasp of differentiation and integration in place of Grade 12 Calculus.

Please note that Commerce and Computer Science require a second math.

For further information on acceptable mathematics courses or equivalents, please contact the Department offering the program in which you intend to enrol.

The Faculty of Arts and Science offers a special first-year calculus course entitled MAT 136Y - Calculus and its Foundations, limited to students from outside of Ontario interested in the biological, physical, commerce or computer sciences and commerce and whose high school mathematics preparation is strong but does not include calculus. For more information, consult the Mathematics listing starting on page 309 of this Calendar for a full course description as well as the Registration Handbook and Timetable.

PUMP (Preparing for University Math Program)

PUMP is a non-credit, intensive course specially designed to prepare students for entry-level mathematics courses, like calculus and linear algebra. It is designed primarily for students from outside Ontario who require additional pre-university mathematics background. The course costs $600.00 (subject to change). For more information, see the web site at www.math.utoronto.ca/pump.

English Facility Requirement

Applicants whose first language (language learned at home as a child) is not English may have to present proof of English facility. For details, see the Admissions and Awards web site at www.adm.utoronto.ca.

Other Admission Categories

Students Transferring from University of Toronto at Mississauga and University of Toronto at Scarborough

Students transferring from the University of Toronto at Mississauga and the University of Toronto at Scarborough apply using an internal application available on the Admissions and Awards web site at http://wwwadm.utoronto.ca/adm/adm_other_req/adm_appl_and_deadlines.htm. Students transferring from UTM and UTSC must follow the degree requirements and observe the course exclusions in the St. George Campus Calendar; for example: the St. George campus Distribution Requirement must be completed.
Admission

Admission with Transfer Credit

Candidates with acceptable standing at other universities, or at other divisions of this University (including the University of Toronto at Mississauga and the University of Toronto at Scarborough), may be considered for admission with transfer credit provided that the content of the studies for which credit is sought is considered appropriate for inclusion in a degree program offered by the Faculty. Transfer credits are assessed after admission once the student has completed the online application and paid the assessment fee. Students who have completed a bachelor’s degree, see section entitled “Admission of External Students to a Second Degree Program” in the next column. The Faculty grants up to a maximum of five credits to candidates who have completed a three-year diploma, and a maximum of two generic credits to candidates who have completed a two-year diploma. Otherwise a maximum of ten transfer credits may be granted. Students who have completed post-secondary studies are required to apply for on-admission transfer credit.

Regardless of the number of transfer credits granted, at least five of the six 300+series courses required for an Honours degree must be completed with a passing mark in this Faculty. Newly admitted students have one year from the date of their transfer credit assessment, or from the date of their first registration in the Faculty, whichever is later, to request a reassessment or adjustment. The same time limit applies to all departmental interviews.

Candidates who have completed Arts and Science courses while enrolled in other Divisions of this university or while enrolled as non-degree students in this Faculty prior to degree studies will have these courses and grades included in the academic record.

Admission Restricted to “Part-Time”

Students restricted to a reduced course load on admission may take no more than 2.5 courses over the Fall-Winter Sessions. They may take a maximum of 1.0 course in the Summer Session. If these students wish to transfer to full-time studies, they may apply through their College Registrar after the session in which they pass at least 4 courses in the Faculty with a minimum cumulative Grade Point Average of 2.50. (Transfer credits are not counted.) See also Number of Courses Taken (“Course Load”).

Admission “On Probation”

Candidates who fail to satisfy the Faculty’s admission requirements, but successfully appeal for special consideration of the circumstances which have affected their studies at other universities, or other Faculties or Schools of this University including the University of Toronto at Scarborough and the University of Toronto at Mississauga, may be admitted On Probation. The academic requirements that such students must meet are the same as those required of students who encounter academic difficulties while registered in the Faculty. The academic status will remain, “On Probation”, until the session in which the student attempts his/her fourth course, at which time a further status will be assigned. Students who are admitted on probation and who have retained credits from previous courses in this Faculty will have the total number of retained credits and grades included in the four course attempts. Refer to Section Six: Rules and Regulations: Academic Status, in this Calendar. Students may be at risk of academic suspension from the Faculty and are strongly urged to consult their college registrar for appropriate counselling before registering and if necessary, during the course of their studies.

Admission as a Non-Degree Student

Non-degree students are registered in the Faculty but are not proceeding towards a degree offered by the Faculty. Most Non-degree students have completed a degree and are taking further courses for their own purposes, including admission to graduate studies. Students admitted as degree students cannot become Non-degree students unless they have completed an Honours or Four Year degree, or are returning to the Faculty as Non-degree students on a Letter of Permission from another institution. To apply for admission as a Non-degree student, download the application from the Admissions and Awards web site at http://www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm/adm_other_req/adm_appl_and_deadlines.htm.

Admission of External Students to a Second Degree Program

Applicants with a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science or equivalent from another university who wish to complete a second undergraduate degree in the Faculty of Arts and Science may apply for admission to a second degree program. Before applying, external candidates are urged to determine whether a second degree is actually required for their purposes; for example, a “make-up” year as a non-degree student may satisfy admission requirements for a graduate program. The Faculty grants a maximum of five transfer credits—four at the 100 level and one at the 200 level. It is not possible to complete a second undergraduate degree in the same field as the first degree. Students who have completed post-secondary studies are required to apply for on-admission transfer credit. To apply, check the Admissions and Awards web site at http://www.adm.utoronto.ca/adm/adm_other_req/adm_appl_and_deadlines.htm.

Admission as Non-Degree Visiting Students

Students with valid Letters of Permission from other accredited North American universities who have not been officially admitted to the Faculty of Arts and Science may register as visiting students at Woodsworth College, taking courses for transfer credit at their own home university. Non-degree visiting student registration does not imply acceptance as either a student proceeding towards a degree or a Non-degree student. Students will receive grade point averages and status as outlined in Section 6. Students must observe Faculty policies, including the prohibition on repeating a “passed” course. For application information and deadlines, check www.wwdutoronto.ca/visit or contact Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9 (416-978-5880).

Students who have transferred to other universities, but wish to return to the Faculty on a Letter of Permission should re-register at their original college as non-degree students.

Admission as International Non-Degree Visiting Summer Students

Students with valid Letters of Permission from recognized
International universities who have not been officially admitted to the Faculty of Arts and Science may register as visiting students through the International Summer Program (ISP) at Woodsworth College. Students would take summer courses for transfer credit at their own home university. Non-degree international visiting student registration does not imply acceptance as either a student proceeding towards a degree or a Non-degree student. Students will receive grade point averages and status (see page 462). Students must observe Faculty policies, including the prohibition on repeating a “passed” course. For application information and deadlines, check www.isprogram.utoronto.ca or contact Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9, (416-978-8713).

Admission as Non-Matriculants; Academic Bridging Program

Candidates at least twenty-one years of age who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada and who do not hold the published admission requirements, may apply for admission as non-matriculants. They must present proof of age, and must complete, with high standing, at least one of the Academic Bridging courses offered by Woodsworth College. All candidates should consult Admissions and Awards concerning their eligibility to qualify as a non-matriculant through the Academic Bridging Program. Information on the Academic Bridging Program is provided on page 49 of this Calendar. Further information is also available at www.wdw.utoronto.ca or by contacting Woodsworth College, University of Toronto, Toronto M5S 1A9 (416-978-7487).

Admission of Senior Citizens

Canadian citizens or permanent residents of Canada who are at least sixty-five years of age by the first day of the term, may register in the Faculty at Woodsworth Colleges as part-time Special Students. They do not have to meet the academic requirements for admission. Applicants should contact Woodsworth College at 416-978-4444 for admission and tuition fee information.

Re-Registration in the Faculty

Students previously registered as degree or non-degree students in this Faculty who wish to return after an absence must submit a “Request for Re-registration Form” (charge $24) through their college registrar’s office. Re-registration is necessary for students who have not registered in this Faculty within the previous 12 months.

Students with outstanding accounts may not re-register at the University until these accounts are paid. See page 458 for payment deadlines.

"Request for Re-Registration" forms should be submitted at least one week prior to the fall/winter enrolment window for your year of study (see the Registration Handbook & Timetable for details). Prior to course selection you will need to make sure you are enrolled in an appropriate combination of Subject POSs (programs of study) for your degree. It is advisable for you to make arrangements to see a counsellor at your college to go over changes in policies and procedures as well as to clarify the degree requirements you are following.

"Request for Re-Registration" forms can be accepted until August 18, 2006 for Fall/Winter enrolment although space in courses will be limited at this point.

Students who previously studied as non-degree visiting students do not request re-registration. They must submit a new visiting student application and valid letter of permission through Woodsworth College (see “Admission as Non-Degree Visiting Students” on the previous page for details).

Academic & Personal Counselling

The Colleges

Every Arts and Science student is a member of a college. Think of your college as a familiar neighbourhood within the university. All the colleges provide advising and support services for students. Academic advising, as well as counselling on financial and personal matters, is available through your college registrar's office. Also, each college provides its students with academic support services such as writing skill centres, math aid centres, libraries and computer facilities. And remember, no matter which college you belong to, you have access to all the courses and programs offered in Arts and Science.

The Registrar's Office of each student's college is the focal point for information and advice of all kinds, and should be consulted as soon as any problems of an academic or personal nature are encountered.

Most of the Colleges offer academic support services, such as Writing Laboratories to provide students with assistance in writing assignments, essays and reports; Mathematics Aid Centres; tutorial services; etc. For further information, see the individual College listings (see page 479) or consult the College Registrar.

Students with problems relating to the teaching of courses (lectures, tutorials, evaluation, work-load, etc.) that they cannot resolve with the instructors concerned, can obtain advice and assistance either from the Undergraduate Secretary of the particular Department, or from their College Registrar.

The Departments and College Program offices should be consulted for advice on courses and programs they sponsor. They also have brochures giving more details of courses and programs than is possible in the Calendar. First-year students are particularly urged to consult program sponsors during the Fall-Winter Session for details on enrolling in programs. (All students must enrol in at least one Specialist or Major or two Minor program(s) upon passing four courses.)

Students registered in Divisions other than Arts and Science who have problems with Arts and Science courses should go for advice either to the departmental Undergraduate Secretary or to the registrar of their own Faculty or School.

Office of the Faculty Registrar

The Office of the Faculty Registrar works closely with departments and colleges concerning virtually all matters relating to Arts and Science students: it coordinates counselling, registration and enrolment, student records, transfer credit, petitions, final examinations and graduation. The Office of the Faculty Registrar, located in Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street, Room 1006, can provide general information about registration and enrolment, course listings, building and classroom locations, etc. It is also the location of the University of Toronto Transcript Centre, which produces transcripts for all divisions of the University.

You can also get useful information about Arts and Science from the Faculty Registrar’s web site (www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current). In addition, if you have questions about any aspect of your undergraduate experience, you can e-mail the Faculty Registrar at ask@artsci.utoronto.ca.

University Commitment

The University, in its statement of institutional purpose states: “The University of Toronto is dedicated to fostering an academic community in which the learning and scholarship of every member may flourish with vigilant protection for individual human rights, and a resolute commitment to the principles of equal opportunity.” The University will make every attempt to provide reasonable and appropriate accommodations to persons who have disabilities. Faculty and staff carry a responsibility for creating and maintaining an inclusive environment in their teaching and work settings and responding appropriately to requests for accommodation of a disability. Accessibility Services provides support and advice for faculty and staff regarding appropriate accommodations, information about disabilities, and community resources.

Responsibilities of Students who have Disabilities

Students who request accommodations for their academic programs and related activities at the University are obligated to disclose their disabilities to the respective campus Service for Students with Disabilities, and request accommodations in a timely manner to facilitate the implementation of support and services. It is vitally important that students discuss their needs as early as possible with the Service in order to put accommodations in place. Students must present relevant and up-to-date documentation, as outlined on the website, from an appropriate health care professional.

Support Services For Students

There are offices on all three UofT campuses that work to facilitate the inclusion of students with disabilities into all aspects of university life. The focus is on skills development, especially in areas of self-advocacy and academic skills. Services are provided to students who have a physical, sensory, or learning disability, mental health disability, acquired brain injury or chronic health condition as well as students who have temporary disabilities such as a broken dominant arm.

The Service provides a wide range of support, including:

- Learning disability assessments
- Adaptive technology assessments
- Adaptive technology and assistive devices
- Alternative test and examination arrangements
- Volunteer note taking services
- Sign-language interpreters
Student Services & Resources

- Information on disability-related issues
- Liaison with academic and administrative offices within the University and with off-campus agencies
- On-campus transportation (St. George campus only)

To access the Service, students meet with a counselor to discuss individual needs, accommodations, and strategies for success. Where appropriate, eligible students are referred to one of the professionals on staff such as the Adaptive Technology Equipment Consultant, Learning Disability Specialist, or Occupational Therapist, for assessments to identify strategies and determine accommodations. Any information about a student's disability is confidential and is not shared outside the Service unless the student gives permission. Students are encouraged to meet and discuss their needs with their instructors.

There is a Bursary for Students with a Disability (BSWD) for students who have applied and established eligibility for OSAP. The BSWD helps student with disability related educational costs while attending post-secondary institutions. To access the bursary, students meet with a Service counsellor on their campus. University alternate bursaries are also available for eligible support and services.

The Career Centre offers a wide variety of programs and services to meet the career planning and employment needs of students and recent graduates. To access these programs and services, students are encouraged to register with the Career Centre web site at www.careers.utoronto.ca. Career Centre Online provides information on all upcoming events, allows student sign up for in-house workshops and seminars, practice interviews, resume clinics, career talk appointments and special events.

Summer/Part-time/Temporary Employment, and Volunteer Opportunities: Thousands of employment and volunteer opportunities are advertised on our web site that can help students gain valuable skills and experience.

Internships: Students looking for a career-related experience that offers an opportunity to work, receive training and mentoring, and opportunities to network are encouraged to view the internship database. Internship opportunities are listed in research, international development, social and community work, history, public service to name a few.

Graduating Students Employment Service: A number of Fortune 500 companies, government agencies and organizations who anticipate their hiring needs six-to-eight months in advance, come on campus to recruit the graduating class.

Recent Graduates Employment Service: This service assists recent University of Toronto alumni (up to two years) seeking immediate full-time employment by helping them develop an effective self-marketing plan. Employment opportunities listed with this service represent a cross-section of what is available in the current employment market.

Career and Employment Resources: The Career Resource Library has a unique and specialized collection of occupational, educational and employment related resources.

Career Counselling/Career Talks: Counsellors provide career development advice and coaching to students by helping them identify skills, clarify options, and teaching them how to research occupations.

Career Development and Employment Search Workshops: A variety of workshops are offered to assist students with career planning, conducting a strategic employment search, writing effective resumes and preparing for employment interviews.

Extern Career Exploration Program: A job shadowing opportunity allowing students to observe a professional in the workplace. Scheduled during Reading Week and in May.

Resume Clinic: Students preparing resumes and covering letters can have them reviewed before sending them out to potential employers.

Practice Interviews: Students interested in fine-tuning their interview skills can schedule a 30-minute one-on-one session with a counsellor and receive valuable feedback and tips on how to improve their performance.

Employer panels, Industry talks, Great Careers Series, and Career fairs: The Career Centre invites employers and recent alumni to come on campus and participate in events that will offer students and recent graduates insights, advice and networking opportunities. They are scheduled throughout the academic year.

Student Outreach Service: Special presentations can be arranged for specific departments and delivered on campus rather than at the Career Centre. A minimum of group size of 30 is required.

Counselling & Learning Skills Service

The Counselling and Learning Skills Service provides students with professional counselling for personal concerns such as anxiety, depression, relationship problems, emotional trauma from abuse or assault, prolonged stress. Client confidentiality is strictly observed.

Equity Issues

The Equity Issues Advisory Group is a coalition of offices charged with promoting the equality of all persons at the University of Toronto. The Group, primarily through the convener, advises the President & senior members of the University administration on how the University can best realize its commitment to human rights & provides guidance on specific equity issues as they arise. While each office operates independently, the officers meet regularly to share & exchange expertise & information & to co-ordinate priorities & activities of the offices.

Any member of the University community is invited to contact the appropriate office with questions, complaints or issues. Many of the offices have a range of education & information resources. If you are not sure which office is most appropriate for your particular concern, please call the general inquiry line.

Office of the University Ombudsperson

As part of the University’s commitment to ensuring that the rights of its individual members are protected, the University Ombudsperson investigates complaints from any member of the University not handled through regular University channels. The Ombudsperson offers advice and assistance and can recommend changes in academic or administrative procedures where this seems justified. In handling a complaint, the Ombudsperson has access to all relevant files and information and to all appropriate University officials. The Ombudsperson handles all matters in strict confidence, unless the individual involved approves otherwise. The Ombudsperson is independent of all administrative structures of the University and is accountable only to Governing Council.

The Ombudsperson is available by appointment at all three UofT campuses (for an appointment, please telephone or e-mail us). For additional information, please visit our website at: www.utoronto.ca/ombudsperson.

Psychiatric Service

The Psychiatric Service offers assessment and/or treatment for students with emotional and psychological concerns such as anxiety, depression, obsessions and compulsions, phobias, relationship difficulties, eating and body image issues, attention and/or concentration problems, problems with sleep and substance abuse.

Clinical staff possess expertise in a wide variety of therapeutic methods including individual, couple and group psychotherapy. This is a confidential service available to all full and part-time students who have paid their incidental fees and is fully covered by OHIP, other provincial insurance plans or the University health Insurance Plan (UHIP).

Psychiatric Service is located in the Koffler Student Services Centre at 214 College Street, Main Floor. No referral is necessary. To make an appointment, drop in or call 416-978-8070. For further information visit our Web site at www.utoronto.ca/psychservices.

Sexual Harassment Office

Sexual harassment is unwanted sexual attention & includes any unwelcome pressure for sexual favours, or any offensive emphasis on the sex or sexual orientation of another person which creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or learning environment. The Sexual Harassment Office deals with complaints under the University’s Policy & Procedures: Sexual Harassment. The policy covers complaints of harassment based on sex or sexual orientation, sets out a formal resolution procedure & provides for mediation, counselling & public education. Members of the University may also contact the office on an informal basis for information or assistance in resolving an issue.

Calls to the office, & the complaints procedure itself, are confidential.

You can contact the office just for advice or information: you are not committing yourself to any formal process.

Responsibilities of the Sexual Harassment Office include:

- providing information & advice to all parties regarding sexual harassment complaints;
- acting as a non-partisan mediator in complaints;
- providing referrals to other offices & resources when appropriate;
- initiating & conducting public education activities such as talks, workshops, & the distribution of resource materials.

It is advisable to apply for residence when you apply to the University—do not wait until you have been admitted.
Student Services & Resources

Student Exchange

The International Student Exchange Office (ISXO)

The World Could Be Yours!

Arts & Science students in all departments are encouraged to participate in the international and Canadian exchanges offered through the International Student Exchange Office. These exchanges allow you to experience new cultures and languages in an academic setting while earning credits towards your U of T degree. Exchanges may be for one term or a full year, and most are open to both undergraduate and graduate students.

Cost

The cost of an exchange includes your U of T tuition plus incidental fees, along with the cost of living and studying abroad. While on exchange, you are still eligible to receive government assistance such as OSAP. There are also many specific scholarships and bursaries run by various U of T offices, and the ISXO itself administers a needs-based bursary program; for exchange students who qualify, this bursary will usually cover at least the cost of airfare.

Eligibility

In general, undergraduate or graduate U of T students who have completed at least one year of full-time studies, with a minimum CGPA of 2.5, are eligible to apply. You must also achieve a minimum annual GPA of 2.5 for the year during which you apply. A few exchange programs do have higher GPA cutoffs, and others have special language requirements.

Destinations

Arts & Science students may choose from almost 100 universities in the following locations: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, China including Hong Kong, the Czech Republic, Denmark, England, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Scotland, Singapore, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, the USA, Wales, and the West Indies. Please check our website for an up-to-date list of listing of our exchange partners.

Application

Applications for most programs are due mid-January, but you should always check the ISXO website regarding the specific exchanges that interest you.

Summer Abroad Program

Your ticket to a brighter future!

Prepare yourself for a future in the global village by participating in one of the highly reputed Faculty of Arts & Science Summer Abroad programs. These programs are designed to give students an exciting international experience that fosters an awareness and appreciation for the people, cultures, and social and economic systems of the host country.

Locations
Administered through Woodsworth College, the 2006 programs are offered in:

- Australia (Sydney)
- Central Europe (based in the Czech Republic)
- China (Hong Kong)
- England (Oxford)
- Ecuador (Amazon & Galapagos)
- France (Tours)
- Germany (Berlin)
- Italy (Siena)
- Japan (Tokyo)
- Jordan (Madaba)
- Mexico (Guadalajara)

Please check our website in the fall to see the 2007 program list!

Courses
Students take specially designed University of Toronto undergraduate degree credit courses, relevant to the location, for a period of 4 to 6 weeks. The courses have field trips that complement and highlight the academic materials. Courses are taught predominantly by University of Toronto professors and, with the exception of language courses, are taught in English. Typically, full credit second and third year courses are offered in disciplines such as history, political science, management, literature, architecture, fine art, religion, and languages. Most courses do not have pre-requisites.

All Summer Abroad courses and grades show on students’ transcripts as regular U of T credits and are calculated into their CGPA.

Application
All University of Toronto students in good standing are eligible to apply. There is no minimum GPA requirement.

Applications are available in early January. The application deadline for most programs is March 1, but spaces in some programs fill up well in advance. Late applications will be accepted if space and time permit.

Financial aid is available for some programs. The application deadline for awards offered through Woodsworth College is February 1.

Professional Experience Year
The Professional Experience Year (PEY) provides students an opportunity to gain work experience in fields related to their programs of study. Full-time students with a CGPA of at least 2.0, with a minimum of 10.0, and a maximum of 15.0 full course equivalents, may apply to spend a twelve-to-sixteen-month period working in a related industry. This internship period normally occurs after second year for students completing a B.A./B.Sc., or after second or third year for students enrolled in an Hon. B.A./Hon. B.Sc. The 12 to 16-month period of employment, normally beginning in May, gives students the opportunity to become fully acquainted with the work environment. PEY students are often involved in challenging work projects from inception to completion, and are paid at competitive workforce salaries. They gain new insights into their academic and professional goals and return to their studies with a greater understanding of their discipline from a practical, hands-on perspective.

Students pay a one-time-only registration fee at the time of application. If a position is accepted, a placement fee will be required from the student at the time of fall registration, no later than the first Friday after classes begin in September. Incidental fees granting part-time student status and allowing continued access to University facilities and services are also required at fall registration. The PEY Program strives to provide opportunities for all students registered in it, but cannot guarantee employment. For further information, contact the PEY Office at 416-978-6649 or visit www.peyonline.com.

Co-op Japan Program
The Co-op Japan Program is a Canadian university/college based, international co-op/internship program linking some of the best engineering, science, business and arts discipline undergraduate students from across the country with highly committed Japanese businesses. The Co-op Japan Program formally integrates an undergraduate student's Canadian academic studies with valuable work experience in a Japanese company. The program is open to universities and colleges nationally and is currently administered from The University of British Columbia.

The Co-op Japan Program’s mandate is to provide Canadian undergraduate students with career-related work experience within a Japanese company during their undergraduate curriculum and at the same time to provide Japanese companies with the opportunity to employ highly capable and motivated Canadian undergraduate students.

The Program is open to undergraduate co-op students who meet certain eligibility requirements detailed on the program website. Applications can be made throughout the year for January, May or September start dates; students are encouraged to apply at least eight months prior to their requested start date.

For more information check the website at www.thecoopjapanprogram.com.

Student Unions and Associations
The Arts and Science Students’ Union (ASSU)
The Arts and Science Students’ Union (ASSU) represents over 20,000 full-time undergraduates in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George Campus. ASSU is an umbrella organization with 40 student Course Unions. Getting involved
Awards

For students with particularly noteworthy academic results, there are three specific forms of recognition:

Recognition of Exceptional Academic Achievement: “Dean’s List”

This designation is given to degree students in the Faculty having a Cumulative Grade Point Average of 3.50 or higher, at the end of the Fall-winter or Summer Session in which the fifth, tenth, fifteenth and twentieth course, offered by the Faculty and taken for credit, has been passed.

The Dean of the Faculty sends a signed certificate to each student. There is no monetary value. Students who satisfy these criteria but do not receive the certificate at the end of the appropriate session should write to the Faculty Registrar, Faculty of Arts and Science, Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George St., Toronto ON, M5S 3G3. Dean’s List certificates are not issued at the end of the Fall Session.

Recognition of Exceptional Academic Achievement: “High Distinction” and “Distinction”

Students who graduate with a Cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above are described as graduates “With High Distinction”. This achievement is noted on the diploma and transcript.

Students who graduate with a Cumulative GPA of 3.20 to 3.49 are described as graduates “With Distinction”. This achievement is noted on the diploma and transcript.

*Note: the Cumulative GPA must be based on at least 5.0 credits taken in the Faculty and used for degree credit.

Faculty Scholarships

The Faculty offers many academically-based scholarships and other awards to exceptional degree students. Full details of these scholarships are available on the Faculty web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/scholarships.

Language Citation Program

The University of Toronto wishes to enhance study in languages. Through the Language Citation program, students are encouraged to pursue language study at more advanced levels. This program is not intended to take the place of a Minor which has language proficiency as a significant element, but is intended to provide an incentive to students who may be interested in intensive language study and language proficiency, but who do not wish to complete a major or minor. Students fulfilling the criteria for the citation, will have the citation noted on their transcripts along with the Minor.

The University of Toronto is an ideal place for students to achieve this proficiency. Our students live in a country that promotes multiculturalism and our university is located in one of the world’s most diverse cities. In addition, we offer significant language opportunities in both ancient and modern languages. We offer a variety of study abroad programs and the number of such programs will expand. As our students seek further international study, work opportunities, and post-graduate study, the citation program allows students to take better advantage of our rich language offerings. The Language Citation can be earned in any language, modern or ancient, which provides sufficient advanced training. The following departments offer citations in languages: Classics, East Asian, French, German, Italian, Near and Middle Eastern Studies, Spanish and Portuguese, and Slavic Languages and Literatures. Typically students will take four semesters beyond the first year. Students must earn a minimum grade of B- in each course. Students may take courses taught in the target language, e.g. literature or linguistics, as part of the citation program. Students for whom English is not their native language and who wish to earn a citation in their home language should consult with the relevant department for approval to participate in the language citation program. Students wishing to earn credits in the country where the language they are studying is spoken, should discuss study abroad programs with the department.
Languages typically offering the citation option are: Akkadian, Ancient Greek, Aramaic, Chinese, Czech, Egyptian Hieroglyphs, Finnish, French, German, Hebrew, Hungarian, Irish, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Latin, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Turkish, Ukrainian and Yiddish.

There are other languages in which advanced courses in literature and culture are offered following a two-year language sequence. These languages could also be used for the citation program. Here are included: Bengali, Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian, Hindi, and Persian.

Citations in other languages could be arranged through consultation with individual academic units.

Students completing a second Faculty of Arts & Science degree: please see “Second Degree Requirements” below.

In the requirements below the word “course” means one full course equivalent—a “full course” or two “half-courses”; in the Programs and Courses section, “full courses” are listed as Y1 courses, and “half-courses” are listed as H1 courses.

Honours Bachelor of Arts/Honours Bachelor of Science

General Degree Requirements

Please note: in the requirements below the word “course” means one full-course equivalent.

To qualify for an Honours Bachelor of Arts (Hon.B.A.) or Honours Bachelor of Science (Hon. B.Sc.), you must:

(a) Obtain standing (i.e., receive 50% or more) in at least 20 courses that meet the following criteria:
   1. No more than six courses may be 100-series.
   2. At least six courses must be 300+series courses (no more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six).
   3. No more than fifteen courses may have the same three-letter designator (“AST”, “ENG”, etc.).

(b) Complete one of the following program requirements
   One major program (which includes at least one course at the 400-level) or
   Two major programs, which must include 12 different courses
   or
   One major and two minor programs, which must include 12 different courses or
   Students registered in the Faculty before the 2000-2001 session may also complete three minor programs, which must include 12 different courses; this option is discontinued for students registering for the first time in 2000-2001 and thereafter.

   Note: whether you receive an Hon. B.A. or an Hon. B.Sc. depends on the program(s) you complete; see Program Requirements, below.

(c) Complete the Distribution Requirement (see page 25).

(d) Obtain a Cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation. Students who meet all the requirements for the Hon.B.A./Hon.B.Sc. except for the GPA requirement may elect to graduate with a B.A./B.Sc. degree provided they are in Good Standing (i.e., CGPA is 1.50 or more).

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Science

Effective for all students registered for the first time in a degree program in the Faculty of Arts and Science for the summer 2001 session and thereafter; the St. George Campus of the Faculty has discontinued the 15 course (three-year) B.A. and B.Sc. degrees. Students registered in a degree program in the Faculty before Summer 2001 may still choose a 15-course (three-year) degree; these students should consult their college registrar's office.

Students with a B.A. or B.Sc. who return to upgrade that degree to an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc. must exchange the B.A. or B.Sc. for an Honours degree. A B.A. leads only to an Hon. B.A.; a B.A. CANNOT be upgraded to an Hon. B.Sc., and a B.Sc. CANNOT be upgraded to an Hon. B.A. Students who upgrade to an Honours degree are not eligible to attend the convocation ceremony for the upgrade.

Different degree regulations apply to students who first registered in the Faculty before Winter Session 1992; these students should consult their College Registrar.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of the given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:

1. a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/early October) from the program sponsor;
2. a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);
3. a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/late October).

“Second Degree” Requirements

Students must petition through their college by June 30 to begin a second degree. Before applying, students are urged to determine whether a second degree is actually required for their purposes; for example, a “make-up” year as a non-degree student may satisfy admission requirements for graduate school. Students are governed by the rules of the Faculty in place at the time they commence their second degree. Students who already hold a degree from the Faculty of Arts and Science, the University of Toronto at Scarborough or the University of Toronto at Mississauga may complete a second degree only of an alternate type (i.e. if a student has a B.A. degree then he/she may not complete a second B.A. degree). The Faculty normally exempts students from the first year of the degree requirements (five (5.0) credits: four 100-level and one 200-level), regardless of the number of previous degrees held. Second degree candidates may not repeat courses taken in a previous degree; they may however, count such courses towards satisfying pre-requisite and program requirements, on approval of the department/programs office concerned. A new Grade Point average will commence with the second degree courses.

Program Requirements

Completion of a program of study (also known as a subject POS) is only one part of the general degree requirements. Variations made in program details for individual students do not in any way affect degree requirements.

Meaning of “Program”

Programs are groupings of courses in one or more disciplines; these groupings are listed with each college or department entry in the “Programs and Courses” section of this Calendar.

Types of programs are:

Specialist Program: a sequence of between 9 and 17.5 courses in one or more disciplines. Specialist programs must include at least four 300+series courses, one of which must be a 400-series course.

Major Program: a sequence of between 6 and 8 courses in one or more disciplines. Major programs must include at least four 300+series courses.

Minor Program: a sequence of 4 courses in one or more disciplines. Minor programs must include at least one 300+series course.
Degree Requirements

PLEASE NOTE

Courses may have prerequisites not listed in the program but which must be taken. Programs which list optional courses do not necessarily list prerequisites. Students are responsible for fulfilling prerequisites; students enrolled in courses for which they do not have the published prerequisites may have their registration in those courses cancelled at any time without warning.

Program Requirements

1. You must enrol in at least one and no more than three subject POSts (of which only two can be majors or specialists), in the session in which you pass your fourth course (see the Registration Handbook and Timetable for details). Students admitted with transfer credit for four courses or more must do this immediately upon admission.

2. You must meet any enrolment requirements for a program as stated in the Calendar. If you do not meet these requirements, you may be removed from the subject POSts.

3. The subject POSts(s) you complete determine whether you receive a science or an arts degree upon graduation. In the “Programs and Courses” section, each program indicates the type of degree to which it leads. For example, in the English section, the English Specialist listing is followed by “Arts program”; the Geology Major is followed by “Science program”, etc.

To receive an Hon. B.Sc., for example:

One Specialist in a science area leads to an Hon. B.Sc.;

One Major in a science area plus one Major in an arts area leads to either an Hon. B.Sc. or an Hon.B.A. - your choice (two Majors must include 12 different courses);

In combinations of one Major + two Minors, two of the three programs must be in science areas for an Hon. B.Sc. (combinations must include 12 different courses).

Note:

In biological and science programs there may be occasions when scientific observations are made by students on themselves or on fellow students. These include common diagnostic or immunization procedures. Unless a valid reason exists, students are expected to participate in such exercises. If any investigative work involving student participation does not form part of the program, participation is voluntary.

Self-Designed Programs

Students may design their own Programs, which must be substantially different from any Program in this Calendar. Such a Program, if formally adopted by the student’s College on the basis of its academic rigour and coherence, and if approved by the Committee on Academic Standards, will be accepted as fulfilling the degree requirement for certification in a Program (transcripts indicate only “Completed Self-designed Programs approved by ‘X’ College”). Since the approval process is necessarily a long one, students following this alternative must discuss this process with their College Registrar immediately after completion of the fourth course in the Faculty.

Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) Degree Requirements

For the complete Commerce degree, program and course listing, see page 38.

Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) Degree Requirements

To qualify for a Bachelor of Commerce degree, a student must:

(a) Complete twenty full-course equivalents, including no more than six 100-series courses;

(b) Complete the Commerce and Finance Program (see below);

(c) Complete the Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. students (see below);

(d) Complete five full course equivalents from disciplines outside the Management (MGT), Economics (ECO), and Commerce (COM); (courses taken to fulfill (b) and (c) may be also counted towards meeting this requirement; see also III in Commerce and Finance Program below).

(e) Obtain standing (i.e., complete with a grade of 50% or more) in at least six 300- or 400-series courses, including at least one 400-series course (no more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six).

(f) Achieve a cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of a given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:

1. a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/late August) from the program sponsor;

2. a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);

3. a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/early September).

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. Students

As part of the degree requirements for the B.Com., STUDENTS MUST COMPLETE ONE FULL COURSE EQUIVALENT IN EACH OF THE HUMANITIES, THE SOCIAL SCIENCES AND THE SCIENCES AREAS as defined below:

1. ONE course equivalent must be from the Humanities (see Page 25).

2. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Social Sciences (MGT courses may be used to meet this requirement with the exception of MGT 120H1, 121H1 and COM 110H1, which have NO Distribution Requirement status; see Page 25).

3. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Sciences (see Page 25), with the following exceptions: All 100-series courses in CSC, MAT, STA; STA 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 352Y1.

4. NOTE: transfer students from UTM or Scarborough must meet the St. George Distribution Requirement.
Degree Requirements

The Distribution Requirement

On the St. George Campus Arts and Science courses fall into three areas:

- Humanities
- Social Science
- Sciences

To qualify for any degree you must complete at least one full course equivalent in each of these three areas, for a total of 3.0 full course equivalents.

Courses that you take as part of your Specialist, Major or Minor programs may also be used to count towards the Distribution Requirement.

To help you understand the Distribution Requirement, there is a sample student course enrolment on next page.

The courses in these three areas are as follows:

Humanities

Courses with the three-letter designators below are Humanities courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.)

- Architecture (ARC course designators)
- Classics (CLA course designators)
- Drama (DRM course designators)
- East Asian Studies (EAS course designators)
- English (ENG course designators)
- Estonian (EST course designators)
- Fine Art History (FAH course designators)
- Finnish (FIN course designators)
- French (FCS, FRE, FLS course designators)
- German (GER course designators)
- Greek (GRK course designators)
- History (HIS course designators; except HIS 103Y1 Humanities First-Year Seminars (HUM199 course designators)
- Hungarian (HUN course designators)
- Italian (ITA course designators)
- Latin (LAT course designators)
- Music (MUS, HMU, TMU course designators)
- Near & Middle Eastern Civilizations (NMC and NML course designators)
- Philosophy (PHL course designators)
- Portuguese (PRT course designators)
- St. Michael's College Courses (SMC course designators)
- Slavic Languages & Literatures (SLA course designators)
- Spanish (SPA course designators)
- Visual Studies (VIS course designators; listed with Fine Art)
- World Literature (WLD course designators)

Social Science

Courses with the three-letter designators below are Social Science courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.)

- Archaeology (ARH course designators)
- Economics (ECO course designators)
- Mathematics: MAT 123H, 124H and 133Y are Social Science courses; ALL other MAT are Science courses
- Management (MGT course designators), except MGT 120H, 121H, 123H, which have NO Distribution Requirement status
- Political Science (POL course designators)
- Sociology (SOC course designators)
- Social Science First Year Seminars (SSC 199Y1 course designators)
- Woodsworth College (WDW course designators)

Science

Courses with the three-letter designators below are SCIENCE courses. (In addition, other designators have courses in more than one area; these designators are listed on the next page.) Some restrictions in the applicability of 100-series Science courses apply to B.Com. students; see the Commerce Programs listing starting on page 38 of this Calendar for more information.

- Actuarial Science (ACT course designators)
- Anatomy (ANA course designators)
- Applied Mathematics (APM course designators; listed with Mathematics)
- Astronomy (AST course designators)
- Biochemistry (BCB, BCH course designators)
- Biology (BIO course designators; except JBS 229H)
- Botany (BOT course designators)
- Chemistry (CHM course designators)
- Computer Science (CSC course designators)
- Geology (GLG course designators)
- Human Biology (HMB course designators); all HMB courses except HMB438H1 and 498Y1, which are both Humanities and Social Science courses
- Immunology (IMM course designators)
- Laboratory Medicine & Pathobiology (LMP course designators)
- Mathematics (MAT course designators); all Mathematics courses except 123H, 124H, 133Y1, which are Social Science courses
- Materials Science (MSE course designators)
- Molecular Genetics & Microbiology (MGY course designators)
- Nutritional Sciences (NFS course designators)
- Pharmacology (PCL course designators)
- Pharmaceutical Chemistry (PHC course designators); all PHC courses except PHC470H1, which is a Social Science course
- Physical Education & Health (PHE course designators)
- Physics (PHY course designators)
- Planetary Science (PLN course designators)
- Physiology (PSL course designators)
- Psychology (PSY course designators)
- Science First-Year Seminars (SCI 199Y course designators)
- Statistics (STA course designators); all STA courses except 220H, 221H,250H, 255H, 257H, JBS 229H which have NO Distribution Requirement status)
- Zoology (ZOO course designators)
Degree Requirements

Courses Which Can Fall in More than One of the Three Areas

To find which area each course is in, check the individual course descriptions:

- Aboriginal Studies (ABS course designators)
- Anthropology (ANT course designators)
- Asia-Pacific Studies (ASI course designators)
- Diaspora & Transnational Studies (DTS course designators)
- Environment (ENV course designators)
- European Studies (EUR course designators)
- Geography (GGR course designators)
- History & Philosophy of Science and Technology (HPS course designators)
- Innis College (IN1 course designators)
- Interdisciplinary First Year Seminars (INX course designators)
- Joint courses (JX course designators)
- Latin American Studies (LAS course designators)
- Linguistics (LIN course designators)
- New College (NEW course designators)
- Religion (RLG course designators)
- Trinity College (TRN course designators)
- University College (UNI course designators)
- Victoria College (VIC course designators)
- Women and Gender Studies (WGS course designators)

Sample Student Course Enrolment Allowing for Distribution Requirements

Sokit wants to do a major in political science and a major in anthropology. She needs ANT 100Y1 for the first year of an anthropology major and POL 103Y1 or 105Y1 or 108Y1 for the first year of the political science major. She is also interested in sociology, so chooses SOC 101Y1.

The ANT, POL, and SOC courses are in Social Sciences, so they fulfill that part of the Distribution Requirement. She needs the following to fulfill the rest of her Distribution Requirement:

One course from Humanities
One course from Sciences

Sokit thinks that a History course would be a useful complement to her Political Science interest; at the same time it will fulfill the Humanities Distribution Requirement, so she enrols in HIS 104Y1: Ten Days that Shook the World.

To fulfill the Science Distribution Requirement she chooses ENV 200Y1: Science and the Environment.

Sokit's first year courses (and their respective Distribution Requirement areas) are thus as follows:

- ANT 100Y1: Introduction to Anthropology (Social Science)
- ENV 200Y1: Science and the Environment (Sciences)
- HIS 104Y1: Ten Days that Shook the World (Humanities)
- POL 105Y1: Ethics & the Public Sphere (Social Science)
- SOC 101Y1: Introduction to Sociology (Social Science)

Sokit's course choices fulfill the first year course requirements for the programs she wants to pursue; they also fulfill all three Distribution Requirements, giving her lots of flexibility in future years.

Humanities Courses for Science and Social Science Students

These courses are especially designed for science and social science students to fulfill the Humanities Distribution Requirement; none of them has OAC/Grade 12 prerequisites.

- CLA201H1: Latin and Greek in Scientific Terminology
- CLA203H1: Science in Antiquity
- CLA204H1: Introduction to Classical Mythology
- CLA206H1: Ancient Astronomy
- FCS195H1: French Culture from Napoleon to Asterix
- FCS298H1: French Culture and Asia
- HPS100H1: Introduction to History and Philosophy of Science
- HPS210H1: Scientific Revolutions I (formerly HPS200Y1)

Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1
Degree Requirements

HPS211H1 Scientific Revolutions II 26L, 13T
(formerly HPS200Y1)
Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrodinger, Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course
Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS275H1 Science and Technology in The Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part I: The Mathematical Sciences and their Practical Applications
First part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of the exact sciences, including mathematics, astronomy, optics, and cartography.
Exclusion: NMC379H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS276H1 Science and Technology in The Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part II: The Life Sciences Second part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of biological and life sciences, including history of medicine, botany, agriculture, and alchemy.
Exclusion: NMC379H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HUM199H1 First-Year Seminar
The Faculty offers several different sections of HUM 199H1/Y1, open only to students newly-admitted to the St. George campus of the Faculty. Check the First-Year Handbook for detailed course descriptions.

JEF100Y1 The Western Tradition 78S
An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary “classic”? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition — human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny — been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as: Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostoevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French.)

Science Courses for Humanities & Social Science Students

These courses are especially designed for humanities and social science students to fulfill the Science Distribution Requirement; none of them has OAC/Grade 12 prerequisites.

AST101H1 The Sun and Its Neighbours 26L
Our place in the Universe. Phenomena we see in the sky. What we know about the Sun, the planets and comets, and the formation of the solar system - and how we know it. What makes planets suitable for life. Finding out about the nearest stars and their planets.
This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.
Exclusion: AST121H1, 210H1, 221H1. Also excluded are CIV101H1, any 100- or higher-series CHM/PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100H1, PHY201H1, 205H1, CHM200Y1)

AST201H1 Stars and Galaxies 26L
What we know about the properties and life cycles of stars, of galaxies, and of the Universe itself - and how we know it. How astronomers develop methods for understanding phenomena that span such vast ranges in distance and time.
This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.
Exclusion: AST121H1, 210H1. Also excluded are CIV101H1 and any 100- or higher-series CHM or PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100H1, 201H1, 205H1, CHM200Y1)

AST210H1 Great Moments in Astronomy 26L
The history of Western astronomy: Copernican Revolution to twentieth century astrophysics. Emphasis is placed on the process of discovery which has led to major advances in knowledge about the Universe. The course ends with an outline of one of the most significant puzzles of our day and an examination of the potential for a new revolution in knowledge in our lifetime.
Exclusion: AST101H1, 121H1, 201H1

BOT202Y1 Plants and Society 52L
The continuing impact of new scientific technologies on society through changes in agriculture, industry and the economy. Plant domestication, genetic resource conservation, biological invasions, environmental pollution, global warming, genetic engineering and biotechnology. Evaluation of the social implications of advances in modern plant science.
Exclusion: All BIO courses; all BOT and ZOO courses except ZOO200Y1, if taken previously or at the same time.
This course is intended primarily for Humanities and Social Science students

CHM200Y1 The Role of Chemistry in Modern Society 52L
Human beings are constructed physically of chemicals, live in a sea of chemicals and are very dependent for their material quality of life on the modern chemical industry. This course is especially for non-science students who wish to develop a better understanding of the impact and importance of chemistry in industry, society and the environment. The course should be of particular interest to students with interests in economics, commerce, management, politics, psychology and teaching.
Exclusion: Students who have taken one or more university-level courses in chemistry require permission of the instructor.
Prerequisite: completion of 5 full courses at the university level

CSC104H1 The Why and How of Computing 26L, 13T
An introduction to computing for non-computer scientists.
History of computing machinery; representation of data and their interaction with operations; hardware, software, operating systems; problem solving and algorithms; social issues in computing; a gentle introduction to programming. This course is an introduction to becoming actively engaged with computing, not a tutorial on using particular computer applications.
Exclusion: SMC104H1; VIC104H1; any CSC course.

ENV200Y1 Assessing Global Change: Science and the Environment 52L, 12T
The perspective scientists bring to the understanding and resolution of environmental concerns having global implications:
atmospheric systems and climate change, the biosphere and conservation of biodiversity.
Exclusion: BIO150Y1 (applies only to students in Arts & Science)
This Science course is intended to fulfill the environmental literacy requirement for students in the BA programs of the Centre for Environment or the science distribution course requirement for Commerce, Humanities and Social Science students.

GLG103H1 Geology in Public Issues 26L
Geologic hazards: earthquakes, volcanoes, landslides, tsunamis. The distribution and politics of natural resources, including petroleum and ore deposits. Nuclear power and nuclear waste disposal.
Degree Requirements

Global change: the geologic record of hot and cold climates, and how the earth survives.

GLG105H1 Evolution of the Earth: Controversy over the Last 2300 Years

The evolution of ideas about the origin and development of the earth from the Athenians to the 20th Century. With attention on whether the earth has an infinite or a finite life; on the evolution and disappearance of species; on the origin of oceans, continents and mountains; on the forces that have shaped the earth’s surface; and on the courage of scientists in confronting the religious and political views of their time.

GLG110H1 Introductory Geology

The nature and evolution of the Earth; plate tectonics; rocks and minerals; volcanism; geological time; fossils; geology of Ontario; environmental issues.

Exclusion: JGG150Y1

GLG110H1 is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

GLG205H1 Confronting Global Change

The emergence of society as a major geological force is considered in terms of the evolving debate about the consequences of human activity for the habitability of our planet. Major issues such as climate change, environmental pollution, and depletion of natural resources are examined.

HPS210H1 Scientific Revolutions I

Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS211H1 Scientific Revolutions II

Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrödinger; Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.

This counts as a Humanities or Science course

Exclusion: HPS200Y1

JUM202H1 Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit

A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)

Exclusion: JUM102H1

JUM202H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

PHY100H1 The Magic of Physics

In 1915 Einstein presented a quartet of papers that revolutionized our understanding of gravity. He commented: “Hardly anyone who has truly understood this theory will be able to resist being captivated by its magic.” The General Theory of Relativity is not the only theory of physics that is magical, and Einstein was not physics’ only magician. We uncover the wonders of the classical and the quantum world courtesy of Galileo, Newton, Maxwell, Einstein, Heisenberg and others. Topics include planetary motion, the nature of light, time travel, black holes, matter waves, Schrödinger’s cat, and quarks. No mathematics is required, and any necessary elementary classical physics is reviewed.

Exclusion: PHY110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently

PHY101H1 Patterns from Chaos

The universe is not a rigid clockwork, but neither is it formless and random. Instead, it is filled with highly organized, evolved structures that have somehow emerged from simple rules of physics. Examples range from the structure of galaxies to the pattern of ripples on windblown sand, to biological and even social processes. These phenomena exist in spite of the universal tendency towards disorder. How is this possible? Self-organization challenges the usual reductionistic scientific method, and begs the question of whether we can ever really understand or predict truly complex systems.

Exclusion: PHY110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently

PHY201H1 Concepts of Physics

A conceptual overview of some of the most interesting advances in physics and the intellectual background in which they occurred. The interrelationship of the actual practice of physics and its cultural and intellectual context is emphasized.

PHY201H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.
PHY205H The Physics of Everyday Life
26L, 13T

An introduction to the physics of everyday life. This conceptual course looks at everyday objects to learn about the basis for our modern technological world. Topics may include anything from automobiles to weather.

PHY205H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

SCI199H1 First Year Seminar Courses Y1

The Faculty offers many sections of SCI 199H1/Y1, open only to students newly-admitted to the St. George Campus of the Faculty. Check the First-Year Handbook for detailed course descriptions.

52L, 26T

Biological issues and concepts. Human interactions with each other, with other species, and with the physical environment. Human biological and cultural evolution (mechanisms, changes in anatomy, behaviour, conceptualization, resource consumption, biotechnology); sexuality (development, theories and controversies in current research); population growth and environmental impact (carrying capacity, water and land use; pollution, resource management); environmental health (biodiversity, food supply, pesticides, ethics and decision-making).

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

ZOO214Y1 Evolution and Adaptation
52L, 26T

Organic evolution by natural selection, both as formulated by Darwin and Wallace and modified by modern workers: topics vary but may include speciation; evolution of development; evolution of higher taxa, mutation, natural selection, adaptations and coevolution. Essays and reading required.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1/323H1/ZOO324Y1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

ZOO215H1 Conservation Biology
26L, 13T

Introduction to the scientific discipline that deals with threats, losses and recovery of endangered wildlife. Topics include biodiversity, extinction, demography, genetic diversity, nature reserves, captive breeding; also endangered species laws, moral philosophies, and political, economic and social justice issues surrounding biodiversity. Essays and reading required.

Exclusion: BIO 365H1

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

ZOO216H1 Marine Mammal Biology and Conservation
26L, 12T

This course introduces students to anatomical and physiological adaptations of marine mammals and how they differ based on their own unique needs. The effects of various environmental stressors will also be covered. Anatomical models will be provided (skulls, teeth, etc.), supplemented with video and other teaching tools.

This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

Prerequisite: Biology 12/OAC Biology or equivalent

Guidelines for Programs and Courses

Definition of “Course” in this Calendar

In these two pages the word “course” is used in two senses:

1. In reference to a single course (such as “standing in a course” etc.) “course” refers equally to a full course or a half course.
2. In reference to a given number of courses (such as the requirement of obtaining standing in at least 20 courses for an HBA or HBSc) “courses” refer to FULL courses OR the equivalent number in FULL AND HALF courses combined. To “pass a course” or “obtain standing in a course” normally means to obtain a mark of 50 or more in that course.

Codes used in the Program of Study Listings

“Specialist Program (X full courses or their equivalent)”: “X” is the number of courses required for that program out of the total of 20 courses needed for an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc.
“Major Program (X full courses or their equivalent)”: “X” is the number required for that program out of the total of 20 courses needed for an Hon. B.A. or Hon. B.Sc.
“First Year”, “Second Year”, etc.: Sequences of courses are given as guides, but need not be followed in the exact order listed, provided all pre- and co-requisites are observed.

Higher Years = Second, Third and Fourth Years
An oblique stroke (“/”) means “or”. A comma and a semi-colon both mean “and”.
200-series = courses numbered in the 200’s ONLY;
200+series = courses in the 200’s or 300’s or 400’s
300+series = courses numbered in the 300’s or 400’s
Approved = approved by the college or department sponsoring the program
Group = a group of related courses; Groups are at the end of the relevant program listings
Courses = full courses or the equivalent in full and/or half courses.
The code Y1 or H1 in a course code in this Calendar indicates the credit value:
Y1 = a full course, for which one credit is given, e.g., ANT 100Y1;
H1 = a half course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 321H1.

Choosing Courses

NOTE: While Departmental counsellors and College Registrars are always available to give advice, THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with exclusions, prerequisite and co-requisite requirements, for completion of Program details, for proper completion of the Distribution Requirement, and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc. Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt; misunderstanding, misapprehension or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, Program or Degree requirement.

Please Note:

1. The Council of the Faculty of Arts and Science reserves the right to change the content of, or to withdraw, any course. In such cases every effort is made to provide equivalent alternative instruction, but this cannot be guaranteed.
2. The Faculty reserves the right to limit the number of students in any course or any section of a course if the number wishing to take the course should exceed the resources available. Notwithstanding this, every effort is made to accommodate students in 100-series courses.

Key to Course Descriptions

Course descriptions, in alphabetical order by Department/College, are listed in the “Programs and Courses” section starting on page 35. For an explanation of terms and abbreviations used in these descriptions, including prerequisites, co-requisites, exclusions, etc., see below. Students may choose from among these courses, subject to the following rules:

1. Students must satisfy the degree and program requirements and other regulations set out in the Calendar and its supplements.
2. Students must meet all prerequisite, co-requisite and exclusion requirements.
3. Students may take no more than six 100-series courses for degree credit.

Number of Courses Taken ("Course Load")

Students may proceed towards the degree at a rate of their own choosing, except as provided below:

1. The recommended course load for full-time students in each of the Fall and Winter Sessions is no more than five courses.
2. The recommended course load during the Summer Session is a maximum of two courses.
3. Students “On Academic Probation” may take no more than five courses in each of the Fall and Winter Sessions except as provided under “students restricted to a reduced course load” (see 4. below).
4. Students restricted to a reduced course load on admission may take no more than 2.5 courses over the Fall-Winter Sessions. They may take no more than 3 course activities in a Fall or Winter Session unless approved by their College Registrar. They may take a maximum of 1.0 courses in the Summer Session. Students restricted to part-time studies who wish to transfer to full-time studies should consult with their College Registrar.
5. Students should attempt to balance their course load between the Fall-Winter Sessions.
Guide to Programs and Courses

6. To calculate course loads, students should consult this Calendar together with the Registration Handbook & Timetable.

The code “Y1” or “H1” in a course code in the Calendar indicate the credit value:

H1 = a half-course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 332H1

7. In the Timetable a section code is associated with a course code to indicate when the course is offered:

F = first half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Sept-Dec), or first half of the Summer Session (May-June), e.g., HIS 322H1 F
S = second half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Jan-Apr), or second half of the Summer Session (July-Aug), e.g., HIS 322H1 S
Y = Fall and Winter sessions, or First and Second subsessions of the Summer Session, e.g., ANT 100Y1 Y

8. Students should note that courses designated as “…Y1 F” or “…Y1 S” in the Timetable are particularly demanding.

9. Full-time students (except those in 3. and 11.) may select a distribution requirements.

10. Students are advised to use discretion in adding any more courses to their program than the number recommended in 1. and 2. Students will not receive special consideration of any kind on account of a course overload. Examination schedules may be affected by a course overload.

11. In each of the Fall and Winter Sessions, students who are in good standing may add additional courses, beyond six, through their College Registrar. In the Summer Session, students may add additional courses, beyond two, through their College Registrar. The College Registrar, following Faculty guidelines, has the discretion to approve such requests. Note: students enrolled in Commerce and Computer Science subject POSs cannot add additional courses.

12. Students are not allowed a sessional course activity overload in any session until they have completed four full courses in the Faculty. This applies to first year students and transfer students from other institutions.

“Extra” and “Supplemental” Courses

Each course counts for credit towards a degree unless:

- the course is a 100-series course and the maximum of SIX 100-series courses allowable for degree credit has already been completed; it will then be designated as an “Extra”. “Extra” courses have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average; or
- advance permission has been given by petition for a course to be taken as an “Extra” course. Students may not petition to have completed courses designated as “Extra”, nor will they be removed from the record. “Extra” courses have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average; or
- more than the maximum number of courses allowed with the same designator have been passed. These “supplemental” courses will count in the grade point average, program and distribution requirements.

Year of Study

The University of Toronto uses the following to define the year equivalency and therefore the academic status of a student:

- 4th year St. George degree student: has completed 14.0 full course equivalents or more;
- 3rd year St. George degree student: has completed 9.0 to 13.5 full course equivalents;
- 2nd year St. George degree student: has completed 4 to 8.5 full course equivalents;
- 1st year St. George degree student: has completed less than 4 full course equivalents.

Full/Part-Time Status

Part-time status

A student enrolled in 2.5 full course equivalents or fewer for the Fall-Winter sessions is considered to be part-time.

A student enrolled in 1.0 full course equivalents or fewer for the Summer session is considered to be part-time.

Full-time status

A student enrolled in 3.0 full course equivalents or more for the Fall-Winter sessions is considered to be full-time.

A student enrolled in 1.5 full course equivalents or more for the Summer session is considered to be full-time.

Cancelling Courses, Repeating Courses, Courses Outside the Faculty and University

For further information on these matters see Page 455.

Codes Used in the Course Descriptions

Course Designators

Course designators are the three-letter codes which appear at the beginning of each course code (e.g., CHM is the designator for chemistry courses; PHL for philosophy courses).

All courses are listed in the following pages by sponsoring department in alphabetical order. See the Table of Contents for a complete listing of sponsoring departments, and page 35 for a full alphabetical list of programs available to students in the Faculty.

Course Number

The course number generally indicates the level of difficulty, e.g., a 100-series course normally indicates an introductory course, a 400-series course is an intensive course at the senior level. In some departments several courses may have the same general title; in these cases, the numbers are listed together, separated by “/”, for instance, “ECO 350Y1/351H1/352H1” = ECO 350Y1 OR ECO 351H1 OR ECO 352H1, each one being a seminar on a selected subject.
“Y1” and “H1” Course Suffixes

The codes “Y1” or “H1” in a course code in the Calendar indicate the credit value:

Y1 = a full course, for which one credit is given, e.g., ANT 100Y1
H1 = a half-course, for which one-half credit is given, e.g., HIS 322 H1.

Types and Duration of Instruction

L= Lectures
S= Seminars
P= Practical work in laboratories or studios
T= Tutorials

In the Fall-Winter Sessions the normal period of instruction is 26 weeks; the Fall Session lasts 13 weeks, and the Winter Session lasts 13 weeks. The number preceding the instruction codes opposite the course number and title indicates the total number of hours of instruction given in the course. The number of hours listed is approximate only; the actual contact hours of a course, or of different sections of a course, may vary from the number indicated in the Calendar, due to the size of the class or section, and the use being made of the tutorial or practical components of the class. This variation is at the discretion of the “course sponsor” (the college or department sponsoring the course); any questions concerning the allotment of hours in a course should be addressed to the course sponsor.

Prerequisites, Co-requisites, etc.

Students are responsible for fulfilling prerequisites and co-requisites; students enrolled in courses for which they do not have the published prerequisites may have their registration in those courses cancelled at any time without warning. Students must also observe exclusions. Failure to meet these requirements may result in academic difficulties. If students withdraw from a course they must also withdraw from any course for which it is a co-requisite unless the Department giving the latter course agrees to waive the co-requisite.

Explanation of Symbols

The comma (,) the semi-colon(;) the ampersand (&) and the plus sign (+) all mean “AND”. The slash (/) means “OR”.

Exclusions

Students may not enrol in a course if that course lists an exclusion a course they are currently taking or a a course they have already passed. If allowed by special permission to enrol in an excluded course, the second course taken will be listed as an “Extra” course. Students will be required to withdraw from the course if discovered during the session of enrolment and will be refused degree credit in the excluded course if discovered at any time in a subsequent session.

Prerequisite

A course (or other qualification) required as preparation for entry to another course. If students consider that they have equivalent preparation, they may ask the Department concerned to waive the stated prerequisite.

Co-requisite

A requirement to be undertaken concurrently with another course. The co-requisite will be waived if a student has previously obtained standing in it, or if the Department consents.

Recommended Preparation

Background material or courses that may enhance a student’s understanding of a course.

The next page shows a course description in diagram form, with explanations of all the various symbols.

Section Code

Section codes do not appear in the Calendar. In the Registration Handbook & Timetable, however, a section code is listed with a course code to indicate when the course is offered:

F = first half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Sept-Dec), or first half of the Summer Session (May-June), e.g., HIS 322H1 F
S = second half of the Fall-Winter Sessions (Jan-Apr), or second half of the Summer Session (July-Aug), e.g., HIS 322H1 S
Y = Fall and Winter sessions, or First and Second subsessions of the Summer Session, e.g., ANT 100Y1 Y
CHM225Y1 Introduction to Physical Chemistry 52L, 26T
Directed to students in the Chemistry major and specialist programs.
Topics: introductory thermodynamics, first and second law and applications; chemical equilibrium; electrochemistry, surface chemistry; chemical kinetics; introductory quantum mechanics; spectroscopy, and molecular photophysics.
Exclusion: CHM 220H1, 221H1
Prerequisite: [CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission of the department], MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1, PHY138Y1/140Y1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM is the “course designator,” in this case short for “Chemistry;” 225 shows the level of the course (we have 100, 200, 300 and 400-level courses; courses for second-year students are normally numbered at the 200 level).

Y1 is for full course, worth one credit
(1/2 is for half course, worth 0.5 credits)

52L = 52 hours of lectures altogether over 26 weeks of a Y-course = 2 hours per week.
26T = 26 tutorials = one per week
(P = practical hours, such as labs)

Prerequisites are the courses you need to take before you are qualified to take this one. For CHM 225Y1, you need one course in Chemistry (CHM 138H1+139H1 or 151Y) and one course in Mathematics (MAT 135Y1 or 137Y1 or 157Y1) and one course in Physics (PHY 138Y1 or 140Y1).

Exclusions are courses similar enough to this one that you are not allowed to take them as well. In this case you may not take CHM 220H1 or 220H1.

Co-requisites are courses you must take at the same time as this course. For CHM 225Y1, you must take either MAT 235Y1 or MAT 237Y1 at the same time.

/ this oblique slash means “or”
.; & + these symbols all mean “and”
() parentheses are used to group items together into one unit

The U of T commerce program selects from among the best and brightest students and provides them with an education that is unparalleled in the country. The commerce program partners the internationally renowned business school, the Rotman School of Management, with Canada’s top economics department. All of this in the context of Canada’s foremost research university, located in the heart of the business community just minutes away from Bay Street and steps from Queen’s Park.

The commerce programs combine economics and the various sub-disciplines of business and government management enabling students to develop analytical skills and gain a knowledge of institutions. This background is useful for solving problems and making decisions in business and government environments.

Commerce graduates frequently become economists, accountants, actuaries, financial analysts, marketing analysts, managers of firms and government, or proprietors of small businesses. Some commerce students elect to undertake postgraduate studies in the form of further university education: law schools and MBA programs have been particularly favoured destinations of recent graduates.

(b) Complete the Commerce and Finance Program (see below);
(c) Complete the Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com. students (see below);
(d) Complete five full course equivalents from disciplines outside of Management (MGT), Economics (ECO), and Commerce (COM); (courses taken to fulfill (b) and (c) may be also counted towards meeting this requirement; see also III in Commerce and Finance Program below).
(e) Obtain standing (i.e., complete with a grade of 50% or more) in at least six 300- or 400-series courses, including at least one 400-series course (no more than one 300+series transfer credit may be counted towards these six).
(f) Achieve a cumulative GPA of 1.85 or more by the time of graduation.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate at the end of a given session must use the Student Web Service or notify their College Registrars in writing to make their degree requests by the dates specified in the Calendar. Prospective graduands should receive the following documents from the University:
1. a Program of Study Assessment form (late April/late August) from the program sponsor;
2. a letter from the Office of Convocation providing details of the convocation ceremony (late March/mid-October);
3. a Statement of Results (or letter for non-registered students) from the Office of the Faculty Registrar confirming degree eligibility (early June/early September).

Faculty Distribution Requirement for B.Com.

Students

As part of the degree requirements for the B.Com., STUDENTS MUST COMPLETE ONE FULL COURSE EQUIVALENT IN EACH OF THE HUMANITIES, THE SOCIAL SCIENCES AND THE SCIENCES AREAS as defined below:

1. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Humanities (see Page 25).
2. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Social Sciences (MGT courses may be used to meet this requirement with the exception of MGT 120H1, 121H1 and COM 110H1, which have NO Distribution Requirement status; see Page 25).
3. ONE full course equivalent must be from the Sciences (see Page 25), with the following exceptions: All 100-series courses in CSC, MAT, STA; STA 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 352Y1.
4. NOTE: transfer students from UTM or Scarborough must meet the St. George Distribution Requirement.

Commerce Programs

Notes

• Tuition fees for students enrolling in the Commerce programs from 2001 onwards will be higher than for other Arts and Science programs.
• MAT 133Y1/(123H1, 124H1) are courses which satisfy the minimum Program requirements. Students who are likely to enrol in 200+ series MAT courses are advised to take MAT 137Y1 instead, noting that MAT 137Y1 is a theoretically oriented course for Specialists in Mathematics and mathematically based disciplines such as Actuarial Science.
• Enrolment in the Commerce and Finance Program is limited. The majority of spaces each year will be reserved for students admitted to first-year studies in Commerce. A limited number of places will be available for other Arts and Science students not admitted to first year Commerce; these students normally apply for admission in April of their first year.

o First Year Commerce:
These students will be guaranteed a space in the Program after first year provided they complete — upon first attempt — a minimum of four credits with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 (about a C). In order to maintain the guarantee into the commerce program, students must attain a minimum grade in the three required courses: ECO 100Y1 with at least 67%, MGT 120H1 with at least 63%, and MAT 133Y1 with at least 50%. Students must also complete COM 110H1.

o All other students must meet the following admission requirements:

• Complete MGT 120H1 with a mark of at least 63% and ECO 100Y1, with a mark of at least 67%
• Complete one of MAT 133Y1/(136Y1)/137Y1/(123H, 124H)/(125H, 126H), with a mark of at least 50%
• Complete a minimum of 4.0 credits
• Obtain an average on first attempt in MGT 120H1, ECO 100Y1 and MAT 133Y1 (or equivalent) of at least B-, whether the courses were taken at U of T or awarded as transfer credits
• Obtain a CGPA to be determined each year based on all courses taken for credit in the Faculty of Arts and Science
• Complete on-line applicant profile and pay application fee

Specialist program:
(14 to 15 full courses or their equivalent out of 20 courses, for a B.Com.)
First Year:
1. COM 110H1; MGT 120H1; ECO 100Y1
2. MAT 133Y1/(123H1, 124H1)/135Y1/137Y1/135Y1
3. Students are encouraged to take one course towards the Distribution Requirement (above) in First Year
Higher Years:
1. Additional MGT Component (5.0 full courses or their equivalent)
   1. MGT 220H1, 223H1, 337Y1
   2. 1.0 course from: MGT 252H1, 262H1, 353H1, 363H1, 371H1, 374H1, 393H1
2. 1.0 400-series MGT course
3. 1.0 additional 200+ series MGT course
5. No more than 15 COM, MGT and ECO courses may be taken for degree credit. STA 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 261H1 count as ECO courses.

II: Additional Economics Component (5 full courses or their equivalent)
1. ECO 200Y1/206Y1
2. ECO 209Y1
3. ECO 220Y1/227Y1/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1)
4. 2.0 300+ series ECO full course equivalents, no more than one of which may be a course in Economic History (see III below)

III: Writing Component (2 full courses* or their equivalent)
Two full course equivalents in English from the courses below:

Writing Courses:
ANT 204Y1; CLA (except 201H1); ENG; ECO* 301Y1/302H1/303Y1/304H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/312Y1/324Y1/353Y1/354H1/355H1/356H1/368H1/429Y1/435H1; FAH; FCS; HIS; HPS; HUM 199Y; INI all “Cinema Studies” and “Writing, Rhetoric and Critical Analysis” courses; LIN; NEW all “Equity Studies” and “Humanism” courses; PHL (except 245H1, 246H1, 247H1, 344H1, 345H1, 346H1); POL (except 242Y1); RLG; SMC (except language courses); SOC (except 101Y); TRN 190Y, 200Y1; UNI all “Canadian Studies”, “Peace and Conflict Studies” and “Sexual Diversity Studies” courses; VIC; WDW all “Criminology” courses; WGS.
2. 1.0 Economic History course from: ECO 301Y1, 302H1, 303Y1, 307H1, 308H1, 309H1, 312Y1, 324Y1, 353Y1, 354H1, 355H1, 429Y1, 435H1

* Note: Only 1.0 300 or 400-level ECO history course can count towards the Major in Economics.

Economics (Commerce and Finance) (B.Com.)
This Program may only be taken conjointly with the Specialist Program in Commerce and Finance (above). Students must be accepted to and remain in the Commerce and Finance (B.Com.) Program in order to complete the Economics (B.Com.) Program.

Note
Enrolment in this Program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y1 and (63% in MAT 133Y1 or 55% in MAT 137Y1) and 63% in MGT 120H1 and a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:
(15.5 courses in a program of 20 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
COM 110H1; ECO 100Y1; MAT 133Y1/135Y1/137Y1/139Y1/157Y1; MGT 120H1
Higher Years:
1. Additional MGT Requirements (5.0 full courses or their equivalent):
   1. MGT 220H1, 223H1, 337Y1
   2. 1.0 course from MGT 252H1, 262H1, 353H1, 363H1, 371H1, 374H1, 393H1
   3. 1.0 400-series MGT course
   4. 1.0 additional 200+ series MGT course
   5. No more than 15 COM, MGT and ECO courses may be taken for degree credit. STA 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 261H1 count as ECO courses.
   II. Additional ECO Requirements (5.5 full courses or their equivalent):
      1. ECO 206Y1, 208Y1, 227Y1/STA (257H1, 261H1)
      2. ECO 327Y1
      3. ECO 325H1, 326H1 plus one-half additional ECO course at the 300+ level
   III. Writing Component (2 full courses or equivalent):
      1. 1.0 course in English from below: ANT 204Y1; CLA (except 201H1); ENG; FAH; FCS; HIS; HPS; HUM 199Y; INI all “Cinema Studies” and “Writing, Rhetoric and Critical Analysis” courses; LIN; NEW all “Equity Studies” and “Humanism” courses; PHL (except 245H1, 246H1, 247H1, 344H1, 345H1, 346H1); POL (except 242Y1); RLG; SMC (except language courses); SOC (except 101Y); TRN 190Y, 200Y1; UNI all “Canadian Studies”, “Peace and Conflict Studies” and “Sexual Diversity Studies” courses; VIC; WDW all “Criminology” courses; WGS.
      2. 1.0 Economic History course from: ECO 301Y1, 302H1, 303Y1, 307H1, 308H1, 309H1, 312Y1, 324Y1, 353Y1, 354H1, 355H1, 429Y1, 435H1

Commerce (Arts program)
Students taking this program follow the degree requirements for the Honours Bachelor of Arts (see page 23).

Major program: (7.5 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
1. COM 110H1, MGT 120H1
2. ECO 100Y1
3. MAT 133Y1/135Y1/137Y1/139Y1/157Y1
Higher Years:
1. ECO 220Y1/227Y1/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1)
2. MGT 220H1, 223H1, 337Y1, 252H1
3. 1.0 courses from MGT 330H1, 363H1, 371H1, 374H1, 393H1, or any 400-level MGT course

Commerce Courses
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all MGT courses (except COM 110H1 and MGT 120H1, which have NO degree requirement status) are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.
(Economics course descriptions begin on Page 118)
Enrolment in all Management (MGT) courses above the 100-series level is exclusively restricted to students enrolled in a St. George Commerce Program. Enrolment in 100-series MGT courses is subject to space availability; students admitted to the Faculty who indicated an intention to enrol in the Commerce program are given preference. Contact Commerce Programs Office for enrolment information.

Y = Full Course; H = Half-Course. For information on calculating "Course Load" and on "Dropping Courses," see the "Guide to Choosing Courses & Programs".

COM 110H1 Introduction to Commerce 26L

Special topics include the industrial effects of trade liberalization, the role of the World Trade Organization, foreign exchange risk management, competition policy and international taxation.

Prerequisite: I.0 300+ MGT full course equivalent

MGT491H1 Introduction to International Business 26L
Focuses on developing an understanding of the fundamentals of doing business in an international environment. Based on the application of management theory (trade theory, modes of entry, foreign direct investment, theory of the multinational) to the strategic management problems of organizing business in the international arena.

Prerequisite: one full MGT course at the 300- or 400-level

MGT492H1 Introduction to Strategic Management 26L
Focuses on industry analysis and different models of the firm. The key questions addressed are: “why do some firms succeed where others fail?” and “what strategy should a firm employ to reach its goals?”

Prerequisite: one full MGT course at the 300- or 400-level
MGT493H1  Small Business Management  26L
Prerequisite: one full MGT course at the 300- or 400-level

MGT494H1  Technology Strategy  26L
Teaches about technological evolution and how evolutionary stages impact firms’ strategic choices. Important issues in technological evolution are technological discontinuities, standards wars, dominant designs and patenting. Important strategic decisions concern innovation management, product versus process focus and intellectual property strategies. Project oriented coursework based on patent and business data bases.
Prerequisite: One full MGT course at the 300- or 400-level
Recommended Preparation: MGT 252H1

MGT499H1  Integrated Management Simulation  26L
An experiential business simulation in which students form the executive committee of a fictitious company and compete in a virtual computer simulation. Students interact and work together as a team, guide a company to success and communicate with stakeholders by reporting to a board of directors composed of business executives.
Prerequisite: Fourth-year St. George commerce students with MGT337Y1
First Year Seminars:
199H1/Y1 Courses

First-Year Seminars: 199H1 and 199Y1 Courses

Coordinator: Professor K.R. Bartlett, MA Ph D, Victoria College, (416-585-4590) and First-Year Seminar Office (416-978-0359)
Website: www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current

The 199Y1 and 199H1 seminars are designed to provide entering undergraduates with the opportunity to work closely with an instructor in a class of no more than twenty-four students. Each Seminar focuses on specific disciplinary or interdisciplinary issues, questions or controversies of particular interest to the instructor, and introduces the students to the excitement of discovery inherent in academic work at the University of Toronto. In addition, students are encouraged to develop their ability to think analytically and to express ideas and logical arguments clearly and coherently, both orally and in writing.

These interactive seminars are not designed as introductory surveys to a discipline or program. Rather, they are intended to stimulate the students' curiosity and provide an opportunity to get to know a member of the professorial staff in a seminar environment during the first year of study. Thus, students are encouraged to experience material and methods that are outside the area in which they will eventually concentrate in order to benefit fully from the scope and diversity of the Faculty of Arts and Science. All 199Y1 and 199H1 seminars are described within the First-Year Handbook that is distributed to every newly admitted first-year student.

NOTE: 199H1 may be used in circumstances where a student enrols in two 199H1 seminars.

All 199Y1 and 199H1 seminars have generic designators HUM (HUmanities) or SCI (SCIence) or SSC (Social SCIence), or INX (Interdisciplinary), according to the disciplinary content of the seminar.

All 199Y1 and 199H1 courses count for degree credit in the same way as any other course. STUDENTS MAY ENROL IN ONLY ONE 199Y1 SEMINAR OR TWO 199H1 SEMINARS. These courses can under most circumstances fulfill breadth requirements. For details see the Calendar (under Distribution Requirements, page 23) and the First-Year Handbook.

Research Opportunity Program:
299Y1 Courses

Coordinator: Professor K.R. Bartlett, MA Ph D, Victoria College (416-585-4590) and Research Opportunity Program Office (416-978-0359)

Web site: www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current

The Research Opportunity Program (“ROP”) provides an opportunity for students in their second year (i.e., after completing at least four but not more than nine courses) to earn one 299Y1 course credit by participating in a faculty member’s research project.

Descriptions of ROP projects are in the ROP 299Y1 Project Binders, which will be available in departmental and college registrars’ offices, the ROP Office (Room 1067, Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street), and at ASSU and APUS, after Reading Week.

Students wishing to apply for places in the ROP should submit ROP Application forms (available with the ROP Binders and on the Arts and Science Web Site listed above) to the ROP Office (Room 1067, Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street) by mid March at the latest. Students will be informed in early May whether or not they have been accepted. Successful applicants will be registered in their 299Y1 course by the Program office. The 299Y1 courses begin in September.

A student may accept only one 299Y1 course. Each 299Y1 course will bear the three-letter designator of the department or program sponsoring it, e.g., ANT 299Y1, ZOO 299Y1, etc. Not all departments or programs will necessarily participate in the ROP each year.

Students will be expected to keep a journal recording meetings, progress, and what was learned about the project in particular and the nature of research in general. Full details of 299Y1 course requirements are in the ROP 299Y1 Project Binders. For further information contact the Coordinator.

Summer Research Opportunities

A limited number of ROP 299Y1 courses are offered each summer. Applications for summer 299Y1s are due in mid March, the same time as fall/winter 299Y1s.

Independent Experiential Study Program: 398H0/399Y0 Courses

Coordinator: Professor K.R. Bartlett, MA Ph D, Victoria College (416-585-4590) and Program Office (416-978-0359)

A limited number of 398H0/399Y0 courses are available each year. Faculty supervisors propose the projects and choose the students who apply for the projects as they now do for the 299Y1s. They also sign a contract with the successful candidates as with the 299Y1 projects.

Students must normally have completed a minimum of eight FCEs and a maximum of 14.0 FCEs of their studies by the time they begin a 398H0/399Y0 project. The 398H1/399Y1 would be eligible to count towards program completion if the program sponsor (Chair or Director) so chooses. The 398H0/399Y0 would normally have a program-specific designator, such as ANT, CLA, VIC, ZOO, etc.

The projects normally run within the May-August period, when both Faculty and students would be able to make the time commitments necessary. Regular tuition fees apply. The practical, experiential component can take the form of research/learning under the supervision of a faculty member in archives, laboratories, libraries, or in a field camp, etc. - but not in a classroom at another university (that is covered by the Faculty’s exchange programs).

Details of individual 398H0/399Y0 projects will be available in the Program office after March 1st each year.

Aboriginal Studies Programs
Aboriginal Studies Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), ABS courses are classified in different categories; check individual course descriptions.

ABS204Y1 Introduction to Aboriginal 52L/26T Studies
An introduction to Canadian Aboriginal studies and Aboriginal world views, including language, culture, history, politics, economics, sociology, and science. A focus on critical thinking, the introduction of new perspectives, and community context. This is a Social Science or Humanities course.

ABS205Y1 Aboriginal Spirituality 52L
An exploration of spiritual practices and beliefs of Indigenous peoples with emphasis on Canada’s First Nations. Spirituality through an historic lens, highlighting rituals such as Ghost Dances, Midewiwin Lodge, and Wabung, and contemporary spiritual practices, including evolving belief systems, ritual and spiritual practice in today’s world, and the balance of spirituality and spiritual practice with modernity. Recommended preparation: ABS201Y1
This is a Humanities course.

ABS210Y1 Introduction to the Ojibwa Language 78L
An introduction to the Ojibwa language, including the syllabic writing system. This is a Humanities course.

ABS211Y1 Introduction to an Iroquoian Language 78L
An introduction to one of the languages of the Iroquoian language family. This is a Humanities course.

ABS230H1 Introduction to Inuktitut 26L
An introduction to one dialect of Inuktitut, the language of the Inuit, including aspects of other dialects and the syllabic writing system. This is a Humanities course.

ABS231H1 Elementary Inuktitut 26L
This course builds on the introduction to Inuktitut from ABS230H. Emphasis will be placed on developing grammatical complexity and vocabulary in students’ oral skills, as well as dialect and cultural awareness. Prerequisite: ABS230H1
This is a Humanities course.

ABS250H1 Indigenous Environmental Education 26S
An exploration of traditional environmental education and its relevance in contemporary Aboriginal society, with a focus on the process of environmental education as well as on theory and conceptual understanding. Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ABS300Y1 Worldviews, Indigenous Knowledges, 52L and Oral Tradition
A study of the languages and culture of Aboriginal peoples through exploration of oral histories, from creation stories until present times, including the role of oral history and methods for studying oral history through accounts told by elders. Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course.

ABS301Y1 Native Language and Culture 52L
Examination of the historical interplay of Aboriginal languages and cultures in Canada. Particular focus is on the language and culture of a First Nation in Ontario. Exclusion: ABS200Y1
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course.

ABS302H1 Aboriginal Representation in the Mass Media and Society 26L
A survey of historical and contemporary representations of Aboriginal people in the mass media. Introduction to basic techniques for evaluating, analyzing, and understanding the construction of ‘Nativeness’ as it is communicated through film, television, and other media. Examination of racial stereotypes and the role of mass communication in perpetuating and challenging stereotypes, cultural appropriation, Aboriginal media production, impact of media portrayal of Aboriginal peoples. Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course.

ABS310Y1 Ojibwa Language II 78L
Further study of the Ojibwa language with emphasis on speaking and writing. Prerequisite: ABS210Y1
This is a Humanities course.

ABS320Y1/ Aboriginal Craft: 26L, 26P/26L, 13P
ABS321H1 Technical and Theoretical Aspects
An introduction to aboriginal crafts, including basketry, textile work, beading, leather work, with concentration on technical, theoretical, esthetic and cultural aspects. Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 or permission of the instructor
This is a Humanities course.

JAG321H1 Aboriginal People & Environmental Issues in Canada 39L
This course explores Aboriginal views of environment and resource management from pre-European contact times through to the present from an Aboriginal perspective. Emphasis will be placed on the emerging role of Aboriginal people in environmental and resource management in Canada. Topics to be covered include: history of Aboriginal/non-Aboriginal relations, Aboriginal world view and philosophy, Aboriginal environmental ethics and principles, and current environmental issues confronting Aboriginal people. (Offered by Aboriginal Studies and the Geography Department)
Prerequisite: Two credits in Geography or Aboriginal Studies
This is a Social Science course.
Aboriginal Studies

ABS323Y1 Intermediate Iroquoian Language 78L
Further study of an Iroquoian language.
Prerequisite: ABS 220Y1
This is a Humanities course

ABS330Y1/ Aboriginal Music: Technical and Theoretical Aspects 331H1/52L/26L
A critical survey of contemporary Native Canadian musical practices ranging from “traditional” musics to more recent popular musical expressions.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Humanities course

ABS341H1 North American Indigenous Theatre 26L
An introduction to the evolution of Indigenous theatre in North America, examining traditional oratory, ceremony, community responsibility, and social construct and their impact on current Indigenous theatre.
Prerequisite: ABS300Y1/301Y1/331H1/DRM100Y
This is a Humanities course

ABS350Y1 Aboriginal Health Systems 52L
An overview of Aboriginal health systems, internationally, nationally, provincially and locally, with a focus on Ontario. Discussion of health models and strategies, policy, legislation, jurisdictional issues, Aboriginal health initiatives
Prerequisite: ABS 201Y1 or UNI 200Y1
This is a Social Science course

ABS351Y1 Aboriginal Legends & Teaching 26L
(formerly ABS351H1)
An introduction to laws of Aboriginal societies, focusing on the Nishnabe, as seen through legends and teachings.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
Exclusion: ABS351H1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS352H1 The Indian Act 26L
The history of the Indian Act from its creation to the present.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS353H1 Aboriginal Perspectives in Canadian Politics and Law I 26L
A study of the development of Aboriginal/ Western relations from a legal and political standpoint and the evolution of Aboriginal issues and Native rights since contact. Aboriginal perspectives, customary law, restorative justice initiatives and self-government, effects of Canadian law on Indigenous beliefs and life ways, political and economic development potential.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1
Recommended preparation: a course in Canadian history or politics
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS354H1 Aboriginal Perspectives in Canadian Politics and Law II 26L
A continuation of ABS353H1.
Prerequisite: ABS353H1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS398H1/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y1
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

ABS402H1 Traditional Indigenous Ecological Knowledge 39L
An overview of the relationships between Indigenous peoples and their environments, including an exploration of cultural, historical, and contemporary aspects of Indigenous environmental philosophies; the nature, control and transmission of Traditional Ecological Knowledge (TEK), and historical uses of TEK in managing the environment.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 plus one additional ABS designator course
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS403H1 Aboriginal People in Urban Areas 26L
An examination of Aboriginal peoples’ experiences in urban centres, including an examination of increasing Aboriginal migration to Canadian and American cities, government policy affecting off-reserve Indians, and urban Indians’ concerns and goals.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 plus two additional full-course equivalents in ABS
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS404H1 Politics of Aboriginal Nursing 26L
An examination of the impacts of policies and practices on the health of Aboriginal people in Canada which honours Native world view and traditions and values cultural safety. Includes historical and social determinants of health, historical events, policies and social realities and their consequences.
Prerequisite: Two full ABS courses plus permission of the instructor.
This is a Social Science course

ABS405Y1 Indigenous Thought & Expression: Creative Non-fiction 52S
An investigation of the social, political, economic and cultural dynamics of colonization with the goal of understanding the internal complexities and conflicts within the Aboriginal world and in relationship to Western civilization, examined through the study and writing of creative non-fiction.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 plus one additional ABS designator course and permission of instructor

JFP450H1 First Nations Issues in Health and Healing 28L
An examination of issues about the health of Aboriginal people in Canada, providing an understanding of present day health issues from the perspective of their historical and political context and effects of health care policy. (Offered by the Faculty of Pharmacy)
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS460Y Methodology in Aboriginal Studies 78L
Basic methods in research in Aboriginal Studies, including oral tradition and community-based research, as well as discussion of ethics, protocols, priorities, and comparative Indigenous methodologies.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 plus two full course equivalent ABS courses or permission of the instructor.
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

ABS495Y1/ Independent Research TBA
496H1/497H1/498Y1
Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and the supervisor before enrolment in the course. Available only when someone is willing and able to supervise.
Prerequisite: ABS201Y1 plus one additional ABS designator full-course equivalent
This is a Social Science or Humanities course
The Academic Bridging Program is for mature students who are at least 20 years of age and who have been away from formal education for some time (usually at least two years). The courses are intended to bridge the gap between a student’s prior secondary education and the requirements of first year university courses. They feature study skills, essay writing skills, library research skills and the methodology of the specific academic discipline involved. Students are admitted by Woodsworth College to one of three Academic Bridging courses: ENG 185Y (Introduction to the Study of Literature), JWH 100Y (Canadian History), and JWU 100Y (Contemporary Canada).

Enquiries: Millie Rotman Shime Academic Bridging Program, Woodsworth College (416-978-7487)

Academic Bridging Program Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

1. For Distribution Requirement purposes, see classification listed after each course.
2. Only students admitted to the Academic Bridging Program may enrol in these courses.

ENG185Y1 Introduction to the Study of Literature

A writing intensive course that introduces essential rhetorical and critical skills, focusing on how to recognize major literary forms; how to read, comprehend, analyze, and interpret texts; how to write clearly and effectively about them; and how to do library research. Ten to twelve assignments for a minimum of 8000 words.

This is a Humanities course

JWH100Y1 Canadian History

The course is a survey of Canada’s political, social, and economic history from the colonial era to the present, featuring Canada’s native peoples, Anglophone-Francophone issues, Canada’s relations with Britain and the United States, and the growth of national institutions. Other themes include regionalism, immigration and multiculturalism.

This is a Humanities course

JWM101Y1 Essential Mathematics

The knowledge and skills essential for success in university Mathematics courses. Elementary material on geometry, algebra, functions and trigonometry followed by a delineation of the essence of differential calculus and its applications using the basic notions of limit, continuity and differentiation. (Course not offered in 2006-2007).

Exclusion: OAC Calculus or its equivalent, taken within the last three years

Prerequisite: At least 70% in Grade 12 Advanced Mathematics, or its equivalent

This course does not count as a Distribution Requirement course

JWU100Y1 Contemporary Canada

This interdisciplinary course provides an introduction to contemporary Canadian society. The course includes the study of geography, politics, literature and culture through an historical framework of the twentieth century. It also emphasizes particular themes including aboriginal issues, regionalism, French-English conflict, gender/women’s issues and immigration/multiculturalism.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course.

Actuarial Science is based upon the application of mathematical techniques to reduce the impact of such hazards as loss of income through death, disability, or retirement, or loss of property through fire, accident, or theft. Actuaries are the chief architects of life, health, and property insurance plans, and pension plans, and bear the major responsibility for their financial soundness. By using concepts from the areas of probabilities and finance, actuaries model, forecast and value the costs of benefits that will be provided to the participants in such plans. Methods developed for modeling insurance risk can also be applied to modeling investment risk, and actuaries apply their expertise to the valuation of sophisticated investment vehicles such as options on equities, bonds and other investment derivatives.

ACT 240H1, though somewhat technical, is a course of interest to a wide audience, since almost every student will from time to time be either a saver or a borrower, and will be covered by insurance and pension plans. ACT 245H1 synthesizes basic mathematics (including calculus) and probability concepts with introductory concepts in financial risk management, providing insight into some of the basic issues involved in actuarial science. Other actuarial courses deal with more specialized topics, and are generally taken by students with a more serious interest in the field or who want to pursue a career as an actuary.

Professional accreditation as an actuary is obtained via the Canadian Institute of Actuaries by passing a series of examinations set by the Society of Actuaries or the Casualty Actuarial Society. Some professional requirements can be satisfied through courses in the actuarial program. For more information about actuarial studies and careers, contact Professor Broverman or Professor Lin.

Actuarial Science Programs

Enrolment in these programs requires completion of four courses including MAT 137Y1(55%)/157Y1 and ECO100Y1(70%).

Actuarial Science (Science program)
Consult Department of Statistics.

NOTE: it is the student's responsibility to meet any prerequisites for courses offered by other departments.

Specialist program
(13 courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+ series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This program is designed to prepare a student for professional work as an actuary, and more generally in the financial risk management industry.

First Year:
1. MGT 120H1
2. ECO 100Y1(70%)
3. MAT 137Y1(55%)/157Y1
4. MAT 223H1/240H1 (may be taken in 2nd year)
Second Year:
1. ACT 240H1, 245H1, 247H1
2. MAT 237Y1/257Y1
3. ECO 206Y1
4. STA (257H1, 261H1)
Higher Years:
1. ACT 348H1, 349H1,(any of these courses can be substituted for ACT 349H1)/MGT 331Y1/MGT 337Y1/(ECO 358H1, ECO 359H1), 370H1, 451H1, 455H1, 460H1, 466H1
2. One of ACT 470H1, 471H1, 472H1
3. STA 302H1, 347H1, 457H1

NOTES:
1. ECO 208Y1 (strongly recommended); STA 352Y1; MAT 244H1, 246H1; MGT 331Y1 are recommended
2. Students in the Actuarial Science Specialist program who have successfully completed ACT 348H1 are eligible to enrol in the following MGT courses (provided the appropriate prerequisites and co-requisites are met): MGT 331Y1, 431H1, 438H1
3. CSC 108H1 recommended

Major program:
(8-8.5 courses or their equivalent, including at least two full course equivalents at the 300+-level)

First Year:
1. MGT 120H
2. MAT 137Y1 (55%)/157Y1
3. ECO 100Y1 (70%)
Higher Years:
1. ACT 240H1,245H1, 247H1, 348H1, 370H1
2. MAT 237Y1/257Y1
3. STA (257H1, 261H1)
4. Two of ACT 349H1, (any of these courses can be substituted for ACT 349H1)/MGT 331Y1/MGT 337Y1/(ECO 358H1, ECO 359H1)/451H1; STA 302H1, 347H1, 457H1
5. MAT 223H1/240H1 is recommended
Actuarial Science Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), ACT courses are classified as Science courses

ACT240H1 Mathematics of Investment 26L, 13T & Credit
Interest, discount and present values; applied to determine prices and values of annuities, mortgages, bonds, equities; loan repayment schedules and consumer finance payments in general; yield rates on investments given the costs on investments.
Prerequisite: MAT133Y1/135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

ACT245H1 Financial Principles for Actuarial Science I
Term structures of interest rates, cashflow duration, convexity and immunization; forward and futures contracts; interest rate swaps; analysis of survival distributions; international actuarial notation.
Prerequisite: ACT240H1 (minimum grade C)

ACT247H1 Introductory Life Contingencies 39L
Probability theory applied to survival and to costs and risks of life assurances, life annuities, and pensions; analysis of survival distributions; international actuarial notation.
Prerequisite: ACT240H1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1; STA257H1 Co-requisite: MAT237Y1

ACT348H1 Advanced Life Contingencies 39L
Determination of benefit premium and benefit reserves for life insurance and annuities; analysis of insurance loss random variables; theory of life contingencies for multiple lives.
Prerequisite: ACT240H1 (minimum grade C); ACT245H1 (minimum grade C); 247H1 (minimum grade C); (STA257H1,261H1); MAT237Y1

ACT349H1 Corporate Finance for Actuarial Science Mathematics
Actuarial applications of financial mathematics and economics.
Prerequisite: ACT240H1 (minimum grade C); ACT245H1 (minimum grade C); 247H1 (minimum grade C); (STA257H1,261H1); MAT237Y1 Exclusion: ECO358H1, 359H1, MGT331Y1, 337Y1

ACT370H1 Financial Principles for Actuarial Science II
Mathematical theory of financial derivatives, discrete and continuous option pricing models, hedging strategies and exotic option valuation.
Prerequisite: ACT240H1 (minimum grade C); ACT245H1 (minimum grade C); 247H1 (minimum grade C); (STA257H1,261H1); MAT237Y1

ACT398H0/496H1 Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.
This is a Science course.

ACT398H1 Loss Models 39L
Loss models and their estimation, mixture distributions, compound distributions, partial insurance, stop-loss insurance, censoring and truncation of data, product-limit estimation, Cox proportional hazard model.
Pre- or co-requisite: ACT348H1; STA347H1

ACT455H1 Advanced Topics in Actuarial Science 39L
Advanced life contingencies, multiple decrement theory, insurance policy expenses, multi-state transition models, Poisson processes.
Prerequisite: ACT348H1, 451H1; STA347H1

ACT460H1 Stochastic Methods for Actuarial Science 39L
Applications of the lognormal distribution, Brownian motion, geometric Brownian motion, martingales, Ito's limma, stochastic differential equations, interest rate models, the Black-Scholes model, volatility, value at risk, conditional tail expectation.
Prerequisite: ACT370H1; STA347H1

ACT466H1 Credibility and Simulation 39L
Limited fluctuation credibility, Bayesian estimation, Buhlmann credibility, non-parametric credibility methods, inverse transformation simulation method, specialized simulation methods for the normal and lognormal distributions, Monte Carlo methods, the bootstrap method.
Prerequisite: ACT451H1; STA347H1

ACT470H1 Advanced Pension Mathematics 39L
Topics in pension mathematics; funding methods for pension plans. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: ACT348H1 or permission of instructor Corequisite: ACT455H1

ACT471H1 Actuarial Applications of Finance 39L
Assets, liability and investment management for pension plans. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: ACT349H1/MGT 331Y1/MGT337Y1/(ECO 358H1, ECO 359H1) or permission of instructor

ACT472H1 Issues in Actuarial Practice 39L
Practical issues that arise for insurance, pension and casualty actuaries.
Prerequisite: ACT348H1

ACT496H1/498Y1 Readings in Actuarial Science TBA 497H1
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

ACT497H1/499Y1 Readings in Actuarial Science TBA 499Y1
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

African Studies: see New College
The American Studies Program is designed to provide students with a broad, yet deep, education about the United States. To ensure breadth, students are required to take an interdisciplinary core course that ranges widely both with respect to the themes covered and disciplinary perspectives applied. As well, the Program offers a wide selection of courses from participating departments and programs in the Faculty, giving students broad exposure to fundamental themes of American life. To ensure depth, the American Studies Program relies heavily on upper level courses, including its own capstone seminars at the 400-level.

American Studies Program

Enrolment in the programs listed below is open to students who have completed four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

American Studies (Arts program)

Consult Ms. Christine Berkowitz, Room 327N, Munk Centre for International Studies (416-946-8972) for general program requirements.

Major program:
(6 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses and at least three disciplines)
Second year:
1. HIS 271Y1/ENG 250Y1/POL 203Y1
Third year:
2. USA 300Y1
Second, third, or fourth year:
3. Four courses from the following: ABS302H1, 341H1, 403H1; 405Y1; ANT362Y1, 365Y1; DRM310H1; ECO 306Y1; 423H1; ENG 238H1, 254Y1, 256Y1, 279Y1, 358Y1, 359Y1; FAH 289H1, 375H1, 410H1; GGR 240Y1, 254H1, 336H1, 339H1; HIS 202H1, 316H1, 321H1, 327H1, 369Y1, 370H1, 371H1; 372Y1, 373H1, 374H1, 375Y1, 376H1, 377Y1, 378H1, 379H1, 393H1, 401Y1, 404H1, 408Y1, 409H1, 436Y1, 447Y1, 471H1, 473Y1, 474Y1, 475H1, 476H1, 478H1, 479Y1, 482H1, 491H1, 494H1, 495Y1
Second year:
1. HIS 271Y1/ENG 250Y1/POL 203Y1
Third year:
2. USA 300Y1
Second, third, or fourth year:
3. Two courses from the following: ABS302H1, 341H1, 403H1, 405Y1; ANT362Y1, 365Y1; DRM310H1; ECO 306Y1, 423H1; ENG 238H1, 254Y1, 256Y1, 279Y1, 358Y1, 359Y1; FAH 289H1, 375H1, 410H1; GGR 240Y1, 254H1, 336H1, 339H1; HIS 202H1, 316H1, 321H1, 327H1, 369Y1, 370H1, 371H1, 372Y1, 373H1, 374H1, 375Y1, 376H1, 377Y1, 378H1, 379H1, 393H1, 401Y1, 404H1, 408Y1, 409H1, 436Y1, 447Y1, 471H1, 473Y1, 474Y1, 475H1, 476H1, 478H1, 479Y1, 482H1, 491H1, 494H1, 495Y1

NOTE: Other 300+ series courses with American content may be allowed; students should seek early approval of program credit for such courses.

American Studies Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
The Distribution Requirement status (see page 25) is listed below each course description.

USA300Y1 Thinking about the U.S.A. 52L, 26T
An interdisciplinary introduction to the practice of American Studies organized around key periods in the history of the United States in which Americans reinvented themselves, thought in novel ways about who they were, and redrew the boundaries that defined citizenship and membership in the nation. This course illustrates the multi-disciplinary nature of American Studies, creating a conversation about the United States using materials and approaches from history, literature, cultural studies, economics and political science. Prerequisite: HIS 271Y1/ENG 250Y1/POL 203Y1
Exclusion: USA 200Y1
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA400H1 Topics in American Studies I 26S
In depth examination of specific themes relating to American Studies. Prerequisite: At least two courses from the American Studies list
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA401H1 Topics in American Studies II 26S
In depth examination of specific themes relating to American Studies. Prerequisite: At least two courses from the American Studies list
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

USA494H1 Independent Studies

USA495Y1 Independent Studies

Anthropology is concerned with human biological, social, and cultural development. This broad mandate has led to the division of the discipline into four distinctive areas of research. Archaeology studies surviving evidence of people's activities in the past. From the excavation of sites and the analysis of artifacts uncovered, archaeologists draw conclusions about the organization of social groups, their adaptations to environment, and their spatial and temporal relations. General research topics include the origins of culture and technology, adaptations to extreme climates, the peopling of the New World, development of food production and political inequality in the Old and New Worlds.

Linguistic and Semiotic Anthropology studies how language and other systems of human communication contribute to the reproduction, transmission, and transformation of culture. It is concerned with the role of language and other communicative systems in reproducing and transforming such aspects of society as power relations, ideology, subcultural expression, as well as class, gender and ethnic identity.

Biological Anthropology is the study of the biological diversity of humans, the history of this diversity, and the biological relationships between humans and non-human primates. Major foci in Biological (Physical) Anthropology include Human Biology, the study of modern humans; Osteology, the study of the human skeleton; Paleoanthropology, the study of human evolution; and Primatology, the study of non-human primates. Biological anthropologists integrate biological and social variables in their explanations of the effects of evolution on humans and other primates.

Social and Cultural Anthropology: traditionally, Social Anthropology dealt with non-literate and isolated societies, which could be observed in their totality. Today, many social anthropologists also study such aspects of complex societies as peasantry, ethnic minorities, and industrial work groupings. Institutions and models of social behaviour are compared cross-culturally to establish more general concepts and theories.

Careers in Anthropology emphasize either theoretical, academic aspects or practical applications. Most institutions involved in teaching and research require anthropologists with a Ph.D. For practical applications, at least an M.A. is usually required. The Undergraduate Program provides excellent preparation for business or public service careers in which international and human diversity issues are important. Courses in anthropology provide a unique grounding and can be fruitfully combined with courses in a wide variety of other disciplines.

Anthropology Programs

Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Programs is limited to students with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above. Students may enroll at the end of First Year, or at any later time if they have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above.

PLEASE NOTE THAT NOT ALL COURSES ARE OFFERED EVERY YEAR. CONSULT THE CURRENT TIMETABLE FOR COURSE OFFERINGS.

* Note: ANT courses are those offered with the following prefixes: ANT, ABS, ARH, JAC, JAL, JAP and JPA.

Anthropology (General) (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. ANT 100Y1
2. Three 200+ series ANT* courses from one of Groups A, B, C, D
3. Three 200+ series ANT* courses from a Group other than the group chosen in 2. (above)
4. Four additional ANT* courses with at least one full course at the 400-level

Major program:
7 ANT* full courses including ANT 100Y1 and at least three 300+ series courses

Minor program:
4 ANT* full courses, of which at least one must be 300+ series course; excluding ANT497/498/499

Anthropology (Linguistic & Semiotic) (Arts program)

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)

1. ANT 100Y1
2. ANT253H1, and either ANT204Y1 or VIC220Y1
3. Three courses from Group B (VIC 220Y1 may be substituted for one full course, if it is not used to satisfy requirement 2)
4. 1.5 additional ANT* courses

Anthropology (Biological) (Science program)

Specialist program:
(11.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. ANT 203Y1
2. One of: STA220H1/221H1/JBS229H1/GGR271H1/PSY201H1/202H1
3. Two of ANT326Y1/333Y1/334Y1/337Y1
4. Two additional 300+ series full course equivalents from group C, with at least one full course at the 400 level.
5. One additional full course equivalent from another ANT group.
6. Two full courses or their equivalent from the following: ANA300Y1; ANT311Y1, 330Y1, 406H1, 410H1, 415Y1, 419H1; BIO319H1, 321H1, 322H1, 324H1, 328H1, 365H1, 428H1; GGR272H1, 273H1; GLG206H1, 216H1, 217H1, 360H1, 436H1; HMB300H1, 302H1, 310H1, 420H1; MGY312H1; NSF382H1, PSL302Y; ZOO332H1, 362H1, 462H1

Anthropology (Social/Cultural) (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. ANT 100Y1
2. ANT 204Y1
3. One from ANT 200Y1, 203Y1, ANT253H (if ANT253H is taken, one additional ANT half course must be taken)
4. Six courses from Group D (one of ANT 323Y1 or ANT 329Y1 may be substituted), with at least one full course at the 400-level
5. Two additional ANT* courses

Anthropology Courses

Anthropology offers Social Science and Science Courses; below are first, Social Science courses, then Science courses.

Anthropology Social Science Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

SSC199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first-year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

ANT100Y1 Introduction to Anthropology

Society and culture from various anthropological perspectives: socio-cultural, biological, archaeological, and linguistic.

ANT200Y1 Introduction to Archaeology

Cultures in the Old and New Worlds from an archaeological perspective. Principles of prehistoric research are applied to archaeological information, from the Early Pleistocene to the beginning of written history. Recommended Preparation: ANT100Y1

ANT204Y1 Social & Cultural Anthropology

Basic approaches to the understanding of social and cultural organization in societies of varying complexity. Comparative social institutions: economic, political, familial, and ritual. Belief systems and symbolic thought, the individual in society, sources of stability and change in socio-cultural systems. Anthropological perspectives on current social issues. Recommended preparation: ANT100Y1

ANT253H1 Language & Society

This course introduces linguistic analysis with a view towards its application to the study of the relation between culture and social structure. The interplay of pronunciation, grammar, semantics, and discourse with rituals, ideologies, and constructions of social meaning and worldview are discussed in tandem with the traditional branches of linguistic analysis—phonology, morphology, grammar, syntax, and semantics. The objective of the course is to provide a broad framework for understanding the role of language in society. Recommended Preparation: ANT 100Y1

Exclusion: JAL253H1

ANT299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

ARH305H1 Archaeological Interpretation

See Archaeology

ANT311Y1 Archaeological Fieldwork

TBA

Practical field training through six weeks of excavation on an archaeological site. Basic principles of artifact handling and classification. (Offered only in Summer Session)

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1

ARH312Y1 Archaeological Laboratory

See Archaeology

ANT315H1 Arctic Archaeology

26L

Archaeology and ethnohistory of Arctic cultures. Emphasis is on variation in social organization, settlement pattern, economy, ideology, and interaction with the expanding European world-system.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1

ANT319Y1 Archaeology of North America

52L

(formerly ANT 310Y1)

This course examines human prehistory in North America, North of Mexico, from the time of earliest occupation to European contact. Special topics include Paleoindian and Archaic adaptations, the rise of complex hunter-gatherers, origins of farming and the evolution of complex chiefdoms.

Exclusion: ANT309H1, 310Y1, 317H1

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1

ANT322H1 Anthropology of Youth Culture

26L

This course will present various perspectives on the nature and dynamics of youth culture. It will discuss the research accumulated over the past quarter century on youth lifestyles, from fashion and music to the formation and spread of slang. It will also look at the various critical and controversial aspects of adolescence in contemporary culture.

Prerequisite: ANT 204Y1

ANT323Y1 Social Theory through Popular Culture

52L, 26T

Theories of culture and society, with examples from North America and global popular culture.

Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/VIC120Y1/one other 200+ course in ANT/SOC

ANT325Y1 Southern Africa: Comparative Societies and Institutions

52L

The Southern African peoples before, during, and after their domination by colonial regimes. Reserve systems, migratory labour, farm labour, urban life and social stratification.

Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

Exclusion: ANT325H1

JAL328H1 Writing Systems

26L

Introduction to writing systems; their historical development, their relationship to language, and their role in culture and society. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: ANT100Y1/LIN100Y1

ANT329Y1 Language & Power Structure

52L

The role of language and symbolism in the representation and manipulation of ideology and power structure. Case materials drawn from the study of verbal arts, gender, law, ethnic relations, consumption patterns, advertising, and politics with a focus on North America.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/VIC120Y1/one of 200+ series “Y” course in SOC/POL/Women’s Studies

ANT340H1 Anthropology of Latin America 26L
Provides a framework for understanding current anthropological issues in the different geo-political regions of Latin America. Special attention will be paid to historical/conceptual development of the discipline in the region, and the course will introduce a debate about the death and “resurgence” of area studies.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT 341Y1 China in Transition 52L
This course offers a general introduction to contemporary China in a global context from an anthropological perspective. This year-long course covers four major aspects of Chinese culture and society: Political Economy, Social Relations, Modernities and Modernization, and Overseas Chinese.
Recommended Preparation: ANT 204Y1

ANT342H1 Sexuality and Global Health 26L
Interrogation of definitions of “sex” and “sexuality” employed within public health science arenas that confront three overlapping areas of global concern: HIV/AIDS, fertility and family planning, and sex-trade work. Draws on contributions in medical anthropology, gay and lesbian studies, and postcolonial studies.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT343Y1 Social Anthropology of Gender 52L
Social anthropological perspectives on variations in gender roles and systems. Examines, through comparison of ethnography, the relationship of gender to social organization, economic and political processes, belief systems and social change.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT344Y1 Anthropology of Southeast Asia 52L
Pre-industrial sociocultural types and their transformation in the national development of Southeast Asia.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT346H1 Anthropology of Food 26L
Social anthropological perspective on the nature and meaning of food production, culinary cultures, industrial food, food as metaphor, and famine and hunger.
Prerequisite: ANT100Y1/204Y1

ANT347Y1 Metropolis: Global Cities 52L
The role of culture, cultural diversity, space and performance in urban institutions and settings. The cultural context and consequence of urbanization.
Recommended preparation: ANT204Y1

ANT348Y1 Anthropology of Health 52L
Aspects of health and disease in cross-cultural perspective. Critical views on the interface between conventional “western” medicine and alternative, indigenous, and traditional therapeutic systems.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT349H1 Globalization & Underdevelopment 26L
The contribution of ethnographic study to the understanding of regional disparities within Western and Third World nations. The inter-relationship between persistent economic underdevelopment, expressions of regional identity and class formation by reference to comparative ethnographic examples.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT350H1 Globalization and the Changing World of Work 26L
The course uses ethnographic material to examine the ways in which global forces have changed the nature of work in different sites since World War Two - North America, Europe, and the countries of the South are selectively included.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

JAL355H1 Language and Gender 26L
Ways in which women and men differ in their use of language and in their behaviour in conversational interaction; ways in which language reflects cultural beliefs about women and men. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)
Prerequisite: Two full course equivalents at the 200-level in ANT/JAL/LIN/SOC
Recommended preparation: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/NEW261Y1/SOC200Y1/214Y1/215Y1

ARH360Y1 Prehistory of the Near East 52L
See Archaeology

ARH361H1 Field Archaeology TBA
See Archaeology

ANT362Y1 Anthropological Studies of Poverty, Social Inequality and the U.S. State 52L
This course examines the growing field of U.S. anthropology through ethnographic studies focusing on state institutions and patterns of social inequality. Particular emphasis is placed on research examining local models of governance, policing, immigration reform, unionization and social assistance programs in the context of shifting governmental policies.
Prerequisite: ANT 204Y1

ANT363Y1 Anthropology of State Societies 52L, 26T
Origins, history and internal dynamics of early and modern state societies, examined with a view to placing our own system in an historical and comparative perspective. Case studies include material from Africa, Asia, the Americas and Europe.
Exclusion: ANT363H1
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT364Y1 Environment & Globalization 52L
This course will examine the relationships between humans and the environment in the context of contemporary efforts to ‘develop’ within or in opposition to the political economy of neoliberal globalization. We will critically examine the discourses of progress and environment within a broader theoretical inquiry of structure/agency and power.
Prerequisite: ANT 204Y1

ANT365H1 Native America and the State (formerly ANT365Y1) 26L
Culture areas and types existing in precontact and early contact times in North America; problems arising out of contacts between North American Indians and EuroAmericans.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1
Exclusion: ANT 365Y1

ANT366H1 Anthropology of Social Movements: Theory and Method (formerly ANT 366Y1) 26L, 13T
Explores how anthropologists have traditionally studied social movements and how new social movements have challenged anthropologists to rethink some of their ethnographic methods and approaches. Some specific movements covered include those related to indigenous rights, environmentalism, refugees, gay and lesbian issues, biotechnology, new religions, and globalization.

Prerequisite: ANT204Y1
Exclusion: ANT366Y1

ANT367Y1 Indigenous Spirituality 52L

This course focuses upon religion and spirituality amongst peoples with a direct, experiential relationship to the world. The first term examines case studies from Australia, Native North America and Africa; the second term examines aspects of the "world religions".

Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/RLG201Y1

ANT368H1 Ethnography & Social Movements 26L

This course focuses on ethnographic studies of social movements produced both by anthropologists and social movement activists. By analyzing several case studies, the course explores the particular difficulties and rewards of working with social movements as well as some of the intellectual, ethical and political dilemmas that result of an engaged anthropology.

ANT395Y0 Special Topics in Anthropology 52S, 396Y0

Studies in anthropology taken abroad. Areas of concentration vary depending on the instructor and year offered.

Recommended Preparation: ANT 100Y1/204Y1

ANT398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

JAL401H1 Field Linguistics 52P

Practice in language analysis based on elicited data from a native speaker of a foreign language, emphasizing procedures and techniques. (Given by the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics)

Prerequisite: Completion of LIN322H1, 331H1 except for students in their final year where LIN331H1 is a corequisite.

ANT406H1 Lithic Analysis 26L, 13P

Core reduction strategies, replication, experimental archaeology, use-wear, design approaches, ground stone, inferring behaviour from lithic artifacts.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1, ARH312Y1, 305H1

ANT409H1 Archaeology of Landscapes 26L, 13P

The survey and spatial analysis of archaeological evidence over territories larger than individual camps, villages or towns. Settlement systems, regional exchange and communication, rank-size analysis, nearest neighbour analysis etc.

Prerequisite: ARH305H1

Recommended preparation: GGR270H1

ANT410H1 Hunter-Gatherers Past & Present 26S

Examines the diversity of recent hunter-gatherer societies, as a source of analogues for understanding the archaeological record of past foraging peoples.

Prerequisite: ARH305H1

ANT411H1 Advanced Archaeological Theory 26S

Seminar in the critical examination of major schools of archaeological thought.

ANT412H1 Historical Archaeology 26L, 13P

Introduces the problems, methods and some of the material culture of colonial and industrial archaeology with emphasis on Canada and colonial America. Covers the use of documentary evidence, maps, architecture, and a variety of artifact classes.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1/HIS374H1/384H1

ANT415Y1 Laboratory in Faunal Archaeology-Osteology 52S, 52P

Examination and interpretation of faunal material from archaeological sites as evidence for culture.

Prerequisite: ARH312Y1

ANT417H1 Archaeology of Settlements & Households 26L

Methods for studying the socio-spatial aspects of the archaeological evidence for households and communities.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1, ARH305H1

ANT419H1 Current Debates in Palaeolithic Archaeology 26S

Current research in Palaeolithic Archaeology reflecting emerging issues.

Prerequisite: ANT 200Y1 or ANT 203Y1

ANT420H1 Archaeology of Inequality 26L

How social complexity is manifested in the archaeological record. Origins and evolution of prehistoric complex societies, from small-scale chiefdoms to large-scale states.

Prerequisite: ANT200Y1, ARH305H1

Recommended preparation: ANT363Y1

ANT425H1 Language in Anthropological Thought 26L

How ideas about language fit into the overall views of humankind as expressed by selected anthropologists, linguists, sociologists, and philosophers.

Exclusion: ANT425Y1

Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ ANT253H1

ANT426H1 Orientalism: Western Views of the Other 39L

Language and imagery representing the "oriental" in the West. Emphasis on representations of the "Semites", the Islamic peoples of North Africa, the Middle East and South Asia, as well as the Jews from the mid-nineteenth to the mid-twentieth century.

Prerequisite: ANT323Y1/329Y1/any 300-level course in INI/VIC/NMC/Jewish Studies

ANT427H1 Language, Ideology, & Political Economy 26S

The role of language in the reproduction and transformation of ideology and political economy. Readings include linguistic analyses of gender and class relations in local and global contexts, as well as seminal works in linguistics and other social sciences.

ANT431H1 Mortuary Practices in the Archaeological Record 26L

Death is the only rite of passage that leaves frequent archaeological traces, through burial and mortuary rituals. It provides us with a rare opportunity to move beyond material culture and look into the cognitive, ritual and ideological aspects of a past human group, bringing archaeology closer to addressing anthropological questions. As we learn how to examine cultural identity, represented through burial and ancestral ritual, and biological reality of demographic, occupational and pathological conditions, the course will provide students with an understanding of the interpretative potential of the human skeleton as a central feature of any burial. The course is of interest to archaeological and biological anthropology students but is not limited to these two fields.
Prerequisite: Any 300-level course from Group A or C
This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT440H1 Society in Transition 26L
An exploration of the conceptual tools used to understand reflexive modernity. Focus on the articulated web of global and local networks that produce simultaneously inequalities and potentially new identities and collectivities.
Exclusion: ANT440Y1
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1, at least one area course in anthropology

ANT442H1 Anthropology and New Technologies 26L
The relationship between technology and culture through a focus on reproductive, genetic and communications technologies.
Prerequisite: ANT 204Y1, a 300 level, or above, Social Cultural Anthropology course

ANT444Y1 Research Methods in Social & Linguistic Anthropology 52S
Social and linguistic anthropological approaches to research in urban settings. Methodology, field techniques and research ethics. Students must formulate and complete a field research project.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT445H1 Science as Culture and Practice 26S
This course examines science and technology from an anthropological perspective. Throughout the course, in addition to introducing major concepts of science studies, we will examine multiple “concrete things,” like computers as cultural artifacts, connected to wider social, political, economic, ideological, and cultural contexts.
Recommended Preparation: ANT 204Y1

ANT446Y1 Social Anthropology of Western Europe 52L
The extent to which the conventional methods of ethnography can be helpful in understanding the European Union and its member states, is examined. European history and the ethno-geographic study of fieldsites take up the first term; current European social/cultural ideas and political movements are addressed in the second term.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT447H1 Aboriginal Australia 26S
The course investigates the nature and significance, in history and the history of ideas, of the ways of life of the Australian Aborigines. The emphasis is on the influence of religion and music on the economic, political and social organization of the people.
Prerequisite: ANT 367Y1/permission of the instructor

ANT448H1 Ethnicity & Nationalism 26S
An examination of theories and critique of ethnicity and nationalism from an anthropological perspective. The problem of the cultural context of ethnicity. Case studies.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1, one 300-level course in Social Cultural or Linguistic Anthropology

ANT450H1 Anthropological Approaches to Environmentalism 26S
Comparative examination of human ecological adaptations, livelihood strategies, spiritual and cultural values and their relation to environmental maintenance or degradation. Explores contemporary “grass roots” environmental movements and ideologies.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1, a 300-level or above Social Cultural Anthropology course

ANT452H1 Anthropology & Human Rights 26S
The concept of human rights in its universal claims rises fundamental questions for anthropology as it challenges a central value of the discipline: cultural relativism. Students are asked to consider epistemological and theoretical questions and case studies (e.g. claims of rights by ethnic collectivities).
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1, one 300 level social-cultural/linguistic ANT course

ANT453H1 Sub-Arctic Issues 26S
Major issues in the history and development of Sub-Arctic Native people of Canada: Indian social structure, European/ Native interaction, land tenure, politics and religion.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1, 365H1

ANT454H1 The Anthropology of Music (formerly ANT360Y1) 26S
This course investigates the connection between religion, music and society from an anthropological point of view. The primary focus is on societies where music is seen by people as the principal vehicle for religious expression. Examination of religions and musics of Australian aboriginal, Melanesian, Native North America, African societies, others.
Prerequisite: ANT367Y1
Exclusion: ANT360Y1

ANT455Y1 International Health: Anthropological Perspectives 52L
This course examines international health, focusing on the health problems of “third world” populations and the contributions and critiques provided by medical anthropology. Topics include: the political ecology of infectious disease, disease eradication campaigns, population policy and reproductive health, the AIDS pandemic, and the quest for culturally appropriate interventions.
Prerequisite: ANT348Y1

ANT457H1 Intellectuals and Engaged Anthropology 26L
The course examines the responsibilities and positionality of professional anthropologists vis a vis politics and society by juxtaposing their concerns with the history of politically engaged intellectuals over the past century.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT458H1 Anthropology of Crime, Law and Order 26L
Theoretical and methodological approaches to the anthropological study of crime, law, and order with case studies from around the world.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1 and a 300 level Social Cultural ANT Course

ANT459H1 Maps and Places 26L
A study of the cross-cultural meaning of two-dimensional representations of space and the socio-political relevance of place.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1
ANT 460H1  Global Perspectives on Women's Health 26S
This fourth-year seminar examines how female gender shapes health and illness. Using case studies of sexual health, fertility and its management, substance use/abuse, mental health, and occupational/labor health risks, the course investigates the material, political, and socio-cultural factors that can put women at risk for a range of illness conditions.
Prerequisite: ANT 343Y1/348Y1

ANT461Y1  The History of Anthropology and the Limits of Theory 52L
History and development of theories which underlie contemporary anthropology.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1

ANT471H1  Human Nutritional Ecology 26S
Approaches from various sub-fields within anthropology are combined with others from zoology, ecology, community nutrition, and global health to enrich our understanding of the evolved nutritional needs of humans across time and space and their changing relationship to culture. Through intensive reading and discussion of a wide range of recent primary research articles, we explore ways in which the study of foodways, food systems, and human ecology can help us design better strategies for improving health in different settings.
Prerequisite: ANT 203Y1/204Y1
This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT480H1  Special Topics in Anthropological Research 26S
Unique opportunity to explore a particular anthropological topic in-depth. Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course

ANT483H1  Special Topics in Linguistic Anthropology 26S
This course will focus on an advanced topic in Linguistic Anthropology. Topic will vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/300 Level course in Linguistic and Semiotic anthropology

ANT497Y1/  Independent Research TBA
498H1/ 499H1
Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course. Open in exceptional circumstances to advanced students with a strong background in Anthropology. Application for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding term. A maximum of one year of Independent Research courses is allowed per program.
Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Coordinator and Supervisor

ANT326Y1  Human Evolutionary Anatomy 26L, 39P
A detailed examination of human musculo-skeletal anatomy from the comparative and evolutionary perspectives. Allometry, basic biomechanics, functional anatomy, and the structure and function of human mastication, the brain, the forelimb and bipedalism. Labs make use of the large collection of primate skeletal material and fossil human casts.
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1
Exclusion: ANT332Y1

ANT203Y1  Human Biology & Evolution 52L, 26P
Introduction to Biological Anthropology, investigating various lines of evidence for human evolution including our primate relatives and an exploration of the relevance of human origins to contemporary human biology and variability.
Recommended preparation: ANT100Y1/BIO150Y1

JPA305H1  Introduction to Archaeometry 26L, 13P
Introduction to methods for remote sensing of buried archaeological remains, dating, and analysis of ancient materials. Application of methods and interpretation of results in archaeological contexts. (Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)
Exclusion: JPA300Y1

JPA310H1  Physics and Archaeology 26L, 13P
Introduction to the principles behind archaeometric methods for remote sensing, dating, and analysis of archaeological materials, and interpretation of results. Offered in conjunction with JPA305H1. (Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)
Exclusion: JPA300Y1
Prerequisite: Any 1st-year Physics course/permission of instructor
Co-requisite: JPA305H1

ANT326Y1  Human Evolutionary Anatomy 26L, 39P
(formerly ANT 332Y1)

ANT330Y1  Paleoanthropology Field School 26L, 78P
(Offered on an irregular basis)
This course provides background in the practical and theoretical aspects of fieldwork in Paleoanthropology. Students are trained in the treatment and analysis of fossil vertebrates, plant macro- and micro-fossils and sediments. Excursions to paleoanthropological localities of Homo erectus and Homo sapiens, and excavation at a hominoid site. (Joint undergraduate-graduate)
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1

ANT333Y1  Living Primate Adaptations 52L, 26P
A survey of living primates, this lab-oriented course describes and compares the diverse behavioural and anatomical adaptations that are characteristic to this order of mammals. The understanding of the biological diversity and evolutionary history of primates is important for further understanding of human adaptation and evolution.
Exclusion: ANT333H1
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1
Recommended preparation: ANT326Y1, 334Y1; BIO150Y1

ANT334Y1  Human Skeletal Biology 39L, 39P
Exploration of the development and maintenance of the human skeleton and dentition, with emphasis on application to archaeological, forensic and biomedical sciences.

ANT483H1  Special Topics in Linguistic Anthropology 26S
This is a Social Science or Science course.
Prerequisite: ANT 203Y1/204Y1

ANT483H1  Special Topics in Linguistic Anthropology 26S
This course will focus on an advanced topic in Linguistic Anthropology. Topic will vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/300 Level course in Linguistic and Semiotic anthropology

ANT497Y1/  Independent Research TBA
498H1/ 499H1
Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course. Open in exceptional circumstances to advanced students with a strong background in Anthropology. Application for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding term. A maximum of one year of Independent Research courses is allowed per program.
Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Coordinator and Supervisor

ANT483H1  Special Topics in Linguistic Anthropology 26S
This course will focus on an advanced topic in Linguistic Anthropology. Topic will vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: ANT204Y1/ANT253H1/300 Level course in Linguistic and Semiotic anthropology

ANT497Y1/  Independent Research TBA
498H1/ 499H1
Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course. Open in exceptional circumstances to advanced students with a strong background in Anthropology. Application for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding term. A maximum of one year of Independent Research courses is allowed per program.
Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Coordinator and Supervisor

ANT497Y1/  Independent Research TBA
498H1/ 499H1
Supervised independent research on a topic agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course. Open in exceptional circumstances to advanced students with a strong background in Anthropology. Application for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding term. A maximum of one year of Independent Research courses is allowed per program.
Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Coordinator and Supervisor
Anthropology

ANT337Y1 Human Population Biology 52L
Discussion of biological diversity of human populations according to climatic, nutritional, disease and demographic variables. From an ecological perspective, emphasis on evaluating the role of various factors (genetic, environmental and cultural) influencing population biology and on understanding the significance of human population variation.
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1/BIO150Y1

JPA400Y1 Advanced Physics & Archaeology 156P
An introduction to research in archaeometry and archaeological prospecting. Possible projects: magnetic and resistivity surveying of archaeological sites; thermoluminescence measurements; neutron activation analysis and x-ray fluorescence analysis of artifacts; radiocarbon dating by atom counting; lead isotope analysis.
(Offered in alternate years) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)
Prerequisite: JPA300Y1/(JPA305H1, 310H1)

ANT415Y1 Laboratory in Faunal Archaeo-Osteology 52S, 52P
Examination and interpretation of faunal material from archaeological sites as evidence for culture.
Prerequisite: ARH312Y1

ANT429Y1 Palaeoanthropology 26L, 52P
(formerly ANT429Y1)
Method and theory in palaeoanthropology focusing on reconstructions of human evolutionary history and the behaviour of fossil hominids. Identification and analysis of fossil human material and hominid systematics. Includes an extensive lab component using a large collection of primate skeletons and fossil human casts.
Exclusion: ANT429Y1, ANT332Y5 (UTM), ANTC17H3 (Scarb)
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1, ANT326Y1

ANT430H1 Primate Conservation Biology 26L
The focus of this course is on the science of primate conservation biology in an anthropological context. Topics will include primate biodiversity and biogeography, human impacts, and conservation strategies/policies. The effects of cultural and political considerations on primate conservation will also be discussed.
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1

ANT431H1 Mortuary Practices in the Archaeological Record 26L
Death is the only rite of passage that leaves frequent archaeological traces, through burial and mortuary rituals. Prerequisite: Any 300-level course from Group A or C
This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT434H1 Health, Diet & Disease in the Past 26L, 13P
Advanced exploration of the life histories of past populations, through the application of palaeodietary analyses, palaeopathology and other appropriate research methods.
Prerequisite: ANT334Y1

ANT436H1 Primate Ecology & Social Behavior 26L
This course will provide an overview of the ecology and social behavior of extant nonhuman primates. Topics will include socioecology, conservation biology, biogeography, aggression and affiliation, community ecology, communication, and socio-sexual behavior. There will also be extensive discussions of methods used in collecting data on primates in the field.
Prerequisite: ANT203Y1

ANT471H1 Human Nutritional Ecology 26S
Approaches from various sub-fieleds within anthropology are combined with others from zoology, ecology, community nutrition, and global health to enrich our understanding of the evolved nutritional needs of humans across time and space and their changing relationship to culture. Prerequisite: ANT 203Y1/204Y1
This is a Social Science or Science course.

ANT481H1 Special Topics in Biological Anthropology 26S
Unique opportunity to explore in-depth a particular topic in Biological Anthropology. Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course
The Archaeology Program focuses on the study of past human societies primarily through their material remains, or “material culture.” Archaeologists explore the nature of and changes in past cultures around the world through survey, excavation and analyses of stone tools, pottery, bones, plant remains, architecture and other cultural residues. Some of the major research foci of archaeologists are the nature of hunter-gatherer technology and economy in the Pleistocene, the origins of agriculture, pastoralism, urbanism and politically complex states, the workings of ancient exchange systems, and the development of class-based and gender-based political and economic inequalities in complex societies. Working archaeologists often specialize geographically, chronologically or thematically. Classical archaeologists, for example, specialize in the cultures of the ancient Greco-Roman world, while palaeoethnobotanists explore ways that botanical residues of ancient and prehistoric cultures can inform us about their economies and social systems. The specialist programs allow students to explore archaeology in a multidisciplinary setting.

Students in either specialist program should consult the program coordinator or faculty members in their intended areas of specialization for advice on the selection of courses. Those intending to go on to graduate studies in departments such as Fine Art History and Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations should pay particular attention to language requirements at the graduate level.

The Archaeology Specialist (Arts program) is designed for students in the Social Sciences or Humanities, who may be interested in such fields as prehistoric, Aegean, Classical, historical and Near and Middle Eastern archaeology. See details below. Students interested in pursuing graduate studies should combine it with study of the ancient and modern languages relevant to their primary area of interest.

The Prehistoric Archaeology Major (Arts program) is designed for students whose interests are in prehistoric archaeology, and who want to combine it with a Major in a field not traditionally associated with archaeology. See details below.

The Archaeological Science Specialist (Science program) allows students with science backgrounds to obtain training in areas of study related to archaeometry, geoarchaeology, osteoarchaeology, paleoethnobotany, and other archaeological sciences. See details below.

The Archaeological Science Major (Science program) allows students doing a Major in the mathematical or life sciences to combine that Major with training in archaeological sciences. See details below.

Students are encouraged to seek counselling and information about this program from the Anthropology Undergraduate Administrator/Student Counsellor, Anthropology (416-978-6414).

Archaeology Programs

1. Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Programs is limited to students with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above. Students may enroll at the end of First Year, or at any later time if they have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or above.
2. Only ONE Archaeology Program may be selected.

Archaeology (Arts program)

Specialist Program:
(10.5 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

First Year:
1. ANT 200Y1
2. One of ANT 100Y1/CLA 160H1/GGR 100Y1/NMC 101Y1
   If CLA160H1 is taken, an additional half course from Archaeology group A, B or C is required.

Second Year:
1. ARH 305H1
2. GGR 270H1* ( or a half-course from STA 220H1, 221H1, 247H1, 248H1, 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 261H1, ANT C35H3)
3. Two full course equivalents from ANT 203Y1/204Y1; CLA 230H1, 231H1; FAH 206H1, 207H1; NMC 260Y1

NOTES:
* Geography pre- or co-requisites waived for Anthropology students.
 To be taken at the Scarborough Campus

Prehistoric Archaeology (Arts program)

Major Program:
(6 full courses or equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

First Year:
ANT 100Y1

Second Year:
ANT 200Y1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. One full course equivalent from Group A
2. 2.5 courses from Groups B-C
3. Field Requirement: ANT 311Y1/ARH 361H1/NMC 261Y1
   If ARH 361H1 is taken, an additional ANT half-credit is required.
4. Lab Requirement: ARH 312Y1/JPA (305H1, 310H1)

Archaeological Science (Science program)

Specialist Program:
(12 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

First Year:
1. ANT 200Y1
2. One of: ANT 100Y1/GGR 100Y1/GLG (102H1, 110H1)
3. One of: BIO 150Y1/CHM (138H1, 139H1)/MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:
1. ARH 305H1
2. ENV 236Y1
3. One full course equivalent from: ANT 311Y1/ARH 361H1/NMC 261Y1/ARH 312Y1/JPA 305H1, 310H1

Archaeological Science (Science program)

Specialist Program:
(12 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

First Year:
1. ANT 200Y1
2. One of: ANT 100Y1/GGR 100Y1/GLG (102H1, 110H1)
3. One of: BIO 150Y1/CHM (138H1, 139H1)/MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:
1. ARH 305H1
2. ENV 236Y1
3. One full course equivalent from: BOT 202Y1/251Y1; CHM 217H1; GGR 201H1, 205H1/270H1/272H1, 273H1; GLG 206H1/207H1/216H1/217H1; ZOO 214Y1/252Y1/263Y1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. One course from Group A
Archaeology

2. One course from Group C
3. 2.5 courses from Group B
   If ARH 361H1 is taken, an additional ANT half-credit is required.
5. Lab Requirement: ARH 312Y1/JPA (305H1, 310H1)

Major Program:
(7 full courses or equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

First Year:
1. ANT 100Y1
2. At least one of: GGR 100Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1; BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1); PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:
ANT 200Y1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. ARH 305H1
2. One 300+series course from Groups A or C
3. 1.5 courses from Group B
4. Field and Lab Requirement: 1.0 course equivalent from:
   ANT 311Y1/ARH 361H1/NMC 261Y1 or ARH 312Y1/JPA (305H1, 310H1)

Archaeology Groups

Group A: Advanced Theory
ANT 409H1, 410H1, 411H1, 417H1, 420H1; HIS 425H1

Group B: Method and Interpretation
1. Archaeometry: CHM 317H1, 414H1, 416H1, 418Y1; ENV 315H1; GGR 337H1; JPA 400Y1; NMC 369Y1
2. Ceramic and Lithic Analysis: ANT 406H1; NMC 369Y1, 462Y1, 465H1, 466H1
3. Geoarchaeology: ANT 409H1; ENV 315H1; GGR 301H1, 302H1, 307H1, 337H1, 373H1, 390H1, 413H1; GLG 340H1, 360H1
4. Osteoarchaeology and Zooarchaeology: ANT 326Y1, 334Y1, 415Y1, 429H1, 434H1; BIO 323H1, 324H1
5. Paleoethnobotany: BOT 300H1, 307H1, 310H1; GGR 302H1, 305H1, 310H1; GGR 337H1, 390H1; HIS 318Y1

Group C: Area Courses
1. Classical and Aegean Archaeology: CLA 230H1, 231H1, 232H1, 233H1, 362H1, 389H1; FAH 206H1, 207H1, 300H1, 304H1, 403H1
2. Egyptian Archaeology: JAL 328H1; NMC 343H1, 344H1, 362Y1, 382Y1, 461Y1, 467H1, 468H1
3. European and Celtic Archaeology: HIS 322Y1; SMC 344Y1, 345Y1
4. Historical Archaeology: ANT 412H1; GGR 336H1, 366H1; HIS 456Y1
5. Islamic Archaeology: NMC 348H1, 461Y1, 464H1, 466H1
6. Near Eastern Archaeology: JAL 328H1; NMC 346H1, 347H1, 360H1, 361H1, 363H1, 364H1, 370Y1, 461Y1, 466H1
7. North American Prehistory: ANT 315H1, 319Y1, 365H1
8. Old World Prehistory: ANT 419H1; ARH 360Y1; GGR 310H1

Archaeology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), ARH courses are classified as Social Science courses

ARH305H1 Archaeological Interpretation 26L
Transforming archaeological results into statements about people and their life ways. Covers basic archaeological theory, including research design, sampling, stratigraphy, seriation, formation and testing or evaluation of hypotheses, regional analyses. Introduces some of the major schools of archaeological theory, including New Archaeology and Post-Processual Archaeology.
Prerequisite: ANT200Y1
This is a Social Science course

ARH312Y1 Archaeological Laboratory 26L, 52P
Techniques for making archaeological data meaningful after excavation or survey. Archaeological measurements, compilation of data, database design, archaeological systematics, and sampling theory in the context of lithics, pottery, floral, faunal and other archaeological remains.
Prerequisite: ANT200Y1, a half statistics course (e.g. GGR270H1*, STA220H1, 221H1, 250H1, 257H1, 261H1, ANTC35H3.
Note:
*Geography pre- or co-requisites waived for Anthropology and Archaeology students;
 to be taken at the Scarborough Campus
This is a Social Science course

ARH360Y1 Prehistory of the Near East 52L
From earliest times through the rise of complex hunter-gatherers, and the food producing revolution to politically complex societies in Southwest Asia.
Prerequisite: ANT200Y1/NMC260Y1
This is a Social Science course

ARH361H1 Field Archaeology TBA
Opportunity for students participating in non-degree credit archaeological digs to submit reports, field notes and term papers for degree credit.
Prerequisite: Permission of Undergraduate Co-ordinator and Supervisor

ARH398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

ARH482H1 Special Topics in Archaeology 26S
Unique opportunity to explore a particular archaeological topic in-depth. Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: A 200+ level ANT course
A Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Faculty of Architecture, Landscape, and Design

Architecture is both a profession and a discipline of study, offering a broad variety of career opportunities. As a profession it plays a pivotal role in the production of the built environment, bridging the technical and social, practical and theoretical. It is a cultural and artistic practice that is critically engaged with the forces of urbanization and technological change, the challenges of environmental sustainability, and the struggle for cultural expression. It involves the design, production, and organization of material culture from the scale of domestic objects to the scale of the metropolitan region. As such, studies in architecture interact with numerous related disciplines in the social sciences and humanities, as well as engineering, technology, and media. These studies may lead to professional graduate programs in architecture, landscape architecture, planning, and urban design, as well as careers in related design disciplines, the arts, history, business, journalism, and public policy.

The Architectural Studies programs provide Major degree options for students wishing to study architecture as part of a liberal arts education. The program serves as an introduction to the discipline of architecture, focusing on the state of the art, current issues and emerging practices, all considered from critical, theoretical, and historical perspectives. Studio courses in design and visual communication provide opportunities to learn practical, formal, and analytical skills.

The Architectural Studies Major Programs (Hon. BA) contain concentrations in Architectural Design or in History, Theory, Criticism. The Architectural Design concentration is intended for students wishing an intensive exposure to architectural design within a broad liberal arts education; the History, Theory, Criticism concentration is intended for students wishing a broad interdisciplinary education in architectural studies but not wishing to pursue design. Introductory courses begin at the first-year level and lead into a sequence of courses in architectural design and representation, history, theory, and technology. Emphasis is placed on advanced theory and interdisciplinarity, since contemporary architecture is intimately tied to knowledge and practice in urbanism, environmentalism, literature, media, cultural theory, art, science and technology, as well as philosophy, economics, and political science. This program could usefully be combined with a major in another discipline, such as fine art, urban studies, or computer science.

Graduates who have completed the Architectural Studies Major program and have an Honours B.A. degree may apply to graduate professional programs in architecture or landscape architecture. For further information regarding the BA Architectural Studies program, contact: enquiry.ald@utoronto.ca.

Students who are interested in pursuing graduate professional studies in architecture or landscape architecture and wish to apply to the Faculty’s Master of Architecture or Landscape Architecture programs are advised that for the Master of Architecture the following specific courses are required: secondary school calculus (OAC Calculus, or MCB4U Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus, Grade 12, University Preparation, or equivalent); secondary school physics (OAC Physics, or equivalent); and, a university level half-credit course in architectural history. For the Master of Landscape Architecture the following specific courses at the undergraduate level are highly recommended: biology/ecology, geography, English, and history. For further information regarding admission to these programs, visit www.ald.utoronto.ca or contact the Faculty of Architecture, Landscape, and Design at 416-978-5038. The Faculty sponsors a variety of lectures, exhibitions and other special events for members of the architectural community and the general public.

Architectural Studies Programs

NOTE: The Architectural Studies Specialist Program has been discontinued effective the 2006/07 academic year. The Specialist option will not be available to incoming students when choosing a Major. The Program will however honour those Specialist students currently in the Program. Program requirement courses will be offered to ensure students graduate from the program.
Architectural Studies (Arts program)

Major programs:
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including 2.0 FCEs at the 300+series)

Enrolment in the Architectural Studies Major Programs is limited. Students must have completed 4.0 full courses or their equivalent, including ARC 131H1 and ARC 132H1. Minimum marks of at least 70% in both ARC 131H1 and ARC 132H1 are required. The student’s Cumulative Grade Point Average will also be considered. Achieving minimum levels above does not guarantee admission.

NOTE: The Major programs include the 4.0 Core FCEs below plus 4.0 FCEs from one of the Concentrations below. Students must check all required prerequisites and co-requisites for courses before registering.

Core Courses for Architectural Studies programs (4.0 FCEs):

First Year:
1. Theory/Criticism: ARC 131H1, 132H1

Second Year:
1. Design: ARC 213H1
2. Visual: ARC 221H1
3. Theory/Criticism: ARC 231H1, and one of ARC 232H1, 233H1, 234H1, 235H1, 236H1, 237H1, 238H1 or 239H1
4. History: FAH 270H1 (replaces FAH 281H1), FAH 272H1 (replaces FAH 282H1)

Major with Concentration in Architectural Design (4.0 FCEs):
1. Design: ARC 313H1, 314H1
2. Visual: ARC 321H1
3. History:
   1.0 FCE from: ARC 433H1, 434H1, 435H1, 436H1; FAH 325Y0; NMC 392H1
   2.0 FCEs from: ARC 431H1, 432H1, 433H1, 434H1; FAH 300H1, 302H1, 309H1, 316H1, 325Y0; (formerly FAH 369H1), 362H1, 364H1, 370H1 (formerly FAH 324H1), 371H1 (formerly FAH 355H1), 372H1, 373H1, 374H1 (formerly FAH 382H1), 375H1, 376H1, 380H1, 400H1, 404H1, 405H1, 410H1, 413H1, 421H1, 442H1, 470H1, 471H1, 477H1 (formerly FAH 377H1), NMC 392H1
4. Technics: one of ARC 341H1/342H1
5. 1.0 FCE from any of the courses in Groups A, B, C, D, E listed below. Students are encouraged to take additional courses from these Groups beyond the Major to fulfill degree requirements.

Major with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism (4.0 FCEs):
1. Theory/Criticism: one additional of ARC 232H1, 233H1, 234H1, 235H1, 236H1, 237H1, 238H1, 239H1
2. History:
   0.5/1.0 FCE from: FAH 205H1, 261H1, 274H1, 278H1, 279H1, 300H1, 302H1, 309H1, 316H1, 325Y0, 328H1 (formerly FAH 369H1), 362H1, 364H1, 370H1 (formerly FAH 324H1), 371H1 (formerly FAH 355H1), 372H1, 373H1, 374H1 (formerly FAH 382H1), 375H1, 376H1, 380H1, 400H1, 404H1, 405H1, 410H1, 413H1, 421H1, 442H1, 470H1, 471H1, 477H1 (formerly FAH 377H1), NMC 392H1
3. 1.5 FCEs from any of the courses in Groups A, B, C, D, E listed below. Students are encouraged to take additional courses from these Groups beyond the Major to fulfill degree requirements.

Architectural Studies Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), ARC courses are classified as Humanities courses

ARC131H1 Introduction to Architecture 26L
A comprehensive introduction to the discipline, art and profession of architecture using case studies, both historical and contemporary, local and international.

ARC132H1 Contemporary Architecture 26L
An introductory survey of contemporary international architecture that examines how design is responding to technological change, environmental degradation, accelerating globalization of economy and media, and the politics of regional and cultural identity.

ARC213H1 Architectural Design I 39P
Introduction to architectural design conducted in a studio setting using a series of design projects that develop students’ understanding of and skills with fundamental aspects of designing buildings and their environments. Prerequisite: ARC221H1; Enrolment in an ARC program

ARC221H1 Architectural Representation I 39P
An introduction to architectural drawing and representation in various media. Prerequisite: ARC131H1, 132H1; Enrolment in an ARC program

ARC231H1 Architecture and Technology 26L
A selected survey of projects in the history of architecture exemplary for exploring the relationship between architecture and technological change.

ARC232H1 Architecture, Media and Communication 26L
An introduction to the interrelationship between architectural theory and studies in media and communications during the twentieth century.

Architectural Studies

ARC431H1 Historical Perspectives on Topics in Architecture 26L
An introduction to selected projects, writings and issues in contemporary world architecture considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing technologies, ecologies and cultural formations.
Prerequisite: ARC Specialist/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC432H1 Historical Perspectives on Topics in Architecture II 26L
A second introduction to selected projects, writings and issues in contemporary world architecture considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing technologies, ecologies and cultural formations.
Prerequisite: ARC Specialist/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC433H1 Urban Design History, Theory Criticism 26L
An introduction to selected projects and practices, theories and issues in contemporary urban design considered from an historical perspective and in the context of changing forces and paradigms of urbanization, technology, ecology and culture.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in an ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC434H1 Urban Design History, Theory Criticism II 26L
A selective survey of the interrelationships between theories and practices of landscape, ecology, and urbanism from the mid-eighteenth century to the late twentieth.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC435H1 History/Theory of Urban Landscape Architecture Design I 26L
Study of landscape architecture elements in gardens, public open space, parks, and urban development. Fosters an understanding of landscape architecture considering examples from ancient to modern times. Places historical positions in landscape architecture within a more contemporary context. Landscape architectural design from the standpoint of: a work of art, a manifestation of cultural ideologies, and an act of humans in “nature”.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC436H1 History/Theory of Contemporary Urban Landscape Design II 26L
The nature and origin of theories and principles in contemporary landscape architecture through lectures, seminar discussions and workshops. Design problems and the historic relationship to landscape issues; alternative design methods and characteristics of design motivations, constraints and expression in landscape as a media of practice.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism

ARC437H1 Housing Design: Theory & Practice 26L
Urban housing forms and processes since 1800. Contemporary housing theories and policies in the context of world issues. Design principles, criteria and practice investigated through case studies.
Prerequisite: ARC131H1, 132H1; Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC438H1 Mies van der Rohe 26L
An in depth examination of the work and thought of German-American architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe.
Prerequisite: FAH 281H1, 282H1; Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program/Major program with Concentration in History, Theory, Criticism/Major program with Concentration in Architectural Design

ARC441H1 Architecture in its Technological-Ecological Context 26L
An introduction to the technical conditions and ecological contexts of architectural production, including construction methods and materials, structural, mechanical and electrical systems, principles of building enclosure design and life safety provisions. This course introduces all areas of the technical curriculum that will be treated in subsequent courses.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program

ARC442H1 Building Science, Materials and Construction I 26L
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the ARC Specialist program
The Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies welcomes students who wish to combine concentrated study in a traditional academic discipline with an interdisciplinary major program that focuses on contemporary developments in this rapidly changing region. A broad survey course offered by the Department of Political Science provides students with a solid understanding of the complex political, economic, social and cultural life of the region. An additional range of optional courses that span the humanities and the social sciences allow students to develop more specialized knowledge of the region. Finally, a fourth-year capstone course allows students in the program to synthesize what they have learned in various optional courses while undertaking independent research on a topic of special interest.

Study of a major language of the region is an important component of the program. In many cases, this can be achieved by taking two courses in one of the three main languages taught in the Department of East Asian Studies: Chinese, Japanese or Korean. All possible efforts will also be made to assist and support students who wish to achieve basic fluency in another language of the region. Students who are already fluent in a language of the region are allowed to substitute optional courses for the language course requirements.

Students may consult the Director of the Program at the Munk Centre for International Studies. For general inquiries contact the Program Administrator at 416-946-8996, Munk Centre for International Studies, Room 227N or munk.aps@arts.utoronto.ca. For current developments, please check the Program's University web site (www.utoronto.ca/davidchu).

Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies

Enrolment in the Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies is open to students who have successfully completed four full courses. A minimum CGPA of 2.0 is required. Those who seek advanced language standing must receive permission from the Program Director, and will be required to complete recommended substitute courses. Formal admission to the program is achieved by completing a required enrolment form. The required form is available from the Director, the Program Administrator, or the Program’s web site.

Major program:

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+series courses)

1. POL 215Y1; ASI 400Y1. These courses must be taken in sequential order.
2. Two sequential Y1 courses normally in one of three languages - Chinese, Japanese or Korean - offered by the Department of East Asian Studies. For other languages, such as Thai, Vietnamese, Malay and Indonesian, students should consult with the Program Director. Generally two sequential courses are required for these languages as well but the Program will consider other arrangements including study abroad and intensive summer courses at other universities.
3. Three additional full course equivalents on appropriate Asia-Pacific topics from offerings in the following departments: ANT, EAS, GGR, HIS, PHL, POL, RLG, SOC. Students are invited to select any courses on the Asia-Pacific region that are offered by the above departments (or by other departments not listed here). Please consult with the Program Director if you have any questions about your course selection.

Asia-Pacific Studies Courses

ASI400Y1 Seminar in Asia-Pacific Studies 52L (formerly ASI300Y1)

This seminar course examines diverse postwar experiences and realities of the Asia Pacific region, which comprises a range of countries that differ in cultural, ethnic, and religious backgrounds, in levels of social and economic developments, and in political regimes. Unlike Europe, which has gone through a steady process of integration since WWII, regional links among Asia Pacific countries have been rather weak and often limited. Attempts to forge regional economic cooperation within the Asia Pacific region, such as ASEAN, have been fraught with political and historical tensions. As a result, much of the linkage has been limited to investment, trade, and production networks. This seminar will examine the various social, economic, and political experiences and realities of the countries in this region and their implications.

Prerequisite: POL215Y1 and enrolment in the Asia Pacific Studies major/permission of the Program Director

Exclusion: ASI300Y1

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

Since the launch of the Hubble Space Telescope in 1990 and the opening of a wide variety of major ground and space based sites for studying the universe across the entire electromagnetic spectrum, astronomers have been provided with an astonishing wealth of new information. From detailed studies of the Cosmic Microwave Background Radiation to the discovery of planets around other stars, from exploring the collisions of galaxies billions of years ago, to missions to the outer planets, astronomers are rapidly building a picture of the universe and the processes by which it is evolving with greater detail than ever before. The next decade might well provide answers to some of our most fundamental questions. Several courses are offered to suit persons of diverse backgrounds and depths of interest. Three beginning courses (AST 101H, 201H, 210H) require no special knowledge of mathematics or other sciences. They develop our understanding of the universe in a qualitative way and in terms of natural laws familiar to us on Earth. Audiovisual demonstrations are used extensively. The courses AST 121H and AST 251H are intended for students in other areas of the physical and life sciences. The remaining courses are designed for program students. In some of these courses, the objective is to provide for practical involvement by the student. This is achieved by the use of the remotely-controlled telescopes at the St. George and Scarborough Campus observatories by day as well as by night. A visit to the David Dunlap Observatory might also be arranged.

Astronomy & Astrophysics Programs

Enrolment in the Astronomy and Astrophysics programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Astronomy & Astrophysics (Science program)

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two courses at the 300+-level)
First Year:
MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1
Second Year:
1. AST 221H1, 222H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1
2. PHY 252H1 and one of PHY 225H1, 251H1, 255H1, 256H1
Third Year:
1. AST 320H1, 325H1/326Y1
2. One course from: CSC 336H1, 350H1, 351H1, 418H1, 456H1; ECE 385H1; PHY 305H1, 307H1/308H1, 315H1, 315H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1, 358H1, 359H1
3. One additional course or half course in APM/AST/CSC/MAT/PHY/STA, to make up the total of 8 full-course equivalents.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. AST 221H1, 222H1, 320H1, 325H1/326Y1
2. PHY 138Y1/140Y1
3. PHY 252H1 and one of PHY 225H1, 251H1, 255H1, 256H1

Please note:
PHY138Y1/140Y1 requires MAT135Y1/137Y1/151Y1 and PHY252H1 requires MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1.
Astronomy & Physics (Science program)
Consult Departments of Astronomy & Astrophysics and Physics.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:
MAT 137Y1, 223H1/240H1; PHY 140Y1
Second Year:
AST 221H1, 222H1; MAT 237Y1, 244H1; PHY 251H1, 252H1, 256H1
Third Year:
1. APM 346H1; AST 320H1, 325H1/326Y; PHY 225H1, 255H1, 351H1, 355H1
2. One of MAT 224H1, 327H1, 334H1, 363H1, STA 257H1
Fourth Year:
1. AST 420H1, 425H1; PHY 352H1, 353H1
2. One half course from each of groups A and B
3. One additional half course from either group A, group B or group C

Group A:
PHY 357H1, 358H1, 359H1
Group B:
PHY 457H1, 459H1, 460H1, 483H1, 484H1
Group C:
PHY 407H1, 408H1, 409H1

Astronomy & Astrophysics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes, all AST courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

AST101H1 The Sun and Its Neighbours 26L
Our place in the Universe. Phenomena we see in the sky. What we know about the Sun, the planets and comets, and the formation of the solar system - and how we know it. What makes planets suitable for life. Finding out about the nearest stars and their planets.
This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.

AST121H1 Origin and Evolution of the Universe 26L
The origin of the Universe, the origin of the chemical elements, the origin of stars and galaxies, the origin of life in the Universe. This course is intended for students who are enrolling in science courses.
Exclusion: AST101H1, 201H1, 210H1. Also excluded are AST221H1, 222H1 if taken previously or concurrently
Prerequisite: OAC Physics/SPH4U and OAC Calculus/MCB4U

AST201H1 Stars and Galaxies 26L
What we know about the properties and life cycles of stars, of galaxies, and of the Universe itself - and how we know it. How astronomers develop methods for understanding phenomena that span such vast ranges in distance and time.
This course is intended for students with no science or engineering background.
Exclusion: AST121H1, 210H1. Also excluded are CIV101H1 and any 100- or higher-series CHM or PHY courses taken previously or concurrently (with the exception of PHY100H1, 210H1, 205H1, CHM200Y1)

AST210H1 Great Moments in Astronomy 26L
The history of Western astronomy: Copernican Revolution to twentieth century astrophysics. Emphasis is placed on the process of discovery which has led to major advances in knowledge about the Universe. The course ends with an outline of one of the most significant puzzles of our day and an examination of the potential for a new revolution in knowledge in our lifetime.
Exclusion: AST101H1, 121H1, 201H1

AST221H1 Solar System and Stellar Astronomy 39L
Telescopes and instrumentation, concepts in basic physics applied to a treatment of the solar system and stars.
Exclusion: AST101H1/201H1
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1, MAT135Y1/137Y1

AST222H1 Galactic and Extragalactic Astronomy 39L
Concepts of basic physics applied to a treatment of stellar systems and the structure of the Universe.
Exclusion: AST201H1
Prerequisite: AST221H1

AST251H1 Life on Other Worlds 26L
Scholarly discussion of the probability that there are planets with life elsewhere in the universe, from the perspective of current ideas concerning the origin and evolution of the universe, the solar system and life. Discussion of search techniques and possibilities for interstellar travel and space colonies.
Prerequisite: OAC Biology/OAC Chemistry/OAC Physics/ SB14U/SCH4U/ SPH4U

AST299Y1 Research Opportunity Program 26L
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

AST320H1 Introduction to Astrophysics 26L
The formation, equilibrium and evolution of structure on all astronomical scales from the largest to the smallest: universe, clusters of galaxies, galaxies, clusters of stars, gas clouds and stars.
Prerequisite: AST222H1, PHY252H1
AST325H1  Introduction to Practical Astronomy  39P

Observational projects in astrophysics involving work with telescopes and CCD detectors. Principles of photometry. Use of standard software packages for data reduction and analysis. Students will be required to use UNIX/Linux operating systems.

Exclusion: AST 326Y1

AST326Y1  Practical Astronomy  78P

Observational projects in astrophysics involving work with telescopes and CCD detectors. Principles of photometry and spectroscopy. Use of UNIX/Linux-based software packages for data reduction and analysis. This course is an expanded version of AST 325H1 designed to give students a wider exposure to practical astronomy.

Exclusion: AST 325H1
Prerequisite: AST 221H1/222H1, PHY 251H1/252H1/255H1/256H1

AST398H0/99Y0  Independent Experiential Study Project

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

AST420H1  Topical Astrophysics  26L

Discussion of topics of current interest in astrophysics. Possible topics include accretion disk physics, compact object physics, spiral structure in galaxies, dark matter physics, black-body physics.

AST425H1  Research Topic in Astronomy  TBA

A research report by the student in consultation with an individual staff member in the Department. This course is intended for students in the final year of the Astronomy and Physics specialist program. Students must enrol with the Undergraduate Secretary of the Department.

Co-requisite: AST420H1 or Prerequisite: AST325H1

Chemistry is a challenging intellectual pursuit and a dominant force in shaping our civilization. Chemistry places strong emphasis on an understanding of the structures and properties of individual atoms and molecules, and on using this understanding to interpret and predict the behaviour of matter. Many of the concepts of physics, and the methods of mathematics, are basic to chemistry. Chemistry is of fundamental importance to many other subjects including astrophysics, biological sciences, environmental science, geology, materials science, and medical sciences. These and other aspects of the subject are reflected in the courses offered, and the programs recommended by the Department.

The Department has made extensive changes to its course and program offerings in the last few years. These changes included a revision of first year courses, substantial modifications to later-year courses, the introduction of new specialist programs in Biological Chemistry, Materials Chemistry, and in Environmental Chemistry, and more flexibility for students choosing areas of specialization both within chemistry and in combination with other disciplines.

Students can choose between two first year options according to their intended area of specialization.
Chemistry

CHM151Y1 is the course that is strongly recommended for all students who will be following one of the specialist programs involving chemistry, or who will be including a substantial amount of chemistry in their eventual programs of study.

The combination of CHM138H1 and CHM139H1 is recommended for students who intend to take programs in the Life or Health Sciences that do not require a large amount of chemistry. They are also the most appropriate courses for students applying for entry into professional programs. These courses may be taken in any order, and not in the same session.

The outlines of these first year courses, together with those for later-year offerings, are shown in this Calendar. More detailed information is available from the Department, and is posted on the World Wide Web at http://www.chem.utoronto.ca/underinfo. Students who are following programs that contain a substantial number of chemistry courses are strongly advised to take courses in the proper year (i.e. 200-series in second year, etc.). Following the correct sequence will enhance the level and balance of preparation for all later year courses, and timetable conflicts will be avoided.

Students whose current programs may be affected by the introduction of new or revised chemistry courses are advised to consult the Department at the earliest possible opportunity.

Students requiring more information about Chemistry programs and courses are invited to visit or phone the Undergraduate Office, Lash Miller Chemical Laboratories, Room 151 (416-978-6033).

Chemistry Programs

Biological Chemistry (Science program)
Consult Professor A. Woolley, Department of Chemistry.
Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)
First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/(140Y1
Second and Higher Years:
1. BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 225Y1/(220H1, 221H1), 238Y1, 247H1/249H1 (CHM249H1 recommended), 347H1, 348H1, 379H1. CHM217H1 is recommended.
2. Further 300/400-series courses in BCH or CHM, including CHM 437H1, 447H1, and 479H1 to make a total of 13 full courses. BOT 450H1 is also acceptable.

Chemical Physics (Science program)
Consult Professor J. Schofield, Department of Chemistry.
Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series courses)
First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 137Y1/157Y1; PHY 140Y1
Higher Years:
1. APM 346H1; CHM 225Y1, 326H1, 327H1, 328H1; MAT 223H1/240H1, 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1, 334H1; PHY 251H1, 255H1, 351H1, 352H1; CHM 423H1/PHY (355H1, 457H1)
2. Two full course equivalents from CHM 217H1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1, 314Y1/317H1, 338H1, 348H1
3. Further 400-series half-courses in CHM/PHY to make a total of 14 full courses

Chemistry (Science program)
Consult Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies, Department of Chemistry.
Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor Chemistry programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)
First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/(140Y1
Second Year: CHM 217H1, 225Y1/(220H1 with minimum grade of B, 221H1), 238Y1, 249H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1
Third and Fourth Years:
1. CHM 326H1/328H1, 327H1
2. Further 300/400-level full course equivalents in CHM/MAT/another science, including at least two of CHM 314Y1/317H1, 326H1, 328H1, 338H1, 346H1/348H1, 379H1 and at least three 400-level CHM full course equivalents to make a total of 13 full courses.

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1
Second Year: At least two of CHM 217H1, 220H1/225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1
Third Year: At least two of CHM 314Y1/317H1, 326H1, 338H1, 346H1/348H1, 379H1
Fourth Year: Further 200/300/400-level CHM courses to make a total of seven CHM full course equivalents (CHM 200Y1, 299Y1 excluded)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level)
First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1)
Second Year: At least one of CHM 217H1, 220H1/225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1
Third Year: At least one of CHM 314Y1/317H1, 327H1, 338H1, 346H1/348H1, 379H1
Fourth Year: Further 200/300/400-level CHM courses to make a total of four CHM full course equivalents (CHM 200Y1 excluded)

Chemistry and Geology (Science program)
Consult Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies, Department of Chemistry, and Professor J. Mungall, Department of Geology.
Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:
(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
Chemistry

First Year: CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1

Second Year: CHM 217H1, 238Y1; GLG 206H1, 207H1, 216H1/217H1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. CHM 225Y1, 247H1/249H1, 338H1, 314Y1/317H1/346H1/348H1
2. Two 400-series half-courses in CHM; GLG 318H1, 340H1
3. Three 300-series half-courses in GLG

* GLG 110H1 is recommended but not required in the program

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)
Consult Professor J. Abbatt, Department of Chemistry
Enrolment in this program is limited. It requires prior completion of 4 courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Three courses must be from the First Year list. Apply through the Centre for Environment by: 1st Round: TBA; 2nd Round: TBA at: www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current

Specialist program:
(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1

Second Year: CHM 217H1, 225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1; ENV 235Y1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. CHM 310H1, 410H1, 415H1; ENV 234Y1, ENV 321Y1/JIE 222Y1
2. One additional FCE from 300/400-series CHM courses
3. (JIE 410H1, ENV 421H1)/CHM 409Y1/418Y1/428Y1/439Y1/449Y1

*CHM 439Y1 has the prerequisite CHM 438H1

Chemistry Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all CHM courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

CHM138H1 Introductory Organic Chemistry I 39L, 18P, 12T
An introduction to principles of structure and their relation to reactivity of organic molecules: molecular structure, stereochemistry, functional groups, and reactions. Recommended for students in life and health science programs. NOTE: CHM138H1 and 139H1 may be taken in either order, but not both in the same session.
Exclusion: CHM 131Y1, CHM242H5, CHM841H3, CHM842H3
Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics MCB4U
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 2nd year Chemistry courses; PHY138Y1/140Y1 recommended

CHM139H1 Chemistry: Physical Principles 39L, 18P, 12T
Structure of matter: gases, liquids and solids; phase equilibria and phase diagrams; colligative properties; chemical equilibria; electrolyte solutions and electrochemistry; reaction kinetics; introduction to thermodynamics. Recommended for students in life and health science programs.
NOTE: CHM138H1 and 139H1 may be taken in either order, but not both in the same session.
Exclusion: CHM 151Y1, CHMA10H3, CHMA11H3
Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics MCB4U
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 2nd year Chemistry courses; PHY138Y1/140Y1 recommended

CHM151Y1 Chemistry: The Molecular Science 78L, 35P, 26T
An introduction to the major areas of modern chemistry, including (1) organic and biological chemistry, (2) physical chemistry and chemical physics, (3) inorganic and materials chemistry. The course is intended for students specializing in chemistry or a related science. The combination of CHM151Y1 and CHM249H1 serves as a full year introductory course in organic chemistry with laboratory.
Note: Students taking Chemistry and Physics may schedule the labs on the same afternoon of alternate weeks.
Exclusion: CHM (138H1, 139H1), CHM140Y5, CHMA10H3, CHMA11H3
Prerequisite: Chemistry SCH4U, Mathematics MCB4U
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 recommended

CHM200Y1 The Role of Chemistry in Modern Society 52L
Human beings are constructed physically of chemicals, live in a sea of chemicals and are very dependent for their material quality of life on the modern chemical industry. This course is especially for non-science students who wish to develop a better understanding of the impact and importance of chemistry in industry, society and the environment. The course should be of particular interest to students with interests in economics, commerce, management, politics, psychology and teaching. Not offered in 2005-2006.
Exclusion: Students who have taken one or more university-level courses in chemistry require permission of the instructor.
Prerequisite: completion of 5 full courses at the university level
CHM217H1 Introduction to Analytical 26L, 52P, 13T Chemistry
Introduction to the science of chemical measurement, from sampling through analysis to the interpretation of results, how water, food products, pharmaceuticals, and dietary supplements are analysed for content, quality, and potential contaminants. Also how to interpret experimental measurements, compare results and procedures, and calibrate analytical instrumentation. Through closely integrated lectures, laboratories, and tutorials, this highly practical course will introduce you to a variety of analytical techniques including volumetric methods, potentiometry, uv/visible and infrared spectrophotometry, flame atomic absorption spectrometry, and chromatography.
Prerequisite: CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department

CHM220H1 Physical Chemistry for Life Sciences 39L, 13T
Introduction to thermodynamics; phase equilibrium, properties of mixtures, chemical equilibrium, electrochemistry; introduction to quantum mechanics and spectroscopy.
Exclusion: CHM 225Y1, 221HS
Prerequisite: CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1
Recommended co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM221H1 Physical Chemistry: The Molecular Viewpoint 26L, 13T
A continuation of CHM220H1 for students wishing to take some additional material in Physical Chemistry. The course covers topics in quantum mechanics and spectroscopy as well as an introduction to reaction kinetics.
Exclusion: CHM 225Y1, 221HS
Prerequisite: CHM220H1 with a minimum grade of B, or permission from the department
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1 recommended, but may be required pre-requisite in 3rd year Chemistry courses

CHM225Y1 Introduction to Physical Chemistry II 52L, 26T
Directed to students in the Chemistry major and specialist programs. Topics: introductory thermodynamics, first and second law and applications; chemical equilibrium; chemical kinetics; introductory quantum mechanics; spectroscopy.
Exclusion: CHM 220H1, 221H1, 221HS
Prerequisite: CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM238Y1 Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry 52L, 52P
The first part (with CHM338H1) of a two-year sequence in Inorganic Chemistry, designed to illustrate and systematize the rich variety of structures, physical properties and reactions of compounds of the elements across and down the Periodic Table. Introduction to structure, symmetry and bonding of molecules and lattices; acid-base and redox reactions; d-metal complexes; systematic chemistry of metals and elements of the s and p blocks; inorganic materials and solid state chemistry with applications in advanced technologies.
Prerequisite: CHM151Y1/(138H1, 139H1) with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department

CHM247H1 Introductory Organic Chemistry II 39L, 22P, 12T
An introductory course in organic chemistry, based around the themes of structure, bonding, reaction mechanism and synthesis. Reactions are discussed with a view to understanding mechanism and how they are useful in the multi-step synthesis of medicinally and industrially important compounds. An introduction to the spectroscopy of organic molecules is also given, as well as discussion of topics relating to the biological behaviour of organic molecules and medicinal chemistry. This course continues from CHM 138H1 and is designed for students in the Chemistry specialist and major programs. This course is highly recommended for students in the Biological Chemistry program.
Exclusion: CHM247H1, CHM242HS, CHM243HS, CHMB41H3, CHMB42H3
Prerequisite: CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

CHM299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

CHM310H1 Environmental Chemistry 26L
Major chemical pollutants and their sources, the environmental reactions they undergo, and how they become distributed throughout the environment. Focus is on the principal routes of chemical and biological degradation of toxicants; oxidation, photodegradation, hydrolysis, reduction, biotic metabolism, and microbial degradation. The principal physical processes by which chemicals move, concentrate, and dissipate.
Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1

CHM317H1 Introduction to Instrumental Methods of Analysis 26L, 52P
Scope of instrumental analytical chemistry; Fourier transform IR absorption spectroscopy; molecular luminescence; emission spectroscopy; mass spectroscopy, electrochemical techniques; sensors; gas and high performance liquid chromatography; instrument design principles and applications in industry and the environment.
Prerequisite: CHM217H1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department
Recommended preparation: CHM (220H1, 221H1)/225Y1

CHM325H1 Introduction to Inorganic and Polymer Materials Chemistry
26L
Fashioned to illustrate how inorganic and polymer materials chemistry can be rationally used to synthesize superconductors, metals, semiconductors, ceramics, elastomers, thermoplastics, thermosets and polymer liquid crystals, with properties that can be tailored for applications in a range of advanced technologies. Coverage is fairly broad and is organized to crosscut many aspects of the field.
Prerequisite: CHM220H1/225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1

CHM326H1 Introductory Quantum Mechanics and Spectroscopy
26L
This course introduces the postulates of quantum mechanics to develop the fundamental framework of quantum theory. A number of exactly soluble problems are treated in detail as examples. Perturbation theory is introduced in the context of understanding many body problems. Various applications to chemical bonding and molecular spectroscopy are covered in detail.
Prerequisite: CHM225Y1/(CHM 220H1, 221H1), MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM327H1 Experimental Physical Chemistry
13L, 52P
Students are exposed to experiments to help them experience modern physical chemistry. Labs designed to illustrate physical chemistry principles and practical techniques as well as their real world state of the art applications. The course also involves some lecture material to broaden the laboratory experience.
Prerequisite: CHM225Y1/(CHM220H1, 221H1) with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department
Recommended co-requisites: CHM326H1 or CHM328H1

CHM328H1 Modern Physical Chemistry
26L
This course explores the microscopic description of macroscopic phenomena in chemistry. Statistical mechanics is introduced as the bridge between the microscopic and macroscopic views, and applied to a variety of chemical problems including reaction dynamics. More advanced topics in thermodynamics are introduced and discussed as required.
Prerequisite: CHM225Y1/(CHM 220H1, 221H1), MAT235Y1/237Y1

CHM333H1 Intermediate Inorganic Chemistry
26L, 52P
Further study of the structures, physical properties and reactions of compounds of the main group elements and the transition metals. Introductions to spectroscopy and structural analysis, reaction mechanisms, d- and f- block organometallic compounds, catalysis, structures of solids and bioinorganic chemistry. The weekly laboratory demonstrates aspects of transition metal chemistry.
Prerequisite: CHM238Y1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department
Recommended Preparation: CHM217H1, 247H1/249H1

CHM345H1 Modern Organic Synthesis
26L
An overview of the preparation of various classes of organic compounds. Strategies and tactics of synthetic organic chemistry using examples from natural products and pharmaceuticals.
Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1

CHM346H1 Modern Organic Synthesis
26L, 52P
An overview of the preparation of various classes of organic compounds. Strategies and tactics of synthetic organic chemistry using examples from natural products and pharmaceuticals. C-C bond formation, functional group reactivity, structure, stereochemistry and selectivity. (This course is not allowed for students in any of the Chemistry specialist and major programs; they should consider CHM345H1 instead.)
Exclusion: CHM346H1
Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1

CHM347H1 Organic Chemistry of Biological Compounds
26L, 13T
An organic chemical approach to the structure and reactions of major classes of biological molecules: carbohydrates, amino acids, peptides and proteins, phosphates, lipids, heterocycles, vitamins, nucleotides and polynucleotides. This is achieved through studies of advanced stereochemistry, chemical modification, reactions and synthesis. In addition to lectures and reading from texts, there will be opportunities for independent written assignments on several of the topics.
Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1

CHM348H1 Organic Reaction Mechanisms
26L, 26P
This course provides a comprehensive overview of one of the most fascinating aspects of modern chemistry – the logic and mechanistic basis for understanding the chemical transformations of organic molecules. The main goal of this course is to teach problem solving techniques related to such transformations from a mechanistic point of view.
Prerequisite: CHM247H1/249H1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department

CHM379H1 Biomolecular Chemistry
26L, 48P
This course provides an opportunity to learn core techniques in biological chemistry in a small group laboratory setting. Lectures will discuss the theory behind the techniques and highlight how they are used in current biological chemistry research and practice.
Exclusion: BCH370H1, BCH 371H1
Prerequisite: (CHM247H1/249H1, 347H1 with a minimum grade of 65%, or permission from the department), BCH 210H1
Recommended preparation: CHM217H1

CHM398H0/399Y0 Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

CHM409Y1 Introduction to Research in Environmental Chemistry
260P
An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a member of staff. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session.
Exclusion: CHM418Y1/428Y1/439Y1/449Y1
Prerequisite: Permission of Department
Recommended preparation: CHM314Y1/317H1
Chemistry

CHM410H1 Analytical Environmental Chemistry 26L, 32P
An analytical theory, instrumental, and methodology course focused on the measurement of pollutants in soil, water, air, and biological tissues and the determination of physical/chemical properties including vapour pressure, degradation rates, partitioning. Lab experiments involve application of theory. Prerequisite: CHM310H1
Recommended preparation: CHM314Y1/317H1

CHM414H1 Developing Techniques in Analytical Chemistry 26L
Current research in analytical chemistry with emphasis on rapidly emerging techniques. Course topics chosen from biosensor technology, transducer theory and operation, device design and fabrication, surface modification and methods of surface analysis, flow injection analysis and chemometrics. Recommended preparation: CHM217H1/314Y1/317H1

CHM415H1 Atmospheric Chemistry 26L
This course considers the chemistry occurring in the Earth’s atmosphere, with emphasis on developing molecular-level understanding of the photochemistry, free-radical kinetics, and heterogeneous chemistry that occurs. Topics include stratospheric ozone depletion, trace gas oxidation, urban air pollution, acid rain, and the connections between aerosols and climate. Prerequisite: CHM220H1/225Y1/310H1
Recommended preparation: MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

CHM416H1 Separation Science 26L

CHM417H1 Instrumentation for Chemists 26L
Basic understanding of components used in machines conventionally applied to chemical analysis and research. Electronic circuits and measurement; optical components; analog-digital conversion; lock-in amplifiers and frequency counters; interfaces for data acquisition and LabView; signal control. Prerequisite: CHM317H1

CHM418Y1 Introduction to Research in Analytical Chemistry 260P
An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a member of the Physical Chemistry staff. Enrolment in this course may be restricted and must be approved by the Department. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session. Prerequisite: CHM326H1, 328H1

CHM421H1 Chemical Kinetics & Dynamics 26L
The course provides an introduction to 1) molecular reaction dynamics (potential energy surfaces, bimolecular collisions, dynamics of bimolecular and unimolecular reactions, transition state theory) and to the modern tools (often laser based) to explore such dynamics, 2) relation of dynamics to classical chemical kinetics (rate, rate laws and mechanisms), 3) modern methods to control molecular processes. Prerequisite: CHM (326H1, 328H1)

CHM422H1 Applications of Quantum Mechanics 26L
Applications of time independent and time dependent perturbation theory to atomic and molecular problems, selection of topics from WKB approximation and the classical limit; the interaction of light with matter; elementary atomic scattering theory; molecular bonding. Prerequisite: CHM326H1
Recommended preparation: MAT223H1

CHM423H1 Applications of Quantum Methods to Control Molecular Processes 26L
Prerequisite: CHM (326H1, 328H1)
Methods to control molecular processes.

CHM424H1 Statistical Mechanics 26L
Prerequisite: CHM325H1; two of CHM328H1, 338H1, 348H1/137Y1

CHM425H1 Introduction to Research in Physical Chemistry 260P
An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a member of the Physical Chemistry staff. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session. Prerequisite: CHM326H1, 328H1

CHM426H1 Polymer Chemistry 26L
Prerequisite: CHM326H1

CHM427H1 Statistical Mechanics 26L
Prerequisite: CHM325H1; two of CHM328H1, 338H1, 348H1/137Y1

CHM428H1 Introduction to Research in Polymer Materials Chemistry 26L
Prerequisite: CHM326H1/328H1, CHM327H1, permission of the instructor

CHM429H1 Introduction to Research in Physical Chemistry 260P
An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a member of the Physical Chemistry staff. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session. Prerequisite: CHM326H1, 328H1

CHM430H1 Organometallic Chemistry and Polymer Materials Chemistry 26L
Structure, bonding, and reactions of organometallic compounds, with emphasis on basic mechanisms, and industrial processes. Addition, metatation, substitution, elimination, important catalytic cycles, electrophilic, and nucleophilic reactions are considered on a mechanistic basis. Properties of s and p block organometallics. Prerequisite: CHM333H1
Recommended preparation: CHM348H1

CHM432H1 Organometallic Chemistry 26L
Recommended preparation: CHM348H1

CHM434H1 Advanced Materials Chemistry 26L
A comprehensive investigation of synthetic methods for preparing diverse classes of inorganic materials with properties intentionally tailored for a particular use. Begins with a primer on solid-state materials and electronic band description of solids followed by a survey of archetypical solids that have had a dramatic influence on the materials world, some new developments in materials chemistry and a look at perceived future developments in materials research and technology. Strategies for synthesizing many different classes of materials with intentionally designed structures and compositions, textures and morphologies are then explored in detail emphasizing how to control the relations between structure and property of materials and ultimately function and utility. A number of contemporary issues in materials research are... critically evaluated to appreciate recent highlights in the field of materials chemistry - an emerging sub-discipline of chemistry.

CHM437H1 Bio-Inorganic Chemistry 26L
Essential elements in biology; naturally occurring and medicinal ligands; transport, uptake and control of concentration of metal ions; physical methods of characterization of metal binding sites. Roles of metal ions: as structural and signaling elements in proteins, nucleic acids and DNA-binding complexes and proteins; as Lewis-acid centres in enzymes; as carriers of electrons, atoms and groups in redox proteins and enzymes; as sources of biominerals; as radiopharmaceuticals.
Prerequisite: CHM238Y1
Recommended preparation: CHM 338H1, CHM347H1/379H1

CHM438H1 Advanced Inorganic and Materials 130P Chemistry Laboratory
The 4-week format of the lab bridges the gap between typical undergraduate labs and the realities of academic and industrial research and provides an exceptional educational opportunity for students intending to do honours research projects or considering going on in graduate studies. The lab is open throughout the day for the first four weeks of the fall term and instructional staff are available during this time to provide guidance on an individual basis. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session.
Prerequisite:
Inorganic Specialist students: CHM 238Y, CHM338H1 and permission of Department
Materials Science Specialist students: CHM238Y, CHM325H and permission of Department

CHM439Y1 Introduction to Research in 260P Inorganic Chemistry
An experimental or theoretical research problem under the supervision of a staff member. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session.
Exclusion: CHM409Y1/418Y1/428Y1/449Y1
Prerequisite: Permission of Department
Recommended preparation: CHM346H1/348H1/379H1

CHM440H1 The Synthesis of Modern 26L Pharmaceutical Agents
This course provides an overview of reactions and synthetic strategies that are being used at different stages of the drug development process. Using representative examples from the literature, we will concentrate on synthesis of complex heterocyclic compounds.
Prerequisite: CHM345H1/346H1

CHM441H1 Spectroscopic Analysis in 26L, 6P Organic Chemistry
Structure and stereochemistry determination using modern spectroscopic techniques. Several techniques are discussed but particular emphasis is given to NMR (1H and 13C NMR) and mass spectrometry. The approach taken emphasizes applications of these spectroscopic methods to organic problems. Students are trained to run their own spectra (IR, UV, NMR, GC-MS).
Prerequisite: CHM345H1/346H1/348H1

CHM443H1 Physical Organic Chemistry 26L
Methods for the determination of organic reaction mechanisms, both in a kinetic and non-kinetic sense. Topics include reactive intermediates, product identification, structure/reactivity relationships, solvent effects, kinetic isotope effects and acid/base catalysis
Prerequisite: CHM220H1/225Y1, 348H1

CHM444H1 Bio-organic Chemistry 26L
Applications of organic chemistry and physical organic chemistry to the study of biologically important processes. Topics include kinetics and mechanisms of enzyme catalysis, chemistry of co-enzymes, drug and inhibitor design, catalytic antibodies.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1/310H1/321Y1/ CHM379H1/ 347H1
Recommended preparation: CHM348H1

CHM449Y1 Introduction to Research in 260P Organic Chemistry
An experimental research problem under the supervision of a faculty member. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session. Projects in the areas of synthetic, physical and bio-organic chemistry are offered.
Exclusion: CHM409Y1/418Y1/428Y1/439Y1
Prerequisite: Permission of Department
Recommended preparation: CHM346H1/348H1/379H1

CHM447H1 Bio-organic Chemistry 26L
Applications of organic chemistry and physical organic chemistry to the study of biologically important processes. Topics include kinetics and mechanisms of enzyme catalysis, chemistry of co-enzymes, drug and inhibitor design, catalytic antibodies.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1/310H1/321Y1/ CHM379H1/ 347H1
Recommended preparation: CHM348H1

CHM449Y1 Introduction to Research in 260P Organic Chemistry
An experimental research problem under the supervision of a faculty member. Applications for enrolment should be made to the Department in the preceding Winter Session. Projects in the areas of synthetic, physical and bio-organic chemistry are offered.
Exclusion: CHM409Y1/418Y1/428Y1/439Y1
Prerequisite: Permission of Department
Recommended preparation: CHM346H1/348H1/379H1

CHM479H1 Biological Chemistry 26L
An in depth examination of biological systems at the molecular level. Several complex, multi-component molecular machines with a central role in life will be examined. For each system studied, the focus will be on understanding the chemical mechanisms that underlie the biological activities, and how these processes fit into a cellular context.
Prerequisite: CHM447H1, BCH210H1/242Y1

Christianity & Culture: see St. Michaels’ College

Cinema Studies: see Innis College
Classics

Classical Studies includes Greek, Latin, Greek and Latin Literature in Translation, and Greek and Roman History.

The field of Classics is concerned with the languages, literature, philosophy, myth, religion, politics, and history of Greece and Rome. For the linguist, Greek provides an unbroken tradition from the earliest to modern times, while Latin is the parent of the Romance languages.

Students and lovers of literature are introduced to works in every genre which have contributed form, content, and critical standards to every European literature. The philosopher encounters the seminal ideas of European philosophy clearly and simply expressed. The political scientist observes a people passionately interested in the theory and practice of politics who explored the possibilities of elitist governing groups, despotism, and democracy, singly and in a variety of combinations, in national, federal, and imperial contexts. The student of religion discovers a rich variety of religious experience, interesting in itself and for its formative influence upon Christianity and Islam. The historian surveying an entire civilization can compare it with our own and can trace the evolution of a great social experiment from its first creative phase through its mature achievement to its final period of consolidation and obsolescence. Our understanding of the present is enhanced by understanding these formative influences from the past.

The Department of Classics welcomes students of all academic backgrounds who wish to take courses in the field but do not wish to specialize in Classical Studies. Even without knowing Greek or Latin, students can profitably study Greek and Roman history or Greek and Latin literature in translation - two areas combined under the designation CLA (for Classical Civilization courses) below. Similarly, the Major and Minor Programs in Classical Civilization presuppose no knowledge of the classical languages.

Advanced work in Greek and Latin does require study of the basic language courses in sequence. These are listed below under the designations GRK (for Greek courses) and LAT (for Latin courses).

The Department of Classics publishes an undergraduate handbook which may be obtained from the departmental office and is published on the internet; this and other information about the Department is available at: http://www.chass.utoronto.ca/classics.

Department of Classics Programs

Enrolment in Classical Civilization programs is limited to students who have completed 2 CLA half-courses with a grade of 65 or above; enrolment in the language programs listed below (Classics, Greek, Latin) is open to students who have completed 4 full course equivalents (FCEs) of any kind; no minimum GPA is required. PLEASE NOTE THAT NOT ALL COURSES ARE OFFERED EVERY YEAR. CONSULT THE CURRENT TIMETABLE OR UNDERGRADUATE HANDBOOK FOR CURRENT COURSE OFFERINGS.

NOTES
FCE = “full course equivalent”

1. Approved courses involving the ancient Greek and Roman civilizations in other departments can be substituted for CLA courses; consult the Undergraduate Coordinator.

2. Such CLA substitutions should not exceed 3 FCEs for the Major Classical Civilization program, and 2 FCEs for the Minor Classical Civilization program.
3. GRK or LAT courses may be substituted for 200-level CLA courses: up to 2 FCEs in the Major Classical Civilization program and up to 1 FCE in the Minor Classical Civilization program.

Classical Civilization (Arts program)

Major program:
(6 FCEs)
1. CLA160H1
2. 5.5 FCEs of CLA courses at the 200+ level, including at least 2 FCEs at the 300+ level

Minor program:
(4 FCEs)
1. CLA160H1
2. 3.5 FCEs of CLA courses at the 200+ level, including 1 FCE at the 300+ level

Classics (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(13 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 12 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses including 5 FCEs in each of GRK and LAT; 4 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK 330H, LAT 330H, and 1 FCE at the 400-level

Major program:
(7 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 6 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses, including 2 FCEs in each of GRK and LAT; 2 FCEs GRK/LAT courses must be at the 300+ level and include GRK/LAT 330H1 (both recommended)

Greek (Arts program)

Major program:
(6 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 4 FCEs of GRK courses; 2 FCEs must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK330H1
3. 1 additional FCE of CLA/GRK/LAT courses

Minor program:
(4 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 3 FCEs of GRK courses, of which at least 1 must be a 300+ series course

Latin (Arts program)

Major program:
(6 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 4 FCEs of LAT courses; 2 FCEs must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK330H1
3. 1 additional FCE of CLA/GRK/LAT courses

Minor program:
(4 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 3 FCEs of LAT courses, of which at least 1 must be a 300+ series course

Classics (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(13 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 12 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses including 5 FCEs in each of GRK and LAT; 4 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK 330H, LAT 330H, and 1 FCE at the 400-level

Major program:
(7 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 6 FCEs of GRK/LAT courses, including 2 FCEs in each of GRK and LAT; 2 FCEs GRK/LAT courses must be at the 300+ level and include GRK/LAT 330H1 (both recommended)

Greek (Arts program)

Major program:
(6 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 4 FCEs of GRK courses; 2 FCEs must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK330H1
3. 1 additional FCE of CLA/GRK/LAT courses

Minor program:
(4 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 3 FCEs of GRK courses, of which at least 1 must be a 300+ series course

Latin (Arts program)

Major program:
(6 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 4 FCEs of LAT courses; 2 FCEs must be at the 300+ level, and include GRK330H1
3. 1 additional FCE of CLA/GRK/LAT courses

Minor program:
(4 FCEs)
1. 1 FCE of CLA courses, including CLA160H1
2. 3 FCEs of LAT courses, of which at least 1 must be a 300+ series course

Department of Classics Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all CLA, GRK, and LAT courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses. See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

HUM199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

Classical Civilization Courses

NOTE
CLA courses do not require knowledge of Greek or Latin.

CLA160H1 Introduction to Classical Studies 39L
(formerly CLA160Y1)
An introduction to major themes in the development of Greek and Roman civilization, literature and culture.
Exclusion: CLA160Y1

CLA201H1 Latin & Greek in Scientific Terminology 39L
The study of technical and scientific terms derived from Latin and Greek: word elements, formation, analysis. The course is designed to give students in any field of specialization a better grasp of the derivation and basic meaning of English words derived from Latin and Greek elements.

CLA203H1 Science in Antiquity 39L
The first scientific traditions in the classical Mediterranean and the Near East, with emphasis on Greek science. Discussions of early physical science, biology, mathematics, and astronomy, and their place in ancient life and thought, based on primary sources in translation. Designed for students in both the sciences and humanities.

CLA204H1 Introduction to Classical Mythology 39L
A survey of the myths and legends of ancient Greece (and their extension to Rome) with some consideration of their role in ancient and modern literature and art.
Exclusion: CLA205Y1

CLA220H1 Women in Classical Literature 39L
This course studies the various images of women presented in the literature of Graeco-Roman antiquity.
Recommended preparation: CLA160Y1

CLA230H1 Introduction to Greek History 39L
A historical survey of the most significant features in the development of the civilization and states of ancient Greece from the Bronze Age to the second century B.C.
CLA231H1  Introduction to Roman History  39L
A historical survey of the most significant features in the development of the civilization and state of ancient Rome from the mythical beginnings to the fourth century A.D.

CLA232H1  Introduction to Greek Society and Culture  39L
A general introduction to the society and culture of Ancient Greece. Topics may include literature, art, social customs, gender and sexuality, daily life, and religious festivals (the theatre, the Olympic Games etc.).

CLA233H1  Introduction to Roman Society and Culture  39L
A general introduction to the society and culture of Ancient Rome. Topics may include literature, art, social customs, gender and sexuality, daily life, and religious festivals (the circus, the gladiatorial games etc.).

CLA236H1  Greek and Roman Epic  39L
A study of one or more of the epic poems of Greek and Roman antiquity (e.g. The Iliad and Odyssey of Homer and the Aeneid of Virgil).
Exclusion: CLA301H1, 302H1

CLA299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

300-Series Courses

CLA305H1  Theories of Myth  39S
A detailed study of the major modern approaches to the analysis and interpretation of myth with specific reference to their applications to ancient Graeco-Roman myth.
Prerequisite: CLA204H1/205Y1

CLA336H1  Roman Law (formerly CLA336Y1)
Roman law with emphasis on how it reflected community values. The nature of Roman legal reasoning. The historical development of Roman law against the background of the evolution of Roman society and Roman power.

CLA362H1  Mycenaean and Archaic Greece  39S
The Greek world from the second millennium B.C. to the end of the Archaic Age.
Prerequisite: CLA230H1

CLA363H1  The Rise and Fall of Athens  39S
The Greek world in the fifth and fourth centuries B.C.
Prerequisite: CLA230H1
Exclusion: CLA345H1

CLA364H1  The Hellenistic World  39S
The Greek world in the age of Alexander the Great and his successors (336 B.C. to 31 B.C.)
Prerequisite: CLA230H1

CLA365H1  Topics in Greek Social History  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA230H1

CLA366H1  Topics in the Study of Greek History  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA230H1

CLA367H1  The Roman Republic  39S
The Roman world from 510 B.C. to 44 B.C.
Prerequisite: CLA231H1
Exclusion: CLA334H1

CLA368H1  Augustus and the Julio-Claudians  39S
The Roman world in the age of Augustus and his dynasty (44 B.C. to A.D. 68)
Prerequisite: CLA231H1
Exclusion: CLA351H1

CLA369H1  The Roman Empire  39S
The Roman world from A.D. 68 to A.D. 378
Prerequisite: CLA231H1
Exclusion: CLA351H1, 352H1

CLA370H1  Topics in Roman Social History  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA231H1

CLA371H1  Topics in the Study of Roman History  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA231H1

CLA378H1  Late Antiquity (formerly CLA338H1)
The history and culture of the Roman Empire from Theodosius the Great to Justinian, concentrating on the interplay of modern interpretations and ancient evidence.
Prerequisite: CLA231H1

CLA382H1  The Classical Greek Theatre  39S
The origins of the theatre, its social function, the dramatic genres, and a study of representative plays.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1/DRM260H1
Exclusion: CLA300Y1

CLA383H1  Hellenistic and Roman Theatre  39S
The development of the theatre, its social function, the dramatic genres, and a study of representative plays.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1/233H1/DRM260H1
Exclusion: CLA300Y1

CLA384H1  Greek Literature in Translation  39S
A selection of Greek literary texts from one or more genres.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1/236H1

CLA385H1  Roman Literature in Translation  39S
A selection of Roman literary texts from one or more genres.
Prerequisite: CLA233H1/236H1

CLA386H1  Classical Literature in Translation  39S
A selection of Greek and Roman literary texts from one or more genres.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1/233H1/236H1

CLA387H1  Spectacle in the Roman World  39S
The role in Roman society and culture of public spectacles, including the chariot-races, the gladiatorial games, executions, and triumphal processions.
Prerequisite: CLA233H1

CLA388H1  Classical Antiquity and the Cinema  39S
A study of the representation of ancient Greece and/or Rome in cinema.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1/233H1

CLA389H1  Classical Spaces: Sites and Monuments  39S
A close study of one or more sites in the ancient world and the cultural significance of the site(s) in question.
Prerequisite: CLA230H1/231H1/232H1/233H1
CLA390H1  Topics in the Study of Greek Culture and Society  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA232H1

CLA391H1  Topics in the Study of Roman Culture and Society  39S
Topics vary from year to year.
Prerequisite: CLA233H1

CLA398H0/399Y0  Independent Experiential Study Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

Greek Courses
GRK100Y1  Introductory Ancient Greek  104S
An intensive introduction to Ancient Greek for students who have no knowledge of the language; preparation for the reading of Ancient Greek literature.
Exclusion: GRK101H1, 102H1. Students who have studied Ancient Greek previously must obtain permission from the Undergraduate Coordinator before enrolling.

GRK102H1  Introductory Ancient Greek: Continuation  52S
An intensive language course for students who have some Ancient Greek. This course is equivalent to the second part of GRK100Y1.
Exclusion: GRK100Y1
Prerequisite: Some background in Ancient Greek

GRK200H1  Intensive Intermediate Ancient Greek  52S
Further language training, with readings in Greek prose.
Prerequisite: GRK100Y1/102H1 and permission from the Department

GRK201H1  Intermediate Ancient Greek I  52S
Reading of selections of Ancient Greek prose works with systematic language study.
Prerequisite: GRK100Y1/102H1. Students who have completed an OAC in Ancient Greek must obtain permission from the Undergraduate Coordinator before enrolling.

GRK202H1  Intermediate Ancient Greek II  52S
Continued language training with readings in Ancient Greek prose and verse.
Prerequisite: GRK201H1

Note:
Frequency of Offering: in each fall-winter session, GRK 330H1 will be offered and a minimum of 3 half-courses in each of the 300 and 400-series. In odd-numbered years the courses offered in the 300 and 400-series will normally be drawn from those with odd numbers, and in even-numbered years from those with even numbers.

GRK330H1  Advanced Greek Language Study  39S
A course designed to enhance language skills. Prose composition, sight translation, stylistic analysis of classical Greek prose.
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK340H1  Plato I  39S
Readings from one or more Platonic Dialogues.
Exclusion: GRK440H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK341H1  Herodotus I  39S
Readings from Herodotus' Histories.
Exclusion: GRK441H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK342H1  Thucydides I  39S
Readings from The Peloponnesian War.
Exclusion: GRK442H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK343H1  Prose Authors I  39S
Readings from Greek prose (e.g., oratory, novels).
Exclusion: GRK443H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK350H1  Epic I  39S
Readings from Greek epics, including Homer.
Exclusion: GRK450H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK351H1  Drama I  39S
Readings from Euripides and Aristophanes.
Exclusion: GRK451H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK352H1  Tragedy I  39S
Readings from Aeschylus and Sophocles.
Exclusion: GRK452H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK353H1  Verse Authors I  39S
Readings from Greek verse (e.g., elegy, iambics, lyric).
Exclusion: GRK453H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK354H1  Koine Greek I  39S
Readings from Hellenistic and early Imperial Greek, with emphasis on Jewish and Christian texts.
Exclusion: GRK454H1
Prerequisite: GRK202H1

GRK428Y1  Independent Studies  TBA
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

GRK429H1  Independent Studies  TBA
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

GRK440H1  Plato II  39S
Advanced readings from one or more Platonic Dialogues.
Exclusion: GRK340H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1
Classics

GRK441H1 Herodotus II 39S
Advanced readings from Herodotus’ Histories.
Exclusion: GRK341H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK442H1 Thucydides II 39S
Advanced readings from The Peloponnesian War.
Exclusion: GRK342H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK443H1 Prose Authors II 39S
Advanced readings from Greek prose (e.g., oratory, novels).
Exclusion: GRK343H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK450H1 Epic II 39S
Advanced readings from Greek epics, including Homer.
Exclusion: GRK350H1 Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK451H1 Drama II 39S
Advanced readings from Euripides and Aristophanes.
Exclusion: GRK351H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK452H1 Tragedy II 39S
Advanced readings from Aeschylus and Sophocles.
Exclusion: GRK352H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK453H1 Verse Authors II 39S
Advanced readings from Greek verse (e.g., elegy, iambic, lyric).
Exclusion: GRK353H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

GRK454H1 Koine Greek II 39S
Readings from Hellenistic and early Imperial Greek, with emphasis on Jewish and Christian texts.
Exclusion: GRK354H1
Prerequisite: One FCE in the GRK300-series
Co- or prerequisite: GRK330H1

300-Series Courses

Notes
Frequency of Offering: in each fall-winter session, LAT 330H1 will be offered and a minimum of 3 half-courses in each of the 300 and 400-series. In odd-numbered years the courses offered in the 300 and 400-series will normally be drawn from those with odd numbers, and in even-numbered years from those with even numbers.

LAT322H1 Mediaeval Latin I 39S
A survey of the prose and poetry of the Middle Ages with emphasis on the linguistic features of mediaeval Latin.
Prerequisite: LAT202H1

LAT323H1 Mediaeval Latin II 39S
Study of a wide variety of mediaeval Latin texts.
Prerequisite: LAT202H1

LAT330H1 Advanced Latin Language Study 39S
A course designed to enhance language skills. Prose composition, sight translation, stylistic analysis of Latin prose.
Prerequisite: LAT202H1

LAT340H1 Latin Novelists I 39S
Readings from one or more Latin novelists.
Exclusion: LAT440H1

The Centre for Comparative Literature offers M.A. and Ph.D. degree programs of study in every major area from medieval to contemporary literatures with particular emphasis on literary theory and criticism, to candidates qualified to pursue literary studies involving several languages. Provided the language requirements of the Centre are satisfied, students may pursue theoretical issues that cross traditional disciplines.

What is Computer Science?

Despite the name, Computer Science is not really a “science of computers” at all. Computers are quite remarkable electronic devices, but even more remarkable is what they can be made to do: simulate the flow of air over a wing, manage communication over the Internet, control the actions of a robot, synthesize realistic images, play grandmaster-level chess, and on and on. Indeed the application of computers in activities like these has affected most areas of modern life. What these tasks have in common is that they can be formulated as some sort of computation. This is the real subject matter of Computer Science: computation, and what can or cannot be done computatively.

In trying to make sense of what we can get a computer to do, a wide variety of topics come up. There are, however, two recurring themes. The first is the issue of scale: how big a system can we specify without getting lost in the design, or how big a task can a computer handle within reasonable bounds of time, memory and accuracy. A large part of Computer Science deals with these questions in one form or another. In the area of programming languages and methodology, for example, we look for notations for describing computations, and programming methodologies that facilitate the production of manageable and efficient software. In the theory of computation area, we study resource requirements in time and memory of many basic computational tasks.

The second theme concerns the scope of computation. Computers were originally conceived as purely numerical calculators, but today, we tend to view them much more broadly. Part of Computer Science is concerned with understanding just how far computational ideas can be applied. In the area of artificial intelligence, for example, we ask how much of the intelligent behaviour of people can be expressed in computational terms. In the area of human/computer interaction, we ask what sorts of normal day-to-day activities of people might be supported and augmented using computers.

Many of our Programs combine another field with computer science, such as Information Systems, Economics, Mathematics, Physics or Statistics. The Programs in Software Engineering and Human-Computer Interaction focus on developing areas of computing.

The equipment and software available to students are up-to-date and accessible. On the St. George campus, networks of PC and Unix workstations support the computing needs of all our courses. In addition, some higher-level courses are based on laboratories.

Some Computer Science courses are offered in the evening, to allow part-time students to pursue our Programs. Introductory courses and some higher-level courses are offered in the summer.

The Professional Experience Year Program (PEY) offers students the opportunity to gain valuable work experience in industry, over a twelve to sixteen-month period. It, and the Co-op Japan Program, are available to eligible, full time students pursuing their first degree. Please refer to Page 17 for more information.

Computer Science Programs

Enrolment is restricted in all CSC Programs. You may request a CSC subject POSt in April-June or July-August depending on when you have completed the required 100-level courses listed below. Consult the 2006-2007 Registration Handbook & Timetable for details of how to apply. Admission to restricted Programs depends on performance in the required 100-level courses (listed in Program descriptions) and on cumulative GPA.

Tuition fees for students enrolled in Computer Science Major or Specialist Programs are higher than for other Arts and Science Programs.

Course Categories

A number of Computer Science Programs are described based on the following course categories: English Writing Requirement, Basic Courses, Core Courses, and Additional Courses. Also, all CSC courses and a few related ECE/MAT/STA courses are further grouped into subject areas and sub-areas.

English Writing Requirement

Students in any Specialist Program sponsored by the Department of Computer Science (including Combined
Computer Science

Specialist Programs) must complete one credit requiring substantial written work in English. The courses accepted for this purpose are listed below. Courses not on this list do not satisfy the requirement without departmental approval. Students in the Major Program in Computer Science must take one-half credit from the same list. Departments offering these courses have agreed to accept our students, but will not give you special preference in admission. You must satisfy the prerequisite and other requirements listed in this Calendar. Make sure to check that the course you want to take is offered in the year you want it, and to follow the enrolment requirements stated in the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable. A Transfer credit, whether it is for a specific course on the list below (e.g., "RLG100Y1"), or is a generic credit (e.g., "RLG 1Y1"), must be approved by the Department in order to count towards the writing requirement. Please contact the Department for approval. In order to accept such a course, we must assess the role of written work in the course, and determine that it was taught in English, at an English-speaking university.

Courses not accepted to satisfy the writing requirement include SCI199H1/Y1, SSC199H1/Y1, and the "Research Opportunity Program" courses numbered 299Y1 in any Department. INX199H1/Y1 is not automatically accepted towards Arts and Science “Program” courses numbered 299Y1 in any Department. A Transfer credit, whether it is for a specific course on the list below (e.g., "RLG100Y1") or is a generic credit (e.g., "RLG 1Y1"), must be approved by the Department in order to count towards the writing requirement. A Transfer credit, whether it is for a specific course on the list below (e.g., "RLG100Y1") or is a generic credit (e.g., "RLG 1Y1"), must be approved by the Department in order to count towards the writing requirement. Please contact the Department for approval. In order to accept such a course, we must assess the role of written work in the course, and determine that it was taught in English, at an English-speaking university.

Courses not accepted to satisfy the writing requirement include SCI199H1/Y1, SSC199H1/Y1, and the "Research Opportunity Program" courses numbered 299Y1 in any Department. Computer Science

Artificial Intelligence Area

I. Reasoning
   CSC 384H1
   CSC 486H1
II. Language
   CSC 401H1, 485H1
III. Vision
   CSC 420H1, 487H1
IV. Learning
   CSC 321H1
   CSC 411H1, 412H1

Foundations Area

I. Logic and Complexity
   CSC 330H1
   CSC 438H1, 448H1
II. Numerical Analysis
   CSC 351H1
   CSC 446H1, 456H1
III. Mathematics
   MAT 224H1/240H1, 237Y1/257Y1, STA 248H1

Computer Science (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.
Enrolment in the Specialist and Major Programs is limited.
Admission requires (1) 65% in CSC 148H1/150H1, (2) either 60% in MAT 137Y1/157Y1 or 65% in CSC 165H1/240H1, and (3) a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Students who do not meet these requirements on the first attempt will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Specialist Program
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. MAT 237Y1/257Y1.
4. Six half courses from the Additional Courses, with at least two 400-level half courses.

Notes:
1. This flexible Program allows students to concentrate in one or more areas for which there is currently no other Program. Students are strongly encouraged to seek advice from a faculty member in the Department of Computer Science in order to ensure that their course selection meets their academic goals. This is particularly important for students planning to apply to graduate school.

Major Program
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300-series courses)
1. One half course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses (5.5 full courses).
3. Four 300-level half courses from the Core Courses and/or Additional Courses.

Notes:
1. CSC 209H1 is a direct or indirect prerequisite for a number of CSC courses. Students who intend to take one of these courses will also have to take CSC 209H1 as an additional half course.

Computer Science – Artificial Intelligence Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.
Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. One full credit from MAT 237Y1/257Y1, MAT 224H1/240H1/247H1, STA 248H1/261H1.
4. Five half courses from the Artificial Intelligence area, with at least one half course from each of three different Artificial Intelligence sub-areas.

Notes:
1. Students may be interested in taking UNI250Y1 to satisfy their English Writing Requirement. This course can be taken in first year.
2. The additional half course CSC 320H1 is recommended for students interested in taking CSC 420H1.
3. The additional half course CSC 330H1 is recommended for students interested in taking CSC 486H1.

Computer Science – Foundations Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.
Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses), except that students must take CSC 350H1 rather than CSC 336H1.
3. MAT 224H1/240H1, 237Y1/257Y1.
4. MAT 301H1/315H1/334H1/344H1/401H1.
5. CSC 351H1.
6. CSC 438H1/448H1/465H1.
7. Two half courses from the Additional Courses, with at least one 400-level half course – these may include any half course not taken to satisfy the requirement CSC 438H1/448H1/465H1.

Computer Science – Information Systems Option (Science Program)

Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.
Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
Computer Science

2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. MAT 237Y1/257Y1.
4. CSC 309H1, 310H1, 318H1/340H1.
5. CSC 443H1.
6. (CSC 384H1, 486H1) / (STA 248H1, CSC 411H1)

Computer Science – Software Engineering Option (Science Program)
Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. One full course English Writing Requirement.
2. All Basic Courses and Core Courses (9 full courses).
3. CSC 318H1, 340H1.
4. CSC 407H1, 408H1.
5. Two of CSC 354H1, 372H1, 320H1/321H1/330H1/384H1, 401H1, 454H1, 465H1; ECE 385H1.
6. Two of CSC 309H1, 418H1, 443H1, 458H1, 469H1; CSC 488H1 / ECE 489H1.

Notes:
1. This Program does not lead to certification as a Professional Engineer.
2. Students in this Program are strongly encouraged to consider participating in the Professional Experience Year (PEY) Program.

Computer Science & Economics (Science Program)
Consult the Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics or Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(17 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
CSC (108H1, 148H1)/150H1; MAT 157Y1, 240H1 (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)

First or Second Year:
CSC 240H1, 258H1, 207H1; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)

Second Year:
CSC 265H1; MAT 247H1, 257Y1, 267H1; STA 252H1/352Y1

Third Year:
CSC 324H1, 365H1, 375H1

Third or Fourth Years:
1. MAT 327H1, 347Y1, 354H1, 357H1.
2. One of CSC 438H1, 448H1, 465H1; MAT 443H1.
3. CSC 350H1, 351H1.
4. One of CSC 401H1, 407H1, 408H1, 418H1, 420H1, 428H1, 443H1, 456H1, 458H1, 469H1, 485H1, 486H1, 487H1, 488H1; ECE 489H1.
5. APM 351Y1/MAT 457Y1.
6. One of APM 461H1; MAT 344H1, 464H1, 477H1.

Notes:
1. It is recommended that PHY 140Y1 be taken.

Computer Science & Physics (Science Program)
Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science, or Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science. NOTE: Students in this Program should consult one or both Departments during the spring of each year, to ensure that they choose courses appropriate to their intended careers.
Specialist Program
(17.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
CSC (108H1, 148H1)/150H1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1, 223H1/240H1; PHY 140Y1
(See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)
First or Second Year:
CSC 240H1, 207H1; STA 247H1; one full course English Writing Requirement
(See the Course Categories above.)
Second Year:
CSC 263H1/265H1; MAT 237Y1/257Y1, 244H1/267H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1
Third Year:
APM 346H1; CSC 324H1, 350H1; MAT 334H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1
Third or Fourth Years:
1. CSC 351H1, 363H1/365H1/373H1/375H1,
2. CSC 401H1/407H1/408H1/418H1/420H1/428H1/443H1/456H1/458H1/469H1,
3. 1.5 courses from the 300-/400-level lab courses as described in the Notes to the Physics Specialist Program.

Computer Science & Statistics (Science Program)
Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science, or Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Statistics.
Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requirements are the same as for the Specialist Program in Computer Science.

Specialist Program
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
CSC (108H1, 148H1)/150H1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1 (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)
First or Second Year:
1. CSC 207H1, 236H1/240H1; PSY100H1; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)
Second Year:
1. CSC 258H1, 263H1/265H1; STA 247H1
2. MAT 223H1/240H1; SOC 200Y1
Third Year:
1. CSC 300H1, 318H1, 340H1
2. CSC 324H1/343H1
3. STA 248H1/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/SOC 300Y1
4. PSY 270H1, 280H1
Third or Fourth Year:
1. CSC 363H1/365H1/373H1/375H1, 428H1
2. Two of CSC 407H1/408H1, 418H1/487H1/420H1, 401H1/485H1/486H1/411H1, 443H1/458H1/469H1
3. WDW 260H1

Notes:
1. Students in this Program should consult the Department of Computer Science at least annually to discuss their choice of courses, especially if they plan on graduate study.
2. Students who may be interested in other Programs sponsored by the Department of Computer Science must take MAT 137Y1/157Y1 and not MAT 135Y1.
3. It is recommended that you take a physical science course such as PHY 138Y1/140Y1.
4. It is strongly recommended that you take at least one half-course in Human Factors or Ergonomics offered by the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering, such as MIE 343H1, 448H1, 449H1.
5. Other recommended courses include:
   - CSC 309H1, 369H1, 454H1, 469H1; SOC 387Y1; PSY 305H1, 312H1, 370H1, 371H1, 372H1, 375H1, 312H1; JLP 374H1
For advice on course choice and assistance in enrolment consult the Department of Computer Science.

Human-Computer Interaction (Science Program)
Consult Student Counsellor, Department of Computer Science.
Enrolment in this Program is limited. Admission requires (1) 65% in CSC 148H1/150H1, (2) either 60% in MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 or 65% in CSC 165H1/CSC 240H1, and (3) a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Students who do not meet these requirements on the first attempt will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Specialist Program
(15.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
CSC 165H1/240H1, (108H1, 148H1)/150H1 (See the Notes following the list of Basic Courses in the Course Categories above.)
MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1.
3. SOC 101Y1,
First or Second Year:
CSC 207H1, 236H1/240H1; PSY100H1; one full course English Writing Requirement (See the Course Categories above.)
Second Year:
1. CSC 258H1, 263H1/265H1; STA 247H1
2. MAT 223H1/240H1; SOC 200Y1
Third Year:
1. CSC 300H1, 318H1, 340H1
2. CSC 324H1/343H1
3. STA 248H1/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/SOC 300Y1
4. PSY 270H1, 280H1
Third or Fourth Year:
1. CSC 363H1/365H1/373H1/375H1, 428H1
2. Two of CSC 407H1/408H1, 418H1/487H1/420H1, 401H1/485H1/486H1/411H1, 443H1/458H1/469H1
3. WDW 260H1

Notes:
1. Students in this Program should consult the Department of Computer Science at least annually to discuss their choice of courses, especially if they plan on graduate study.
2. Students who may be interested in other Programs sponsored by the Department of Computer Science must take MAT 137Y1/157Y1 and not MAT 135Y1.

Computer Science Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all CSC courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

NOTE: The University of Toronto at Mississauga computer science Minor subject POSt is not recognized as a restricted CS subject POSt for St. George courses enrolments.

NOTE: No late registration is permitted in any CSC course after the first two weeks of classes.

Enrolment in most CSC courses above 100-level is restricted. Consult the Calendar or the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

Prerequisites and exclusions are enforced. Please refer to the 2006-2007 Registration Handbook and Timetable for prerequisite waiver deadlines.

Students may go to their college to drop down from enriched courses to regular courses. The courses are as follows: from CSC148H1 to CSC108H1, from CSC150H1 to CSC108H1, from CSC240H1 to CSC165H1 (or to CSC236H1 if you have already passed CSC165H1), from CSC265H1 to CSC263H1, from CSC365H1 to CSC363H1, and from CSC375H1 to CSC373H1.

Drop down deadlines:
- Fall session – October 6, 2006
- Winter session – February 2, 2007

INX199H1/Y1 First-Year Seminar 52S
SC1199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S

CSC104H1 The Why and How of Computing 26L, 13T

An introduction to computing for non-computer scientists. History of computing machinery; representation of data and their interaction with operations; hardware, software, operating systems; problem solving and algorithms; social issues in computing; a gentle introduction to programming. This course is an introduction to becoming actively engaged with computing, not a tutorial on using particular computer applications.

Exclusion: SMC104H1; VIC104H1; any CSC course.

CSC108H1 Introduction to Computer Programming 39L, 12T, 12P

Structure of computers; the computing environment. Programming in an object-oriented language such as Java. Program structure in an object-oriented language; classes, objects, methods, fields. Internal structure of methods: elementary data types, statements, control flow. Arrays; searching, sorting and complexity. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computing laboratory. These sections are offered when facilities are available, and attendance is required.

Exclusion: CSC107H1, 120H1, 139H1, 148H1, 149H1, 150H1.

NOTE: You may not take this course after or concurrently with CSC148H1, but you may take CSC148H1 after CSC108H1.

Prerequisite: Grade 12 U/OAC mathematics.

CSC120H1 Computer Science for the Sciences 26L, 12P

An introduction to computer science for students in other sciences, with an emphasis on gaining practical skills. Introduction to programming; web programming; database design; software tools; examples and exercises taken from the sciences. At the end of this course you will be able to develop computer tools for scientific applications, such as the structuring and analysis of experimental data. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computer laboratory. No programming experience is necessary. Students who wish to do more can progress directly to CSC150H1.

Exclusion: any CSC course.

CSC148H1 Introduction to Computer Science 26L, 13T, 12P

Abstract data types and data structures for implementing them. Linked data structures. Encapsulation and information-hiding. Object-oriented programming in a language such as Java. Specifications. Analyzing the efficiency of programs. Recursion. This course assumes programming experience in an object-oriented language such as C++ or Java, as provided by CSC108H1. Students who already have this background may consult the Computer Science Undergraduate Office for advice about skipping CSC148H1. Practical (P) sections consist of supervised work in the computer laboratory. These sections are offered when facilities are available, and attendance is required.

Exclusion: CSC139H1, 149H1, 150H1; you may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: CSC108H1; two of: Geometry and Discrete Mathematics, Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus or Mathematics of Data Management OR two of OAC Calculus, Algebra & Geometry or Finite Mathematics.

NOTE: It is recommended that CSC148H1/150H1 and CSC165H1/240H1 be taken at the same time, since each course relies on material from the other. If you take one before the other, it is preferable to take CSC148H1/150H1 first. In any case, you will be at a modest disadvantage in the first of the two courses, and will be expected to pick up the relevant material from the other course on your own.

CSC150H1 Accelerated Introduction to Computer Science 39L, 13T, 12P

An accelerated course covering object-oriented topics from CSC108H1 (classes, objects, methods and fields, and program design), as well as all the material of CSC148H1. Suitable for students with a solid programming background in Turing, C, Pascal or a similar language, who are willing to accept a heavier workload than in CSC108H1 and CSC148H1.

Exclusion: CSC107H1, 108H1, 139H1, 148H1, 149H1; you may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: Two of: Geometry and Discrete Mathematics, Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus or Mathematics of Data Management OR two of: OAC Calculus, Algebra & Geometry or Finite Mathematics; and one year of programming in a procedural language. Students should thoroughly understand arrays, searching, sorting, functions/procedures/subprograms, arguments and parameters, and modular design.

NOTE: It is recommended that CSC148H1/150H1 and CSC165H1/240H1 be taken at the same time, since each course relies on material from the other. If you take one before the other, it is preferable to take CSC148H1/150H1 first. In any case, you will be at a modest disadvantage in the first of the two courses, and will be expected to pick up the relevant material from the other course on your own.

Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC150H1 to CSC108H1. See above for the drop down deadline.

CSC165H1 Mathematical Expression and Reasoning for Computer Science

Introduction to abstraction and rigour: Understanding, using and developing precise expressions of mathematical ideas, including definitions and theorems. Informal introduction to logical notation and reasoning. Representation of floating point numbers and introduction to numerical computation.

Exclusion: CSC236H1, 238H1, 240H1; MAT102H5 (UTM). You may not take this course after taking more than two CSC courses at the 200-level or higher.

Prerequisite: CSC108H1/(CSC148H1/150H1 taken concurrently); U Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus, and one of U Geometry and Discrete Mathematics or U Mathematics of Data Management OR OAC Calculus and one of Algebra & Geometry or Finite Mathematics.

NOTE: It is recommended that CSC148H1/150H1 and CSC165H1/240H1 be taken at the same time, since each course relies on material from the other. If you take one before the other, it is preferable to take CSC148H1/150H1 first. In any case, you will be at a modest disadvantage in the first of the two courses, and will be expected to pick up the relevant material from the other course on your own.

CSC207H1 Software Design 26L, 13T

An introduction to software design and development concepts, methods, and tools. Core topics: object-oriented design and programming; the role of scripting in the software development process; unit testing; version control; build management.

Prerequisite: CSC148H1/150H1; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

Co-requisite: CSC165H1/240H1/(148H1 as given before Fall 2003).

CSC209H1 Software Tools and Systems Programming

26L, 13T

Software techniques in a Unix-style environment, using scripting languages and a machine-oriented programming language (typically C). What goes on in the operating system when programs are executed. Core topics: creating and using software tools, pipes and filters, file processing, shell programming, processes, system calls, signals, basic network programming.

Exclusion: CSC372H1, 408H1, 468H1, 469H1.

Prerequisite: CSC207H1/270H1, 258H1/enrolment in Bioinformatics and Computational Biology (BCB) subject POSts; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC236H1 Introduction to the Theory of Computation

The rigorous application of logic and proof techniques to Computer Science. Propositional and predicate logic; mathematical induction and other basic proof techniques; correctness proofs for iterative and recursive algorithms; recurrence equations and their solutions (including the “Master Theorem”); introduction to automata and formal languages.

Exclusion: CSC238H1, 240H1.

Prerequisite: CSC148H1/150H1, 165H1/(148H1 as given before Fall 2003); CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC240H1 Enriched Introduction to the Theory of Computation

The application of logic and proof techniques to Computer Science. Mathematical induction; correctness proofs for iterative and recursive algorithms; recurrence equations and their solutions (including the “Master Theorem”); introduction to automata and formal languages.

This course covers the same topics as CSC236H1, together with selected material from CSC165H1, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs and theoretical analysis. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC165H1 or CSC236H1 may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered.

Exclusion: CSC236H1, 238H1.

Prerequisite: OAC Calculus and one of Algebra & Geometry or Finite Mathematics OR U Advanced Functions and Introductory Calculus, and one of U Geometry and Discrete Mathematics or U Mathematics of Data Management, with high grades.

Co-requisite: CSC148H1/150H1; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC240H1 to CSC165H1 (or to CSC236H1 if you have already passed CSC165H1). See above for the drop down deadline.

CSC258H1 Computer Organization 26L, 9P, 10T

Computer structures, machine languages, instruction execution, addressing techniques, and digital representation of data. Computer system organization, memory storage devices, and microprogramming. Block diagram circuit realizations of memory, control and arithmetic functions. There are a number of laboratory periods in which students conduct experiments with digital logic circuits.

Exclusion: CSC257H1 as given before 1985.

Prerequisite: CSC148H1/150H1, 165H1/240H1/(148H1 as given before Fall 2003); CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
CSC260H1 Introduction to Scientific, Symbolic, and Graphical Computation

Problems in transforming continuous mathematical models to discrete computational models. Inadequacy of naive computer solutions, and techniques to remedy inadequacies. Symbolic computation, plotting, 3-D graphics, and conventional programming languages. Intended for students from computer science, sciences and mathematics; for computer scientists, introduction to design and implementation of robust algorithms; for scientists, techniques in transforming scientific problems into computational solutions; for mathematicians, insight into differences between mathematical models and computational solutions.

Exclusion: CSC160H1 as taught in Spring 1992; after taking CSC270H1/CSC263H1/265H1 and any 300-/400-level CSC course, you may not take CSC260H1 without Departmental permission in writing.

Prerequisite: CSC108H1/computing experience, as from a good high school programming course; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1, 223H1/240H1.

CSC263H1 Data Structures and Analysis 26L, 13T

Algorithm analysis: worst-case, average-case, and amortized complexity. Standard abstract data types, such as graphs, dictionaries, priority queues, and disjoint sets. A variety of data structures for implementing these abstract data types, such as balanced search trees, hashing, heaps, and disjoint forests. Design, implementation, and comparison of data structures. Introduction to lower bounds.

Exclusion: CSC265H1, 378H1.

Prerequisite: CSC207H1/C263H1/265H1 and any 300-/400-level CSC course; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC265H1 Enriched Data Structures and Analysis 26L, 13T

Algorithm analysis: worst-case, average-case, and amortized complexity. Standard abstract data types, such as graphs, dictionaries, priority queues, and disjoint sets. A variety of advanced data structures for implementing these abstract data types, such as AVL trees, self-adjusting data structures, perfect hashing, and binomial heaps.

Exclusion: CSC260H1, 378H1.

Prerequisite: CSC207H1/270H1, 236H1/238H1/240H1; STA247H1/255H1/257H1; CGPA 2.5/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC290H1 Communication Skills for Computer Scientists 39L

Targeted instruction and significant practice in the communications required for careers in computer science. The curriculum covers written, oral, and interpersonal communication. Students will hand in short pieces of writing each week, will make oral presentations several times in the semester, and will work together in simulated project meetings and other realistic scenarios of pair and small group interaction.

CSC300H1 Computers and Society 26L, 13T

Privacy and Freedom of Information; recent Canadian legislation and reports. Computers and work; employment levels, quality of working life. Electronic fund transfer systems; transborder data flows. Computers and bureaucratization. Computers in the home; public awareness about computers. Robotics. Professionalism and the ethics of computers. The course is designed not only for science students, but also those in social sciences or humanities.

Exclusion: PSCD03H (UTSc).

Prerequisite: Any half-course on computing; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC309H1 Programming on the Web 26L, 13T

An introduction to software development on the web. Concepts underlying the development of programs that operate on the web; survey of technological alternatives; greater depth on some technologies. Operational concepts of the internet and the web, static client content, dynamic client content, dynamically served content, n-tiered architectures, web development processes, and security on the web. Assignments involve increasingly more complex web-based programs. Guest lecturers from leading e-commerce firms will describe the architecture and operation of their web sites.

Prerequisite: CSC209H1, 343H1/228H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC310H1 Information Theory 26L, 13T

CSC318H1 The Design of Interactive Computational Media 26L, 13T

User-centred design of interactive systems; methodologies, principles, and metaphors; task analysis. Interdisciplinary design: the role of graphic design, industrial design, and the behavioural sciences. Interactive hardware and software; concepts from computer graphics. Typography, layout, colour, sound, video, gesture, and usability enhancements. Classes of interactive graphical media: direct manipulation systems, extensible systems, rapid prototyping tools. Students work on projects in interdisciplinary teams. Enrolment limited, but non-computer scientists welcome.

Prerequisite: Any CSC half-course; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

Recommended preparation: CSC300H1 provides useful background for work in CSC318H1, so if you plan to take CSC300H1 then you should do it before CSC318H1.
CSC320H1 Introduction to Visual Computing
A unified introduction to image synthesis and image analysis aimed at students with an interest in computer graphics, computer vision or the visual arts. Focus on three major topics: (1) visual computing principles - computational and mathematical methods for creating, capturing, analyzing and manipulating digital photographs (raster algorithms, image acquisition, basic image processing, image warping, anti-aliasing); (2) digital special effects - applying these principles to create special effects found in movies and commercials; (3) visual programming - using C/C++ and OpenGL to create graphical user interfaces for synthesizing and manipulating photographs. Prerequisite: CSC209H1/270H1(207H1, proficiency in C or C++); MAT137Y1, MAT223H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC321H1 Introduction to Neural Networks and Machine Learning

CSC324H1 Principles of Programming Languages
Major topics in the development of modern programming languages. Syntax specification, the evolution of programming languages (including abstract data types and object orientation, and contributions of C++ to language design) design and implementation of subprograms (including parameter passing techniques, and scope and lifetime of variables), run-time storage management (including garbage collection), and programming paradigms. Two non-procedural programming paradigms: functional programming (illustrated by languages such as Lisp, Scheme, ML or Haskell) and logic programming (illustrated by languages such as Prolog, XSB or Coral). Exclusion: CSC248H1. Prerequisite: CSC209H1/270H1, 236H1/238H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC330H1 Logical Specifications
Logic and its use as a declarative language in computer science. Syntax and semantics of propositional and predicate calculus. Proving entailment and non-entailment rigorously. Formal derivations. Satisfiability. Applications, including information systems, program verification, artificial intelligence, software engineering. Computational tools, including Prolog. Other logics. Exclusion: CSC230H1. Prerequisite: CSC236H1/238H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC336H1 Numerical Methods
The study of computational methods for solving problems in linear algebra, non-linear equations, approximation, integration, and ordinary differential equations. The aim is to give students a basic understanding of both floating-point arithmetic and the methods used to solve numerical problems as well as a familiarity with the types of subroutines found in typical software packages. Exclusion: ACT323H1, 335H1; CSC350H1, 351H1. Prerequisite: CSC209H1/270H1(260H1,148H1/150H1); MAT133Y1(70%)/135Y1/137Y1/157Y1, 223H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC340H1 Requirements Engineering
Theory, tools and techniques of problem analysis for software systems development, covering both information systems and control systems. Topics include: requirements specification, object-oriented analysis, business process modeling, and analysis of non-functional requirements. Prerequisite: CSC209H1/270H1, 236H1/238H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC343H1 Introduction to Databases
Introduction to database management systems. The relational data model. Relational algebra. Querying and updating databases: the query language SQL. Application programming with SQL. Integrity constraints, normal forms, and database design. Elements of database system technology: query processing, transaction management. Exclusion: CSC434H1. Prerequisite: CSC 263H1/265H1(228H1,238H1)/378H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC350H1 Numerical Algebra and Optimization
Floating-point arithmetic. The efficiency and stability of solution techniques for systems of linear equations and least squares problems, including LU- and QR-based methods. Eigenvalue and eigenvector calculations. Algorithms for systems of non-linear equations and optimization problems, including linear programming. Exclusion: CSC336H1; ACT323H1, 335H1. Prerequisite: CSC 209H1/270H1(260H1,148H1/150H1); MAT223H1/240H1, 237Y1/257Y1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC351H1 Numerical Approximation, Integration and Ordinary Differential Equations
Analysis of methods for approximation, integration and the solution of ordinary differential equations. Emphasis on the convergence and stability properties of the algorithms, rather than on their implementation. Exclusion: ACT323H1, 335H1; CSC336H1. Prerequisite: CSC350H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC354H1 Discrete-Event Simulation
Simulation and mathematical analysis of models of queuing systems. Concentration on dynamic, stochastic, discrete-event systems. Simulation topics: selecting input probability distributions, generating random numbers and random variates, output data analysis for one or more system configurations, variance reduction techniques. Analysis topics: queuing characteristics, transient and steady-state behaviour, performance measures, the M/M/1 queue in detail, some non-Markovian queues. Prerequisite: CSC 209H1/270H1; MAT137Y1; STA247H1/255H1/257H1, 248H1/250H1/261H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Computer Science

CSC363H1 Computational Complexity 26L, 13T
Introduction to the theory of computability: Turing machines, Church's thesis, computable and noncomputable functions, recursive and recursively enumerable sets, reducibility. Introduction to complexity theory: models of computation, P, NP, polynomial time reducibility, NP-completeness, further topics in complexity theory. Exclusion: CSC364H1, 365H1. Prerequisite: CSC236H1/238H1/240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS. NOTE: Although the courses CSC363H1 and CSC373H1 can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC373H1 be taken first.

CSC365H1 Enriched Computational Complexity and Computability
This course covers the same topics as CSC363H1, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs, theoretical analysis, and creative problem-solution. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC363H1 may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered. Students without the exact course prerequisites but with a strong mathematical background are encouraged to consult the Department about the possibility of taking this course. Exclusion: CSC363H1, 364H1. Prerequisite: CSC240H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS. NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC365H1 to CSC363H1. See above for the drop down deadline. NOTE: Although the courses CSC365H1 and CSC373H1 can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC373H1 be taken first.

CSC369H1 Operating Systems 26L, 13T
Principles of operating systems. The operating system as a control program and as a resource allocator. The concept of a process and concurrency problems: synchronization, mutual exclusion, deadlock. Additional topics include memory management, file systems, process scheduling, threads, and protection. Exclusion: CSC468H1. Prerequisite: CSC258H1, 209H1, 207H1/270H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.

CSC372H1 Microprocessor Software 26L, 13T, 39P
Development of reliable efficient software for controlling and monitoring an environment. Concurrent programming techniques, such as interrupt handling, buffer management, polling and time outs. Projects use microprocessors to control equipment (such as a robot arm) and to read sensors. Design, implementation and testing of software using high level software, such as Turing or C. Prerequisite: CSC209H1; ECE385H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.

CSC373H1 Algorithm Design & Analysis 26L, 13T
Standard algorithm design techniques: divide-and-conquer, greedy strategies, dynamic programming, linear programming, randomization, network flows, approximation algorithms, and others (if time permits). Students will be expected to show good design principles and adequate skills at reasoning about the correctness and complexity of algorithms. Exclusion: CSC375H1, 364H1. Prerequisite: CSC263H1/265H1/378H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS. NOTE: Although the courses CSC373H1 and CSC363H1 can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC373H1 be taken first.

CSC375H1 Enriched Algorithm Design & Analysis 26L, 13T
This course covers the same topics as CSC373H1, but at a faster pace, in greater depth and with more rigour, and with more challenging assignments. Greater emphasis will be placed on proofs, theoretical analysis, and creative problem-solution. Certain topics briefly mentioned in CSC373H1 may be covered in more detail in this course, and some additional topics may also be covered. Students without the exact course prerequisites but with a strong mathematical background are encouraged to consult the Department about the possibility of taking this course. Exclusion: CSC373H1, 364H1. Prerequisite: CSC 265H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS. NOTE: Students may go to their college to drop down from CSC375H1 to CSC373H1. See above for the drop down deadline. NOTE: Although the courses CSC375H1 and CSC365H1 can be taken in any order, we recommend that CSC375H1 be taken first.

CSC384H1 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence 26L, 13T
Theories and algorithms that capture (or approximate) some of the core elements of computational intelligence. Topics include: search; logical representations and reasoning, classical automated planning, representing and reasoning with uncertainty, learning, decision making (planning) under uncertainty. Assignments provide practical experience, both theory and programming, of the core topics. Exclusion: CSC484H1. Prerequisite: CSC324H1; STA247H1/255H1/257H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.

ECE385H1 Microprocessor Systems 26L, 39P
A hardware-oriented course dealing with microprocessor systems. Microprocessor components, memory devices, input/ output techniques, bus structure, peripheral device controllers, hardware system and programming considerations. Laboratory experiments provide "hands-on" experience. Prerequisite: CSC258H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.

CSC401H1 Natural Language Computing 26L, 13T
Introduction to techniques involving natural language and speech in applications such as information retrieval, extraction, and filtering; intelligent Web searching; spelling and grammar checking; speech recognition and synthesis; and multi-lingual systems including machine translation. N-grams, POS-tagging, semantic distance metrics, indexing, on-line lexicons and thesauri, markup languages, collections of on-line documents, corpus analysis. PERL and other software. Prerequisite: CSC207H1/209H1/228H1; STA 247H1/255H1/257H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS. Recommended preparation: MAT223H1/240H1 is strongly recommended.
CSC407H1  Software Architecture  26L, 13T
An introduction to the development of system-level architectures and class-level object-oriented designs for software systems. Special emphasis on the study of architecture and design patterns: the core of solutions to commonly occurring design problems. Representations of design/architecture (with emphasis on the use of UML as a class-level design notation), architectural assessment, product lines, architecture extraction, and re-factoring. There is no major project, but there is a series of smaller design and architecture exercises requiring some programming. A knowledge of UML as used for requirements analysis and a working knowledge of Java are assumed.
Prerequisite: CSC340H1, 263H1/265H1/378H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC408H1  Software Engineering  26L, 13T
The structure and unique characteristics of large software systems. The software process and software project management including project planning, risk management, staffing and organizational issues. Review of requirements analysis and specification. Software development techniques, version control, configuration management, system construction tools. Software system testing and quality assurance. Software maintenance and product delivery strategies. A course project is used to illustrate software engineering techniques.
Prerequisite: CSC340H1, 263H1/265H1/378H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: Proficiency in C or C++; CSC209H1, 318H1, 407H1.

CSC410H1  Software Testing and Verification  26L, 13T
Concepts and state of the art techniques in quality assessment for software engineering; quality attributes; formal specifications and their analysis; testing, verification and validation.
Prerequisite: CSC407H1.

CSC411H1  Machine Learning and Data Mining  26L, 13T
Prerequisite: CSC263H1/265H1/270H1; MAT137Y1, STA247H1/255H1/257H1, 248H1/250H1/261H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC412H1  Probabilistic Learning and Reasoning  26L, 13T
An introduction to probability as a means of representing and reasoning with uncertain knowledge. Qualitative and quantitative specification of probability distributions using probabilistic graphical models. Algorithms for inference and probabilistic reasoning with graphical models. Statistical approaches and algorithms for learning probability models from empirical data. Applications of these models in artificial intelligence and machine learning.
Prerequisite: CSC411H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC418H1  Computer Graphics  26L, 13T
Identification and characterization of the objects manipulated in computer graphics, the operations possible on these objects, efficient algorithms to perform these operations, and interfaces to transform one type of object to another. Display devices, display data structures and procedures, graphical input, object modelling, transformations, illumination models, primary and secondary light effects; graphics packages and systems. Students, individually or in teams, implement graphical algorithms or entire graphics systems.
Prerequisite: CSC336H1/350H1/351H1/363H1/364H1/365H1/373H1/375H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: MAT237Y1, MAT244H1.

CSC420H1  Introduction to Image Understanding  26L, 13P
Introduction to fundamental concepts in image understanding, the subdiscipline of artificial intelligence dealing with the automation of visual tasks by computer. Exploration of a number of real-world image interpretation problems, as motivation for key low- and intermediate-level vision algorithms. A course project will include the construction of a number of practical vision systems.
Prerequisite: CSC260H1/263H1/265H1/270H1; MAT137Y1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: CSC320H1.

CSC428H1  Human-Computer Interaction  26L, 13T
Understanding human behaviour as it applies to user interfaces: work activity analysis, observational techniques, questionnaire administration and unobtrusive measures. Operating parameters of the human cognitive system, task analysis and cognitive modelling techniques and their application to designing interfaces. Interface representations and prototyping tools. Cognitive walkthroughs, usability studies and verbal protocol analysis. Case studies of specific user interfaces.
Prerequisite: CSC318H1; STA247H1/255H1/257H1, 248H1/250H1/261H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: A course in PSY; CSC209H1, 407H1.

CSC438H1  Computability and Logic  26L, 13T
Prerequisite: CSC363H1/364H1/365H1/MAT247H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC443H1  Database System Technology  26L, 13T
Prerequisite: CSC343H1/434H1, 369H1/468H1, 364H1/373H1/375H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
CSC446H1 Computational Methods for Partial Differential Equations

Finite difference methods for hyperbolic and parabolic equations; consistency, convergence, and stability. Finite element methods for 2-point boundary value problems and elliptic equations. Special problems of interest.
Prerequisites: CSC351H1/(336H1 (75%))/equivalent mathematical background; MAT237Y1/257Y1; APMM346H1/351Y1/(MAT244H1/267H1 and exposure to PDEs); CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC448H1 Formal Languages and Automata

Regular, deterministic, context free, context sensitive, and recursively enumerable languages via generative grammars and corresponding automata (finite state machines, push down machines, and Turing machines). Topics include complexity bounds for recognition, language decision problems and operations on languages.
Prerequisite: CSC236H1/238H1/240H1, 363H1/364H1/365H1/MAT247H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC454H1 The Business of Software

Overview of the software industry, and principles of operation for successful software enterprises. Software business definition and planning; market and product planning; management of innovation, research and software development; software marketing and sales management; software manufacturing and support; financial management of high-technology ventures; human resource management and development in high-technology industries. (Ordinarily offered in alternate years.)
Prerequisite: Five CSC half-courses at the 200-level or higher; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: MGT120H1.

CSC456H1 High-Performance Scientific Computing

Computationally-intensive applications in science and engineering are implemented on the fastest computers available, today composed of many processors operating in parallel. Parallel computer architectures; implementation of numerical algorithms on parallel architectures. Topics from: performance evaluation; scientific visualization; numerical methods; applications from science and engineering. For students in computer science, applied mathematics, science, engineering.
Prerequisite: CSC350H1/(336H1 (75%))/equivalent mathematical background; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC458H1 Computer Networks

Computer communication network design and operation. Representation of information on physical channels; error detection and recovery; local area networks; deadlock and congestion avoidance; internetworking and gateways; network naming and addressing; remote procedures. Emphasis on fundamental principles rather than case studies, but with examples from real networks.
Prerequisite: CSC258H1, 354H1/363H1/364H1/365H1/372H1/373H1/375H1/378H1/ECE385H1; STA 247H1/255H1/257H1/(80% in STA220H1/ECO220Y1); CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.

CSC465H1 Formal Methods in Software Design

Prerequisite: CSC236H1/238H1/240H1/MAT309H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: CSC363H1/364H1/365H1.

CSC469H1 Operating Systems Design and Implementation

An in-depth exploration of the major components of operating systems with an emphasis on the techniques, algorithms, and structures used to implement these components in modern systems. Project-based study of process management, scheduling, memory management, file systems, and networking is used to build insight into the intricacies of a large concurrent system.
Exclusion: CSC468H1.

CSC485H1 Computational Linguistics

Computational linguistics and the understanding of language by computer. Possible topics include: augmented context-free grammars; chart parsing, parsing in Prolog; statistical parsing; semantics and semantic interpretation; ambiguity resolution techniques; discourse structure and reference resolution; machine translation. Emphasis on statistical learning methods for lexical, syntactic and semantic knowledge.
Prerequisite: CSC324H1/experience in Lisp or Prolog; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: Suggested background includes substantial programming experience and either a course in AI, such as CSC384H1, or a Linguistics course in syntax or semantics.

CSC486H1 Knowledge Representation and Reasoning

Representing knowledge symbolically in a form suitable for automated reasoning, and associated reasoning methods: first-order logic, entailment, the resolution method, Horn clauses, procedural representations, production systems, description logics, inheritance networks, defaults and probabilities, tractable reasoning, abductive explanation, the representation of action, planning.
Prerequisite: CSC384H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Recommended preparation: CSC330H1/equivalent background.

CSC487H1 Foundations of Computer Vision

Introduction to vision, visual processes, and image understanding. Brief biological motivation for computational vision. Camera system geometry and image acquisition, basic visual processes for recognition of edges, regions, lines, surfaces. Processing colour, stereo images, and motion in image sequences. Active vision methods such as visual attention and interpretation-guided imaging system geometry changes. Object recognition. Applications of visual systems.
Prerequisite: CSC320H1/420H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POSt.
Computer Science

CSC488H1 Compilers and Interpreters 26L, 13T
Compiler organization, compiler writing tools, use of regular expressions, finite automata and context-free grammars, scanning and parsing, runtime organization, semantic analysis, implementing the runtime model, storage allocation, code generation.
Prerequisite: CSC258H1, 324H1, 263H1/265H1/378H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.
Recommended preparation: Proficiency in C such as from CSC209H1.

ECE489H1 Compilers II 26L, 39P
Theoretical and practical aspects of building modern optimizing compilers. Topics: intermediate representations, basic blocks and flow graphs, data flow analysis, partial evaluation and redundancy elimination, loop optimizations, register allocation, instruction scheduling, interprocedural analysis, and memory hierarchy optimizations. Students implement significant optimizations within the framework of a modern research compiler. (This course is a cross-listing of ECE540H1, Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.)
Prerequisite: CSC488H1; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.
Recommended preparation: ECE385H1, proficiency in C.

CSC490H1 Capstone Design Project 52L
This half-course gives students experience solving a substantial problem that may span several areas of Computer Science. Students will define the scope of the problem, develop a solution plan, produce a working implementation, and present their work using written, oral, and (if suitable) video reports. Class time will focus on the project, but may include some lectures. The class will be small and highly interactive. See www.cs.utoronto.ca/~csc490h for this year's topic themes and required preparation.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor; CGPA 3.0/enrolment in a CSC subject POS.

CSC494H1/Computer Science Project TBA 495H1
This half-course involves a significant project in any area of Computer Science. The project may be undertaken individually or in small groups. The course is offered by arrangement with a Computer Science faculty member.
Prerequisite: Three 300-level Computer Science half-courses, a CGPA of 3.00 (2.50 for students in a CSC Program), and permission of the Program Director, Undergraduate Studies.

Interdisciplinary program

Where is home? Need it be in one place? Is it always attached to territory? Diaspora and transnational studies examines the historical and contemporary movements of peoples and the complex problems of identity and experience to which these movements give rise as well as the creative possibilities that flow from movement. The program is comparative and interdisciplinary, drawing from the social sciences, history and the arts. Students are required to take two linked half-courses that offer an introduction to a broad array of themes and disciplinary methodologies. The program offers a wide selection of additional courses, giving students the opportunity to learn about a range of diasporic communities as well as key debates in the field.

Diaspora and Transnational Studies Programs

Major program

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)

1. DTS 201H1, 202H1
2. Five full-course equivalents (FCEs) from Group A and B courses, with at least two FCEs from each group. Coverage must include at least two diasporic communities or regions, to be identified in consultation with the program advisor.

(4) Two 400-level capstone seminars (1.0 FCE). These courses are under development. Their specific course codes and titles will be published as soon as they are available.

Minor program

(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course)

1. DTS 201H1, 202H1
2. Three full-course equivalents (FCEs) from Group A and B courses, with at least one FCE from each group.

Group A (Humanities) Courses

Students are responsible for checking the co- and prerequisites for all courses in Groups A and B.

Note: course = one full course or the equivalent in half courses.

The Drama Program (Specialist, Major, Minor) offers students the opportunity to combine high standards of practical, professional theatre training with a rich and rigorous academic program. The Program offers courses in dramatic literature, dramaturgy, stage theory, theatre history, production, design, direction, and performance. Students are required to take structured combinations of courses interrelated so as to lead to a broad knowledge of the field as a whole. The Combined Specialist programs in English and Drama also provides a specialist alternative to Drama alone, while a Drama Major or Minor may be valuably combined with programs in a wide variety of other fields, as offered both by language and literature departments (English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese, etc.) and other departments and programs such as Anthropology, Canadian Studies, Cinema Studies, Classics, Commerce, Fine Art, History, Music, Psychology, Religion, Sociology, and Women's Studies.

The Drama Program is housed in the Helen Gardiner Phelan Playhouse at University College. Besides providing instruction in theatre studies, the Drama Program has mounted international theatrical events and conferences, and its students have toured Europe and Asia. The Program has also forged links with leading Canadian theatres and has regular contact with world-renowned international theatre artists. More details on the Drama Program, including application forms, can be found on the web site at: www.library.utoronto.ca/uc/ucdp. The Program Director and Academic Undergraduate Secretary are also available for consultation. For enquiries or an appointment call the Drama Program Undergraduate Secretary at 416-978-8099 or send an e-mail to uc.drama@utoronto.ca

The Department of East Asian Studies offers instruction to students who wish to learn about the historic and contemporary cultures of China, Japan and Korea, their interaction with one another, and their encounters with Western cultures. The disciplines pursued in the Department fall mostly within the humanities; additional courses on Asia are given by other departments in the Faculty of Arts and Science (Anthropology, Economics, Geography, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and others). The Department of East Asian Studies recommends such courses to its students and will count many towards program requirements.

Courses offered by the Department of East Asian Studies fall into two main categories:

a) Courses that can be taken by students in other disciplines who wish to broaden their horizons. These encompass a variety of topics in the cultures of East Asia. They require no knowledge of East Asian languages.

b) Language and specialized courses for those in East Asian Studies programs. A full range of courses is available in Chinese, Japanese and Korean areas from the first year onwards, along with some instruction in Vietnamese.

Students seeking counseling should first contact the Undergraduate Co-ordinator, and in addition, all members of the Department provide advice and information, and the Undergraduate Co-ordinator or Program Administrator may direct students to them. In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the Department offers courses during June and July at the University of Hong Kong and in conjunction with the International Student Exchange Office, offers opportunities for exchanges with universities in China, Korea, Japan, Taiwan and Singapore. Students should also check the web page of the Asian Institute and the Dr. David Chu Program in Asia-Pacific Studies.

East Asian Studies Programs

East Asian Studies Specialist, Major, Minor (Arts programs)

1. Enrolment in the program is open to students who have completed four full courses or their equivalent. Students who were enrolled in any EAS program prior to 2004-2005 may either switch to this new program, or may follow the criteria in place for the year in which they enrolled.

2. Students with an adequate knowledge of Mandarin Chinese, Japanese, or Korean should consult the Undergraduate Coordinator about the possibility of applying for a “language requirement waiver”. This waiver allows students to substitute non-language courses for the language courses required by the program.

3. The department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their skill level. See Timetable for information on placement tests and interviews.

4. Students may count toward an EAS program those courses with East Asian content offered by other departments provided they appear in the Department web site or they have the permission of the Undergraduate Coordinator of EAS.

5. EAS102Y1 is a required course for all levels of the program.

6. EAS209Y is a required course for Specialist and Major programs.

NOTE on Language Requirements: The Major and Specialist programs require a certain level of language proficiency. If students can demonstrate during their placement interviews for language courses that they have already attained this level, they will be given a language requirement waiver and will be free to complete their programs with EAS society-culture courses. Although the language requirement for the Major and Specialist program is 2nd and 3rd year level, respectively, it does not prevent students from continuing to study language at higher levels. However, only two credits for major and three credits for specialist will be counted toward the fulfillment of the program regardless of the numbers of language courses students may take.

Specialist program:
EAS specialists are especially urged to explore the avenues for study abroad in East Asia offered by the Faculty of Arts and Science Exchange Program.

12 full courses
1. EAS 102Y1, EAS 209Y1 (total of 2 credits)

EAS490H1 Introduction to Japanese Linguistics: Syntax and Semantics
This course introduces Japanese grammatical items in a scientifically and theoretically oriented manner. The goals of the course are: to gain knowledge of the basic characteristics of sentence structure and meaning in Japanese; to become familiar with selected theoretical analyses; and to develop a repertoire of linguistic vocabulary.
Prerequisite: EAS349H1
Recommended Preparation: LIN100Y1, LIN204H1

EAS493H1 Theory and Practice of Japanese Language Instruction
This course provides an overview of theories and issues in second language teaching for those who are or will be involved in Japanese language teaching. The class discussion includes the theory and history of teaching methods and their theoretical implications. Students will also practice actual teaching in real classroom settings.
Prerequisite: EAS460H1/461H1

EAS495Y1 Topics in East Asian Studies
An in-depth study of Chinese, Japanese or Korean culture, history and/or literature. Content in any given year depends on the instructor.
Recommended preparation: Varies from year to year

EAS434H1/Y1 Independent Studies TBA
EAS435H1/Y1 Independent Studies TBA
EAS436H1/Y1 Independent Studies TBA
EAS437H1/Y1 Independent Studies TBA
A scholarly project chosen by the student, approved by the Department, and supervised by one of its instructors. Consult with the East Asian Studies Undergraduate Handbook for more information.
Prerequisite: Five EAS courses

Economics is a social science that encompasses a particular range of human behaviour and has a strong influence on the structure, well-being, and development of a society.

Much of human activity is directed towards the satisfaction of material wants. In many areas of the world, the greater part of human effort must be directed towards meeting the most elemental demands for food, clothing, and shelter. Even in technologically advanced societies, where these basic requirements can be met with comparative ease, the desire for more goods and services never appears to be fully satisfied. In consequence, every society - regardless of whether it is capitalist, socialist, or communist in political orientation - is both competitive and cooperative. It is competitive because its members contend with one another to satisfy their individual wants from a limited supply of productive resources. It is cooperative because the greatest supply of goods is available when the activity of producing them is coordinated and organized. Economics deals with any issue arising out of the conflict between the demand for goods and services, and a limited supply of resources to satisfy those demands.

Undergraduate training in economics is intended to familiarize students with the discipline of economic thinking, and to equip them for intelligent appraisal of contemporary economic problems. It is also intended to make students aware of the nature of economic science, and of the directions in which economic theory is moving.

Economic theory now makes considerable use of mathematics in some of its enquiries. A student who chooses to specialize in economics should take at least one basic course in mathematics. More such courses may be taken, and several economics courses draw on mathematical analysis.

Because of advances in economic theory, an undergraduate degree is not sufficient to become a professional economist. For this or other reasons, graduate work may be necessary. Students who wish to do graduate work should seek advice from the Department concerning their choice of courses.

The Department publishes an Undergraduate Handbook. Copies may be obtained from the Department at 150 St. George Street. Some Economics Specialist Programs list advisors whom students are encouraged to consult.

Economics Programs

Enrolment in Economics courses and programs is based on grades in ECO 100Y, a minimum CGPA (please read entry requirements carefully) and in some cases, MAT 133Y or MAT 135Y or MAT 137Y/157Y. Consult the Registration Handbook & Timetable and Departmental Handbook for details.

Economic History & Economics (Arts program)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series ECO full-course equivalent)

First Year:
ECO100Y/105Y; MAT133Y/135Y/137Y
Higher Years:
3. Four additional ECO courses (not from above list)

Economic History (Arts program)

Enrolment in the Economic History Programs is limited to students with 67% in ECO100Y, or 80% in ECO105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.

Major program
(6 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y
Higher Years:
1. ECO 200Y/206Y

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. ECO 100Y/105Y
2. ECO 200Y/206Y
Economics (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrolment in the Specialist Program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y, and 63% in MAT 133Y or 60% in MAT 135Y or 55% in MAT 137Y, and a CGPA of 2.3.

First Year:
ECO 100Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y

Higher Years:
1. ECO 206Y, 208Y, ECO 227Y/STA (257H, 261H), ECO 325H, 326H, 327Y, 429Y
3. Four additional 300+ series ECO courses, no more than one of which may be a course in Economic history.
4. Additional preparation is strongly recommended: MAT 223H/240H, MAT 235Y/237Y/ECO 210H

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.

First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y

Higher Years:
2. Two additional 300+ series ECO courses, no more than one of which may be a course in Economic History

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.
1. ECO 100Y/105Y
2. ECO 200Y/206Y
3. Two additional ECO courses, including at least one 300+ series course. No more than one Economic History course is permitted in this program.

Economics (Commerce & Finance) (B.Com.) - See Commerce (page 38)

Environmental Economics - See Centre for Environment

Economics (Quantitative Methods) (Science program)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y, and 55% in MAT 137Y, and a CGPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:
(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:
ECO 100Y; MAT 137Y/157Y

Higher Years:
1. APM 236H/CSC(165H,236H)/240H/263H
2. ECO 206Y, 208Y, 325H, 326H, 327Y
3. MAT 223H/240H, 235Y/237Y
4. ECO 227Y/STA (257H, 261H)
5. One course from Group A and two courses from A or B (for a total of three):

Group A:

Group B:
Any 300+ series ECO course

Note: At least four 300+ series courses, including at least one 400-series course must be completed for this program.

Financial Economics (Science program)

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course or its equivalent)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO100Y1/100Y5, 63% in MAT133Y1/133Y5 or 60% in MAT134Y5/135Y1/135Y5 or 55% in MAT137Y1/138Y5, 63% in ECO206Y1/206Y5, 63% in ECO208Y1/208Y5, 63% in ECO227Y1/227Y5/STA(257H1,261H1)/STA(257H5,261H5). There will be a limited number of spaces available for which students can apply after completion of at least 8 full credits (including prerequisites listed above) and achievement of a CGPA to be determined annually by the Department of Economics. Students enrolled in this program cannot simultaneously be enrolled in any other Economics specialist, joint specialist, major or minor program in Economics or in the Commerce and Finance program.

NOTE – Some required courses may be offered only on the St. George or on the UTM campus in any given year. Students registered in this program at either campus may have to attend lectures on the other campus in such cases.

First Year:
ECO100Y1/100Y5, MAT132Y5/133Y1/133Y5/134Y5/135Y1/135Y5/137Y1/138Y5

Higher Years:
1. ECO206Y1/206Y5
2. ECO208Y1/208Y5
3. ECO227Y1/227Y5/STA(257H1,261H1)/(257H5,261H5)
4. ECO325H1/325H5, ECO326H1/326H5
5. ECO327Y1*/327Y5*
6. ECO358H1/358H5, ECO359H1/359H5
7. 5 additional 300+ ECO credits or their equivalent, of which at least 1.5 must be chosen from ECO329H1/349H5, ECO460H5, ECO461H1/461H5, ECO462H1, ECO463H5
8. MAT222H5/223H1/248Y5 is strongly recommended as preparation for ECO322Y1/327Y5. Students taking one of these MAT courses can have that course count in lieu of one half or a full 300+ ECO credit required for this program.

Economics and Computer Science (Science program) - See Computer Science
Economics and Geography (Arts program)
Consult Professor A.M. Davis, Undergraduate Coordinator, Department of Geography.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y; GGR 107Y/110Y/124Y
Higher Years:
1. ECO 200Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y, 333Y; GGR 220Y
2. ECO 220Y/227Y/STA, (250H, 255H)/(257H, 261H)
7. One additional ECO/GGR course if ECO 220Y/227Y is chosen, or two if STA (250H, 255H)/(257H, 261H) are chosen

Economics & Mathematics (Science program)
Consult Professor N.A. Derzko, Department of Mathematics, or Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y and 55% in MAT 137Y and have a CGPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
ECO 100Y; MAT 137Y
Second Year:
ECO 206Y, 208Y, ECO 227Y/STA (257H, 261H); MAT (223H/240H, 237Y, 246H)/257Y
Second or Third Year:
APM 236H; MAT 244H/267H
Third Year:
MAT 315H/337H/(327H,357H) (MAT 357H may be taken in Fourth Year)
Third or Fourth Year:
1. APM 462H; ECO 325Y/326H
2. Two 300+ series ECO courses
3. One full course from: MAT 309H/315H/334H/337H/344H/363H/464H/any 400-series MAT course/another 300+level STA course, subject to the approval of the advisors

Economics & Philosophy (Arts program)
Consult the Undergraduate Coordinator, Department of Philosophy.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y
Higher Years:
2. Two additional ECO courses
3. Seven full courses in Philosophy; it is strongly recommended that five be chosen according to the profile specified in the Philosophy Specialist Program, with at least two at the 300+ level.

Note:
At least four 300+ series courses must be completed for this program.

Economics & Political Science (Arts program)
Consult Director of Undergraduate Studies, Department of Political Science.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of at least 2.0. Students must also meet the requirements of the Political Science Department (see the Political Science listings).

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
NOTE: The 15 courses must include 8 in ECO, two of which must be 300+ series; and 7 in POL or JPE, including one 300+ series course and one 400-series course. At least one POL course must be in the area of Canadian politics.
First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y; POL 103Y/105Y/108Y/214Y
Higher Years:
1. POL 200Y
4. One additional ECO course
5. One full course from any of the following three fields in Political Science (see Departmental Handbook for breakdown of courses into fields):
   Comparative Politics (Developing)
   Comparative Politics (Industrial)
   International Relations
7. Three additional courses in POL or JPE
Economics

Economics & Sociology (Arts program)
Consult Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y, or 80% in ECO 105Y, and have a CGPA of 2.0. Students must have 65% in SOC 101Y, and 70% in each of SOC 200H, 202H, 203Y, and 204H. Students must have completed 8 full courses and be enrolled in the Sociology Major program.

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
ECO 100Y/105Y; MAT 133Y/135Y/137Y; SOC 101Y
Higher Years:
2. SOC 200H, 202H, 203Y, 204H, 376H, 377H, 387H, 401Y
3. Two of the following pairs of courses: ECO 321Y & SOC 220Y; ECO 333Y & SOC 370Y; ECO 339Y & SOC 207Y/370Y; ECO 340H plus a second ECO half-course & SOC 301Y; ECO 425H plus a second ECO half-course & SOC 312Y

Note:
At least four 300+ series courses must be completed for this program

Economics & Statistics (Science program)
Consult Undergraduate Secretary, Department of Economics.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 70% in ECO 100Y and 55% in MAT 137Y and have a CGPA of 2.3.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
CSC 148H/150H/260H; ECO 100Y; MAT 137Y/157Y
Second Year:
ECO 206Y, 208Y; MAT 223H/240H, 237Y; ECO 227Y/STA(257H, 261H)
Third Year:
1. ECO 325H, 326H, 327Y; STA 347H
2. One 300+ series ECO course
3. STA 352Y
Fourth Year:
1. ECO 416H/418H
2. A 300+ series ECO half-course
3. STA 437H, 457H; one STA half-course from STA 438H/441H/442H
4. One additional half-course from ACT 335H/MAT 244H/267H/a 300+ series ECO or STA half-course

Economics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all ECO courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

SSC199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

Note
Enrolment in most Economics courses above the 100-level and, therefore, in all Economics Programs, is based on grades in ECO 100Y or ECO 105Y and, in some cases, MAT 133Y or MAT 135Y or MAT 137Y. Additional information is contained in the Registration Handbook and Timetable and the Departmental Handbook. Not all courses are offered each year.

ECO100Y1 Introduction to Economics 52L, 26T
An introduction to economic analysis and its applications: price determination; the role of competition; international trade and finance; the theory of production and employment; the role of money and the banking system; monetary and fiscal policy. NOTE graphical and quantitative analysis are used extensively. Exclusion: ECO105Y

ECO105Y1 Principles of Economics for Non-Specialists 52L, 26T
An introduction to the principles and methods of economics in association with policy issues. Lectures cover 24 topics, including economic growth, the importance of productivity, international trade, competitive markets, macroeconomic issues and more specific topics such as rent controls, OPEC, the international debt crisis, trade restrictions, the national debt and sustainable development. Students who intend to complete a minor, major, or specialist program in Economics are advised to take ECO100Y.
Exclusion: ECO105Y

ECO200Y1 Microeconomic Theory 52L, 26T
Theory of markets and prices. Determination of prices through the interaction of the basic economic units, the household as consumer and as supplier of inputs and the business firm as producer and as employer of inputs. The pricing system as the mechanism by which social decisions and allocation of goods are made in a market economy.
Exclusion: ECO206Y
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)

ECO202Y1 Macroeconomic Theory and Policy 52L, 26T
Theory of output, employment and the price level; techniques for achieving economic stability; central banking and Canadian financial institutions and markets; foreign exchange markets and the exchange rate. This course is not intended for those in the B.Com program; please see ECO209Y.
Exclusion: ECO208Y/209Y
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)
Co-requisite: MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO210Y1 Mathematical Methods for Economic Theory 26L
An introduction to mathematical methods commonly used in economics. Topics include unconstrained multivariate optimization, multivariate optimization subject to equality or inequality constraints and differential equations. Exclusion: MAT235Y, MAT237Y
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y (80%); MAT133Y (63%)/135Y (60%)/137Y (55%)
Co-requisite: ECO200Y/206Y

ECO220Y1 Quantitative Methods in Economics 52L, 26T
Numerical and graphical data description techniques; data collection and sampling; probability; sampling distributions; statistical inference; simple and multiple regression analysis. Study methods, the basis for these methods, when each is or is not appropriate, and how to correctly interpret and understand results. Exclusion: ECO227Y, GGR270Y, 270H, PSY201H, 202H, SOC300Y, STA220H, 221H, 250H, 255H, 257H, 261H
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y (80%); MAT133Y (63%)/135Y (60%)/137Y (55%)
Co-requisite: ECO200Y/206Y

ECO227Y1 Quantitative Methods in Economics 52L, 26T
Prerequisite: ECO100Y (70%); MAT133Y (63%)/135Y (60%)/137Y (55%)
Recommened Co-requisite: MAT 223H/240H, MAT 235Y/237Y/ECO210H

ECO230Y1 International Economic Institutions and Policy 52L
The key concepts of international trade and finance are reviewed with an eye to understanding contemporary issues and recommending policy initiatives. Attention is given to empirical assessment of alternative trade theories and to broader international relations issues. Exclusion: ECO328Y
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)/CGPA 2.50)/enrolment in International Relations, or Peace and Conflict Studies, or the joint Specialist Program from these areas.

ECO239Y1 Labour Markets and Policies 52L, 26T
Application of economic analysis to current issues in labour policy: immigration, retirement, education, unemployment, earnings differentials, employment and pay equity, labour unions, minimum wage, income policies. Exclusion: ECO339Y
Prerequisite: ECO100Y(67%)/ECO105Y(80%)

WDW244H1 Labour Relations See Woodsworth College

ECO250Y1 Special Topics in Economics 52S/26S
251H1/252H1
Courses may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department (see the Undergraduate Secretary for details). Prerequisite: TBA

ECO299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

ECO 301Y1 European Economic History, 1250 - 1750 (formerly ECO201Y1)
The development of the west European economy from the apex of the Commercial Revolution era and the ensuing economic crises of the later - early 14th centuries to the eve of the modern Industrial Revolution, focusing on Italy, Spain, Portugal, France, Germany, the Low Countries and England. Major topics: feudalism, serfdom and other barriers to economic growth; demographic, monetary and other macroeconomic forces; the development of market economies; structural changes in and interactions among the agrarian, commercial, financial, and industrial sectors; overseas expansion and colonization; the role of Church, state, warfare, and social/ political institutions; Mercantilism. Exclusion: ECO201Y
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y

ECO302H1 Comparative Economic Institutions in History (formerly ECO302Y1)
Contrasting ways in which the factors of production - land, labour and capital - are organized in human society. Tribal, feudal, mercantilist and market economies are considered. A conceptual framework related to both market and non-market economies is examined, based on the work of Karl Polanyi. Exclusion: ECO302Y, ECO354H (2001-02 and 2002-03)
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y

ECONOMIC DISTRIBUTION

ECO327H1 Applied Econometrics 52L, 26T
The development and application of statistical techniques in estimating economic models and testing economic theory. The implications and treatment of special statistical problems that arise in estimating economic relationships.
Exclusion: STA302H
Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%), ECO202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)
Recommended preparation: MAT223H/240H, MAT235Y/237Y/ECO210H

ECO328Y1 International Economics 52L, 26T
The operation of the international economy and the economic interdependence among nations, in terms of international monetary relationships, commodity trade and factor movements.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H,255H)/(257H,261H)
Exclusion: ECO236Y

ECO329H1 Topics in Monetary Economics 26L
Theories and techniques in monetary economics, including the equilibrium asset-pricing theory and modeling money as a medium of exchange, the Lucas supply curve, the choice of monetary policy rules versus discretion, and the liquidity effect of open market operations. Emphasis on the interactions between macroeconomic phenomena and individual decisions.
Exclusion: ECO349H5, ECO352H (2002-03)
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, ECO202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H,255H)/(257H,261H), MAT133Y(63%)/135Y(60%)/137Y(55%)

ECO332H1 Economics of the Family 26L
This course uses microeconomics to study the behaviour of the family, including marriage, divorce, intra-family allocations, investment in children and gender roles.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO333Y1 Urban Economics 52L
Spatial economic theory and urban public policy; firms and individuals in partial and general equilibrium, land development and land-use controls, urban transportation, efficiency and equity in spending and taxing.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO334Y1 Public Economics 52L
Exclusion: ECO236Y
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO338H1 Economics of Education 26L
Application of microeconomic theory to conceptual and policy issues in education. Topics include the economic benefits and costs of education; investment in human capital and the returns to educational expenditures; the role of government in education; educational financing and planning.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO360Y1 Economic Growth and Technological Change

With emphasis on the United States, Japan and Canada, this course examines theories of capitalism; Long Wave Cycle, the importance of productivity growth and Solow’s residual, the economics of technological change, the Japanese/U.S. trade interface, the economic slowdown since 1973 and the current Canadian productivity challenge. Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, 202Y/208Y/209Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H/257H)

ECO369Y1 Health Economics

The provision of health care provides many special problems of informational asymmetry, regulation, insurance and redistribution. The course considers the demand and supply side problems. Alternative reform proposals for health care are explored. Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, MAT133Y/135Y/137Y

ECO370Y1 Economics of Organizations

An introduction to the economic analysis of organizations and, in particular, the firm. An investigation of how markets can solve the twin problems of coordinating activities and motivating individuals; and, when markets are less successful, how organizations and special contractual relationships emerge as alternative forums for allocating resources. Exclusion: ECO381H, ECO426H. Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H/257H, 261H)

ECO380H1 Managerial Economics I: Competitive Strategy

This course in applied microeconomics is concerned with the functioning of markets and the behaviour of firms within these markets. The focus is on strategic relationships between organizations. This includes competitive relationships among firms in the same market and cooperative relationships between a firm and its suppliers and distributors. Exclusion: ECO310Y, MGT310Y. Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H/257H, 261H)

ECO381H1 Managerial Economics II: Personnel Economics

An examination of selected material on compensation and incentives in organizations. Topics include recruitment and hiring, training, turnover, downsizing, motivating workers, teams, allocating authority and task assignment. Exclusion: ECO370Y, 426H, MGT310Y. Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y, ECO220Y/227Y/STA(250H, 255H/257H, 261H)

ECO382H1 Population Economics and Business Strategy

Strategic business in any organization depends crucially on people – the customers using the products and the employees executing the strategy. Using population economics as a foundation, topics covered include strategic management, consumer behaviour, life cycle models, generational analysis, trend analysis, marketing, risk analysis, global competitive analysis, diversification strategy, human resource planning, government relations, change management and sustainability. Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/206Y(60%), ECO202Y(70%)/208Y(60%)/209Y(70%), ECO220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)

ECO398H0 Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

Note:

Many 400-level courses are offered as joint undergraduate and graduate courses. Students interested in any of these courses should consult with the instructor before enrolling.

ECO416H1 Macroeconomic Models for Policy Analysis and Forecasting

The construction and operation of macroeconomic models. The use of models for conducting policy simulations and for generating quantitative forecasts of economic activity. Prerequisite: ECO325H Co-requisite: ECO327Y

ECO418H1 Empirical Applications of Economic Theory

Topics class in applied econometrics, emphasizing empirical industrial organization. Emphasis on a balanced treatment of theory and econometric techniques used in empirical research in industrial organization (the study of firms and markets). How firms behave, how market equilibriums arise and how economic policies are used to affect market equilibriums. Prerequisite: ECO327Y

ECO419H1 International Macroeconomics

ECO420Y1 Special Topics in Economics 52S/26S 421H1/422H1

Seminars or workshops may be offered in one or more subjects each year. Students must meet the prerequisites announced by the Department. (See the Undergraduate Secretary for details.) Prerequisite: TBA, permission of instructor

ECO423H1 Topics in North American Economic History

Themes are incentives, contracts, and the impetus for change. Topics include indigenous people of North America; indentured servitude; slavery; apprenticeships; the evolution of production from artisan shop to the factory; invention and the diffusion of technological innovations; institutions and growth. Prerequisite: ECO206Y(70%), 227Y(70%)/(STA257H[70%], 261H[70%]), or permission of the instructor. Exclusion: ECO307H1

ECO424H1 Topics in Development Economics

Economic analysis of topics in economic development, such as patterns of growth, issues of poverty and inequality, land reform, tax design and price reform. Focus on application of theory, especially statistical analysis relating to conduct of economic policy in developing countries. Prerequisite: ECO206Y, 327Y
Economics

ECO425H1 Economics and Demographics 26S
A research-oriented course exploring the interrelationships between economics and demographic change, both historical and projected, with attention to the microeconomic foundations, macroeconomic performance, and policy in areas such as fertility, migration, education, labour markets, housing, crime, recreation, leisure, marketing, health, retirement and pensions. The Canadian experience, with some international comparisons.
Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/206Y(60%), 202Y(70%)/208Y(60%)/209Y(70%), 220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)
Co-requisite: ECO327Y/STA302H

ECO426H1 Economics Inside Organizations 26L
An examination of selected research on compensation, incentive issues, cooperation and allocation of authority in hierarchical organizations.
Exclusion: ECO381H1, ECO370Y1
Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/206Y(60%), 220Y(70%)/227Y(60%)

ECO429Y1 History of Economic Thought 52L
(Formerly ECO322Y1)
Development of analytical economics from the 18th century with emphasis on Adam Smith and the British Classical School (David Ricardo, T.R. Malthus, and J.S. Mill), Karl Marx, the Marginalists and their successors to 1939, including Keynes.
Exclusion: ECO322Y1
Prerequisite: ECO200Y/206Y; ECO202Y/208Y/209Y

ECO430Y1/Reading Course or Thesis TBA 431H1
Intended for Advanced Specialist students who have exhausted course offerings in a particular area. Open only when a faculty member is available and willing to supervise. Students must obtain the approval of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies before enrolling.

ECO435H1 The Economics of Modern China 26L
(Formerly ECO335Y1)
A focus on post-1949 Chinese economy, and the PRC's economic legacy. Economic development during the Maoist period, particularly post-1979 reforms. China's experience is compared to Eastern Europe's and the role of China in the rapidly growing East Asian economy. This is an enrolment seminar requiring extensive reading.
Exclusion: ECO335Y
Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/ECO206Y(60%)

ECO450H1 Long Term Economic Growth: Historical and Theoretical Perspectives 26L
Stylized facts about growth and development; how a simple neoclassical growth model explains these observations. New growth models emphasizing institutions, endogenous population growth and technological change; how they explain cross-country income differences in the postwar period; the historical experience in some countries, with a look at Europe and Asia.
Exclusion: ECO421H
Prerequisite: ECO200Y(70%)/206Y(60%), ECO202Y(70%)/208Y(60%)/209Y(70%)

ECO451H1 Macroeconomic Growth 26L
An introduction to modern theories of the determinants of macroeconomic growth that examines the important question of why some countries are rich and others are poor. Topics include: investigation of empirical literature pertaining to international comparisons of recent and past rates of economic growth across countries.

ECO459H1 International Trade Regulation 26L
The theory and political economy of international trade, with examination of specific trade institutions: Breton Woods, WTO, NAFTA, tariff administration, most-favoured nation treatment, antidumping regulation, subsidies and countervailing duties, agriculture, trade in services, trade-related intellectual property, trade and environment, trade and developing countries.
Prerequisite: ECO328Y, permission of instructor

ECO461H1 The Economics of Financial Risk Management 26L
The role of risk management in both private and public sectors, a discussion of why firms and government should hedge financial risks; individual and social gains of financial risk management; identification and quantification of financial risks (including Value-at-Risk measures); how derivative securities can be used for financial risk management.
Exclusion: ACT349H1, MGT331Y1, 337Y1
Prerequisite: ECO358H(70%)

ECO462H1 Financial Econometrics 26L
This course provides an introduction to the econometrics used in empirical finance. Topics will include parametric and nonparametric models of volatility, evaluation of asset pricing theories and models for risk management and transactions data. The course will emphasize estimation and inference using computer based applications.
Exclusion: ACT349H1, MGT331Y1, 337Y1
Prerequisite: ECO328Y(70%), ECO358H(70%)

English Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all ENG courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

Please note: Not all courses are offered every year.

100-Series Courses

Note

The 100-series courses are designed to increase the students’ skills in interpretation and effective writing, and are open to all students who have standing in no more than one full-course equivalent in English. ENG 100H1 is a course in general writing skills relevant to a wide range of university subject areas. Only one of JEF 100Y1, ENG 110Y1, 120Y1, and 140Y1 can be used in fulfillment of a Specialist, Major, or Minor Program. JEF 100Y1 offers an acquaintance with the major works of various Western literary traditions in English translation. ENG 110Y1 explores the nature of narrative writing in a variety of fictional and non-fictional, poetic, and cinematic forms. ENG 120Y1 approaches the diversity of literature in English historically, dealing with works from many different periods; ENG 140Y1 approaches this diversity more geographically, focusing on contributions made to modern and contemporary literature in English in various areas of the world. Students with fewer than four full courses in the Faculty may enrol in ENG 201Y1 or 202Y1 provided they enrol in one of ENG 110Y1, 120Y1, 140Y1 or JEF 100Y1 as a co-requisite. ENG 100H1, ENG 185Y1, HUM 199Y1 may not be used to meet the requirements of any English program.

ENG100H1 Effective Writing 39L
A course designed to improve competence in writing expository and persuasive prose for academic and other purposes. It aims to teach the principles of clear, well-reasoned prose, and their practical applications; the processes of composition (drafting, revising, final editing); the conventions of various prose forms and different university disciplines. The course does not meet the needs of students primarily seeking to develop English language proficiency. This course may not count toward any English program.

ENG110Y1 Narrative 78L
This course explores the stories that are all around us and that shape our world: traditional literary narratives such as ballads, romances, and novels, and also non-literary forms of narrative, such as journalism, movies, myths, jokes, legal judgements, travel writing, histories, songs, diaries, biographies.

ENG120Y1 Forms of Literary Expression 78L
An exploration of how major forms of drama, poetry, and fiction have shaped the writer’s expression and the reader’s response through different eras. At least nine works, from such genres as comedy, tragedy, pastoral, elegy, satire, detective story, autobiography.

ENG140Y1 Literature for our Time 78L
An exploration of how the literature of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries responds to our world through major forms of poetry, prose, and drama in texts drawn from a variety of national literatures. At least nine authors, such as Eliot, Frost, Heaney, Page, Plath, Rich, Wayman, Walcott, Yeats, Faulkner, Gordimer, Joyce, Morrison, Munro, Naipaul, Rushdie, Woolf, Beckett, Highway, O’Neill, Shaw, Soyinka, Stoppard.

ENG185Y1 The Study of Literature 52L
See Academic Bridging Program. Only for students registered in the Academic Bridging Program. This course may not count toward any English program.

HUM199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S

JEF100Y1 The Western Tradition 78L
An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary “classic”? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition - human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny - been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostojevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French; see also JEF 100Y1 in the French program listings.)

200-Series Courses

Note

200-series courses are open to students who have obtained standing in one full 100-series ENG or JEF course, or in at least four full-course equivalents. Students without this prerequisite may enrol in ENG 201Y1 or 202Y1 if they are concurrently enrolled in any of ENG 110Y1, 120Y1, 140Y1, or JEF 100Y1. Students in a Specialist, Major, or Minor program in English are required to take either ENG 201Y1 or 202Y1. Students should note the special prerequisite for ENG 269Y1 and they should consult the Department’s Brochure before the May 15 deadline for instructions about applying for this course.

ENG200Y1 The Bible and English Literature 78L
An introductory study of the Bible’s influence on literature in English. Selections from the Bible, Milton, Blake, Eliot. Other works to be chosen by the instructor.

ENG201Y1 Reading Poetry 78L
An introduction to poetry through a close reading of texts, focusing on its traditional forms, themes, techniques, and uses of language; its historical and geographical range; and its twentieth-century diversity. Co-requisite: For students with fewer than four full-course equivalents, one of ENG110Y1/120Y1/140Y1/JEF100Y1.

ENG202Y1 Major British Writers 78L
Lectures and tutorials on the essential and influential texts that have helped ground our English literary heritage. Poetry, drama and fiction by at least fourteen authors such as Chaucer, Spenser, Shakespeare, Donne, Milton, Bunyan, Dryden, Congreve, Pope, Swift, Fielding, Austen, Blake, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Keats, Tennyson, Browning, Dickens, George Eliot, Joyce, Woolf, T.S. Eliot.
Co-requisite: For students with fewer than four full-course equivalents, one of ENG110Y1/120Y1/140Y1/JEF100Y1.
ENG213H1 The Short Story 39L
A introduction to fiction through short stories of various kinds, written mainly in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Authors such as Hawthorne, Poe, James, Conrad, Kipling, Joyce, Lawrence, Mansfield, Faulkner, Hemingway, Singer, Gallant.

ENG214H1 The Short-Story Collection 39L
A study of interrelated short-story collections written and put together by such authors as Kipling, Joyce, Lawrence, Hemingway, Mansfield, Salinger, Roth, Lawrence, Faulkner, O’Connor, Gallant.

ENG215H1 The Canadian Short Story 39L
A study of Canadian short fiction in English since its beginnings. A wide variety of regions, periods, styles, and writers is considered. Works by authors such as Callaghan, Ross, Laurence, Gallant, Munro, Buckler, Hood, Hodgins, and Atwood are included.

ENG216Y1 Twentieth-Century Canadian Fiction 78L
The vitality of modern and contemporary Canadian fiction is acclaimed both nationally and internationally. This course examines the work of writers who have achieved world-wide recognition as well as others who have added significantly to our knowledge of ourselves and our country. Twelve or more works studied.

ENG220Y1 Shakespeare 78L
About twelve plays by Shakespeare representing the different periods of his career and the different genres he worked in (comedy, history, tragedy). Such plays as Romeo and Juliet; A Midsummer Night’s Dream; Richard II; Henry IV, Parts I and II; As You Like It, Twelfth Night; Measure for Measure; Hamlet; King Lear; Antony and Cleopatra; The Tempest. Non-dramatic poetry may be included.

ENG223H1 Canadian Drama 39L
Canadian plays, with emphasis on major playwrights and on developments since 1940, but with attention also to the history of the theatre in Canada.

ENG232H1 Twentieth-Century Biography 39L
An introduction to the varieties of biography in this century. Issues such as the nature of biographical sources, the aims of the biographer, the difference between biography and autobiography, and the bias of the biographer are discussed. Figures such as Wilde, Russell, Woolf, Plath, Lennon, Layton, MacEwen may be included.

ENG233Y1 Major Women Writers 78L
A study of at least eight and not more than twelve major women writers. The course includes works of poetry and fiction. Drama and non-fiction may also be represented.

ENG234H1 Children’s Literature 39L
An historical and critical study of poetry, fiction, and drama written for or appropriated by children. Works by at least twelve authors such as Bunyan, Defoe, Stevenson, Carroll, Twain, Milne, Tolkien, Norton, and Andersen.

ENG236H1 Detective Fiction 39L
At least twelve works by such authors as Poe, Dickens, Collins, Doyle, Chesterton, Christie, Sayers, Van Dine, Hammett, Chandler, Faulkner, P.D. James, Rendell.

ENG237H1 Science Fiction and Fantasy 39L
The literature of possible worlds and thought experiments. Science fiction invents or extrapolates an inner or outer cosmology from the physical, life, social, and human sciences, and fantasy animates a supernatural universe. Typical subjects include AI, alternate histories, holocaust, space-time travel, strange species, theories of everything, utopias or dystopias.

Specific texts show how sociopolitical history changes and varies this language. Topics include semantics, standardization, syntax, and vocabulary.

ENG369Y1 Creative Writing 52S
Restricted to students who in the opinion of the Department show special aptitude for writing poetry, fiction, or drama. For application procedure, see Department Brochure by May 15. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor and the Associate Chair.

ENG390Y1/ Individual Studies TBA
392H1/
393H1/
394Y1
A scholarly project chosen by the student and supervised by a member of the staff. The form of the project and the manner of its execution are determined in consultation with the supervisor. All project proposals should be submitted by May 15. Proposal forms are available from the Department offices. Exclusion: ENG490Y1.
Prerequisite: Three courses in English, permission of the instructor and the Associate Chair.

ENG391Y1 Individual Studies (Creative) TBA
A project in creative writing chosen by the student and supervised by a member of the staff. The form of the project and the manner of its execution are determined in consultation with the supervisor. All project proposals should be submitted by May 15. Proposal forms are available from the Department offices.
Prerequisite: Three courses in English, including ENG369Y1, permission of the instructor and the Associate Chair.

ENG398Y0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

400-Series Courses
Note
400-series courses are open to students who have obtained standing in at least nine full-course equivalents, including at least five full-course equivalent ENG or JEF courses. These advanced courses normally presuppose earlier study in the field, and in some cases specific prerequisites are indicated. Except for ENG 490Y1, courses in this series are taught in a seminar format, enrolment being limited to 25 students. Not all 400-series courses are offered every year; students should consult the Department’s Brochure for course descriptions and deadlines. Students who require a 400-series course to satisfy their program requirements will have enrolment priority in the first round of course enrolment for these courses. Those who plan to take ENG 490Y1 should consult the Department’s Brochure before the May 15 deadline for instructions about applying.

Please note that exclusions will be strictly enforced.

ENG400Y1 Beowulf and Other Old English Poetry 52S
Klaeber, ed., Beowulf. Other texts to be selected. Exclusion: ENG480Y1

A scholarly project devised by the student and supervised by a member of the staff. The course is open to students enrolled in the English Specialist Program or in Combined Specialist Programs where it is an option. Proposal forms are available from the Department offices. Proposals should be submitted by May 15.
Prerequisite: Fourteen full-course equivalents, with at least five full-course equivalent ENG/JEF courses; an overall B average in all ENG/JEF courses previously taken, permission of the instructor and the Associate Chair
Exclusion: ENG390Y1, 392H1, 393H1, 394Y1
The Faculty of Arts and Sciences offers students a number of opportunities to study environment on the St. George campus. Students are encouraged to investigate the following environmental program options, as well as those of the new Centre for Environment (www.environment.utoronto.ca). See below.

Environment & Resource Management (Arts program):
(See program details under Geography)
These Specialist and Major programs can be linked with either the Centre's Arts or Science programs for an Honours Degree. This program focuses on resource and environmental planning, environmental assessment, water resources, waste management and Canada's forests from the perspective of Geography.

Environmental Studies (Arts program):
(This program, formerly offered at Innis College, is now offered through the new Centre for Environment, and has been renamed Environmental Policy & Practice – see below)
Forest Conservation (Arts or Science programs):
(See program details under Forestry, or at www.forestry.utoronto.ca.)
These Specialist, Major and Minor programs can be linked with the Centre's science or arts programs for an Honours degree. Core subjects include world's forests, forest products in sustainable forestry, forest conservation practices, forest management and resource allocation, and forests and society. Other topics include biodiversity, sustainability, international policy, certification, intensive forest management, community management, forest health and forest fragmentation.

Physical & Environmental Geography (Science program):
(See program details under Geography)
These Specialist and Major programs can be linked with the Centre's science or arts programs for an Honours Degree. Core subjects include geomorphology, climatology, soil science and hydrology. Other topics include biogeography, remote sensing, climate assessment, biogeochemistry and environmental contaminants modeling.

The Faculty of Arts and Science established the Centre for Environment to help students focus the diverse strengths of the Faculty's environmental scholars into an academic program. In addition, the Centre's programs offer students access to environmental scholars in other units of the University.

Core Programs:
The Centre offers HBA and HBSc minor, major and specialist programs: Environment and Science (Science), Environment and Society (Arts), and Environmental Policy and Practice (Arts) which are often taken in conjunction with another program(s) in a traditional academic field (e.g. Physics, Sociology, etc.). We consider this an ideal combination of disciplinary depth and interdisciplinary breadth.

The Centre's B.Sc. Environment and Science program is intended for students who are interested in studying and working in the environmental sciences with a focus on one of the Faculty's many scientific disciplines, from Actuarial Science through Zoology. The science program is a demanding one with a requirement for a number of 100-level science courses in Biology, Chemistry, Earth Sciences, Mathematics and Physics. This foundation is necessary to give students the degree of cross-disciplinary scientific literacy necessary for our 200-level science courses: ENV234Y (Environmental Biology), ENV235Y (Physics and Chemistry of Planet Earth) or ENV236Y (Human Interactions with the Environment). In most cases, students will be combining Environment and Science with another science option (a Specialist or Major or two Minors) for an Honours B.Sc. degree program.

The Centre's B.A. Environment and Society program is a broad general program intended for students interested in studying and working in an environmental area within the social sciences or humanities, e.g. geography, economics, ethics, or international relations. Environment and Society may also be appropriate for science students who do not wish to enroll in Environment and Science. In most cases, students will be combining Environment and Society with another option (a Specialist or Major or two Minors) for an Honours B.A. or B.Sc. degree. Companion programs for students in Environment and Society could come from any of the Faculty's social sciences or humanities disciplines (including Commerce). NOTE: Students may not take both an Environment and Society program and an Environmental Policy and Practice program, unless one of them is not required to meet degree requirements.

In the Centre's Environmental Policy and Practice program (formerly Environmental Studies), understanding leads to action. This program offers rigorous academic study of the economic, social and political forces driving today's issues - globalization, species extinction, the Kyoto Protocol on climate change, the fight for sustainable cities, smog, toxic pollution and human health. The program links intellectual understanding of the environmental crisis with opportunities to use this knowledge to help solve these problems - here in the Toronto area, nationally and globally.

Students study in small classes with extensive faculty contact. These faculty include both academic scholars and professional practitioners, which means students gain both academic skills and knowledge and practical skills and experience, both in the class-room and in the community. The program specializes in environmental policy and governance, and gives students a grounding in scientific literacy and evolving cultural attitudes. toward nature. Together, the academic and applied experience students gain in this program provides a solid foundation for graduate studies and professional careers. NOTE: Students may not take both an Environment and Society program and an Environmental Policy and Practice program, unless one of them is not required to meet degree requirements.

Interfaculty Combination: Environmental Policy and Practice and International Development Studies

The program combination of Environmental Policy and Practice and International Development Studies is for students enrolled in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George campus wishing to pursue a Specialist or Major program in Environmental Policy and Practice at the Centre in conjunction with a Major program in International Development Studies at the Scarborough campus, or for students enrolled at the Scarborough campus wishing to pursue a Specialist program in International Development Studies at Scarborough in conjunction with a Major program in Environmental Policy and Practice at the Centre (for the latter option, Scarborough students should consult the University of Toronto at Scarborough Calendar for 2006-07).

Collaborative Specialist Programs:

The Centre offers six Science specialist programs: Environment & Health; Environmental Chemistry; Environmental Geosciences; Earth Systems: Physics and Environment; Past Environments; and Environment & Toxicology. These programs combine the Centre’s interdisciplinary core with a deliberately focused set of discipline-specific courses.

All Science programs in the Centre include a very strong first-year science component with core interdisciplinary science courses in subsequent years. Students intending to pursue Environment and Science or any of the Science specialist programs are advised to choose first-year courses from BIO 150Y1 and CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1, MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB 170Y1, PHY 138Y1/140Y1/GGR 100Y1/JGF 150Y1/JGG 150Y1. Students should consult specific program requirements and the prerequisites of ENV 235Y1, 236Y1 when selecting specific courses.

Arts programs in the Centre build on a base of social science and humanities courses. Environment and Society, as well as Environmental Policy and Practice, do not require specific First Year courses. Students intending to follow arts programs in the environment might find it helpful to take ENV 200Y1 in first year and to include some First Year course choices from the 100-level offerings in Anthropology, Biology, Economics, Geography, History, Philosophy, Political Science or Sociology.

Note: Majors and specialists in Centre for Environment programs are eligible for the Douglas Pimlott scholarships and awards, and the new Robert Hunter Scholarship (see http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/Scholarships/).

For further information, see http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/ or contact David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment at 33 Willcocks St., Room 2103, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca

Directed Environmental Minor Programs:

Environmental minor programs are offered by a number of departments. Five are science and four are arts minors. These programs are intended for students interested in acquiring a hierarchical body of environmental knowledge in a specific discipline.

These minors are open to any student irrespective of program. As in any minor, these programs can be combined with other programs of study (i.e., minors and majors) to meet the requirements for a degree. (See Page 21 of the Calendar for program requirement details).

Students interested in Centre for Environment programs should refer to the program listings on the following pages. Students should be aware that numerous programs not explicitly labeled as environmental have relevance for the study of the environment (e.g., Forestry Conservation, Ecology). For suggestions and advice consult the Centre for Environment at http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/ or phone 416-946-8100.

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty’s Distribution requirement; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

Enrolment in this program is limited to students already in a two major program, one major of which is Environment and Science (see Major program note below). Students must also have completed 8 credits including [JGE 221Y1/JIE 222Y1, one of ENV 234Y1, 235Y1 or 236Y1. This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. Not all qualified applicants may be admitted. As part of the application process to the Specialist program, a proposal for ENV 490Y1 must be approved by the Centre and must identify a three-course transdisciplinary theme. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures.

First Year:

Successful enrolment in the Environment and Science Specialist program requires prior enrolment in the Environment and Science Major. Consequently, students must complete the first year requirements as listed in the Major program below. These courses are part of the 13 required courses for the Specialist.

Higher Years:

1. JGE 221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 234Y1, 235Y1/J236Y1, 321Y1, 490Y1; ENV 410H1/JIE 410H1/an alternative approved research course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college independent research project
3. ECO 220Y1/GGR 270H1, 271H1/PSY 201H1, 202H1/SOC 300Y1/STA 220H1, 221H1/JBS 229H1/STA (250H1, 255H1)/257H1, 261H1) or an approved alternative
4. Three 300+-level full courses contributing to a transdisciplinary theme for the ENV 490Y1 course
Major program:
(6 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty’s Distribution requirement; must include at least two full-course equivalents at the 300+-level)

This program must be taken in conjunction with another major towards fulfillment of an Honours B.Sc. degree. The student must complete at least 3 courses from the first-year list before enrolling in the Environment and Science Major. The six full course equivalents that constitute the Major Program are those listed below under “Higher Years.” This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures.

First Year:
Students must complete BIO 150Y1 and at least two of CHM (125H1, 126H1)/135H1 or any approved Life Science course. 1.5 full course equivalents from Group B or alternatives as listed below. This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures.

Higher Years:
1. JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1, ENV 223H1, 321Y1, 410H1/JIE 410H1/or an approved alternative research skills course
2. A minimum 0.5 FCE from ENV 421H1 or any approved departmental or college-based independent research project
3. ENV 200Y1 or one full course equivalent from Group A or any Life Science course
4. 1.5 full course equivalents from Group B or alternatives approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor of the Centre
5. Three 300+-level courses contributing to a transdisciplinary theme for the ENV490Y1 course

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty’s Distribution requirement; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)

Students must complete at least 3 of the first-year courses before applying to enrol in the Environment and Science Minor. The four courses that constitute the Minor Program are those listed below under “Higher Years.” This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.0. Information on application and acceptance timelines is available in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. For more information, please refer to http://www.environment.utoronto.ca/UndergraduatePrograms/ApplicationProcedures/ApplicationProcedures.

Environmental Policy and Practice (Arts program)

Environmental Policy and Practice is designed to be taken on its own, or in combination with either a BSc program (such as Biology, Geology, or Chemistry) or another BA program (such as Geography, Political Science, or Economics). However, a Major or Minor program in Environmental Policy and Practice cannot be combined with a Major or Minor program in Environment and Society. It is recommended that students give serious consideration to combining one of these Environmental Policy and Practice programs with another program. Students are advised to consult with the Undergraduate Student Advisor about combining programs when enrolling in these programs - David Powell (416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent including at least one 400-level course)

First Year:
Successful enrolment in the Specialist requires prior enrolment in the Environmental Policy and Practice Major or Minor and completion of at least 10 full-course equivalents, with a minimum mark of 70% in JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1. The CGPA and other relevant factors will also be a consideration.

Higher Years:
1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 223H1, 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1, 423H1
2. Statistics: 0.5 full-course equivalent statistics course or its equivalent in a course with significant statistics content (approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor)
3. Applied Professional Experience: ENV 340H1, 440Y1 and ENV 410H1, 420Y1/(443H1, 444H1) one full-course equivalent of applied research course(s) approved by the Undergraduate Coordinator.
4. ENV Electives: 2 full-course equivalents from Group A
5. Electives: 1 full-course equivalent from among Groups A, B, C and D approved by the Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)

First Year:
Students must complete at least four full courses or their equivalent before applying to the Major, and have a minimum CGPA of 2.3, although exceptions may be made based on excellent performance in a relevant course(s), improved performance in the most recent academic year, or job and/or volunteer experience. Enrolment in this Type 3 program is limited.

Higher Years:
1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 223H1, 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1, 423H1
2. Applied Professional Experience: ENV 340H1, 440Y1 or ENV 410H1, 420Y1/(443H1, 444H1) one full-course equivalent of equivalent applied research course(s) approved by the Program Director
3. ENV Electives: 1 full-course equivalent from among Groups A and B, of which at least 0.5 full-course equivalent must come from Group A

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.
Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent including at least one 300+ series course)

First Year:
Students must complete at least four full courses or their equivalent before applying to the Minor, and have a minimum CGPA of 2.0, although exceptions may be made based on excellent performance in a relevant course(s), improved performance in the most recent academic year, or job and/or volunteer experience. Enrolment in this Type 3 program is limited.

Higher Years:
1. Program Foundation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 320Y1, 332H1/333H1, 341H1, 422H1/423H1
2. ENV Electives: 0.5 full-course equivalent from Group A or B

Note: Students may request some modification of program course requirements (up to 1 full-course equivalent) that reflects their particular overall academic objectives. Consult with Undergraduate Student Advisor.

SECTION I:
Students must take all 3.5 full-course equivalents:
ECMA01H Introduction to Microeconomics, ECMA05H Introduction to Macroeconomics or ECO100Y/105Y1
EEMSAO1H Introduction to Environmental Science or ENV200Y1
IDSO1H1 International Development Studies: Political Economy
IDSO2H1 International Development Studies: Development and Environment
POLB90H Comparative Development in International Perspective, POLB91H Comparative Development in Political Perspective, or POL201Y1

SECTION II:
Students must take 4.5 full course equivalents,* with at least one full credit, from two of the following groups (see courses listed under each of these groups in the Scarborough 2006-2007 Calendar):
A. Social/Cultural Perspectives
B. Policy Perspectives
C. Environmental Perspectives

* Students may substitute equivalent courses given in the Faculty of Arts and Science on the St. George Campus, but must get permission of the International Development Studies Supervisor.

Earth Systems: Physics & Environment (Science program)
Jointly sponsored by the Department of Physics, this program focuses on the solid earth, the oceans and the atmosphere at planetary scales emphasizing the Earth as a unified, dynamic system. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 2103, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8974 or kingston@chass.utoronto.ca. or Dr. D. Bailey, Department of Physics, Room 328, McLellan Physical Labs, 416-978-6674.

Specialist program:
(16 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty’s Distribution requirements; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)

This is a limited enrolment combination. Students already enrolled in the Environmental Policy and Practice Specialist or Major may ballot for the International Development Studies Major.

Students enrolled in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the St. George Campus who wish to complete the interfaculty combination, must concurrently complete all requirements for the Environmental Policy and Practice Specialist or Major program outlined above. In addition, they must fulfill the requirements of the International Development Studies Major program or its equivalent as outlined below (for details, consult the University of Toronto at Scarborough Calendar for 2006-07 and Professor Paul Kingston, Supervisor of International Development Studies at 416-287-7305 or 416-946-8974 or kingston@chass.utoronto.ca).

2. One FCE from: PHY 305H1/307H1/406H1/407H1/ 478H1/479Y1
3. Two additional FCE’s from the fourth year Physics options

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)

Specialist program:
Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Chemistry, this program focuses on analytical theory, instrumentation and methodological aspects of organic and inorganic contaminants in soil, water, air and biological tissues. See under Chemistry for program details.

Environmental Geosciences (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Geology. Topics include earth materials, sedimentary geology, aqueous geochemistry, hydrogeology and biogeochemistry. For more information, please contact David equivalent from any 300/400 series GLG

Environment & Health (Science program)

Jointly sponsored by the New College Human Biology Program and Basic Medical Science Departments of the Faculty of Medicine. Provides a basic understanding of the behaviour of Planet Earth, the workings of the human body, and the complex relationships between the two. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment,

Fourth Year:
1. ENV 410H1/JIE410H1
2. ENV 421H1 or a minimum of 0.5 FCE from any approved departmental or college independent research project
3. Two FCE from ANT 337Y1/(204Y1, 348Y1)/LMP 301H1/404Y1/NEW 367H1/NFS 284H1/384H1/486H1/(ECO369Y1/HIS 460H1/463H1) or any other approved course for which the student has appropriate prerequisites.

Notes:
1. * Some second and third year courses in this program have specific prerequisites. Students should check prerequisites for the higher level courses they are interested in prior to making first year course selections.
2.  BCH 210H1 requires CHM 138H1, 139H1
3. In choosing between ENV 235Y1 and ENV 236Y1, students should pay particular attention to their respective prerequisites.
4. BCH 321Y1 requires CHM 222Y1/225Y1/220H1

Past Environments (Science program)
A multi-disciplinary program focused on the changing nature of the relationship between the environment and humans over the past 2 million years. Co-sponsored by the Centre, the Department of Anthropology, and the Program in Archaeology. Consult David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Room 2103, Earth Sciences Centre, 416-946-8100 or david.powell@utoronto.ca, or Professor C. Woodland, Department of Pharmacology, Medical Sciences Building, 416-946-3102

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent which includes fulfillment of the Faculty's Distribution requirements; must include at least four 300+-series courses, one of which must be at the 400-level)
This is a Type 3 program requiring a minimum CGPA of 2.3. The student must complete four courses from the First Year list before enrolling in the program. Environmental Anthropology (Arts program)
Consult the Undergraduate Office, Department of Anthropology (416-978-6414), Sidney Smith Hall, Rm. 1030

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. ANT 100Y1
2. ANT 200Y1/203Y1/204Y1
3. Two FCE’s from: ANT 315H1/333Y1/365Y1/420H1/429Y1/450H1/453H1

Environmental Biology (Science program)
Consult Professor J. Abbatt, Department of Chemistry (416-946-7358)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
2. GLG 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, 217H1, 351H1; ENV 315H1

Environmental Chemistry (Science program)
Consult Professor J. Abbatt, Department of Chemistry (416-946-7358)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
2. One full course equivalent from CHM 217H1, 220H1/225Y1, 238Y1, 247H1/249H1
3. ENV235Y
4. Any two of CHM 310H1, 410H1, 415H1

Environmental Economics (Arts program)
Consult Ms. R. Innes, Undergraduate Administrator, Department of Economics (416-978-8616)
Enrolment in the Environmental Economics Minor program is limited to students with 67% in ECO 100Y1 or 80% in ECO 105Y1 and having a CGPA of 2.0.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. ECO 100Y1/105Y1
2. ECO 200Y1/206Y1
3. ECO 220Y1/227Y1/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(257H1, 261H1)
4. One full course at the 300+ level, including at least one of ECO 313H1 and/or ECO 314H1

Note:
The minor in Environmental Economics cannot be completed without taking MAT133Y or its equivalent.

Environmental Ethics (Arts program)
Jointly sponsored by the Centre for Environment and the Department of Philosophy, this program explores how value judgements and worldviews affect environmental decision making. For more information, contact David Powell, Undergraduate Student Advisor, Centre for Environment, Earth Science Centre, Rm. 2103 (416-946-8100, or dave.powell@utoronto.ca).

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. PHL273H1
2. PHL373H1
3. JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1
4. Two additional FCE’s in PHL, with at least one half course at the 300+ level. It is recommended that one course be in the History of Philosophy and the other in the Problems of Philosophy, including one half-course in ethics.

Environmental Geosciences (Science program)
Consult Professor J. Mungall, Department of Geology (mungall@geology.utoronto.ca)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+-level)
1. CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
2. GLG 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, 217H1, 351H1; ENV 315H1

Geographic Information Systems (Arts program)
Consult Susan Calanza, Department of Geography (416-978-6455)

Note:
Students combining this program with a Specialist/Major sponsored by the Department of Geography will normally be allowed to count only 1.5 (of the 4.0) credits towards both programs.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level)

1. GGR 100Y1/107Y1/124Y1
2. GGR 270H1, 272H1, 273H1, 373H1, (462H1/473H1)
3. Another half GGR course from Group B (see Geography, at the end of its program listings).

Life, Environment and General Physics (Science program)

Consult Physics Undergraduate Office, Room MP301 (416-978-7057/416-978-6674)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level)

1. MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1
2. ENV 235Y1/PHY 238Y1 or any other 1 full course equivalent from PHY courses at the 200+ level
3. One full course or equivalent from: BIO472H1/JPA 305H1/310H1/JGP 438H1/PHY 315H1/346H1/445H1 or any other PHY300+ course, JBO302Y may count as 0.5 FCE towards this requirement.

Physical and Environmental Geography (Science program)

Consult Susan Calanza, Department of Geography (416-978-6455)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent; must include at least one full-course equivalent at the 300+ level)

1. GGR 100Y1
2. One full course or equivalent from: GGR 201H1/203H1/205H1/206H1
3. GGR 390H1, (301H1/302H1/305H1), (272H1/307H1/310H1/312H1)
4. A half-course from Group C in the Geography listings of the Calendar

Environment Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions

To find ENV course categories for Distribution requirement purposes (see page 25), see entry at end of each course.

NOTE: Many ENV courses are limited in enrolment and require specific prerequisites. Preference is given to students meeting the ROSI deadlines.

ENV200Y1 Assessing Global Change: 52L, 12T Science and the Environment

The perspective scientists bring to the understanding and resolution of environmental concerns having global implications: atmospheric systems and climate change, the biosphere and conservation of biodiversity.

Exclusion: BIO150Y1 (applies only to students in Arts & Science)

This Science course is intended to fulfill the environmental literacy requirement for students in the BA programs of the Centre for Environment or the science distribution course requirement for Commerce, Humanities and Social Science students.

JGE221Y1 Environment and Sustainable Development 52L, 5P, 10T

The foundation for students in the Centre for Environment programs and the Environment and Resource Management Program in Geography, this course addresses social, ethical and biophysical dimensions of problems in sustainable development, the need for environmental action, and some tools that lead to solutions. Draws from relevant interdisciplinary domains in an examination of environmental degradation, the responses of various actors and models for a more sustainable future.

Exclusion: JIE 222Y1/GGR 233Y1

Recommended Preparation: GGR 100Y1/10Y1

This is a Social Science course.

ENV233Y1 Human Interactions with the Environment 52L, 26T

A course emphasizing both the role of the environment in shaping human behaviour, and the impact of humans on the environment. Coverage includes human biological and cultural evolution and the diffusion of humans across the globe. It focuses on human environment interactions in North America since the last ice age, and concludes by considering some of the environmental consequences of European settlement. (Offered in alternative, even numbered, years)
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1/GGR100Y1/JGF150Y1/GGG 150Y1 or permission of instructor
This is a Science course.

ENV299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

JIE307Y1 Urban Sustainability 52L, 26P
(formerly INI307Y1)
This course critically examines the concept of urban sustainability in theory and application. Case studies of ongoing urban sustainability programs in the developed world help students assess the successes and failures of these programs. The course also examines the current state of research and implementation efforts toward urban sustainability.
Prerequisite: One of the following: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program (IN235Y1) or permission of the instructor (particularly for students who have completed JIE221Y1/GGR233Y1/POL209Y1/SOC 205Y1/260Y1)
Exclusion: INI 307Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV315H1 Chemical Analysis of Environmental Samples
Instrumental analysis techniques for environmental scientists of all disciplines. In addition to a solid grounding in the theory of each analytical technique, particular emphasis is placed on the laboratory work. In each lab, groups of two students receive instruction from an experienced analyst and acquire hands-on experience using state-of-the-art analytical equipment for most of the techniques covered. These include INAA, XRD, XRF, SEM, AA, ICP-OES, GC, LC and ICPMS.
Exclusion: CHM217H1, 314Y1; GLG335H1
Prerequisite: CHM(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1 and any second year ENV or GLG courses
This is a Science course.

ENV320Y1 National and International Environmental Policy Making 52L, 26T
(formerly INI 320Y1)
Examination of federal-provincial negotiation of Canadian contributions to international environmental agreements such as the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE 222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor.
Exclusion: INI 320Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV321Y1 Approaches to Environmental Issues 52L, 24T
(formerly ENV221Y1)
Diverse approaches to environmental issues from a variety of perspectives are introduced, compared and analyzed, using topical case studies. Perspectives explored in previous years include aboriginal, scientific and psychological.
Exclusion: ENV221Y1
Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.0
Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV322H1 Culture and Nature 26S
(formerly INI332H1)
Critical analysis of western attitudes and values respecting nature, as found in various art and popular culture genres; significance for action on the ecological crisis.
Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3
Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1
Exclusion: INI332H1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV333H1 Ecological Worldviews 26S
(formerly INI333H1)
Approaches to environmental concerns are often marked by assumptions that reflect distinct worldviews positing particular understandings of the role of the human with respect to nature. This course explores sundry economic, political, scientific, religious, and moral worldviews pertaining to the environment, including environmental ethics, Gaia, ecofeminism, scientific cosmology, and aboriginal perspectives.
Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3
Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1
Exclusion: INI 333H1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV335H1 Environmental Design 39S
(formerly INI335H1)
Introduction to understanding the complexity of relationships among people, built forms, and natural systems; systematic review of examples of environmental design at various scales.
Prerequisite: a minimum CGPA of 2.3
Recommended preparation: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1/GGR233Y1
Exclusion: INI 335H1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV340H1 Informed Environmental Practice 26S, 13T
(formerly INI340H1)
This course will prepare students for challenging careers in the environmental field. Students will develop professional and research skills that will assist in the development of a challenging and meaningful career. Emerging social, economic, environmental, and ethical issues in the workplace will be explored.
Prerequisite: Eight full courses or their equivalent and enrolment in an environmental program at the University of Toronto
Exclusion: INI 340H1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV341H1 Environment and Human Health 26L, 13T
(formerly INI341H1)
Examination of the linkages between human health and environment. Addresses basic principles and scientific knowledge relating to health and the environment and uses case studies to examine current environmental health issues from a health sciences perspective.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor
Exclusion: INI 320Y1, if taken before the 2003-04 academic year; INI 341H1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Science and Science course.
ENV350H1  Energy & Climate Change Policy  26L
This course explores the central importance of energy and climate change locally and globally, and analyses factors influencing energy policy decisions.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
This is a Social Science course.

ENV395Y1  Special Topics Field Course  52S
This course explores interdisciplinary environmental issues in the field. Project work involves students in investigating, developing and proposing sustainable practices and approaches to topical local problems. Suitable for all CFE programs.
Recommended preparation: ENV200Y1 or BIO150Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

ENV410H1  Environmental Research Skills  26L
(formerly JIE410H1)
The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the perspectives and methods used for quantitative and qualitative research on humans, done for both academic and professional purposes. The focus is on qualitative research on current environmental issues.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in an environmental program and completion of at least 10 full courses
Co-requisite: ENV420Y1/421H1/444H1/410H1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV420Y1  Environmental Research  26L
(formerly INI420Y1)
Advanced environmental research on environmental topics of current relevance, involving information sources and resources outside the University. Students work in teams to investigate and report on a specific environmental issue for an off-campus environmental agency.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1; ENV 320Y1/321Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of instructor
Co-requisite: ENV410H1 if taken as a program requirement
Exclusion: INI 420Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV421H1  Environmental Research  26S
A research course for all students in the Centre combining report writing, independent and group-based research on an interdisciplinary topic. Application of skills learned in ENV410H1.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1, ENV 320Y1/321Y1 or permission of the Undergraduate Student Advisor
Corequisite: ENV410H1
This is classified as BOTH a Social Sciences and a Humanities course.

ENV422H1  Environmental Law  26S
(formerly INI422H1)
An introduction to environmental law for students in Environmental Studies; legal methods available to resolve environmental problems and the scope and limits of those methods; common law and statutory “tools” as well as environmental assessment legislation; the problem of “standing to sue” and the limits of litigation.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
This is a Social Science course.

ENV423H1  Public Policy and Environment  26S
(formerly INI421H1)
Introduces students to public policy and institutional foundations of public policy in Canada, with an emphasis on environmental policy in Ontario. Provides an “insider’s” perspective on how environmental policy has been developed in Ontario.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
Exclusion: INI 421H1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV424H1  Environment and Community  26L
Engagement
This course integrates theoretical and practical perspectives on patterns of community engagement in environmental change. Students will address theoretical perspectives on environmentalism as a social movement, and learn about key aspects of planning and implementing environmental change from veteran environmental advocates.
Prerequisite: ENV222Y1/JIE 222Y1, or permission of undergraduate student advisor
This is a social science course.

ENV440Y1  Professional Experience Course  26S
(formerly INI440Y1)
Regular academic seminars complement off-campus work on an environmental project. The course enables students to gain practical experience of the needs and demands of professional environmental agencies. Students are given a choice of placements in a variety of sectors (such as government, NGOs, industry). Prerequisite: ENV340H1; 10 full courses or their equivalent, including three environmental courses in the student’s environmental program completed before ENV440Y1 taken; permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
Exclusion: INI 440Y1
This is a Social Science course.

ENV441H1  Politics of the Environment  26S
(formerly INI449H1)
Provides students with increased understanding of (1) the political conflicts which surround the development and implementation of environmental policy in Canada; and (2) the ways environmentalism is transforming Canadian and global politics. Examination is made, through secondary readings and case studies, of the values, perspectives, and strategies of the various actors, and the context of ideas and institutions within which they operate.
Prerequisite: JGE221Y1/JIE222Y1 and enrolment in a Centre for Environment program, or permission of Undergraduate Student Advisor
Exclusion: INI 494H1
This is a Social Science course.

Ethics, Society & Law: see Trinity College
The European Studies Program is designed to develop an interdisciplinary expertise on modern Europe. Students in the Program can acquire a working fluency in one of the following languages (in addition to English) of the European Union: Croatian, Czech, Estonian, Finnish, French, German, Hungarian, Italian, Macedonian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Serbian, Spanish, or Ukrainian. Language instruction emphasizes written and oral communication. To ensure that graduates in European Studies have the historical understanding and specialized knowledge, as well as linguistic competence, necessary to comprehend contemporary Europe, a balanced syllabus is presented: core courses on the political evolution of Europe and on the economics and politics of European integration are complemented by choices from courses offered by the twelve academic departments participating in the Program.

European Studies Program

This is a limited enrolment program open only to those who earn a mark of at least 70% in one of the required first-year language courses and who also successfully complete at least 4 full courses in first year. Visit the European Studies Program web site for updated information about requirements, course offerings, and events: www.utoronto.ca/esp.

European Studies (Arts program)

European Studies Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

EUR200Y1
Europe: Nation-State to Supranational Union

An analysis of the development of European political regimes since 1789. This course identifies the decisive forces and factors affecting the operation of constitutions and institutions within the countries which came to form the European Union: nationalism, multi-nationalism, internationalism and supranationalism.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

Courses Offered Through the Berlin Centre: Consult www.summerabroad.utoronto.ca for further information.

FAH390Y0
Art and Power

Investigates the intersection of art and power in history and in our own time. Explores how city plans, landscapes, buildings, paintings, sculpture, costumes, advertisements, monuments, parades, and other art forms create and expand personal, national, institutional, political, sexual, spiritual, and other kinds of power.

Recommended preparation: FAH100Y1/101H1/102H1

This is a Humanities course. This course may be counted as an EUR course.

GGR300Y0
Special Topics in Geography: The City as Problem and Promise – Berlin as a Case Study

This course examines some of the policies of Berlin and activities of its citizens and non-profit organizations to address economic, social, and land use concerns. In particular it looks at social movements in the city, economic development, ethnic integration, neighbourhood revitalization. How do European cities differ from North American cities in the problems they face and policies they design to deal with them? Does the city represent a problem or a promise for the future?

This is a Humanities/Social Science course, and can be counted towards both the Urban Studies and Political Science programs at the University of Toronto. This course may be counted as a EUR course.

Courses in the Department of Fine Art are offered in two basic areas: lecture courses or seminars in the History of Fine Art (FAH) and practical studios or seminars in Visual Studies (VIS). Minor, Major and Specialist programs are offered in both the History of Art and Visual Studies.

The FAH curriculum covers the Bronze Age to the present in several global regions: the Mediterranean area, Europe and North America, and Asia. FAH101H1 is an overview of the major periods and monuments in the history of art and architecture, and FAH102H1 serves as a practical and critical introduction to the practice of art history and is an integral component of the curriculum; students are encouraged to take this class early in their progress toward an FAH degree. Half courses at the 200 level are more comprehensive surveys that thematically introduce the material from specific chronological periods, regional areas, or the history of architecture. Many of these courses, which are offered on a regular basis, serve as “gateway” prerequisites for courses at the 300 and 400 level; students are advised to check the prerequisites for each upper-level course carefully.

Visual Studies is the studio component of the Department of Fine Art. Visual Studies Foundation courses are designed for Humanities and Social Science students who intend to seriously pursue Visual Studies upper level courses. There is a two-stage enrolment process. Humanities and Social Science students who have been accepted into a Visual Studies Program of Study may register for Visual Studies courses from mid-July until early August. First-year students and other upper-year students may apply for available spaces in late August.

Foundation courses: VIS 120H1, Visual Concepts, a lecture-based course that investigates a wide range of topics situated in Modernism and Post-Modernism. This course rigorously examines diverse art concepts in order to prepare students for interdisciplinary perspectives on art practice and critical theory in upper level courses. VIS 130H1, Visual Strategies, an H course taught throughout the Fall and Spring sessions, is an intensive interdisciplinary course that stresses the formulation and communication of visual ideas, primarily through a variety of media and must be taken in conjunction with VIS 120H1, Visual Concepts.

Visual Studies emphasizes a strong commitment to the social, cultural and theoretical issues embodied in contemporary art practice. Some Visual Studies courses are credits in other programs, for example, Women in Visual Art, and Performance in the Women’s Studies program, Video for Artists in the Cinema Studies program and the Sexual Diversity program. The scope and variety of available courses will provide students with preparation for careers in teaching, museum and gallery work, conservation and complementary fields, though further professional training will normally be necessary.

Courses in the history of art (FAH) and in the practice of art (VIS) are useful to students in other departments or faculties; history, literature, music, and philosophy are likewise concerned with systems of thought and imagery. Fundamental concepts in such disciplines are embodied or reflected in related works of art of the same general period and area. Students in architecture, geography, or city planning will find courses in the history of architecture of benefit. Those with a special interest in the practice of architecture will find studio courses of value.

At the same time, the Department directs the attention of its students to the wide range of offerings in other departments and urges them to acquire the broad cultural background essential to an understanding of the fine arts. Of special importance are familiarity with history, a knowledge of the various traditions of literature and mythology, and an acquaintance with philosophy. Courses in cultural, historical or urban geography may also be relevant in programs that include the history of architecture. It is imperative that students interested in pursuing an advanced degree in art history acquire the foreign languages necessary for such work. Although the choice of languages will be dependent on an individual’s program of study, it is generally recommended that students learn German and at least one other European language. The FAH Department website provides a list of courses in other departments that can be counted toward a fine art history degree.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the Department offers courses during the summer term at the University of Siena, Italy, and at other locations abroad. For information about these degree-credit courses, please consult the Department of Fine Art Website or contact the Summer Abroad Program at Woodsworth College, 119 St. George Street (416-978-8713).

The Fine Art Student Union (FASU) sponsors a variety of lectures and other activities for members of the departmental community.

Many courses in the Department, whether history or studio, are offered in alternate years only, or on a three-year cycle. The studio program requires no prerequisite at the secondary school level, but enrolment is limited in all studio courses. For more detailed information on courses and degree programs, consult the Department of Fine Art Website and Undergraduate Handbook at www.fineart.utoronto.ca. Counselling is available, by appointment, from the Undergraduate Coordinators.

Fine Art History and Visual Studies

Visual Studies Courses

Note 1. Visual Studies has replaced the previous FAS program. Students in the FAS program requiring credits should select courses from the VIS program to complete their FAS program requirements.

Note 2. VIS and FAH courses except VIS 120H1 and VIS 130H1 give priority to students enrolled in our Specialist, Major and Minor programs. Students must follow procedures as outlined in the Registration Handbook and Timetable and instructions in the Department of Fine Art web site.

Note 3. Exclusions have been included for many FAS studio courses at the University of Toronto at Mississauga. St George students wishing to take any remaining FAS courses there will need the written permission of the Undergraduate Coordinator for VIS.

Exclusion: FAS143H1, FAS243H1

VIS212H1 Colour: 13L, 26P

Colour may be claimed as the property of all: for most everyone sees, uses, and knows colour. Studying colour takes us into areas of humanities and sciences. This study, through lectures, projects and readings aims to develop a student's understanding and use of colour. (Studio fee of $20.00 payable with tuition.)

Prerequisite: VIS120H1 VIS130H1

VIS213H1 Photobased (Chemical): 13L, 26P

Photobased projects in which the fundamentals of optical-chemical-mechanical photographic processes and technologies are integrated with concepts in contemporary photobased practice. (Studio fee of $60.00 payable with tuition; student must have light metre and 35mm camera that allows full manual control.)

Prerequisite: VIS120H1, 130H1

Exclusion: FAS147H1
VIS218H1 Photobased (Digital) 13L, 26P
Photobased projects in which the fundamentals of optical/digital photographic processes and technologies are integrated with concepts in contemporary photobased practice. (Studio fee of $60.00 payable with tuition.)
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1
Exclusion: FAS147H1

VIS301H1 Painting: The Painted Edge 39P
This studio based, project oriented course critically examines contemporary visual culture through painting. Projects are presented and discussed during regular class critiques. Lectures will take place throughout the course.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS201H1
Exclusion: FAS245H1

VIS302H1 Video: Advanced Projects 39P
Emphasis on pre-production, production and post-production of a video project. Students script, shoot and edit a tape through rough cut to fine cut. Class discussions focus on all stages of the work-in-progress. Strategies for distribution, exhibition and funding are examined. A studio fee of $75.00 is payable with tuition.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS202H1

VIS305H1 Drawing and Painting 39P
Time and place in drawing and painting. This course provides a discourse with which to continue the evolution of the students’ work in drawing and painting.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS201H1 and one of VIS205H1, VIS211H1
Exclusions: FAS243H1, FAS244H1, FAS345H1

VIS306H1 Site/Installation and 3-D Construction 13L, 26P
An investigation into the history and practice of site/installation and 3-dimensional fabrication through slide lectures, projects and seminar discussions. Earth works, large scale public projects, and site specific installations will be explored.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS201H1
Exclusion: FAS348H1

VIS307H1 Art and Context 13L, 26P
Applying art to the borders of other disciplines or issues within the university community, students develop projects with the objective of opening spaces for discourse: art as a transgressive device.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course.

VIS309H1 The Processed Image 13L, 26P
Seminars and studio projects give the more advanced students the opportunity to address issues of transformation in Print Technology. A $120.00 studio fee is payable with tuition.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS203H1, VIS206H1, VIS207H1
Exclusion: FAS334H1

VIS310H1 Imaging the Political 13L, 26P
Studio projects complemented by seminars and readings examine plastic, social and gender politics in contemporary imaging.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course

VIS311H1 Independent Projects TBA
Students propose and produce projects in media that are offered in Visual Studies. (A studio fee of $50 in video, sculpture and printmaking only is payable with tuition.)
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

VIS312H1 Collage 13L, 26P
An investigation of collage through the 20th century. The evolution of collage as a means of expression will be explored in the form of studio projects and lectures.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course

VIS313H1 The Body 13L, 26P
Ideas about the body are challenged by developments in technology, culture and politics. This course studies the metamorphosis of gender, age and culture through projects, lectures and readings.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course

VIS318H1 Integrated Photobased Explorations 13L, 26P
Studio projects are based on issues and writing relevant to contemporary photobased practice; seminars and readings are integral. Students will work with both chemical and digital processes. (Studio fee of $60.00 payable with tuition.)
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1, VIS201H1, VIS217H1, VIS218H1

VIS319H1 Defining Landscapes 13L, 26P
The concept of “landscape” is the entry point for investigating the relationship between people and their environments: landscape as both the source of inspiration and the vehicle of expression. Exploration through open media studio projects, written work, readings and seminars.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course

VIS320H1 Critical Curatorial Lab 13L, 26P
Projects and seminars in collaboration with The Power Plant, develop an understanding of curatorial and critical practices in contemporary visual and media arts.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course
Exclusion: FAH 451H1

VIS321H1 Artists’ Multiples 13L, 26P
Production of artists’ multiples in various media is augmented with gallery and archive visits, screenings and artist talks. Historical and contemporary technologies for reproduction are examined.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, VIS130H1 and one VIS 200-level course

VIS322H1 The Constructed Image 13L, 26P
Composing an image is a skill. Students increase their skill and methodology in constructing their own images; they explore the construction of the image as an intersection of theory and practice.
Prerequisite: VIS120 and VIS130 and any 200 level VIS course

DRM354Y1 Production II 13L, 26P
The course explores the meaning and function of stage and costume design for the theatre with emphasis on creative thinking, text analysis and concept development. Limited enrollment for Visual Studies students who must be at the 3rd-year level.
Prerequisite: Permission of University College Drama Program Committee

VIS401H1 Thesis Text and Critique 39P
This course is taken in conjunction with VIS402H1: Thesis Project students develop and fabricate a series of projects over the course of the academic year. Studio, textual and critical analysis forms the basis for the final exhibition. The student is required to actively participate in all aspects of the course. Class discussions with faculty. This class is intended for 3rd and 4th year VIS Majors and Specialists.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, 130H1 and permission of instructor
Exclusions: FAS 434-5, FAS 447-8, FAS 450-3

VIS402H1 Thesis Project 39P
Students realize projects embarked upon in VIS 401H1 Thesis Text and Critique. Class discussions with faculty.
Co-requisite: VIS401HF
Exclusions: FAS 434-5H1, FAS 447-8H1, FAS 450-3H1

VIS403H1 Secondary Focus Project 39P
A variety of projects developed in various media with a strong interdisciplinary focus.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

VIS404H1 Independent Studies 39P
Individual advanced projects, including texts, that are subject to group critiques.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

VIS405H1 Visual Studies Internship 13L, 26P
A one semester Internship provides placement at a gallery, media arts centre, artist run centre, artist or publication with a focus on contemporary art practice.
Prerequisite: VIS120H1, 130H1, permission of Undergraduate Secretary

The Finno-Ugrians are a diverse group of peoples related by an ancient common linguistic heritage distinct from that of the Indo-Europeans who surround them. Of the approximately 25 million Finno-Ugrians, the best known are the Estonians and Finns on the Eastern Baltic Litoral and the Hungarians in the Carpathian Basin. But they also include the Sámis (Lapps) in the northern Fennos-Scandian and Kola Peninsulas, the Erzas, Moksas, Maris, Udmurts, and Komis of the northern woodland zone of European Russia and the Khantys and Mansis of Western Siberia. Distantly related to the Finno-Ugrians are the various Samoyed peoples of Siberia, the Nenets, Enets, Nganassans and Selkups.

Finno-Ugrian Studies at the University of Toronto is devoted to the languages, literatures and cultures of the three main groups, the Estonians, Finns and Hungarians. These areas are of interest in themselves but also because of their role in shaping the histories and cultures of their respective geographic space. Because of their centuries-long association with the Slavic peoples, in particular the Russians, Finno-Ugrian Studies can be of value to students of Slavic studies. The language courses offered by the three Finno-Ugrian programs will be of interest to students of general linguistics who desire to acquire knowledge of a non-Indo-European language.

Undergraduate Secretary:
Professor Joseph Schallert, 121 St. Joseph Street, Room 419, joseph.schallert@utoronto.ca, 416-926-1300, ext. 3246.

Estonian Studies

Estonian is spoken by approximately one million people in present-day Estonia and some 72,000 in other parts of the world, including 18,000 in Canada. Closely related to Finnish and more distantly to Hungarian, Estonian is one of the few Finno-Ugrian languages to exist surrounded by speakers of Indo-European languages.

An ancient people, the Estonians have preserved their language and culture despite centuries of domination by other nations. Not only is their heritage enormously rich in folk epics and songs, but Estonians enjoy a vigorous and diversified literary tradition which continues in Estonia proper and in their adoptive countries.

Estonian studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the language, literature, and culture of Estonia. The language courses will be of interest to those wishing to improve their language skills, as well as to students of general linguistics who desire to acquire a knowledge of a non-Indo-European language.

Finnish Studies

A nation of five million people, Finland is situated between West and East, between Sweden and Russia, sharing for thousands of years religious, historical, political, social, and cultural influences and experiences with its neighbours and the different worlds they represent.

Finnish, a Finno-Ugrian language related to Estonian and Hungarian, is spoken by 94% of Finland’s population, by 300,000 in Sweden, and by large numbers in Canada, the United States, and other countries. The other constitutionally recognized group, the Finland-Swedes, comprises over six percent of the population. The Finns have a strong commitment to their languages and to their culture. Their national epic, the Kantevala, compiled in the 19th century from old Finnish epic narrative poems and incantations, soon became a national symbol and continues to this day to inspire the growth and development of the country’s creative force. Today the entire world responds to Finnish achievements in music, literature, the arts and architecture, and celebrates the work of such outstanding figures as Jean Sibelius, Aki Kaurismäki, Alvar Aalto, and Eliel and Eero Saarinen.

Finnish studies at the University of Toronto are presently engaged in teaching the Finnish language - a three-year sequence - and in offering other courses on the literature and culture of Finland.

Hungarian Studies

Hungarian is spoken by ten and a half million inhabitants of present-day Hungary, about three million people in the neighbouring countries, and perhaps as many as an additional two million around the world. These figures make Hungarian, which is related to Finnish, Estonian, and Lappish, but virtually no other language in Europe, by far the largest minority language in a vast sea of Indo-European speakers.

Preserving their national identity by keeping their unique language alive has been a major concern for Hungarians ever since they settled in the Carpathian Basin over a thousand years ago. Yet far from secluding themselves, they have actively engaged in European history and politics and thereby have shaped their country into a highly cultured and, at times, quite powerful and influential nation. Many Hungarians settled abroad and contributed to the civilizations of their adopted countries. Those who achieved fame in recent decades include Bartók, Moholy-Nagy, Ormandy, Szentgyörgyi, Szilárd, and Vasarely.

Hungarian studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the language, literature, and culture of Hungary and with the international role of the country, including the particular problem of Hungarian immigration to Canada.

Forests have traditionally been managed primarily as sources of timber and revenue. However, there is increasing recognition of their immense cultural, social and environmental role, focused particularly by recent United Nations conferences in Rio De Janeiro and Johannesburg. Increasingly the focus of forest management has shifted to include biodiversity maintenance, ecological sustainability, and the protection of wildlife and their habitats. Canadians, as custodians of 10% of the remaining global forest cover, and 25% of the undisturbed frontier forest, have both the option and the responsibility to provide global leadership in forest conservation and sustainable forest management. Forest conservation programs prepare students for this critically important role by combining traditional ecological (biology, zoology) and physical (soil science, hydrology) sciences with social sciences. Forest conservationists increasingly focus on complex, emerging social and community issues, such as aboriginal rights and land tenure, protection of wilderness parklands, preservation of urban green space, and the use of forests for carbon sequestration.

Canada is not only a key player in global forest conservation, but also pursue graduate programs in a wide range of disciplines, including forest conservation, forestry, environmental sciences and international development.

Students may take a specialist 4-year degree leading to an H.B.A. in Forest Conservation or an H.B.Sc. in Forest Conservation Science. The arts program focuses on communal forest management, development of forest policies, forest economics and forest product trade, with electives in social sciences, while the science program concentrates on forest biology and ecology with electives in life and physical sciences.

The specialist programs provide a grounding in forest conservation with emphasis on breadth as well as research depth, and can particularly meet the needs of individuals who are considering graduate level education in forestry (M.F.C., M.Sc.F. or Ph.D.).

A major in Forest Conservation Science is available in the science stream and is intended to build on a student’s interest in forestry and related issues. Students should consider combining this program with a major in another related discipline such as environment, geography, botany, zoology, chemistry, urban studies or architecture.

A minor in Forest Conservation Science in the science stream and a minor in Forest Conservation in the arts stream are also available. Students should consider combining these programs with a minor in other related disciplines.

Forest Conservation Programs

Forest Conservation Science (Science program)

Enrolment in the specialist program is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Enrolment in the major and minor programs is open to students who have completed four first-year courses with a minimum GPA of 2.0.

Specialist program:
(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+series courses and 2.5 400-series courses; other equivalent and approved courses offered by other Faculties, UTM or UTSC may be eligible for inclusion.)

First Year:
BIO150Y1; Two Science FCEs (GGR100Y1; CHM138H1, 139H1 recommended)

Second Year:
1. ENV 234Y1; FOR 200H1, 210H1
2. One FCE from: ECO 220Y1, 227Y1; GGR 270H1; JBS 229H1/STA 221H1; STA 220H1
3. One FCE from: BIO 260H1; BOT 251Y1; EES C20H1 (UTSC); GGR 205H1, 206H1, 272H1, 273H1; PHL 273H1; ENV236Y1; JIE222Y1

Third Year:
1. FOR301H1, 305H1. At least One FCE from FOR 300H1, 302H1, 303H1, 306H1; BIO321H1
2. 0.5 FCE from: BIO 319H1, 323H1, 328H1; BOT 307H1, 340H1, 341H1
3. At least 1.5 FCE from: BIO 302H1, 303H1, 306H1, 308H1, 324H1, 465H1; GGR303H1, 305H1, 310H1; ZOO 324Y1, 360H1, 361H1, 388H1, 389H1

Fourth Year:
1. FOR 400Y1, 401H1
2. One FCE from: ANT 450H1, 453H1; FOR 403H1, 412H1, 416H1, 417H1; INI 421H1, 422H1, 447H1, 494H1; INI 440Y1, 442H1; JFG 470H1, 475H1; JIE 410H1

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year: One of ANT 100Y1/ECO100Y1/ENV200Y1/GGR100Y1/107Y1
Higher Years: 3 FCEs from (FOR200H1, 201H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 306H1, 400Y1, 401H1)

Forest Conservation Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25) FOR courses are classified as either Science or Social Science courses; please check individual course listings.

FOR200H1 Conservation of Canada's Forests 26L
Development of forest management philosophy in Canadian and temperate forest regions; the sustained-yield paradigm and concepts of sustainability. Techniques for more sustainable forest management: structural retention; viable park and reserve networks; old growth; value-added and non-traditional forest products.
Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/GGR100Y1

FOR201H1 Conservation of Tropical and Subtropical Forests 26L
The world's major tropical and subtropical forest biomes; prospects for conservation and sustainable management; consequences of different forest development strategies; tropical deforestation and selective logging; biodiversity and non-timber forest products; the fuelwood crisis; fire management and large carnivore conservation; ecological, economic and social perspectives.
Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/GGR100Y1

FOR300H1 Forest Products in Sustainable Forestry 26L, 26P
Traditional and non-traditional forest products; wood structure; properties and material attributes; functional characteristics and logistics of wood product industry. Contribution of innovative product development to conservation; adding value; residue use; under-utilized species; wood protection. Forest product certification; eco-labelling; life cycle analysis.
Recommended preparation: FOR200H1, 201H1

FOR301H1 Field Methods in Forest Conservation 26L, TBA
A practical introduction to the field methods used by forest conservationists in central Ontario. This course is a 10-day field camp conducted in the Haliburton Highlands, between approximately September 1 – 10. Field exercises will provide students with practical training in tree identification, forest ecosystem classification, forest inventory, stand management prescriptions, tree marking, and silvicultural systems. Each student is required to pay an ancillary fee of $400 to cover the costs of their transportation and accommodation. Students must contact the Faculty to register – we strongly recommend that you do so by the end of May, but later registrations will be considered if class size permits.
Recommended preparation: ENV234Y1; FOR200H1, 201H1,
GGR205H1
This is a Science course

FOR302H1 Societal Values and Forest Management Emerging societal values for forests and environment, methods for eliciting and analyzing societal values, and methods for incorporating societal values in forest resource management.
Recommended preparation: FOR200H1, 201H1
This is a Social Science course

FOR303H1 Human Dimensions of Global Forests
Global forest resources; global and regional production, consumption and trade of timber and non-timber products; relationships between societies and forests; international forest policy; economic value of forests; forests and development.
Recommended preparation: FOR200H1, 201H1
This is a Social Science course

FOR305H1 Biology of Trees and Forests
An overview of the biology of trees and the ecological principles that govern the structure and function of forests.
Topics in tree biology will include tree identification, wood anatomy, tree architecture, resource acquisition and allocation, tree growth and mortality. Topics in forest ecology will include resource competition, stand development, species succession, and the cycling of nutrient and energy. This course will include a substantial field and lab component.
Prerequisite: FOR200H1/201H1
Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/ENV234Y1

FOR306H1 Tropical Forest Ecology and Conservation Field Course
This course will provide practical experience in tropical forest ecology and conservation, the impact of human use and natural disturbance on forest ecosystem processes and biodiversity, and the development of effective forest conservation strategies.
The 10 day course spanning Reading Week will be field-based in Malaysia, Panama, Costa Rica, Dominica, Bolivia or Brazil. A set of 5 weekly 2- hour lectures will be associated with the course.
Prerequisite: FOR201H1, FOR301H1 or FOR305H1

FOR400Y1 Advanced Seminar in Forest Conservation Examination of current and emerging critical issues affecting sustainable management and conservation of global forests.
Seminars led by students, faculty and visiting speakers.
Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1,
305H1, 306H1
This is classified as BOTH a Science and a Social Science course

FOR401H1 Research Paper/Thesis in Forest Conservation
Individual in-depth student research projects on significant forest conservation projects, based on field and/or laboratory research, or literature survey.
Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1,
305H1, 306H1 (minimum of 15 FCEs)
This is classified as BOTH a Science and a Social Science course

FOR403H1 Directed Readings
Provides opportunities for students to carry out individual in-depth study of current forest conservation issues, under the direction of a faculty member.
Prerequisite: At least 2 of FOR300H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1,
305H1, 306H1 (minimum of 15 FCEs)
This is classified as BOTH a Science and a Social Science course

FOR404H1 Soil Fertility & Tree Nutrition
Determining physical, chemical, and biological properties of soils.
Soil fertility testing and plant chemical analysis. Mineral nutrition of trees and seedlings, diagnosis and interpretation of soil and foliar analyses. Prescription of soil amendments for intensive forest management. (Offered in alternate years.)
Prerequisite: GGR205H1 (minimum of 15 FCEs)
Recommended preparation: GGR307H1
This is a Science course

FOR405H1 Forest Products & Processing
Processing of wood into commercial products including wood adhesion and composites manufacturing; specifications and testing; sawmilling; wood drying; wood deterioration and protection; life cycle analysis of wood-based products.
Prerequisite: FOR300H1 (minimum of 15 FCEs)
This is a Science course

FOR407H1 Forest Insect Ecology & Management
Insect identification and ecology, biodiversity and conservation, insect-tree interaction, exotic introductions, biological control, pesticide use, and integrated pest management. (Offered in alternate years.)
Recommended preparation: FOR200H1/201H1
Recommended preparation: FOR301H1 or FOR305H1,
ZOO360H1 or ZOO361H1
This is a Science course

FOR412H1 Ecology, Management and Conservation of Tropical Forests
The nature of the tropical biome; climate; ecology; carbon sequestration potential. Emerging critical ecological and social issues related to utilization, management and conservation of tropical forests.
This is a Science course

FOR413H1 Wildlife Ecology & Conservation
Temperate and tropical wildlife ecology and conservation; roles of wildlife in forest conservation; impacts of forestry practices and landscape modification on wildlife; ecology and viability of wildlife populations; human uses and abuses of game and nongame species.
Prerequisite: BIO319H1/321H1/323H1/324H1/ENV234Y1/
FOR200H1/201H1/ZOO322H1
FOR200H1/201H1/ZOO322H1
This is a Science course

FOR416H1 Urban Forest Conservation
Current research and practice in the conservation and enhancement of urban forests. Reviews the role of trees and woodlands in providing environmental and socio-economic benefits to urban and peri-urban residents. Examines approaches to the characterization of urban forest ecosystems, and their planning and management to contribute to sustainable communities.
Prerequisite: FOR200H1, 201H1
This is a Science course
This course introduces students to the roles of trees and forests in agricultural land-use systems primarily in the third world. It deals primarily with the biological and management aspects of agroforestry, within the socio-economic constraints of the developing world. The sustainability of particular agroforestry systems will be a theme throughout.

This is a Science course

JFG475H1 Emergency Response Systems Planning 26L, 26T
Use of operational research and information technology to develop mathematical models and decision support systems to design and evaluate the performance of emergency response systems. Forest fire management systems are used to illustrate the basic principles of emergency response system planning that can also be applied to urban fire, police and ambulance services. Prerequisite: One course in quantitative methods or calculus
Recommended preparation: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/MAT133Y1/135Y1/137Y1
This is a Science course

French studies in the University of Toronto provide varied and flexible approaches to one of the world’s major international languages and the diversity of cultures expressed in it.

The courses listed here fall into five main sequences: Literature, Linguistics, French as a Second Language, French Culture, Translation and Second Language Learning. Through modular programming, students enjoy the freedom to concentrate or diversify their interests in these areas. The skills and knowledge acquired will lay the groundwork for careers in teaching, journalism, translation, publishing, and government service, as well as research in a variety of fields.

Literature (FRE): 200-level courses introduce students to literary analysis and present Québécois and French literature in their cultural and historical contexts. 300-level courses encompass the full range of major works of French and Québécois literature. 400-level courses raise questions about notions of literary tradition and mainstream methods of study; the scope of literature is stretched further back or ahead in time, further away in space from traditional centres (France and Québec) and away from dominant sensibilities (to include women’s voices and non-traditional modes of writing); and connections are made to other disciplines. The actual content of most 400-level courses varies considerably according to the instructor. Students should consult the Department of French Undergraduate Brochure (which is also available on-line at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under) for content specific to a given year.

Linguistics (FRE): A 100-level course introduces students to the study of grammatical concepts. 200-level courses initiate students into analysis of contemporary French and into the history of its development. 300-level courses break the discipline of linguistic analysis into its chief component parts. 400-level courses extend the study of the French language back in time or out from the idealized standard form; and connections are made to other disciplines (including second language acquisition).

Translation (FRE): Courses on French and English translation at the 300/400-level may be used in a Minor program that may be added to any other Minor, Major or Specialist program. Such courses are, however, not limited to students taking this program. Certification for this program should not be viewed as the equivalent to a professional diploma in translation but may stand students in good stead should they seek admission to such a program following graduation.

French as a Second Language (FSL): The FSL program is designed to accommodate the widest possible range of previous learning, special needs, and particular interests of students. Emphasis is given to both written and spoken language; at higher levels, half-courses allow for specialized study of one or the other. A placement test (mandatory) will allow incoming students to work at the most suitable level to develop their skills of reading, writing, listening and speaking French. For students in Major and Specialist French programs, emphasis is on precise academic writing and speech approximating as closely as possible that of native speakers. For students not in Major and Specialist French programs, emphasis is on listening and reading skills in varying social and cultural contexts and on the acquisition of vocabulary.

French Cultural Studies (FCS): Courses on French and Francophone culture, taught in English, may be used in a Minor program that may be added to any other Minor, Major or Specialist program. These courses may also be used to fulfill breadth requirements.

Second Language Learning: A Major program in Second Language Learning may be combined with a similar Major program in Italian to produce a Combined Specialist program. The core course for this program is JFI 225Y1 which instructs students in the methodology of second-language learning and will be of particular interest to those planning a career in teaching. It will be taught alternately by instructors from the Departments of French and Italian Studies.

Study Elsewhere: Completion of at least two courses in French including one at the 200-level may entitle students to participate in the Third Year Study Elsewhere Program at either Laval University in Québec, or in France. Information on these programs and on the Second Language Summer Program is available on-line at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under.

Exclusions and prerequisites: Students must conform to all requirements stated in the exclusions and prerequisites to register in a course. Students who do not have the co- or prerequisites for a given course must obtain the permission of the Department, prior to registration. The Department will assess the students’ admissibility to the course in consultation with the instructor. For FSL courses, exclusions ensure that students follow the best progression in language learning.

Further Information: The Department of French Undergraduate Brochure, available at the Department, contains more detailed information about all the courses and programs listed below. It is also available in an electronic form, which is regularly updated, at www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under.

French Programs

Enrolment in all French programs requires the completion of four courses. No minimum GPA is required.

Note:
FRE 172H1 provides useful basics for further studies in Linguistics and Second Language Learning, and for students who feel they would benefit from a better understanding of the grammatical structure of the language.

French Language and Literature (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent)
1. FSL221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 250Y1.
2. FRE 240Y1
3. FRE 272Y1/273Y1
French

4. FSL341Y1, 442H1, 443H1. Students exempted from FSL341Y1 may replace it with any FRE course. Students with 77% in FSL 341Y1 may replace FSL 442H1, 443H1 with a 300+ series FRE course.
5. Six additional FRE Literature courses including at least one course from each of Groups B, C and D. At least three of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including 1.5 courses at the 400-level, and at least 1.0 from: FRE 320Y1, 322Y1, 324Y1, 326Y1.

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent)
1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 250Y1.
2. FRE 240Y1
3. FRE 272Y1/273Y1
4. FSL 341Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with any FRE course.
5. Four additional FRE Literature courses including at least one half course from each of Groups B, C and D. At least two of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including 1.0 course at the 400-level.

Group B:
FRE 420H1

Group C:
FRE 304H1, 324Y1, 332H1, 360H1, 367H1, 449H1, 450H1

Group D:
FRE 314H1, 317H1

Note:

French Language and French Linguistics (Arts programs)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent)
1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 172H1 and an additional FRE Linguistics half-course.
2. FRE 272Y1
3. FRE 210Y1/240Y1
4. FSL 341Y1, 442H1, 443H1. Students exempted from FSL 341Y1 may replace it with any FRE course. Students with 77% in FSL 341Y1 may replace FSL 442H1, 443H1 with a 300+ series FRE course.
5. FRE 376H1, 378H1
6. Four additional FRE Linguistics courses. At least two of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including one at the 400-level. FRE 375Y1 may be substituted for one of these four courses.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)
1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with FRE 172H1 and an additional FRE Linguistics half-course.
2. FRE 272Y1
3. FRE 210Y1/240Y1
4. FSL 341Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with any FRE course.
5. FRE 376H1, 378H1
6. Two additional FRE Linguistics courses. At least one of these courses must be at the 300/400-level, including one half-course at the 400-level. FRE 375Y1 may be substituted for one of these two courses.

Second Language Learning (French) (Arts Program)

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent including at least 2 at the 300+ level)
1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with higher-level FSL courses of their choice.
2. One 300-level FSL course
3. One 400-level FSL course
4. One other FSL course or FRE 375Y1 or any 200+-level FRE course, except FRE 480Y1. (FSL 121Y1 may be included if taken before FSL 221Y1).

French as a Second Language (Arts Program)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. FSL 221Y1. Students exempted from this course may replace it with higher-level FSL courses of their choice.
2. One 300-level FSL course
3. One 400-level FSL course
4. Any four FCS full course equivalents including at least one course at the 300/400-level.

French Cultural Studies (Arts Program)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
Any four FCS full course equivalents including at least one course at the 300/400-level.

Note: For students meeting prerequisites set by other departments/programs, up to 1.5 courses from the following list may be substituted for FCS courses: FAH 280H1, 318H1, 378H1, 383H1, 400H1, 404H1; FRE literature courses: HIS 314Y1, 349Y1, 388Y1, 413H1, 447H1, 467H1; JEF 100Y1; JFV 323H1; INI 385Y1, 386H1; SMC 228Y1.
For other programs in French, see also: Drama and French; Modern Languages and Literatures; Linguistics and Languages.

French Courses

See “Guide to Programs & Courses” section for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes all FCS, FRE, and FSL courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

Note: STUDENTS ENROLLED SIMULTANEOUSLY IN TWO OR MORE FRENCH PROGRAMS ARE ALLOWED TO DOUBLE-COUNT ONLY ONE COURSE TOWARDS THEIR FRENCH PROGRAMS.

Courses Taught in English (see also all FCS courses below)

HUM199H1/Y1 First Year Seminars 52S
Undergraduate seminars that focus on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. May serve as a distribution requirement course; see the First Year Handbook for details.

JFL100Y1 The Western Tradition 78S
An introduction to literature through major works of the Western literary tradition. What constitutes a literary “classic”? How have the great concerns of the Western tradition - human nature, its place in society, its mythmaking, its destiny - been represented in literature? These and other questions are examined by reference to 11-12 works, from ancient times to the twentieth century, by such authors as Homer, Sophocles, Ovid, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Molière, Austen, Dostoevski, Kafka, Camus, Beckett and Márquez. (A joint course offered by the Departments of English and French; see also JEF 100Y1 in the English program listings.)

NOTE: FCS, JFL and JFY courses are taught in English with reading and written assignments in English. No knowledge of French is required. However, students can count these courses towards a program in French (Major or Specialist) if they submit all written work and tests in French. These students must, during the first week of class, inform the instructor of their intent to do so.

FCS: French Cultural Studies Courses

FCS courses are taught in English with written and reading assignments also in English. Some half-courses at the 200/300/400-level have variable contents and may not be offered every year. Please consult the Department website (www.chass.utoronto.ca/french/under) or the Department of French Undergraduate brochure for more details.

FCS195H1 French Culture from Napoléon to Astérix 26S
A multi-media course, analyzing the contributions the French have made to world culture in such domains as architecture, art, literature, and music, as well as some of the implications of the appropriation of French cultural icons by big business and the media.

FCS 290H1 Special Topics in French Cultural Studies I: Pleasures of Versailles: Music in the Grand Century of France 26S
A survey of the rich musical heritage of France between 1650 and 1740, focusing on the composers, performers and instruments in the court of Louis XIV. Intended especially for non-musicians who are passionate about music and wish to explore French cultural history through one of its most dynamic and celebrated facets. Focus on in-class listening, including live performances on historical instruments.

FCS 291H1 Special Topics in French Cultural Studies I: The Art and Culture of the Networked Society 26S
The concept of the Networked Society, with a historical perspective on the development of networking technologies, emphasizing their social and cultural consequences. ### French as a Second Language Courses (FSL)

Note

The following is a guide for beginners in French.

1. No knowledge of French: FSL 100H1

2. Very limited knowledge of French (Placement Test required): FSL 102H1

   The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their level of language skills, based on the results of a placement test. Since 100, 200, 300 and 400-level FSL courses correspond to levels of competence in French, it is often recommended that a student take a course at a level higher than his/her year of study. The placement test is mandatory for all students who register in an FSL course for the first time. It is available online at www.lang.utoronto.ca/placement/french and can be taken on any computer properly equipped to manage sound files. Students who do not have access to such a computer should write to french.placement@utoronto.ca and make an appointment to take the test at the Multimedia Centre. The test must be taken prior to registration in order to insure enrolment in the appropriate course.

Geography is the study of the environments created on the earth’s surface by nature and people. The physical and biological elements of these environments, as well as their economic and social structure, historical development, spatial organization, interrelationships, management and planning form the subject matter of Geography. Geography, therefore, relates closely to other fields in natural science, social science and the humanities, and geographers take courses in these related fields along with their geography courses. Students specializing in other subjects often select one or more geography courses to deepen their understanding of the resource base, culture and economy of those parts of the world in which they are interested.

Employment opportunities for geographers exist in many branches of international organizations, government, industry, and education. Geographers work at all levels of government service, especially in agencies responsible for environmental management; land and resource analysis; development of historic districts and sites; urban transportation planning; regional economic planning; trade promotion; geographic systems design and data analysis; transport network design and the processing of archival, survey, and cartographic information. In business, geographers work in marketing, locational analysis, resource development, and in consulting firms engaged in project evaluation, land use planning and natural heritage conservation.

Students studying Geography may take either an H.B.A. or H.B.Sc., depending upon the aspects they wish to emphasize. The Department offers several Specialist, Major and Minor Programs in Geography, cooperates in offering a combined program with Economics, shares with Botany and Zoology a program in Biogeography, and contributes courses to various departmental and college programs including American Studies; Anthropology; Archaeology; Canadian Studies and Peace and Conflict Studies; Equity Studies; Centre for Environment; Environmental Geosciences; and Urban Studies; Ethics.
Society and Law and International Relations; and European Studies. Counselling and advice may be obtained from the Undergraduate Coordinator or the Undergraduate Counsellor.

Geography Programs

Enrolment in Minor, Major and Specialist programs sponsored by the Department of Geography requires the completion of four courses, including one of GGR 100Y1, 107Y1, or 124Y1. Entry requirements to all Major programs is a CGPA of 2.0 or 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level. Double majors in Geography must complete at least 13 different GGR/JAG/JFG/JGF/JGI/JUG/JEG credits (only 1.0 overlap). Students combining any of our Minor programs with a Specialist/Major program would normally be allowed to count only 1.5 credits (of the 4.0 courses in the Minor program) towards both programs.

Note
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Biogeography (Science program)

Specialist program:
Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirements:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:
1. BIO 150Y1; GGR 100Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1/CSC (108H1, 148H1)
2. At least one of JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/137Y1/PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Higher Years:
1. Two of: GGR 201H1, 203H1, 205H1, 206H1
2. BOT 251Y1/ZOO 252Y1; GGR 270H1/STA 220H1
3. ENV 234Y1/two of BIO 319H1, 321H1, 323Y1, 324H1, 328H1
4. One full course equivalent from: BOT 300H1, 307H1, 310H1; ZOO 265Y1, 304H1, 309Y1, 361H1, 373H1, 384H1, 387H1, 389H1
5. GGR 305H1, 310H1
6. Two full course equivalents from BIO/BOT/ZOO at the 300+ level
7. 1.5 full course equivalent from GGR at the 300+ level

Note:
Of the 3.5 courses from BIO/BOT/ZOO and GGR, 1.0 must be at the 400-level

Environment and Resource Management (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirements:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:
One course from Group A (GGR 107Y1 recommended)

Higher Years:
1. GGR 233Y1/JEG221Y1; GGR 270H1, 271H1, 272H1, GGR 391H1, 393H1
2. GGR 491Y1/two of GGR 409H1, 415H1, 418H1, 435H1, 450H1, 451H1, 492H1, 498H1, 499H1
3. One additional half course from Group B
4. 4.0 courses from: GGR 220Y1, 256H1, 305H1, 307H1, 314H1, 331H1, 332H1, 333H1, 334H1, 335H1, 338H1, 342H1, 343H1, 390H1, 409H1, 415H1, 418H1, 421H1, 435H1, 439H1, 450H1, 451H1, 456H1; INI 440Y1; 470H1, 475H1; JUG 320H1; JAG 321H1. Of the 4.0 courses, additional options include: up to 1.5 courses from Group C; up to 1.0 courses from Group B; a second course from Group A.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Geography (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:
One course from Group A (GGR 107Y1 recommended)

Higher Years:
1. GGR 233Y1/JEG221Y1; GGR 270H1, 271H1
2. 4.0 courses from last option list in Specialist program above

Note:
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Entry Requirements:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or obtain 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

First Year:
One course from Group A (GGR 107Y1 recommended)

Higher Years:
1. GGR 233Y1/JEG221Y1; GGR 270H1, 271H1
2. 4.0 courses from last option list in Specialist program above
Geography

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangements whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or obtain 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

First Year:
One course from Group A

Higher Years:
1. GGR 270H1, 271H1
2. 5.0 GGR/JAG/JFG/JGI/JUG courses of which at least 3.0 must be at the 300-400 level, and with no more than one additional course from Group A

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. One course only from Group A
2. Three other higher level GGR/JAG/JFG/JGI/JUG/JEG courses, including at least one 300/400-series course

Geographic Information Systems (Arts program)

Note:
Students combining this program with a Specialist/Major sponsored by the Department of Geography will normally be allowed to count only 1.5 (of the 4.0) credits towards both programs.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. One course from Group A
2. GGR 270H1, 272H1, 273H1, 373H1
3. One half course from GGR 462H1, 473H1
4. One of GGR 327H1, 371H1, 413H1, 462H1, 473H1, JFG 470H1, 475H1

Geography and Economics - See Economics

Historical and Cultural Geography (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:
1. One course from Group A (GGR 100Y1 strongly recommended)
2. MAT 135Y1/137Y1/PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1
3. One course from: BIO 150Y1/CHM 137Y1/(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

Higher Years:
4. Three of: GGR 201H1, 203H1, 205H1, 206H1
5. GGR 270H1, 272H1, GGR 390H1, 391H1
6. GGR 491Y1/two of GGR 403H1, 409H1, 413H1, 435H1, 498H1
7. One additional half-course from Group B
8. 4.0 courses from: GGR 201H1, 203H1, 205H1, 206H1, 301H1, 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 307H1, 310H1, 314H1, 330H1, 333H1, 337H1, 403H1, 409H1, 413H1, 421H1, 435H1, 490H1, 498H1. Of the 3.0 courses, additional options include up to 1.0 courses from Group B.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangements whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography.

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or obtain 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

First Year:
1. One course from Group A (GGR 100Y1 strongly recommended)
2. One course from: BIO 150Y1/CHM 137Y1/(138H1, 139H1)/MAT 135Y1/137Y1/PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Higher Years:
1. Three of: GGR 201H1, 203H1, 205H1, 206H1
2. GGR 270H1, 390H1
3. 3.0 courses from last option list in Specialist program above

Minor Program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. One course from Group A (GGR100Y1 strongly recommended)
2. One full course or equivalent from: GGR 201H1/203H1/205H1/206H1
3. GGR 390H1; (301H1/302H1/305H1); (272H1/307H1/310H1/312H1)
4. A half-course from Group C

Urban, Economic and Social Geography (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.5

First Year:
One course from Group A (GGR 124Y1 recommended)

Higher Years:
1. GGR 220Y1, 270H1, 271H1, 272H1, GGR 391H1
2. GGR 491Y1/two of 431H1, 439H1, 450H1, 452H1, 455H1, 459H1, 492H1, 499H1, JFG 470H1
3. One additional half-course from Group B
4. 4.5 courses from: GGR 216H1, 233Y1/JEG221Y1; GGR 246H1, 249H1, 252H1, 254H1, 256H1, 323H1, 324H1, 326H1, 327H1, 328H1, 333H1, 334H1, 336H1, 339H1, 342H1, 343H1, 344H1, 350H1, 357H1, 361H1, 362H1, 363H1, 366H1, 368H1, 421H1, 431H1, 439H1, 450H1, 452H1, 459H1; JFG 470H1, 475H1; JGI 216H1, 346H1.
   Of the 4.5 courses, additional options include up to 1.0 courses from Group B and a second course from Group A.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Note:
The general Geography major program is excluded from the arrangement whereby students in a four-year degree may take two major programs sponsored by the Department of Geography

Entry Requirement:
Students must have a CGPA of 2.0 or 67% in 1.0 GGR FCE at the 100 or 200 level

Geography Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), GGR courses are classified in various categories; see entry at end of each course.

INX199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S

Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

NOTE
Prerequisites: In some cases prerequisites may be waived if equivalent background exists. Please consult the Undergraduate Coordinator or instructor.

GGR100Y1 Introduction to Physical Geography 52L, 8P

Basic physical geography moulded around a simple systems approach. The atmospheric, biospheric and lithospheric systems and their interactions. Climate and weather. Plate tectonics and earth materials. Geomorphic processes. Soils and the biosphere. Exclusion: JGF150Y1/JGG150Y1

This is a Science course

GGR107Y1 Environment, Food and People 52L, 8T

Relations between population growth, agricultural development, urbanization and the natural environment. From the origins of agriculture to the present. From a few million to six billion people. The cost to the environment. The prospect of sustainability

Exclusion: GGR101Y1, 110Y1

This is a Social Science course

GGR124Y1 Urbanization, Contemporary Cities and Urban Life 52L, 6T

Introduction to the urban process. From the origin of cities to global urbanization; the evolution of systems of cities; uneven growth and the functional specialization of cities; globalization and economic restructuring, migration, public policies. World cities. Dynamics of urban property markets, population and demography, job location, housing, mobility and neighbourhood change, social structure and spatial inequalities. Planning, politics and policy issues in U.S. and Canadian cities.

<tr>
<td>GGR201H1</td>
<td>Geomorphology</td>
<td>26L, 4P</td>
<td>An introduction to the principles of geomorphology; earth materials; major features of crustal morphology; landforming processes of water, wind, waves and ice; human impact on earth surface processes. One hour laboratory session approximately every other week; a local field trip. Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1. This is a Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR203H1</td>
<td>Introduction to Climatology</td>
<td>34L, 4T</td>
<td>Introduction to the large scale processes responsible for determining global and regional climate and atmospheric circulation patterns, as well as the small scale processes responsible for determining the microclimates of specific environments. Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY110Y1/138Y1/140Y1. This is a Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR205H1</td>
<td>Introduction to Soil Science</td>
<td>26L</td>
<td>Introduction to soil science dealing with the chemical, physical, and biological properties of soils; soil formation and development; the classification of soils, and the application of soil science to environmental, agricultural and forestry issues. Recommended preparation: CHM137Y1/(138H1, 139H1); GGR100Y1. This is a Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR206H1</td>
<td>Introduction to Hydrology</td>
<td>30L, 4T</td>
<td>An introduction to the hydrologic cycle with emphasis on the land processes: precipitation, evaporation, runoff, flood prediction; ground water and snowmelt hydrology. Basic hydrological models will be practiced. Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1; MAT135Y1. This is a Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR216H1</td>
<td>Global Cities</td>
<td>26L</td>
<td>With films, fiction and critical theory, this course explores global cities from around the world by looking at their everyday life: the people of these cities; how they got to be there; what they do; and how their lives are being shaped by increasingly globalized political, economic and cultural forces. This is a Social Science or Humanities course.</td>

<td>JGE221Y1</td>
<td>Environment and Sustainable Development</td>
<td>52L, 5P, 10T</td>
<td>The foundation for students in the Centre for Environment programs and the Environment and Resource Management Program in Geography, this course addresses social, ethical and biophysical dimensions of problems in sustainable development, the need for environmental action, and some tools that lead to solutions. Draws from relevant interdisciplinary domains in an examination of environmental degradation, the responses of various actors and models for a more sustainable. Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1. This is a Social Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR233Y1</td>
<td>Environmental Management for Sustainable Development</td>
<td>52L, 10T</td>
<td>Addresses social and biophysical dimensions of problems in sustainable development and the need for environmental action. Encourages integrated approaches to the social origins and implications of environmental change, and the importance of scientific aspects of natural systems in discussions of sustainability. Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1/101Y1/107Y1. This is a Social Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR240H1</td>
<td>Historical Geography of the Americas (formerly GGR240Y1)</td>
<td>26L, 3T</td>
<td>An introduction to issues in the historical geography of the Americas emphasizing comparisons between North and South. The course begins with the pre-Columbian Americas and the impact of European imperial expansion. It explores the emergence of cultural realms and the development of regional economies and societies into the 20th century. Exclusion: GGR240Y1. This is a Humanities course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR246H1</td>
<td>Geography of Canada</td>
<td>26L</td>
<td>An historical, topical, and regional introduction to the geography of Canada. Primary emphasis is on the resource base, regional differences and disparities, urbanization, industrialization, social and economic policy and population change. This is a Social Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR249H1</td>
<td>Contemporary Latin America</td>
<td>26L</td>
<td>Conflict between the conservatism of long-established patterns of settlement and land use and the drive for economic development. Agricultural reform; colonization of the interior, emergence of industrial regions; growth of large cities. Case studies of the problems of regional development. Latin America in world trade. Trade relations with Canada. (Offered in alternate years). This is a Social Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR252H1</td>
<td>Marketing Geography</td>
<td>26L, 4T</td>
<td>The problem of retail location. The spatial structure of consumer demand and retail facilities. Shopping centres and retail chains. Techniques for site selection and trade area evaluation, location strategies, retail planning. This is a Social Science course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GGR254H1</td>
<td>Geography USA</td>
<td>26L</td>
<td>After a brief historical overview, focuses on contemporary issues in American society: economy, politics, race, regional distinctions and disparities, urban development and the U.S. as world power. This is a Social Science course.</td>

GGR270H1  Introductory Analytical Methods
Theory and practical application of elementary quantitative techniques in geography emphasizing descriptive, inferential and spatial statistical analysis, probability, and sampling.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/ECO227Y1/GGR270Y1/PSY201H1/SOC300Y1/STA220H1/STA225H1/STA248H1/STA261H1
Pre- or Co-requisite: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

GGR256H1  Recreation and Tourism
Introduction to spatial organization and environmental impact of recreation. Prediction of demand, problems of over-use, ecological risks, conflicts of interests, planning perspectives, Canada's tourist trade.
Recommended Preparation: Group A course: Canada's tourist trade.

GGR271H1  Social Research Methods
Practical course on field methods designed to enable students to carry out their own research projects. Behavioural observation, interviewing, questionnaire design, sampling theory, content analysis of written and graphic material, data coding and focus groups.
Exclusion: SOC200Y, POL242, WDW350
Prerequisite: GGR270H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR272H1  Geographic Information and Mapping I
Introduction to the theory and use of geographic information systems (GIS) for acquiring, processing, analysing, and mapping environmental and socio-economic data. Map projections, raster and vector data structures, overlay analysis, output design.
This is a Social Science course

GGR273H1  Geographic Information and Mapping II
Intermediate topics on the theory and application of geographic information systems (GIS). Topics include data acquisition, geocoding, spatial analysis, and interpolation, terrain modelling and landscape analysis. Brief introduction to remote sensing.
Prerequisite: GGR272H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

GGR300H1  Special Topics in Geography I
Content in any given year depends on instructor. The program in which the course can be used depends on its content. Consult Department Office in April.

GGR301H1  Cultural Biogeography
The changing relationship between people and the biosphere from the emergence of hominids to the present. Environmental constraints on human evolution, hunter-gatherer societies and their environmental impacts, evolution of agriculture and consequences of increasing population and technology, including deliberate and inadvertent introductions of plants and animals and forest fragmentation. (Offered in alternate years)
Recommended preparation: ANT200Y1/BOT430H1/
GGR205H1
This is a Science course

GGR302H1  Quaternary Paleoclimatic Reconstruction
Principles underlying use of ice cores, marine sediments, lake sediments, tree rings, coral reefs, and pollen to reconstruct past climates. Exercises involve downloading, plotting, and analysing proxy climatic data that are available over the Internet. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: GGR201H1/203H1
This is a Science course

GGR303H1  Climate-Biosphere Interactions
Discussion of the exchange of energy and matter (carbon, water) between the Earth's biosphere (terrestrial vegetation) and atmosphere, with a focus on processes underlying key feedbacks on regional climate. Examples will be taken from research on contemporary as well as paleoclimate systems. Case studies to include how human disturbances like land-use change or future climate change may alter these processes.
Prerequisite: Equivalent of one full-year science course at the 200-level, or permission from the instructor.
This is a Science course

GGR305H1  Biogeography
Introduction to the spatial and temporal patterns of plant and animal distribution. The first half focuses on contemporary environmental and biological controls. The second half examines past patterns and their causes.
Recommended preparation: GGR 100Y

GGR307H1  Soil and Water: Landscape
An introduction to physical and chemical processes operating at micro- to landscape scale and their effects on soil and water quality. Discussion of anthropogenic impacts and management and conservation issues. Local and international case studies.
Recommended preparation: GGR205H1, GGR206H1
This is a Science course

GGR308H1  Fluvial Geomorphology
Elements of drainage basin morphology and hydrology, classification of rivers, stream patterns, and hydraulic geometry. Elements of open channel flow and sediment transport. River channel adjustments to environmental change and human impact and management effects on river development. Paleo-hydrology and paleohydraulics. Exercises include experimentation in a laboratory flume.
Prerequisite: GGR100Y1 or GGR201H1, 270H1 (or equivalent)
This is a Science course
Geography

GGR312H1  Physical Basis of Climate  30L, 4T
The large scale processes determining regional and global climate, including biogeochemical cycles, radiation, maintenance of general circulation, and sea, ice and snow processes.
Prerequisite: GGR203H1, MAT135Y1/137Y1
This is a Science course

GGR314H1  Global Warming  26L
A comprehensive examination of the greenhouse warming problem, beginning with economic, carbon cycle, and climate model projections; impacts on and adaptive responses of agriculture, forests, fisheries, and water resources; abatement options; technical and institutional issues.
This is a Social Science course

JUG320H1  The Canadian Wilderness  26L
The idea of wilderness permeates narratives of Canadian national identity, while policy-makers seek to manage and contain natural areas. This course compares and contrasts historical and contemporary wilderness narratives in literature, painting and film with policies in areas such as conservation, urban planning, land claims and tourism.
This is a Social Science course

JAG321H1  Aboriginal People and Environmental Issues in Canada  26L
This course explores Aboriginal views of environment and resource management from pre-European contact times through to the present from an Aboriginal perspective. Emphasis will be placed on the emerging role of Aboriginal people in environmental and resource management in Canada. Topics to be covered include: history of Aboriginal/non-Aboriginal relations, Aboriginal world view and philosophy, Aboriginal environmental ethics and principles and current environmental issues confronting Aboriginal people.
Prerequisite: Two credits in Geography or Aboriginal Studies

GGR322H1  Issues in Population Geography  26L
Explores issues in geographies of population at a variety of scales from global to local. Issues include demographic patterns and population change, fertility, families and cohorts, mortality, and migration and immigration. Will draw mainly on the Canadian and U.S. experience, but examples will also be drawn from other regions of the world.
Recommended preparation: GGR270H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR324H1  Transportation Geography and Planning  26L
An introductory overview of major issues in interurban and intraurban transportation at both local and national scales. Topics include causes of spatial interaction, graph theory and network analysis, gravity and entropy-maximizing models, urban transportation and land use, congestion, public transit and transport policy.
Prerequisite: GGR124Y1/220Y1 or permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: GGR270H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR327H1  Geography and Gender  26L
An introduction to the work of feminist geographers. The course will explore the relationship between gender and space, emphasizing spatial cognition, architecture, and layout of the city.
Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography

GGR328H1  Labour Geographies  26L
This course explores changes in the nature of work and the structure and geography of labour markets. Topics will include globalization, lean production, flexibility and risk, industrial relations, workfare, the body at work, and gender and work.
Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography

GGR330H1  Atmosphere and Human Health  26L
Human activities are altering the Earth’s climate and changing the chemistry of the Earth’s atmosphere. Globally, climate change and stratospheric ozone depletion, and regionally, acid precipitation, air toxics, particulate matter, and smog are receiving much attention. This course discusses these air quality issues, the human health impacts of these problems, and possible solutions.
Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1 or equivalent

GGR331H1  Resource and Environmental Theory  26L
Introduction to and critical evaluation of major social theoretical paradigms applied to environmental and natural resource politics and regulation. Topics include: neo-classical approaches, eco-Marxism, political ecology, social constructivism, production of nature, ecological modernization, tragedy of the commons, staples theory, science and administrative rationalism.
Prerequisite: GGR100Y1/107Y1/233Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR332H1  Urban Waste Management  26L
The course examines 1) factors affecting the spatial distribution of wastes; and 2) models and policy implications inherent in all aspects of waste management, from waste generation through recycling and waste disposal. Contrasting waste management practices in the developed and the developing world is a central theme.
Prerequisite: GGR233Y1/JEG221Y1/200-level environmental course
This is a Social Science course

GGR333H1  Energy Supply and Use  26L
Examines the technical and economic potential of advanced fossil-fuel-supply technologies, renewable energy (solar, wind, biomass, geothermal, ocean, hydro), and the potential for more efficient end use of energy in the residential, commercial, industrial, and transportation sectors. Also discusses: innovative energy systems, global scenarios, policy implications. (Offered in alternate years)
This is a Science course

GGR334H1  Water Resource Management  26L
Managing demand and supply; linkages between water quality and human health. Case studies from the industrial world and from developing countries, rural and urban. Implications of population growth and climate change for water resource management.
Recommended preparation: GGR100Y1/107Y1, GGR233Y1/JEG221Y1
This is a Social Science course
GGR335H1 Business and Environmental Change
Steadily increasing pressure on biospheric resources (eg. water) and sinks (eg. the atmosphere) requires business to adapt and innovate, while simultaneously responding to globalization and the information revolution. Examples include the financial services sector, as well as energy, transportation, tourism and resource-based industries.
Recommended preparation: GGR233Y1/JEG221Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR336H1 Urban Historical Geography of North America
Processes of urbanization; development of urban systems; changing internal patterns: central area, residential districts, housing, transportation, reform and planning movements. Emphasis on the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century.
Recommended preparation: GGR124Y1/SOC205Y1
This is a Humanities course

GGR337H1 Environmental Remote Sensing
Principles of optical, active and passive microwave remote sensing; satellite orbit and sensor characteristics; image processing and analysis techniques and software; and environmental remote sensing principles.
Prerequisite: GGR272H1
This is a Science course

GGR338H1 Environmental Problems in Developing Countries
Describes and analyses a broad range of the key environmental issues currently facing developing countries from geographical perspectives. Emphasis is on air pollution, water contamination and treatment, residential and industrial solid waste collection and management, with multimedia and written examples drawn from throughout the developing world.
Prerequisite: 200-level environmental course
This is a Science course

GGR339H1 Urban Geography, Planning and Political Processes
The interdependence of political processes and institutions, public policy and urban geography. The political economy of federalism, urban growth, planning and public services as they shape the urban landscape. The spaces of the city as the negotiated outcomes of variously empowered people and the meanings they ascribe to localities and places. Approaches informed by post-colonial, post-modern, and feminist perspectives. Canadian, U.S. and European comparisons.
Prerequisite: GGR124Y1, 246H1/254H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR341H1 Arctic Canada
An introduction to Canada’s arctic and subarctic regions ‘north of 60’, an examination of physical processes that have shaped the region, as well as environmental, social, economic and political themes covering topics such as exploration and settlement, aboriginal land claims, wildlife and resource management, economic development and other current issues.
Recommended Preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

GGR342H1 The Changing Geography of Southeast Asia
Examines changes in the social, political and economic geography of Southeast Asian countries. Examples drawn from Thailand, Singapore, Indonesia, Vietnam and the Philippines as these emerging newly industrialized countries enter the 21st century. Emphasis on political-economy, urbanization and environment since 1950.
Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

GGR343H1 The Changing Geography of China
The evolving physical, social, political and economic landscape of China. Focus on development strategies, industry, agriculture, urbanization and the environment since 1949. Special attention paid to the character and impact of China’s on-going transition from a planned to market economy.
Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

GGR344H1 Changing Geography of Russia and Ukraine
Overview of the physical environment and historical geography; changes in population distribution during the Soviet period; current demographic and ethnic problems; the rural economy; urbanization, industrial location, and regional development issues.
Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Social Science course

JGI346H1 The Urban Planning Process
An overview of how planning tools and practice shape the built form of cities. This course introduces twentieth century physical planning within its historical, social, legal, and political contexts. Community and urban design issues are addressed at local and regional scales and in both central cities and suburbs. The focus is on Toronto and the Canadian experience, with comparative examples form the other counties, primarily the United States.
Recommended Preparation: GGR124Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR350H1 Canada in a Global Context
This course considers geographic relationships between Canada and the world in the era of globalization, from the colonial period to the present. Local and regional sites will be linked to cultural, economic, environmental, and political processes occurring at a global scale. Key themes will include trade and investment, nationalism and identity, and Canadian geopolitics.
Prerequisite: I.0 GGR courses
This is a Social Science course

GGR360H1 Culture, History, and Landscape
The history of approaches to the idea of landscape. A consideration of the origins and uses of the term in geographical inquiry will be followed by a series of case studies, global in scope, from the Early Modern period to the present. Emphasis will be placed on the representational aspects of landscapes, as well as struggles over their definition, interpretation, and use.
Prerequisite: I.0 GGR courses
This is a Social Science course
GGR357H1 Geography of Housing and Housing Policy 26L
An introduction to housing in context: as a commodity, a political process and social necessity. The analysis of housing markets in an urban and spatial context, emphasizing the allocation mechanism, residential location and tenure choice, the role of the state, social housing and the relationships of housing changes to mobility, neighbourhood transition, and social equity. Case studies of specific policy issues and alternative housing strategies.
Recommended Preparation: GGR124Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR361H1 Understanding the Urban Landscape 26L
Three related themes are discussed: the underlying social, cultural and economic forces that have given cities their form and image; various aesthetic and political philosophies that have been put into practice in constructing the urban landscape; and recent European and North American attempts to control the landscape of the contemporary metropolis by the application of urban policy and planning.
Recommended Preparation: GGR124Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR362H1 Cities of Difference 26L
The course examines the connections between urban space and social identity through four related themes: theories of difference; the urban geography of ethnicity, gender, sexuality and other axes of difference; the relationship of identity to the experience of place; and planning and the politics of difference.
Recommended Preparation: GGR124 and one of GGR 216, 239, GGR 254, GGR 246, GGR 249 or GGR 240
This is a Social Science course

GGR363H1 Critical Geographies: An Introduction to Radical Ideas on Space, Society and Culture 39L
This course introduces a diversity of critical perspectives in human geography, spanning anarchism, Marxism, feminism, sexual politics, ‘postcolonialism’ and anti-racism. In so doing it illustrates how such a range of radical ideas about space, society and culture have emerged and influenced our thought and action.
This is a Social Science and Humanities course

GGR366H1 Historical Toronto 26L
Toronto’s development compared to other large North American cities. Culture, social life, economy, politics, and planning process.
Recommended preparation: GGR336H1
This is a Humanities course

GGR368H1 Geography of Language 26L
Topics in the distribution and spread of languages and dialects, including dialect atlases, innovation diffusion, measures of dialect distance, and linguistic consequences of urbanization and mobility. Rudiments of phonetics and grammar are integrated in the geolinguistic content.
Recommended preparation: Two courses in Geography
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

GGR371H1 Advanced Quantitative Methods in Geography 26L
This course is designed to give students exposure to advanced quantitative techniques including inferential applications of the simple regression model, multiple regression analysis (MRA), data screening for MRA, model building issues in MRA, qualitative independent variable models, discrete choice models, cluster analysis and forecasting methods.
Prerequisite: GGR270H1
This is a Science course

GGR373H1 Advanced Geographic Information Systems 26L, 24P
Advanced theory, techniques, and applications in geographic information systems (GIS), including interpolation, geostatistics, modeling and raster and vector analysis. GIS project design and implementation.
Prerequisite: GGR270H1, 272H1
This is a Science course

GGR390H1 Field Methods TBA
Introduction to field methods in vegetation mapping/analysis, soils, hydrology and geomorphology. The course includes exercises and a project during a one-week field camp early in September, a little preparation during the preceding summer, and complementary practical work and seminars during the Fall Term. Each student is required to pay the costs of their transportation and accommodation. Students must register with the Department by April 2006.
Prerequisite: GGR100Y1
This is a Science course

GGR391H1 Research Design 26S
A seminar course in which each student prepares a research proposal incorporating relevant theory, published research, sources of data, and methods of enquiry and analysis. A proposal prepared in this course may be used to plan research for GGR 491Y1.
Prerequisite: Three 200/300-series GGR courses including GGR270H1, and at least 0.5 at the 300- or 400-level
This is a Social Science course

GGR393H1 Environmental Impact Assessment 26L, 6P
Environmental impact assessment as a mechanism for avoiding or mediating the costs of development. Emphasis on the historical and institutional development of EIA in Canada, and EIA in the context of environmental regulation under advanced capitalism. Includes case studies of EIA statements and processes at various levels of government.
Prerequisite: GGR100Y1/107Y1/233Y1
This is a Social Science course

GGR398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.
GGR400H1  Special Topics in Geography II  26S
Content in any given year depends on instructor. The program in which this course can be used depends on its context. Consult Departmental Office in April. In 2006-2007, the course will be subtitled “Globalization and International Development”. Course description: This course takes a critical look at the shifting development policies and practices in the South within the context of globalization and late capitalism. Drawing on cases from around the world, it begins with an in-depth investigation of the competing theories, dominant power relations (between donor agencies, INGOs, NGOs, state players, private agencies, and beneficiaries), and on-the-ground practices in the development planning field in the South. The course then analyzes how these conventional conceptions, power relations, and practices are being transformed by globalizing processes and assesses the potentials and limitations of these salient shifts. Particular attention is paid to the ways that spatial politics is being negotiated and employed to restructure the international development field. The course ends by exploring how a progressive sense of place and the geography of social justice could advance more effective development practices. (Recommended Preparation: GGR 107Y1, GGR 216H1) Exclusion: Permission of the instructor must be obtained

GGR403H1  Global Ecology and Biogeochemical Cycles  26L
Seminar course on biogeochemical cycling of carbon, water, nitrogen, phosphorus, sulfur, and iron between the Earth’s atmosphere, oceans, and biosphere. Focus will be placed on the global carbon cycle, including how other biogeochemical cycles feedback on carbon-based processes and mechanisms. Examples and case studies will be taken from research on contemporary as well as paleoclimate systems. Prerequisite: Equivalent of two full-year courses at the 300 or 400 level, or permission from the instructor. This is a Science course

GGR409H1  Contaminants in the Environment  26L, 11T
The environmental behaviour and toxicology of inorganic and organic chemical contaminants is discussed in order to understand the scientific basis of pollution concerns. Theory is illustrated with qualitative and quantitative examples and case studies that extend from chemical mission to health effects. Facility is gained with simple mathematical models. The interface between science and policy are discussed throughout. Prerequisite: CHM137Y1/(138H1, 139H1)/151Y1/GGR205H1 This is a Science course

GGR413H1  Watershed Hydroecology  26L
Modern developments in hydrology and ecology, including form and process models, interactions of hydrology, ecology and geomorphology; the course emphasizes use of computer simulation models of drainage basin processes. Prerequisite: GGR201H1/206H1/270H1 This is a Science course

GGR415H1  Resource and Environmental Planning  26L
The policy and institutional aspects of resource and environmental planning in Canada. Overview of the evolution of resource and environmental management and the examination of selected planning techniques; community involvement in planning; the ecosystem approach to planning; emphasis on environmental planning in the urban context. Prerequisite: GGR233Y1/JEG221Y1/200-level environmental course. This is a Social Science course

GGR418H1  Political Economy of Natural Resources  26S
Examines political aspects of the appropriation of natural resources, including policy and regulation, environmental impacts, and social justice. Emphasis is placed on reading contemporary literature on the politics of resource access and control from geography and other social science disciplines. Prerequisite: GGR233Y1/JEG221Y1 This is a Social Science course

GGR421H1  History & Philosophy of Geography  26S
The history of geography as an intellectual subject, focusing primarily on the modern period, and on the genealogy of central concepts such as region, landscape, and place. Disciplinary developments will be situated next to broader contexts, including imperialism and militarism, the relationship between culture and nature, and the shifting social role of the academy. Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography This is a Humanities course

GGR431H1  Regional Dynamics  26L
Theory and analysis of regional economic change with emphasis on North America and Western Europe. Export-base, neoclassical, increasing returns, and political-economic explanations of regional growth and decline, globalization, knowledge-based economy and the role of regions. Geography of technological change, labour-markets and labour relations. Objectives and approaches for local and regional development policy, including talent-based strategies for enhancing local creativity. Prerequisite: GGR220Y1, 270H1 This is a Social Science course

GGR435H1  Technology, Toronto, and Global Warming  26L
Toronto as a case study of methods to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases, their costs and benefits, and of the practical problems involved. Seminar format with presentations by students in class and in high schools. (Offered in alternate years) Prerequisite: GGR314H1 This is a Social Science course

GGR439H1 Global Political Geography 26S
Introduction to geopolitical theories. Emphasis on the development of the nation state, theories of land claims and the territorial manifestations of nationalism. Will examine recent theoretical as well as empirical challenges to many of the conventional geopolitical assumptions about scale, space, and power in global politics. Please note that this course is open to students who have taken GGR 239H1 (formerly Global Political Geography).
Prerequisite: Two courses in Geography or permission of instructor.
Recommended preparation: This course should not be attempted until you have completed two years of full-time study or the equivalent number of credits part-time.
This is a Social Science course

GGR450H1 Medical Geography 26L
This course is an introduction to medical geography. It includes the following topics: concepts and techniques of medical geography; human ecology of disease; regional patterns of diseases; biometeorological influences on health and disease; health effects of environmental modification and contamination; disease diffusion; spatial distribution of health care resources; and emerging and re-emerging infections.
Prerequisite: Group A, GGR270H1
Recommended preparation: BIO 150Y1 or equivalent
This is a Social Science course

GGR451H1 Health and Place 26L
An exploration of the aspects of health in which place or location matters. Particular attention will be paid to the role of environments (physical, social, etc.) in explaining differences in health between places, the structuring of health-related behaviour in place, and the development of health policy for places.
Prerequisite: GGR 233Y1
Recommended preparation: GGR270H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR452H1 Space, Power, Geography: Understanding Spatiality 26S
The changing nature of space and our thinking about it, centering on works of contemporary geographers and spatial theorists such as Lefebvre, Soja, Gregory, Harvey, Massey and challenges to this thinking. Explores changing concepts of spatiality that inform geographic thought and help us understand the ways political, economic and social power is constituted and contested.
Prerequisite: GGR124Y1
Recommended preparation: GGR339H1/361H1
This is a Social Science course

GGR459H1 Urban Form, Structure and Growth 26L
Alternative perspectives on urban form and growth: the processes, logics and tensions underlying metropolitan development; production and consumption spheres; changes in the demographic, political, ethnagogical and social fabric of cities; global economic restructuring and shifts in urban labour markets; land development and suburbanization; inner city revitalization and suburban decline; conflicts over public goods and services; policy issues and equity questions; quality of life and future urban forms.
Prerequisite: GGR124Y1, 270H1
This is a Social Science course

JGI454H1 The Role of the Planner: Making a Difference 26L
This course will focus on the role of a planning practitioner in contemporary society using a wealth of examples drawn from recent issues and debates in Canadian cities and regions. The course will walk students through the demands made of planners in terms of both technical expertise as well as political necessity and ask them to think actively about how to prepare for the extraordinary growth of cities during the next century. Examples of issues that will be discussed in some detail include the myths surrounding the city vs. the suburbs, the creativity and passion involved in planning work and the new City of Toronto Act.
Prerequisite: 15 credits, 5.0 of which must be GGR/INI Urban Studies
This is a Social Science course

GGR450H1 Medical Geography 26L
This course is an introduction to medical geography. It includes the following topics: concepts and techniques of medical geography; human ecology of disease; regional patterns of diseases; biometeorological influences on health and disease; health effects of environmental modification and contamination; disease diffusion; spatial distribution of health care resources; and emerging and re-emerging infections.
Prerequisite: Group A, GGR270H1
Recommended preparation: BIO 150Y1 or equivalent
This is a Social Science course

GGR445H1 Urban Form, Structure and Growth 26L
Alternative perspectives on urban form and growth: the processes, logics and tensions underlying metropolitan development; production and consumption spheres; changes in the demographic, political, ethno-cultural and social fabric of cities; global economic restructuring and shifts in urban labour markets; land development and suburbanization; inner city revitalization and suburban decline; conflicts over public goods and services; policy issues and equity questions; quality of life and future urban forms.
Prerequisite: GGR124Y1, 270H1
This is a Social Science course

JFG470H1 Forest Management 26L
Application of operational research and information technology to develop decision support systems for forest land management planning. Basic principles of mathematical programming, simulation and decision analysis, and their application to planning for forest conservation and sustainable development, policy analysis and other land management planning problems.
Prerequisite: One course in quantitative methods or linear algebra
Recommended preparation: GGR270H1/ECO220Y1/227Y1/MAT133Y1/223H1
This is a Science course

GGR473H1 Cartographic Design 13L, 26P
The design and production of maps using GIS cartographic and graphics software packages. Map perception and map use, principles and elements of cartographic design, data acquisition and manipulation, production and reproduction of maps and atlases. Practical exercises culminate in a major project in thematic map design.
Prerequisite: GGR272H1, 273H1
This is a Social Science course
JFG475H1  Emergency Response  26L
Systems Planning
Use of operational research and information technology to develop mathematical models and decision support systems to design and evaluate the performance of emergency response systems. Forest fire management systems are used to illustrate the basic principles of emergency response system planning that can also be applied to urban fire, police, and ambulance services. Prerequisite: One course quantitative methods or calculus
Recommended preparation: GGR270H1/ECO220Y1/227Y1/
MAT133Y1/135Y1/137Y1
This is a Science course

GGR480Y1  Advanced Field Research-Human  26L
Geography
Context in any given year depends on instructor and location. Offered in summer session. Consult departmental office in April. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor
This is a Social Science course

GGR490H1  Advanced Field Research-Physical Geography
A two-week course emphasizing the use of advanced field methods for analyzing the pattern of variations in vegetation, soils, surface hydrology and geomorphology in montane and alpine environments. Course is offered in August at the University of Calgary’s field station, Kananaskis, Alberta. Students are responsible for the cost of board, lodging and transport to and from the field. Students must register with the Department in March. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: Two Physical/Environmental courses or permission of instructors
Recommended preparation: GGR390H1
This is a Science course

GGR491Y1  Research Project
A course specially designed for students wishing to gain experience in conducting research in their area of specialization. Of particular value for geographers interested in graduate study, or positions in government, planning and consulting firms where research skills may be an asset. Students select a research problem and complete a project under the supervision of a member of staff. Early discussion with the course coordinator, Undergraduate Coordinator and likely supervisor is encouraged; enrolment may be completed at any time up to September. Open to students meeting the following exclusions and enrolled in a Specialist or Major Program sponsored by the Department of Geography.
Prerequisite: GGR391H1, 15 course credits

GGR492H1  Senior Practicum
Students design and implement an independent applied geography/planning project in consultation with an NGO or government organization, who will act as their “client.” Enrolment requires written permission from a staff supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.
Prerequisite: GGR391H1/392H1, 15 course credits

GGR498H1  Independent Research I
An independent research extension to one of the courses already completed in Physical Geography. Enrolment requires written permission from a staff supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who have completed 15 course credits and who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.
Exclusion: GGR491Y1
This is a Science course

GGR499H1  Independent Research II
An independent research extension to one of the courses already completed in a social science or humanities branch of Geography. Enrolment requires written permission from a staff supervisor and Undergraduate Coordinator. Only open to students who have completed 15 course credits and who are enrolled in a Specialist or Major program sponsored by the Department of Geography.
Exclusion: GGR491Y1
This is a Social Science or Humanities course

Geology means “Study of the Earth.” This covers everything from the origin of the Earth and its position in the Solar System, to the physical, chemical and biological processes which have brought the Earth through its 4.5 billion year history to the present time, when society itself can be seen as an agent of geological change. Besides the fundamental studies of rocks, minerals and fossils, Geology is concerned with the exploration and responsible recovery of vital resources such as metalliferous ores, coal, petroleum, natural gas, industrial minerals and groundwater. An understanding of the way the Earth works is important to achieve effective protection of the environment. Hence, geologists are widely employed in problems of urban development, water and soil pollution, waste disposal, earthquake and volcanic risk assessment, public policy and resource management. Under the Professional Geoscientists Act of 2000, individuals practising Geoscience in Ontario require education equivalent to the one of the Specialist Programs listed below or a P.Eng.

Four Specialist Programs are offered: Geology, Environmental Geosciences, Geology and Physics, and Chemistry and Geology. Major and Minor programs are offered in Geology as well as a Major program in the Environmental Geosciences. Students are encouraged to discuss their plans on program and course selection with the Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies) or Program Supervisor. Students wishing to enter a Geology Specialist program should have taken the following courses in Grade 12: English ENG4U, Chemistry SCH4U, Physics SPH4U, and Functions MCB4U or equivalent.

The Professional Experience Year (PEY) program (see Student Services and Resources in this Calendar) is available to eligible students after their third year of study. The PEY program is an optional 16-month work term which provides industrial experience; its length gives students the opportunity to enjoy the rewarding experience of initiating and completing a major project.

More information about undergraduate studies in Geology is contained in a booklet which is available from the departmental office (ESC 1066). Additional courses with geological content are listed in the Calendar of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.

Second Year:
GLG 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, 217H1
Higher Years:
1. GLG 340H1
2. 2.5 courses from 300/400-series GLG courses/ENV 315H1/JGP 438H1

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
Four GLG full course equivalents of which one full course or equivalent is at the 300/400-level

NOTE:
Some GLG courses have CHM/MAT/PHY prerequisites

Environmental Geosciences - See Centre for Environment

Geology and Chemistry - see Chemistry

Geology and Physics (Science program)
Consult Departments of Geology and Physics

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent with at least one course at the 400-level)

First Year:
CHM 151Y1; MAT 137Y1; PHY 140Y1; GLG102H1 is strongly recommended
Second Year:
GLG 206H1, 207H1, 216H1, 217H1; MAT 237Y1, 244H1; PHY 251H1, 255H1
Third Year:
APM 346H1; GLG 345H1; PHY 225H1, 308H1, 351H1, 352H1
Fourth Year:
1. GLG 340H1
2. 1.5 300/400-series GLG courses
3. 1.5 300/400-series PHY courses

Note:
1. Students are encouraged to select courses on the basis of a coherent theme such as Exploration Geology and Geophysics, Global Tectonics, or Environmental Geodynamics.
2. Students are required to register with the Departments and have their programs approved.

Geology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all GLG courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

GLG102H1 Earth Science 26L, 26P
Introduction to the functioning of the Earth as a chemical and physical system. Topics include formation of the Earth from the solar nebula, radioactive decay and age dating, meteorite impacts, melting and crystallization of rocks, erosion and sedimentation, the carbon cycle and its effects on climate, and the transport and remediation of pollutants in the environment. Prerequisites: Grade 12 Chemistry SCH4U, Physics SPH4U, and Functions MCB4U or equivalent.

GLG103H1 Geology in Public Issues 26L
Geologic hazards: earthquakes, volcanoes, landslides, tsunamis. The distribution and politics of natural resources, including petroleum and ore deposits. Nuclear power and nuclear waste disposal. Global change: the geologic record of hot and cold climates, and how the earth survives.
GLG103H1 is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science.

GLG105H1 Evolution of the Earth: 26L
Controversy over the Last 2300 Years
The evolution of ideas about the origin and development of the earth from the Athenians to the 20th Century. With attention on whether the earth has an infinite or a finite life; on the evolution and disappearance of species; on the origin of oceans, continents and mountains; on the forces that have shaped the earth's surface; and on the courage of scientists in confronting the religious and political views of their time.
GLG105H1 is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

GLG108H1 Introductory Geochemistry 26L
An introduction to thermodynamics, phase diagrams and solution chemistry, with application to geological and environmental processes.
Prerequisite: Grade 12 U Chemistry or Physics

GLG202H1 Introductory Geochemistry 26L, 39P
An introduction to thermodynamics, phase diagrams and solution chemistry, with application to geological and environmental processes.
Prerequisite: CHM151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1
Geology

GLG204H1 Quantitative Methods in Geology 26L, 39P
An introduction to quantitative approaches to geological problems: use of scalars, vectors and tensors in stress and strain analysis, statistical treatment of geological datasets, heat and mass transfer in earth materials.
Prerequisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1; MAT223H1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

GLG205H1 Confronting Global Change 26L, 8T
The emergence of society as a major geological force is considered in terms of the evolving debate about the consequences of human activity for the habitability of our planet. Major issues such as climate change, environmental pollution, and depletion of natural resources are examined. GLG205H1 is primarily intended as a science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students

GLG206H1 Materials of the Earth 26L, 39P
An overview of the structural, chemical and optical properties of minerals. Laboratories on the identification of minerals in hand specimen and thin section. A mandatory 2 day field trip in late September.
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

GLG207H1 Rock-forming Processes 26L, 39P
Origin and classification of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks and their associated ore deposits. Emphasis is placed on formation of rock types in the context of plate tectonic theory, and the practical aspects of rock identification in hand sample and thin section.
Prerequisite: GLG206H1

GLG216H1 Dynamic Geology 26L, 39P
A survey of principal physical, biological and chemical processes shaping the Earth. Laboratories will explore these processes in more detail through a series of problem sets.
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1/139H1)/151Y1

GLG217H1 Earth Evolution 26L, 39P
An introduction to the evolution of the biosphere from the earliest stabilization of the Earth’s crust. Patterns of evolution and extinction are related to physico-chemical and biologically-mediated changes at the Earth’s surface. Laboratories cover major groups of invertebrate fossils, microfossils, their classification and living analogues.
Prerequisite: GLG216H1

ENV234Y1 Environmental Biology (formerly JED234Y1)
See “Centre for Environment”

GLG299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

ENV315H1 Chemical Analysis of Environmental Samples
See “Centre for Environment”

GLG318H1 Igneous and Metamorphic Processes 26L, 39P
An overview of the nature and origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks, with particular emphasis on the interpretation of textures and mineral assemblages as they reflect conditions of rock formation. Laboratory exercises familiarise students with the most common igneous and metamorphic rock types, and provide practical examples of the theoretical principles discussed in lectures. This course also has a mandatory weekend field trip (in conjunction with GLG206H1) to view igneous and metamorphic rocks and structures. The venue for the trip alternates yearly between Bancroft and the Montreal area.
Prerequisite: GLG206H1, 207H1

GLG319H1 Metamorphic Processes 26L, 39P
Descriptive petrography and classification of metamorphic rocks; metamorphic processes and evolution of metamorphic rocks; interpretation of metamorphic rocks.
Prerequisite: GLG318H1, 360H1

GLG340H1 Field Course I: White Fish Falls TBA
Manitoulin Island
A twelve-day field course in mid-May. Students are introduced to field geology and to basic field measurement, mapping and documentation techniques in the Espanola - Manitoulin Island area, west of Sudbury. Students are responsible for the cost of board and lodging and transport to and from the field area. This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department in the preceding term
Prerequisite: GLG207H1, 216H1, 217H1

GLG345H1 Structural Geology 26L, 39P
The development of geological structures at a variety of scales is examined using the concepts of stress, strain, material behaviour and tectonic setting. Laboratory work focuses on modern methods of structural analysis and their applications in geotechnical engineering and economic geology.
Prerequisite: GLG216H1

GLG351H1 Geochemical and Biological Regulation of Aqueous Systems 26L, 26P
An introduction to aqueous environmental geochemistry emphasising the importance of chemical equilibria, mass transport, and microbiological activity in regulating the chemical composition of natural and contaminated systems.
Exclusion: JGG350H1
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; and any 2nd year science course

GLG360H1 Sedimentary Geology 26L, 39P
An introduction to the methods for studying sedimentary rocks in surface and subsurface. Petrographic description and classification of sedimentary rocks are dealt with in lectures and laboratory exercises, followed by a treatment of the principles of stratigraphic documentation and correlation, facies-analysis methods, and a brief description of depositional systems.
Prerequisite: GLG206H1

GLG398H0/399Y0 Independent Experience Project
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

GLG423H1 Mineralogy 39L
Crystal chemistry of the major rock forming minerals. The course covers the underlying concepts behind the behaviour of minerals as solid-state materials including: Structure and bonding of minerals, chemical substitutions and solid-state transformations, high temperature and pressure behaviour, chemical weathering and kinetics.
Prerequisite: GLG206H1

GLG430H1 Basin Analysis 39L, 13P
Architecture and evolution of sedimentary basins in relation to plate-tectonic setting and crustal properties. Sequence stratigraphy: sequence models and sequence forcing mechanisms
Prerequisite: GLG360H1

GLG436H1  Paleoecological Assessment  26L, 39P
Environmental Change
The use of proxy data (terrestrial and aquatic microfossils) to infer past environmental conditions. The nature and extent of Quaternary environmental change is considered in the context of assessing current issues such as acidification, metal pollution, eutrophication and global climate change. Paleoenvironmental techniques are applied in the laboratory.
Prerequisite: A 200-level course from one of BIO, GGR, GLG
Recommended preparation: BIO468H1/469Y1/GLG217H1

JGP438H1  Shallow Crust Geophysics  26L, 39P
An introduction to the geophysical exploration of the subsurface. Topics include gravity, seismic, magnetic, electrical and electromagnetic surveying and their application in prospecting, hydrogeology, and environmental assessments.
Exclusion: PHY496H1
Prerequisite: GLG345H1 or permission of instructor

GLG440H1  Advanced Petrology  26L, 39P
Integrated field, experimental and theoretical approaches to understanding the petrological diversity of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Topics include development of thermobarometers for igneous and metamorphic rocks, the importance of oxygen fugacity in petrogenesis, melting/solidification and metamorphism and igneous activity in the context of global tectonics.
Prerequisite: GLG318H1

GLG442H1  Mineral Deposits  26L, 39P
Geology and geochemistry of magmatically related ore deposits, principally Ni, Cu, Pt group, Cr, including porphyry Cu deposits. Use of S, O and H isotopes and fluid inclusions in mineral deposit geology. Origin and interpretation; systematic ore mineralogy, in hand specimen and reflected light microscopy.
Prerequisite: GLG318H1

GLG443H1  Ore Genesis and Exploration  26L, 39P
Geochemistry
Genesis of ore deposits. The basic tools for studying ore genesis such as stable isotopes, fluid inclusions and sulfide mineralogy and their applications to selected types of ores.
Prerequisite: GLG442H1

GLG445H1  Field Course II: Benny Belt  TBA
Advanced geological mapping project in a challenging field environment. Students learn to compile existing geoscience data, create a geological map and prepare a professional final report on their activities and findings. Students are responsible for the costs of board, lodging and transportation.
This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department during the preceding term.
Prerequisite: GLG318H1, 340H1, GLG345H1/MIN240F or permission of instructor

GLG448H1  Field Course III: Chalk River  TBA
A two-week course in late summer designed to familiarize students in a variety of hydrogeological and biogeochemical field techniques; based at Atomic Energy Canada Laboratories, Chalk River, and includes a mixture of lecture, laboratory and field exercises. Students are responsible for the cost of board and lodging and transport to and from the field area. This is a summer session course and students must also register with the Department during the preceding term.
Prerequisite: GLG351H1 or permission of instructor

GLG450H1  Contaminant Fate and Transport in Subsurface Environments
Drawing primarily on examples from hydrogeology, this course explores physical, chemical and isotopic constraints on contaminant source transport and attenuation.
Prerequisite: GLG351H1 or permission of instructor

GLG465H1  Geodynamics 26L, 39P
Exploration of physical Earth processes and their relationship to large-scale geological phenomena. Mantle convection as plate tectonic engine; intraplate/plate boundary lithospheric deformation including orogenesis and crustal subsidence. Focus on reconciling geodynamic theory/modelling with geological/geophysical observations.
Prerequisite: GLG345H1 or permission of instructor

GLG470Y1  Research Project  TBA
Laboratory research emphasizing methods and experimental techniques applicable to geology. Students must obtain the consent of an instructor and register with the Undergraduate Coordinator before enrolling and are urged to do so toward the end of their Third Year. Students are required to give an oral presentation of research results to an open meeting of the Department.
Exclusion: GLG471H1
Prerequisite: Completion of the required 300-level courses in a specialist program involving Geology and permission of the Department

GLG471H1  Research Project  TBA
Laboratory research emphasizing methods and experimental techniques applicable to geology. Students must obtain the consent of an instructor and register with the Undergraduate Coordinator before enrolling and are urged to do so toward the end of their Third Year. Students are required to give an oral presentation of research results to an open meeting of the Department.
Exclusion: GLG470Y1
Prerequisite: Completion of the required 300-level courses in a specialist program involving Geology and permission of the Department

German-speaking countries enjoy a long tradition at the cultural and political core of Europe. During the last two hundred years their importance has steadily increased, and with the recent developments in eastern Europe their influence seems certain to grow even more.

The importance of the German language has grown correspondingly: it is the second foreign language after English in the countries of central and eastern Europe, and its use is spreading within the European Community. Learning German opens the door to many fields of intellectual, technical and politico-economic endeavour. German scholars have been leaders in philosophy, the sciences, history, archaeology, sociology and political science. German literature is equally distinguished: writers like Goethe, Kafka, Rilke, Brecht, Mann, Grass, Jelinek, etc., have dealt with the widest possible range of human problems and concerns, and have been recognized worldwide.

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures offers courses on literature from the 18th Century to the present, so that the student may acquire an overview of this significant element of German life and culture. We offer language courses on the beginning, intermediate and advanced levels, with practice in reading, writing, comprehending and speaking German, as well as stylistics, linguistics, and the specialized vocabulary and concepts of business. Language and literature instruction is integrated as far as possible, with the aim of teaching students advanced critical literacy in German. The department offers a minor in Yiddish, with instruction offered at the beginning, intermediate and advanced levels. German combines well with other modern languages and literatures, and double-majors are encouraged. Students in a variety of programs, such as Cinema Studies, European Studies, Literary Studies, Drama, and others, will benefit from courses in German language, literature and culture.

The Department supports opportunities for students to study and work in Germany, by encouraging participation in programs established by the German government, by Canadian universities, and by our own Arts and Science Faculty’s “Study Elsewhere Program.” One of these is the exchange program under which Toronto students can spend the academic year at the Humboldt University in Berlin.

A knowledge of German is a virtual necessity for specialists in many disciplines; it is also very useful in certain career areas (e.g., the foreign service, interpretation and translation, librarianship, business and commerce, music, tourism, and of course teaching). The successful completion of a four-year program, including seven approved courses in German, may entitle the student to enter the M.A. or Ph.D. program in the Graduate Division of the Department.

Students entering with some previous knowledge of German but without an OAC or equivalent qualification may be asked to write an initial assessment test and will then be advised to take courses at the appropriate level. Students who have taken German in high school to OAC or equivalent level will normally begin with GER200Y1.

Information on studies in German Language and/or Literature can be obtained from the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies.

German Programs

German Studies (Arts program)

Enrolment in the Specialist and Major programs is open to students who have successfully completed four courses and who have the required competence in German. Students without OAC German or equivalent should arrange their courses in consultation with the Department. Students who have any prior experience with German and are taking any GER language course for the first time should contact the Department for details on placement tests.

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or their equivalent)

The Specialist Program requires that at least four of the ten courses must be at the 300+ level.
1. GER100Y1,
2. GER200Y1, 205H1
German

3. GER300Y1, 305H1, 310H1
4. GER400H1
5. The remainder of the courses must be chosen from GER courses at the 200+ level. Of these courses not more than 2 full courses may be taken in English. Permission may be granted to count cognate courses from other departments.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)
The Major Program requires that at least three of the seven courses must be at the 300+ level.
1. GER100Y1
2. GER200Y1, 205H1
3. GER300Y1, 305H1, 310H1
4. The remainder of the courses must be chosen from GER courses at the 200+ level. Permission may be granted to count cognate courses from other departments. No more than 1.5 full courses may be taken in English.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
Four GER full course equivalents, which must be approved by the Department before enrolment in the Second Year. One of these courses must be a 300-level course. No more than 0.5 full courses may be taken in English.

Business German (Arts program)

Minor Program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
Four GER full course equivalents, including GER370H1 and GER470H1. The remainder of the four courses or equivalent must have a GER designator.

German and Linguistics (Arts program)

Specialist Program
This specialist program consists of 13 or 14 courses in linguistics and German
Linguistics
For the linguistics requirement, see “Linguistics and Languages Other than English.

German:
(6 full courses or their equivalent)
1. GER100Y1
2. GER200Y1
3. GER300Y1
4. GER400H1
5. The remainder of the six courses must have a GER designator.

German - See also Modern Languages and Literatures; Linguistics and Languages

Al and Malke Green Yiddish Program (Arts Program)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. GER260Y1
2. GER360H1
3. GER361H1/362H1/363Y/364H1
4. GER462H1
5. The remaining courses should be taken from: GER490H1/490Y1, ENG256Y1, GER100Y1, HIS208Y1/433H1, SLA202H1 or other approved cognate courses.

German Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all GER courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

HUM199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

Notes
Students with German-speaking background are expected to consult the Department about their programs. The Department reserves the right to place students in the language course appropriate to their level of language skill.

Reading lists for the various courses are available from the Department.

Students intending to specialize in German may also consult the Calendar of the University of Toronto at Mississauga for additional course offerings which may be counted for specialization.

GER100Y1 Introduction to German I 104P
An intensive language course for students with no previous knowledge of German. Practice in comprehension, reading, writing and speaking. This course can be counted towards all programs in German.
Exclusion: OAC German or equivalent

GER101H Introduction to German 52P
An intensive language course for students with some prior knowledge of German but not quite OAC level. This course is equivalent to the Spring Term of GER100Y1.

GER150H1 Introduction to German Culture 39S
This is a survey course which introduces students to German social, cultural, and intellectual history. This course is taught in English and is open to all students.
Exclusion: GER150Y1

GER150Y1 Introduction to German Culture 39S
This is a survey course which introduces students to German social, cultural, and intellectual history. This course is taught in English and is open to all students.
Exclusion: GER150Y1

GER200Y1 Introductory German II 78P, 26T
Continuation of work done in GER100Y1/101H1. Further expansion of basic grammar and vocabulary, practice in comprehension, translation, composition, and conversation. Exclusion: GER200H1/201H1; not open to fluent or nearly fluent speakers of German Prerequisite: GER100Y1/101H1, OAC German or equivalent, or permission of the department.

GER204H1 German Literature in Translation 39S
An overview of some key works in German literature. This course serves as an introduction to German literature, and is suited for students with little or no prior knowledge of the German language.
Exclusion: GER204Y1

History is both an art and a science. Historians study the past to understand it in its own terms, to gain insight into how our world has developed, and in order to influence the present. Historical inquiry is a response to the need for information and an understanding of the broad patterns of social, economic, cultural and political development.

The study of history is a crucial part of any liberal arts program. To understand our own society and the forces for change that are propelling it towards an uncertain future, it is necessary to understand something of the past. Every political institution, social value and economic custom is itself the result of past change and is simultaneously being transformed. It is as difficult for us to appreciate our own society without some sense of how different things were in the past as it is for individuals to understand themselves without the aid of personal and family history.

The Department of History offers a wide range of courses that are tailored to meet the needs of students at every stage of their undergraduate careers. The 100-series courses are designed for students who are new to the University. They cover a wide chronological period and a wide geographical area. The 200-series courses are designed to introduce students to specific national or geographic histories over a broad period of time. Although they are designated as 200-series courses they are open to first-year students, have no prerequisites, and students without previous university experience should be able to complete them without difficulty. The 300-series courses, not open to first-year students, usually deal with more specialized subject-matter and frequently have prerequisites. The 400-series courses represent the culmination of an undergraduate's study of history and consist of seminars with a maximum enrolment of 14.

There are courses at most levels in American, Asian, African, and Latin American, British, Canadian, East European, Russian, European, International Relations and Medieval history. The fifty-five full-time professional historians who constitute this Department offer a greater variety of courses in history than can be found at any other university in Canada, and to study with any of them is certain to be an enriching experience.

More detailed information concerning the department, history programs and particular courses can be found in the Undergraduate Handbook available each year in the spring or year round at our website: www.chass.utoronto.ca/history. There is a History Students’ Association in the Department and there is student participation in the Department meetings and major standing committees.

History

HIS283Y1 Southeast Asian Crossroads 52L, 20T
This course surveys the historical experiences of the states that constitute present-day Southeast Asia and examines how long term socio-economic trends affected the daily lives of Southeast Asians. Lectures introduce the major themes while weekly readings explore the major themes of the course: “state” structure; cultural commonalities; ethnic, class and gender relations; religious practice and trade.

HIS291Y1 Latin America: The Colonial Period 52L, 20T
The evolution of Spanish and Portuguese America from pre-Columbian civilizations to the wars of independence.

HIS292Y1 Latin America: The National Period 52L, 20T
A survey of Latin American history from the wars of independence to the present day.

HIS294Y1 Caribbean History & Culture 52L, 22T
An exploration of changes in the structure of Caribbean society beginning in 1492, including European contact, the conquest of native peoples, the emergence of large plantations, the impact of slavery, patterns of resistance and revolt and the changes brought about by emancipation.

HIS295Y1 Introduction to African History (formerly HIS295H1)
An introduction to the methodological and epistemological issues of African history—that is to say, questions about how and what we know about the African past are examined. Particular attention is paid to the differences in academic understanding of African history and African perceptions of the past. Topics include theories of diffusion, the importance of oral sources, and the interpretation of myths.

HIS296Y1 Black Freedom 52L, 20P
This course explores the profound contribution of people of African descent—from Olaudah Equiano to Angela Davis—to the history of the idea and practice of freedom in the West. Black writers and historical actors have been at the vanguard of re-conceiving, implementing, and realizing the Enlightenment project of freedom. Exclusion: NEW296Y1

HIS299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

300-Series Courses

Note:
First-year students are not permitted to enrol in 300-series HIS courses.

HIS303Y1 The Mediterranean, 600-1700: Crusade, Colonialism, Diaspora 26L
The course treats contact and conflict between Christians, Muslims, and Jews in the premodern Mediterranean world. Within the framework of broad political and economic developments, the course explores a range of topics, including holy war, slavery, religious polemics, colonialism, the commerce in goods and ideas, and ethnic relations. Recommended preparation: HIS220 or NMC273 or some medieval history

JHP304Y1 Ukraine: Politics, Economy and Society (formerly JHP204Y1)
The history of Ukraine from earliest times to the present. Economic, political, and cultural movements; Kievan Rus’, Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth, Cossack state, national revival, twentieth century statehood, and unification. (Given by the Departments of History and Political Science) Exclusion: JHP204Y1

HIS305H1 Popular Culture and Politics in the Modern Caribbean 26L
This course examines the connections between popular culture and politics in the modern Caribbean. Aspects of popular culture such as sport, religion, and social constructions of gender will be discussed. The impact of post-war migration, race and racial nationalism and the upheavals of the 1960s on popular culture in the Caribbean will also be themes. Prerequisite: HIS294Y1

HIS306H1 Culture, Society and Gender in England, 1560-1730 (formerly HIS306Y1)
Some of the main themes in English political, social, religious and intellectual history in the 17th century: the origins, character, and consequences of the English Civil War, the nature and effects of social change, and the changing role of religious forces in society. Exclusion: HIS306Y1

Recommended preparation: HIS238H1

HIS309H1 The European Reformations 39L
What happens when a culture changes its religious organization and beliefs? Social and intellectual upheavals beginning in fifteenth century Europe created the split between Catholic and Protestant Christians and reshaped the spiritual and political landscape of sixteenth-century Europe. Issues covered include religion and politics, toleration, gender, popular piety, class. Prerequisite: HIS 243H / VICT 240Y or permission of the instructor

HIS311Y1 Introduction to Canadian International Relations 52L, 13T
Canadian international affairs in a broader context: Anglo-American as well as Canadian-American relations; the European background to questions such as the League of Nations, appeasement and rearmament, which directly affected Canada without this country being consulted. Recommended preparation:Varies from year to year

HIS498H1 Independent Studies TBA 499Y1

These courses assume the form of an undergraduate thesis. Students must find an appropriate supervisor from the Department, receive approval for the project, and submit an Independent Studies ballot. Students must be enrolled in either a History Specialist or Major program, with a B+ average in no less than 4 HIS courses, or with special permission of the instructor. Applications must be received in September for first session courses; in December for second session courses.

The history and philosophy of science and technology cuts across traditional disciplines of the sciences and the humanities. HPS courses treat the sciences and technology, including mathematics and medicine, as being historically and philosophically significant in themselves, and also as being integral components of the general development of knowledge, culture, and society. The undergraduate courses serve to introduce the student to this discipline, and also to provide a wider context for understanding science and technology. All courses have a substantial historical component, and many deal with philosophical, sociological and related issues. For example, students of history will find courses in the history of science to be an important part of social and intellectual history, while students of economic history may be especially interested in the history of technology. For philosophy students, history of science courses form a natural adjunct to issues in the theory of knowledge, philosophy of science and history of philosophy. Students of the humanities with particular interests in the physical or biological sciences, technology, engineering, mathematics, or medicine will naturally be interested in HPS courses, and students in these scientific disciplines will benefit from the broad historical and philosophical perspective on their studies that HPS courses can provide.

Some students may wish to plan their entire programs around a core of HPS courses. The Major program listed is suitable training for medical school, the law, elementary and secondary school teaching, museum and library work, science writing and editing, and other fields where competence in both science and humanities is valuable. Students considering graduate study in this field should seek direction from an IHPST faculty member. For more information consult the IHPST Undergraduate Handbook, available at the Institute.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology Programs

Enrolment in the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology programs requires the completion of four courses; GPA of 1.7 required.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology (Arts program)

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

Admission requires GPA of 1.7 and continuation in the program requires maintenance of a GPA of 2.3

1. One course in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator. It is recommended that it include a laboratory or practical component; HIS109Y1
2. HPS210H1; HPS211H1; HPS250H1; HPS350H1; HPS201H1/202H1
3. One additional course at HPS300+ level
4. Two 200+H science half courses; 300+ science half course; HIS200+ series half course/CLA203H1/CLA206H1

Recommended preparation: HPS100H1. It is further recommended that the first HPS courses taken (other than HPS100H1) be HPS210H1 and HPS211H1

All the specialist, major, and minor programs listed below will no longer be offered.

Students admitted to these programs prior to September 2004 may complete their programs as described below.

History and Philosophy of Science (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(11.5 full courses or their equivalent)

1. Three 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HPS 200Y1/(210H1 + 211H1), 250H1; PHL 210Y1, 245H1
3. 2.5 additional HPS courses. Students may substitute courses in the history of science or the history of thought offered in other departments for up to two courses, with approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
4. Four PHLI/PHI half-courses in epistemology, logic and formal semantics, philosophy of science
5. One additional 400 series HPS/PHL course. Of the other HPS/PHL courses, three must be 300+ series
History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)
1. Two 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HPS 200Y1/(210H1 + 211H1), 250H1, PHL 210Y1, 245H1
3. One 300+ series PHL course in epistemology, logic, and formal semantics, philosophy of science
4. One other HPS 300+ series course

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. HPS 200Y1/(210H1 + 211H1), 250H1; PHL 210Y1, 255H1
2. One HPS/PHL 300+ series course

History of Science and Technology (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent)
1. Two 100+ series and three 200+ series courses in science, choices subject to approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. HIS 109Y1 plus one other course in history, choice subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
3. Three HPS courses, of which two may be courses in history of science offered by another department, subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
4. CLA 203H1 will be treated as an HPS course
5. One HPS 400-series course

Note:
At least three of the above ten courses must be 300+ series

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)
1. Two 200+ series courses in science or technology, choices subject to approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator
2. Five HPS courses, at least two of which must be 300+ series courses; up to two courses in history or the history of science offered in other departments may be substituted with the approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator

Minor program:
(4 HPS full courses or their equivalent)
Four HPS courses, of which at least one must a 300+ series course. One course may be replaced by a course in the history of science offered by another department, but requires approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator.

History and Philosophy of Science and Technology Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), some HPS courses are cross-listed; check individual course descriptions.

HPS100H1 Introduction to History and Philosophy of Science
An investigation of some pivotal periods in the history of science with an emphasis on the influences of philosophy on the scientists of the period, and the philosophical and social implications of the scientific knowledge, theory and methodology that emerged.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS201H1 Origins of Western Technology 26L, 13T
Technology and its place in our culture from Antiquity to the beginnings of the Industrial Revolution. Relations between technology and science, religion, the arts, social institutions, and political beliefs.
This is a Humanities course

HPS202H1 Technology in the Modern World 26L, 13T
A survey of technical change and its social implications from the Industrial Revolution to the present.
Recommended preparation: HPS201H1
This is a Humanities course

HPS210H1 Scientific Revolutions I 26L, 13T
Case studies in the history of science from antiquity to 1800, including the revolutionary work of Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Newton, Linnaeus, Lavoisier, and Herschel. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course
Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS211H1 Scientific Revolutions II 26L, 13T
Case studies in the history of science from 1800 to 2000, including Volta, Lyell, Darwin, Mendel, Einstein, Schrödinger, Watson, and Crick. The course is designed to be accessible to science students and non-scientists alike.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course
Exclusion: HPS200Y1

HPS250H1 Introductory Philosophy of Science 26L, 13T
This course critically examines several influential models of science and ideas of objectivity, rationality, theory change, revolution in science and the growth of scientific knowledge.
(Prerequisite for HPS350H and a suitable pre-cursor to PHL355H1)
Exclusion: NMC379H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS255H1 Science and Technology in the Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part I: The Mathematical Sciences and their Practical Applications 26L, 13T
First part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of the exact sciences, including mathematics, astronomy, optics, and cartography.
Exclusion: NMC379H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS256H1 Science and Technology in the Realms of Islam, 600-1600, Part II: The Life Sciences 26L, 13T
Second part of a series on the history of science and technology in the Islamic world. History of biological and life sciences, including history of medicine, botany, agriculture, and alchemy.
Exclusion: NMC379H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course
History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

HPS299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 40 for details.

HPS300H1 Topics in History and Philosophy of Science and Technology
Topics vary year to year.
This is a Humanities course

HPS306H1 Technology and War 26L, 13T
An examination of the tools of war in the Western world from the Middle Ages to World War II, including not only weapons but the means of transportation, communication, and organization used in violent conflict. The effects of war on the development of science and technology.
Exclusion: HPS417H1
Recommended preparation: HPS201H1/202H1 or any HIS course
This is a Humanities course

HPS307H1 History of Energy 26L, 13T
The history of human control of various sources of energy, including technical developments, scientific theories, and impact on culture and society. Recent debates on fossil fuel and nuclear power examined in historical context.
Recommended preparation: HPS201H1/202H1 or any HIS course
This is a Humanities course

HPS311H1 History of Physics 13S
Topics in the history of physics from antiquity to the 20th century, including Aristotelian physics, Galileo, Descartes, electromagnetism, thermodynamics, statistical mechanics, relativity, quantum physics, and particle physics. The development of theories in their intellectual and cultural contexts.
Prerequisite: At least one PHY course at university level
This is a Humanities or Science course

HPS312H1 History of Chemistry 13S
The emergence of the modern discipline of chemistry from 1785 to 1939. Seminar discussions focus on key papers of important Historical analysis of the interplay between theory and practice, and of the dynamics of scientific communities.
Prerequisite: At least one CHM course at university level
This is a Humanities or Science course

HPS313H1 Two Hundred Years of Electricity 26L
A history of the science and technology in the 19th and 20th centuries in its social, economic, and cultural context.
This is a Humanities or Science course

HPS318H1 History of Medicine I 26L, 13T
A survey of medical theory and practice from Antiquity to the Renaissance, with emphasis on medicine's social, cultural and political setting.
Exclusion: HPS314Y1
This is a Humanities course

HPS319H1 History of Medicine II 26L, 13T
A survey of medical theory and practice from the 17th century to the modern welfare state, with emphasis on medicine's social, cultural and political setting.
Exclusion: HPS314Y1;315H1
This is a Humanities course

HPS322H1 Complexity, Order, and Emergence
This course surveys recent developments in the sciences of complex adaptive systems and their implications for evolutionary biology and cognitive science. Topics covered may include: complex systems dynamics, artificial life, order and adaptiveness, self-organisation in biology and cognitive development, gene regulation and organismal development, genetic algorithms and the evolution of language.
This is a Humanities course.

HPS323H1 Darwinism 26L, 13T
A close examination of the theory advanced in Darwin's Origin of Species, including historical investigation of its development in European thought in general and in Darwin's mind in particular, and the logic and strategy of Darwin's argument. Consideration of the effect of evolutionary ideas on science, religion and social thought in the 19th and 20th centuries, including eugenics, the Scopes trial and sociobiology.
Exclusion: ZOO354Y1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS324H1 Natural Science and Social Issues 26L, 13T
Historical examination of the interactions of science (both as body of knowledge and as enterprise) with ideological, political and social issues. The impact of science; attacks on and critiques of scientific expertise as background to contemporary conflicts. Subjects may vary according to students' interests.
This is a Humanities course

HPS326H1 History of Science and Religion 13S, 13T
From its origins in the Renaissance, modern science has developed in the context of European religious beliefs and institutions. Although cases of conflict like Galileo or the “Monkey Trial” are famous, more common are cases of scientists like Newton or Faraday whose religious convictions were crucial to their scientific success.
This is a Humanities course

HPS328H1 Environment, Science and Crisis 13S
The environmental movement has been driven by a sense of impending disaster. This course asks how such appeals function on a socio-political level, while also investigating the complex relationship between environmental science and environmental movements. Using methods from science studies, we ask what tools are required for ecologically responsible action.
Recommended preparation: Background in HPS or Environmental Studies
This is a Humanities course

HPS333H1 Topics in History of Biology 26L, 13T
Classic episodes from the history of physiology, cell theory, embryology, genetics, and molecular biology, including the work of Aristotle, Galen, Harvey, Descartes, Roux, Mendel, Morgan, Watson and Crick.
Exclusion: ZOO354Y1
Prerequisite: HPS323H1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course

HPS343H1 History of Pre-Electronic Computing 26L
Computing technology from Chaldean astronomy to the advent of British and U.S. mass production of electronic mainframes in 1953. Emphasis will be on uses and users, especially on great figures from Babbage through von Neumann, but hardware descriptions will also be featured.
This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

HPS344H1 History of Mainframe Computing 26L
Covers the period from mass production in 1953 to the emergence of minicomputers around 1969. Beginnings of History and Philosophy of Science and Technology

software and services industries, networking, university computer science. Emphasis on international developments. This counts as a Humanities or Science Course.

HPS350H1  Revolution in Science  13S
A philosophical examination of a cluster of issues concerning the phenomenon of revolution in the natural sciences. Discussion will focus on the suggestion that revolutionary ferment is seeded by novelty (a new theory, set of theorems, device, experimental practice, etc.), which will be assessed against the background of a few canonical historical episodes. Prerequisite: HPS250H1 or permission of the instructor. This is a Humanities course.

PHL355H1  Philosophy of Science
See "Philosophy".

HPS360H1  History of Modern Cosmology  26L, 13T
Conceptions of the universe since 1800 with attention to observational sources of changing ideas. History of large telescopes, stellar spectroscopy and radio astronomy. Relativistic conceptions of space and time, models of stellar evolution, discovery of extra-galactic nebulae, Hubble red-shift and microwave background radiation. Philosophical and religious implications are examined. This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

HPS390H1  History of Mathematics  26L, 13T
up to 1700
A survey of ancient, medieval, and early modern mathematics with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years) Exclusion: 310Y1; MAT220Y1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

HPS391H1  History of Mathematics  26L, 13T
after 1700
A survey of the development of mathematics from 1700 to the present with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years) Exclusion: 310Y1; MAT220Y1
This counts as a Humanities or Science course.

HPS410H1  History of Mathematics  26S
An historical survey from pre-Greek to the present. Various themes are emphasized year to year; to show mathematics as changing and evolving. A student could expect to gain an historical overview as well as a sense of the unity of the mathematical sciences. Prerequisite: HPS309Y1/310Y1/390H1/391H1/MAT220Y1 and permission of instructor. This is a Humanities course.

HPS412H1  History of the Biological Sciences  26S
Advanced level survey of biological science from ancient Greece to the 20th century emphasizing primary sources analyses. Prerequisite: HPS 200Y1/(210H1 + 211H1)/ZOO354Y1/HPS323H1/HPS333H1 and permission of instructor. Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1/European history/Philosophy. This is a Humanities course.

HPS427H1  Historical Foundations of Chemistry  26S
The development of chemistry from the Chemical Revolution of Lavoisier to the periodic table of Mendeleev: electro-chemistry, the rise of organic chemistry, classification, valency, structural chemistry. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. This is a Humanities course.

HPS430H1  History of Technology I  26S
An advanced survey of the history of technology from Antiquity to the Industrial Revolution. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Recommended preparation: HPS201H1/202H1. This is a Humanities course.

HIS431H1  History of Technology II  26S
An advanced survey of the history of technology from the Industrial Revolution to modern times. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Recommended preparation: HPS201H1/202H1. This is a Humanities course.

HPS495Y1  Individual Studies  TBA
A reading and research project in some aspect of history of science and technology, supervised by a faculty member. Projects must be approved by the Institute and are subject to availability of a faculty supervisor. Prerequisite: Two HPS courses. This is a Humanities course.

HPS496H1// Individual Studies  TBA
497H1
A reading and research project in some aspect of the social, cultural or intellectual history of science and technology, supervised by a faculty member. Projects must be approved by the Institute by the previous June for a Fall course or by November for a Spring course, and are subject to availability of a faculty supervisor. Prerequisite: Two HPS courses.

The courses offered at Innis College are integral to its three academic programs: Cinema Studies; Urban Studies; Writing and Rhetoric.

Cinema Studies
Cinema Studies treats film primarily as a unique and powerful art form with its own traditions, history, conventions, and techniques. Understanding film, its properties, methods, aesthetics, and its impact on culture and society, is the basis of Cinema Studies. The Program provides a wide variety of approaches: the history and development of cinema; film theory and critical analysis; the study of genres, national cinemas, and the works of individual masters of cinema; and the examination of film in relation to other arts and academic fields.

Further details are available on the Cinema Studies website [www.utoronto.ca/cinema].

Enquiries: Deborah Ohab, Program Assistant, (416-978-5809), d.ohab@utoronto.ca

Environmental Studies – See Environment (Centre for)
The Environmental Studies Program, formerly based at Innis College, has been amalgamated into the new Centre for Environment as of July 1st, 2005.

Urban Studies
Urban Studies at Innis College provides students with the tools to make sense of their urban world. The Program examines the complex and dynamic relations among institutions, people, and physical form that create, sustain, or destroy cities.

The Program is suited for those students who wish to study cities using several disciplinary approaches. It is also of interest to those students who wish to become involved in urban issues in Toronto. The Program offers an internship in the office of a municipal politician, non-profit research group, or other government organization as part of its third-year course and extensive field research in the fourth-year seminar.

Because urban issues are so varied, a Major or Minor in Urban Studies combines well with Specialists or Majors in many other areas. Students are advised to consult the Program Director when designing programs that meet their particular interests. The Program encourages students to take advantage of the Study Elsewhere Program at the University of Toronto to broaden their knowledge of cities.

Enquiries: Innis College Secretary, (416-978-7023), urban.studies@utoronto.ca

Writing and Rhetoric
The Minor Program in Writing and Rhetoric is built on a foundation of Innis College courses that cover academic essay writing, rhetoric, critical thinking, creative writing, media analysis, and writing in the workplace. The Program also draws on relevant University of Toronto courses in a range of disciplines. The Program’s design reflects three interrelated themes.

Writing:
This discipline involves more than instruction in composition skills. Writing is related to rhetoric, logic, reasoning, and critical thinking. One of the main goals of the Program is to ensure that students graduate with a solid grounding in various modes of writing and with highly developed transferable skills.

Rhetoric:
One of the oldest disciplines in the liberal arts, rhetoric as a contemporary discipline focuses on the influence of discourse on social forces. For the purposes of this Program, rhetoric will, broadly speaking, signify the patterns of communication identifiable in a variety of disciplines and environments.

Critical Analysis:
One of the tenets of the Program is shared by many of the University’s Arts and Science disciplines: that problem-solving and creative, persuasive, and effective writing depend on the ability to analyze discourse critically.

Other Innis College Courses
INI299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.
To study Italian is not only to acquire a language, but also to study a rich literature and many-sided culture which have played an important, and sometimes dominant, role in Western civilization. For Canadians, the Italian contribution bears a special significance: the vast influx of Italians has brought changes in our way of life and a living presence to reinforce traditional Italian influences, thus enriching the meaning of the term Canadian.

Italian combines well with other modern languages and literatures, and other programs such as European Studies, Literary Studies, and Mediaeval and Renaissance Studies, but is by no means restricted to these. Students may choose from Specialist, Major and Minor programs in Italian Studies.

Italian courses are offered for beginners as well for students with an Italian background. Oral practice is included in all language courses. Students well qualified in the Italian language may be excused from language courses in First Year (please see the Undergraduate Coordinator). 300- and 400-series courses are available to qualified third- and fourth-year students and may be taken concurrently. These courses offer a wide range of options in language, literature and linguistics. Except for specialists and majors, it is not necessary to take language courses in the 300- and 400-series, but language courses may be taken without literature courses. In addition, there are courses in culture, cinema and theatre that have no language requirement.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, ITA courses may be taken in Italy at the University of Siena during July and August. A number of bursaries are available. Students may apply to take their Third Year in Italy under the Study Elsewhere program in conjunction with the International Student Exchange Office.

Latin American Studies at the University of Toronto (LAS@UofT) is a programme for students in the social sciences, humanities and sciences who seek a deeper understanding of the Latin American regions, their histories, cultures and societies. LAS@UofT seeks to inspire knowledge and experience across the University's three-campus community and beyond. The programme's courses encourage students to complement special interests in fields such as Anthropology, Political Science, Geography, History or Sociology with a broader interdisciplinary framework, while at the same time committing themselves to an emphasis upon the languages and the historical and cultural experiences of Spanish and Portuguese America.

LAS@UofT exists to bring together the energy and insights of a multi-disciplinary collection of individuals and units, to develop innovative courses and to stimulate exchange. The programme's research and pedagogical mission encompasses everything from the ancient American civilizations and the ideas, peoples and commodities that came together and emerged within a wide Iberian world, through the archaeology, geography, history, languages, literatures, politics, societies and cultures of the Latin American regions and countries, to the natural sciences and transnational investigation of Latin Americans and their descendants in Canada and elsewhere.

2. Language: Students must successfully complete (with a grade of at least 65%) the first two levels of instruction in the Spanish or Portuguese language by the end of the third year of study (SPA100Y1 then SPA220Y1; or SPA319 [for heritage-speakers, and viewed by the programme as an equivalent of SPA 220Y1]; PRT100Y1/PRT110Y1 then PRT220Y1 ), or demonstrate equivalent proficiency in the given language through examination by LAS@UofT before the end of the second year.

Latin American Studies Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), LAS courses are classified in different categories; check individual course descriptions.

LAS200Y1
Latin America: History, Civilization and Culture
An introductory course that studies the development of societies in the Latin American region from its pre-Columbian past to its heterogeneous present. Cultural, geographical, historical, literary, political and social topics will be examined combining traditional historical narratives and supporting documents with art, cinema, music and other texts from popular culture and mass media. This course is open to students in at least their second year of undergraduate study. It provides both a broad foundation, and an invitation to delve deeper in further courses and in different disciplinary concentrations.
Exclusion: IAS200Y1
This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

LAS300H1
Topics in the Social Sciences
(Latina/o Identity in Canada)
This issue-oriented seminar explores the construction of Latina/o identity in Canada from an interdisciplinary perspective. We look to generate knowledge and understanding about: 1) the manner in which Latina/o diasporas have been constructed through historical and socio-political processes such as exile, migration, immigration, and the ways in which they are articulated within transnational processes of capital accumulation and the redefinitions of ‘authentic’ national subjecthood and, 2) the ways in which Latinidad emerges both within Latina/o communities and in relation to the Canadian nation and transnational realities.
Prerequisite: IAS200Y1/LAS200Y1
This is a Social Science Course

LAS301H1
Topics in the Humanities
(Postcolonial Imaginary in Latin America)
The issue of Latin America’s postcolonial status is a controversial debate. We will explore this question through the analysis of the Latin American social imaginary. The most relevant events currently taking place in Latin America will be studied in relation to the most notable expressions of resistance originating in the 19th and 20th centuries. Critical texts will provide the theoretical basis for the discussion of films and related texts. We will pay particular attention to works of Simón Bolívar, José Martí, Che Guevara, Pablo Neruda, Rigoberta Menchú, Subcomandante Marcos, Sergei Eisenstein, Walter Salles, Tomás Gutiérrez Alea, and others.
Although class discussions will be conducted in English, a reading knowledge of Spanish is required. The films will be scheduled for viewing outside of class.
Prerequisite: IAS200Y1/LAS200Y1
This is a Humanities course.
LAS400H1  Topics in Latin American Studies I  26S
(Gender, Migration and Globalization)
An in-depth exploration of specific themes in the study of Latin America. Designed especially for students in their third or fourth year of undergraduate study, pursuing an LAS Major. Special topics will vary; emphasis upon discussion of common readings and sources in a seminar format.
Prerequisite: IAS200Y1/LAS200Y1 plus at least one other course eligible for LAS programme credit.
Note: please see LAS@UofT web site for more details on this course.
The following Life Science departments and programs are included in this section:

- Biochemistry
- Biology
- Botany
- Cell & Systems Biology
- Ecology & Evolutionary Biology
- Human Biology
- Immunology
- Laboratory Medicine & Pathobiology
- Molecular Genetics & Microbiology
- Neuroscience
- Nutritional Sciences
- Pharmacology & Toxicology
- Pharmaceutical Chemistry
- Physiology
- Psychology
- Zoology

Many of the life science programs listed in this section are collaborative programs given by the Faculty of Arts and Science and departments in the Faculty of Medicine. The Life Sciences all focus on the scientific study of life. The study of biological processes has enormous importance for:

- Understanding one's own body and those of other organisms sharing our planet, both in health and sickness;
- Analysing the behaviour of humans and other organisms;
- Understanding the interdependent web of living organisms on the planet, and their evolutionary relationships;
- Preparing for ethical, social and political questions arising from our increasing ability to modify living systems;
- Enhancing our ability to protect the delicate and complex ecological balance that sustains this world.

Today, the biological sciences are experiencing a revolution. Important discoveries occur almost weekly as scientists and students around the world develop and use techniques, theories and approaches. Increasingly, we need people with advanced knowledge and training who can contribute to these discoveries and their application. Equally, we need people who know enough about life sciences generally to make informed judgements about critical issues such as global warming, population growth, the emergence of drug resistance and new diseases, and the degradation of the environment.

On the St. George campus, undergraduate education in life sciences (as well as graduate education and research) is carried out in departments within the Faculty of Arts and Science and the Faculty of Medicine. Programs offered are:

Minor Programs

- Biology
- Botany
- Physiology
- Psychology
- Zoology

Major Programs

- Biochemistry, Biology, Botany, Life Science (Human Biology), Nutritional Sciences, Pharmacology, Physiology, Psychology, Toxicology, Zoology

Specialist Programs

- Behaviour (Ecology & Evolutionary Biology), Biochemistry, Biogeography (Geography), Biological Chemistry (Chemistry), Bioinformatics & Computational Biology (Biochemistry), Biology, Biophysics (Physics), Botany, Comparative Animal Physiology (Cell & Systems Biology), Developmental Biology (Cell & Systems Biology), Ecology (Ecology & Evolutionary Biology), Environment and Health (Division of the Environment), Evolutionary Biology (Ecology & Evolutionary Biology), Genetics and Biotechnology (Human Biology), Global Health (Human Biology), Health and Disease (Human Biology), Human Behavioural Biology (Human Biology), Immunology, Molecular Genetics & Microbiology, Molecular Plant Biology (Cell & Systems Biology), Neuroscience, Pathobiology, Pharmaceutical Chemistry, Pharmacology, Physiology, Psychology, Psychology Research, Toxicology, Zoology.

Admission to all programs occurs after completion of first year (minimum 4.0 credits) or second year (minimum 8.0 credits). Admission to some specialist programs is limited. Please see individual program listings for admission criteria and procedures.

Check the Registration Handbook and Timetable’s “Enrol in a Subject POSt” section for further details.

For those with career goals in health science, please see the “Admission to Other University Programs” section under “Admission” in this Calendar.

Animal Use in Laboratories

Laboratory investigations are part of life science programs at the University of Toronto. Programs in life sciences at the University of Toronto include courses that involve observation, handling, or experimentation on animals or on samples derived from animals. The use of animals in teaching and research is regulated by ethical and procedural guidelines and protocols. These are approved on an ongoing basis by the University Animal Care Committee, and follow provincial and federal government rules. We recognize, however, that some students may have strong reservations about personal exposure to any use of animal material in teaching. Students who want to avoid registration in programs or courses that include such labs are, therefore, encouraged to check in advance with the departments involved.
Anatomy is the science that explores the relationship between the structure and function of living things. The discipline of anatomy includes Gross Anatomy, Histology, Neuroanatomy, Embryology, and Developmental Biology. Courses offered by the Division give the essentials of these subjects.

NRS202H1 Neuroanatomy
See Life Science: Neuroscience

ANA300Y1 Human Anatomy and Histology 86L, 18P
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ANA301H1 Human Embryology 52L
Human embryology from fertilization to the end of the fetal period. Current concepts in mammalian morphogenesis applied to the development of the various organ systems; etiologies and pathogenesis of some of the more common human congenital abnormalities.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ANA498Y1 Project in Anatomy TBA
A research project in Histology, Cellular or Molecular Biology, Developmental Biology, Neuroanatomy or Gross Anatomy.
Prerequisite: Permission of a professor to supervise the project

Biochemistry is the study of the chemistry of living organisms. Biochemists seek a molecular explanation of life by attempting to understand its underlying principles. Biochemistry is concerned with the relevance of a molecule to an organism and the correlations between its structure and its function.

Modern biochemistry grew out of the application of chemical techniques to biological problems and is the foundation of biological science and medicine. In many ways it combines biology and chemistry but the subject now covers such a broad range of activity that it is difficult to draw a neat border around biochemistry. Some of the most exciting areas of current biochemistry research include:

* structural biology
* enzyme mechanisms
* signal transduction and regulation
* biotechnology
* molecular cell biology
* gene expression and development
* metabolic diseases
* proteomics and bioinformatics
* molecular evolution
* protein folding
* membranes and transport

The Biochemistry Specialist Program is academically oriented and designed to provide students with a fundamental understanding of the theoretical and practical aspects of the discipline. The program offers training in problem solving specifically using a molecular approach. Biochemistry specialists will gain experience in critical thinking and the skills required to evaluate scientific rationale. The Biochemistry Major Program offers students fundamental training in the science and gives each student in the program the chance to combine Biochemistry with another relevant Major Program. This may be within the Life Sciences or Basic Sciences, or may be within the arts. For example, the combination of Biochemistry with Economics or with English could provide students with training relevant to the fields of investment within biotechnology or scientific journalism. Students who excel within the Biochemistry Major Program may be offered the chance to enter the Specialist Program at the third year. Frequently students who have completed a B.Sc. in the Specialist Program continue their studies in graduate programs in Biochemistry and other Life Sciences. Graduates from either the Specialist or Major Programs may find employment in research and teaching. Employers include universities and colleges, government laboratories, clinical biochemistry laboratories, forensic laboratories, pharmaceutical companies, biotechnology companies, and many other industries. Skills learned in the Biochemistry Specialist and Major Programs are also helpful in other areas such as marketing, finance, and law. Some biochemistry graduates continue their studies in medicine, dentistry or other health related programs.

Biochemistry Programs

Biochemistry (Science Program)
The Biochemistry Specialist Program is a Type 3 program. Enrolment is limited and selection is based on performance in First Year courses. Typically, students considered for entrance into the Specialist Program have a GPA greater than 3.0. Students apply via the Faculty's Subject POSt web site. See the departmental web site at www.biochemistry.utoronto.ca for more information.

Specialist Program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)
First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1/(CHM 138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 (PHY 138Y1 recommended)
Second Year:
BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 220H1, 247H1/249H1
Third Year:
1. BCH 335H1, 340H1, 371H1; MGY 311Y1
2. CHM 345H1/347H1
3. One full-course equivalent from the following list:
   Any 300-level course(s) in BIO/BOT/CHM/HMB/IMM/LMP/MGY/PCL/PSL/ZOO/BIO 260H1/CHM 217H1/CHM 220H1/CHM 447H1/JBI 428H1 ("NOTE: JBI 428H1 has IMM 334Y/335Y1 as prerequisite)
Fourth Year:
1. BCH 471Y1
2. Four of: BCH 422H1/425H1/426H1/440H1/441H1/CHM 447H1/JBI 428H1/MGY 420H1/425H1

Major Program
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 400-series half year courses as noted below)
The Biochemistry Major program is a Type 3 program. Only students with a GPA of 2.5 or higher will be considered for entrance into the Major program. Enrollment is limited and selection is based upon performance in First Year courses. Students may combine this Biochemistry Major with another suitable Major within Science, Humanities, or Social Sciences.
First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM 151Y1 (CHM 138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1
Second Year:
BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 247H1/249H1
Third Year:
1. BCH 370H1
2. PSL 350H1/BIO 349H1 (*NOTE: BIO 349H1 has BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1 as prerequisite)
3. One full-course equivalent from the following list:
   Any 300-level course(s) in BIO/BOT/CHM/HMB/IMM/LMP/MGY/PCL/PSL/ZOO/BIO 260H1/CHM 217H1/CHM 220H1/CHM 304H1 (departmental approval required)
Fourth Year:
Two of: BCH 422H1/425H1/426H1/440H1/441H1/445H1/CHM 447H1/JBI 428H1 (*NOTE: JBI 428H1 has IMM 334Y/335Y1 as prerequisite)

Bioinformatics and Computational Biology
If we were to choose the single most important scientific advance of the last century, it would be the iconisation in the image of the double helix of DNA and its implied duality: life propagates as pure information, which is encoded in physical molecules. Molecular biology is an information science as much as it is a physical science. Bioinformatics devises methods to make biological information computable - to abstract properties of molecules, cellular systems and biological organisms, to efficiently store and retrieve the very large volumes of data that are being accumulated, to support sensitive comparisons and to mine the data with sophisticated statistical tools. Computational biology is the bioinformatics' goal: to advance our understanding of life through computational analysis, modeling, and prediction. However, integrating the two cultures of computer science and life science has been a challenge, and a bottleneck for progress has emerged from a lack of dually qualified researchers.

The Bioinformatics and Computational Biology specialist program is designed to provide a balance between its foundational subjects and to cover advanced topics in both the theoretical and the life-sciences. It aims to train the generalist, who will become creative at the intersection of two fields, rather than pursue their subspecialization. The program draws on the University's state-of-the-art facilities across several departments, as well as being firmly embedded in a comprehensive landscape of graduate and postgraduate research in one of the University's priority areas. Graduates of the program would typically pursue graduate studies in any of the participating departments: Computer Science (from the biocomputing stream, see below), Biochemistry, Botany or Zoology (from the bioanalyst stream). Important advances in the computer sciences have been motivated by these needs and there is virtually no field in the life-sciences and in molecular medicine that does not critically depend on insightful data analysis.

Bioinformatics and Computational Biology (Science Program)

The Bioinformatics and Computational Biology Program is jointly sponsored by the Departments of Biochemistry, Botany, Computer Science and Zoology. Enrollment is limited and selection is based on performance in the required first year courses.

Specialist program:
(16.5 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
MAT135Y1 / MAT137Y1 / MAT157Y1; (CSC107H1/CSC108H1, CSC148H1)/CSC150H1; CSC165H1; CHM151Y1 / (CHM138H1, CHM139H1); BIO150Y1; writing requirement (0.5 credit, see Note 2 to Comprehensive Program in Computer Science)

Second Year:
MAT223H1 / MAT240H1; STA247H1; STA248 H1; CSC207H1; CSC236H1 / CSC240H1; BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1

Third Year:
CSC263H1 / CSC265H1; CSC321H1 / CSC343H1; CSC373H1 / CSC375H1; BCH441H1 / BIO472H1; MGY311Y1 / (BIO260H1, BIO349H1)

Fourth Year:
Bio Analyst Stream (preparation for life-science graduate programs)
BCB410H1; BCB420H1; CSC411H1; five half credits from (BCB430Y1, BCH335H1, BCH340H1, MGY311Y1 / (BIO260H1, BIO349H1)

Bio Computing Stream (preparation for computer-science graduate programs)
BCB410H1; BCB420H1; CSC411H1; CSC336H1 / CSC350H1; one half credit from (MGY420H1, MGY425H1, MBY428H1, BCH422H1, BCH426H1, BCH440H1, MGY460H1, BIO460H1, BIO473H1, BOT421H1, BOT450H1, BOT458H1)

Bioinformatics & Computational Biology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

Biochemistry Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BCH courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

BCB299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

BCH210H1 Introductory Biochemistry 39L, 26T
An introductory course in biochemistry covering proteins, enzymes, and metabolism. This course is intended for students who are NOT taking BCH242Y1 as part of their program. Exclusion: BCH242Y1/310H1/320Y1/321Y1/CHM265H5(UTM)/361H5(UTM)/362H5(UTM)
Prerequisite: (CHM138H1, 139H1)

NOTE
CHM & SCI DO NOT EQUAL CHM138/139.
WE CANNOT COUNT THEM AS PREREQUISITES FOR BIOCHEMISTRY COURSES.

BCH242Y1 Biochemistry 78L
An introduction to biochemistry for students specializing in biochemistry and related specialist programs. The major topics include protein structure, enzyme mechanisms, carbohydrates, metabolism and bioenergetics, lipids, membranes, structure of DNA and RNA. Exclusion: BCH210H1/310H1/320Y1/321Y1/CHM265H5(UTM)/361H5(UTM)/362H5(UTM)
Prerequisite: (CHM138H1, 139H1)

BCH304H1 Cell Dynamics & Interactions 28L, 11T
Principles and concepts of cell biology; structure, molecular organization and dynamic cell-cell and cell-extracellular matrix interactions during cell migration, cell adhesion, cell polarity and tissue organization and the role of cytoskeletal components and cell surface receptors in these processes. Approaches and imaging techniques used; contributions of cell biology to advances in medicine. Exclusion: ANA304Y1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210H1/242Y1

BCH335H1 Nucleic Acids and Recombinant DNA Technology 39L
Structure of DNA and RNA. Catalytic RNAs (ribozymes). Aspects of DNA topology and chromatin structure. Restriction modification and fundamentals of recombinant DNA technology. Exclusion: BCH430H1
Prerequisite: BCH242Y1
BCH340H1  Proteins: from Structure to Proteomics  39L
Proteins are the main functional units of the cell. In this course, a detailed overview of protein structure, stability, folding, and protein-ligand interactions will be given with strong emphasis on discussing the basic principles in the field. Biophysical methods as well as theoretical approaches to studying protein stability and folding will be presented. Finally, proteomics approaches to map protein-protein interactions will be discussed.
Exclusion: BCH421H1
Prerequisite: BCH242Y1

BCH370H1  Laboratory Course in Biochemical Techniques  13L, 39P
Techniques in biochemical research and analytical laboratories. Intended for students who are not proceeding further in biochemistry. It is highly recommended that students take this course in their third year as space is limited and priority will go to third-year students. No enrolment will be permitted five days after the start of class. (Enrolment limited)
Exclusion: BCH371H1, CHM379H1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1

BCH371H1  A Laboratory Course in Biochemistry  75P
An introduction to laboratory techniques of modern biochemistry. Experiments illustrate and develop the concepts described in lecture courses, and prepare the student for advanced training in biochemical laboratory techniques.
(Enrolment limited)
Exclusion: BCH370H1, CHM379H1
Prerequisite: BCH242Y1

Note
Students who have completed University of Toronto at Mississauga’s CHM361H5 and 362H5 may enrol in 400-series lecture courses if they obtain permission of the Department

BCH422H1  Membrane Proteins: Structure, and Function  26L
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, MGY311Y1/BIO349H1/PSL350H1

BCH425H1  Structural Biology: Principles and Practice  26L
Theory and practice of modern biophysical techniques as applied in the study of structure and function of macromolecules; emphasis on protein X-ray crystallography, NMR, and other spectroscopic methods; discussion of selected examples.
Prerequisite: BCH 210H1/242Y1

BCH426H1  Regulation of Signalling Pathways  26L
A variety of questions relating to signal transduction are investigated. How is calcium regulated in the cell and how does calcium regulate cell function? How are extracellular signals received and transmitted by intracellular proteins to control cellular proliferation and differentiation? What signaling paths are triggered by insulin?
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, MGY311Y1/BIO349H1/PSL350H1

JBI428H1  Molecular Immunology  26L
Molecular mechanisms involved in innate and adaptive immunity including the structure and function of immunoglobulins, the complement system, antigen processing and presentation and membrane signalling events. Emphasis is on experimental approaches and quantitative aspects. (Given jointly by the Departments of Biochemistry and Immunology)
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, IMM334Y1/335Y
Recommended preparation: BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/PSL350H1

BCH440H1  Protein Biosynthesis  26L
Mechanisms of translation initiation and translational control, ribosome assembly and structure. Protein folding and molecular chaperones. Protein targeting and transport. Regulation of protein degradation.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, MGY311Y1/BIO349H1/PSL350H1

BCH441H1  Bioinformatics  26L, 13T
This course covers the use of computers in biochemistry and molecular biology. The main topics include: structure and organization of sequence databases, genome databases, sequences alignment and search strategies, molecular evolution and methods for constructing phylogenetic trees. Recent advances in comparative genomics and proteomics are presented. Assignments focus on practical applications of web-based bioinformatics tools.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, MGY311Y1/BIO349H1/PSL350H1

BCH445H1  Organelles and Cell Function  26L
Principles and concepts of cell biology are covered including structure, biogenesis, and dynamic behaviour of cell organelles. The roles of sub-nuclear structure in DNA replication and of vesicular transport in endocytosis, exocytosis and phagocytosis are emphasized, as are modern imaging techniques and contributions of cell biology to advances in medicine.
Please note in the past academic session this course was presented as BCH 305H1
Exclusion: ANA304Y1, BCH305H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210H1/242Y1

BCH471Y1  Advanced Biochemistry Laboratory  168P
Experiments demonstrating modern concepts of biochemistry and molecular biology. (Enrolment limited)
Prerequisite: (BCH335H1 + 340H1 + 371H1)/(CHM361H5 [UTM] + 362H5 [UTM] + 371H5 [UTM]) + MGY311Y1

BCH473Y1  Advanced Research Project in Biochemistry  154P
Research in a particular area of biochemistry, by arrangement with the Department and the instructor concerned. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0.
Prerequisite: BCH335H1 + 340H1 + 371H1, and permission of Department
Co-requisite: BCH471Y1
Life Sciences: Biology

Given by Members of the Departments of Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Students are advised to consult courses listed by these Departments.

Biology is the scientific study of life. At no time in history has biology been more visible and important to human life and the future of our planet. The study of biology has vast applications - in understanding one’s own body, in grappling with the ethical questions that face humanity, and in understanding the interdependent web of living organisms on the planet. Today the biological sciences are experiencing a revolution. Important discoveries occur almost weekly as scientists and their students around the world develop and use new techniques, theories, and approaches.

The University of Toronto has many faculty conducting research and teaching courses in the biological sciences. Within the Faculty of Arts and Science, St. George campus, there is no single biology department; instead, biology courses which had been taught by the departments of Botany and Zoology will now be taught by members of the departments Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. Each of these new departments offers its own programs and courses, but also jointly offers Biology programs. Courses are available in the subject areas of behavior, evolution, ecology, cell and molecular biology, genetics, and developmental biology. In addition, there are courses offering a field experience for students. Students should consult the Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology entries in this Calendar.

Because many areas of biology draw on mathematics and the physical sciences, background preparation in mathematics, chemistry and physics is recommended for students pursuing a major or specialist in biology.

Students entering their first year in the life sciences typically take BIO 150Y1. BIO 150Y1 is taken by students who have successfully completed OAC or grade 12 Biology (or an equivalent course) and is a prerequisite for almost all further courses in the life sciences. All students, regardless of campus or Faculty, must abide by the stated course prerequisites and exclusions.

Biology Programs

Enrolment in the Biology programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Note: Other sciences, particularly Chemistry and Mathematics, are essential for most advanced work in Biology.

See also Higher Years Group 1. below. (In selecting 100-series CHM and MAT courses, students should consider prerequisites for courses they intend to take in higher years.)

Higher Years:
1. Any two of CHM (220H1, 247H1)/249H1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1; PSY (201H1, 202H1)/(STA 220H, BIO 225H)/STA (220H1, 221H1)/(STA 220H1, JBS 229H1)/STA (250H1, 255H1)/(STA 257H1, 261H1)

Note: One of the two courses selected here could also be taken in First Year
2. BIO 250Y1, 260H1; BOT 251Y1; ZOO 252Y1
3. One 200+ series half-course from BCH, BIO, BOT, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333HI, JZP, MGY 312H1, ZOO (excluding BOT 202Y1, ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1)
4. One 300+ series BOT course
5. One 300+ series from BIO/HMB 321H1/323H1/333H1/JZP/MGY 312HI; ZOO
6. One additional 400- series BIO/BOT/ ZOO
7. Any 300+ series course in ANA, ANT 436H1, BCH, BIO, BOT, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, IMM, JZP, MGY, PSL, or ZOO

Major program:

(8 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM (138HI, 139HI)/151Y1

Higher Years:
1. BIO 250Y1; BOT 251Y1; ZOO 252Y1
2. One 200+ series course from BCH, BIO, BOT, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333HI, JZP, MGY 312HI, ZOO (excluding BOT 202Y1, ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1)
3. Two 300+ level courses in ANA, BCH, BIO, BOT, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, IMM, JZP, MGY, PSL, or ZOO

Minor program:

(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. BIO 150Y1
2. BIO 250Y1/BOT 251Y1/ZOO 252Y1
3. One course from BIO, BOT (excluding BOT 202Y1), ENV 234Y1, MGY 460H1
4. One course from BIO, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333HI, JZP, MGY 312HI, ZOO (excluding ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1)

Note: One of the courses chosen from 3. or 4. must be at the 300+ level.

Botany (Science program)

Specialist program:
(12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses, including BIO 150Y1 and CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1 and one 100-series course from CSC 108H1, 148H1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1; no minimum GPA is required.

First and Second Years:
1. BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1
2. Two courses from: BCH 210H1; CHM (220H1, 247H1); CSC 108H1, 148H1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1; STA 220H1, (STA 221H1/JBS 229H1)
3. BIO 250Y1, 260H1; BOT 251Y1

Higher Years:
1. ENV 234Y1 or 1.0 courses from: BIO 319H1, 321H1, 323H1, 324H1; BOT 252Y1
2. 2.5 courses from: BIO 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 306H1, 308H1, 328H1, 349H1, 351Y1, 352H1; BOT 300+ series
3. 2.0 courses from: BIO 428H1, 440H1, 472H1, 473H1; BOT 400-series; MGY 460H1

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses, including BIO 150Y1 and CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1 and one course from: CSC 108H1, 148H1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1; no minimum GPA is required.

First Year:
1. BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1
2. One course from: CSC 108H1, 148H1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1

Higher Years:
1. BIO 250Y1; BOT 251Y1
2. One 200+ level course in BCH 210H1, BIO, BOT, ENV 234Y1 (excluding BOT 202Y1)
2. Two courses from: BIO 302H1, 303H1, 305H1, 306H1, 308H1, 328H1, 349H1, 351Y1, 352H1, 428H1, 440H1, 472H1, 473H1; BOT 300+ series; MGY 460H1

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses, including BIO 150Y1; no minimum GPA is required.

1. BIO 150Y1; BOT 251Y1
2. One full course from BIO/BOT/ENV MGY 460H1 (excluding BOT 202Y1)
3. One BOT 300+ level course

Ecology: see Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Evolutionary Biology: see Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Zoology (Science program)

Note

Students in these Programs are encouraged to notify the departments of Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology annually of their course selections, beginning in the Second Year.

Enrolment in the Specialist, Major and Minor programs listed below requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Specialist program:
(12.5 or 13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

1. BIO 150Y1, 250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1 (BIO 260H1 is recommended), ZOO 252Y1
2. CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
3. JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 135Y1 may be required for certain courses)
4. CHM (220H1, 247H1)/249H1/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/(STA 220H1, 221H1)/(STA 220H1, JBS 229H1)/STA (220H1, 221H1)/(STA 220H1, 225H1)/(STA 250H1, 255H1)/(STA 257H1, 261H1)
5. CHM (220H1, 247H1)/249H1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 135Y1 may be required for certain courses)
6. 5.5 courses from ANT 436H1, BIO, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, JZP 312H1, ZOO (except ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1) containing at least 78 hours of lab (field courses are equivalent to 52P). Of the 5.5 courses at least three must be at the 300+ level and one at the 400-level.

Major program:
(7.5 or 8 full courses or their equivalent)

1. BIO 150Y1, 250Y1, ZOO 252Y1
2. CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
3. CHM (220H1, 247H1)/249H1/JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PSY (201H1, 202H1)/STA 220H1, (STA 221H1,JBS 229H1)/STA (250H1, 255H1)/STA (257H1, 261H1)
4. Any other three courses in BIO, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, JZP, MGY 312H1, ZOO (except ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1). At least two courses must be at the 300+ level.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)

1. BIO 150Y1
2. BIO 250Y1/ZOO 252Y1
3. Any two other courses from BIO, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, JZP, MGY 312H1, ZOO (except ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1). One course must be at the 300+ level.
Biology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all BIO and Joint BIO courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

All of the courses listed below will be administered through two new departments as of 1 July 2006. These are Cell and Systems Biology and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. Below indicates which department to go to for each course. Both of these departments are listed under Life Sciences.

The Department of Botany (and the Department of Zoology) will be disestablished as of July 1, 2006, and its faculty, programs and courses will become part of the new departments of Cell and Systems Biology (CSB), and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology (EEB). During the transition period, courses in Biology, Botany, and Zoology that will be administered through CSB are now listed under that department name in the Calendar. The same is true for the courses that apply to EEB. With regard to the programs, please see below for the listing of programs and where you can now find them in the Calendar.

The new Department of Cell and Systems Biology (starting date: July 1, 2006), with its sibling department, Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, has arisen from a reorganization of the previous departments of Botany and Zoology. The study of life, biology, has been transformed in recent decades by powerful new ways of asking fundamental questions about how living organisms work. In particular, molecular approaches are revealing both the incredible complexity of organization at the cellular level, and the underlying principles drawn from chemistry, physics and information science that will eventually enable us to understand that complexity.

The Department of Cell and Systems Biology brings together biologists who study life at the level of molecules to functioning individual organisms. Cell Biology is a vibrant and broad discipline that seeks to understand the underlying molecular processes that control cell behaviour in a developmental and physiological context. In this broad sense, cell biology comprises molecular biology, developmental biology, genetics and physiology and their sub-disciplines. Systems biology is an exciting new discipline that studies dynamic networks in biological systems through the integration of large datasets arising from the genomics revolution. Computer modeling and bioinformatics are integrated with the study of detailed information about genomes (genomics), the temporal and spatial distribution of all gene transcripts (transcriptomics), cellular proteins and their physical interactions (proteomics), and small molecules that cells assimilate or synthesise (metabolomics).

For 2006-7, the courses and programs offered by the previous departments of Botany and Zoology will continue to be available. All students currently pursuing these programs, and those starting in these programs, will be able to complete them. As new programs are developed, students may be able to transfer into them, depending on the courses they have taken.

 Requires 4 and 5 must include a total of at least 4.5 full courses

Molecular Plant Biology (Science program)

Specialist program:
(11.5 or 12 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses, including BIO 150Y1, CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1 and JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1; no minimum GPA is required.

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1/151Y1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1

Second Year:
BCH 210H1, BIO 250Y1, 260H1; BOT 251Y1; CHM 220H1, 247H1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. BOT 458H1; BIO 349H1/MGY 311Y1*; MGY 460H1
2. 3.0 courses from BIO 351Y1, 472H1, 473H1; BOT 301H1, 340H1, 314H1, 350H1, 450H1, 458H1; IMM 334Y1/335Y1, 429H1; JBI 280H1; MGY 312H1, 425H1, 428H1, 451H1, 452H1, 460H1, 470H1; PSL 303Y1, 420H1, ZOO 327H1, 329H1, 330H1, 331H1, 344H1, 442H1

NOTE: no Molecular Plant Biology Major program exists; therefore, a student may qualify for a Botany major after third year.

Cell and Systems Biology Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BIO, BOT and ZOO courses, ENV 234Y1, and JMB 170Y1 are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

BIO 225H1 Biostatistics for Biological Sciences
This course presents biostatistics to students in the life sciences using biological examples where appropriate. Students will learn to choose and use statistics that are appropriate to address relevant biological questions and hypotheses. Lectures and computer labs will be used to cover the following methods: sampling and experimental design, data exploration, correlation, regression, ANOVA, Chi-square and non-parametric tests.
Exclusion: ECO 220Y1/227Y1/GGR 270H1/PSY 202H1/SOC 300Y1/STA 221H1/250H1/JBS 229H1
Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1, STA 220H1

BIO 250Y1 Cell and Molecular Biology
An introduction to the structure and function of cells at the molecular level: key cellular macromolecules; transfer of genetic information; cell structure and function; cellular movement and division; modern investigative techniques. Consult web page for the most current information: http://bio250y.chass.utoronto.ca/
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
Recommended preparation: BCH210H1 (taken concurrently or previously)

BIO 260H1 Concepts in Genetics
This is a problem based course which discusses classical, molecular, developmental, and population genetics and genomics with emphasis on model organisms for genetic analysis.
Exclusion: HMB265H1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Co-requisite: BIO250Y1

BIO 349H1 Eukaryotic Molecular Biology
Genome organization and evolution, gene expression and regulation, differentiation and development. Consult web pages for details: http://bio349s.chass.utoronto.ca/
Exclusion: MGY311Y1/PSY 202H1/SOC 300Y1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1
Recommended preparation: BCH210H1/JBS 229H1

BIO 351Y1 Introductory Virology
An introduction to basic and medical virology. Attendence in tutorials is optional.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

BIO 352H1 Applied Bioinformatics
Use of available programs for analyzing biological data. This is an introductory course with a strong emphasis on hands-on methods meant for Biology and Human Biology/GGB specialists/majors. Some theory is introduced, but the main focus is on using extant bioinformatics tools to analyze data and generate biological hypotheses.
Exclusion: BCB Specialist program students
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO260H1/HMB265H1

400-Series Courses
Note

BIO 482Y1, 494Y1, 495Y1, 496Y1, and ZOO 485Y1 are courses that are advanced in level but are broader in scope, emphasizing the integration of related sub-disciplines, critical thinking and the synthesis of ideas often crossing disciplinary boundaries. These courses, generally taken in fourth year, demand active student participation, and typically involve several faculty. Students can enrol in only one of these. However, students wishing to take an additional course should contact the Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Undergraduate Offices.

BIO 458H1 Epigenetics
A seminar course exploring non-Mendelian phenomena in plants, fungi and animals that reveal aspects of genome organization and regulation that may provide insight into genome function and evolution.
Prerequisite: BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1, BIO 349H1/MGY 311Y1
Recommended preparation: HMB 321H1

BIO 461H1 Chromosome Biology
Exploration of the relationships between chromosome structure, function and behaviour. This is an upper level genetics course with considerable cell/molecular biology content. Topics include chromatin structure, essential chromosomal elements, control of mitotic and meiotic segregation, chromosome evolution, genomic imprinting. Tutorials emphasize student discussion of recent primary research papers.
Exclusion: BIO359H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, 260H1/HMB265H1, BIO349H1/HMB 321H/MGY311Y1

BIO 472H1 Computational Genomics
Computational analyses of DNA and RNA expression data. Understanding biological databases, sequence alignment, sequence annotation, gene prediction, computational analysis of function, motif analysis, phylogenetic analysis, and microarray analysis. Applied, theoretical and statistical issues will be addressed.
Exclusion: BCH 441H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1
Recommended preparation: BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1

BIO 473H1 Chemical Genomics
This course surveys the field of Chemical Genomics, focusing on the analysis of biological problems using chemical approaches. Topics covered include chemical genetics, combinatorial chemistry and combinatorial strategies in molecular biology (such as phage display and other selection schemes). Examines both the underlying biological and chemical concepts; however, the focus is primarily biological.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, CHM247H1
Recommended Preparation: BIO250Y1, BCH210H1

BIO 482Y1 Topics in Developmental Biology
A class directed seminar analyzing the major problems in developmental biology from cellular, genetic, and molecular perspectives.
Exclusion: ZOO 482Y1
Prerequisite: BOT340H1 and/or ZOO 328H1

BOT 299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

BOT 340H1 Plant Development
Plant developmental genetics at the molecular, cellular and organismal level, generation and use of genomic resources in plant model organisms. Plant embryo and meristem development, as well as vascular tissue patterning. Genomic approaches applicable in plant biotechnology include the generation of enhancer-trap and activation-tag collections as well as the exploitation of natural genetic variation to improve fibre properties in trees.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, 250Y1, 260H1

BOT350H1 Laboratory in Molecular Plant Biology

Laboratory methods used in plant molecular biology research. Topics include vector construction, plant transformations, PCR, DNA blotting, high-throughput screens, genetic mapping, and bioinformatic analyses.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO260H1/HMB265H1

BOT351H1 Introduction to Plant-Microbe Interactions

Plants have co-evolved with microbes ever since their first appearance on land, resulting in sophisticated strategies of pathogenicity, symbiosis, commensalisms and mutualism. This course presents an overview of these strategies with examples of bacteria, fungi, oomycetes and viruses that have evolved intimate associations with plants.

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

Recommended preparation: BOT251Y1

BOT353H0 Independent Experience Project 399Y0

An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

BOT421H1 Plant Cell Metabolism

Advanced plant metabolism in relation to primary and secondary biosynthetic processes. Development in metabolism of acetate, mevalonate, aromatic amino acid and compounds of mixed biosynthetic origin.

Prerequisite: BCH210H1/BIO250Y1

BOT450H1 Plant Proteomics and Metabolomics

This course introduces students to proteomics and metabolomics approaches such as mass spectrometry, structural biology, 2D gel electrophoresis, in understanding the regulation of metabolic pathways in plants.

Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210H1

BOT452H1 Plant-Microorganism Interaction

This course explores the molecular strategies that microbes and plants have evolved to live with each other. The variety of strategies will be summarized with emphasis on the molecular mechanisms of pathogenic and symbiotic relationships.

Prerequisite: MGY311Y1/BIO349H1

Recommended preparation: BOT251Y1

BOT458H1 Plant Molecular Biology and Biotechnology

This course introduces students to major features of gene expression and signal transduction in plants. Topics include strategies for generating transgenic plants and regulating gene expression, as well as the importance of signal transduction in plant growth and survival. How plants sense and respond at the molecular level to environmental stresses such as drought, salinity, cold and disease will be discussed. The application of this basic scientific information in biotechnological strategies for improving agronomic traits will also be addressed.

Prerequisite: BIO349H1/MBG311Y1

BOT460Y1/ Project in Botany 461H1

A research project, requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course; they must also arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials. Written and oral reports are required. Normally open only to fourth-year students with adequate background in Botany.

Exclusion: If BOT460Y1 is taken then BOT461H1 may not be taken for credit.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

BOT462Y1/ Advanced Topics in Botany TBA 463H1

Selected research/lecture topics in plant sciences offered to advanced students. Students completing a second research project may not be supervised by their BOT460Y1/461H1 faculty sponsor.

Exclusion: If BOT462Y1 is taken then BOT463H1 may not be taken for credit.

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

JBS229H1 Statistics for Biologists 39L, 13T

Continuation of STA220H1, jointly taught by Statistics and Biology faculty, emphasizing methods and case studies relevant to biologists including experimental design and ANOVA, regression models, categorical and non-parametric methods.

Exclusion: ECO220Y1/222Y1/PSY201H1/SOC201Y1/STA221H1/222Y1/242Y1/250H1/255H1/257H1

Prerequisite: STA220H1

JBS229H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

JMB170Y1 Biology, Models, and Mathematics 78L

Applications of mathematics to biological problems in physiology, genetics, evolution, growth, population dynamics, cell biology, ecology and behaviour. Mathematical topics include: power functions and regression; exponential and logistic functions; binomial theorem and probability; calculus, including derivatives, max/min, integration, areas, integration by parts, substitution; differential equations, including linear constant coefficient, systems; and chaos. This course is intended for students in the life sciences.

Co-requisite: BIO150Y1

JZP326H1 Biological Rhythms 26L, 13T

Daily, monthly, annual and other rhythms and methods of measuring them. Behavioural and physiological aspects of biological clocks. The importance of rhythms in experimental design, in research on brain function, in affective disorders, and the adaptive value of rhythms to animals. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)

Prerequisite: BIO150Y1/PSY100H1; one full or two 200-series half-courses in the Sciences

JZP428H1 Advanced Topics in Biological Rhythms 26S

Circadian rhythms with emphasis on non-photic entrainment and phase shifting of rhythms by behaviour (e.g., social interactions, or becoming active). Properties and physiological mechanisms for non-photic effects and comparisons with those for photic effects. Seminars and readings of original papers. Emphasis on basic principles, but possible applications are also discussed. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)

Prerequisite: JZP326H1
Life Sciences: Cell and Systems Biology

- MGY460H1 Plant Molecular Genetics
  See “Molecular Genetics and Molecular Biology”

- SCI119H1/Y1 First Year Seminar
  Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a breadth requirement course; see page 45.

- ZOO200Y1 Aspects of Human Biology
  Biological issues and concepts. Human interactions with each other, with other species, and with the physical environment. Human biological and cultural evolution (mechanisms, changes in anatomy, behaviour, conceptualization, resource consumption, biotechnology); sexuality (development, theories and controversies in current research); population growth and environmental impact (carrying capacity, water and land use; pollution, resource management); environmental health (biodiversity, food supply, pesticides, ethics and decision-making). This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

- ZOO252Y1 Introductory Animal Physiology
  The main ideas of physiology and the contribution of experimentation to our understanding of life processes. Uses examples from throughout the animal kingdom, and includes the physiology of nervous, muscular, sensory and endocrine systems, homeostasis and control mechanisms, salt and water balance, respiration, thermoregulation, reproduction and metabolic processes. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

- ZOO325H1 Endocrine Physiology
  The regulation of physiological processes by hormones and other signalling molecules in chordates. An integrated genes-to-environment approach is used to examine aspects of hormonal evolution, physiological information flow, behaviour and neuroendocrinology, and xenobiotic endocrine disruptors. Prerequisite: ZOO 252Y1/PSL 302Y1
  Recommended preparation: ZOO 265Y1

- ZOO327H1 Extracellular Matrix Macromolecules
  Examines expression, structure and function of the four major classes of ECM macromolecules: collagen, proteoglycans, non-collagenous structural proteins and glycoproteins. In addition to forming elaborate networks that give tissues and organs their unique architectural design and biophysical properties, ECM molecules act as potent regulators of all cellular activities. Emphasis is placed on the morphoregulatory contribution(s) of ECM molecules to normal and pathological development. Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

- ZOO328H1 Developmental Biology I
  Basic concepts in developmental biology. Early development of invertebrates and vertebrates will be discussed with emphasis on experimental and molecular analysis of developmental mechanisms. Tutorials demonstrate examples of descriptive and experimental embryology and discuss primary literature of selected topics in developmental biology. Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1

- ZOO329H1 Evolution of Development
  This course begins with a comparison of embryonic development in the major animal taxa. The evolution of developmental mechanisms is then considered with emphasis on the molecular and genetic basis of these mechanisms. Subsequent discussion examines the impact of developmental processes on the evolution of animal diversity. Tutorials feature the study of embryos representing diverse animal taxa. Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1
  Recommended preparation: ZOO 328H1

- ZOO330H1 Techniques in Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology
  A laboratory-based course in current research techniques, employing animal model organisms (fruit fly, zebrafish, frog) and experimental methods including basic molecular and cell biology techniques. Exclusion: MGY432H1
  Prerequisite: BIO 250Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1
  Recommended preparation: ZOO328H1

- ZOO331H1 Cell Adhesion and Migration in Development
  The development of multicellular organisms is dependent on a broad variety of different cell-cell and cell-matrix adhesive mechanisms. The course examines the molecules and mechanisms involved and how they act in concert to regulate distinct developmental and physiological events. Emphasis is placed on the experimental approaches and technology used to study the molecular interactions and dynamics and alter structure-function relationships in cells and organisms. Exclusion: BCH 304H1
  Prerequisite: BIO 250Y1

- ZOO332H1 Neurobiology of the Synapse
  Examination of all aspects of the synapse in both the peripheral and central nervous systems of invertebrates and vertebrates. Topics include: synapse formation, synaptic transmission, synaptic plasticity, learning and memory, and neurological disorders. Prerequisite: PSL201Y1/302Y1/ZOO252Y1

- ZOO334H1 Comparative Endocrinology of Invertebrates
  The importance of neurohormones and hormones in the regulation of reproduction, growth, metamorphosis and metabolism in arthropods, especially insects and crustaceans, molluscs, and other invertebrates. Prerequisite: ZOO252Y1

- ZOO 345H1 Biology of Sleep
  Covers theories on the biological function of sleep-wake states – why and how animals sleep. Integrates all levels of organization, including molecular biology, homeostasis, bioenergetics, neurophysiology, endocrinology, behaviour and evolution, with comparisons across phyla. Prerequisite: PSL302Y1/ZOO252Y1

- ZOO346H1 Neurobiology of Respiration
  Integrated control of cardio-respiratory physiology and metabolism in vertebrates. Topics include exercise, diving, sleep and hibernation. Prerequisite: ZOO252Y1/ PSL302Y1

- ZOO347H1 Comparative Cellular Physiology
  In-depth survey of unique cellular adaptations of different tissues and organisms to overcome environmental stresses such as hypoxia. Emphasis is placed on cellular strategies, particularly second messenger responses, although systematic and whole organism responses will be investigated. Broad-ranging common strategies among diverse organisms are examined.
Prerequisite: ZOO252Y1/PSL302Y1

ZOO357H1  Biology of Vector-Borne Parasitic Diseases
The biology of malaria and other medically important vector-borne parasitic diseases. Topics include history of medical parasitology, parasite development in human and invertebrate hosts, epidemiology, adaptations to intra- and extracellular life and switching between hosts, effects on host physiology, immunity and behaviour; implications for vaccine and vector control and lessons regarding zoonoses and emergent infectious diseases. Laboratories and discussions complement formal lectures.
Exclusion: JZM 357H1, 358H1
Prerequisite: BIO 250Y1

ZOO398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

400-Series Courses

Note

BIO 482Y1, 494Y1, 495Y1, 496Y1, and ZOO 485Y1 are courses that are advanced in level but are broader in scope, emphasizing the integration of related sub-disciplines, critical thinking and the synthesis of ideas often crossing disciplinary boundaries. These courses, generally taken in fourth year, demand active student participation, and typically involve several faculty. Students can enrol in only one of these. However, students wishing to take an additional course should contact the Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Undergraduate Offices.

ZOO 425H1  Endocrinology of Transformation
The student will investigate the endocrine and paracrine signalling mechanisms that act to coordinate the reorganization of tissues in animals in special situations. The topics covered will include metamorphosis in agnathans and amphibians, sex change in teleost fishes, limb and regeneration in reptiles and amphibians, and neural regeneration in birds and mammals.
Prerequisite: ZOO 325H1/PSL 424H1; CGPA 2.7

ZOO 429H1  Germ Cell Biology
This course will discuss the genetic and cell biological aspects of the development of gametes, gonads, and sex related traits in animals, including invertebrates and vertebrates. In the accompanying seminar, primary literature is used to discuss selected topics in germ cell biology.
Prerequisite: BIO 349H1/BOT 340H1/ MGY312H1/ZOO 328H1/329H1

ZOO 430H1  Developmental Neurobiology
An examination of the molecular genetic basis of nervous system formation. Experimental evidence from recent studies in selected invertebrate and vertebrate species will be discussed. Topics include the evolution of neural development, neural cell fate determination, stem cell function, axon guidance and synaptogenesis, and adult neurogenesis.
Prerequisite: (NRS 201H1, 202H1)/ZOO328H1

ZOO485Y1  Research in Physiology
The experimental basis of modern animal physiology: techniques and instrumentation and their importance to current physiological concepts, using examples from the literature and the research programs of members of the Department.
Prerequisites: PSL302Y1/ZOO325Y1; one course from ZOO325H1/332H1/344H1/346H1/347H1/375H1, 300-level laboratory courses(s) with 39P

ZOO498Y1  Project in Zoology I
An original research project (a literature review alone is not sufficient) requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be one mutually agreed on by the student and supervisor. They must arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials and submit to the Undergraduate Office a signed form of agreement outlining details prior to being enrolled. This course is normally open only to Fourth Year students with adequate background in Zoology. All students are required to make written and, perhaps, oral presentations of the results of their projects and participate in a poster session. A copy of a written report must be submitted to the Undergraduate Office.

ZOO499Y1  Project in Zoology II
Allows students to do a second independent project, supervision of which must be different from ZOO498Y1. Operates in the same manner as ZOO498Y1.
Prerequisites: ZOO498Y1
The Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology (EEB) arose, along with its sister department, the Department of Cell and Systems Biology, from a reorganization of the previous departments of Botany and Zoology. Ecologists and evolutionists recognize that all life has evolved and that an understanding of the central question of the origin and maintenance of diversity from genomes to ecosystems underlies all life sciences and is critical to our stewardship of life. Society needs to make informed decisions about sustainable development, global temperature change, control of invasive species, the preservation of genetic diversity and ecosystem integrity, and control of emerging infectious diseases such as SARS and drug-resistant malaria. These are fundamentally evolutionary and ecological problems.

Research and teaching in the department covers all life forms (microbes, fungi, plants, animals) and is aimed at an understanding of the diversity of life and all aspects of organismal biology in the natural world. Research faculty use a broad array of approaches in their studies, including molecular studies, laboratory experiments, computer and mathematical modeling, and field studies in many different areas of the world. Instruction provides opportunities for research projects in addition to laboratory and field studies. We offer a very wide range of courses that deal with molecular evolution, population and quantitative genetics, animal behaviour, population, community and landscape ecology, evolutionary and ecological theory, bioinformatics, and systematics. Students exposed to these subjects come to realize that the ecological and evolutionary underpinnings of life present a host of scientific problems that are both intellectually challenging and critical to our future.

For 2006-7, the courses and programs offered by the previous departments of Botany and Zoology will continue to be available. All students currently pursuing these programs, and those starting in these programs, will be able to complete their degrees within them. As new EEB programs are developed, students may be able to transfer into them, depending on the courses they have taken.

Students entering their first year in the life sciences typically take BIO 150Y1. BIO 150Y1 is taken by students who have successfully completed OAC or grade 12 Biology (or an equivalent course) and is a prerequisite for almost all further courses in the life sciences. All students, regardless of campus or Faculty, must abide by the stated course prerequisites and exclusions.

Student Counselling and Enquiries:
Contact the Undergraduate Office in the Earth Sciences Centre and consult the departmental website.

Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Programs

Behaviour (Science program)

Students wishing to take PSY courses to fulfill the requirements of this program should take PSY 100H1. To take additional PSY courses, students must be enrolled in a PSY program or have obtained a minimum of 70% in PSY 100H1.

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year: BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/137Y1.

Higher Years:
1. BIO 250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1 (BIO 260H1 is recommended); PSY (290H1, 391H1)/ZOO 252Y1
2. ZOO 322H1
3. PSY (201H1, 202H1)/(STA 220H1, BIO 225H1)/STA (220H1, 221H1)/(STA 220H1, JBS 229H1)/STA (250H1, 255H1)/STA (257H1, 261H1)
4. BIO 323H1, 324H1;
   BIO 301H1/302H1/303H1/305H1/306H1/307H1/308H1/469H1/ZOO 304H1/360H1/361H1; BIO 494Y1/495Y1/496Y1
5. 3.5 courses from ANT 436H1, BIO, ENV 234Y1, HMB 321H1, HPS 323H1, 333H1, JZP, PSY (except PSY 300H1), ZOO (except ZOO 200Y1, 214Y1, 215H1, 216H1), 1.5 of which must be at the 300+ level. JZP 326H1, 428H1; PSY 260H1, 280H1, 362H1, 369H1, 390H1, 392H1, 393H1, 396H1, 399H1, 460H1, 490H1; ZOO 362H1, are recommended for this program.

BIO 321H1, 365H1, 370H1, 460H1, ZOO 462H1 are recommended for this program.

Zoology: see Biology

Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all BIO and BOT courses, ENV 234Y1, and JMB 170Y1 are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

BIO150Y1 Organisms in their Environment
Evolutionary, ecological, and behavioural responses of organisms to their environment at the level of individuals, populations, communities, and ecosystems. A prerequisite for advanced work in biological sciences. Attendance at weekly lecture tutorials is voluntary, yet highly recommended.
Prerequisite: Biology 12/OAC Biology or equivalent. Students without high school Biology are advised to consult the Zoology Undergraduate Office.

BIO 225H1 Biostatistics for Biological Sciences
This course presents biostatistics to students in the life sciences using biological examples where appropriate. Students will learn to choose and use statistics that are appropriate to address relevant biological questions and hypotheses. Lectures and computer labs will be used to cover the following methods: sampling and experimental design, data exploration, correlation, regression, ANOVA, Chi-square and non-parametric tests.
Exclusion: ECO 220Y1/227Y1/GGR 270H1/PSY 202H1/SOC 300Y1/STA 221H1/250H1/JBS 229H1
Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1, STA 220H1

BIO301H1 Marine Biology
Offered in the summer at Huntsman Marine Laboratory, St. Andrews, New Brunswick, of about 14 days duration. Informal lectures and seminars with intensive field and laboratory work on different marine habitats and the animals and plants associated with them. Student projects included.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: Any 2nd year Ecology or Environmental Biology course

BIO302H1 Arctic Ecosystems
Two-week summer field course offered in Churchill, Manitoba. Instruction combines lectures with field trips to local tundra and boreal forest sites. Students are responsible for completing an independent project based on local field work. Dates, instructors, and material covered vary from year to year. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: At least one course in ecology

BIO303H1 Tropical Ecology and Evolution
A field course to introduce students to the diversity of biological communities in the tropics focusing on ecological and evolutionary interactions. Plant and animal communities of tropical sites in the New World tropics are compared and contrasted with temperate communities. Students undertake small-scale research projects in the field. Lectures will be given on Friday afternoons prior to departure to the field.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and any other life science course with a lab

BIO305H1 Experimental Ecology in Southern Ontario
A field course offered at a Southern Ontario field station for approximately 2 weeks in the summer. Students learn the natural history of the region and conduct a mini thesis project in the field. Projects will focus on terrestrial plant ecology, plant-insect interactions and other topics selected by the students.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, any other Life Science course with a laboratory, and permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: a second or third-year ecology, evolution or environmental science course

BIO306H1 Inter-University Field Courses
Inter-university selections from the offerings of the Ontario Universities Program in Field Biology. Courses, of 1 or 2 weeks duration at field sites from May through August, are announced each January. Consult Professor J.D. Rising, Zoology Department. Prerequisite: Varies by module. See Department of Zoology for details.

BIO 307H1 Alpine Ecosystems
A field course at a Rocky Mountain field station for two weeks in the summer. Students learn the natural history of alpine and subalpine biomes and investigate major abiotic and biotic interactions. Required projects either catalogue the natural diversity or examine ecological interactions between organisms and their environment.
Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1, BOT 251Y1 or ZOO 252Y1, and permission of instructor

BIO308H1 Biodiversity and Ecology in Southeast Asia
Offered in early or late summer for approximately two weeks. Students will conduct independent research projects and will be introduced to the biodiversity and ecology of the tropics. Projects will be tailored to each student's interests and background.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor
Recommended preparation: ZOO360H1/384H1/386H1/388H1

BIO 310H1 Crustacean Aquaculture in Thailand
Successful farming of tiger shrimp faces a number of biological, environmental and economic challenges. Some of these challenges are being met by gathering information pertaining to nutrition, growth, reproduction and disease resistance. During two weeks of field time in Thailand, students will learn the basic techniques in crustacean aquaculture and undertake individual projects related to these areas by using physiological and molecular biological techniques. Students must attend a one-day orientation in Toronto in May.
Prerequisite: BIO 250Y1, ZOO 252Y1
BIO319H1  Population Ecology  26L, 39P
Distribution of species; population growth, regulation and declines; interactions among species; food webs. Basic ecological principles and applied issues discussed. Laboratory includes experiments, and computer simulations. See www.zoo.utoronto.ca/bio319/index319.htm.
Exclusion: BIO320Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1
Recommended preparation: a course in statistics

BIO321H1  Community Ecology  26L, 39P
A comprehensive survey of community and ecosystem ecology emphasizing current developments and controversies. Field trips and computer exercises provide training in sampling, simulation, and data analysis.
Exclusion: BIO320Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and a course in statistics
Recommended preparation: ENV234Y1

BIO322H1  Evolution  26L, 13T
The principles of organic evolution. Evolutionary theory; the development of the theory of natural selection; population variation and polymorphism; levels of selection; introductory population genetics; the origin of species and higher taxa.
Exclusion: ZOO324Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: a course in statistics

BIO324H1  Evolutionary Ecology  26L, 13T
Empirical and theoretical approaches to key areas of research including foraging, natural and sexual selection, and life histories. Other topics may include character displacement, and co-evolution.
Exclusion: ZOO324Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

BIO328H1  Physiological Ecology  26L, 26T
An advanced treatment of the physiological mechanisms controlling plant and animal distribution and ecological success. Topics of focus include photosynthesis and resource balance, water and nutrient relations, temperature effects, and adaptations to abiotic stress.
Prerequisite: BOT251Y1/ZOO252Y1 or equivalent

BIO365H1  Biodiversity and Conservation Biology  26L, 26T
Introduction to the study and conservation of biodiversity at all levels - genes, species, communities and ecosystems. Includes threats to biodiversity and approaches to maintaining biodiversity. Tutorials include computer labs and small group discussions of lecture topics.
Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1
Co-requisite: BIO 319H1/321H1/323H1/324H1/ZOO 322H1

BIO370H1  Theoretical Ecology and Evolution  26L, 26P
Introduction to mathematical modeling techniques used in ecological and evolutionary theory. Applications include understanding the dynamics of populations and ecological communities and the evolution of ecologically important characteristics within species. Includes applied linear algebra, dynamic systems models, optimization techniques, and game theory. Requires good knowledge of first year calculus, but not extensive mathematical background. Computer lab once a week.
Exclusion: BIO 470H1
Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1, JMB170Y1/MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

BIO372H1  Global Change Ecology  39L
An examination of organism, population and ecosystem responses to long-term environmental change occurring at the global scale, with emphasis on human caused perturbation to climate and the carbon, nitrogen and hydrolic cycles and their ecological effects.
Prerequisite: 1.0 courses from BIO/BOT/ZOO at the 300+ level
Recommended preparation: ENV234Y1

BIO440H1  Ecology and Evolution of Plant-Animal Interactions  26L, 13T
This course delves into major concepts in ecology and evolution from the perspective of plant-animal interactions. We explore the richness of interactions between plants and animals, including antagonistic interactions (e.g. herbivory, carnivorous plants) and mutualistic interactions (e.g. seed dispersal and ant-plant associations). Interactions involving two to many species and across trophic levels are considered.
Prerequisite: BIO301H1/302H1/303H1/305H1/306H1/308H1/319H1/321H1/323H1/324H1/328H1 or equivalent

BIO459H1  Population Genetics  26L, 13T
Study of the genetics of evolutionary processes, with emphasis on the relationship between theory and experiment. Topics include natural selection, evolution of quantitative traits, genetic drift and neutral theory, population structure, genetics of adaptation, maintenance of genetic variation, and conservation genetics.
Prerequisite: BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1/ZOO 322H1
Recommended preparation: JMB 170Y1/MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1, STA 220H1 or equivalent

BIO460H1  Molecular Evolution  26L, 13T
Processes of evolution at the molecular level, and the analysis of molecular data. Gene structure, neutrality, nucleotide sequence evolution, sequence evolution, sequence alignment, phylogeny construction, gene families, transposition.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1

BIO463H1  Evolutionary Genomics  26L, 26T
Study of the evolution of genes and genomes. Topics include gene and genome duplication, molecular phylogenetics, methods of detecting selection, adaptive evolution of proteins, genome size evolution, comparative genomics.
Prerequisite: BIO 460H1

BIO465H1  Topics in Conservation Biology  39L
The principles and practices of conservation biology from both a global and Canadian perspective, including: biodiversity; endangerment; habitat loss and fragmentation; exploitation; exotic species; conservation genetics; metapopulations; demography; captive breeding; species concepts; reserve design; human issues; and the role of IUCN and COSEWIC.
Life Sciences: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology

Prerequisite: One of BIO319H1/321H1/323H1/324H1/365H1/
ZO0322H1 plus one other course in behaviour, ecology, ecology, evolution, or genetics

BIO 468H1 Lectures in Limnology 26L
Basic ecological principles and applied issues of physical, chemical and biological (microbes, algae, plants, invertebrates, fish) interaction in lakes and streams. Same lectures as BIO 469H1, but no practical work. Major paper is expected to be equivalent to the field work required in BIO 469H1. See http://www.zoo.utoronto.
can/bio469/. (Offered in alternate years.)
Exclusion: BIO 368H1/469H1/469Y1
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1, BIO 319H1/312H1/
ENV 234Y1

BIO469H1 Limnology 26L,TBA
Basic ecological principles and applied issues of physical, chemical and biological (microbes, algae, plants, invertebrates, fish) interactions in lakes and streams. Mandatory one-week field trip at the end of the summer preceding the Fall session to learn standard sampling techniques and data analysis and start interacting principles we will learn in class. No other labs during Fall session. An activity fee may be collected. See http://www.zoo. utoronto.ca/bio469/. (Offered in alternate years.)
Exclusion: BIO368H1/469H1, 469Y1
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1, BIO319H1/312H1/

BIO471H1 Quantitative Ecology 26L, 39P
This course examines aspects of quantitative ecology including approaches to ecological sampling, multivariate analysis of ecological communities and environmental conditions, null models and spatial ecology. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: BIO319H1/321H1, statistics course

BIO494Y1 Seminar in Evolutionary Biology 78S
Topics include evolutionary ecology and genetics, biodiversity, and behavioural ecology. Primary literature and research seminars form the basis for class discussion and short seminars. Discussions are led by students. Each instructor is responsible for a separate module.
Prerequisite: BIO323H1, 324H1; one of BIO319H1, 321H1,
ZO0322H1, cGPA 2.5

BIO495Y1 Seminar in Ecology 52S
Student directed roundtable on current topics in ecology. The topics vary from year to year. The seminar activities include both oral and written analyses of current research articles, and may include group projects. Critical discussion of research methods is an important component of the course.
Prerequisite: BIO319H1/321H1, one of BIO 319H1/321H1/324H1/
365H1/ENV 234Y1, cGPA 2.5

BIO496Y1 Seminar in Behaviour and Behavioural Ecology 52S
Topics may include: history of ethology, behavioural ecology including predator-prey interactions, mate choice and foraging, and experimental psychology. Emphasis on student seminars and student led discussions of assigned topics.
Prerequisite: ZOO322H1; BIO323H1/324H1/JZP326H1/PSY
362H1/369H1/ZOO362H1 or a BIO or ZOO field course, cGPA 2.5

BOT202Y1 Plants and Society 52L
The continuing impact of new scientific technologies on society through changes in agriculture, industry and the economy. Plant
domestication, genetic resource conservation, biological invasions, environmental pollution, global warming, genetic engineering and biotechnology. Evaluation of the social implications of advances in modern plant science.
Exclusion: All BIO courses except BIO100Y1; all BOT and ZOO courses except ZOO200Y1, if taken previously or at the same time.
This course is intended primarily for Humanities and Social Science students

BOT251Y1 Biology of Plants and Micro-organisms 52L, 39P
An introduction to the biology of plants, fungi and algae. Diversity of forms, reproductive patterns, structure and physiology are emphasized. Laboratories demonstrate major species groups and the relationship between structure and function of plants.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

BOT299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

BOT300H1 Systematic Botany 26L, 39P
The theoretical foundations of taxonomy and the types of evidence used in constructing plant classifications. Practicals emphasize taxonomic characters and their uses. Includes an independent taxonomic project.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: BOT307H1

BOT301H1 Introduction to the Fungi 26L, 39P
Systematics, ecology, physiology, and genetics. Role in the environment and importance to man. Techniques of isolation, identification, and manipulation.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: BOT251Y1

BOT304H1 Field Botany TBA
A 2-week course that aims to introduce students to the diversity of plants that can be found in southern Ontario, not only in the wild but also in botanical garden or other living collections. The course studies field, herbarium, and laboratory methods used in plant organismic biology research. Topics include plant collecting, plant identification, preparation of voucher specimens, plant reproductive biology, and plant diversity and phylogeny.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: BOT300H1, BOT307H1

BOT307H1 Families of Vascular Plants 26L, 39P
Variation in morphology, predominant breeding systems, dispersal syndromes, and other features between families of vascular plants in the Ontario flora are examined. Students learn key characteristics for identification of important families of ferns, fern allies, conifers and flowering plants.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

BOT310H1 Comparative Plant Morphology 26L, 39P
Evolution of vegetative and reproductive morphology of land plants is examined. Lecture topics cover evolution of meristems, shoot architecture and vascular tissue as well as evolution of the land plant life cycle, the ovule habit, fertilization processes and pollination biology.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

BOT341H1 Plant Anatomy 26L, 39P
The microscopic structure of plants with emphasis on the characteristics of cells and tissues, how they are formed from plant

260
meristems and how they function in transport, photosynthesis, transpiration, absorption, and reproduction.
Prerequisite: BOT251Y1

BOT398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 39Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

BOT404H1  Biology of Moulds 26L, 39P
The biology and identification of microscopic fungi. The physiological and structural characteristics of moulds that allow them to locate, occupy and consume nutrient substrates in the face of environmental stresses and competition from other organisms. Techniques for assessing mould activities in natural and human environments.
Prerequisite: BOT251Y1/301H1/permission of instructor

BOT460Y1/ Project in Botany TBA 461H1
A research project, requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be agreed on by the student and supervisor before enrolment in the course; they must also arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials. Written and oral reports are required. Normally open only to fourth-year students with adequate background in Botany. Exclusion: If BOT460Y1 is taken then BOT461H1 may not be taken for credit
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

MGY460H1  Plant Molecular Genetics
See “Molecular Genetics and Molecular Biology”

BOT462Y1/ Advanced Topics in Botany TBA 463H1
Selected research/lecture topics in plant sciences offered to advanced students. Students completing a second research project may not be supervised by their BOT460Y1/461H1 faculty sponsor.
Exclusion: If BOT462Y1 is taken then BOT463H1 may not be taken for credit
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

ENV234Y1  Environmental Biology
See “Centre for Environment”

JBS229H1  Statistics for Biologists 39L, 13T
Continuation of STA220H1, jointly taught by Statistics and Biology faculty, emphasizing methods and case studies relevant to biologists including experimental design and ANOVA, regression models, categorical and non-parametric methods.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/PSY201H1/SOC201Y1/STA221H1/222Y1/242Y1/250H1/255H1/257H1
Prerequisite: STA220H1
JBS229H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

JMB170Y1  Biology, Models, and Mathematics 78L
Applications of mathematics to biological problems in physiology, genetics, evolution, growth, population dynamics, cell biology, ecology and behaviour. Mathematical topics include: power functions and regression; exponential and logistic functions; binomial theorem and probability; calculus, including derivatives, max/min, integration, areas, integration by parts, substitution; differential equations, including linear constant coefficient, systems; and chaos. This course is intended for students in the life sciences.
Co-requisite: BIO150Y1

JZP326H1  Biological Rhythms 26L, 13T
Daily, monthly, annual and other rhythms and methods of measuring them. Behavioural and physiological aspects of biological clocks. The importance of rhythms in experimental design, in research on brain function, in affective disorders, and the adaptive value of rhythms to animals. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1/PSY100H1; one full or two 200-series half-courses in the Sciences

JZP428H1  Advanced Topics in Biological Rhythms 26S
Circadian rhythms with emphasis on non-photic entrainment and phase shifting of rhythms by behaviour (e.g., social interactions, or becoming active). Properties and physiological mechanisms for non-photic effects and comparisons with those for photic effects. Seminars and readings of original papers. Emphasis on basic principles, but possible applications are also discussed. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)
Prerequisite: JZP326H1

SCI199H1/Y1  First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

ZOO214Y1  Evolution and Adaptation 52L, 26T
Organic evolution by natural selection, both as formulated by Darwin and Wallace and modified by modern workers: topics vary but may include speciation; evolution of development; evolution of higher taxa, mutation, natural selection, adaptations and coevolution. Essays and reading required.
Exclusion: BIO150Y1/323H1/ZOO324Y1
This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

ZOO 215H1  Conservation Biology 26L, 13T
Introduction to the scientific discipline that deals with threats, losses and recovery of endangered wildlife. Topics include biodiversity, extinction, demography, genetic diversity, nature reserves, captive breeding; also endangered species laws, moral philosophies, and political, economic and social justice issues surrounding biodiversity. Essays and reading required.
Exclusion: BIO 365H1
This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.

ZOO 216H1  Marine Mammal Biology and Conservation 26L, 12T
This course introduces students to anatomical and physiological adaptations of marine mammals and how they differ based on their own unique needs. The effects of various environmental stressors will also be covered. Anatomical models will be provided (skulls, teeth, etc.), supplemented with video and other teaching tools.
This course counts as a Science Distribution Requirement for students in all years and disciplines; particularly suitable for Humanities and Social Science students.
Prerequisite: Biology 12/OAC Biology or equivalent

ZOO263Y1  Comparative Anatomy 26L, 78P, 26T
The ontogeny and phylogeny of vertebrate structure are considered within the context of evolutionary theory. Functional aspects of the various organ systems are examined. Representative fish and mammals are dissected in detail and other forms are dealt with briefly to illustrate selected anatomical features and to provide practical exposure to vertebrate construction. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ZOO265Y1 Animal Diversity 52L, 78P
Diversity of animals in the world. Special attributes, requirements and ecosystems of different groups of organisms and how they interact with each other and with humans. Laboratories emphasize recognition of major groups, and use living organisms when possible, but involve no invasive procedures. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ZOO299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

ZOO304H1 Field Ornithology TBA
Lectures on the biology of birds, and intensive field work emphasizing field identification, census techniques, and habitat preferences. Student projects included. Offered for two weeks in the spring or summer at a field station. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1 and permission of instructor

ZOO322H1 Behaviour and Behavioural Ecology
A broad introduction to animal behaviour emphasizing concepts from ethology and behavioural ecology. Field and laboratory studies are undertaken. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, PSY 201H1/STA 220H1/250H1/257H1

ZOO354Y1 History of Biology 52L, 26T
The historical evolution of modern biological science, focussing on the development of its methodology and its unifying theories, from Aristotle to DNA. Exclusion: HPS323H1, 333H1 Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, a course in BIO/BOT/HPS/MPL/ZOO

ZOO356H1 Insect Biology 26L, 18P
Lectures provide an introduction to the morphology, physiology, development, behaviour, evolutionary history and biological significance of insects. Labs will include demonstrations and multimedia to complement lectures and student presentations. An activity fee may be collected. (Offered in alternate years) Exclusion: ZOO 360H1

ZOO360H1 Entomology 26L, 39P
Introduction to the morphology, physiology, development, behaviour, ecology, evolutionary history, and biological significance of insects. Labs include making an insect collection. Mandatory one week of fieldwork in Algonquin Park at end of summer preceding Fall session. ZOO 360H1 can be used to fulfil a program’s field course requirement. (Offered in alternate years) Exclusion: ZOO 366H1 Prerequisite: BIO 150Y1

ZOO361H1 Field Entomology TBA
A field and laboratory course to provide practical experience in techniques for collecting and studying insects. Students will each prepare an insect collection and/or conduct a small-scale research project. Includes intensive field work. Prerequisite: ZOO 356H1/360H1, and permission of instructor.

ZOO362H1 Introduction to Macroevolution 26L, 26T
Explores patterns of large-scale evolutionary change, played out over large geographic expanses and extended periods of time. Integrates patterns with field and experimental studies to clarify evolutionary processes. Topics include origins of species and their adaptations, historical biogeography, coevolution, community evolution, and the role of evolutionary information in conservation and biodiversity initiatives. Tutorials emphasize methods used to reconstruct phylogenetic relationships. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

ZOO375H1 Environmental Factors 39L
A lecture and seminar course dealing with the effects of physical and chemical environments on animals. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: ZOO252Y1, BIO319H1/321H1/ ENV234Y1

ZOO384H1 Biology of Amphibians 13L, 39P
Introduction to the natural history, evolution, and diversity of amphibians. (Offered in alternate years) Prerequisite: ZOO263Y1
Recommended preparation: BIO323H1/ZOO362H1

ZOO386H1 Avian Biology 13L, 39P
Avian diversity and evolution; adaptations for flight; physiology; migration and navigation; reproduction and social behaviour; species; speciation, and hybridization; population trends and conservation. Local field trips. An activity fee may be collected. Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Recommended preparation: An additional course in evolution, ecology or behaviour

ZOO388H1 Biology of Mammals 13L, 39P
Natural history of mammals emphasizing ecology, community structure, behaviour, reproduction, and life history strategies; form and function related to different modes of life and physical environments. Laboratory includes a survey of Ontario mammals. (Offered in alternate years) Prerequisite: BIO323H1/ZOO252Y1/322H1

ZOO389H1 Mammalian Diversity 13L, 39P
The origin, evolution, zoogeography, phylogenetic relationships and diversity of mammals; speciation, extinction and current issues in conservation biology. Laboratory surveys mammalian orders, their characteristics, identification, and systematic relationships. (Offered in alternate years) Prerequisite: BIO323H1/ZOO362H1

ZOO398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

400-Series Courses

Note
BIO 482Y1, 494Y1, 495Y1, 496Y1, and ZOO 485Y1 are courses that are advanced in level but are broader in scope, emphasizing the integration of related sub-disciplines, critical thinking and the synthesis of ideas often crossing disciplinary boundaries. These courses, generally taken in fourth year, demand active student participation, and typically involve several faculty. Students can enrol in only one of these. However, students wishing to take an additional course should contact the Cell and Systems Biology, and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology Undergraduate Offices.

ZOO462H1 Advanced Applications of 13L, 39P Phylogenetic Systematics

Computer-assisted methods for constructing and testing phylogenetic hypotheses are introduced through lectures and laboratories. Molecular, biochemical, and morphological data are compared and contrasted as indicators of relationships. Character coding, parsimony, compatibility, and congruence are discussed. Students prepare a comprehensive term paper based on analysis of individual data sets. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: ZOO362H1

Recommended preparation: Basic PC literacy

ZOO498Y1 Project in Zoology I TBA

An original research project (a literature review alone is not sufficient) requiring the prior consent of a member of the Department to supervise the project. The topic is to be one mutually agreed on by the student and supervisor. They must arrange the time, place, and provision of any materials and submit to the Undergraduate Office a signed form of agreement outlining details prior to being enrolled. This course is normally open only to Fourth Year students with adequate background in Zoology. All students are required to make written and, perhaps, oral presentations of the results of their projects and participate in a poster session. A copy of a written report must be submitted to the Undergraduate Office.

ZOO499Y1 Project in Zoology II TBA

Allows students to do a second independent project, supervision of which must be different from ZOO498Y1. Operates in the same manner as ZOO498Y1.

The Human Biology Programs are available to students entering their second year of study, and consists of three Specialist programs and one Major program leading to an Honours B.Sc. degree. The goal of each program is to provide a multi-disciplinary education focused on an area of biological science relevant to humans. Each program emphasizes courses from the life sciences, but includes social sciences and humanities. The Specialist programs are: Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology; Global Health; Health and Disease; and Human Behavioural Biology. Each program will allow students to study an area in depth while maintaining flexibility of course selection.

Humans are first and foremost animals, living organisms. As such, they share fundamental characteristics with all life - structure, chemistry, control mechanisms, behaviour, an ecological context, and an evolutionary history. Thus the study of human biology must entail a sound knowledge of basic life science. But humans have also developed unique characteristics, emergent properties, arising from their highly complex brains - their intricate behaviour, communication and conceptual abilities, and social structures. So a fuller appreciation of their biology also needs an understanding drawn from disciplines such as psychology, anthropology, and sociology.

The Human Biology Programs are designed to do this. Students will receive a solid foundation in life science courses together with insights from the humanities and social sciences. The programs are intended to provide a broad education rather than an intensive focus in a specific discipline.

Graduates will be equipped to pursue further study in areas such as health sciences, biotechnology, law, education, and administration, and will have a broad range of skills to take with them into the job market (check our web site at http://www.hmb.utoronto.ca for more career paths).

The first year for both Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology and the Health and Disease programs consists of 100-level courses in Biology, Chemistry and either Calculus or Physics, plus an introductory course in one of Anthropology, Philosophy, Psychology, Social Geography, or Sociology. You are strongly recommended to take both calculus and physics in either first or second year. Both are important for higher-level life science courses and other life science programs. The first year for Human Behavioural Biology is similar in requiring biology and chemistry, but students will need introductory courses in calculus and psychology for this program. The first year of the Global Health program consists of a biology and physical science core and establishes or resources management stream, complemented by a social science or humanities course.

In both the Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology and the Health and Disease programs, the choice of anthropology, psychology or sociology courses in the first year should be influenced by which of these areas students want to pick courses from in the upper years.

Each of the four programs has core half-courses in second and third years tailored to meet the specific needs of its students. These courses concentrate on an area important to the program theme, and/or emphasize the interdisciplinary nature of the program theme by showing connections between its different subject areas. Each program requires a laboratory half course at the 300 level; students may take either the appropriate HMB lab course, or one of the others listed. To complete the program, students will be able to choose from a range of options in third and fourth years, depending on their interests and which courses students have already taken, as well as availability. Options include 400-level advanced seminar courses and advanced research “project” courses.

The Human Biology Programs also include a Life Science Major, which provides a foundation of study in the life sciences. This program builds on a background in biology, chemistry and a choice of psychology, physics or mathematics. The upper years provide exposure to several disciplines within the life sciences. Students acquire a broad knowledge base which is valuable not only for those intending to pursue a career in science, but also for those with career interests in other areas such as business or education. For further information about the programs, see http://www.hmb.utoronto.ca or contact the Human Biology Program Office, New College, 300 Huron Street (416) 946-5393 or e-mail us at humanbiology@utoronto.ca.

Human Biology Programs

Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology (Science program)

Specialist program:
(14.5 to 15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 400-series courses)

Enrolment in this program is limited, and will be based on CGPA. Enrolment requires completion of four courses including the first year prerequisite courses.

First Year:
1. BIO 150Y1
2. CHM 138H1, 139H1
3. MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1/PHY110Y1/138Y1/140Y1
4. 1.0 FCE from: ANT 100Y1; ECO100Y1; GGR107Y1; GGR124Y1; PHL100Y1; PSY 100H1; SOC 101Y1; VIC170Y1/171Y1

Second Year:
1. HMB 201H1, 265H1/BIO 260H1; BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 247H1
2. 1.0 FCE from: ANT 203Y1, 204Y1; ENV 222Y1/236Y1; GGR 220Y1/233Y1/246H1/256H1/270H1; WGS 261Y1; PHL 240H1/245H1/237H1/255H1/275H1/281Y1; SOC 205Y1/207Y1/210Y1/212Y1/213Y1/214Y1/220Y1/242Y1/246H1/247H1/260Y1/263H1

Human Biology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions...
For Distribution Requirement purposes, all HMB courses are classified as SCIENCE courses, with the exception of HMB303H1 and HMB498Y1, which are classified as HUMANITIES or SOCIAL SCIENCE courses (see page 25).
Life Sciences: Human Biology

HMB201H1 Introduction to Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology
26L
Interdisciplinary course consisting of three parts: the genetic basis, tools and techniques of biotechnology; medical, environmental and agricultural applications; and ethical, legal and social aspects of biotechnology (including approaches to risk assessment, reduction and acceptance). A prime example used in the third part is the controversy over genetically modified foods.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Co-requisite: BIO250Y1

HMB202H1 Introduction to Health and Disease
26L, 13P
An introductory course in Health and Disease using an interdisciplinary approach that integrates developmental human biology with perspectives from the Social Sciences. An exploration of the key concepts and approaches that are necessary for understanding the dynamic nexus of human health and disease.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

HMB203H1 Introduction to Global Health
26L, 13T
An introductory course in Global Health covering the theories, operational components and strategies of implementing primary health care in developing countries. Discussed are topics such as health education, control of vector borne diseases, provision of essential drugs, maternal and child health and nutrition and how they incorporate alternative and complementary technologies, community participation and the deployment of paraprofessional health service providers.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1

HMB265H1 General and Human Genetics
26L, 13T
An introduction to classical and modern methods of genetic analysis. Topics include Mendelian genetics, the genetics of human population and disease, genomics, and applications of genetics to human society.
Exclusion: BIO260H1, BIO207H5
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1
Co-requisite: BIO250Y1

HMB300H1 Human Behavioural Biology II
26L, 13T
Intermediate course for the Specialist program in Human Behavioural Biology. Consult web page for more information: http://hmb.utoronto.ca/hmb300h.
Prerequisite: HMB200H1

HMB301H1 Biotechnology
26L, 13T
Intermediate course in biotechnology; topics vary but include the use of vectors, and biochemical pathways in biotechnology.
Prerequisite: HMB201H1

HMB302H1 Vertebrate Histology and Histopathology
26L, 39P
Laboratory and lecture course studying the structure of the cell, various tissues and organ systems. Emphasis is on functional morphology and the adaptive response (including the inflammatory reaction) by comparing histological sections of normal tissues and organs with common diseases including neoplasia, respiratory, and liver disease.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

HMB303H Global Health and Human Rights
39S
A multidisciplinary emphasis on the economic, historical, social and cultural determinants of health and human rights, and how structural violence prevents progress towards human rights. Case studies reflecting global aspects of health and human rights will form a framework for approaching these issues.

HMB304H1 Introduction to Biocommunication Visualization
13L, 26T
This course covers the analysis and development of visual media for medical or scientific publication. Lectures include: light/form; proportion scale; scientific visual conventions; media appropriate for target audience and reproduction. Topics may include: physiology, anatomical/biological subjects, patient education/health promotion or archaeological artifacts. Classes consist of lectures with computer lab explorations.
Exclusion: HSC302H5
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

HMB310H1 Laboratory in Human Behavioural Biology
26L, 39P
A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Human Behavioural Biology. Lab topics include brain anatomy and imaging, immunocytochemistry, startle reflex analysis, human neuropsychology, animal behaviour, and behavioural profiling.
Exclusion: PSY399H1, NRS302H1
Co-requisite: HMB300H1

HMB311H1 Laboratory in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology
26L, 39P
A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology. Lab topics include basic microbiology techniques, Southern blot, immunocytochemistry, nutrigenomics, and histological techniques.
Prerequisite: HMB301H1

HMB312H1 Laboratory in Health and Disease
26L, 39P
A laboratory course based on current research techniques for students in the Specialist program in Health and Disease. Lab topics include basic microbiology techniques, Southern blot, immunocytochemistry, nutrigenomics, and histological techniques.
Prerequisite: HMB202H1, HMB302H1

HMB321H1 Topics in Genetics
26L, 13T
Lectures and tutorial discussions on three or four selected topics in Genetics. Emphasis is on building in-depth understanding of classical and current problems from their historical roots to recent molecular genetic results. Topics vary yearly. Consult web page for more information: http://hmb.utoronto.ca/hmb321h.
Prerequisite: BIO260H1 / HMB265H1

HMB420H1 Seminar in Human Behavioural Biology
26S
Interdisciplinary seminar course that integrates the study of biological sciences with a psychological, sociological, anthropological, and philosophical perspective.
Prerequisite: HMB300H1

HMB421H1 Seminar in Genes, Genetics, and Biotechnology
26S
Theme based lecture and seminar course underlining current medical research in relation to the areas of genes, genetics and biotechnology. Topics vary yearly.
Prerequisite: HMB301H1
Life Sciences: Human Biology

HMB422H1 Seminar in Health and Disease 26S
Lecture and seminar course underlining current medical research related to human disease. Topics vary yearly
Prerequisite: HMB202H1, 302H1

HMB432H1 Topics in Histology and Histopathology 26S
Lecture and seminar course emphasizing current research and expand on the topics covered in HMB302H. Topics may include the digestive system, cardiovascular system, respiratory system, and neoplasia. Topics will vary depending on class interest.
Prerequisite: HMB302H1

HMB433H1 Topics in Global Health 26S
Seminar and theme based course based on topics in health and human rights in a global setting (first offered 2008-2009).
Prerequisite: HMB303H1

HMB435H1 Selected Topics in Molecular Cell Biology 26S
Theme based lecture and seminar course underlining current basic science research in the area of molecular biology and cell biology as related to human disease. Topics vary yearly depending on student interest.
Prerequisite: BIO349H1

HMB498Y Research Project in Health and Human Rights TBA
A research project supervised by a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science or the Faculty of Medicine. Requires approval from the Human Biology Program office from which application forms may be obtained.
Prerequisite: 15 full course equivalents and permission of coordinator.
Recommended prerequisite: HMB203H1, HMB303H1

HMB499Y1 Research Project in Human Biology TBA
A research project supervised by a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science or the Faculty of Medicine. Requires approval from the Human Biology Program office from which application forms may be obtained.
Prerequisite: An approved 300+ series science laboratory course

Immunology is an integrative branch of the medical sciences that draws upon the more traditional disciplines of Molecular Biology, Microbiology, Pathology, and Biochemistry. In essence, Immunology is the study of the physiological responses that result when foreign (i.e. non-self) materials are introduced into a vertebrate organism such as man. Traditionally, the discipline has focussed on the body’s response to infectious microorganisms, with the purpose of developing effective vaccines. However, the scope of modern Immunology now encompasses all aspects of self vs. non-self recognition phenomena including organ transplantation, tumour immunology and autoimmune diseases. Recent major advances in our understanding of the cellular and molecular basis of the immune response promise to provide us with a new generation of prophylactic, therapeutic and diagnostic reagents of relevance to human and animal health.

The Department of Immunology in collaboration with Trinity College co-ordinates a specialist program in Immunology. The emphasis of this program is to provide students with a sound theoretical understanding of the cellular and molecular basis of non-self recognition, together with sufficient laboratory experience to enable the students to consider embarking on a career in the discipline. Immunologists may have careers in universities and other centres of learning and research, as well as in the biotechnology industries, diagnostic laboratories and various government agencies.

Courses in this specialist program are drawn from offerings by the Department, together with courses from other Departments, taught in some cases by members of the Department of Immunology. As enrollment in the specialist program is restricted, please consult specific requirements outlined in the program description section.
Immunology Programs

Immunology (Science program)

Sponsored by the Department of Immunology, Faculty of Medicine, and Trinity College

The Immunology Specialist Program is a Type 3 program. Enrolment is limited and selection is based on performance in first-year required courses, only students with a CGPA of equal to or over 3.5 will be considered for acceptance into the program. Students apply via the Faculty’s Subject POS site web site.

Specialist program

(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 (PHY 138Y1 recommended)

Second Year:
BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1, BIO260H1/HMB265H1; CHM 220H1, 247H1

Third Year:
BCH 371H1; IMM 335Y1; MGY 311Y1, 377H1, 378H1

Fourth Year:
1. IMM 429H1, 430H1, 435H1; JBI 428H1
2. IMM 450Y1 or one full course equivalent at the 400-series level in ANA, BCH, LMP, MGY, or ZOO

Immunology Courses

See page 31 for key to course descriptions.

For distribution requirement purposes, all IMM courses are classified as science courses (see page 25).

IMM299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Cred course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

IMM334Y1 Introductory Immunology 52L
The basic principles of immunology; tissues and cells of the immune system; cell biology of the humoral and cell-mediated immune responses; immunogenetics; immunoglobulin structure, function and biosynthesis; immunological techniques; immunopathology; infection and immunity; transplantation, autoimmunity and tumour immunology.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1

IMM335Y1 Introductory Immunology 52L, 26T
The fundamental principles of immunology; tissues and cells of the immune system; humoral and cell-mediated immune responses; immunogenetics; immunoglobulin structure, function and biosynthesis; immunopathology; infection and immunity; transplantation, autoimmunity and tumour immunology.
Intended for students specializing in immunology and related programs, and requiring a more intensive background in biochemistry and molecular biology than IMM334Y1.
Prerequisite: BCH 242Y1; BIO 250Y1, 260H1/HMB 265H1
Co-requisite: MGY311Y1

JBI428H1 Molecular Immunology 26L
Molecular mechanisms involved in innate and adaptive immunity including the structure and function of immunoglobulins, the complement system, antigen processing and presentation, and membrane signalling events. Emphasis is on experimental approaches and quantitative aspects. (Given by the Departments of Biochemistry and Immunology)
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, IMM334Y1/335Y1
Recommended preparation: BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/PSL350H1

IMM429H1 Developmental Immunology 26L
Hematopoiesis, myelopoiesis, lymphopoiesis, a study of the development of cells involved in the immune system including their ontogeny, physical, molecular, and biochemical characteristics, regulation of differentiation and maturation, positive and negative selection of lymphocytes, DNA rearrangement.
Prerequisite: IMM334Y1/335Y1

IMM430H1 The Immune Response 26L
A study of the cells involved in the immune response, the nature of cellular and molecular interactions that govern immunity and self-tolerance, the nature of the effector cells in immunity and genetic control of immune responses.
Prerequisite: IMM334Y1/335Y1

IMM435H1 Practical Immunology 72P
Application of basic principles acquired from IMM334Y1/335Y1; immunological procedures used in research and diagnostic laboratories; rudiments of etiology, pathogenesis, and laboratory diagnosis of diseases of immune system; principles of immunological diagnostic procedures in some infectious diseases; instruction through lectures, practical exercises, video tapes, student presentations.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/242Y1, IMM334Y1/335Y1

IMM450Y1 Research Project in Immunology 154P
An opportunity for specialized research in Immunology under the supervision of a member of the Faculty. There are no pre- or co-requisites, although preference is given to Immunology Specialist students.

The Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology provides a bridge between the basic sciences and medicine. Investigating the molecular mechanisms of disease is an important priority of the department. Faculty are concerned with the biochemical changes that may be associated with cell and tissue injury and with the etiology, pathogenesis and behaviour of disease. Research is carried out in such areas as cardiovascular disease, immunopathobiology, neuropathology, endocrinology and metabolism, neoplasia, bone and connective tissue disease, clinical and molecular epidemiology, antibiotic resistance, and molecular pathogenesis of infectious disease.

The Pathobiology Specialist program gives students a broad understanding of contemporary medical research and basic scientific insights that have revolutionized our understanding of disease in recent years. Aspects of biochemistry, chemistry, cellular and molecular biology, and genetics are brought to bear upon human pathology. Graduates from the program will frequently pursue graduate studies in medical research and eventual research careers in academic, industrial, pharmaceutical, or governmental laboratories. A knowledge of cellular and molecular mechanisms of disease processes is also useful in a wide variety of multidisciplinary careers in government, regulatory agencies, law, and environment.

Third Year:
BCH 370H1; IMM 334Y1/MGY (377H1, 378H1); BIO 349H1; LMP 300Y1, 365H1
Fourth Year:
At least 4 of LMP 402H1,403H1, 404H1, 405Y1, 406H1, 410H1,
436H1

Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all LMP courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

LMP299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

LMP300Y1 Introduction to Pathobiology 52L, 6P
Concepts in pathogenesis; cell injury and death; tissue structure, wound healing; repair and fibrosis. Molecular basis of major organ system pathology. The laboratory examines gross anatomical specimens and introduces histopathology. Enrolment is limited to students specializing in pathobiology who have completed the first and second year requirements of the program. Exclusion: LMP301H1

LMP301H1 Introduction to the Biochemistry of Human Disease
Introduces concepts and mechanisms of disease processes as they arise from disturbances of normal biochemical and physiological functions. The rational use of the clinical biochemistry laboratory in the diagnosis and management of disease is explained. Not intended for students in the Pathobiology Specialist program. Exclusion: LMP300Y1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1

LMP363H1 Principles of Pathobiology 26L
Pathological changes brought on by foreign compounds; applications of pathology to the detection of toxic carcinogenic actions. Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, CHM247H1

LMP365H1 Neoplasia 20L, 6P
A general introduction to the cellular and molecular aspects of cancer and its etiology. The laboratory component presents the range of benign and malignant tumor types at the gross and histological levels. Pathophysiology of cancer, invasion and metastases, role of the immune system. Co-requisite: LMP300Y1 or permission of department

LMP402H1 Inflammation and Infection 26L
Cellular and molecular components of the inflammatory response. Activation of the inflammatory response by viral and microbial pathogens. Tissue pathology resulting from the inflammatory response. Evolution of pathogens to avoid and exploit the response. Prerequisite: IMM334Y1/MGY (377H1, 378H1)

LMP403H1 Immunopathology 26L
The immune system in disease. Responses of the immune system to host invasion, injurious stimuli, and transplantation. Immunopathology of organ-specific diseases including pancreas, gut, liver, heart, kidney, and blood. Intended for students specializing in pathobiology or related programs. Prerequisite: IMM334Y1

LMP404H1 Bone and Skeletal Disorders 26L
Molecular and cellular architecture of connective tissue in health and in diseases, such as osteoporosis and arthritis. Cellular and endocrine signals necessary for formation and maintenance of the skeleton. Biomechanics and tissue engineering of bone and cartilage. Selected other connective tissue diseases, their genetic variability, and up-to-date treatment strategies.

LMP405Y1 Project in Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology 156P
A self-contained research project to be completed under the supervision of a faculty member. The main areas of research are as listed in the description of the Department (above). The student will normally have completed three full years of study, and is expected to devote at least one full day per week to the project. Admission is by arrangement with the Department and with a particular supervisor. A list of potential supervisors is available from the Departmental Office and on our web site. Prerequisite: BCH210H1/310H1, LMP300Y1/363H1/365H1 and permission of department

LMP406H1 Pathobiology of the Cardiovascular System 26L
Pathobiology of the heart, blood vessels, and lymphatic system. Congenital diseases of the heart, ischemic injury, stroke. Treatments of vascular disease and cardiovascular biomaterials. Major focus on atherosclerosis and hypertension. The emphasis is on the underlying cell biology of these processes.

LMP410H1 Pathobiology of Neurodegenerative Disease 26L
Molecular basis of neurodegenerative diseases of the central and peripheral nervous systems. Relevant neuroanatomy and molecular biology of the CNS. Current research topics in neurodegenerative diseases.

LMP436H1 Microbial Pathogenesis 39L
Molecular mechanism involved in pathogenesis of infectious disease. Topics include recurrent themes in the establishment of infectious disease, such as adherence and spread of pathogenic bacteria as well as evasion of host defences. Emphasis is placed on genetic characterization and expression of virulence determinants and on interactions between bacterial pathogens and their hosts.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, IMM334Y1/MGY377H1

Molecular biology has revolutionized the fields of genetics and microbiology. The Department of Medical Genetics and Microbiology offers a combined Specialist program in Molecular Genetics and Microbiology, which emphasizes the molecular aspects of both disciplines. Genetics, the science of heredity, and microbiology, the study of microorganisms (microbes), have long served as meeting grounds for a variety of biological disciplines. Developments in genetics and microbiology have contributed greatly to our basic understanding of the fundamental processes of life as well as to the treatment of genetic and infectious diseases.

Of particular significance in molecular genetics has been the development of techniques that permit the isolation, through cloning, of the genes responsible for specific traits, and the detailed analysis of their regulation, interactions, and products. Molecular techniques have increased our ability to diagnose and understand viral and bacterial disease, and the complex microbe/host interactions that are involved. The impact of these and other technological advances extend to such diverse fields as plant and animal developmental biology, virology, immunology, cancer biology, and biotechnology. Studies at a molecular level are essential to understanding the consequences to life when fundamental processes are altered by mutation, by infection, or by the environment.

The Molecular Genetics and Microbiology program is a research-intensive program and is designed to provide a strong background in science that is applicable to a variety of careers. Career opportunities for graduates include employment in research institutes, universities and other educational institutions, and industry. The program provides an excellent preparation for post-graduate research and professional programs.

The Molecular Genetics and Microbiology program consists of two streams, called Genetics and Microbiology. Students enter the program at the start of their second year, and choose a stream by the start of the third year. Each stream provides focused training, but there is considerable overlap between the programs, reflective of both the cross-disciplinary requirements of these two rapidly evolving disciplines and the impact of each on areas spanning modern biomedical science.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
BIO150Y1; (CHM138H1, CHM139H1)/CHM151Y1; MAT135Y1/MAT137Y1; PHY110Y1/PHY138Y1/PHY140Y1 (PHY138Y1 recommended)

Second Year:
BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1, BIO260H1; CHM220H1, CHM247H1

Third Year:
Genetics Stream:
1. BCH340H1, BCH371H1; MGY311Y1, MGY312H1
2. At least 0.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from BCH335H1, CHM347H1, MGY377H1, MGY378H1

Microbiology Stream:
1. IMM335Y1; MGY311Y1, MGY376H1, MGY377H1, MGY378H1

Fourth Year:
Genetics Stream:
1. MGY420H1, MGY432H1
   plus 2.5 credits from Genetics Lists 1 and 2, distributed as follows:
2. At least 1.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from list 1:
   MGY425H1, MGY428H1, MGY451H1, MGY452H1, MGY460H1, MGY470H1
3. Up to 1.0 full-course equivalent may be taken from list 2:
   BCH422H1, 440H1, 441H1; BIO461H1, 472H1; HPS333H1; MGY434H1, 440H1, 445H1, 480Y1; ZOO328H1

Microbiology Stream:
1. MGY432H1
   plus 2.5 credits from Microbiology Lists 1 and 2, distributed as follows:
2. At least 1.5 full-course equivalents must be taken from list 1:
   LMP 402H1, 436H1; MGY 420H1, 428H1, 434H1, 440H1, 445H1, 485H1

Molecular Genetics and Microbiology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all MGY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

MGY299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

MGY311Y1 Molecular Biology 78L (formerly MGB311Y1)
DNA replication, DNA repair and mutation, recombination, transcription, RNA modification and processing, the genetic code and tRNA, translation, regulation of gene expression, development and differentiation, molecular evolution.
Exclusion: BIO349H1, JBC372H5 (UTM), MGB311Y1, PSL350H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH242Y1

MGY312H1 Principles of Genetic Analysis 78P (formerly MGB312H1)
Laboratory experiments in genetics of selected organisms. Topics studied include Mendelian genetics, linkage and recombination, complementation, analysis of chromosome rearrangements, mutant selection and analysis in plants and bacteria, and genetic crosses with plants, bacteria and bacteriophages.
Exclusion: MGB312H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO260H1
Co-requisite: MGY311Y1

MGY376H1 Microbiology Laboratory 78P (formerly MBY376H1)
Fundamental laboratory techniques in bacteriology and virology. Valuable not only for students specializing in Microbiology but also for those in related disciplines which make use of bacteria and viruses as research tools. Open to students in related programs.
Exclusion: MBY376H1
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1
Co-requisite: MGY377H1, MGY378H1

MGY377H1 Microbiology I: Bacteria 39L (formerly MBY377H1)
Detailed study of bacteria in terms of structure, classification and replication. Basis for advanced study in various aspects of bacteriology including bacterial physiology, bacterial genetics, molecular pathogenesis of disease and environmental studies.
Exclusion: MBY375Y1, MBY377H1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1

MGY378H1 Microbiology II: Viruses 39L (formerly MBY378H1)
Detailed study of viruses in terms of structure, classification, replication and interaction with the host. Basis for advanced study in virology. Requires some familiarity with immunology. A concurrent course in immunology (IMM 334Y1/335Y1) is recommended.
Exclusion: BIO351Y1, MBY375Y1, MBY378H1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/BCH242Y1; BIO250Y1; BIO 260H1/HMB 265H1
Co-requisite: BIO349H1/MGY311Y1
Recommended preparation: MGY377H1

MGY420H1 Regulation of Gene Expression 26L (formerly MGB420H1)
This course describes regulatory mechanisms controlling gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes. The lectures are designed to promote discussion of various experimental approaches. Topics include: assembly of a transcription complex; initiation of transcription; role of sigma factors and transcription factors; role of regulators of transcription; regulation of SV40 transcription; lambda antitermination; antitermination in HIV-1.
Exclusion: BIO477H5 (UTM), MGB420H1
Prerequisite: BCH242Y1, BCH340H1, MGB311Y1/MGY311Y1

MGY425H1 Signal Transduction and Cell Cycle Regulation 26L (formerly MGB425H1)
This course presents and integrates molecular aspects of signal transduction and cell cycle regulation in eukaryotic cells from yeast to humans. Emphasis is on recent advances in growth factor receptor signalling, modular protein domains, and the recurrent role of protein phosphorylation and protein-protein interactions in cell regulation.
MGY428H1 Functional and Microbial Genomics 26L
A broad ranging course that covers many aspects of genomics, which is the discipline of defining and attributing function to all of the heritable material of an organism on a genome-wide scale, as applied to microbes, invertebrates and vertebrates. The primary and review literature will be the basis of all lectures. Exclusion: MGB428H1
Prerequisites: BCH242Y1; BIO260H1/HMB265H1; MGY311Y1/BIO349H1

MGY432H1 Laboratory in Molecular Genetics and Microbiology 78P
Laboratory experiments demonstrating basic and advanced molecular biological methods applied to molecular genetics and microbiology. Exclusion: MGB430H1, MBY450H1, ZOO330H1
Prerequisite: MGY312H1/MGY376H1
Note: MGY432H1 will fulfill the course requirement for the former MGB430H1 or MBY450H1

MGY434H1 Bacterial Signalling and Physiological Regulation 39L
(formerly MGY434H1)
How bacteria sense their environment and signal to regulatory systems when to adapt to environmental stimuli. Topics discussed include the bacterial cell cycle, carbon/energy metabolism, catabolite repression, bacterial development, sporulation, stress responses, regulatory two-component systems and quorum sensing. Exclusion: MGY434H1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/BCH242Y1, MGY311Y1/MGY376H1, BIO349H1/MGY311Y1; BIO349H1/MGY311Y1

MGY440H1 Molecular Virology 39L
(formerly MBY440H1)
Analysis of virus/host interactions at the molecular level. Course material is based on recent research publications. Exclusion: MGY440H1
Prerequisite: BCH210H1/BCH242Y1; BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/MGY376H1, BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/MGY376H1; BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/MGY376H1
(Mote: BIO 351Y1 is not an acceptable equivalent to MGY376H1)
Recommended preparation: IMM334Y1/IMM335Y1

MGY445H1 Genetic Engineering for Prevention and Treatment of Disease 39L
(formerly MBY445H1)
Current approaches to gene therapy including design of virus-based vectors for delivery and expression of effector genes. Emphasis on the use of retrovirus-based strategies for prevention and treatment of HIV infection. Exclusion: MGY445H1
Prerequisite: MGY378H1/MGY311Y1/MGY376H1; MGY378H1/MGY376H1

MGY451H1 Genetic Analysis of Development: Yeast and Worms 26L
(formerly MGY451H1)
Basic and advanced principles of genetic analysis applied to the study of two of the best-understood eukaryotic model organisms: the yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae, and the nematode worm Caenorhabditis elegans. We emphasize the use of genetic approaches to address problems in cell biology and development, such as the regulation of cell fate. Much of the knowledge gained from these simple organisms has proven broadly applicable, and the same principles of developmental Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Faculty of Medicine

Neuroscience is a multidisciplinary field in biology and medical sciences that concerns the study of all aspects related to the nervous system. Over the past 20 years there has been immense growth in neuroscience research, and neuroscience has become a major scientific discipline encompassing a very wide range of research topics and methods. Studies related to mechanisms of learning, memory, motivation, circadian rhythms, pain mechanisms, Alzheimer’s disease and movement disorders such as Parkinson’s disease and Lou Gherig’s disease are a few examples illustrating the wide diversity of neuroscience topics.

The Specialist program in Neuroscience is a joint program among the Departments of Physiology, Psychology and Zoology, and provides a comprehensive and broad training in neuroscience. In years 3 and 4 students will be able to choose from a wide range of neuroscience courses and focus on their particular interest. The major areas of possible specialization include molecular, cellular, systems, behavioural, cognitive and computational neuroscience. Students in the program must take the neuroscience lab course in third year.

Undergraduate Program Director:
Professor M. Ralph, Department of Psychology, Sidney Smith Hall, Rm. 4017 (416-978-7621)

Undergraduate Advisor:
Professor W.A. MacKay, Department of Physiology, Medical Sciences Building, Rm. 3306 (416-978-2675)

Neuroscience Program

Enrolment in the program is limited. Applicants must have completed or be completing the required first year courses and will be selected on the basis of GPA, which is determined on a yearly basis by the Program Director.

Neuroscience (Science program)

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full 400-series course)

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM 138H1, 139H1; MAT 135Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1; PSY 101H1/100Y1

Second Year:
BIO 250Y1/MAT 235Y1; CHM 247H1/STA 250H1/PSY 201H1; PSY 202H1; NRS 201H1, 202H1; PSL 300H1/ZOO 252Y1/PSY 391H1; PSY 391H1/PSY 260H1/270H1/280H1

Third Year:
1. BCH 210H1, NRS 302H1
2. 1.0 FCE from: BIO 349H1; PSL 301H1, 303Y1; PSY 260H1, 270H1, 280H1
3. 1.0 FCE from: PCL 301H1, 302H1; PSY 312H1, 316H1, 362H1, 369H1, 370H1, 371H1, 372H1, 375H1, 379H1, 380H1, 389H1, 390H1, 392H1, 393H1, 394H1, 396H1, 460H1, 470H1, 471H1, 480H1, 490H1; ZOO 443H1, 485Y1
4. 0 FCEs from: JZP 326H1, 428H1; NRS 400Y1; PCL 475Y1; PSL 303Y1, 424H1, 432H1, 433H1, 440Y1, 441H1, 443H1, 444Y1, 452H1, 454H1, 460H1, 472H1, 497H1; PSY 312H1, 316H1,

NOTE:
Students should carefully study the prerequisites for courses they plan to take in higher years. Consult the individual Advisors for assistance.

Neuroscience Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all NRS courses are classified as Science courses.

NRS201H1 Neuroscience 26L
A survey of brain systems, including evolution and development of the nervous system, brain stem system for defensive and approach responses, limbic and cortical systems for learning, and higher brain functions. Techniques for study of brain systems including pharmacology, gene targeting and human brain imaging are introduced.
Exclusion: PSY290H1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; PSY101H1/100Y1
Pre- or co-requisite: PSL300H1/ZOO252Y1/PSY391H1

NRS202H1 Neuroanatomy 26L
This is a rigorous, introductory course that presents the functional and comparative anatomy of the vertebrate brain. It is designed for students who intend to continue with studies in the Neurosciences and related areas.
Pre- or co-requisite: PSL300H1/302Y1/PSY290H1/ZOO252Y1

NRS299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

NRS302H1 Neuroscience Laboratory 36P
A practical course covering many aspects of neuroscience including membrane potentials, muscle contraction, sensory mechanisms, perception, reflexes, reaction time and reward mechanisms. Writing skills are emphasized. (First offered in 2001-02)
Exclusion: PSY399H1
Prerequisite: NRS201H1, 202H1; Neuroscience Specialist

NRS400Y1 Project in Neuroscience 8S, 156P
Laboratory research project on a neuroscience topic, with reading assignments leading to a final report and oral presentation. By special arrangement with a staff member in the Physiology, Psychology or Zoology departments.
Prerequisite: NRS201H1, 202H1

Nutritional Sciences represents an exciting and challenging area of study of a truly interdisciplinary nature. Understanding of the impact of nutrition on health and its role in disease is based upon a knowledge of the metabolic processes involved (nutrient requirements and utilization, food additive metabolism and safety), of the chemistry of foods (food preservation, food production) and of social and behavioural factors integrated in consideration of the national and international goals of achieving optimal health through proper nutrition.

Most career opportunities in Nutritional Sciences require training beyond the undergraduate level. The Major and Specialist Programs provide excellent preparation for entry into postgraduate studies in nutrition research or for a professional faculty such as Medicine and Dentistry.

Please note that this Department does not offer an undergraduate dietetics program. Students interested in this qualification should contact Dietitians of Canada for information (www.dietitians.ca).

Students interested in applying to the M.H.Sc. Comm. Nutr. Program, through the Graduate Department of Community Health, are advised to contact the program director during their second year of undergraduate studies.

Nutritional Sciences (Science program)

The specialist program will no longer be offered. Students admitted to the program prior to September 2004 may complete their program as described below

Specialist program:

(12.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 400-series courses)

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 (PHY 138Y1 recommended)

Second Year:
BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM (220H1, 247H1/249H1); NFS 284H1; STA (220H1, 221H1/JBS 229H1)

Third Year:
BIO 349H1/JLM 349H1; NFS 382H1; 386H1; PSL 302Y1

Fourth Year:
1. NFS 484H1
2. Two of NFS 486H1, 487H1, 488H1, 490H1, 494Y1

Major program:

Enrolment in the Major Program can begin at the end of first year, and admission is based on maintaining an overall GPA of at least 2.7 in the required courses.

First Year:
BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1

Second Year:
NFS 284H1; BCH210H1; STA (220H1, 221H1/JBS 229H1)

Third Year:
NFS 382H1; NFS 386H1; PSL 302Y1; BIO 349H1/PSL350H1

Fourth Year:
Any three of: NFS 484H1, NFS 486H1, NFS 487H1, NFS 488H1, NFS 490H1, NFS 494Y1

Nutritional Sciences Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all NFS courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

NFS284H1 Basic Human Nutrition 39L, 13T

An introductory course to provide the fundamentals of human nutrition to enable students to understand and think critically about the complex interrelationships between food, nutrition, health and the environment.

Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY110Y1/138Y1/140Y1 (PHY 138Y1 is recommended)

NFS299Y1 Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.
Life Sciences: Nutritional Sciences

NFS382H1 Vitamin and Mineral Metabolism Throughout the Life Cycle 39L, 13T
Micronutrients are essential for health throughout the life cycle. This course examines the role of micronutrients during development and ageing with some emphasis on disease prevention and pathogenesis. Students develop critical appraisal skills, an understanding of the principles of study design and learn to write in a scientific style.
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; NFS284H1

NFS386H1 Food Chemistry 39L
Structure, composition and chemical and biochemical reactions in foods during postharvest/postmortem, processing, storage and utilisation. Implications for organoleptic properties, nutritional value, toxicity and human health.
Recommended preparation: CHM 138H1

NFS484H1 Advanced Nutrition 26L, 14T
Physiological and biochemical features of nutrient needs. The roles of nutrients in the development and adaptability of the whole body, organs and cells. Interpretation of current research data.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, BIO349H1/PSL350H1, NFS284H1, PSL302Y1, STA (220H1, 221H1/JBS229H1)

NFS486H1 Nutrition and Human Disease 26L, 13T
Role of dietary fat in normal development and in human diseases including cancer, diabetes and cardiovascular disease. Current issues relating to their prevention or treatment with diet will be discussed, illustrated with reference to general pathophysiological and biochemical principles and current literature.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, BIO349H1/PSL350H1, NFS284H1, PSL302Y1, STA (220H1, 221H1/JBS229H1)

NFS487H1 Functional Foods and Nutrigenomics 26L, 14T
Prerequisites: NFS 284H1, BIO349H1/PSL350H

NFS488H1 Nutritional Toxicology 26L, 13T
Occurrence, mechanism of action, safety and health implications of chemicals naturally present in or added to foods. Interactions of nutrients and toxicants and the effects on their metabolism and utilization. Food safety evaluation and regulatory control.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, NFS284H1

NFS490H1 International and Community Nutrition 26L, 13T
This course focuses on current issues in international and community nutrition including global and domestic food security, micronutrient deficiencies and other forms of undernutrition, maternal and infant/child nutrition, dietary guidance, and food and nutrition policy. The course will consider the environmental, sociopolitical, cultural and biosocial contexts of nutrition.
Prerequisite: NFS284H1
Recommended preparation: GGR107Y1/POL103Y1/SOC101Y1

NFS494Y1 Research Projects in Nutritional Sciences 156P
Research experience under the supervision of a Departmental staff member. The course entails designing and carrying out a small research project and the preparation and presentation of both a research proposal and a final report. Note that the research project NFS 494Y1 requires the prior consent of a staff member who will supervise the project and departmental approval before enrolment. The student is responsible for locating a supervisor and must consult with the course instructor before the beginning of the term.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department and Project Supervisor
Life Sciences: Pharmaceutical Chemistry

Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy

Pharmaceutical Chemistry combines knowledge of the biological, medical, and physical sciences in the study of the scientific aspect of drug therapy. The emphasis is on the chemical nature of the reactions and interactions involved in drug therapy. The students will receive a solid background in the aspects of chemistry the most relevant to drugs: physical, organic, and analytical chemistry. They will also learn the fundamental aspects of the synthesis, manufacture, use, and mode of action of drugs.

(15.5 courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

NOTE: Some of the courses listed below may have prerequisites.

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; CHM 247H1/249H1

Third Year:

CHM 217H1; PCL 201H1; PHC 300Y1; PHC 320H1; PHC 330Y1; PHC 430Y1

Fourth Year:

1. CHM 317H1; PHC 489Y1
2. Two full course equivalents from:
   CHM 346H1; CHM 347H1; CHM 379H1; CHM 410H1; CHM 427H1; CHM 440H1; PCL 362H1; PHC 401H1; PHC 430H1; PHC 431H1; PHC 450H1; PHC 451H1; PHC 452H1; PHC 460H1; PHC 461H1; PHC 470H1

Pharmaceutical Chemistry Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PHC courses are classified as SCIENCE courses except for PHC 470H1, which is a SOCIAL SCIENCE course.

PHC 300Y1 Molecular Pharmacology 78L, 26T

The molecular basis for the action of drugs is presented based upon the physicochemical nature of the drug and its target.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; BCH 210H1

PHC 320H1 Medicinal Chemistry 39L

Modern discovery and synthesis of antibiotics, antineoplastics, antiviral and other therapeutic agents.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; BCH 210H1

PHC 330Y1 Pharmaceutics 78L, 24T

The study of the science and technology underlying drug delivery are covered. The properties of different dosage forms and delivery routes are studied with an emphasis on oral and parenteral routes.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; PCL 201H1; BCH 210H1

PHC 340Y1 Pharmaceutical Chemistry Laboratory 26L, 78P

The scientific basis and practical techniques relevant to modern pharmaceutical development.

Prerequisite: CHM 247H1/249H1; (CHM 220H1, 221H1)/225Y1; PCL 201H1; BCH 210H1

PHC 401H1 Drug Transport across Biological Membranes 26L

The goal of this course is to provide students with knowledge of the molecular processes involved in drug transport across biological cell membranes with emphasis on their physiological and clinical significance.

Prerequisite: PHC 300Y1, Permission of the Department

PHC 430H1 Recent Developments in Dosage Form Design 26L

Introduction to controlled drug delivery: Mechanisms and kinetics of controlled drug release. Fundamental theories and mathematical tools for the design of modern dosage forms. Development and applications of controlled drug delivery dosage forms.

Recommended: (PHC 330Y1, PHC 340Y1)/PHM 224Y1, Permission of the Department

PHC 431H1 Selected Topics in Drug Development 26L

In-depth discussion of implementation of pharmaceutical sciences in drug development strategies. Students will apply fundamental principles of pharmaceutics and drug delivery to current problems in the pharmaceutical industry.

Recommended: (PHC 330Y1, PHC 340Y1)/PHM 224Y1, Permission of the Department

PHC 450H1 Applications of Pharmaceutical Analysis in Pharmacy and Medicine 21L, 16P

Overview of methods of pharmaceutical analysis such as titrations, UV-visible, IR, NMR and mass spectroscopy, fluorescence, HPLC, GC, TLC, electrophoresis, blotting, immunoassays and radiometric methods. Regulatory aspects of drug product quality control are covered. Introduces applications in pharmacy, therapeutic drug monitoring, toxicology, forensic science, athletics and clinical laboratory medicine.

Prerequisites: PHC 300Y1/PHM 222Y, (PHC 330Y1, PHC 340Y1)/PHM 224Y, Permission of the Department
PHC 451H1  Radiopharmaceuticals in Diagnosis and Therapy
Presents use of radiopharmaceuticals in diagnosis and therapy, emphasizing those used in nuclear medicine procedures studying neurological, cardiovascular, pulmonary, gastrointestinal, haematologic, endocrine and bone pathology.
Prerequisite: (PHC330Y1, PHC340Y1)/PHM 224Y1, Permission of the Department

PHC 452H1  Selected Topics in Radiopharmaceuticals
Introduces nuclear pharmacy through the discussion of problems that explain the design, production, analysis, and the clinical use of radiopharmaceuticals. Topics introduced using group discussions and laboratory exercises.
Prerequisites: (PHC330Y, PHC340Y)/PHM224Y, Permission of the Department

PHC 460H1  Fundamentals of Drug Discovery
Lectures by scientists from academia and industry, and student seminars based on journal articles dealing with strategies for discovering new drugs for therapy and diagnosis.
Prerequisites: BIO250Y1, PHC300Y1/PHM222Y1, Permission of the Instructor

PHC 461H1  Selected Topics in the Pharmaceutical Industry
Introduces drug development from the perspective of the pharmaceutical industry. Describes key stages in drug development process; current issues facing industry and role of pharmacists and pharmaceutical scientists in the process. Lectures are given by specialists employed in the pharmaceutical industry and concepts covered in the lectures will be applied to in-class case studies.
Prerequisites: PHC300Y1/PHM222Y1, (PHC330Y1, PHC340Y1)/PHM224Y1, Permission of the Department

PHC 470H1  Global Pharmaceutical Policy: Power and Politics
Introduces concepts and issues in international pharmaceutical policy. Emphasis placed on how governments in different jurisdictions manage their public health responsibilities, international obligations, and pressure from special interest groups in terms of pharmaceutical policy.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department
This is a Social Science course.

PHC 489Y1  Pharmaceutical Chemistry Research
This course will provide research experience under the supervision of a Departmental staff member. The goal is to deepen the student's understanding of the scientific basis and practical techniques relevant to modern pharmaceutical development.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department and the Project Supervisor
Life Sciences: Pharmacology and Toxicology

Pharmacology and Toxicology are broadly based and integrative disciplines of biology dealing with the properties of chemical compounds and their interactions with living systems. They provide the scientific basis and principles for the study of chemical actions in the health sciences, the use of drugs as therapeutic agents or as tools in scientific research, the development and control of pharmaceuticals, the investigation and control of pollutants and poisons in natural and social environments, etc. The Department of Pharmacology offers four specialist and two major undergraduate programs of study:

1. Specialist Program in Pharmacology. This program is specifically concerned with the study of chemical (drug) actions on body fluids, cells, tissues and organ systems. Pharmacology (and its application in clinical therapeutics) plays a prominent role in Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy. However, there is no equivalence between the professional Pharmacy degree offered in the Faculty of Pharmacy and this Arts & Science Specialist Program in Pharmacology. The objectives of this program are to provide a structured introduction to the scientific aspects of the discipline with exposure to some investigational and research problems and opportunities in preparation for advanced graduate study and research in pharmacology.
2. Specialist Program in Toxicology. This specialist program deals with the study of the harmful effects of chemicals on the health and behaviour of individuals and society. This program not only serves as preparation for advanced graduate study and research in toxicology, but also for toxicological work in forensic science, nutrition and food science, governmental agencies, consulting agencies, industry, etc. Students interested in environmental toxicology should consider enrolling in the Specialist Program in Environment and Toxicology, jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and the Centre for Environment.

3. Double Specialist in Pharmacology and Toxicology. This program combines the requirements of the two previous specialist programs. An extra year may be required for completion of this program.

4. Specialist Program in Environment and Toxicology. This program is jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and the Centre for Environment. For additional information see “Centre for Environment” or consult the website, www.environment.utoronto.ca.

5. Major Programs in Pharmacology and in Toxicology. These programs are intended for undergraduate students who want to have a solid knowledge in these disciplines, allowing students to combine different and complementary areas of expertise in Life Sciences. This approach contributes to a broader and multidisciplinary undergraduate training that is particularly relevant for students interested in pursuing further studies in professional health science programs.

Enrollment in all programs is limited. Minimum CGPAs are required for the different programs (see below).

For further information consult the A&S Registration Handbook and Timetable and our website: http://www.library.utoronto.ca/pharm_tox/index.htm

Pharmacology and Toxicology Programs

Enrollment in these Programs is limited. A minimum CGPA of 3.0 is required for the specialist programs in Pharmacology and in Toxicology. A minimum CGPA of 3.5 is required for the Double Specialist program. A minimum CGPA of 2.7 is required for the major programs in Pharmacology and in Toxicology.

Pharmacology (Science program)

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrollment in this program is limited. A minimum CGPA of 3.0 is required.

First Year:
BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY110Y1/I38Y1/I40Y1 (PHY I38Y1 recommended)

Second Year:
BCH210H1; BIO250Y1; BIO260H1/HMB265H1; CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1; PCL201H1

Third Year:
BCH370H1; BIO349H1; PCL302H1, PCL376H1 (see NOTE 1); PSL302Y1*, PSL372H1 (*NOTE: PSL201Y1 is not acceptable)

Fourth Year:
PCL470Y1, PCL471Y1 (see NOTE 2), PCL472Y1 (see NOTE 3); and one full-credit equivalent from: ANA300Y1/ ZOO263Y1/BCH304H1/BCH445H1/ANA301H1/ ZOO325H1/ZOO328H1/PCL477H1

NOTES
1. PCL376H1 may be taken either as a pre-requisite or a co-requisite to the research project course, PCL472Y1.
2. Enrollment in the Pharmacology Laboratory course (PCL471Y1) is restricted to students enrolled in the Pharmacology or Double Specialist programs.
3. Enrollment in the research project course (PCL472Y1) is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. Students must receive prior consent of an approved supervisor according to departmental guidelines before the Department of Pharmacology will register them in the course. It is the student’s responsibility to initiate all necessary preparations before the session starts (see course description).

Major program in Pharmacology:
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 300 series courses and one 400 series course)

Enrollment in this program is limited. Students may apply after completing 4 courses including all the First Year requirements with a minimum CGPA of 2.7.

First Year:
BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/151Y1

Second Year:
BCH210H1; BIO250Y1; PCL201H1; CHM217H1/220H1 (see NOTE 1); CHM247H1/249H1

Third Year:
PCL302H1; PSL302Y1; BCH370H1/BIO349H1 (see NOTE 2)

Fourth Year:
PCL470Y1

NOTES
1. CHM220H1 requires MAT135Y1/I37Y1/I51Y1 as a prerequisite.
2. BIO349H1 requires BIO260H1/HMB265H1 as a prerequisite.
3. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Pharmacology and the Major Program in Toxicology.
4. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Pharmacology and a Specialist Program in Toxicology.
5. Transfer from the Major Program in Pharmacology to the Specialist Program in Pharmacology may be requested at the end of the second year, providing that placements are available and the student has a minimum CGPA of 3.0.
Toxicology (Science program)

Specialist program:
(15 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

Enrollment in this program is limited. A minimum CGPA of 3.0 is required.

First Year:
BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/I151Y1; MAT135Y1/I137Y1; PHY110Y1/I138Y1/I40Y1 (PHY110Y1 recommended)

Second Year:
BCH210H1; BIO250Y1; BIO260H1/HMB265H1; CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1; PCL201H1

Third Year:
BCH370H1; BIO349H1; LMP363H1; PCL302H1, PCL362H1, PCL376H1 (see NOTE 1); PSL302Y1* (NOTE: PSL 201Y1 is not acceptable)

Fourth Year:
LMP301H1; PCL473Y1, PCL474Y1 (see NOTE 2), PCL481H1; and one half-credit equivalent from: ANA301H1/CHM310H1/GGR409H1/NFS488H1/PHM457H1/PCL477H1

NOTES

1. PCL376H1 may be taken either as a pre-requisite or a co-requisite to the research project course, PCL474Y1.
2. Enrollment in the research project course (PCL474Y1) is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. Students must receive prior consent of an approved supervisor according to departmental guidelines before the Department of Pharmacology will register them in the course. It is the student's responsibility to initiate all necessary preparations before the session starts (see course description).

Major program:
(8 full courses or their equivalent, including two 300 series course and one 400 series course).

Enrollment in this program is limited. Students may apply after completing 4 courses including all the First Year requirements with a minimum CGPA of 2.7.

First Year:
BIO150Y1; CHM138H1, CHM139H1/I151Y1

Second Year:
BCH210H1; BIO250Y1; PCL201H1; CHM217H1/220H1 (see NOTE 1); CHM247H1/249H1

Third Year:
PCL302H1; PCL362H1 (see NOTE 2)

Fourth Year:
PCL473Y1

NOTES

1. CHM220H1 requires MAT135Y1/I137Y1/I151Y1 as a pre-requirement.
2. Although LMP301H1 (Introduction to the Biochemistry of Human Disease) and LMP363H1 (Principles of Pathobiology) are not pre-requisites to enroll in PCL473Y1, students are strongly recommended to enroll in at least one of these courses.

3. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Toxicology and the Major Program in Pharmacology.
4. Students are not allowed to enroll concurrently in the Major Program in Toxicology and a Specialist Program in Pharmacology.
5. Transfer from the Major Program in Toxicology to the Specialist Program in Toxicology may be requested at the end of the second year, providing that placements are available and the student has a minimum CGPA of 3.0.

Double Specialist in Pharmacology and Toxicology (Science program)

This program requires completion of both the Pharmacology and Toxicology Specialist courses. It may require an extra year for completion. Enrollment in this program is limited and a minimum CGPA of 3.5 is required. Consult the Department for details prior to applying. Students are allowed to enroll in only one of the two project course (PCL472Y/PCL474Y) offered by the Department of Pharmacology.

Specialist program in Environment and Toxicology (Science program)

This program is jointly sponsored by the Department of Pharmacology and the Centre for Environment. For additional information see "Centre for Environment" or consult the website, www.environment.utoronto.ca.

Pharmacology and Toxicology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PCL courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

PCL299Y1  Research Opportunity Program

Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

PCL201H1  Introduction to Pharmacology: 39L, 13T  Pharmacokinetic Principles

A general introduction to pharmacology. Topics include absorption, distribution, biotransformation, elimination, calculation of dosages, variability in drug response and adverse drug reactions.

Recommended co-requisites: BIO250Y1, CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1

PCL302H1  Introduction to Pharmacology: 39L, 13T  Pharmacodynamic Principles

Topics include biological action of drugs on membranes, enzymes, receptors, neural and hormonal systems, transmission and modulation.

Prerequisites: BIO250Y1, CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1, PCL 201H1

PCL362H1  Introductory Toxicology 26L

Toxicological problems encountered in animals and humans; biochemical mechanisms and clinical factors of toxicological significance; models of drug-related diseases.

Prerequisites: BCH210H1, BIO250Y1, CHM217H1/220H1, CHM247H1/249H1, PCL201H1

Recommended Co-requisite: BIO349H1, PCL302H1
PCL376H1 Experimental Design and Data Analysis for Pharmacology and Toxicology
A practically oriented course, focused on experimental design and the analysis of pharmacological and toxicological data. Topics include: principles of experimental design, data analysis and statistical tests appropriate for each type, use of computing statistical packages, analysis of dose-response and time-response curves and analysis of receptor binding assays. PCL376H1 can be taken either as a prerequisite or a co-requisite to the research project course PCL472Y1/474Y1.

- Prerequisite: PCL201H1
- Co-requisite: PCL302H1
- Exclusion: PCL476H1

PCL470Y1 Systems Pharmacology
Concepts of the properties of drugs and chemicals and their interaction with living systems and their constituent parts. Mechanism of action and pharmacological properties of drugs acting on the autonomic and central nervous systems, cardiovascular, renal, respiratory, gastrointestinal, immunological and endocrine systems; endogenous compounds; antimicrobial and anti-inflammatory drugs, chemotherapy and special topics in pharmacology.

- Prerequisites: BCH210H1, PCL201H1, PCL302H1, PSL 302Y1

PCL471Y1 Pharmacology Laboratory
Demonstrations, seminars, and laboratory exercises in selected areas of Pharmacology. Enrollment in the Pharmacology Laboratory course (PCL 471Y1) is restricted to students enrolled in the Pharmacology and Double Specialist programs.

- Prerequisites: BCH370H1, PSL372H1, PCL201H1, PCL302H1
- Co-requisite: PCL470Y1

PCL472Y1 Project in Pharmacology
This course affords students an opportunity for hands-on research experience in a laboratory or applied pharmacology setting. Students will work under the supervision of a staff member and will submit a final written report. Enrollment is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. It is the student’s responsibility to secure a placement with an approved supervisor before the course begins (a list of potential supervisors can be obtained from the Department of Pharmacology). Students will be registered in the course once their ballot form (obtained from the Department of Pharmacology) is signed by an approved supervisor and approved by the Department of Pharmacology.

- Prerequisites: PCL201H1, PCL302H1, PCL376H1 (see NOTES above) and permission of Department
- Co-requisite: PCL376H1 (see NOTES above)
- Exclusion: PCL474Y1

PCL474Y1 Project in Toxicology
This course affords students an opportunity for hands-on research experience in a laboratory or applied toxicology setting. Students will work under the supervision of a staff member and will submit a final written report. Enrollment is limited and requires permission from the Department of Pharmacology. It is the student’s responsibility to secure a placement with an approved supervisor before the course begins (a list of potential supervisors can be obtained from the Department of Pharmacology). Students will be registered in the course once their ballot form (obtained from the Department of Pharmacology) is signed by an approved supervisor and approved by the Department of Pharmacology.

- Prerequisites: PCL201H1, PCL302H1, PCL376H1 (see NOTES above)
- Exclusion: PCL472Y1

PCL475Y1 Neuropsychopharmacology
Major neuro-psychiatric disease syndromes: clinical pathology and neuronal abnormalities; CNS drugs: theories and mechanisms of action.

- Prerequisite: Enrollment is limited to students with a minimum CGPA of 3.0.

PCL477H1 The DNA Damage Response
Many anticancer drugs and environmental agents exert their cytotoxic effects through DNA damage. This course explores specific pharmacological and toxicological agents that damage DNA and discusses how mammalian cells respond to this DNA damage.

- Prerequisite: BCH210H1/310H1, BCH342Y1, BCH349H1/BIO349H1/MGY311Y1/PSL350H1
- Recommended Preparation: PCL201H1, PCL302H1

PCL481H1 The Molecular and Biochemical Basis of Toxicology
The biochemical principles and molecular mechanisms underlying the toxicity of drugs and foreign agents. The sequence of events at the molecular level leading to impairment of cell function and the factors which determine and affect toxicity.

- Prerequisites: BCH210H1/310H1, LMP363H1, PCL362H1

Physiology is the study of living matter in action. It explains body organ function in terms of physical and chemical principles. It is an integrating discipline dealing with controls, compensations, and interrelationships. Interaction with the environment is a major factor in Physiology. In addition, Physiology serves as a bridge between cellular biology, systems analysis, and behaviour.

Physiology provides a necessary background for the study of Pharmacology; a preparation for graduate work in Physiology and related areas; for the teaching of Biological Science in secondary schools; or for subsequent training in Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Nursing, and the Health Sciences in general. Physiologists are needed also in hospitals and departments of medicine as teachers and research personnel. Other outlets would be in agriculture and veterinary schools, in military research establishments and in life science-based industry. The development of air and space travel, the exploration of the continental shelf, the development of Northern regions, and increased emphasis on exercise and fitness, all provide business and research opportunities for the person trained in Physiology.

Physiology at the research level covers a variety of specialties (e.g. Endocrinology, Cardiovascular Physiology, Neurophysiology, Respiratory Physiology, Reproductive Physiology, Sensory Physiology), each with very different technical and analytical methods. More information is available on the departmental website (www.uoftphysiology.com). Students in the Major program are encouraged to combine Physiology with a non-Life Science major, e.g. Computer Science, Chemistry, Physics or Mathematics.

Physiology Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all PSL courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

PSL201Y1 Basic Human Physiology 52L
A survey course intended for students who are not proceeding further in Physiology.
Exclusion: Any PSL course taken previously or concurrently
Prerequisite: 100-level course in BIO or equivalent

PSL299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

PSL300H1 Human Physiology I 39L, 5T
Principles of neurophysiology and endocrinology for students enrolled in the Neuroscience program.
Exclusion: PSL201Y1, PSY391H1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM138H1; PHY100-series

PSL301H1 Human Physiology II 39L, 4T
Principles of respiratory, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, renal and reproductive physiology for students enrolled in the Neuroscience program.
Exclusion: PSL201Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM138H1; PSL 300H1

JBO302Y1 Human Physiology and Biophysics 78L, 12T
Principles of Human Physiology with tutorials on the biophysical concepts applied to physiological processes. Restricted to students enrolled in the Biophysics program.
Exclusion: PSL201Y1, 302Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM138H1; MAT100-series/PHY100-series

PSL302Y1 Human Physiology 78L, 9T
Principles of Human Physiology for students enrolled in Basic Medical Science programs.
Exclusion: PSL201Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1, CHM138H1; MAT100-series/PHY100-series

PSL303Y1 Topics in Cellular, Molecular and Organismic Physiology 78L, 26T
Using homeostasis and feedback as a unifying theme, topics in control systems, cell signaling, rhythms, environmental adaptations and body weight regulations are examined. Tutorials use computer simulations and problem sets.
Prerequisite: JBO302Y1/PSL302Y1, MAT 100-series, PHY100-series
Co-requisite: PSL372H1, 374H1 or permission of Department

PSL350H1 Mammalian Molecular Biology 20L, 6S
Molecular biology is essential for understanding mammalian function. The knowledge from BIO250Y of DNA, RNA, and protein is extended to current, primary literature on mammalian molecular biology. Application of molecular biology to disease and to complex behaviors is followed by small group sessions on topics with a bioethics component.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1
Exclusion: BIO349H1/JLM349H1/MGY311Y1
Pre- or Co-requisite: PSL300H1/301H1/302Y1/ JBO302Y1/ BCH210H1

PSL372H1 Mammalian Physiology 13L, 39P Laboratory
A laboratory course covering selected topics in physiology.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, BCH210H1, MAT 100-series/PHY 100-series
Pre- or Co-requisite: PSL302Y1, BCH370H1 (recommended)

PSL374H1 Advanced Physiology 13L, 13S, 39P Laboratory
A problem-based laboratory course focused on the integration of organ systems to understand the control mechanisms of body function.
Prerequisite: BIO250Y1, PSL302Y1, PSL372H1
Co-requisite: BCH370H1

PSL420H1 Reproduction I: Development and Function
This course provides an in-depth review of the development and function of the male and female reproductive systems. Topics include sex determination and differentiation, gametogenesis, hormonal control of the reproductive systems, the female ovulatory cycle, seasonal breeding, sexual behaviour, fertilization and implantation.
Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

PSL421H1 Reproduction II: Pregnancy and Birth
General overview of the integrated physiologic events associated with pregnancy and birth. The approach emphasizes physiologic processes using insights gained from studies of humans, animals, cells and genes. Where appropriate the clinical consequences of aberrant development are reviewed.
Prerequisite: PSL302Y1
Recommended Preparation: PSL420H1

PSL425H1 Integrative Metabolism and its Endocrine Regulation
This course integrates the newest findings and experimental approaches from cellular and molecular biology into metabolic function at the tissue, organ and whole body level.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, PSL302Y1
Recommended Preparation: PSL303Y1

PSL432H1 Theoretical Physiology
Theoretical treatment of neurophysiology. Mathematical modeling and analysis of neurophysiological systems.
Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1; APM346H1/MAT244H1
Recommended Preparation: PHY200-series; PSL201Y1/302Y1/ZOO252Y1

PSL440Y1 Neuroscience I: Systems and Behaviour
Introduction to systems neuroscience. A review of basic neuroanatomy and physiology followed by in-depth study of selected sensory and motor systems. Students with an elementary neuroscience background progress to reading neuroscience literature on their own.
Prerequisite: PSL300H1/302Y1/PSY290H1/ZOO332H1 or equivalent

PSL443H1 Motor Control Systems
Control of body movement and posture by the nervous system in normal and pathological conditions. Topics include nonlinear dynamical systems, central pattern generators in the cerebral cortex, brainstem and spinal cord, reflexes, and basal ganglia-cerebellar function.
Prerequisite: PSL300H1/302Y1

288
PSL444Y1  Neuroscience II: Cellular and Molecular
Overview of the fundamentals of cellular and molecular aspects of brain function. Course material is updated yearly to reflect the rapid evolution of ideas in Neuroscience.
Prerequisite: PSL300H1/302Y1/ZOO332H1

PSL452H1  Membrane Physiology
Biophysics and molecular biology of ion channels. Topics include equivalent circuits for cells, molecular structure of voltage-gated channels, distribution of channels, relationship between single-channel and whole-cell recording and regulation of channel function by voltage, phosphorylation, G-proteins and metabolites.
Prerequisite: PSL303Y1
Recommended Preparation: PSL432H1

PSL454H1  Physiological Instrumentation and Electronics
A practical approach to instrumentation as a preparation for using sophisticated measurement systems.
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1 or equivalent

PSL460H1  Molecular Physiology
An overview of the ways in which techniques in molecular biology are being used to resolve current issues in physiology. The systems to be studied include individual cells, organ systems, integrated systems, and whole animal physiology and pathophysiology.
Prerequisite: BCH210H1, BIO250Y1, BIO349H1/PSL350H1, PSL302Y1

PSL462H1  Cardiovascular Physiology
Development of the cardiovascular system from conception to adulthood with particular emphasis on maturational changes, age-related differences and developmental problems from cellular/molecular to whole organ/system.
Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

PSL470H1  Sleep Physiology and Chronobiology
An in-depth analysis of the basic physiology underlying sleep and circadian rhythms, and of their impact on important physiological processes, of which effects on cardio-respiratory systems are emphasized.
Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

PSL497H1  Scientific Communication
Students learn to read, write and speak about current research in Physiology.
Prerequisite: PSL302Y1

PSL498Y1/499H1  Project in Physiology
Laboratory research project with reading assignments leading to a final report. By special arrangement with a Physiology staff member after admission to course. PSL498Y1 is recommended for students applying to the Physiology graduate program.
Prerequisite: PSL303Y1, 372H1, 374H1, permission of Department

Psychology is that branch of science which focuses on the behaviour of human beings and animals, with particular emphasis on the individual rather than the group. Our courses span the various areas of psychology and introduce students to the methods used in psychological research. The basic tools of the research psychologist include experimentation in the laboratory and field, naturalistic observation, and the use of statistical methods in interpreting data.

Our faculty have highly diversified interests which are reflected in the number and variety of our undergraduate course offerings. These include courses in development psychology, social psychology, personality, abnormal psychology, human and animal learning, cognitive psychology, perception, and physiological psychology. A more detailed description of the individual courses and the names and interests of the course instructors appear on web pages at http://www.psych.utoronto.ca/~undergra/undergrad.html. We encourage students at all levels, and particularly those who are beginning a Major or Specialist program in Psychology, to consult the Undergraduate Psychology Web Site before selecting courses and to discuss their proposed programs with the Undergraduate Advisor, the Undergraduate Director, or a faculty member in the Department.

Courses in the various areas within Psychology and the numbering system associated with these courses follow a definite pattern: PSY XXX. The first digit represents the year, and the second digit represents the area in which the course belongs. Social Psychology, for example, is identified by “2.” Therefore, PSY 220 at the second year, PSY 320, 321, 322, and 323 at the third year, and PSY 420 at the fourth year represent all the Social Psychology courses. Other areas within Psychology follow a similar pattern.

Students in St. George campus Psychology programs are given first priority for enrolment in all second, third and fourth year Psychology courses. Please consult the Registration Handbook & Timetable for details.

Psychology Programs
(See Undergraduate Web Site for further details)

NOTE: JLP 315H1, 374H1, 471H1; JZP 326H1, 428H1 count as PSY credits for all Psychology programs.

Entry into all Psychology programs requires an OAC or MCB4U Calculus (or equivalent). There is, however, no Calculus prerequisite for PSY100H1. Students who completed PSY100H1 in 1997 or earlier at the University of Toronto are exempt from the OAC/MB4U Calculus requirement.

Neuroscience: see Neuroscience

Psychology Research (Science program)

Specialist program:
(9.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series full course or equivalent, and no more than 10.0 full courses)

This program is designed for students who have demonstrated particular interest and aptitude in research. Enrolment in the Research Specialist program is limited. Students apply in the spring term of their second year. All students enrolling in or considering the Research Specialist program should enroll in a PSY lab course in the fall of their third year. Admission to the program is based on academic performance and expressed interest in research. To be admitted students must have completed a) OAC/MCB4U Calculus or equivalent; b)
Major program:
(6.5 full courses or their equivalent, and no more than 7.5 full courses)
Enrolment in the Major program is limited. To enrol, students must have a) OAC/MCB4U Calculus or equivalent; b) completed 4 full courses; c) at least 70% in PSY 100H1; and d) have a CGPA of 2.5.
NOTE: The courses to include 0.5 courses in Statistics and 6.0 full courses or equivalent in PSY

First Year:
PSY 100H1
After PSY 100H1:
1. Statistics: PSY 201H1/ECO 220Y1/227Y1/GGR 270H1/SOC 300Y1/STA 220H1/250H1
2. Two of PSY 210H1, 220H1, 230H1, 240H1 (Cluster A), and two of 260H1, 270H1, 280H1, 290H1 (Cluster B)
3. Four half-courses at the 300-level from Group 1 below, with at least one from each of Clusters A and B
4. Three half-courses at any level taken from Groups 1 and 2 below

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent, and no more than 5.0 full courses)
Enrolment in the Minor program is limited. To enrol, students must have a) OAC/MCB4U Calculus or equivalent; b) completed 4 full courses; c) at least 70% in PSY 100H1; and d) have a CGPA of 2.0.
NOTE: The courses to include 0.5 courses in Statistics and 3.5 full courses or equivalent in PSY

First Year:
PSY 100H1
After PSY 100H1:
1. Statistics: PSY 201H1/ECO 220Y1/227Y1/GGR 270H1/SOC 300Y1/STA 220H1/250H1
2. At least two of PSY 210H1, 220H1, 230H1, 240H1/260H1/270H1/280H1/290H1
3. At least two half-courses at the 300-level taken from Group 1 below, in any of Clusters A and B
4. At least two half-courses at any level, taken from Groups 1 and/or 2 below

Psychology Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PSY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

NOTE:
Students in St. George campus PSY programs will be given first priority to admission for all PSY courses above the 100-level.
Please see the Arts and Science Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

PSY100H1 Introductory Psychology 39L
A brief introductory survey of psychology as both a biological and social science. Topics will include learning, perception, motivation, cognition, developmental, and social psychology. Exclusion: PSY200H1, PSY100H1
Prerequisite: There is no prerequisite for PSY100H1; however, an OAC/12U Calculus or equivalent is required to enroll in any Psychology PROGRAM subsequent to taking PSY100H1.

200-SERIES COURSES

Note on Prerequisites:
For non-degree, visiting, and transfer students, you MUST bring a photocopy of your transcript(s) to the Undergraduate Advising Office to provide proof to the Department that you meet ALL of the prerequisites of the course(s) in which you are enrolled in. We will NOT allow you to take any of our courses without the proper prerequisites. Furthermore, University of Toronto at Scarborough and University of Toronto at Mississauga students must also have the proper prerequisites for St. George courses, REGARDLESS if they are a Psychology program student at their college campus.
Life Sciences: Psychology

PSY201H1 Statistics I 39L, 26T
Fundamentals of descriptive and inferential statistics, including population and sampling distributions, simple association, probability, estimation, and hypothesis testing.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/SOC300Y1/STA220H1/250H1
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1

PSY202H1 Statistics II 39L, 26T
Fundamentals of statistical analysis of experimental and observational data including linear models, the analysis of variance, a priori contrasts, post-hoc tests, power analysis and effect size calculations. Students are introduced to Minitab, a statistical computer program, with which they complete much of their course work.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/SOC300Y1/STA221H1/250H1/JSB229H1
Prerequisite: PSY201H1

PSY210H1 Introduction to Development 39L
The developmental approach to the study of behaviour with reference to sensorimotor skills, cognition, socialization, personality, and emotional behaviour.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1

PSY220H1 Introduction to Social Psychology 39L
Contemporary areas of research in social psychology: social perception, attitudes, inter-personal relations, and group processes.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1

PSY230H1 Personality and Its Transformations 39L
Theory and research in personality structure and dynamics: the interaction of cultural and biological factors in the development and expression of individual differences.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1

PSY240H1 Introduction to Abnormal Psychology 39L
A critical survey of concepts, theories, and the state of research in the area of emotionally disturbed persons and therapeutic methods.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1

PSY260H1 Introduction to Learning 39L
Concepts, theories and applications in historical and contemporary contexts: respondent and operant conditioning, reinforcement, extinction, stimulus control (generalization and discrimination) and aversive control (punishment and avoidance).
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1 or NRS specialist

PSY270H1 Introduction to Cognitive Psychology 39L
An introduction to research and theory in the study of attention, memory, language, thinking and reasoning.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1 or registered in the Cognitive Science program or NRS specialist

PSY280H1 Introduction to Perception 39L
An introduction to the physiological and psychological bases of vision and audition in humans and lower animals. Visual perception of shape and objects, colour, space, and motion. Auditory perception of simple and complex sounds, and location. Demonstrations supplement the lectures.
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1 or registered in the Cognitive Science program or NRS specialist

PSY290H1 Physiological Psychology I 39L
Provides students with a solid background into the biological basis of behaviour. Animal and human research topics including: functional neuroanatomy, neural signalling, sensory and motor control, motivational systems, and learning and memory.
Exclusion: NRS201H1
Prerequisite: PSY 100Y1/H1/UNI250Y1 or enrolled in the Cognitive Science program, or NRS specialist

PSY299Y1 Research Opportunity Program 39L
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details. Note: This course cannot be used as a PSY program requirement.

300-SERIES COURSES

Note
Where a stated prerequisite is PSY201H1 or 202H1, its equivalent/exclusion is also accepted.

PSY300H1 History of Psychology 39L
Philosophical predecessors and early development of modern psychology; schools of thought and shifting areas of theory and research. History and philosophy of science, in general. Current systems and theories.
Prerequisite: One full course or equivalent in the PSY200- or 300-series

PSY301H1 Psychological Theory 26S (formerly PSY407H1)
The role of theory in psychology critically examined through consideration of psychological controversies.
Exclusion: PSY407H1
Prerequisite: PSY202H1

PSY303H1/ Individual Projects TBA
304H1
An intensive laboratory or applied research project under the supervision of a staff member. Will be approved by the Department only when the student and staff member can show that the project is academically demanding and uniquely suitable for the individual student in terms of the rest of the student's program. Note: Projects spread out over the full academic year are still only worth a half credit.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1 and appropriate background for the proposed work

PSY305H1 The Treatment of Psychological Data 39L
This course emphasizes advanced use of the SAS statistical computer program package for the treatment of psychological data collected in laboratory and field studies. Students analyze sets of data and interpret results. Various methods of ensuring the trustworthiness and accuracy of analysis are discussed.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1

PSY307H1 Research Specialization: Practicum 39L
Research specialists learn about the research opportunities within our department, and develop their skills in the areas of critical thinking, writing and oral presentation. Students also conduct a pre-thesis research project under the supervision of a faculty member. Restricted to Research Specialists.
systems of meaning - or cultures - define where we stand and what is good and bad, true and false, sacred and profane.

PSY311H1 Social Development 39L
Theory and research in social attachment, aggression, morality, imitation and identification, altruism, and parental discipline, with discussion of methodological issues.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (210H1/220H1)

PSY312H1 Cognitive Development 39L
Age-related changes in knowledge acquisition, reasoning, and the control of behaviour. Traditional perspectives (e.g., Baldwin, Vygotsky, Piaget) and current issues (e.g., neuropsychology, future-oriented behaviour, theory of mind).
Prerequisite: PSY210H1, (210H1/270H1/271H1/UNI250Y1)

PSY313H1 Psychology of Aging 39L
Age changes in sensory and perceptual processes, motor skill, learning, memory, and personality. Theory, methodological problems, social, cultural, and environmental influences which shape behaviour and attitudes to and by the elderly.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 210H1

PSY314H1 Moral Development 39L
Examination of cognitive-developmental, psychoanalytic, sociobiological, behaviouristic and cultural-anthropological approaches to moral development. Issues covered include definitions of morality, the relationship between moral judgement and action, gender differences and commonalities, and the role of culture in moral development.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 210H1

JLP315H1 Language Acquisition 39L
Infants’ abilities at birth, prelinguistic development, the first words, phonological, syntactic and semantic development. Social variables influencing development of language, bilingualism, models of development, language play. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)
Prerequisite: One full course equivalent at the 200-level in JAL/JUP/LIN/PSL/PSY/UNI Cognitive Science

PSY316H1 Perceptual Development 39L
The course examines human perceptual development during the first 2-3 years of life. Vision and audition are emphasized. Some topics are: pattern and colour vision, depth perception, infant speech perception.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 280H1
Recommended preparation: PSY210H1

PSY317H1 Aging and Social Cognition 39L
Examines theory and research in the social cognitive aspect of aging. Topics range from impression formation and causal attributions to perceptions of control and emotions.
Prerequisite: PSY210H1, 210H1, 220H1

PSY319H1 Developmental Laboratory 39L
Provides an overview of developmental psychology methods. The class conducts an original research project, including design, data collection and analysis, and a written report.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 210H1; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY320H1 Social Psychology: Attitudes 39L
Intensive study of social attitudes and opinions development, description, measurement, modification, and organization.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1

PSY321H1 Cross-Cultural Psychology 39L
Human beings develop within local systems of meaning that define what is good and bad, true and false, sacred and profane, beautiful and ugly, significant and insignificant. These inherited systems of meaning - or cultures - define where we stand as persons in relation to others and provide the grounding for what we come to feel, think, and desire as individuals. This course examines the cultural determination of mindful behaviour.
Prerequisite: PSY321H1, 220H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY322H1 Intergroup Relations 39L
An in-depth examination of theories and research in intergroup relations; includes topics like stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1

PSY323H1 Sex Roles and Behaviour 39L
The effect of sex-role expectations on how men and women behave and perceive the world: theories of sex-role development, physiological and cultural determinants of sex differences, power relationships between men and women.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (210H1/220H1/230H1)

PSY324H1 Social Psychology of Interpersonal Relationships
This course focuses on the social psychology of interpersonal relationships between and among individuals, especially romantic or close relationships and friendships. It surveys what social psychologists have learned about the development, maintenance, disruption or dissolution of personal relationships, as well as current social psychological theories of interpersonal relationships.
Exclusion: PSY420H1 taken in 2002-2003 ONLY
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1

PSY325H1 Self-Consciousness 39L
The distinguishing feature of our species is the reflexivity of our consciousness - the ability to conceive of and interpret ourselves and our experiences. All our higher symbolic capabilities rest upon this foundation. The aim of this multidisciplinary course is to trace out a variety of interpretive frames through which we may look at and better understand self-awareness.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY326H1 Social Cognition 39L
An examination of theory and research on how we make sense of ourselves and our social world. Topics covered include goals, mood, memory, hypothesis testing, counterfactual thinking, stereotypes, and culture.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1

PSY327H1 Psychology of the Mass Media 39L
This multidisciplinary course examines how we come to know ourselves and our world, and to feel, judge, and act, through the simulative "mediation" of mass communication. The intent is to provide students with greater understanding of the highly commodified symbolic environment that surrounds them and to which they continually respond and react as audience.
Prerequisite: PSY 201H1, 220H1, (230H1/240H1)

JZP326H1 Biological Rhythms 26L, 13T
Daily, monthly, annual and other rhythms and methods of measuring them. Behavioural and physiological aspects of biological clocks. The importance of rhythms in experimental design, in research on brain function, in affective disorders, and the use animals make of rhythms in migration and other behaviours. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1/PSY100H1, one full or two 200-series half-courses in the Sciences
PSY328H1 Psychology and the Law 39L
This course deals with psychological issues in the law, with particular reference to criminal law. It focuses mainly on research that has been done on pretrial publicity, eyewitness testimony, rules of evidence, and other factors that might affect jury decisions.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 220H1

PSY329H1 Social Psychology Laboratory 39L
Illustrates major methodologies within social psychology, such as attitude measurement, observation of small groups, and experiments.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 220H1; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY330H1 Psychometrics 39L
Concepts and methods for the measurement of abilities, interests and personality: reliability, validity, interpretation of test scores, norms, observational methods, structured tests, interview, projective techniques. Ethical problems in assessment. Not a course in test administration.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (230H1/240H1) Recommended preparation: PSY202H1

PSY331H1 Social Psychology of Emotion 39L
An in-depth review of the role of emotion in human psychology, with an emphasis on the links between emotion and cognition. Topics include theories of emotion, emotional regulation, expression and experience, the role of emotion in decision-making, and the relationship between emotion, motivation and behaviour.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 230H1

PSY332H1 Organizational Behaviour 39L
An analysis of the individual, group, and institutional structures and processes that influence behaviour within organizations. Topics include motivation, leadership, communication, school of management theories, group processes and team work, supervision, and organizational culture.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY333H1 Health Psychology 39L
Examines research evidence concerning the impact of psychological factors on physical health and illness.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY334H1 Maps of Meaning: The Architecture of Belief
Culture appears to have a narrative structure. Animal learning and neuropsychological theory helps us understand how narratives might regulate emotion. Threat of broadscale emotional dysregulation motivates individuals to protect their cultures.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY335H1 Environmental Psychology 39L
An examination of the interrelationship of humans and their natural and built environments, focusing on psychological and sociocultural factors. Topics include: the self in relation to nature; the perception of environmental change; the effects of natural and built environments on stress and psychological health; understanding consumerism and environmentalism; and the relationship between individuals' experience (i.e., cognitions, emotions, and values) and action relating to environmental issues.

PSY336H1 Positive Psychology 39L
A review of the field of positive psychology, which is the study of fulfillment and personal growth. The focus is on empirical research regarding the development of healthy, productive, and resilient individuals. Topics include: subjective well-being, optimism, flow experiences, self-control and emotional intelligence, social support and empathy.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (220H1/230H1/240H1)

PSY339H1 Individual Differences Laboratory 39P
Introduction to methods involved in individual differences or personality research. Group and individual projects focus on assessment of individual difference characteristics and on experimentation including such characteristics.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 230H1/240H1; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY341H1 Psychopathologies of Childhood 39L
This course focuses on cognitive and neuropsychological aspects of neurodevelopmental and psychiatric disorders in children from clinical and theoretical perspectives.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (210H1/240H1), one further PSY200/300-series full course or equivalent

PSY342H1 Cognition and Psychotherapy 26S, 13T
Work in psychological disorders has increasingly used the theories and methodologies of cognitive psychology to guide research. This course will examine accounts of clinical disorders informed by cognitive experimental psychology, with emphasis on recent work in affective disorders.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (240H1/270H1)

PSY343H1 Theories of Psychopathology 39L
Examines various theories of how personality functioning may become impaired and corresponding psychotherapeutic interventions. Emphasis on empirical assessment of personality dysfunction and therapy effectiveness.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (230H1/240H1)

PSY346H1 Animal Cognition 39L
The study of memory, representation, concept learning, and other cognitive processes in non-human animals.
Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 260H1

PSY369H1 Conditioning and Learning Laboratory 39L
Provides hands on experience with some widely used preparations and procedures for studying learning and memory in animals. Reading and writing research in this area are emphasized. Experiments with rats and pigeons are conducted, initially under close supervision.
Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 260H1; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY370H1 Thinking and Reasoning 39L
Problem-solving as a model of directed thinking; conceptual behaviour and mental representation; induction, deduction and learning; probabilistic reasoning; creative thinking and complex problem solving.
Prerequisite: 270H1/UNI250Y1

PSY371H1 Higher Cognitive Processes 39L
This course covers selected topics pertaining to higher cognitive processes including expertise, consciousness, creativity, and human and artificial intelligence.
Prerequisite: PSY270H1/370H1/UNI250Y1
Life Sciences: Psychology

PSY372H1  Human Memory  39L
Current theories and data on human memory: processes involved in encoding, storage, and retrieval. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 270H1/UNI250Y1

PSY373H1  Social Cognitive Neuroscience  39L
Social cognitive neuroscience is an emerging interdisciplinary field that seeks to integrate theories of social psychology and cognitive neuroscience to understand behavior at three fundamentally interrelated levels of analysis (social, cognitive, and neural). Topics such as self-regulation, cooperation, attitudes, and prejudice will be examined. Prerequisite: PSY 201H1, PSY 220H1, (PSY 270H1/290H1)
Recommended Preparation: PSY 326H1

JLP374H1  Psychology of Language  39L
Human and other animal communication, structure of human language, word meaning and semantic memory, psychological studies of syntax, bilingualism, language and thought, language errors and disorders. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology) Prerequisite: One 200-series full course or equivalent in JAL/JUP/LIN/PSY/PSL/UNI Cognitive Science

PSY375H1  Attention and Performance  39L
Visual attention; attentional selection for object recognition, feature integration, and action; movements of attention; eye-hand coordination, eye movements, limb movements. Models of attention and motor control. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (270H1/280H1/UNI250Y1)

PSY378H1  Engineering Psychology  39L
The application of our knowledge of human information processing capabilities to improve human-machine systems design in a number of engineering environments including aviation, computer software, human-computer interaction, and nuclear power plants. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, (270H1/280H1/UNI250Y1)
Recommended preparation: PSY202H1

PSY379H1  Memory and Learning Laboratory  39P
Exercises and demonstrations, followed by experiments done jointly with other members of the class, and a final individual research project, in the broad area of human learning and memory. Prerequisite: PSY202H1, (270H1/UNI250Y1); PSY specialist or departmental approval

PSY380H1  Vision Science  39L
Integrates psychology, neuroscience, and computer science approaches to the study of vision science. Topics include: spatial vision; perception of objects, function, and category; motion perception; visual attention, memory, and imagery; and consciousness. Demonstrations/in-class experiments supplement lectures and readings. Important class for psychology, cognitive science, and neuroscience students. Prerequisite: (PSY201H1/MAT I 35Y1), PSY 280H1

PSY389H1  Perception Laboratory  39L
Examination of issues and methods in perception research. Students conduct supervised research projects, and read, critique, and write research articles. Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 280H1; PSY Specialist or departmental approval

PSY390H1  Behavioural Genetics  39L
An examination of how genes contribute to the production of behaviour, either as structural elements or direct participants in behavioural regulation. Covers molecular genetics, natural selection and genetic methods followed by specific examples of congenic disorders that affect behaviour and studies of “normal” behaviours in human and animal models. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 290H1/NRS201H1

PSY391H1  Physiological Psychology II  39L
A survey of brain mechanisms important for behaviour. The goal is to understand neural function well enough to appreciate how neural circuits can control simple and complex behaviours. Topics include neurophysiology (how neurons work, and work together), motor control, touch and pain sensation, feeding and drinking, reward and motivation, learning and cognition. Prerequisite: PSY290H1 taken in 1999 or later/NRS201H1 Exclusion: PSL300H1

PSY392H1  Neurobiology of Learning and Memory  39L
Understanding the complexities of how the mammalian nervous system acquires and stores information and how it transforms this information into appropriate behavior is fundamentally important to our understanding of both animal and human behavior. This course explores empirical and theoretical contributions to our understanding of the neural basis of learning and memory. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 290H1/NRS201H1

PSY393H1  Cognitive Neurosciences  39L
The use of higher cortical functions to study cognitive processes in humans and other primates. Some topics to be covered: hemispheric specialization, emotion and the cerebral hemispheres, organization of language after brain damage, amnesia, aging. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 270H1/290H1/NRS201H1

PSY394H1  Physiology and Psychology of Emotion  39L
The role of brain and body in expression and experience of emotion in humans, considered theoretically and through the experimental, physiological and clinical literatures. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 290H1/NRS201H1

PSY396H1  Neurochemical Basis of Behaviour  26L, 13T
The functional relevance of neurotransmitters, with particular emphasis on their role in mediating behaviour. Prerequisite: PSY201H1, 290H1/NRS201H1 Exclusion: PCL 475Y1

PSY399H1  Psychobiology Laboratory  39L
An introduction to surgical and experimental methods and research issues in physiological psychology, including anatomical and neurobiological methods and behavioural and genetic analysis. Concentration on innate and learned mechanisms that influence the display of specific behaviours. Exclusion: NRS302H1 Prerequisite: PSY202H1,290H1/NRS201H1; PSY specialist or departmental approval

PSY398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.
400-Series Courses

PSY400Y1 Research Specialization: Thesis TBA

An individual project done under the direction of a staff member. Lecture and seminar presentations of proposals in the Fall Session.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in psychology research specialist program, PSY309H1, PSY319H1 (PSY lab course)

PSY401H1 A Biobehavioural Approach to Psychological Theories and Applications

In presenting and arguing for this approach the topics covered are sex differences in cognition, and the psychophysiological topics of biofeedback and lie detection. Students are expected to critically evaluate the approach, and argue for their own.

Prerequisite: PSY201H1 and two additional courses at the 200-level

PSY402H1/403H1/404H1 Psychology Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of specific topics in psychology. These seminars vary from year to year in terms of the number given, the topics, and the restrictions on enrollment. Consult the departmental Calendar for details.

PSY409H1 Research Specialization: Theoretical Foundations

This seminar addresses the central theoretical issues that structure contemporary research in each of the major areas of psychology. The aim is to provide an informal overview of the field as a whole.

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Psychology Research Specialist program

PSY410H1 Developmental Psychology Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic within developmental psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 210H1; PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY420H1 Social Psychology Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic within social psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 220H1; PSY Specialist or permission of department

JZP428H1 Advanced Topics in Biological Rhythms 26S

Circadian rhythms with emphasis on non-photic entrainment and phase shifting of rhythms by behaviour (e.g., social interactions, or becoming active). Properties and physiological mechanisms for non-photic effects and comparisons with those for photic effects. Seminars and readings of original papers. Emphasis on basic principles, but possible applications will also be discussed. (Given by the Departments of Psychology and Zoology)

Prerequisite: JZP 326H1

PSY430H1 Personality Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic within the area of personality. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 230H1/240H1, PSY specialist or permission of department

PSY440H1 Abnormal Psychology Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic within abnormal psychology. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 230H1/240H1, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY460H1 Learning Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic in learning. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY260H1; an additional 300-level half-course in the 350-, 360-, or 370-series or permission of instructor;

PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY470H1 Memory Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of limited topics within the area of memory. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY270H1/UNI250Y1, PSY Specialist or permission of department

JLP471H1 Advanced Psycholinguistics 26S

Seminars in advanced topics in psycholinguistics. Content varies from year to year. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology)

Prerequisite: LIN322H1, 331H1, JLP374H1

PSY471H1 Cognition Seminar 26S

Examination in depth of a limited topic in cognition. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: (PSY270H1/280H1), (PSY371H1/375H1/380H1), PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY472H1 Game Theory I 26S

(Risky decisions, games against nature, lotteries, gambling and insurance. Two-person non-cooperative games. Individual and collective rationality. Paradoxes of decision theory.)

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY473H1 Game Theory II 26S

Exclusion: PSY409H1

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY480H1 Seminar in Vision Science 26S

An in-depth examination of current issues in vision science (e.g. perceptual organization, object and face recognition, motion perception). Emphasis is on the psychological perspective, but integrates physiological and computational perspectives as well. Content in any given year depends on instructor.

Prerequisite: PSY270H1, PSY280H1, (371H/381H), PSY393H1, PSY Specialist or permission of department

PSY490H1 Brain Activity & Behaviour Seminar 39S

The relationship between behaviour and the activity of neurons; examples from sensory, motor, motivational, and higher cortical systems. Electrical stimulation and recording techniques.

Prerequisite: PSY202H1, 290H1/NRS201H1

The Department of Zoology (and the Department of Botany) will be disestablished as of July 1, 2006, and its faculty, programs and courses will become part of the new departments of Cell and Systems Biology (CSB), and Ecology and Evolutionary Biology (EEB). During the transition period, courses in Biology, Botany, and Zoology that will be administered through CSB are now listed under that department name in the Calendar. The same is true for the courses that apply to EEB. With regard to the programs, please see below for the listing of programs and where you can now find them in the Calendar.

Linguistics can trace its roots back to the ancient Sanskrit grammarians, and the study of language is probably as old as language itself. However, the twentieth century has produced an explosion in the scientific study of language. As our understanding of the nature and structure of human language develops, linguistics is becoming relevant to many other areas of research such as Cognitive Science, Artificial Intelligence, Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology, Psychology, and Philosophy.

On its own, linguistics represents an invaluable key to the nature of the mind and the diverse elements of human culture; as a tool, linguistics is unmatched in preparing one for the learning and teaching of languages and for integrating language with technology.

The Department offers programs in Linguistics, as well as combined programs with language departments and with Philosophy, as shown in the Programs of Study.

Part-time students should note that most of the summer and evening courses available to them are offered on a rotating basis only. Consequently, students wishing to take such courses should enroll in them at the earliest opportunity after completing the necessary prerequisites.

In addition to the undergraduate curriculum within the Department of Linguistics, there are courses relating to linguistics offered in other departments such as the language departments, Anthropology, Computer Science, and Philosophy, and in the Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence program.

Students seeking counselling and information should contact the Undergraduate Coordinator, Prof. S. Tagliamonte, (416-978-4029).

Linguistics Programs

Enrolment in the Linguistics programs requires the completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Linguistics (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(12 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
LIN 100Y1
Second Year:
LIN 228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1
Second, Third and Fourth Years:
1. Two years of study or its equivalent of one non-Germanic, non-Romance language in courses using the spoken language (courses must be approved by the Undergraduate Co-ordinator)
2. LIN 322H1, 331H1, JAL 401H1
3. Further courses (excluding LIN 200H1, 265Y1, and 365Y1) to bring the total number of courses up to 12 FCE. These courses must be LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS courses except that up to one full course may be chosen from the following list (please consult the Department of Linguistics): ANT 329Y1, 425H1, 427H1; CSC 384H1, 485H1; FIN 220H1; FRE 272Y1, 273Y1, 376H1, 378H1, 384H1, 386H1, 387H1, 389H1, 471H1, 479H1; GER 400H1, 426H1; GGR368H1; HPS 250H1; ITA 360H1, 361H1, 363H1, 364H1, 430H1; UNI 250Y1; PHL 210Y1, 245H1, 325H1, 326H1, 340H1; 424H1, 345H1, 351H1, 355H1, 451H1, 452Y1, 456H1; SPA322H1, 421H1, 422H1, 425H1
4. Of the courses chosen in 3 above, at least 2.5 FCE must be at the 300+ level and 0.5 at the 400-level

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
LIN 100Y1
Second Year:
LIN 228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1
Third and Fourth Years:
Four FCE’s in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1) at least two of which must be at the 300+ level

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. LIN 100Y1
2. Three FCE’s in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1) at least one of which must be at the 300+ level
Linguistics and Languages (Arts program)

Consult the Department of Linguistics and of the Language chosen.

Combined Specialist program:
(13 or 14 courses or their equivalent)

Linguistics
The Linguistics component of all these Programs is as follows:
First Year:
LIN 100Y1
Second Year:
LIN 228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1
Third and Fourth Years:
Four FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1), at least 1 of which must be at the 400 level, and 2 at the 300+ level (LIN 362H1 specially recommended)

The Language component is six or seven courses or their equivalent in the language chosen as follows:

English
(7 courses)
Note:
Students wishing to complete a Combined Specialist Program in English and Linguistics must complete seven ENG/JEF courses, fulfilling all of the following requirements:
1. ENG 201Y1/202Y1
2. ENG 367Y1
3. At least two courses selected from the pre-1800 group of courses (Group A); at least one of the courses must be at the 300+ level (ENG 240Y1 and ENG 300Y1 specially recommended)
4. Only one 100-level ENG/JEF course may be counted towards the Program requirements; ENG 100H1, ENG 185Y1, HUM 199Y1 may not be counted

French
(7 courses or their equivalent)
Same as the Major program in French Language and French Linguistics. For details, please see the Department of French program listings.

German
(6 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
GER 100Y1/200Y1/(200H1, 201H1)
Second Year:
GER 200Y1/(200H1, 201H1); 300Y1/(300H1, 301H1)
Third and Fourth Years:
1. GER 300Y1/(300H1, 301H1, 400H1)
2. The reminder of the six courses or equivalent must have a GER designator.

Italian
(7 courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
ITA 100Y1/101Y1/102Y1/(133H1, 134H1)/152Y
Second Year:
ITA 250Y1/251Y1/252Y1/253Y1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. ITA 360H1, 430H1
2. 4.0 additional FCE ITA language and linguistics courses at the 300/400-levels

Spanish and Portuguese
(6.5 courses or their equivalent)
Spanish and Portuguese may also be taken in this Program. Interested students should consult the Department.

Slavic Languages
Slavic Languages may also be taken in this Program. Interested students should consult the Department.

Linguistics and Computing (Science program)

Specialist program:
(15.5 full courses or their equivalent with at least one full course at the 400-level)

Linguistics Component (7 FCE's)
First Year
LIN100Y1
Second Year
LIN 228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1
Higher Years
1. 2.5 FCE's chosen from LIN322H1, 323H1, 331H1, 341H1, 481H1; JLP315H1, 374H1
2. 1.5 additional FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN200H1) at least 1.0 of which must be at the 300+ level
Recommended preparation: At least one year's study (or equivalent) at university level of a non-English language

Computing Component (8.5 FCE's)
First Year
CSC 165H1/240H1 (107H1/108H1, 148H1)/150H1; MAT 137Y1/157Y1
Second Year
CSC 207H1, 236H1/240H1 263H1/265H1; MAT 223H1; STA 247H1/257H1
Higher Years
1. CSC 258H1, 324H1, 340H1, 401H1, 485H1
2. 1.0 additional FCE's in CSC, chosen from: CSC 343H1, 363H1/365H1, 373H1/375H1, 384H1, 408H1, 428H1, 486H1
NOTE: Students in this program must also qualify for, and be registered in the Major program in Computer Science

Linguistics and Philosophy (Arts program)

Consult Departments of Philosophy and Linguistics.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent with one full course at the 400-level)

Linguistics
(7 courses)
First Year:
LIN 100Y1
Second Year:
LIN 228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1
Third and Fourth Years:
Four FCE's in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS (excluding LIN 200H1); at least 1 must be at the 400 level and 2 must be at the 300+ level (LIN 331H1, 481H1 specially recommended)
Philosophy (7 courses)
1. PHL 210Y1, 245H1, 351H1
2. Five additional PHL courses, at least three at the 300-level.
   The following courses are particularly recommended: HPS 250H1; UNI 250Y1; PHL 325H1, 326H1, 340H1, 342H1, 345H1, 347H1, 351H1, 355H1, 451H1

Linguistics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), LIN courses are classified as HUMANITIES or SOCIAL SCIENCE courses; check individual course listings below.

HUM199H1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a Humanities course; see page 45.

LIN100Y1 Introduction to General Linguistics 52L, 26T
Lectures on fundamental principles with illustrations from English and from a broad spectrum of other languages. Practice in elementary analytic techniques.
This is a Humanities course

LIN200H1 Introduction to Language 26L 13T
A general-interest course on language. Possible topics include: the structure of language; how language changes over time, the social and psychological aspects of language, language and culture, the origin of language, writing systems, and language acquisition. (This course cannot be used as an entrance to programs in linguistics, and cannot be used as a prerequisite to any linguistics courses unless otherwise indicated.)
Exclusion: LIN100Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN201H1 Canadian English 26L
A study of the structures of several dialects of English spoken in Canada, and of their history and affiliations. (Not offered every year)
Prerequisite: LIN 100Y1/200H1
This is a Humanities course

LIN203H1 English Words 26L
English has a rich vocabulary. We will learn how it has developed over time, and investigate aspects of the meaning and pronunciation of words. Most of all, we will study how words are put together, so that students will be able to recognize and analyze unfamiliar words.
Exclusion: LIN202Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN204H1 English Grammar 26L
How the English language works: students analyze a wide variety of English grammatical structures and learn how they vary across dialects and change through time.
Exclusion: LIN202Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN205H1 East Asian Languages and English 26L
The course is a linguistic exploration of issues that arise as English comes into contact with three major East Asian Languages (Chinese, Japanese, and Korean). Topics include a comparative introduction to the basic structures of the languages, writing systems, transformations English words undergo when borrowed into these Asian languages, and typical mistakes made by ESL speakers of East Asian linguistic background.
This is a Humanities course

LIN228H1 Phonetics 26L, 13T
Investigation of the sounds most commonly used in languages from an articulatory and acoustic point of view, with practice in their recognition and production.
Recommended preparation: LIN100Y1/200H1
This is a Humanities course

LIN229H1 Sound Patterns in Language 26L, 13T
The nature and organization of phonological systems, with practical work in analysis.
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN231H1 Morphological Patterns in Language 26L, 13T
The nature and organization of morphological systems, with practical work in analysis.
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN232H1 Syntactic Patterns in Language 26L, 13T
The nature and organization of syntactic systems; their relation to semantic systems and the linguistic organization of discourse; practical work in analysis.
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1
This is a Humanities course

LIN256H1 Sociolinguistic Patterns in Language 26L, 13T
An introduction to linguistic variation and its social implications, especially the quantitative study of phonological and grammatical features and their correlations with age, sex, ethnicity, and other social variables.
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1
This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

LIN299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

LIN305H1 Quantitative Methods in Linguistics 39L
Principles of research design, data collection, and a wide variety of statistical techniques for research in various subfields of linguistics.
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1 and one full course in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP
This is a Social Science course

LIN306H1 Language Diversity and Language Universals 26L
This course examines cross-linguistic typological features found in the languages of the world. Special attention is given to describing morphological and syntactic patterns found cross-linguistically. The goal of the course is to draw on the range of variation in order to uncover language universals. (Not offered every year)
Prerequisite: LIN231H1, 232H1
This is a Humanities course

1. Five additional PHL courses, at least three at the 300-level.
   The following courses are particularly recommended: HPS 250H1; UNI 250Y1; PHL 325H1, 326H1, 340H1, 342H1, 345H1, 347H1, 351H1, 355H1, 451H1

Linguistics

LIN451H1 Urban Dialectology 26L
Ways in which urban sub-cultures differ in their use of language. How speakers' dialects reflect their ethnicity, group affiliation, and other social categories. Practice in dialect analysis based on data from the speech community, emphasizing procedures and techniques.
Prerequisite: LIN256H1 plus 2 FCE at the 200+ level in LIN/JAL/JLP
This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

LIN458H1 Revitalizing Languages 26L
A study of language endangerment and language revitalization efforts, focusing on Aboriginal languages of Canada. Topics include language classification and a survey of major features of the languages, what it means for a language to be endangered, the factors that contribute to language shift, and efforts to reverse language shift, including discussion of literacy and dictionaries.
Prerequisites: LIN100Y1Y plus at least two full course equivalents drawn from LIN/JAL.
This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

JLP471H1 Advanced Psycholinguistics 39L
Seminar in advanced topics in psycholinguistics. Content will vary from year to year. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Psychology) (Not offered every year)
Prerequisite: JLP374H1, LIN322H1/331H1
This is a Science course

JLS474H1 Disorders of Speech and Language 39L
Normal and deviant development of speech and language; a survey of the disorders of human communication; an overview of intervention for disorders of speech, voice, language, swallowing and hearing; the effects of human communication handicaps on the individual, family, and community; theoretical and philosophical aspects of disordered communication. (Given by the Departments of Linguistics and Speech Pathology)
Prerequisite: JLP315H1/374H1
This is a Science course

JFL477H1 Issues in French and Linguistics I 26S
An advanced seminar on issues of current theoretical relevance in linguistics with special reference to French. This course is taught in English.
Prerequisite: Any 300+ series FRE or LIN course

JFL478H1 Issues in French and Linguistics II 26S
An advanced seminar on issues of current theoretical relevance in linguistics with special reference to French. This course is taught in English.
Prerequisite: Any 300+ series FRE or LIN course

LIN479H1 Current Issues in Linguistics 26S
An advanced seminar in current issues of theoretical relevance.
Prerequisite: LIN228H1, 229H1, 231H1, 232H1 + I FCE at the 300+ level in LIN/JAL/JFL/JLP/JLS
This is a Humanities course

LIN480H1 History of Linguistics 26L
A survey of linguistic thought from Panini to the present, focussing primarily on the 20th century. Three approaches are used: linguistic schools, major personalities and their works, and concepts. (Not offered every year)
Prerequisite: LIN100Y1
Recommended preparation: Reading knowledge of another European language
This is a Humanities course

LIN481H1 Introduction to Analysis and Argumentation 39L
Argumentation, practice in constructing and evaluating hypotheses, and critical evaluation of representative articles. Emphasis on the structure of arguments rather than on the analysis of a particular language.
Prerequisite: LIN322H1/331H1
This is a Humanities course

LIN495Y1/497Y1 Individual Project TBA
A research or reading project undertaken by the student under the supervision of a staff member. Open only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department

LIN496H1/498H1/499H1 Individual Project TBA
A research or reading project undertaken by the student under the supervision of a staff member. Open only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department

Materials Science

A Collaborative Program of the Faculty of Arts & Science and the Faculty of Applied Science & Engineering

Materials science is the study of the structure, properties and applications of all types of materials including metals, ceramics, glasses and polymers. Currently many exciting scientific developments are in the materials field. Notable advances have been made recently in studies of amorphous metals, the quasicrystalline state, liquid crystals, semiconductors, nanostructured materials, high critical temperature superconductors, biomaterials, high strength polymers, materials processing techniques such as ion implantation and laser melting, and in new categories of engineered materials such as advanced industrial ceramics or composite materials.

Materials science is interdisciplinary, drawing on the basic sciences of chemistry and physics and on more applied subjects such as metallurgy, ceramics and polymer science. Its tools and techniques include electron microscopy, X-ray diffraction, surface analysis using Auger emission spectroscopy, X-ray photoelectron spectroscopy, etc.

Applied Science: Materials, MSE 101H1, is designed to appeal to a wide variety of student interests. Other materials science courses are available to students having the prescribed prerequisites and the approval of the Undergraduate Student Counselor. The specialist program in Materials Science is coordinated jointly by the Departments of Chemistry and Materials Science and Engineering. For further information on the program, consult the coordinators listed in the Materials Science Program section below. For further information on materials courses from the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, consult the Undergraduate Student Counselor.

Undergraduate Counselor: Professor U. Erb, Department of Materials Science and Engineering Science, Wallberg Building, Room 140 (416-978-7308)

Materials Science Programs

Materials Science (Science program)

Consult Professor Eugenia Kumacheva, Department of Chemistry and Professor U. Erb, Department of Metallurgy and Materials Science.

Enrolment in this program requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist program:

(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

NOTE: The program consists of a core curriculum and electives. By suitably choosing electives, students follow one of two streams: 1.) Materials Chemistry, or 2.) Materials Science and Engineering. See Notes 1, 2 and 3 below.

Core Curriculum:

First Year:
CHM 151Y1/(138H1, 139H1); MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:
MSE 101H1; CHM 225Y1/238Y1, 247H1/249H1

Third and Fourth Years:
1. CHM 325H1, 434H1
2. Two of: CHM (326H1/328H1, 327H1)/338H1/346H1/348H1
3. Three MSE half-courses
4. Further 300/400-level full course equivalents in CHM/MSE/CHE to make a total of 13 full courses.

Notes:

1. Materials Chemistry Stream:
   a. Introduction to Research: select one of CHM 409Y1/418Y1/428Y1/439Y1/449Y1
   b. Stream Electives: select two of MSE 217H1/330H1/430H1/CHM 426H1, 441H1
   c. Student programs must include at least one full course equivalent from among the Materials courses of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.

2. Materials Science and Engineering Stream:
   a. Thesis: MSE 499Y1
   b. Stream Electives: select two of MSE 202H1/217H1/230H1/231H1/316H1/330H1/430H1/CHE 461H1/463H1
   c. Student programs must include at least four full course equivalents from among the Materials courses of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering.

   * Combined course of MSE 230H1 and MSE 231H1. Please see the course description.

Additional Notes:

3. Students may also select elective courses which satisfy the core curriculum requirements listed above but which do not correspond to either of the listed streams. Such students should consult Professor Eugenia Kumacheva (Chemistry) and Professor U. Erb (Materials Science and Engineering) before enrolling in elective courses.

Materials Science Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all MSE and CHE courses are classified as Science courses.

Notes

1. The MSE and CHE courses below are administered by the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering, and are subject to the rules and regulations of that Faculty, including those for term dates and examination periods.

2. The CHM courses listed for the Materials Science program are described in the Chemistry section of this Calendar.

MSE101H1 Materials Science 39L, 20P, 20T
An introductory course in applied science examining the fundamentals of atomic structure, quantum physics, the nature and bonding in materials, chemical and phase equilibria in the gaseous, liquid and solid state reactive kinetics. The course examines the application of these basic principles in exploring the mechanical, electrical and optical properties of materials through the establishment of structure-property relationships. Prerequisite: OAC/Grade 12 U Chemistry, Physics, and Calculus

MSE207H1 Structure and Characterization of Materials 39L, 20P, 13T
The theoretical and experimental interpretation of the structure of various inorganic materials. Crystalline and amorphous materials in terms of electronic structure of... atoms, atomic bonding, atomic coordination and packing. An introduction to defects in crystals. Experimental techniques include: optical and electron microscopy, X-ray diffraction, Auger electron spectroscopy, X-ray photoelectron spectroscopy and secondary-ion mass spectrometry.

Recommended preparation: MSE101H1

MSE314H1 Kinetics and Reactor Design 39L, 26T
The course covers factors affecting the speed of chemical reactions, including the theory of reaction rates, reaction orders, activation energy, homogeneous and heterogeneous reactions, catalysts. Analysis of mixed reaction control for gas-solid and liquid-solid systems. The effects of particles size, temperature and fluid flow conditions on the rate of mass transfer and chemical reaction rates. Modes and kinetics of sintering. The course will conclude by an analysis of various types of industrial reactors including batch, plug flow, counter flow and continuous mixed reactors and how the shape and mode of operation affect the rate and completion of reactions. Examples include fluidized bed reactors, shaft furnaces, rotary kilns and converters.

MSE315H1 Materials Degradation 39L, 20P, 26T
Corrosion

MSE316H1 Mechanical Behaviour 39L, 20P, 13T of Materials
The mechanical behaviour of engineering materials including metals, alloys, ceramics and polymeric materials. Macro- and micro-structural response of materials to external loads; load-displacement and stress-strain relationships, processes and mechanisms of elastic, visco-elastic, plastic and creep deformation, crystallographic aspects of plastic flow, effect of defects on mechanical behaviour, strain hardening theory, strengthening mechanisms and mechanical testing.

MSE318H1 Phase Transformations 39L, 20P, 13T

MSE319H1 Fracture and Failure Analysis 39L, 13T
Nature of brittle and ductile fracture, macro-phenomena and micro-mechanisms of failure in various material types, mechanisms of fatigue failure: crack nucleation and propagation, Griffith theory, stress field at crack tips, stress intensity factor and fracture toughness, crack opening displacement, energy principle and the J-integral, fracture mechanics in fatigue, da/dN curves and their significance. Fatigue analysis and fundamentals of non-destructive testing.
Prerequisite: MSE316H1

CHEM325H1 Introduction to Inorganic and Polymer Materials Chemistry
See “Chemistry”

MSE330H1 Introduction to Polymer Engineering 39L, 13T
Introduction to polymer synthesis, structure, characterization and mechanical properties. Topics include addition and condensation polymerization, network polymerization and crosslinking, molecular mass distribution and characterization, crystalline and amorphous structure, glass transition and crystalline melting, forming and additives for commercial plastics, dependence of mechanical properties on structure, viscoelasticity, yielding and fracture.

MSE401H1 Materials Selection & Design 39L, 39T
Selection and design of engineering materials, allowing the most suitable materials for a given application to be identified from the full range of materials and section shapes available. Case studies to illustrate a novel approach employing materials selection charts which capture the important properties of all engineering materials, allowing rapid computer retrieval of information.

MSE420H1 Biomaterials 26L, 26T
Materials for surgical implants. Influence of mechanical, chemical and physical properties of metals, ceramics and polymers as well as interactions at the implant-tissue interface. Materials for use in orthopaedic, dental and cardiovascular applications.

MSE430H1 Electronic Materials 26L, 39T
Material parameters and electronic properties of semiconductors. The material parameters are discussed in terms of the preparation and processing methods and the required electronic properties of engineering devices. Some techniques for evaluating electronic properties are discussed.

CHEM434H1 Advanced Materials Chemistry
See “Chemistry”

CHE461H1 Chemical Properties of Polymers 39L, 13T
Structure-property relationships in metals, ceramics, polymers, with an emphasis on composite materials. Creep, fracture toughness and corrosion of each class of material. Use of special alloys, advanced ceramics and fibre reinforced composites to meet unique performance requirements.

CHE463H1 Polymer Science & Engineering 39L, 12T
The effect of processing on polymer properties using a case study approach. Properties to be examined include molecular, physical, mechanical and flow behaviour, while processing examples include polymerization of methyl methacrylate, reactive extrusion of polyethylene, blending of polyethylene with polypropylene, micro-encapsulation by spray drying and recycling of waste plastics.
Prerequisite: MSE330H1

MSE499Y1 Thesis 156P
An experimental research topic in materials science and engineering involving original work normally related closely to the current research of a departmental staff member. The final grade is based on two oral presentations, a progress report on the Fall Term work, a poster presentation and a written dissertation.
Exclusion: CHEM499Y1/418Y1/428Y1/439Y1/449Y1/MSE490H1
Prerequisite: Any 300/400-series MSE half course and permission of the Department.

Mathematics teaches you to think, analytically and creatively. It is a foundation for advanced careers in a knowledge-based economy. Students who develop strong backgrounds in mathematics often have distinct advantages in other fields such as physics, computer science, economics, and finance.

The past century has been remarkable for discovery in mathematics. From space and number to stability and chaos, mathematical ideas evolve in the domain of pure thought. But the relationship between abstract thought and the real world is itself a source of mathematical inspiration. Problems in computer science, economics and physics have opened new fields of mathematical inquiry. And discoveries at the most abstract level lead to breakthroughs in applied areas, sometimes long afterwards.

The University of Toronto has the top mathematics department in Canada, and hosts the nearby Fields Institute (an international centre for research in mathematics). The Department offers students excellent opportunities to study the subject and glimpse current research frontiers. The Department offers three mathematical Specialist programs - Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, Mathematics and its Applications - as well as Major and Minor programs and several joint Specialist programs with other disciplines (for example, with Computer Science, Economics, Philosophy, Physics and Statistics).

The Specialist program in Mathematics is for students who want a deep knowledge of the subject. This program has been the main training-ground for Canadian mathematicians. A large proportion of our Mathematics Specialist graduates gain admission to the world's best graduate schools.

The Specialist program in Applied Mathematics is for students interested in the fundamental ideas in areas of mathematics that are directed towards applications. The mathematics course requirements in the first two years are the same as in the Mathematics Specialist program; a strong student can take the courses needed to get a degree in both Specialist programs.

These programs are challenging, but small classes with excellent professors and highly-motivated students provide a stimulating and friendly learning environment.

The Specialist program in Mathematics and its Applications is recommended to students with strong interests in mathematics and with career goals in areas such as teaching, computer science, the physical sciences and finance. The program is flexible; there is a core of courses in mathematics and related disciplines, but you can choose among several areas of concentration. The mathematics courses required for the program are essentially the same as those required for a Major in Mathematics. (They are less intense than the courses required for the Specialist programs above.) If you are interested in mathematics and are contemplating a double Major in Mathematics and in another discipline (let us take Computer Science, as an example), you should consider the advantages of fulfilling the requirements for a Specialist degree in Mathematics and its Applications with a computer science concentration. In this way, you can also get a Major in Computer Science; the difference in course requirements with a double major is that, among the courses you can choose for a Computer Science Major, you will be required to take some of a more mathematical nature. You might even consider choosing your options to fulfill the requirements for a double Specialist degree, in both Mathematics and its Applications and in the other discipline.

The Professional Experience Year program (“PEY”: see also Page 21) is available to eligible, full-time Specialist students after their second year of study. The PEY program is an optional 16 month work term providing industrial experience; its length often allows students to have the rewarding experience of initiating and completing a major project.

The Department operates a non-credit summer course, PUMP, limited to students admitted to the University. It is designed for students who require additional pre-university mathematics background. Details can be found at www.math.utoronto.ca/pump

Mathematics Programs
Enrolment in the Mathematics programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Applied Mathematics (Science program)
Consult Professor J.W. Lorimer, Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
MAT 157Y1, 240H1, 247H1, CSC148H1/150H1
Second Year:
MAT257Y1, 267H1; CSC260H1; STA 257H1
Third and Fourth Years:
1. APM 351Y1; MAT 327H1, 354H1, 347Y1, 357H1, 363H1; STA347H1
2. At least 2 full courses chosen from: MAT344H1, 454H1, 457Y1, 464H1, 477H1; STA302H1, 352Y1, 438H1, 457H1; CSC350H1, 351H1, 446H1, 456H1
3. Three courses from: APM421H1, 426H1, 461H1, 462H1, 466H1

NOTE: The Department recommends that PHY 140Y1 be taken in First Year. If you do not have a year course in programming from high school, the Department strongly recommends that you take CSC107H1/108H1 before attempting CSC148H1/150H1.
Mathematics (Science program)

Consult Professor J.W. Lorimer, Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics

Specialist program:
(11.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:
MAT 157Y1, 240H1, 247H1
Second Year:
MAT 257Y1, 267H1
Third and Fourth Years:
1. MAT 327H1, 347Y1, 354H1, 357H1, 477H1
2. One of: APM 461H1, MAT 309H1, 363H1 415H1/417H1, 454H1
3. At least 2.5 APM/MAT including at least 1.5 at the 400-level (these may include options above not already chosen)

NOTE: The Department recommends that PHY 140Y1 be taken in First Year, that CSC 148H1/150H1/260H1 and STA 257H1 be taken during the program. If you do not have a year course in programming from high school, the Department strongly recommends that you take CSC107H1/108H1 before attempting CSC148H1/150H1.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1, 223H1
Second Year:
MAT 224H1/247H1, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT 237Y1 strongly recommended), MAT 244H1/267H1, STA 257H1
Higher Years:
MAT 301H1, 334H1

Core Courses:
First Year:
CSC 107H1/108H1, MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 137Y1 strongly recommended), 223H1/240H1
Second Year:
MAT 224H1/247H1, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT 237Y1 strongly recommended), MAT 246H1 (waived for students taking MAT 257Y1), MAT 244H1/267H1, STA 257H1
Higher Years:
MAT 301H1, 334H1

Areas of Concentration
Teaching Concentration:
1. MAT 329Y1
2. Two of :MAT 309H1, 315H1, 335H1, 337H1, 344H1, 363H1, 402H1
3. Two half courses at 300+ level from APM, STA

This program addresses an increasing need for highly qualified mathematics teachers. Students planning to apply for admission to a B.Ed. program are encouraged also to get practical teaching experience at a level of their interests. Students successfully completing the Teaching Concentration and having practical experience will be highly competitive for admission to initial teaching programs at OISE/UT.

Computer Science Concentration:
1. CSC 207H1, 165H1, 258H1, 209H1; MAT 344H1
2. Three of :APM 461H1; CSC 350H1, 351H1, 354H1, 363H1, 378H1, 438H1, 446H1, 465H1, 487H1
3. Two CSC half courses at 300+ level.

NOTE: In order to take the Computer Science concentration, you will be required to register also for a Computer Science Major. (The latter is a restricted enrolment program and has certain admission requirements; please see the Computer Science program description.)

Physical Sciences Concentration:
1. PHY 140Y1 (in first year): APM 346H1/351Y1; AST 221H1, 222H1
2. Two of PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1
3. Two of APM 421H1, 436H1, 441H1, 466H1; AST 320H1, 325H1; MAT 337H1; PHY 307H1, 309H1, 315H1, 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1, 358H1

Probability/Statistics Concentration:
1. CSC 260H1/207H1, 350H1; APM 346H1/351Y1/462H1; MAT 337H1; STA 302H1, 347H1, 352Y1
2. Two of STA 422H1, 437H1, 438H1, 442H1, 447H1, 457H1

Design-Your-Own Concentration:
Nine half-courses of which at least six must be at the 300+ level, to be approved by the Department no later than the beginning of your third year.

Mathematics and Its Applications (Science program)

Specialist program:
(10.5 - 11.5 full courses or their equivalent, including one full course at 400-level)

The program requirements are the core courses below, together with the courses in one of the following areas of concentration. If you get a specialist degree in Mathematics and its Applications, your transcript and degree will indicate also your area of concentration. Please be careful to check course prerequisites in choosing your program.

Core Courses:
First Year:
CSC 107H1/108H1, MAT 135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT 137Y1 strongly recommended), 223H1/240H1
Second Year:
MAT 224H1/247H1, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT 237Y1 strongly recommended), MAT 246H1 (waived for students taking MAT 257Y1), MAT 244H1/267H1, STA 257H1
Higher Years:
MAT 301H1, 334H1

Areas of Concentration
Teaching Concentration:
1. MAT 329Y1
2. Two of :MAT 309H1, 315H1, 335H1, 337H1, 344H1, 363H1, 402H1

Mathematics

Mathematical Applications in Economics and Finance (Science Program)
Consult Professor J.W. Lorimer, Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics

Specialist program:
(11.5-12 full courses or their equivalent including one full course at the 400-level)
First Year:
ECO100Y1, MAT137Y1, 223H1, 224H1
Second Year:
ECO206Y1, MAT237Y1, STA257H1, 261H1
Higher Years:
APM346H1, APM462H1, 466H1, ECO358H1, MAT337H1, STA302H1/ECO327Y1, STA347H1, STA457H1
Two of: ECO359H1, MAT315H1, 334H1

Mathematics and Computer Science: see Computer Science

Mathematics and Economics: see Economics

Mathematics and Philosophy (Science program)
Consult the Undergraduate Coordinators of the Departments of Mathematics and Philosophy.

Specialist program:
(13 full courses or their equivalent including one full course at the 400-level)
First Year:
MAT 157Y1, 240H1, 247H1; PHL245H1
Higher Years:
1. PHL245H1 (if not taken in First Year)
2. MAT 257Y1, 327H1, 347Y1, 354H1/357H1
3. PHL346H1/349H1, MAT309H1/PHL344H1/345H1
4. MAT 351Y1, 354H1, 357H1, 363H1; PHY 351Y1, 352H1, 355H1
5. One course in epistemology and/or philosophy of science
6. 3.5 additional PHL courses, preferably including two in the history of philosophy and one in ethics or social/political philosophy

Mathematics and Physics (Science program)
Consult Professor J.W. Lorimer, Associate Chair, Department of Mathematics, and the Associate Chair, Department of Physics.

Specialist program:
(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
First Year:
MAT 157Y1, 240H1, 247H1; PHY 140Y1
Second Year:
MAT 257Y1, 267H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1
Third Year:
APM 351Y1, MAT 327H1, 354H1, 357H1, 363H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1
Fourth Year:
APM 421H1, 426H1; PHY 457H1; APM 446H1/PHY 459H1/460H1

Mathematics and Statistics: see Statistics

Applied Mathematics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes, all APM courses are classified as Science courses (see page 25).

APM236H1 Applications of Linear Programming 39L
Introduction to linear programming including a rapid review of linear algebra (row reduction, linear independence), the simplex method, the duality theorem, complementary slackness, and the dual simplex method. A selection of the following topics are covered: the revised simplex method, sensitivity analysis, integer programming, the transportation algorithm.
Prerequisite: MAT122H1/240H1 (Note: no waivers of prerequisites will be granted)

APM346H1 Differential Equations 39L
Sturm-Liouville problems, Green’s functions, special functions (Bessel, Legendre), partial differential equations of second order, separation of variables, integral equations, Fourier transform, stationary phase method.
Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1, 244H1

APM351Y1 Partial Differential Equations 78L
Prerequisite: MAT267H1
Co-requisite: MAT334H1/354H1

400-SERIES COURSES
Note:
Some courses at the 400-level are cross-listed as graduate courses and may not be offered every year. Please see the Department’s undergraduate brochure for more details.

APM421H1 Mathematical Foundations of Quantum 39L
The general formulation of non-relativistic quantum mechanics based on the theory of linear operators in a Hilbert space, self-adjoint operators, spectral measures and the statistical interpretation of quantum mechanics; functions of compatible observables. Schrödinger and Heisenberg pictures, complete sets of observables, representations of the canonical commutative relations; essential self-adjointness of Schrödinger operators, density operators, elements of scattering theory.
Prerequisite: (MAT224H1, 337H1)/357H1

APM426H1 General Relativity 39L
Prerequisite: MAT363H1
Mathematics Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all MAT courses except MAT 123H1, 124H1 and 133Y1 are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a breadth requirement course; see page 45.

MAT123H1, 124H1
See below MAT 133Y1

MAT125H1, 126H1
See below MAT 135Y1

MAT133Y1 Calculus and Linear Algebra 78L, 24T for Commerce

NOTE: please note prerequisites listed below. Students without the proper prerequisites for MAT133Y1 may be deregistered from this course.

Exclusion: MAT123H1, 124H1, 125H1, 126H1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U/MDM4U

MAT133Y1 counts as a Social Science course

MAT123H1 Calculus and Linear Algebra 39L for Commerce (A)
First term of MAT133Y1. Students in academic difficulty in MAT133Y1 who have written two midterm examinations with a mark of at least 20% in the second may withdraw from MAT133Y1 and enrol in MAT123H1 in the Spring Term. These students are informed of this option by the beginning of the Spring Term. Classes begin in the second week of the Spring Term; late enrolment is not permitted. Students not enrolled in MAT133Y1 in the Fall Term are not allowed to enrol in MAT123H1. MAT123H1 together with MAT124H1 is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT133Y1.

Exclusion: MAT125H1, 126H1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1

NOTE: students who enrol in MAT133Y1 after completing MAT123H1 but not MAT124H1 do not receive degree credit for MAT133Y1; it is counted ONLY as an "Extra Course."

Prerequisite: Enrolment in MAT133Y1, and withdrawal from MAT133Y1 after two midterms, with a mark of at least 20% in the second midterm.

MAT123H1 is a Social Science course

MAT124H1 Calculus and Linear Algebra 39L, 13T for Commerce (B)
Second Term content of MAT133Y1; the final examination includes topics covered in MAT123H1. Offered in the Summer Session only; students not enrolled in MAT123H1 in the preceding Spring Term will NOT be allowed to enrol in MAT124H1. MAT123H1 together with MAT124H1 is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT133Y1.

Exclusion: MAT125H1, 126H1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1
Mathematics

Prerequisite: MAT123H1 successfully completed in the preceding Spring Term
MAT124H1 is a Social Science course

MAT135Y1 Calculus I 78L, 24T
Exclusion: MAT123H1, 124H1, 125H1, 126H1, 133Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1
Prerequisite: MCB4U

MAT125H1 Calculus I (A) 39L
First term of MAT135Y1. Students in academic difficulty in MAT135Y1 who have written two midterm examinations with a mark of at least 20% in the second may withdraw from MAT135Y1 and enrol in MAT125H1 in the Spring Term. These students are informed of this option by the beginning of the Spring Term. Classes begin in the second week of the Spring Term; late enrolment is not permitted. Students not enrolled in MAT135Y1 in the Fall Term will not be allowed to enrol in MAT125H1. MAT125H1 together with MAT126H1 is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT135Y1.
Exclusion: MAT123H1, 124H1, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1
NOTE: students who enrol in MAT135Y1 after completing MAT125H1 but not MAT126H1 do not receive degree credit for MAT135Y1; it is counted ONLY as an “Extra Course.”
Prerequisite: Enrolment in MAT135Y1, and withdrawal from MAT135Y1 after two midterms, with a mark of at least 20% in the second midterm.

MAT126H1 Calculus I (B) 39L, 13T
Second Term content of MAT135Y1; the final examination includes topics covered in MAT125H1. Offered in the Summer Session only; students not enrolled in MAT125H1 in the preceding Spring Term will NOT be allowed to enrol in MAT126H1. MAT125H1 together with MAT126H1 is equivalent for program and prerequisite purposes to MAT135Y1.
Exclusion: MAT123H1, 124H1, 133Y1, 135Y1, 136Y1, 137Y1
Prerequisite: MAT125H1 successfully completed in the preceding Spring Term

MAT136Y1 Calculus and its Foundations 104L, 52T
Limited to out-of-province students interested in the biological, physical, or computer sciences, whose high school mathematics preparation is strong but does not include calculus. Develops the concepts of calculus at the level of MAT135Y1. May include background material on functions, analytic geometry, and trigonometry, as well as on calculus.
Exclusion: MAT123H1, 124H1, 125H1, 126H1, 133Y1, 135Y1, 137Y1, 157Y1
Prerequisite: Solid background in high school mathematics, up to and including Grade 11

MAT137Y1 Calculus! 78L, 26T
A conceptual approach for students with a serious interest in mathematics. Geometric and physical intuition are emphasized but some attention is also given to the theoretical foundations of calculus. Material covers first a review of trigonometric functions followed by discussion of trigonometric identities. The basic concepts of calculus: limits and continuity; the mean value and inverse function theorems, the integral, the fundamental theorem, elementary transcendental functions, Taylor’s theorem, sequence and series, uniform convergence and power series.
Exclusions: MAT125HI, 126HI, 135Y1, 136Y1, 157Y1
Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

MAT157Y1 Analysis I 78L, 52T
A theoretical course in calculus; emphasizing proofs and techniques, as well as geometric and physical understanding. Trigonometric identities. Limits and continuity; least upper bounds, intermediate and extreme value theorems. Derivatives, mean value and inverse function theorems. Integrals; fundamental theorem; elementary transcendental functions. Taylor’s theorem; sequences and series; uniform convergence and power series.
Exclusion: MAT137Y1
Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

JMB170Y1 Biology, Models, and Mathematics 52L, 26T
Applications of mathematics to biological problems in physiology, biomechanics, genetics, evolution, growth, population dynamics, cell biology, ecology and behaviour.
Co-requisite: BIO150Y1

JUM202H1 Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit (formerly JUM102H1) 26L, 13T
A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM102H1
JUM202H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM203H1 Mathematics and Poetry (formerly JUM103H1) 26L, 13T
A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM103H1
JUM203H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM205H1 Mathematical Personalities 26L, 13T
An in-depth study of the life, times and work of several mathematicians who have been particularly influential. Examples may include Newton, Euler, Gauss, Kowalewski, Hilbert, Hardy, Ramanujan, Gödel, Erdős, Coxeter, Grothendieck. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM105H1
JUM205H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM209H1 Mathematical Foundations 26L, 13T
A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM109H1
JUM209H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM223H1 Linear Algebra I 39L, 13T
Matrix arithmetic and linear systems. Rn: subspaces, linear independence, bases, dimension; column spaces, null spaces, rank and dimension formula. Orthogonality orthonormal sets, Gram-Schmidt orthogonalization process; least square approximation. Linear transformations Rn→Rm. The determinant, classical adjoint, Cramer’s Rule. Eigenvalues, eigenvectors, eigenspaces, diagonalization. Function spaces and application to a system of linear differential equations.
Exclusion: MAT240H1
Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U

MAT224H1 Linear Algebra II 39L, 13T
Exclusion: MAT247H1
Prerequisite: MAT223H1/240H1

MAT235Y1 Calculus II 78L
Differential and integral calculus of functions of several variables. Line and surface integrals, the divergence theorem, Stokes’ theorem. Sequences and series, including an introduction to Fourier series. Some partial differential equations of physics.
Exclusion: MAT237Y1, 257Y1
Prerequisite: MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1

MAT237Y1 Multivariable Calculus 78L
Exclusion: MAT235Y1, 257Y1
Prerequisite: MAT137Y1/157Y1/135Y1(85%),223H1/240H1

MAT240H1 Algebra I 39L, 26T
Prerequisite: MCB4U, MGA4U
Co-requisite: MAT157Y1

MAT244H1 Introduction to Ordinary Differential Equations 39L
Ordinary differential equations of the first and second order, existence and uniqueness; solutions by series and integrals; linear systems of first order; non-linear equations; difference equations.
Exclusion: MAT267H1
Prerequisite: MAT135Y1/136Y1/137Y1/157Y1, 223H1/240H1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1

MAT246H1 Concepts in Abstract Mathematics 39L
(formerly MAT246Y1)
Designed to introduce students to mathematical proofs and abstract mathematical concepts. Topics may include modular arithmetic, sizes of infinite sets, and a proof that some angles cannot be trisected with straightedge and compass.
Exclusion: MAT 157Y1, 246Y1
Prerequisite: MAT133Y1/135Y1/136Y1/137Y1, 223H on the residue classes modulo m; quadratic reciprocity law, representation of numbers as sums of squares.
Prerequisite: MAT(235Y1/237Y1, 223H1/240H1)/257Y1

MAT327H1 Introduction to Topology 39L
Prerequisite: MAT257Y1/(237Y1 and permission of the instructor)

MAT329Y1 Concepts in Elementary Mathematics 78L
The formation of mathematical concepts and techniques, and their application to the everyday world. Nature of mathematics and mathematical understanding. Role of observation, conjecture, analysis, structure, critical thinking and logical argument. Numeration, arithmetic, geometry, counting techniques, recursion, algorithms. This course is specifically addressed to students intending to become elementary school teachers and is strongly recommended by the Faculty of Education. Previous experience working with children is useful. The course content is considered in the context of elementary school teaching. In particular, the course may include a practicum in school classrooms. The course has an enrolment limit of 40, and students are required to ballot.
Prerequisite: Any 7 full courses with a CGPA of at least 2.5

MAT334H1 Complex Variables 39L
Theory of functions of one complex variable, analytic and meromorphic functions. Cauchy’s theorem, residue calculus, conformal mappings, introduction to analytic continuation and harmonic functions.
Exclusion: MAT354H1
Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1

MAT335H1 Chaos, Fractals and Dynamics 39L
Prerequisite: MAT137Y1/200-level calculus, 223H1

MAT337H1 Introduction to Real Analysis 39L
Exclusion: MAT357H1
Prerequisite: MAT(223H1/240H1,(235Y1/237Y1,246H1))/257Y1

MAT344H1 Introduction to Combinatorics 39L
Basic counting principles, generating functions, permutations with restrictions. Fundamentals of graph theory with algorithms; applications (including network flows). Combinatorial structures including block designs and finite geometries.
Prerequisite: MAT223H1/240H1

MAT347Y1 Groups, Rings and Fields 78L, 26T
Groups, subgroups, quotient groups, Sylow theorems, Jordan-Hölder theorem, finitely generated abelian groups, solvable groups. Rings, ideals, Chinese remainder theorem; Euclidean domains and principal ideal domains; unique factorization.
Noetherian rings, Hilbert basis theorem. Finitely generated modules. Field extensions, algebraic closure, straight-edge and compass constructions. Galois theory, including insolubility of the quintic.
Prerequisite: MAT247H1, 257Y1

MAT354H1 Complex Analysis I 39L
Complex numbers, the complex plane and Riemann sphere, Mobius transformations, elementary functions and their mapping properties, conformal mapping, holomorphic functions, Cauchy’s theorem and integral formula. Taylor and Laurent series, maximum modulus principle, Schwarz’s lemma, residue theorem and residue calculus.
Prerequisite: MAT247H1, 257Y1

MAT357H1 Real Analysis I 39L
Prerequisite: MAT247H1, 257Y1, (327H1 or permission of instructor)

MAT363H1 Introduction to Differential Geometry 39L
Prerequisite: MAT247H1/247H1, 237Y1/257Y1

MAT390H1 History of Mathematics up to 1700 39L
A survey of ancient, medieval, and early modern mathematics with emphasis on historical issues. (Offered in alternate years)
Exclusion: HPS309H1, 310Y1, 390H1
Prerequisite: at least one full MAT 200-level course

MAT391H1 History of Mathematics after 1700 26L, 13T
A survey of the development of mathematics from 1700 to the present with emphasis on technical development. (Offered in alternate years)
Exclusion: HPS309H1, 310H1, 391H1
Prerequisite: At least one full 200-level MAT course

MAT393Y1 Independent Work in Mathematics TBA
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.
Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.5 in math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

MAT395H1 Independent Experiential Study Project TBA
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.
400-Series Courses

Note
Some courses at the 400-level are cross-listed as graduate courses and may not be offered every year. Please see the Department's undergraduate brochure for more details.

MAT401H1 Polynomial Equations and Fields 39L
(Formerly MAT302H1)
Exclusion: MAT347Y1
Prerequisite: MAT224H1, 235Y1/237Y1, 246H1/257Y1

MAT402H1 Classical Geometries 39L
(Formerly MAT365H1)
Euclidean and non-Euclidean plane and space geometries. Real and complex projective space. Models of the hyperbolic plane. Connections with the geometry of surfaces.
Prerequisite: MAT301H1/347Y1

MAT409H1 Set Theory 39L
Set theory and its relations with other branches of mathematics. ZFC axioms. Ordinal and cardinal numbers. Reflection principle. Constructible sets and the continuum hypothesis. Introduction to independence proofs. Topics from large cardinals, infinitary combinatorics and descriptive set theory.
Prerequisite: MAT357H1

MAT415H1 Topics in Algebraic Number Theory 39L
A selection from the following: finite fields; global and local fields; valuation theory; ideals and divisors; different and discriminants; ramification and inertia; class numbers and units; cyclotomic fields; diophantine equations.
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1 or permission of instructor

MAT417H1 Topics in Algebraic Geometry 39L
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1

MAT418H1 Introduction to Commutative Algebra and Algebraic Geometry 39L
Basic notions of algebraic geometry, with emphasis on commutative algebra or geometry according to the interests of the instructor. Algebraic topics: localization, integral dependence and Hilbert's Nullstellensatz, valuation theory; power series rings and completion, dimension theory; Geometric topics: affine and projective varieties, dimension and intersection theory, curves and surfaces, varieties over the complex numbers.
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1

MAT443H1 Computer Algebra 39L
Introduction to algebraic algorithms used in computer science and computational mathematics. Topics may include: generating sequences of random numbers, fast arithmetic, Euclidean algorithm, factorization of integers and polynomials, primality tests, computation of Galois groups, Gröbner bases. Symbolic manipulators such as Maple and Mathematica are used.
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1

MAT445H1 Representation Theory 39L
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1

MAT448H1 Introduction to Commutative Algebra and Algebraic Geometry 39L
Basic notions of algebraic geometry, with emphasis on commutative algebra or geometry according to the interests of the instructor. Algebraic topics: localization, integral dependence and Hilbert's Nullstellensatz, valuation theory; power series rings and completion, dimension theory; Geometric topics: affine and projective varieties, dimension and intersection theory, curves and surfaces, varieties over the complex numbers.
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1

MAT449H1 Algebraic Curves 39L
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1

MAT454H1 Complex Analysis II 39L
Singularities. Newton polygon and Puiseux expansion; resolution of singularities.
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1

MAT457Y1 Real Analysis II 78L
Prerequisite: MAT357H1

MAT464H1 Differential Geometry 39L
Prerequisite: MAT363H1

MAT468H1 Ordinary Differential Equations II 39L
Sturm-Liouville problem and oscillation theorems for second-order linear equations. Qualitative theory; integral invariants, limit cycles. Dynamical systems; invariant measures; bifurcations,
Mathematics

Prerequisite: MAT267H1, 354H1, 357H1

MAT477H1  Seminar in Mathematics  TBA
Seminar in an advanced topic. Content will generally vary from year to year. (Student presentations will be required)
Prerequisite: MAT347Y1, 354H1, 357H1; or permission of instructor.

MAT495H1/  Readings in Mathematics  TBA
496H1/
497H1/
498Y1/
499Y1

Independent study under the direction of a faculty member.
Topic must be outside undergraduate offerings.
Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.5 in math courses. Permission of the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies and prospective supervisor

The Modern Languages and Literatures program is a number of sub-programs given by Faculty Language Departments. Upon graduation a student is certified as having completed a combined Specialist Program in the two languages chosen. Enrolment in this program requires the completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required. The normal combinations are listed below; for combinations NOT listed students should consult the departments concerned.

See also the Language Citation Program, page 20.

Modern Languages and Literatures

Specialist program: (14-15 full courses or their equivalent)

Fourteen courses are required, seven in each subject with the following requirements:

French (with German/Italian/Portuguese/Russian/Spanish) (8 courses)
Same as the Major Program in French Language and Literature

German (with French/Italian/Russian/Spanish) Same as the Major Program in German Studies

Italian (with French/German/Portuguese/Russian/Spanish) Same as the Major Program in Italian

Polish (with French/German/Russian) First Year:
SLA 106Y1
Higher Years:
1. SLA 206Y1, 216Y1, 306H1, 336H1
2. Two courses from: SLA 226H1, 346H1, 356H1, 406Y1/406H1, 416Y1, 424H1, 436H1, 446H1, 456H1

Portuguese (with French/Italian/Spanish) (7 courses)
Same as the Major Program in Portuguese

Russian (with French/German/Italian)
See Slavic Languages & Literatures for details.

Spanish (with French/German/Italian/Portuguese) (7 courses)
First Year:
SPA 100Y1/220Y1; SPA 319Y1 (for native/bilingual speakers of Spanish)
Second Year:
SPA 220Y1/320Y1; SPA 420H1 (for speakers who have taken SPA 319Y1 in first year)
Third and Fourth Years:
1. SPA 320Y1, 454H1
2. SPA 450H1 or 452H1
3. SPA 420H1 is recommended for students who start in SPA 100Y1
4. SPA 420H1 is required for students who start in SPA 220Y1 or higher language course; plus a 300/400-series half-course in language or linguistics
5. Plus additional SPA courses, including a half-course in Spanish American literature, to make seven courses. Up to one full-course equivalent may be taken from cognate departmental or college offerings: GGR, HIS, IAS, LIN, POL, PRT. A complete list of eligible courses is available from the Ukrainian (with French/German)

First Year:
SLA 108Y1
Higher Years:
1. SLA 208Y1, 218Y1
2. Three courses, including at least one 400-series course, from: SLA 228H1, 238H1, 248H1, 253H1, 308Y1, 318H1, 408H1, 418H1, 419Y1, 428Y1, 429H1, 438H1, 448H1, 458H1, 468H1. Courses in Ukrainian history may also be counted toward this programme.

In the Faculty of Arts and Science, Music is approached as one of the liberal arts and taught as cultural history. This humanistic emphasis aims at a high degree of correlation with other disciplines such as Fine Art, Cultural Anthropology, Languages and Literatures, History, and Philosophy.

The courses with the prefix MUS are open to any student of the University. Even students with a strong music background should find them stimulating explorations of the world of music.

Students wishing to enter the Specialist /Major Program should examine the courses listed under HMU History of Music and TMU Theory of Music. First-year specialist/major courses are available to a small number of students, who are admitted to them by audition and interview during Registration week. Those interested in ethnomusicology and the study of world music may audition on the basis of their comparable accomplishments in a non-Western instrumental or vocal performing tradition. All students are required to have completed Grade 2 Rudiments and Grade 3 Harmony from the RCM or acceptable equivalents as prerequisites, prior to the audition-interview. Knowledge of Western music history and theory ensures that students are not disadvantaged when facing the curricular requirements of the program. In this program the humanistic and historical approach is supported by courses in music theory which provide craft and analytical tools. The Specialist Program provides excellent preparation for a variety of professional activities including music criticism, library science, positions in the publishing, broadcasting, and recording industries, as well as for graduate studies in musicology and ethnomusicology leading to careers in university teaching. The program leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (honours). For programs leading to the degree of Bachelor of Music, the student should consult the Calendar of the Faculty of Music.

Students are encouraged to attend events sponsored by the Faculty of Music such as the Thursday Noon and Faculty Artists’ Series, opera productions and numerous concerts. For information refer to www.music.utoronto.ca or telephone 416-978-3744.

Faculty of Music Representative: Professor J. Kippen, Co-ordinator (416-978-3750)

Enquiries: Admissions Officer, Edward Johnson Building, Room 145 (416-978-3741); e-mail: music.artsci@utoronto.ca.

Music Programs

Enrolment in HMU and TMU courses, and, therefore, in the Specialist and Major programs, is limited to students who pass the audition-interview, held on Tuesday, September 5, 2006. Students are required to complete and submit the Student Profile available on-line at www.music.utoronto.ca prior to August 23, 2006. Hardcopies are available from the Faculty of Music Registrar’s Office. You will then be assigned an audition time. Prospective candidates must perform at the Royal Conservatory of Music Grade Eight level, and demonstrate that they have Grade Two Rudiments and Grade Three Harmony or equivalents. Students interested in pursuing the major or specialist with the Ensemble option are required to pass an additional audition-interview for ensemble placement. Please refer to MUS 120Y. An information sheet is available at the Faculty of Music. (This is not required for the Music Minor program, see below.)

Music (Arts program)

Specialist program:
(10 full courses or equivalent, including three 300+ level courses and one 400+ level course)

First Year:
HMU 111H1, TMU 140Y1, one 100-level course in a language other than English

Higher Years:
1. HMU 225H1, 226H1
2. HMU 330H1, 331H1, 333H1, 430H1, 431H1, 432H1, 433H1
3. TMU 240Y1 and a half-course in advanced theory (TMU)
4. Three half-courses in history electives (HMU)

NOTE: Part-time students will satisfy co-requisites by taking courses in the following order: TMU 140Y1, HMU 111H1, TMU 240Y1, HMU 225H1, 226H1

Specialist with Ensemble Option program:
(10.5 full courses or equivalent, including three 300+ level courses and one 400+ level course)

First Year:
HMU 111H1, MUS 120Y1, TMU 140Y1, one 100-level course in a language other than English

Higher Years:
1. HMU 225H1, 226H1
2. Three-and-a-half full courses in history electives (HMU), including two full credits of topic courses from the list HMU 330H1, 331H1, 333H1, 430H1, 431H1, 432H1, 433H1
3. TMU 240Y1 and a half-course in 300+ level theory (TMU)
4. MUS 220Y1

NOTE: Part-time students will satisfy co-requisites by taking courses in the following order: TMU 140Y1, HMU 111H1, TMU 240Y1, HMU 225H1, 226H1

Major program:
(7 full courses or equivalent, including at least two 300+ level courses)

First Year:
HMU 111H1, TMU 140Y1

Higher Years:
1. HMU 225H1, 226H1 and three further half-courses in history electives (HMU)
2. TMU 240Y1 and a half-course in advanced theory (TMU)
3. 1.5 additional HMU/TMU courses

Major with Ensemble Option program:
(7.5 full courses or equivalent, including at least two 300+ level courses)

First Year:
HMU 111H1, MUS 120Y1, TMU 140Y1

Higher Years:
1. HMU 225H1, 226H1
2. TMU 240Y1
3. 2.0 additional HMU/TMU electives
4. MUS 220Y1

Music History and Culture (Arts program)

Minor program:
(4 full courses or equivalent)
1. MUS 110H1, 111H1
2. MUS 200H1 or an alternative 200-level course in world music (MUS 209H1 or MUS 211H1)
3. 2.5 MUS courses from the list below, including one full course at the 300+ level. Either MUS 120Y1 or MUS 220Y1 can be counted towards the 2.5 MUS courses

Music Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.)

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), HMU, MUS, TMU courses are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

MUS110H1 Introduction to Music History and Culture 26L
Introduction to form, style and the interrelationships of music and culture. A basic ability to read music is required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1, VPMA80H3

MUS111H1 Historical Survey of Western Music 26L
Historical survey of Western art music from the Middle Ages to the present. A basic ability to read music is required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1

MUS120Y1 Vocal and Instrumental Ensembles I 156P
Students rehearse and perform in concerts and reading sessions as assigned by the Faculty of Music. Provides experience in choral groups, orchestra, or in concert band and large wind groups of diverse instrumentation. Development of musicianship skills through performance of large ensemble works; emphasis on sight-reading, ear-training, and musical knowledge. Attendance at all sessions is required. Placement audition and permission of the Department required.

Download the excerpt that is relevant to the instrument you would like to audition on; excerpts will be available at www.music.utoronto.ca beginning early July. Complete and return the MUS120Y1 & MUS220Y1 Audition Request Form before August 23. Once your request form is received, you will be notified of your audition time. Placement audition will be held on Thursday, September 7, 2006 from 6-10 p.m. in the Edward Johnson Building. The audition will be 10 minutes in length.
Exclusion: MUS291Y1

MUS209H1 Performing Arts of South Asia 26L
Survey of classical, devotional, folk and popular musics and dances from the Indian subcontinent and their toll in the sociocultural life of the region. No prior background in music or ability to read music is required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1

MUS211H1 The World of Popular Music 26L
Examination of selected world popular music. Explores the roles of the transnational recording industry, media, festivals, and local institutions and companies, in shaping these musics, culture, and ethnic and regional identity at home and in diaspora. No prior background in music or ability to read music is required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1
MUS220Y1  Vocal and Instrumental Ensembles II

Students rehearse and perform in concerts and reading sessions as assigned by the Faculty of Music. Provides experience in choral groups, orchestra, or in concert band and large wind groups of diverse instrumentation. Development of musicianship skills through performance of large ensemble works; emphasis on sight-reading, ear-training, and musical knowledge. Attendance at all sessions is required. Placement audition and permission of the Department required.

Download the excerpt that is relevant to the instrument you would like to audition on: excerpts will be available at www.music.utoronto.ca beginning early July. Placement audition will be held on Thursday, September 7, 2006 from 6-10 p.m. in the Edward Johnson Building. The audition will be 10 minutes in length.

Prerequisite: MUS 120Y1. Placement audition and permission of the Department required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1

MUS302H1  Symphony

Masterpieces in the symphonic genre from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries. No prior background in music or ability to read music is required.
Exclusion: HMU111H1

MUS308H1  Handel

Handel’s life and music will be examined in its cultural contexts.
Exclusion: HMU111H1.

HMU, TMU Faculty of Music Courses

HMU111H1  Introduction to Music and Society

An examination of musical thought and practice in Western and non-Western traditions.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department
Co-requisite: TMU140Y1

TMU140Y1  Materials of Music I

Prerequisite: Grade 2 Rudiments, Grade 3 Harmony (RCMT), Grade 8 level performing audition, permission of Department
Co-requisite: HMU111H1

Note
HMU 111H1 and TMU 140Y1 are prerequisites for all other HMU/TMU courses which are offered annually. Full details on these and other courses may be found in the Calendar of the Faculty of Music.

The Department of Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations is concerned with the interdisciplinary study of the civilizations and cultures of the Near and Middle East from neolithic times until the present, including their languages and literatures Akkadian (Assyro-Babylonian), Arabic, Aramaic and its closely related dialect Syriac, ancient Egyptian, (biblical, rabbinic, mediaeval and modern) Hebrew, (Hellenistic) Greek, Persian and Turkish, archaeology, history, art and architecture. Near East is generally understood to refer to the region at the eastern end of the Mediterranean and beyond, from ancient times up to the advent of Islam in the seventh century C.E. Middle East refers to a much broader geographical area whose predominant Islamic culture in mediaeval and modern times has stretched to North Africa and Spain in the west and to Central Asia, India and South Asia in the east. The Department's programs are conceived in the broad tradition of the humanities and provide an opportunity to study non-western complex societies and civilizations, an understanding of which will reveal the ultimate roots, and help to appreciate the historical development, of western civilization.

As it happens, three world religions originated in this geographical region. The Department offers courses on the origins and earliest phases of Judaism and, as a contributor to the Jewish Studies Program, on mediaeval and modern Jewish history, culture and thought, even though such pursuits sometimes lead to Europe and other places beyond the Middle East. Although the Department deals with eastern (Syriac) Christianity, the study of Christianity as a religion falls within the purview of the Department for the Study of Religion. The study of Islam as a religion and the development of Islamic thought, and their role in the creation of Islamic civilization, are major concerns of the Department.

NMC 101Y1 introduces students to the ancient Near East. NMC 201Y1 presents an historical and thematic survey of the civilizations and cultures of the mediaeval and modern Middle East and provides background necessary for comprehending the complex issues facing that region today. Students particularly interested in the world and/or religion of Islam should start with NMC 185H1.

Students wishing to follow a Specialist program should choose their courses with the advice of the Undergraduate Coordinator. Those intending to proceed to a graduate degree in a particular area will obviously want to concentrate their course choices in that area and would do well to acquire a reading knowledge of German and French as early as possible. Some knowledge of anthropology and a course or two in linguistics would be useful. The Department, however, welcomes students of all academic backgrounds who wish to learn about the Middle East, including those who do not intend to specialize or major. Many courses offered in the Department do not require any knowledge of the languages of the region. Students should consult the Department's website www.utoronto.ca/nmc for more detailed information about courses and programs.

Near and Middle Eastern
Civilizations Programs

Enrolment in NMC programs is open to anyone who has completed four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations (Arts program)

Specialist Program:
11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least four 300+ series courses, one of which must be a 400-series course. At least 9 must be NMC courses. Others may be taken only from a list of pre-approved courses offered by other departments. See departmental web site for details.

First Year:
NMC 101Y1/185H1 (formerly NMC185Y1)/201Y1. One of the four Language courses could also be taken in the First Year

Higher Years:
1. Four courses in Language (original language; not literature in translation)
2. Three courses in History and/or Religion and Philosophy
3. Two courses in Archaeology and/or Art and Material Culture
4. One additional course

Major program:
6 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses. At least 5 must be NMC courses. Others may be taken only from a list of pre-approved courses offered by other departments. See departmental web site for details.

N.B. Admission to a Graduate Program in NMC requires the applicant to have acquired a background in languages.

Minor program:
4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course. All 4 must be NMC courses.

Near and Middle Eastern
Civilizations Courses

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all NMC courses except NMC 465H1 and 462Y1 are classified as HUMANITIES courses.

NMC201Y1 Islamic Culture and Civilization 52L
This course acquaints students with the main features and legacies of the civilization that was formed in the Middle East in the 8th-10th centuries C.E. under the impetus of Islam, and marked by several highpoints before the early modern period. Continuity with the earlier civilizations of the ancient Near East are highlighted, and the diverse cultural traditions that contributed to the formation of Islamic civilization are described.

NMC354H1 The Ottoman Empire in the Age of Reform, 1808-1918 26L
The last phase of the Ottoman empire has long been viewed by Orientalists and Middle East nationalists as a period of inevitable decline. More recently, cultural historians of the Middle East have framed the long 19th. century as a period of grand reforms - or Tanzimat. This course seeks to critically examine the notions of ‘reform of the state’ and ‘reform of the individual’ between Sultan Mahmud II’s accession and the defeat of the Ottoman empire in World War I. Focusing largely on Istanbul and the Ottoman capital’s political relations with the Arab provinces, we will relate economic, social and intellectual

Exclusion: NMC385Y1/NMC355H1 from 2005-06

NMC475H1 Orientalism & Occidentalism 13S
This course probes the contemporaneous formation of modern Oriental Studies in Europe and the emergence of discourses on Europe (Iran/Farang) in the Middle East from the eighteenth century to the present. Special emphasis will be devoted to encounters between scholars in Western Europe, Iran, India, and the Ottoman Empire. This seminar-style course explains that Orientals gazed and returned the gaze, and in the process of “cultural looking,” they, like their Occidental counterparts, exoticized and eroticized the Farangi-Other. In the interplay of looks between Orientals and Occidentals, there was no steady position of spectatorship, no objective observer, and no “aperspectival” position.

New College courses have in common a commitment to be explorative and inventive and to widen students' experience by critically examining relationships among academic disciplines. These courses take their place within such well-defined programs as Women's Studies, Human Biology, Equity Studies, Paradigms and Archetypes, African Studies, and Caribbean Studies. These programs are open to all students in the University.

Integration of student experience is a major concern in a college with students from all faculties in the University. The Independent Studies courses provide an opportunity for students to design their own programs and to test their analytic, synthetic, and creative skills by writing a thesis.

The African Studies Program
(Specialist, Major, Minor) offers opportunities to study Africa through a selection of courses devoted to African history, society and culture. The core courses are drawn from anthropology, history, literature and political science.

The Caribbean Studies Program
(Specialist, Major, Minor) consists of courses in Caribbean history, literature and thought that deal with issues including gender, religion, politics, culture, ethnicity, race, development, language, colonialism and regional common markets.

The Equity Studies Program
(Major) is an interdisciplinary program that examines various models - historically and culturally specific - for conceptualizing social inequities and for bringing about equity. It draws together discourses on equity from the humanities, social sciences and sciences.

The Human Biology Programs* offer a broad education in life sciences with courses offered by departments in both the Faculties of Arts and Science, and Medicine.

*Specialist: (1) Genes, Genetics and Biotechnology; (2) Global Health; (3) Health and Disease; (4) Human Behavioural Biology.
Major: Life Sciences (See Life Sciences section of the Calendar.)

The Paradigms and Archetypes Program
(Minor) provides opportunities for undergraduates in discipline-based programs to access, through a comparative analysis of primary sources, the structure and dynamics of “paradigms”: archetypal narratives, assumptions, myths, fantasies, analytical protocols and methodologies which govern the conduct of disciplines in every field and all cultures.

The South Asian Studies Program
(Specialist, Major, Minor) provides the opportunity for students to study traditional and modern South Asia. The history and culture of India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka are presented in courses offered by a number of departments.

The Women and Gender Studies Program
(Specialist, Major, Minor) offers a wide variety of courses in a rapidly developing and intellectually fertile field. Courses cover such issues as the representation and social organization of sexual differences, women and health, gender issues in law, women in world cultures, women and issues of international development and the history of feminism. (See the Women and Gender Studies section of the Calendar.)

Independent Studies Courses

New College Independent Study courses are designed both to complement regular offerings in New College programs and to provide an opportunity for New College students in any program to enrich their studies. The normal expectation of a project course is that the student, aided and advised by the supervisor, will read relevant literature, and plan, execute, analyze and report on an original and independent investigation of an appropriate topic. Written applications (detailed proposal, reading list and a letter of support from a faculty member who is prepared to supervise) should be made through the Program Office for approval by the College’s Committee for Academic Affairs by May 1 for the Summer Session or by the last Friday in August for the Winter Session. Students will be notified of the acceptance or rejection of an application. For more information and application forms, please see the Independent Studies website: http://www.newcollege.utoronto.ca/academic-programs/independent-studies/

Enquiries: New College, Room 132 (978-5404)

The Greek words from which “Philosophy” is formed mean “love of wisdom” and all great philosophers have been moved by an intense devotion to the search for wisdom. Philosophy takes no belief for granted, but examines the grounds for those beliefs which make up people's fundamental views of the world. Philosophers think about these beliefs as thoroughly and systematically as possible, using methods of conceptual analysis, reasoning, and detailed description.

What distinguishes Philosophy from the physical and social sciences is its concern not only with the truths which are discovered by means of specialized methods of investigation, but with the implications that such discoveries have for human beings in their relations with one another and the world. Moreover, Philosophy has an abiding interest in those basic assumptions about the nature of the physical and social world, and about the nature of enquiry itself, which underlie our scientific and practical endeavours.

The Philosophy Department at the University of Toronto offers courses in the main periods and areas of Philosophy, which are listed here with a typical question or the name of one or two central figures: Ancient Philosophy (Plato, Aristotle); Mediaeval Philosophy (Augustine, Aquinas); Early Modern Philosophy (Descartes, Hume, Kant); Nineteenth-Century Philosophy and Marxism (Hegel, Mill, Marx); Continental Philosophy and Phenomenology (Husserl, Heidegger, Sartre); Analytic Philosophy (Quine, Russell, Wittgenstein); Epistemology and Metaphysics (What can be known? What is the ultimate nature of reality?); Philosophy of Religion (Does God exist? How could one prove it?); Philosophy of Mind (What is mind? Is there free will?); Logic and Philosophy of Mathematics (What is sound reasoning? Do numbers exist?); Philosophy of Language (What is the meaning of “meaning?”); Philosophy of Natural Science (What is scientific method?); Philosophy of Social Science and History (Can there be a science of humans?); Social and Political Philosophy (What justifies the state?); Moral Philosophy (How should we argue rationally about right and wrong?); Aesthetics (What is art? Must it be beautiful?). In addition, the Department offers Seminars (numbered PHL 400H1-489H1) and Individual Studies courses (numbered PHL 490Y1, PHL 495H1-499H1).

Counselling is available in the main departmental office, 215 Huron St., 9th floor. In addition, the Department publishes an annual Bulletin. It contains full and up-to-date information on programs and courses, including names of instructors and descriptions of particular course sections. The Bulletin is published in the spring (for the succeeding year) and is available on the Department’s website and at 215 Huron Street, and from all College registrars.

PHL342H1 Minds and Machines 39L
Topics include: philosophical foundations of artificial intelligence theory; the computational theory of the mind; functionalism vs. reductionism; the problems of meaning in the philosophy of mind.

JPP343Y1 Women in Western Political Thought 52L
An examination of social and political thought concerning the nature of women and their role in society, including the relation between the family and "civil society". The debate between Aristotle and Plato; treatment by early modern individualism; the anti-individualist theory; some major contemporary perspectives, especially liberal and Marxist feminism. (Given by the Departments of Philosophy and Political Science) Prerequisite: NEW360Y1/PHL265H1/POL200Y1

PHL344H1 Metalogic 39L
Soundness and completeness of propositional and quantificational logic, undecidability of quantificational logic, and other metalogical topics. Exclusion: MAT309H1/CSC438H1 Prerequisite: PHL245H1 and a full course in PHL/CSC/MAT

PHL345H1 Intermediate Logic 39L
A sequel to PHL245H1, developing skills in quantificational logic and treating of definite descriptions. The system developed is used to study a selection of the following topics: philosophical uses of logic, formal systems, set theory, non-classical logics, and metalogic. Prerequisite: PHL245H1 and a full course in PHL/CSC/MAT

PHL346H1 Philosophy of Mathematics 39L
Platonism versus nominalism, the relation between logic and mathematics, implications of Godel's theorem, formalism and intuitionism. Prerequisite: PHL245H1 and a full course in PHL/CSC/MAT

PHL347H1 Modal Logic 39L
Axiomatic set theory developed in a practical way, as a logical tool for philosophers, with some attention to philosophical problems surrounding it. Prerequisite: PHL245H1 and a full course in PHL/CSC/MAT

HPS350H1 Revolution in Science
See "History and Philosophy of Science and Technology"

PHL351H1 Philosophy of Language 39L
The nature of language as a system of human communication, theories of meaning and meaningfulness, the relation of language to the world and to the human mind. Prerequisite: PHL245H1 and one of PHL 232H1/240H1

PHL355H1 Philosophy of Natural Science 39L
The structure and methods of science: explanation, methodology, realism and instrumentalism. Recommended preparation: A solid background in science or HPS250H1/PHL246H1

PHL356H1 Philosophy of Physics 39L
Introduction to philosophical issues which arise in modern physics, especially in Relativity and Quantum Mechanics. Topics include: the nature of spacetime, conventionality in geometry, determinism, and the relation between observation and existence. Prerequisite: One full course in MAT/PHY; two full courses are recommended.

PHL357H1 Philosophy of Biology 39L
Philosophical issues in the foundations of biology, e.g., the nature of life, evolutionary theory; controversies about natural selection; competing mechanisms, units of selection; the place of teleology in biology; biological puzzles about sex and sexual reproduction; the problem of species; genetics and reductionism; sociobiology; natural and artificial life. Recommended preparation: HPS250H1/PHL246H1. Students with a background in Biology are exempt from the prerequisite of 1.5 courses in Philosophy

PHL362H1 Philosophy of History 39L
Typical questions include: Has history any meaning? Can there be general theories of history? How are the findings of historians related to the theories of metaphysics and of science? Is history deterministic? Must the historian make value judgements? Is history science or an art? Are there historical forces or spirits of an epoch?

PHL365H1 Political Philosophy 39L
A study of some of the central problems of political philosophy, addressed to historical and contemporary political theorists. Prerequisite: PHL265H1/POL200Y1

PHL370H1 Issues in Philosophy of Law 39L
Major issues in philosophy of law, such as legal positivism and its critics, law and liberalism, feminist critiques of law, punishment and responsibility. Prerequisite: PHL271H1
Recommended preparation: PHL265H1

PHL373H1 Issues in Environmental Ethics 39L
An intermediate-level examination of key issues in environmental philosophy, such as the ethics of animal welfare, duties to future generations, deep ecology, ecofeminism, sustainable development and international justice. Prerequisite: PHL273H1

PHL378H1 War and Morality (formerly PHL278H1) 39L
Moral and political issues concerning warfare: the theory of the “just war”, pacifism, moral constraints on the conduct of war, as an instrument of foreign policy, the strategy of deterrence. Special attention to the implications of nuclear weapons. Prerequisite: PHL265H1/275H1
Exclusion: PHL278H1

PHL380H1 Global Bioethics 39L
An intermediate-level study of moral problems that arise in international contexts, including issues of special interest in bioethics: moral universalism and relativism; global distributive justice; poverty relief and international aid; international health disparities; globalization and health; HIV/AIDS; intellectual property and access to essential medicines; clinical trials in developing countries; exploitation and the 10/90 gap. Prerequisite: PHL281Y1

PHL381H1 Ethics and Medical Research 39L
An intermediate-level study of problems in biomedical and behavioural research with human subjects: informed voluntary consent, risk and benefit, experimental therapy, randomized clinical trials, research codes and legal issues, dependent groups (human embryos, children, the aged, hospital patients, the dying, prisoners, the mentally ill). Prerequisite: PHL281Y1

PHL382H1 Ethics: Death and Dying 39L
An intermediate-level study of moral and legal problems, including the philosophical significance of death, the high-tech prolongation of life, definition and determination of death, suicide, active and passive euthanasia, the withholding of treatment, palliative care and the control of pain, living wills; recent judicial decisions. Prerequisite: PHL281Y1

PHL383H1 Ethics and Mental Health 39L
An intermediate-level study of moral and legal problems, including the concepts of mental health and illness, mental competence, dangerousness and psychiatric confidentiality, mental institutionalization, involuntary treatment and behaviour control, controversial therapies; legal issues: the Mental Health Act, involuntary commitment, the insanity defence. Prerequisite: PHL281Y1

PHL384H1 Ethics, Genetics and Reproduction 39L
An intermediate-level study of moral and legal problems, including the ontological and moral status of the human embryo and fetus; human newborn, carrier and prenatal genetic screening for genetic defect, genetic therapy; the reproductive technologies (e.g., artificial insemination, in vitro fertilization); recent legislative proposals and judicial decisions. Prerequisite: PHL281Y1

PHL385H1 Issues in Aesthetics 39L
Selected topics in the philosophy of art. Such issues as the following are discussed: whether different arts require different aesthetic principles; relations between art and language; the adequacy of traditional aesthetics to recent developments in the arts; art as an institution. Recommended preparation: PHL285H1

PHL387H1 Literature and Philosophy 39L
(formerly PHL288H1)
The literary expression of philosophical ideas and the interplay between literature and philosophy. Such philosophical issues as the nature and origin of good and evil in human beings, the nature and extent of human freedom and responsibility, and the diverse forms of linguistic expression. Such authors as Wordsworth, Mill, Dostoyevsky, Tolstoy, Miller, Camus, and Lawrence are studied. Exclusion: PHL288H1

PHL394H1 Markets and Morals 39L
(formerly PHL296H1)
A study of the standards that can be used to judge the performance of economic systems, e.g., efficiency, fairness, maximization, along with the different institutional mechanisms that can be used to organize economic activity, e.g., horizontal or vertical integration, public or private ownership. Prerequisite: PHL265H1/275H1
Exclusion: PHL296H1

PHL398H1 Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

400-SERIES COURSES

Notes
1. The general prerequisite for all 400-level courses is nine half-courses. Most courses also have specific prerequisites. Students who do not meet the prerequisite for a particular course but believe that they have adequate preparation must obtain the permission of the instructor in order to gain entry to the course.
2. PHL 400H1-451H1 are undergraduate-level courses. PHL 470H1-489H1 are cross-listed graduate courses, available to undergraduates as well. Enrolment in these courses requires the permission of the instructor and the Department in addition to the completion of the prerequisites indicated below.

3. Individual Studies courses (PHL490Y1, PHL496H1/497H1/498H1/499H1), which involve directed study and research, are available to advanced students. Arrangements must be made with a faculty supervisor, and approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator obtained before registration.

4. No more than one individual studies course can be counted towards any philosophy program. Normally, no more than one-half individual studies course can be counted towards the 400-level course requirement for any Specialist or Combined Specialist Philosophy program.

Offered by the Faculty of Physical Education & Health

The Faculty of Physical Education & Health is offering the course below to all students in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences; it is particularly suitable as a Science Distribution course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHE110H1 Active Healthy Living
26L, 13P

This course increases student awareness of issues related to a healthy lifestyle and to the role of physical activity in promoting health across the lifespan. Important concepts in anatomy, physiology and nutrition are introduced, and the whole body benefits of physical activity are emphasized. Personal nutrition and lifestyle practices are examined and self-improvement plans developed. Full participation in physical activities required. Enrolment limit of 100 students.

† Cross-appointed or Research Scientist

Physics is the study of natural phenomena at the most fundamental level. Physicists investigate the properties of the states of matter and the structure and behaviour of the components of matter. The gravitational, electromagnetic and nuclear interactions are examined and different systems of mechanics including classical, relativistic, quantum and statistical, are developed to describe interactions between systems ranging from sub-atomic to galactic in size.

A program in physics has much to offer you. Besides traditional careers in teaching and research, knowledge of Physics is a powerful tool for a career in the Environmental or Life Sciences. An understanding of Physics is essential for those who are concerned about how society is affected by the impact of modern technology. The conceptual tools one acquires as a physicist can be applied with great success to many occupations.

The Specialist Program offers an intensive preparation for a career in Physics. By choosing courses from the wide variety offered, one can emphasize experimental, theoretical or even applied sides of physics. In fourth year, students intending to undertake graduate studies are encouraged to take advanced optional courses. Optional courses are offered in Sub-Atomic Physics, Quantum Optics and Condensed Matter Physics, or Geophysics and Atmospheric Physics, reflecting the research excellence of the faculty.

The Physics and Physiology Departments offer a biophysics program. This program is intended to combine the analytical problem solving skills of the physicist with a sound background in relevant biology. If you have an interest in biophysics please contact the Associate Chair for Undergraduate Studies.

The Applied Physics program focuses more on subject matter that will help one in an industrial career. As part of this program, students are encouraged to take advantage of the Professional Experience Year program. The Nortel Applied Physics Laboratory is an integral part of the Applied Physics program.

A number of joint Physics Specialist programs are also offered in cooperation with the Departments of Astronomy, Chemistry, Computer Science, Environment, Geology, Mathematics, Philosophy, and Physiology.

The Professional Experience Year program (“PEY”: see also page 17 and www.peyonline.com) is available to eligible, full-time Arts & Science Specialist students after their second year of study.

Early Teacher Project: The purpose of the Early Teacher Project is to encourage the best physical and mathematical sciences students to pursue careers as mathematics and science teachers in Ontario secondary schools. It has been developed in cooperation with OISE/UT, University of Toronto. To participate students must continue to be registered in a Physics Specialist program (consult with coordinator) and participate in an orientation session in second year. Subsequently, these students will work with experienced teachers in classrooms of primary/secondary schools in the third and fourth years. There will also be a workshop/seminar component organized jointly by University of Toronto at Scarborough and OISE/UT. Completion of the Early Teacher Project requires completion of PHY 341H1 and one of PHY 342H1 or PSCD03S (at Scarborough). These courses may have to be chosen as electives since they are not required in all our programs.

Successful completion of the Early Teacher Project, together with a Physics related Specialist program with a 2.5 GPA standing in the best fifteen FCEs will guarantee admission to OISE/UT for at least 30 students each year. The Early Teacher Project is administered at Scarborough through the coordinator for the ETP, Professor Charles Dyer (416-287-7206). The ETP is now being offered to St. George students. We encourage you to give this career option serious consideration. See the ETP web page www.scar.utoronto.ca/~dyer/ETP/ for further details.

The Departmental website gives detailed information on programs and courses, and describes the operation of the Department and the counselling services available. All students, most particularly those entering first year, are strongly urged to consult the website before term begins.

Physics Programs

Enrolment in the Physics programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required. Students with a good grade in PHY 110Y1 may apply to the Physics Undergraduate Office for permission to enter a Physics Program requiring PHY 138Y1 or 140Y1.

Applied Physics (Science program)

Consult Professor D. Bailey, Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Specialist program:

(13.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1, 223H1; PHY 140Y1

Second Year:

MAT 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

APM 346H1; MAT 334H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1

Fourth Year:

1. PHY 459H1, 478H1/426H1
2. In addition, students are required in their 3rd/4th year to take 2.0 courses in practical physics from:
   - PHY 305-308H1, 407-408H1, 426H1, 428H1, 429H1; 495H1/496H1; and
3. An equivalent of 1.5 courses selected from one of the following streams:
   - Condensed Matter Physics and Quantum Optics: PHY 353H1, 485H1, 487H1
   - Atmospheric Physics: PHY 315H1, 353H1, 499H1
   - Geophysics: JGP 438H1, PHY 359H1, 493H1, 494H1

Note:

Students intending to pursue a career in Industry are strongly urged to take advantage of the Professional Experience Year Program.

Biophysics (Science program)

Consult Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics or Physiology.

Specialist program:

(15.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:

BIO 150Y1; CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1 (PHY 140Y1 recommended)

Second Year:

BCH 210H1; BIO 250Y1; CHM 247H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1, 244H1; PHY 251H1

First or Second Year:

MAT 223H1

Third Year:

JBO 302Y1; PHY 225H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1, 346H1, 351H1

Fourth Year:

PSL 350H1/BIO 349H1; PHY 355H1, 407H1; PSL 303Y1, 432H1

Note: We strongly recommend you consider taking the research project PHY 478H1/PSL 499H1.

Physics (Science program)

Consult Professor D. Bailey, Associate Chair (Undergraduate Studies), Department of Physics.

Specialist program:

(13.0 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one full-course at the 400 level)

First Year:

MAT 137Y1/157Y1, 223H1; PHY 140Y1

Note: Students with a good grade in PHY 110Y/138Y may ask the Physics Undergraduate Office for entry into this or other Physics Programs requiring PHY 140Y.

Second Year:

MAT 237Y1, 244H1; PHY 225H1, 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

APM 346H1; MAT 334H1; PHY 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1/358H1/359H1

Fourth Year:

PHY 457H1; two of: 459H1/460H1/480H1

Note: Third/Fourth Year Laboratories:

All specialists must take a minimum of 1.5 courses in practical physics in third/fourth year. One half-course must be in the Advanced Physics Laboratory.

- Advanced Physics Laboratory: PHY 326H1, 426H1, 428H1, 429H1
- Electronics Laboratory: PHY 305H1
- Computational Laboratory: PHY 307H1/308H1/309H1/407H1/408H1/409H1
- Medical Imaging: PHY 445H1

Major programs:

A. `Core` Major

(7.5 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 full-course equivalents at the 300+ level)

First Year:

MAT 137Y1, 223H1; PHY 140Y1

Second Year:

1. MAT 237Y1, PHY 225H1
2. Three of: PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

1. MAT 244H1; PHY 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1
2. Two of: PHY 351H1, 352H1, 353H1, 355H1, 357H1, 358H1, 359H1

B. `General` Major

(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least 1.5 full-course equivalents at the 300+ level)

Note: This program is intended for students in the Life Sciences

First Year:

MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1

Second Year:

1. MAT 235Y1/237Y1; PHY 225H1, 238Y1/(251H1, 255H1)
2. Three of: PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1

Third Year:

1. MAT 244H1, PHY 256H1, 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1
2. One full course equivalent from: JPA 305H1, JPA 310H1, JGP 438H1, PHY 315H1, 346H1, 445H1
Physics

Minor programs:
A. 'Core' Minor
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
PHY 140Y1
Second Year:
1. PHY 225H1
2. Three of: PHY 251H1, 252H1, 255H1, 256H1
Third Year:
1. PHY 305H1/307H1/308H1/309H1/326H1
2. One of PHY 351H1, 352H1, 355H1

B. 'Life, Environmental, and General' Minor
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
First Year:
MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1
Second Year:
ENV 235Y1/ PHY 238Y1 or any other 1 full course equivalent from PHY courses at the 200+ level
Third Year:
One full course equivalent from: BIO 472H1, JPA 305H1, JPA 310H1; JGP 438H1; PHY 315H1, 346H1, 445H1 or any other PHY300+ course; JBO302Y may count as a half-course credit to this requirement.

Physics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all PHY courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

Note
Books listed in course descriptions will not necessarily be the texts for the course, but do indicate the level of presentation. More detailed and current information on courses is available through the Physics Department website. Pre- and co-requisites are recommendations which may be waived in special circumstances - students should consult the Department prior to the beginning of term.

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

PHY100H1 The Magic of Physics 26L, 13T
In 1915 Einstein presented a quartet of papers that revolutionized our understanding of gravity. He commented: “Hardly anyone who has truly understood this theory will be able to resist being captivated by its magic.” The General Theory of Relativity is not the only theory of physics that is magical, and Einstein was not physics’ only magician. We uncover the wonders of the classical and the quantum world courtesy of Galileo, Newton, Maxwell, Einstein, Heisenberg and others. Topics include planetary motion, chaos, the nature of light, time travel, black holes, matter waves, Schrödinger’s cat, and quarks. No mathematics is required, and any necessary elementary classical physics is reviewed.
Exclusion: PHY110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently
PHY100H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY101H1 Patterns from Chaos 26L, 13T
The universe is not a rigid clockwork, but neither is it formless and random. Instead, it is filled with highly organized, evolved structures that have somehow emerged from simple rules of physics. Examples range from the structure of galaxies to the pattern of ripples on windblown sand, to biological and even social processes. These phenomena exist in spite of the universal tendency towards disorder. How is this possible? Self-organization challenges the usual reductionistic scientific method, and begs the question of whether we can ever really understand or predict truly complex systems.
Exclusion: PHY110Y1/138Y/140Y taken previously or concurrently
PHY101H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.
Note

First Year Laboratory
Taken by all students enrolled in PHY110Y1 and 138Y1. An introductory course in experimentation, starting with selected experiments, which each student is obliged to complete, but from there on, offering choices. Emphasis is on the general principles of experimentation: planning, use of instruments, error estimation, data analysis and comparison with theory, the keeping of complete records, and genuine exploratory work. Laboratories are given in alternate weeks; students taking Physics, Chemistry or Biology laboratories may schedule these on the same afternoon of alternate weeks.

PHY110Y1 Basic Physics 78L, 39P, 26T
Designed for students who do not intend to take more than one course in Physics, but who wish to acquire a working knowledge of basic physics needed in other areas of science. The course is offered at a level similar to Grade 12 or old OAC Physics. Students in other disciplines who wish some exposure to the methods and excitement of modern physics should consider either PHY100H1, PHY201H1, or PHY205H1. (See “NOTE” after PHY100H1 giving description of laboratory.)
Reference: Cutnell and Johnson, Physics 5th edition (Wiley)
Exclusion: Senior (e.g. SPH4U) high school Physics or equivalent taken within the previous 5 years, PHY100H1/138Y1/140Y1.
Note: Students will be required to withdraw from PHY110Y at any time if they are found to have senior high school Physics (see “Exclusions” on Page 29).
Prerequisite: OAC or new Grade 12 “4U” Mathematics (Some calculus recommended or MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1)
Co-requisite: Students intending to take any higher level Physics course are expected to take at least MAT135Y1.
PHY110Y1 can be taken as a Science course for Distribution Requirement purposes.

PHY138Y1 Physics for the Life Sciences I 52L, 39P, 26T
This course is recommended strongly for students following a life science program. This course introduces topics in physics relevant for life sciences. Mechanics; torque and statics; work, power and energy; viscous forces; vibrations and waves; sound; optics; electric and magnetic forces and fields; dielectric and conductors; nuclear medicine; dose from radiation; nuclear physics. (See “NOTE” after PHY100H1 giving description of laboratory.)
Reference: Serway and Jewett, Principles of Physics 3rd edition (Brooks/Cole) + Notes
Exclusion:PHY100H1/110Y1/140Y1
Prerequisite: (OAC Calculus or MCB4U Functions & Calculus) and (OAC or SPH4U Physics)
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

PHY140Y1 Foundations of Physics 78L, 39P, 26T
The first physics course in many of the Specialist and Major Programs in Physical Sciences. It provides an introduction to the concepts, approaches and tools the physicist uses to describe the physical world while laying the foundation for classical and modern mechanics. Topics include: the motion of single particles and rigid, extended bodies (Newtonian Mechanics); the concepts of force, work, and energy; simple harmonic motion; planetary motion, gravitation; black holes; special relativity; an introduction to elementary particle physics; electrostatics; the breakdown of Newtonian mechanics in the microscopic world; atomic and nuclear physics; an introduction to Quantum Mechanics, wave-particle duality and the uncertainty principle.
Students take the Physics Specialist Laboratory in alternating weeks. The first component consists of dynamics and mechanics experiments in our computer based laboratory. The second component consists of a free choice experiments chosen from a list of basic experimental techniques, standard and classic experiments.
Reference: Knight, Physics for Scientists and Engineers 1st edition (Pearson)
Exclusion: PHYS100H1/110Y1/138Y1
Prerequisite: (OAC Calculus or MCB4U Functions & Calculus) and (OAC or SPH4U Physics)
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1, (MAT223H1/240H1 recommended)

PHY189H1 Physics at the Cutting Edge 39L
A limited enrollment seminar course for First Year Science students interested in current research in Physics. Students will meet active researchers studying the universe from the centre of the earth to the edge of the cosmos. Topics may range from string theory to experimental biological physics, from climate change to quantum computing, from superconductivity to earthquakes. The course may involve both individual and group work, essays and oral presentations.
Co-requisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1

Note
Exceptional first year students, for example those who have scored very high on the Canadian Association of Physics High School Exam, may be allowed direct enrollment in Physics Second Year Courses. Contact the Physics Undergraduate Office.

200-SERIES COURSES

Note
All 200-series PHY courses except PHY201H1 and PHY205H1 require a 100-series MAT prerequisite. See co-requisite entries under 100-series PHY courses above.

PHY201H1 Concepts of Physics 26L, 13T
A conceptual overview of some the most interesting advances in physics and the intellectual background in which they occurred. The interrelationship of the actual practice of physics and its cultural and intellectual context is emphasized.
PHY201H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

PHY205H1 The Physics of Everyday Life 26L, 13T
An introduction to the physics of everyday life. This conceptual course looks at everyday objects to learn about the basis for our modern technological world. Topics may include anything from automobiles to weather.
PHY205H1 is primarily intended as a Science Distribution Requirement course for students in the Humanities and Social Sciences.
Physics

PHY225H1  Fundamental Physics Laboratory  26L, 78P
The 2nd year Physics Laboratory. Topics including experimental techniques, instrumentation, and data analysis are introduced through experiments, complementary lectures, and library research to some of the great experiments of physics.
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/J40Y1
Co-requisite: PHY238Y1/251H1/252H1/255H1/256H1

ENV235Y1  Physics and Chemistry of Planet Earth  52L
See “Centre for Environment”
The formation and evolution of Earth as a planet in the Solar System: origin of the elements, composition of planets, mantle-core differentiation, tectonics, geologic change and time scales. The biosphere: i.e., the Earth’s atmosphere, oceans and crust: operation as a physicochemical system, atmospheric composition and roles of major and minor constituents, ocean/atmosphere energy budgets, circulations and couplings; climate, glaciation. The effects of human intervention and natural processes: e.g., groundwater quality, atmospheric change, volcanic activity. Given by the Departments of Physics and Chemistry.
Prerequisite: CHM (138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1/JMB170Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

PHY238Y1  Physics for the Life Sciences II  78L, 26T
Electromagnetism; biological effects of radiation; physical optics; macroscopic phenomena; heat engines and metabolism. Examples are taken, where applicable, from the life sciences.
Exclusion: PHY251H1
Prerequisite: (PHY110Y1, MAT135Y1)/PHY138Y1/140Y1
Recommended preparation: BIO150Y1; CHM138H1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

PHY251H1  Electricity and Magnetism  26L, 13T
Point charges; Coulomb’s Law; electrostatic field and potential; Gauss’ Law; conductors; electrostatic energy; magnetostatistics; Ampere’s Law; magnetostatic energy; Lorentz Force; Faraday’s Law; dielectric and magnetic materials; Maxwell’s equations.
Exclusion: PHY238Y1
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1

PHY252H1  Thermal Physics  26L, 13T
The quantum statistical basis of macroscopic systems; definition of entropy in terms of the number of accessible states of a many particle system leading to simple expressions for absolute temperature, the canonical distribution, and the laws of thermodynamics. Specific effects of quantum statistics at high densities and low temperatures.
Reference: Kittel and Kroemer, Thermal Physics
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1

PHY255H1  Oscillations and Waves  26L, 13T
Complex notation; free, damped and forced harmonic oscillations; resonance; AC circuits; coupled oscillators; normal modes; travelling waves; simple harmonic wave; wave equation; wave impedance; transverse and longitudinal waves; flow of energy in waves; reflection and transmission at interfaces; group and phase velocity; Fourier series and Fourier transforms.
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT244H1 recommended)

PHY256H1  Introduction to Quantum Physics  39L, 13T
Failures of classical physics; the Quantum revolution; Stern-Gerlach effect; harmonic oscillator; uncertainty principle; interference packets; scattering and tunnelling in one-dimension.
Prerequisite: PHY138Y1/140Y1
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT223H1/240H1 recommended)

PHY299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

300-SERIES COURSES

Note
Students taking 300-series courses are invited to attend the Thursday afternoon Department colloquia.

JBO302Y1  Human Physiology and Biophysics  78L, 14T
Principles of Human Physiology with tutorials on the biophysical concepts applied to physiological processes. Restricted to students enrolled in the Biophysics and Physiology (Theoretical) programs.
Exclusion: PSL201Y1, 302Y1
Prerequisite: BIO150Y1; CHM138H1; MAT135Y1/137Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1

JPA305H1  Introduction to Archaeometry  26L, 13P
Introduction to methods for remote sensing of buried archaeological remains, (magnetics, resistivity, electromagnetics), dating (Carbon 14, TL, ESR, etc.) and analysis (X-Ray, INAA) of ancient materials. Application of methods and interpretation of results in archaeological contexts. Issues of art and authenticity are also addressed. Course includes a laboratory component.
(Not offered every year) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)
Reference: Aitken, Physics and Archaeology; Tite, Methods of Physical Examination in Archaeology; Fleming, Dating in Archaeology

JPA310H1  Physics and Archaeometry  26L, 13P
Introduction to the principles behind archaeometric methods for remote sensing, dating, and analysis of archaeological materials, and interpretation of results. Course includes both field and in-house laboratory components. Offered in conjunction with JPA305H1. (Not offered every year) (Given by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)
Prerequisite: Any 1st year Physics course or permission of instructor
Co-requisite: JPA305H1

PHY305H1  Electronics Lab I  26L, 39P
Prerequisite: PHY225H1, 251H, 255H1
computational laboratory; students may select one or more modules from PHY307H1/308H1/309H1 below. the laboratory functions as an integrated lecture course/laboratory program. students taking a second module can receive a 4th year credit (see listings for PHY407H1/408H1/409H1).

PHY307H1 Introduction to Computational Physics

Problem solving with computers, using both algebraic and numerical methods. After a brief introduction to the basic techniques, various physics problems are treated with increasingly more sophisticated techniques. Examples include the physical pendulum, heat equation, quantum mechanics, monte carlo simulation, differential equation, and graphical presentation of results.

Exclusion: PHY407H1
Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in physics

PHY308H1 Times Series Analysis

The analysis of digital sequences: filters; the fourier transform; windows; truncation effects; aliasing: auto and cross-correlation; stochastic processes; power spectra; least squares filtering; application to real data series and experimental design.

Exclusion: PHY408H1
Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in physics

PHY309H1 Quantum Methods Using Computer Algebra

Classic quantum mechanics problems are explored using maple computer algebra and graphics. These include bound state and scattering problems in 1D, angular momentum and spin, commutator algebra, scattering in 3D and time dependent processes. General techniques for computer-aided problem solving are developed.

Exclusion: PHY409H1
Co-requisite: Any third-year lecture course in physics

PHY315H1 Radiation in Planetary Atmospheres

Prerequisite: PHY238Y1/251H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1

PHY326H1 Advanced Physics Laboratory

Experiments in this course are designed to form a bridge to current experimental research. A wide range of exciting experiments relevant to modern research in physics is available. The laboratory is open from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Prerequisite: PHY225H1, 251H1, 256H1

PHY341H1 Physical Science in Contemporary Society

Complex nature of the scientific method; inter-connection between theory, concepts and experimental data; characteristics of premature, pathological and pseudo-science; public perception and misperception of the scientific method; the supposed end of the Golden Era of Science; the insufficiency of reductionism; trends in modern science. (Offered in alternate years with PHY 342H1)

Prerequisite: must be registered in Early Teacher Project or Physics program

PHY342H1 Current Questions in Mathematics and Science

Topics of current prominence in the physical sciences and mathematics are discussed. Topics change each year as the sciences evolve. Appropriate topics might include: high-temperature superconductivity, cosmology, chaos and non-linear dynamics. (Offered in alternate years with PHY 341H1)

Prerequisite: must be registered in Early Teacher Project or Physics program

PHY346H1 Intermediate Biophysics

Molecular structure of biological systems: bonds, orbitals, molecular excitations and energy transfer; theory of absolute reaction rate, formation of biomacromolecules. Energetics and dynamics of biological systems: state functions, entropy and stability, thermodynamic basis of biochemical reactions, analysis of fluxes, electric fields in cells and organisms. The kinetics of biological systems: problems and approaches of system and compartmental analysis, models of biochemical reactions and some complex biological processes.

Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1; PHY238Y1/251H1

PHY351H1 Classical Mechanics

Symmetry and conservation laws, stability and instability, generalized co-ordinates, hamilton’s principle, hamilton’s equations, phase space, liouville’s theorem, canonical transformations, poisson brackets, noether’s theorem.

Prerequisite: PHY233H1/235H1/237H1; PHY255H1

PHY352H1 Electromagnetic Theory

Review of vector & tensor calculus, transformation properties of vectors & tensors, electrostatics, basic formulae of magnetostatics, electrodynamics (maxwell’s equations), gaige transformations of scalar & vector potentials, retarded potentials, liénard-wiechert potentials, radiation, special theory of relativity, relativistic mechanics and relativistic electrodynamics.

Prerequisite: PHY323H1/240H1/244H1; PHY231H1, 255H1

PHY353H1 Electromagnetic Waves

Review of maxwell’s equations; electric fields in matter; magnetic fields in matter; electromotive force; electromagnetic induction; electromagnetic waves in vacuum; waves in dielectric and conductive materials, skin effect; waves in dispersive media; polarization phenomena; fresnel equations; reflection and refraction from an interface; brewster angle, total internal reflection; interference, coherence effects; interferometers; fraunhofer and fresnel diffraction; waveguides, optical fibres, radiation.

Prerequisite: PHY352H1

PHY355H1 Quantum Mechanics I

The general structure of wave mechanics; eigenfunctions and eigenvalues; operators; orbital angular momentum; spherical harmonics; central potential; separation of variables; hydrogen atom; dirac notation; operator methods; harmonic oscillator and spin.

Exclusion: CHM326H
Prerequisite: MAT223H1/240H1/244H1; PHY251H1, 256H1/257H1

PHY357
Physics

PHY357HI  Nuclear and Particle Physics  26L, 13T
The subatomic particles; nuclei, baryons and mesons, quarks, leptons and bosons; the structure of nuclei and hadronic matter; symmetries and conservation laws; fundamental forces and interactions, electromagnetic, weak, and strong; a selection of other topics, CP violation, nuclear models, standard model, proton decay, supergravity, nuclear and particle astrophysics. This course is not a prerequisite for any PHY 400-level course.

Prerequisite: JPA310H1

PHY358HI  Atoms, Molecules and Solids  26L, 13T
Quantum theory of atoms, molecules, and solids; variational principle and perturbation theory; hydrogen and helium atoms; exchange and correlation energies; multielectron atoms; simple molecules; bonding and antibonding orbitals; rotation and vibration of molecules; crystal binding; electron in a periodic potential; reciprocal lattice; Bloch's theorem; nearly-free electron model; Kronig-Penney model; energy bands; metals, semiconductors, and insulators; Fermi surfaces. This course is not a prerequisite for any PHY 400-level course.

Prerequisite: PHY355H1

PHY359HI  Physics of the Earth  26L, 13T
Designed for students interested in the physics of the Earth and the planets. Study of the Earth as a unified dynamic system; determination of major internal divisions in the planet; development and evolution of the Earth's large scale surface features through plate tectonics; the age and thermal history of the planet; Earth's gravitational field and the concept of isostasy; mantle rheology and convection; Earth tides; geodetic measurement techniques, in particular modern space-based techniques.

Prerequisite: PHY140Y1/255H1, MAT235Y1/237Y1, MAT244

(Or permission of instructor)

PHY371Y1/ Supervised Reading in Physics  TBA 372H1
An individual study program chosen by the student with the advice of, and under the direction of, a staff member. A student may take advantage of this course either to specialize further in a field of interest or to explore interdisciplinary fields not available in the regular syllabus.

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

PHY398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

400-SERIES COURSES

Note
A program including one or more of PHY 470-472, PHY 478-479, or PHY 480-499 must be endorsed by the Department. Students taking 400-series courses are invited to attend Thursday afternoon Department colloquia.

JPA400Y1  Advanced Physics and Archaeology  156P
An introduction to research in archaeometry and archaeological prospecting. Possible projects: magnetic and resistivity surveying of archaeological sites; thermoluminescence measurements; neutron activation analysis and x-ray fluorescence analysis of artifacts; radiocarbon dating by atom counting; lead isotope analysis. (Offered only occasionally by the Departments of Physics and Anthropology)

Prerequisite: JPA310H1

PHY407H1  Introduction to Computational Physics  13L, 39P
For course description see PHY307H1. Exclusion: PHY307H1

Prerequisite: PHY308H1/309H1 or enrollment in Biophysics program

PHY408H1 Times Series Analysis  13L, 26P
For course description see PHY308H1. Exclusion: PHY308H1

Prerequisite: PHY307H1/309H1

PHY409H1  Quantum Methods Using Computer Algebra  26L, 26P
For course description see PHY309H1. Exclusion: PHY309H1

Prerequisite: PHY307H1/309H1

PHY426H1  Advanced Physics Laboratory II  150P
Prerequisite: PHY 326H1

PHY428H1  Advanced Physics Laboratory III  150P
Prerequisite: PHY 426H1/325Y1

PHY429H1  Advanced Physics Laboratory IV  150P
Prerequisite: PHY 428H1

Experiments in these advanced laboratory courses are designed to form a bridge to current experimental research. A wide range of experiments relevant to modern research in physics is available. These courses are a continuation of PHY326, but students may choose to progressively focus on specific areas of physics or do extended experiments or projects. The lab is open from 9:00am - 5:00pm, Monday to Friday.

JGP438H1  Shallow Crust Geophysics  26L, 52P
An introduction to the geophysical exploration of the subsurface. Topics covered include gravity, seismic, magnetic, electrical and electromagnetic surveying and their application in prospecting, hydrogeology, and environmental assessments. This course is intended primarily for geological engineering and geology students.

Exclusion: PHY496H1

Prerequisite: GLG306H1; MAT223H1/235Y1; PHY138Y1/140Y1 or permission of instructor

PHY445H1  Medical Imaging  26L, 20P, 13T
The mathematical, physical and engineering basis for medical imaging is introduced by combining the mathematical description of linear systems with the physics of imaging systems utilizing x-rays, ultrasound, and magnetic resonance techniques. The combination of mathematics and physics that has lead to the development of modern medical imaging systems is emphasized. Data for problem sets and labs will be processed using MATLAB software. Students not in a physics specialist program should consult the lecturer about the recommended background.

See Course Website at http://www.ecf.utoronto.ca/apsc/courses/bme595f for textbook and references

Prerequisite: MAT244H1/AM346H1; MAT235Y1/237Y1; PHY238Y1/251H1

Recommended preparation: PHY307H1/309H1

PHY457H1  Quantum Mechanics II  26L, 13T
Quantum dynamics in Heisenberg and Schrödinger Pictures; WKB approximation; Variational Method; Time-Independent Perturbation Theory; Spin; Addition of Angular Momentum; Time-Dependent Perturbation Theory; Scattering.

PHY459H1
Macroscopic Physics
26L, 13T
The three laws of thermodynamics; the inexorable increase of entropy, phases and phase transitions. Fluid mechanics, the Navier-Stokes equations; dynamical similarity, rotating flows, vorticity, waves, instabilities and turbulence.
Prerequisite: PHY252H1, 351H1

PHY460H1
Nonlinear Physics
26L
Nonlinear oscillator; nonlinear differential equations and fixed point analysis; stability and bifurcation; Fourier spectrum; Poincare sections; attractors and aperiodic attractors; KAM theorem; logistic maps and chaos; characterization of chaotic attractors; Benard-Rayleigh convection; Lorenz system.
Prerequisite: PHY351H1

PHY471Y1/472H1
Supervised Reading in Physics
TBA

These self-study courses are similar to PHY371Y1/372H1, at a higher level.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

PHY478H1/479Y1
Undergraduate Research Project
TBA
An introduction to research in Physics. For further information contact the Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies.
Prerequisite: Permission of Department

---

FOURTH-YEAR OPTIONAL ADVANCED PHYSICS COURSES

Note
The Department of Physics offers senior undergraduate students a set of specialized optional courses. NONE of these courses are required to complete a Specialist Program in Physics but taking several of these courses is recommended strongly to students wishing to pursue graduate studies.

Note
Most Advanced Courses are offered every year, but some are not. Please check the Physics Department website for current offerings. It is the student's responsibility to ensure they have adequate preparation for any of the Advanced courses. Please contact the course instructor or the Associate Chair, Undergraduate Studies for more information.

PHY480H1
Basic Statistical Mechanics
26L
Classical and quantum statistical mechanics of noninteracting systems; the statistical basis of thermodynamics; ensembles, partition function; thermodynamic equilibrium; stability and fluctuations; formulation of quantum statistics; theory of simple gases; ideal Bose and Fermi systems.

PHY483H1
Relativity Theory I
26L
Basis to Einstein's theory; differential geometry, tensor analysis, gravitational physics leading to General Relativity. Theory starting from solutions of Schwarzschild, Kerr, etc.

PHY484H1
Relativity Theory II
26L
Applications of General Relativity to Astrophysics and Cosmology. Introduction to black holes, large-scale structure of the universe.

PHY485H1
Modern Optics
26L
Basic optics, diffraction theory, Gaussian beams, laser resonators, semiclassical laser theory and ultrafast pulse generation. Selected reviews from the range of modern areas of research, e.g. laser cooling, photonic bandgap structures, extreme optics, quantum information, and other topics.
Prerequisite: PHY353H1, 355H1

PHY487H1
Condensed Matter Physics
26L
Introduction to the concepts used in the modern treatment of solids. The student is assumed to be familiar with elementary quantum mechanics. Topics include: crystal structure, the reciprocal lattice, crystal binding, the free electron model, electrons in periodic potential, lattice vibrations, electrons and holes, semiconductors, metals.

PHY489H1
Introduction to High Energy Physics
26L
This course surveys the experimental basis and theoretical framework of the “Standard Model” of Particle Physics and its possible extensions. Topics include the standard electroweak model, scattering and parton distributions, strong interactions and quantum chromodynamics.

PHY491H1
Current Interpretations of Quantum Mechanics
26L, 13T
Review of conventional, textbook quantum mechanics. Formal measurement theory and wave function collapse; quantum states and nonseparability, violation of local causality, Bell theorems, “quantum tricks”, decoherence and the emergence of classical behaviour. Hidden variables, deBroglie-Bohm theory and generalizations, many-worlds interpretation and other theories of “beables”. Consistent histories approach of Omnes and Gell-Mann and Hartle; nature of “True” and “Reliable” statements.
Prerequisite: PHY457H1

PHY493H1
Geophysical Imaging I
26L
This course covers wavefield and ray approximation methods for imaging the interior of the Earth (including hydrocarbon reservoirs and mineral deposits) using seismology.

PHY494H1
Geophysical Imaging II
26L
How to investigate Earth structure at depths ranging from metres to tens of kilometres using gravity, magnetic, electrical, electromagnetic and nuclear geophysical methods. Current methodologies and the theoretical basis for them are presented.

PHY495H1
Experimental Global Geophysics
26L
This course deals with the numerical analysis of data associated with space geodesy, earthquake seismology, geomagnetism and palaeomagnetism, isotope geochronology, as well as numerical simulations of a wide variety of geodynamic processes (e.g. mantle convection, post-glacial rebound, Earth tides).
Co-requisite: PHY359H1

359
Experimental Applied Geophysics 39P
A laboratory course (with introductory lectures) dealing with physical methods for exploring Earth structure; i.e., seismic, gravity, magnetic, electrical, electromagnetic, and nuclear methods. It is designed to give “hands on” experience with the techniques of geophysical data analysis as well as data acquisition.
Exclusion: JGP438H1
Co-requisite: PHY493H1/494H1

Advanced Atmospheric Physics 26L
A preparatory course for research in experimental and theoretical atmospheric physics. Content will vary from year to year. Themes may include techniques for remote sensing of the Earth's atmosphere and surface; theoretical atmosphere-ocean dynamics; the physics of clouds, precipitation, and convection in the Earth's atmosphere.
Planetary Science Program

Planetary Science (Science program)

Specialist Program:
(14 full courses or equivalent, including at least one 400+series course)

Enrolment in the Planetary Science Specialist program is open to students who have completed four full course equivalents.

First Year:
(CHM 138H1, 139H1)/151Y1; MAT 135Y1/137Y1; PHY 138Y1/140Y1 (MAT 137Y1 and PHY 140Y1 preferred)

First or Second Year:
MAT 223H1/240H1

Second or Third Year:
AST 221H1; CHM 225Y1/(PHY252H1, 256H1); CHM 238Y1; GLG 206H1, 216H1/207H1; MAT 235Y1/237Y1 (MAT 237Y1 preferred); MAT 244H1; PHY 251H1, 255H1

Third and/or Fourth Years:
1. PHY 315H1, 359H1
2. At least three of AST 325H1; CHM 327H1, 338H1; GLG 318H1, 440H1, 465H1; PHY 351H1, 407H1, 408H1, 499H1
3. One additional 300+series course; consult with appropriate Undergraduate Secretary for course selection

Fourth Year:
PLN 420H1, 425H1

Planetary Science Courses

For Distribution Requirement purposes, all PLN courses are classified as SCIENCE courses (see page 25).

PLN420H1 Interdisciplinary Seminar in 26S Planetary Science

Discussion of topics of current interest in planetary science with emphasis on papers published in scientific journals. This course is intended for students in the final year of the Planetary Science specialist program. Students must enrol with the course coordinator.

The study of Political Science at the University of Toronto is wide-ranging and diverse. Courses are offered in political theory, Canadian government, international relations, and the politics of societies that are industrialized, developing, and in transition. Many courses deal with issues such as environmental politics, diversity, peace and conflict, globalization that cut across fields. Course offerings are designed to introduce students to Political Science at the first year level, provide the foundations for further study at the second year level, and provide specialized lecture and seminar courses at the intermediate and advanced levels. Studies in Political Science provide students with a good grounding in one of the chief social science disciplines and an opportunity to explore the issues that confront us as individuals, groups, societies and on the international level as we prepare for the twenty-first century. In addition to the materials covered, Political Science courses are set up to offer students an opportunity to learn writing and analytical skills to support a challenging and diverse career.

Courses in Political Science dovetail with programs in many other disciplines of the social sciences and the humanities: Economics, Sociology, History, Philosophy, and Psychology. A student interested in Canadian studies or urban problems, for example, would be well advised to choose courses from all these disciplines, as would someone interested in international affairs or foreign area studies. A student planning graduate work in the social sciences should seek to obtain a basic understanding of each of these disciplines.

The Department publishes a Handbook for undergraduate students that provides detailed information on our programs, extended descriptions of courses, and background information on the interests of our instructors, and advice on how to put together a program. Copies may be obtained from the Department Office on the third floor of Sidney Smith Hall, or from the offices of College Registrars. The Association of Political Science Students, the students' organization for Political Science undergraduates, has an office in Room 3045, Sidney Smith Hall.

Political Science Programs

Political Science (Arts program)

Enrolment in the Political Science Specialist, Major, and Joint Specialist Programs is limited. Students enrolling at the end of first year (or four full courses or their equivalent) must obtain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0 and a mark of at least 67% in one full Political Science course or the equivalent in half courses. Students applying to enrol after second year (or eight full courses or their equivalent) must obtain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.3 and a mark of at least 70% in each of two full Political Science courses or the equivalent in half courses.

Specialist program:
(10 POL full courses or their equivalent including two 300+ series courses and two 400-series courses)

Notes:
1. At least one course in Canadian politics must be completed. The Canadian politics requirement will be satisfied by only POL103Y1/214Y1.
2. Students must complete courses in at least four fields: Canadian politics, political theory, and two of international relations, comparative politics (industrial), comparative politics (developing).

First Year:
POL103Y1/105Y1/108Y1

Higher Years:
1. POL200Y1, 242Y1, 320Y1
2. Two full courses from the following: POL201Y1/(203Y1/207Y1)/208Y1/214Y1/215Y1
3. Four additional POL courses

Major program:
(7 POL full courses or their equivalent including at least two 300+series courses)

Note:
At least one course in Canadian politics must be completed. The Canadian politics requirement will be satisfied by only POL103Y1/214Y1.

First Year:
POL103Y1/105Y1/108Y1

Higher Years:
1. POL200Y1
2. Two full courses from the following: POL201Y1/(203Y1/207Y1)/208Y1/214Y1/215Y1
3. Three additional POL courses

Minor program:
(4 POL full courses or their equivalent)

Note:
The courses to include at least one 300+series course and no more than one at the 100-level.

Political Science

Political Science and Sociology (Arts program)
Consult Department of Political Science.
Enrolment in this program is limited to students with 65% in SOC 101Y1, and 70% in each of SOC 200H1, 202H1, 203Y1, and 204H1. Students need to have completed 8 full courses and be enrolled in the Sociology Major program. Students should also have met the requirements of the Political Science Department (see details under Political Science above).

Specialist program (Arts program):
(14.5 full courses or their equivalent)

Political Science
Seven courses, including at least one 300+ series course and one 400-series course.
Note:
At least one course in Canadian politics must be completed. The Canadian politics requirement will be satisfied by only POL103Y1/214Y1.
First Year:
POL103Y1/105Y1/108Y1
Higher Years:
1. POL200Y1
2. Two full courses from the following: POL201Y1/(203Y1/207Y1)/208Y1/214Y1/215Y1
3. Three additional POL courses

Sociology
7.5 full courses or equivalent
First Year:
SOC 101Y1
Higher Years:
1. SOC 200H1, 202H1, 203Y1, 204H1, 300H1, 376H1, 377H1, 387H1, 401Y1
2. One of the following: SOC 210Y1/213Y1/220Y1/301Y1/306Y1/340Y1/360Y1/369Y1

Political Science Courses

SSC199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a distribution requirement course; see page 45.

PLEASE NOTE:
Not all courses are offered every year.
Almost all upper-level POL courses have prerequisites. Students without course prerequisites will be removed at any time they are discovered.

100-Series Courses

Note:
Students may enrol in only one of the following courses: POL103Y, 105Y, 108Y. All 100-series POL courses are mutually exclusive. Students enrolled in more than one of these courses (or completed one of these courses) will be removed at any time they are discovered.

POL103Y1 Canada in Comparative Perspective: Building and Sustaining Democracy
Introduces students to political science by comparing Canada to a wide range of other countries working through the fundamental political concerns of power, authority, democracy and equality, and facing common challenges, such as ethnic and cultural diversity.
Exclusion: POL105Y, 108Y

POL105Y1 Ethics and the Public Sphere
An introduction to fundamental questions about the relation between ethics and politics. Do the constraints of political life entail a different set of ethical standards for individuals and groups than in other domains of life? How do various kinds of ethical issues become political ones? How should ethical disagreements be handled politically?
Exclusion: POL103Y, 108Y

POL108Y1 Global Networks
This course introduces students to the theory and practice of global networks and how networks differ from states and markets. The course begins with an overview of the differences between states, markets and networks in global politics. It then turns to several cases of contemporary networks, including terrorist, civil society, ethnic, and financial networks. The course concludes with an examination of the many challenges of regulating, hacking and holding accountable global networks in the 21st century.
Exclusion: POL103Y, 105Y, POLA83H/A84H (UTSC)

200-Series Courses

POL200Y1 Political Theory: Visions of the Just/Good Society
A selective presentation of critical encounters between philosophy and politics, dedicated to the quest for articulation and founding of the just/good society. Among the theorists examined are Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Hobbes and Locke.

POL201Y1 Politics of Development: Issues and Challenges
A survey of the developmental challenges facing societies in Latin America, the Caribbean, Asia and Africa, and the efficacy of various development strategies and policies in meeting these challenges.
Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science

POL203Y1 U.S. Government and Politics
An introduction to U.S. government and politics within an analytical framework that helps us understand how institutions structure incentives and decisions in the U.S. system. This class examines the political forces that forged contemporary American institutions to understand how these political institutions continue to provide stability while allowing opportunities for political change. We investigate whether these forces make American institutions different and why. Special attention is paid to current events and contemporary policy dilemmas.
Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science/ express permission of the instructor.
Political Science

POL207Y1  Politics in Europe  52L, 26T
(formerly POL302Y)
An introduction to comparative politics with a focus on Western Europe: types of democracy, changing economic and social governance, organized interests in Europe, party landscape, social movements. Special attention to Germany, Britain, France, Italy, and the European Union.
Exclusion: POL302Y
Prerequisite: A course in POL/EUR200Y
Recommended preparation: General history of Europe

POL208Y1  Introduction to International Relations  52L, 26T
The course analyzes the impact of the individual, the nation-state, and the international and transnational systems on international conflict and conflict resolution, and examines the major problems the international community confronts in a rapidly changing international environment.
Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science/express permission of the instructor.
Recommended preparation: Prior reading or study of modern history

POL214Y1  Canadian Government and Politics  52L, 26T
Canada's political system: its key governmental institutions, especially Cabinet and Parliament; federalism; the Charter of Rights and Freedoms; political parties and voting behaviour; ideologies and political culture; public opinion and pressure groups; regionalism and Quebec. Useful as a general course on Canada and a foundation for more specialized study.
Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science

POL215Y1  Politics and Transformation of Asia-Pacific  52L, 26T
This course provides a comparative analysis of selected countries of East and Southeast Asia, with an emphasis on changing views of citizenship as they have been shaped by political, socio-economic and cultural transformations in the region. The first term deals with the idea of the developmental state, inequality, democratization and nationalism. The second term takes up questions related to governance and corruption, culture, demographic changes and nascent forms of regionalism and globalization.
Prerequisite: One full POL course/4.0 FCEs in the Faculty of Arts and Science

POL242Y1  Introduction to Research Methods  52L, 26T
This course is aimed at helping Political Science students to understand and use the quantitative methods and research designs now widely employed throughout the discipline. Prerequisite: A course in POL

POL299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

---

300-Series Courses

Note:
Enrolment in POL 300-series courses is limited. See Registration Handbook and Timetable for details.

POL300H1/Y1  Topics in Comparative Politics  26L/52L
An introduction to the field of comparative politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: A course in POL

JMC301Y1  State and Society in 20th Century China
This course explores China's efforts to construct a modern and effective political order in the face of powerful demographic and revolutionary challenges. The clash between competing ideologies, political and social movements and institutional alternatives in the context of rapid social and economic change are analyzed. (Given by the Departments of East Asian Studies and Political Science)
Prerequisite: EAS102Y/HIS280Y/328Y/POL215Y/permission of the instructor
This is a Humanities and Social Science course

POL301Y1  Government and Politics in Africa  52L
The continuing relevance of pre-colonial Africa: the nature and legacy of colonial rule; African nationalism and the consolidation of power in the newly-independent states; government, party and the people; the role of the military; national integration; dependency and neo-colonialism; socialism and development; democracy and human rights.
Prerequisite: A course in POL

JHP304Y1  Ukraine: Politics, Economy and Society  52L
(formerly JHP 204Y)
The history of Ukraine from earliest times to the present. Economic, political, and cultural movements; Kievan Rus', Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth, Cossack state, national revival, twentieth century statehood, and unification. (Given by the Departments of History and Political Science)
Exclusion: JHP204Y

POL304H1  Ethnicity and Politics in Canada  26L
(formerly POL304Y1)
Development of political institutions / policies to manage ethnic relations; political strategies and resources available to ethnic and national minorities for achieving goals. Case studies: self-government and First Nations; renewed federalism/sovereignty association and Quebecois; multiculturalism and minority rights.
Exclusion: POL304Y/SOC210Y
Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y

POL305Y1  Politics and Society in Latin America  52L
The colonial heritage, the failure of nation-states to develop as integrated and autonomous power structures, dependent capitalism and political order, contrasting types of domination, rigid monopolization and the flexible use of the state by the ruling sectors, national revolution and the socialist alternative.
Prerequisite: A course in POL

POL446Y1 20th-Century Political Thought 52S
An examination of the fundamental principles and dynamics of 20th century political ideologies, focusing on the formation of various types of totalitarianism and authoritarian individualism.
Prerequisite: POL200Y/320Y/a course in PHL

POL447Y1 Political Economy of Development 52S
This course explores the rise, evolution, and performance of the dominant neoliberal approach to development and poverty reduction. It also assesses the feasibility and efficacy of alternative development strategies. Case studies are drawn from Latin America, Asia, and Africa.
Exclusion: JPE400H/Y
Prerequisite: POL201Y/215Y/301Y/305Y; minimum 14 FCEs
Recommended preparation: Introductory economics is helpful

POL448H1 Law, Religion and Public Discourse 26S
One of the central purposes of the course will be to envision ways in which religious and spiritual beliefs could become respectable dimensions of legal, political, and academic discourse while sustaining a deep respect for pluralism and attending to the dangers that require the separation of church and state.
Prerequisite: POL320Y or permission of the instructor

POL449H1 Qualitative Methods in Political Research 26S
This course surveys qualitative methods used in political science research. After briefly reviewing positivist and interpretivist research traditions, the course covers the ideal-typical and practical use of specific qualitative methods such as fieldwork, interviewing, archival research, focus group research, participant observation, ethnography, counterfactuals, discourse analysis, and multiple-methods approaches.
Prerequisite: POL242Y; permission of instructor
POL450H1 Women and Politics 26S
This course addresses the large and growing comparative literature in two main areas: women's political attitudes and participation. Focusing on West European and U.S. materials, the first half examines “gender gap” differences between women’s and men’s political beliefs, while the second assesses patterns of involvement in political institutions.
Exclusion: POL450Y
Prerequisite: POL315H/315Y/344Y/JPP343Y/permission of the instructor
Recommended preparation: At least one course in both political behaviour and women's studies

POL451Y1 Politics and the Media 52S
The relationship between politics and the news media, mainly in Canada and the U.S. Topics and major writers considered include: Innis, McLuhan, Chomsky, Bagdikian, concentration of ownership, election campaigns, polling, the press gallery, legal issues and libel chill, regulation of broadcasting, and the impact of new technologies.
Prerequisite: Three courses in POL

POL452Y1 Multilevel Politics: The European 52S Union in Comparative Perspective
What is multilevel governance? Sources, structure, actors, processes, challenges. Focus on organizing redistributive policies, participation and accountability, the European Union compared with federal and semi-federal systems (e.g. Canada, U.S.A., Germany) and the European Union compared with regional and global regimes (NAFTA, WTO...).
Prerequisite: POL207Y/324Y/two FCEs in POL
Recommended preparation: Introductory textbook on European integration

POL453Y1 The Politics of Post-Communism 52S
By intensively analyzing the theoretical literature on post-communism we explore the determinants of political and economic change. How did the 28 post-communist countries, having started from basically the same point, end up politically and economically so different?
Prerequisite: POL207Y/324Y/354Y/HIS344Y/353Y/a course in Soviet, post-Soviet or European politics

JHP454Y1 Twentieth Century Ukraine 52S
World War I and the Russian Revolution: the Ukrainian independence movement; the Soviet Ukraine and west Ukrainian lands during the interwar period; World War II and the German occupation; the Soviet Ukraine before and after the death of Stalin. Socio-economic, cultural, and political developments. (Given by the Departments of History and Political Science) (Offered every three years)
Prerequisite: A course in Modern European, East European, or Russian history or politics

JPF455Y1 Cities 52L/S
Examines disciplinary and developmental boundaries relating to cities. By bringing together a cross-disciplinary faculty who focus on cities within Political Science, History, Philosophy, Literature, Design, Environment and Health, Geography or Social Work, the course explores inter-disciplinary city issues: global change; environment; economic adjustment; state reform and city politics; citizenship; community development; economic development; physical form; territory and political-economy of cities. (Given by the Departments of Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Urban Studies, Faculty of Social Work and Faculty of Architecture, Landscape and Design)
Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs/permission of instructor

POL458H1 The Political Economy of International Trade 26S
The course explains why countries trade by looking at historical and contemporary trends in international trade. The course places particular emphasis on the interaction between political and economic processes in advancing trade. An important theme throughout the course is how the distribution of gains is connected to system stability.
Exclusion: POL478Y5
Prerequisite: ECO100Y and POL208Y and HIS344Y or permission of instructor

POL459Y1 The Military Instrument of Foreign Policy 52S
The relationship of military force to politics: Nuclear war and deterrence, conventional war, revolutionary war, terrorism and counter-insurgency are examined from the perspectives of the U.S., Russia and other contemporary military powers.
Prerequisite: POL208Y

JUP460Y1 Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict 52S
A colloquium (fall term) and research seminar (spring term) on the changing meanings of security. Concepts to be considered, and to be applied in research, range from the unconventional (feminist theorizing, the GAIA hypothesis) to the familiar (collective security, deterrence). (Offered by the Department of Political Science and University College)
Prerequisite: POL208Y and UNI360Y/permission of the instructor

POL460H1 Studies in Modern Political Theory 26S (formerly POL460Y1)
Studies on a modern political thinker or thinkers since Machiavelli.
Exclusion: POL460Y
Prerequisite: POL320Y/323H/323Y/330H/330Y

POL462Y1 Comparative Political Parties and Elections 52S
Political parties and party systems in Canada, United States and selected European countries. Electoral systems, problems of representation, voting and elections and processes of political change in western democracies.
Exclusion: POL462H
Prerequisite: POL103Y/207Y/356Y

POL463Y1 The Political Philosophy of Political Economy 26L,26S
Lectures relate economic organization to philosophical interpretations of community and citizenship. Philosophers include Plato, Aristotle, Calvin, Smith, Kant, Hegel, Marx, Habermas, Rawls and Hayek. Seminars interpret critical moments of 20th century economic history from the standpoint of philosophy. Does philosophy clarify or obscure the meaning of economic history?
Exclusion: POL478Y5
Prerequisite: POL320Y/ECO302Y/ECO342Y
Recommended preparation: POL320Y/a course in 20th century economic history
POL464H1 G8 and Global Governance I 26S
In the post-cold war, globalizing international system, the institutions of the G8 are emerging as an effective centre of global governance. Alternative conceptions of global governance and theories of international cooperation are used to explain G8 performance. National approaches to G8 diplomacy are assessed.
Prerequisite: POL108Y/208Y
Recommended preparation: POL312Y/324Y/326Y/341H/342H/342Y/343Y

POL465H1 G8 and Global Governance II 26S
The performance of the G8 and other international institutions in securing cooperation and compliance, and shaping international order in major contemporary issues of political economy (finance, trade, employment, development), security (arms control, regional security, democracy and human rights) and transnational global issues (environmental protection, drugs, crime, infectious disease).
Prerequisite: POL108Y/208Y
Recommended preparation: POL312Y/324Y/326Y/341H/342H/342Y/343Y

POL466H1 Topics in International Politics III 26S
For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year; the content of which depends on the instructor.
Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL467H1 Rational Choice and International Cooperation 26S
An examination of rational choice theories with applications to the international realm. Under which condition is individual rationality compatible with the common good? What are prospects for collective action under different configurations of power and institutions? Are the cooperative agreements that emerge stable, just and fair?
Prerequisite: Two courses in POL

POL468H1 Conflict and Conflict Management 26S
This seminar examines the source of conflict and various methods of conflict management. It focuses on organized conflict, and the manner in which such conflicts appear in character or scope in the contemporary international system.
Prerequisite: Minimum 14 FCEs
Recommended preparation: POL208Y

POL469H1 Ethics and International Relations 26S
The course aims to explore the requirements of justice and fairness in international affairs. It is common to theorize international relations in terms of interests and power. But even the most cursory look at what important actors actually do in their international interactions reveals that they use normative language all the time. This has not gone unnoticed, with investigations of ethics in the international arena multiplying in recent years. Drawing on readings from political philosophy, legal theory, and normative international relations theory, the course will take up practical ethical dilemmas encountered in world affairs. The main focus of the course will be on institutions. Examples will be drawn from the issue areas of trade, health, and the environment, among others.
Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL470Y1 Contemporary Issues in Foreign Policy 52S
This senior seminar involves a critical assessment of current foreign policy issues and contemporary world problems. Issues and case studies to be analyzed include: 1. International military interventions to respond to imminent threats or humanitarian crises, issues of legitimacy and effectiveness. e.g., Iraq, Afghanistan, Kosovo, Haiti. 2. Canada-US relations in international crisis management, the track record and the way ahead. 3. Globalization, international terrorism, and their effects on sovereignty, diplomacy and international institutions.
Prerequisite: POL208Y

JPJ471H1 Constitutional Politics 26S
Explores fundamental issues in the design and amendment of constitutions, with particular reference to divided societies such as Canada, Belgium, Spain and South Africa. Includes both the processes and outcomes of constitutional politics, and their implications for conflict management, democracy, and effective governance. (Given by the Faculty of Law and the Department of Political Science)
Exclusion: POL471H
Prerequisite: Two 200+ courses in comparative or Canadian politics

POL473H1 Local Government in Canada 26S
The structure and political processes of local government in Canada. Topics include finance, provincial-municipal relations, elections, local government reform, and selected case studies.
Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y; one other POL course in Canadian politics

POL474H1 Politics and Policy Analysis 26S
Major theories of public policy-making and related approaches to policy analysis are examined from the perspective of political science. Key contributions to the theoretical literature pertaining to leading models are read and discussed. Models of public policy-making are successively applied to analysis of cases of Canadian and comparative policy development.
Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y/317Y/352H

POL475H1 Experiencing Public Policy-Making 26S
Examines how policies are developed and implemented, and seeks to improve students’ analytic, writing and presentational skills. Through readings and role-playing sessions, exposes students to key challenges confronting policy-makers: preparing for government transitions, undertaking environmental scanning and scenario planning, evaluating alternative instruments for delivery programs, establishing consultation processes, restructuring government bureaucracies, and ensuring accountability.
Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y; one POL 300-level course in Canadian politics

POL476H1 The Developmental State: Comparative and Historical Perspectives 26S
This seminar course explores the concept of the developmental state both comparatively and historically. In the postwar period, the East Asian ‘tigers’ economically developed rapidly, leading many to suggest that there is a distinctive Asian model of state-led development. This course questions this assertion. The first section unpacks the East Asian developmental state model. The rest of the course explores this model in other comparative and historical contexts. Students will read the ‘classics’ in political economy, examining the role of the state in economic POL477H1 Advanced Topics in International 26S
Political Economy
This course is designed for advanced students with serious interests in the subfield of international political economy. Specific topics covered will vary, but all involve the deep interplay between politics and economics in the contemporary world. Exclusion: POL454Y
Prerequisite: POL208Y; ECO100Y

POL479H1 Topics in Middle East Politics 26S
This course examines the contemporary politics of the Middle East and North Africa. It seeks to examine the relative importance of political, socio-economic and ideological factors in the context of such issues as the resilience of authoritarianism, the rise of civil society, and the resurgence of Islamic activism. Theoretical discussion is followed by case studies. Exclusion: POL480Y
Prerequisite: POL200Y; POL208Y; ECO100Y

POL480H1 Pluralism, Justice, and Equality 26S
Historically, liberalism has coped with the fact of social difference through doctrines of colour - or difference - blindness. Recent feminist and other critics of liberalism have argued that liberal conceptions of justice and impartiality fail to treat members of marginalized groups as equals. This course explores both sides of these debates. Exclusion: POL480Y
Prerequisite: POL200Y; POL208Y; POL320Y

POL484H1/Y1 Topics in Political Thought I 26S/52S
A seminar on a central problem in political thought. It proceeds through the reading of a small number of major texts. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: POL200Y; POL208Y; ECO100Y

POL485H1/Y1 Topics in Political Thought II 26S/52S
A seminar on a central problem in political thought. It proceeds through the reading of a small number of major texts. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: POL320Y; POL454Y

POL486H1/Y1 Topics in International Politics I 26S/52S
For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor. Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL487H1/Y1 Topics in International Politics II 26S/52S
For advanced students of international relations. Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor. Prerequisite: POL208Y

POL488H1/Y1 Topics in African Politics I 26S/52S
In depth examination of specific themes relating to contemporary African politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: HIS395Y/POL201Y; minimum 14 FCEs

POL489H1/Y1 Topics in African Politics II 26S/52S
In depth examination of specific themes relating to contemporary African politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: HIS395Y/POL201Y; minimum 14 FCEs

POL490H1/Y1 Topics in Canadian Politics I 26S/52S
Examines in depth enduring and emerging issues in Canadian politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y, one other POL course in Canadian politics or permission of instructor

POL491H1/Y1 Topics in Canadian Politics II 26S/52S
Examines in depth enduring and emerging issues in Canadian politics. Content in any given year depends on instructor. Prerequisite: POL103Y/214Y, one other POL course in Canadian politics or permission of instructor

POL492H1/Y1 Topics in Comparative Politics IV 26S/52S
Selected issues in comparative politics. Varies from year to year. Prerequisite: Two POL courses in comparative politics or permission of the instructor

POL495H1 Independent Studies TBA
Open only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise. Students must find an appropriate supervisor in the Department of Political Science and obtain the approval of the Director of Undergraduate Studies before enrolling. Obtain details and an application form from the Department of Political Science and obtain the approval of the supervising faculty member. Exclusion: POL496H/497H

POL496H1 Independent Studies TBA

Portuguese is spoken by more than one hundred and seventy million people on four continents: Europe, Africa, Asia, and America. Twenty percent of all residents of the Western Hemisphere are Brazilians, who attest to the truth that one out of every five Americans - North, Central, South - speaks Portuguese as his or her native language.

The literature of Portugal has a tradition that goes back as far as the twelfth century, and the country's discoveries in the Renaissance led it to all corners of the globe. In the last two decades Portugal has given to Canada many thousands of new citizens, and Brazil is attracting the attention of Canadians through its vast potential as a land of culture, of natural resources, and of industry.

In addition to a full range of courses in language, Portuguese studies at the University of Toronto are concerned with the major trends and issues of Luso-Brazilian literature and culture and serve the programs in Latin-American Studies, European Studies and in African Studies.

The Department encourages students to consider completing part of their course work at a university in Portugal or Brazil.

As an intellectual inquiry into an important dimension of human experience, the exploration of religion is intrinsically valuable and constitutes a rich resource for reflection on meaning in life and on personal growth. It also prepares students for a wide range of careers (e.g. social work, law, politics from the local to the international level, teaching, medicine, leadership in religious organizations). The academic study of religion, combined with appropriate language preparation, can also open out into graduate work leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. in the growing number of universities offering advanced graduate degrees in the field, and in the University's own Graduate Centre.

Historically, the academic study of religion has taken a variety of forms, each with its own rationale. The Department identifies itself with a model in which the major religious traditions (e.g. Buddhism, Christianity, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism) are studied within a comparative frame. We employ and encourage a variety of approaches (e.g. historical, textual, social scientific) without sacrificing specialized skills and training. The diversity which characterizes this model is reflected in the variety of courses offered or cross-listed by the Department, and by the wide range of training and expertise of our faculty.

Programs are described in detail in the Departmental Handbook; it also includes a limited number of cross-listed courses offered by Colleges or departments such as East Asian Studies, History, Near and Middle Eastern Civilizations, Philosophy, and Sociology. Students aiming to complete any RLG program should consult the Undergraduate Administrator at least once a year for assistance in selecting courses that address the student's interests and fulfill the program's requirements.

Prerequisite for all 400-level courses is permission of the Students must enrol at the department.

RLG400Y1 Independent Studies Abroad

Intensive programs of study including site visits and lectures in areas of religious significance abroad. Preparatory work expected, together with paper or assignments upon return. (Y1 course: 4 weeks minimum; H course: 2 weeks minimum)

RLG404H1 Method and Theory Seminar 26S

An advanced course in methodological and theoretical approaches to the study of religion. Topics considered include: historical development of religious studies; significance and application of interdisciplinary methodologies; key theorists and theoretical controversies. This team-taught course is of particular use to specialists and honours students seeking to develop superior research skills.

RLG410Y1 Advanced Topics in Religion 26S

An advanced study of selected Enlightenment thinkers with a focus on their interpretations of religion. The work of Immanuel Kant will form a focus point, but others will be discussed as well. Issues include the rational critique of traditional religion, the relations among religion, ethics and politics, and the pursuit of universal approaches to religion.

RLG411H1 Advanced Topics in Religion 26S

Provides an in-depth study of selected theorists in the psychology of religion, such as Freud, Ricoeur, Lacan, and Kristeva. Approaches the topic both in terms of interpretive models applied to individual and cultural religious forms, such as symbols, rituals, and personal experiences, and in terms of religious subjectivity as related to self-knowledge and ethical development.

RLG412H1 Advanced Topics in Religion 26S

RLG420H1 Religion and Philosophy in the European Enlightenment

This course will examine the 19th Century origins of anthropology in the study of the bible and ‘other’ primitive religions. It will focus on influential works by Frazer, Tylor, Robertson-Smith, Mueller, Bachofen and Freud.

RLG423H1 The Birth of Anthropology 26S

This course will consider the question of how a religion like Judaism or Christianity, based on revelation and its norms, can acknowledge and incorporate norms discovered by human reason, without reducing reason to revelation or revelation to reason.

RLG433H1 Maimonides and His Modern Interpreters

An introduction to The Guide of the Perplexed by Moses Maimonides, and to some of the basic themes in Jewish philosophical theology and religion. Among topics to be considered through close textual study of the Guide: divine attributes; biblical interpretation; creation versus eternity; prophecy; providence, theodicy, and evil; wisdom and human perfection. Also to be examined are leading modern interpreters of Maimonides. Exclusion: POL421H1

RLG434H1 Modern Jewish Thought 26S

Close study of major themes, texts, and thinkers in modern Jewish thought. Focus put on the historical development of modern Judaism, with special emphasis on the Jewish religious and philosophical responses to the challenges of modernity. Among modern Jewish thinkers to be considered: Spinoza, Cohen, Rosenzweig, Buber, Scholem, Strauss, and Fackenheim.

RLG435H1 The Thought of Leo Strauss 26S

The philosophic thought of Leo Strauss approached through his writings on modern Judaism. Primarily addressed will be the mutual relations between philosophy, theology, and politics. Among other topics to be dealt with: origins of modern Judaism, Zionism, liberal democracy, and biblical criticism; meaning of “Jerusalem and Athens”; cognitive value in the Hebrew Bible.

RLG440H1 Religion and Healing 26S

The relationship between religion and healing in the North American context through analysis of the religious roots of the biomedical model, as well as religious influences on alternative modes of healing.

RLG442H1 North American Religions 26S

This course considers the varieties of religious practice in North America from anthropological and historical perspectives. Of particular interest are the ways religions have mutually influenced each other in the context of nineteenth and twentieth century North America.

RLG448H1 Religion and Material Culture in the Ancient World 26S

The course emphasizes the importance of material culture (artifacts, tombs, architecture, art, industrial installations, etc.) in studying the ancient world, and how it relates to other ways of interpreting religion and society. The course does not require previous familiarity with archaeology, but it presupposes interest in studying a range of excavations. Open to advanced undergraduates and qualified graduate students with permission of the instructor.

RLG449H1 The Synoptic Problem 26S

Investigation of the history of solutions to the Synoptic Problem from the eighteenth century to the present paying special attention on the revival of the Griesbach hypothesis and recent advances in the Two-Document hypothesis. Prerequisite: RLG 241Y1 and at least one of RLG 319H1-327H1.

St. Michael’s College Courses

Listed in this order:

Book and Media Studies Courses

SMC219Y1 Mass Media in Culture and Society

- Designed to acquaint students with the essential notions of media studies, and to promote a conscious utilization of contemporary media. Starting with the preliminary definitions of “media,” “mass,” and “communications,” the student is invited to consider critically the cultural constructs created by modern media, from print to photography, filming, TV, computer and Internet.

SMC228Y1 Books and Readers

- An introduction to book and print culture and readership, from manuscripts to information technologies. Attention is given to topics such as the development of the printing press, illustrations, censorship, copyright, book clubs, and best-sellers. Visits to rare book collections are an integral part of the course.

Note: this course is not intended as a guide to self-publishing.

SMC300H1 Special Topics in Book and Media Studies I

- Designed to provide for individual half-courses not already covered in the listed range of the Book and Media Studies Program offerings.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor

Recommended preparation: SMC228Y1

SMC301H1 Special Topics in Book and Media Studies II

- Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor. Students should check the program brochure for details.

Recommended preparation: SMC219Y1/SMC228Y1

SMC314H1 Media Revolutions

- A deeper examination of key cases in the development of media, such as the invention of movable type, the mechanization of the printing press, standardization of call number systems (Dewey, LC, etc.), the advent of radio, television and internet. Topics vary from year to year, according to the instructor.

Recommended preparation: SMC219Y1/SMC228Y1

SMC315H1 The Newspaper in Canadian Society

- Through lectures, tutorials and field trips, this course examines the origins and development of the English-language newspaper in Canada since the 18th century. Research projects focus on the historical newspaper collections of the University of Toronto libraries, the Toronto reference library, and the Archives of Ontario.

Recommended preparation: SMC219Y1/SMC228Y1

SMC331Y1 Advanced Irish Language

- This course builds on SMC141Y1 Introduction to the Irish Language. It will provide further expansion of the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing.

Prerequisite: SMC141Y1

SMC333H1/SMC334H1 (formerly SMC408H1/409H1) Special Topics in Celtic Studies III

- Various topics are taken up each year, the content of which depends on the instructor. Students should check the program brochure for details.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor

SMC335Y1 Special Topics in Celtic Studies I

- Various topics are taken up each year, according to the instructor.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor

SMC341Y1 Introduction to the Irish Language

- This course in Modern Irish Language is designed for learners with no prior knowledge of the language. The course is intended to introduce students to and provide practice in the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing.

SMC240Y1 Celtic Culture Through the Ages

- The expression of Celtic culture in literature, history, folklore and myth from 600 B.C. to the present, with particular attention to the continuing Celtic contribution to Western culture.

SMC241Y1 Intermediate Irish Language

- This course builds on SMC141Y1 Introduction to the Irish Language. It will provide further expansion of the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing.

Prerequisite: SMC141Y1

SMC342Y1 Literature and Politics: Ireland, Scotland and Wales

- This course examines the way in which modern Irish, Scottish and Welsh writers have responded to the pressures of anglicization and modernization, and discusses literary reactions to social, ethnic and gender issues in contemporary culture.

Christianity and Culture Courses

SMC103Y1  Catholicism  52L, 26T
An introduction to Catholic Christianity, to its history, institutions, and theology. The second part of the course examines the renewal effort of Vatican II and offers a contemporary Catholic reading of the Creed.

SMC200Y1  The Christian Imagination  52L, 26T
The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the depth and breadth of the imagination in the western Christian tradition. We shall explore components of the distinctively Christian imagination, as well as its expression in various media, including the visual and plastic arts, literature, film, and music.

SMC201H1  Christianity and Literature  26L, 13T
(formerly Christian Classics)
An exploration of major Christian themes, such as redemption and sacrifice, in works of ancient and modern literature. Includes an examination of different genres (the novel, poetry, drama), written for differing times and cultures.

SMC203Y1  Christianity Encounters the Secular World  52L, 26T
Issues raised by Christianity’s encounter with secular culture, and solutions proposed by the tradition: involvement in political structures, social movements, ethnic communities, and changing world views.

SMC204H1  Christianity and Asia  26L, 13T
A study of key elements in the encounter of Christianity and Asia: e.g. the controversy over Chinese rites; Korea’s conversion by lay philosophers; the development of Filipino folk Catholicism and its impact on politics; the influence of Indian thought on recent Western theologians.

SMC205H1  Varieties of Christian Experience  26L, 13T
Exploration of the variety of forms which Christian personal experience has taken in the course of history (martyrdom, mysticism, monasticism, sanctification of ordinary life, etc.) in order to appreciate their variety, complexity, and deep unity.

SMC206H1  Christianity and Music  26L, 13T
The various roles given music in Christian tradition and the impact of Christianity on Western music. Case studies from Gregorian chant to the present illustrate major issues (sacred vs. profane, acceptable styles or instruments, text and music, emotion and rationalism) to provide a critical vocabulary applicable to present works. Some background in music is required.

Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1/203Y1

SMC207H1  Christianity in Latin America  26L, 13T
The development of Christian communities in Latin America with an emphasis on such themes as the Spanish Conquest, missions, church-state relations, popular religious culture, and the emergence of Liberation Theology.
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1

SMC208Y1  Major Christian Thinkers  52L, 26T
An introduction to the Christian intellectual tradition through a study of key figures representing a variety of historical periods, from the patristic through the medieval to the modern and contemporary. The selected authors discuss a range of religious, intellectual and human issues from basic Christian beliefs to the challenges of modern and postmodern cultures.

SMC209H1  Christianity in Africa  26L, 13T
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1

SMC215H1  Varieties of Christian Community  26S
Christian history has been characterized by an enduring and fruitful search for forms of religious community. This course surveys some communal attempts to express Christianity, monasticism, forms of common life for clerics, the Mendicants, lay confraternities, religious orders, and contemporary lay movements.

SMC216Y1  Ritual and Worship  26L, 26T

SMC230Y1  Christianity and Science  52L, 26T
The course examines the emergence of the physical sciences within Christian culture. It also traces broad historical developments, such as the rise of technology and the acceptance of empirical observation as a method of inquiry, and their impact on Christian faith.
Exclusion: RLG231Y1

SMC302H1  Christianity and Symbols  26L, 13T
The originality of Christian symbolism is explored through texts, images, and other media. We examine theories of symbolism, then explore the use of Christian symbolism and symbolic patterns in ancient, medieval, and modern art, architecture, literature, and film.

SMC304H1  Christianity, Law and Society  26L/S
An examination of Canon Law; the process by which it came into being, and its impact on contemporary culture. Premises and techniques of ecclesial law-making are compared to those of other systems of legislation. Specific sections of the Code of Canon Law are examined.
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1
SMC305H1  Christianity and Popular Culture  39L
An examination of both overt and covert representation of Christian ideas in contemporary popular media. We examine the ways in which Christian themes have been appropriated and subverted in mass media, while also examining the innovative ways these themes, such as redemption, sacrifice, vocation, and hope, are presented anew.
Recommended preparation: SMC200Y1

SMC306H1  Christianity and New Technologies  26L, 13S
Technology represents a significant challenge to Christian traditions. This course will explore Christian responses to technologies such as genetic engineering, cyberspace, and life extension. Students will examine the metaphysical perspectives and metaphorical images that the Christian tradition presents to respond to the claims of unbridled technology.
Exclusion: RLG 338Y1

SMC307Y1  Scripture in Christian Tradition  52L, 26T
An introduction to the place and meaning of the Bible within the Christian tradition; the practice of biblical interpretation in the patristic, medieval and modern periods; a contemporary reading of one of the Gospels and of a letter of Paul.

SMC308H1  Marriage and the Family in the Catholic Tradition (formerly Marriage and the Family in Canon Law)  26L/S
A close reading of the Code of Canon Law touching on the themes of marriage and the family; relationship to other fundamental Church statements (e.g. Familiaris Consortio); examination of issues raised by opposition among church teaching and other views.
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1/304H1

SMC309H1  Christianity, Reason and Revolution  26L, 13T
This course explores developments in the relations between the Catholic Church and the states of Western Europe and America from the Enlightenment to the present. Of particular concern is Catholicism’s response to the political theories of the Enlightenment, the secularization of the state and social justice issues.
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1/HIS241H1

SMC310H1  The Catechism of the Catholic Church  26S
Introduces students to the Catechism of the Catholic Church (1994) and its antecedents. After an historical survey of religious instruction in the Church, the students will engage in a close reading of selected sections of the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

SMC311H1  Why the Church  26S
The Catholic Church claims to be the continuation of the event of Christ in history, the guarantor of the authenticity of each person's encounter with Christ, and the means by which His memory may be cultivated. The course examines the reasons for these claims and the forms they have taken.
Recommended preparation: SMC303Y1/200Y1/201H1, 205H1/216Y1

SMC312H1  Catholicism and Education  26S
The Catholic Church has developed a distinctive approach to the pedagogical enterprise. This course explores aspects of this approach by an examination of canonical legislation and other texts published by ecclesiastical authorities and their application in Canada.

SMC313H1  Catholic Education in Ontario  26L
An historical appraisal of the evolution of Catholic schools, universities, and catechetical education in Ontario. Special emphasis is placed on the evolution of Ontario’s separate school system.

SMC320H1  The Catholic Church in Canada (formerly SMC 420H1)  26L
An exploration of the historical development of Catholic communities and institutions in all regions of Canada since the 16th century. Emphasis placed on themes of mission, church-state relations, ethnicity, belief and practice, social justice, gender, and secularization.
Exclusion: SMC 420H1

SMC321H1  The Catholic Church and Canadian Law  26S
The Church's self-understanding generates interesting problems in her relations with the civil societies in which she lives. These problems are often fruitful and leaves marks in the legislation of each of these societies. The proposed course will assess the extent to which this has been true in Canada, from the earliest days of European expansion until the present. After an historical introduction regarding the legal status of the Church in French and post-conquest Canada, the proposed course will study the current legal treatment of Church activity, institutions, and property. The legal treatment of criminous clerics will also be examined.
Recommended preparation: SMC203Y1

SMC330Y1  Christ in Christian Tradition  52L, 26T
Faith in Christ is central to Christianity. This course examines both classical formulations of that faith and Enlightenment critiques of them. It introduces students to contemporary rethinking of christology in the light of modern science and philosophy, comparative religion, feminism, and liberation movements.

SMC332H1  Apocalypse and Millennium (formerly SMC 402H1)  26L
The study of past outbursts of Christian interest in the millennium theme, and the end of the world, modern manifestations of this trend, and the implications of its contemporary revitalization at the dawn of the third millennium.

SMC362Y1  Intercordia  26S 26P
Service learning course in social justice and international development. Seminars in the Winter term and international service with Intercordia Canada between May and July. There will be additional costs to students associated with this program. Duration is January to August; all add/cancel/refunds deadlines as per a regular 5 course.
Prerequisite: interview process prior to enrolment
Recommended preparation: SMC103Y1/SMC203Y1/SMC205H1

SMC370H1  Christianity and the Life Sciences  26L/S
Episodes and issues in the development of the life sciences in relation to fundamental Christian beliefs concerning nature, man and God; behaviour and intelligence, gender, genetics and the manipulation of life, creation/evolution controversy, etc.
Prerequisite: Four university courses

Mediaeval Studies Courses

SMC428H1 The Mediaeval Tradition

This course provides an introduction to the thought and culture of the European Middle Ages. Students are introduced to the important monuments of mediaeval History, Thought, Literature, and Art, and follow some of the common threads that run through all these disciplines. The course explores some of the classical antecedents and chief expressions of mediaeval life and thought.

SMC429H1 The Middle Ages and the Movies

This course examines the ways mediaeval themes have been presented in the cinema over the last century by taking exemplary films from different countries and epochs. The purpose is to explore each on three levels: the mediaeval reality, the subsequent legendary or literary elaboration, and the twentieth-century film rendition, regarded equally as work of art, ideology and economic product.
SMC358H1  The Mediaeval Book  26S
This course examines the most salient aspects of mediaeval manuscript culture. We will study, first, how the parchment for books was folded, pricked, ruled and bound, and second, what scripts were employed in the different codices. We will also examine the various types of books made in the Middle Ages and the challenges they pose to modern scholars.
Recommended preparation: LAT100Y1; SMC210Y1 or a course in mediaeval history.

SMC359H1  Mediaeval Theology  26L
An introduction to the discipline of theology as taught in the mediaeval schools. Building on a basic knowledge of Christian scriptures and of philosophical argument, this course will offer an organic exposition of mediaeval theology, together with an introduction into the scientific method of theological investigation as practised in the Middle ages.
Recommended preparation: SMC210Y1

SMC360H1  Vernacular Literature of the Middle Ages  26L
(formerly SMC420H1)
This course surveys mediaeval vernacular literature within the cultural context of Europe and considers the development of different literary genres such as epic, romance and lyric. Relations between vernacular literatures, and between vernacular and latin literature are also studied.
Recommended preparation: SMC210Y1
Exclusion: SMC420H1

SMC361H1  Mediaeval Law  26S
(formerly SMC405H1)
Mediaeval jurisprudence combines the high technical quality of Roman law with the requirements of Christianity. The seminar provides an overview of the development of mediaeval learned jurisprudence; select texts from Roman and canon law, with their glosses, are read in order to explore more specifically the methods and concerns of mediaeval jurists.
Recommended preparation: HIS 220Y1/SMC 210Y1
Exclusion: SMC405H1

SMC402H1  Mediaeval Canon Law  26S
The rise of the science of canon law is one of the great intellectual developments of the High Middle Ages. In the proposed course, the aims and techniques of the canonical jurists would be explored by a close reading of their normative texts and glosses.
Recommended preparation: HIS220Y1/SMC203Y1/SMC210Y1

SMC403H1  The Mediaeval Church  26S
This seminar explores the development of some of the institutions of mediaeval Christendom, such as guilds, the University and the Papacy, in relation to social and intellectual movements of the age.
Recommended preparation: SMC210Y1/HIS220 Y1

SMC406H1  Mediaeval Seminar II  26S, 13T
A fourth-year seminar on a topic to be determined annually.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor
Recommended preparation: SMC210Y1 or other mediaeval courses

SMC407Y1  Mediaeval Seminar I  52S, 26T
A fourth-year seminar on a topic to be determined annually.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor
Recommended preparation: SMC210Y1 or other mediaeval courses

SMC490Y1  Senior Essay in Mediaeval Studies  TBA
A scholarly project chosen by the student in consultation with an instructor and approved by the Program Co-ordinator. Arrangements for the choice of topic and supervisor must be completed by the student before registration.

Other St. Michael's College Courses

SMC299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

SMC490Y1  Senior Essay in Mediaeval Studies  TBA
A scholarly project chosen by the student in consultation with an instructor and approved by the Program Co-ordinator. Arrangements for the choice of topic and supervisor must be completed by the student before registration.
The growing importance of Eastern Europe in contemporary affairs has had the effect of making academic study of this area especially lively and relevant. The student whose interest in the Russian or East European world is political, historical, or sociological can specialize in Russian and East European Studies, or pursue a course in Political Science, History, or Sociology, and at the same time take language courses, and perhaps selected courses in literature, in this Department. Students planning to specialize in Economics, Psychology, Mathematics, or any number of other fields, who have a special interest in the Russian or East European area, will find an advanced knowledge of Russian or of another Slavic language an important intellectual and professional asset.

Students intending to take a Program offered by the Department are asked to study carefully the Programs of Study and are urged to begin their language training as soon as possible. A Departmental brochure is available on request.

Sociological investigation ranges from the analysis of small groups to large social systems. Using a variety of methods and skills, Sociology explores how our individual and collective ways of thinking, feeling and acting are shaped by our social experience. Sociological perspectives and methods are now an essential feature of modern culture, public debate and policy in governmental, commercial, and non-profit organizations. The basic sociological hypothesis that “the social matters” is a guiding source of new intellectual and research agendas in disciplines and professional schools throughout the university.

Sociological perspectives and research skills can also provide helpful preparation for many careers, including government, politics, industry, education and journalism. Medical, legal, and environment fields report an increasing need for sociologists. Municipal governments hire specialists in urban sociology, community relations, policy and planning. In private business sociologists work in management consulting firms and public polling organizations, as well as in labour relations and human resources. A professional career in sociology, however, requires training beyond the undergraduate level.
Sociology

Much of the undergraduate and graduate teaching and research in the department reflect areas of strength that include: crime, law and deviance, gender and family, health and mental health, law, immigration and ethnic relations, labour markets and work, and political sociology. Additional strengths follow from developing areas in the discipline, including globalization, the life course and aging, social policy, and the sociology of culture.

Some SOC courses are restricted (see Note 1 below). Other SOC courses are not restricted but preference is given to students in Sociology programs. Almost all 200-, 300-, and 400-level courses have prerequisites.

Hispanic culture offers a variety probably unrivalled by any other modern Western culture. In the Middle Ages, Spain was the vital point of contact of the Christian, Jewish, and Islamic civilizations. In the early modern period it led the way in the exploration and settlement of the New World, contributing significantly to the evolution of a flourishing Ibero-American culture. Today it is estimated that Spanish is one of three most widely-spoken languages in the world.

Spanish studies at the University of Toronto are mainly, but by no means exclusively, concerned with the language and literature of the Spanish-speaking peoples. Courses in Hispanic linguistics, in business Spanish, in the history and structure of the Spanish language and literature are complemented by studies of the social, artistic, and intellectual history of both Spain and Spanish-America. Spanish and Portuguese form part of the interdisciplinary programs in European Studies and Latin-American Studies.

The progression of courses in the language sequence is designed to accommodate a wide range of previous preparation in the spoken and written language. In their first year, beginners receive an intensive course, SPA 100Y1; those with OAC/Grade 12 standing begin their University studies in SPA 220Y1; students who on entry are already well qualified in Spanish and demonstrate both oral and written fluency are expected to proceed directly to more advanced levels of study. Throughout the language stream, stress is laid both on the cultural component of language acquisition and on the range of practical applications to which both the spoken and the written language may be put. Courses in phonetics, in business Spanish, and in the history and structure of the Spanish language provide an array of possible options for students in the upper years.

Following an introduction to the methodologies of critical analysis as applied to Hispanic texts, students have a wide selection of courses on the literatures of Spain and Spanish America: medieval Spanish literature; early modern prose, verse and drama; the modern novel, short story, poetry, drama and film. In all years, the works are read and discussed not only in terms of their individual artistic value but also as illustrations of the outlook and the intellectual climate of their age.

In conjunction with Woodsworth College, the department makes SPA courses available during the summer at the University of Guadalajara. Interested students should contact the Professional and International Programs, Woodsworth College (summer.abroad@utoronto.ca)

Recommended preparation: SPA321H1

SPA325H1 Catalan Language and Culture 26L
Study of Catalan language through an overview of grammatical structures, and exercises in proficiency skills, complemented by readings in Catalan history and society to attain interdisciplinary cultural literacy. Analysis of works by Llull, March, d’Ors, Gaudi, Rodoreda, and others. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/PRT220Y1 or an equivalent course in French or Italian
Exclusion: SPA225Y1

SPA 341H1 Modernist Movements in Spain 26L
Literary and artistic movements in Spain from 1890 to 1940, with special attention to the convergence and mutual mediation of politics and art. Materials to be studied include novels, poetry, the urban environment, graphic art, literary journals and manifestos, and some early Hispanic film. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended Preparation: SPA258H1/SPA259H1

SPA345H1 Spanish Cinema 26L
Analysis of the development of Spanish Cinema within its social and political contexts. Directors studied include Buñuel, Bardem, Erice, Saura, Almodóvar and Bigas Luna. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA 220Y1/319Y1
Recommended Preparation: SPA258H1/SPA259H1

SPA352H1 Writing and Culture in Early Modern Spain 26L
Representative literary and cultural texts from the early modern period, studied in relation to the history and society of imperial Spain. Discussion will centre on such issues as the formation of the state, urbanization, court culture, social order and disorder, and cultural discourses of identity and difference. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA 220Y1/319Y1
Recommended Preparation: SPA258H1/SPA259H1

SPA375H1 Latin American Cinema 26L
Latin American cinema within the framework of cultural studies, film theory, and film criticism. Analysis of representative films from Argentina (Solanas, Puenzo), Brazil (Babenco, Camus, Salles), Cuba (Ichaso, Gutiérrez Alea, Solás), Mexico (Ripstein, Cuaron, Gonzalez Iñárritu), and Venezuela (Román Chalbaud). (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/SPA319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1/SPA259H1

SPA380H1 Colonial Literatures and Cultures 26L
Issues of gender, race, and identity in major texts from the colonial period, from the Conquest to the end of the eighteenth century. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA381H1 Nation, Identity and Literary Modernism in Spanish-America 26L
Analysis of poetry, short stories, essays, and graphic art in the context of nation-building and the question of identity during the nineteenth century. Modernismo studied as the first literary movement of Spanish American origin. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA382H1 Spanish American Women in Art, Film, and Literature 26L
Study of different creative expressions by women in Spanish America from the colonial period to the present; analysis of selected works of visual art, film, essays, poetry, and fiction. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA384H1 Avant-Garde Movements in Spanish America 26L
Study through representative works of major artistic and literary movements in 20th and 21st century Spanish America: avant-garde poetry, theatre of the absurd, surrealist art, neo-realism, postmodernism. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA385H1 Literature and Social Change in Spanish America 26L
Modern literature in its critical relation to social conditions. Emphasis on socio-historical context, ideologies of the period and writers’ views of their social responsibility as a framework for literary analysis. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1
SPA387H0  Contemporary Mexican Literature  50L
Social change and literary innovation in Mexican literature since the 1950s; analysis of selections from Agustín, Juan Rulfo, Carlos Fuentes, Fernando del Paso, Octavio Paz, Laura Esquivel, and others. (Offered only in Guadalajara)
Prerequisite: SPA220H1/319Y1 and Placement Examination for the Guadalajara Program

SPA398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project 399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

SPA420H1  Advanced Grammar  26L
Linguistic analysis with the objective of improving students’ command of Spanish grammar. Advanced review of traditional grammatical topics, including the verbal and pronominal systems, and Spanish copulas and embedded clauses. This course assumes familiarity with the grammatical terminology introduced in SPA 220Y1.
Prerequisite: SPA319Y1/320Y1

SPA421H1  The Structure of Spanish  26L
Study of Spanish morphology and syntax: syntactic categories in Spanish, the structure and interpretation of simple and complex sentences. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA319Y1/320Y1, 321H1 or permission of the department
Recommended preparation: SPA322H1

SPA422H1  Sociolinguistics of Spanish  26L
Study of linguistic variation across the Spanish-speaking world; central issues in phonological, morphological, and syntactic variation, analyzed from a geographical as well as from a social point of view. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA321H1, 420H1 or permission of the department
Recommended preparation: SPA322H1

SPA425H1  History of the Spanish Language  26L
The evolution of Spanish. The dialelatization of Hispano-Latin through inherent linguistic changes and influences from other languages and the development of Castilian into one of the world’s most important languages. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1, 321H1; SPA421H1 strongly recommended

SPA435H1  Fictions of Contemporary Spain  26L
Study of major currents in narrative fiction during the last twenty years, a period of return to democratic government, the relaxing of censorship and the opening up of Spanish culture. Analysis of works from several generations of male and female writers. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA438H1  Topics in Modern Spanish Literature  26S
A course on a specific topic in modern Spanish literature, designed for advanced students. Course content and instructor are established on a yearly basis.
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1

SPA450H1  Studies in Medieval Iberian Literature  26L
Medieval works studied in relation to literary and cultural traditions. Issues of genre, discourse, and ideology are scrutinized in various texts, including lyric, narrative, and moral and didactic writings. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA352H1

SPA452H1  Theatre and Representation in Golden Age Spain  26L
Study of theatre and the idea of representation, with reference to parallels in lyric poetry and visual art. Emphasis on the Spanish comedia as a genre, and on its interaction with other artistic forms in the Golden Age. (Offered in alternate years)
Exclusion: SPA350Y1
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA320Y1, 352H1

SPA454H1  Cervantes and Golden Age Narrative  26L
Detailed study of Don Quixote as a foundational text in the European literary tradition, with attention to the conventions, genres, and literary techniques that inform the text. Parallel readings in romance, picaresque fiction, and the ballad tradition.
Exclusion: SPA350Y1
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA329Y1, 352H1

SPA467H1  Topics in Spanish-American Culture  26L
A course on a specific topic in Spanish-American culture, designed for advanced students. Course content and instructor are established on a yearly basis.
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1

SPA468H1  Topics in Modern Spanish-American Literature  26S
A course on a specific topic in Spanish American literature, designed for advanced students. Course content and instructor are established on a yearly basis.
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1

SPA471H1  The Historical Novel in Spanish America  26L
Issues of nationalism, historical awareness, and the rewriting of the past in Spanish-American fiction, with detailed study of representative texts. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y1
Recommended preparation: SPA258H1

SPA480H1  Theories of Culture in Latin America  26L
Theories of cultural identity and production, as articulated by Latin American thinkers since the Independence period. Issues for study will include civilization and barbarity, cultural imperialism, the commodification and consumption of cultural icons, museums, the mass media and national identity, processes of transculturation and cultural hybridity. (Offered in alternate years)
Prerequisite: SPA220Y1/319Y
Recommended Preparation: SPA258H1/259H1

Statistical methods have applications in almost all areas of science, engineering, business, government, and industry. The practising statistician is involved in such diverse projects as designing clinical trials to test a new drug, economic model-building to evaluate the costs of a guaranteed-income scheme, predicting the outcome of a national election, planning a survey of television viewing habits, and estimating animal populations.

Today’s consumer is bombarded with the results of so many quantitative studies using statistical methodology that it is necessary to know something about statistics in order to be properly critical. A basic knowledge of statistics should be an integral part of everyone’s general education.

Probability theory is used to analyse the changing balance among the age-groups in a population as the birth rate changes, the control force needed to keep an aircraft on course through gusts of wind, the chance that the demand for electricity by all the customers served by a substation will exceed its capacity. These are just three of many phenomena that can be analysed in terms of randomness and probability.

The course offerings are intended not only for specialists in the theory of the subject but also to serve the needs of the many other disciplines that use statistical methods, e.g. in sample survey design and experimental design. Students following the Specialist Program are encouraged to include courses in major fields of application in their overall program. The Major Program can be profitably combined with specialization in another discipline. Students in these programs may also qualify for the A.Stat designation from the Statistical Society of Canada.

Both applied and theoretical courses are offered in Statistics and Probability. The foundation courses STA 220H1, 221H1, 250H1, 255H1, 257H1, 261H1, and JBS 229H1 are distinguished primarily by their mathematical demands, as indicated by the prerequisites. Students interested in the Biological or Social Sciences will generally find the most relevant courses of the more advanced courses to be STA 302H1, 322H1, 332H1, and 429H1. Furthermore, the probability course STA 347H1 will be of interest to those whose field of application includes stochastic models.

Statistics Programs

Enrolment in these programs requires completion of four courses; no minimum GPA is required.

Statistics (Science program)

Specialist program:
(11 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)

First Year:
CSC 148H1/260H1 (may be taken in 2nd year); MAT 137Y1/157Y1

Second Year:
MAT 223H1/240H1, 224H1/247H1; MAT 237Y1/235Y1/257Y1; STA (257H1, 261H1) (MAT 223H1/240H1 recommended in First Year)

Higher Years:
1. STA 302H1, 347H1, 352Y1
2. 1.5 courses from Group A (MAT 237Y1 required) or 1.5 courses from Group B:
3. 1.0 course from: APM 346H1/351Y1, MAT 334H1/354H1, 337H1/357H1, 301H1/347Y1
4. 2.0 full courses from: ACT 300+ level courses; CSC 336H1/350H1, 354H1, 384H1; STA 300+ level courses

Group A:
STA 410H1/442H1, 414H1/422H1/438H1, 447H1

Group B:
STA 410H1, 442H1, 414H1/437H1/457H1
Statistics

Note
Substitutions of other Science/Social Science 300+ level courses for up to 1.0 courses in 4. above are possible with approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator

Major program:
(6.5 full courses or their equivalent)

First Year:
CSC 108H1/148H1/260H1 (may be taken in 2nd year); MAT 135Y1/137Y1/157Y1

Second Year:
MAT 223H1/240H1, 235Y1/237Y1/257Y1; STA (257H1, 261H1)/ (250H1, 255H1)/(247H1, 248H1)
(MAT 223H1/240H1 recommended in First Year)

Higher Years:
1. STA 302H1
2. A selection of four STA half-courses from STA 322H1, 332H1, 347H1, 352Y1, 410H1, 414H1, 422H1, 437H1, 438H1, 442H1, 457H1, 447H1, 450H1

Note
Suggested combinations for the four STA half courses are as follows:
1. Four of STA 347H1, 352Y1, 447H1
2. Four of STA 322H1, 332H1, 410H1, 437H1, 442H1, 457H1
3. Four of STA 332H1, 347H1, 410H1/437H1, 442H1/422H1

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent)
1. MAT 135Y1/137Y1
2. MAT 223H1/240H1; STA (250H1/(220H1, 221H1), 255H1)/ STA (247H1, 248H1)/STA (257H1, 261H1)
3. STA (302H1, 352Y1)/three STA half-courses at the 300/400-level

Statistics Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25) STA 220H1, 221H1, 250H1, 255H1, 257H1 and JBS 229H1 have NO distribution requirement status; STA 429H1 is a SCIENCE or SOCIAL SCIENCE course; all other STA courses are classified as SCIENCE courses.

SCI199H1/Y1 First Year Seminar 52S
Undergraduate seminar that focuses on specific ideas, questions, phenomena or controversies, taught by a regular Faculty member deeply engaged in the discipline. Open only to newly admitted first year students. It may serve as a breadth requirement course; see page 45.

STA107H1 An Introduction to Probability 39L, 13T and Modelling
Introduction to the theory of probability, with emphasis on the construction of discrete probability models for applications. After this course, students are expected to understand the concept of randomness and aspects of its mathematical representation. Topics include random variables, Venn diagrams, discrete probability distributions, expectation and variance, independence, conditional probability, the central limit theorem, applications to the analysis of algorithms and simulating systems such as queues.
Exclusion: ECO227Y1/STA255H1/257H1/ECO200Y1/STA247H1
Co-requisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1 (MAT137Y1/157Y1 is strongly recommended; MAT133Y1 is not acceptable)

STA220H1 The Practice of Statistics I 39L, 13T
An introductory course in statistical concepts and methods, emphasizing exploratory data analysis for univariate and bivariate data, sampling and experimental designs, basic probability models, estimation and tests of hypothesis in one-sample and comparative two-sample studies. A statistical computing package is used but no prior computing experience is assumed.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270H1/PSY201H1/ SOC300Y1/STA261H1/250H1/248H1
Prerequisite: Grade 12 Mathematics and one University course in the physical, social, or life sciences
STA220H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA221H1 The Practice of Statistics II 39L, 13T
Continuation of STA220H1, emphasizing major methods of data analysis such as analysis of variance for one factor and multiple factor designs, regression models, categorical and non-parametric methods.
Exclusion: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/PSY201H1/ SOC300Y1/STA261H1/250H1/248H1
Prerequisite: STA220H1
STA221H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

JBS229H1 Statistics for Biologists 39L, 13T
Continuation of STA220H1, jointly taught by Statistics and Biology faculty, emphasizing methods and case studies relevant to biologists including experimental design and analysis of
STA257H1 Probability and Statistics I 39L, 13T
This course covers probability including its role in statistical modelling. Topics include probability distributions, expectation, continuous and discrete random variables and vectors, distribution functions. Basic limiting results and the normal distribution presented with a view to their applications in statistics.
Exclusion: ECO227Y1/STA255H1/247H1
Prerequisite: MAT135Y1/137Y1/157Y1 (MAT137Y1/157Y1 is strongly recommended)
Co-requisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT237Y1/257Y1 is strongly recommended)
STA257H1 does not count as a distribution requirement course.

STA261H1 Probability and Statistics II 39L, 13T
A sequel to STA257H1 giving an introduction to current statistical theory and methods. Topics include: estimation, testing, and confidence intervals; unbiasedness, sufficiency, likelihood; simple linear and generalized linear models.
Exclusion: ECO227Y1/STA248H1/255H1
Prerequisite: STA257H1

STA299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

STA302H1 Regression Analysis 39L
Analysis of the multiple regression model by least squares; statistical properties of least squares analysis, estimate of error; residual and regression sums of squares; distribution theory under normality of the observations; confidence regions and intervals; tests for normality; variance stabilizing transformations, multicollinearity, variable search method.
Exclusion: ECO327Y1/357Y1
Prerequisite: STA255H1/248H1/261H1/ECO220Y1(70%)/227Y1/(STA257H1, MAT224H1)

STA322H1 Design of Sample Surveys 39L
Designing samples for valid inferences about populations at reasonable cost: stratification, cluster/multi-stage sampling, unequal probability selection, ratio estimation, control of non-sampling errors (e.g. non-response, sensitive questions, interviewer bias).
Prerequisite: ECO220Y1/227Y1/GGR270Y1/JS229H1/PSY202H1/SOC300Y1/STA220H1/221H1/250H1/261H1/248H1

STA332H1 Experimental Design 39L (formerly STA402H1)
Design and analysis of experiments: randomization; analysis of variance; block designs; orthogonal polynomials; factorial designs; response surface methodology; designs for quality control.
Prerequisite: STA302H1/352Y1/ECO327Y1/357Y1
Exclusion: STA402H1

STA347H1 Probability 39L
An overview of probability from a non-measure theoretic point of view. Random variables/vectors; independence, conditional expectation/probability and consequences. Various types of convergence leading to proofs of the major theorems in basic probability. An introduction to simple stochastic processes such as Poisson and branching processes.
Prerequisite: STA247H1/255H1/257H1/(ECO227, MAT237Y1/257Y1), MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT237Y1/257Y1 and STA257H1 are strongly recommended)
Statistics

STA352Y1  Introduction to Mathematical Statistics  78L
Prerequisite: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1 (MAT237Y1/257Y1); STA261H1 (STA257H1, MAT 224H1) (MAT237H1 very strongly recommended).

STA398H0/ Independent Experiential Study Project  399Y0
An instructor-supervised group project in an off-campus setting. See page 45 for details.

STA410H1  Statistical Computation  39L
Prerequisite: STA302H1, CSC108H1

STA414H1  Statistical Methods for Data Mining and Machine Learning  52L, 26P
Prerequisite: STA302H1/CSC411H1

STA422H1  Theoretical Multivariate Statistics  39L
Advanced topics in statistics and data analysis with emphasis on multivariate analysis. Classification and discrimination. Hotelling's T2, testing and estimation of regression parameters, classification and discrimination.
Prerequisite: MAT223H1/240H1, STA352Y1/437H1 (STA352Y1 strongly recommended).

STA424H1  Methods of Applied Statistics  39L
An introduction to current multivariate analysis, multivariate normal distributions, distribution of multiple and partial correlations, Wishart distributions, distribution of Hotelling's T2, testing and estimation of regression parameters, classification and discrimination.
Prerequisite: MAT223H1/240H1, STA352Y1/437H1 (STA352Y1 strongly recommended).

STA447H1  Advanced Statistics for the Life and Social Sciences  39L
Discrete and continuous time processes with an emphasis on Markov, Gaussian and renewal processes. Martingales and further limit theorems. A variety of applications taken from some of the following areas are discussed in the context of stochastic modeling: Information Theory, Quantum Mechanics, Statistical Analyses of Stochastic Processes, Population Growth Models, Reliability, Queuing Models, Stochastic Calculus, Simulation (Monte Carlo Methods).
Exclusion: STA348H1
Prerequisite: STA347H1

STA450H1  Topics in Statistics  39L
Topics of current research interest are covered. Topics change from year to year, and students should consult the department for information on material presented in a given year.

STA457H1  Time Series Analysis  39L
An overview of methods and problems in the analysis of time series data. Topics include: descriptive methods, filtering and smoothing time series, theory of stationary processes, identification and estimation of time series models, forecasting, seasonal adjustment, spectral estimation, bivariate time series models.
Prerequisite: ECO327Y1/357Y1/STA302H1
Recommended preparation: MAT235Y1/237Y1/257Y1

STA469H1/  Readings in Statistics  497H1
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

STA498Y1/  Readings in Statistics  499Y1
Independent study under the direction of a faculty member. Persons wishing to take this course must have the permission of the Undergraduate Secretary and of the prospective supervisor.

Trinity College

Trinity College offers Trinity One, a set of first-year courses, and four inter-disciplinary programs: Ethics, Society, and Law; Immunology; Independent Studies; and International Relations. The Major Program in Ethics, Society, and Law assembles courses offered by a variety of Departments and Colleges, including History, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology, and Woodsworth College. The Major Program in Immunology is assembled from offerings by the Departments of Biochemistry, Immunology, Microbiology, and Molecular Genetics and Molecular Biology. The International Relations Program encompasses courses offered by the Departments of History, Political Science, and Economics.

Trinity One

Trinity One provides first-year students with the opportunity to explore together significant issues and ideas pertaining to the conduct of human life and world affairs. There are two streams in Trinity One, each linked to a prominent aspect of the College's intellectual identity. One of the streams focuses on international relations, the other on ethics. Each stream includes two seminar courses limited to 25 students. These courses foster small-group discussion and emphasize the development of critical thinking skills, oral presentation skills, writing skills, and research skills. Cocurricular events, drawing upon the rich resources of the Munk Centre for International Studies at Trinity College, enable students in both streams of Trinity One to hear guest speakers and to engage in informal conversation with one another and with their professors.

Trinity College Programs

Ethics, Society, and Law (Arts program)

Consult: Dr. John Duncan, Room 303, Larkin Building, Trinity College, 416-978-2165.

Enrolment is limited to students with a CGPA of 2.80 who have completed four courses.

Independent Studies

Consult Professor C. Kanaganayakam, Room 305, Larkin Building, Trinity College (416-978-8250).

The College’s Independent Studies Program affords students the opportunity of investigating in depth topics of their own choice that are not directly part of the present curriculum. These topics normally involve interdisciplinary study, though under some circumstances they may require concentrated work in a single discipline. The scope of acceptable topics embraces the natural and social sciences as well as the humanities. Participation in the program is restricted to students who have completed at least ten courses. The maximum number of independent studies half courses for which a student may receive credit is one, and the maximum number of independent studies full course equivalents for which a student may receive credit is two. Normally the work done is to be the equivalent of two full courses. Permission to register in an independent studies half course, or in an independent studies full course, will normally be granted only to students with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.50. Permission to undertake an independent studies project for the equivalent of two full courses will normally be granted only to students with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.70.

All proposals are subject to the approval of the Coordinator.

Students must submit to the Coordinator before the beginning of the academic year a copy of their academic transcript and an outline of their topic (signed by the supervisor) and a suggested bibliography. For evaluation of the work done in the program a short thesis or equivalent is required, prepared and submitted by the last day of classes in the fall or winter session as appropriate. The supervisor and a second reader (nominated by the supervisor and approved by the Coordinator before the end of September) are responsible for the evaluation. The Coordinator will require regular progress reports throughout the year.

Either the supervisor or the second reader must be a tenured University of Toronto faculty member. A supervisor who is not a tenured University of Toronto faculty member will normally be required to be a full-time faculty member of the University.

Students enrolling for the first time register for one or more of TRN 300H1, 301Y1, 302Y1, for one or more of TRN 400H1, 404Y1, and 405Y1, as appropriate. Those enrolling for a second time register in one or more of TRN 400H1, 404Y1, and 405Y1, as appropriate.

University College offers a number of programs and courses outside the areas traditionally covered by departments. These include programs and courses in Aboriginal Studies, Canadian Studies, Cognitive Science, Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence, Drama, Health Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, and Sexual Diversity Studies, in addition to 199Y1 Seminars, and introductory courses for non-specialists in mathematics and physics. The overall aims of the College Programs are to foster interdisciplinary work in significant areas of study and to encourage intellectual breadth. Many program courses are open to students not enrolled in the programs themselves.

The Aboriginal Studies Program (Major, Minor) is described elsewhere in this Calendar, under Aboriginal Studies.

The Canadian Studies Program (Specialist, Major, Minor)

The Canadian Studies Program (Specialist, Major)

The Cognitive Science Program (Specialist, Major) is an interdisciplinary exploration of the nature of cognition, drawing mainly on the perspectives of Computer Science and two of Linguistics, Philosophy, and Psychology.

The Drama Program (Specialist, Major, Minor) is described elsewhere in this Calendar, under Drama.

The Health Studies Program (Specialist, Major) focuses on health policy, practices, statistical methods, social and cultural expression, and the many areas of study that surround, interact with and support bio-medical research and clinical activity. The Major serves as a general introduction; the Specialist provides a more intense research focus with greater statistical emphasis.

The Peace and Conflict Studies Program (Specialist, Major)

The Sexual Diversity Studies Program (Major, Minor)

UNI, DRM and ABS courses are staffed by a combination of specific program staff members and members of various University departments, and are open to all students of the University. Further information on University College programs is available from the College.

See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.

For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), UNI courses are variously classified; see entry at end of each course.

Canadian Studies Courses

JWU200H1  Toronto in the Canadian Context  26L
Toronto is a complex urban region marked by social diversity and a multi-textured cultural scene. This course examines Toronto's history, culture, society, economy and status as a global city within the Canadian context.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

UNI201H1  Aspects of Québec Society  26S
Contemporary Québec from social, economic and political perspectives.

This is a Social Science course.

UNI202H1  Aspects of Québec Culture  26S
An exploration of modern Quebec culture as expressed in literature and the performing arts. Through a selection of internationally-known entertainers, we examine form, artistic innovation, communication of information and knowledge and spectatorship. Novels and plays provide key elements such as tradition and historical context.

This is a Humanities course.

UNI205H1  Topics in Canadian Studies I  26L
A focused introduction to specific issues in Canadian culture and society. Content will vary from year to year. Specific course information will be available on the Canadian Studies web site at www.utoronto.ca/canstudies.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

SOC218Y1  Asian Communities in Canada  52L
(formerly SOC342Y1)
The course will explore the structures and processes of Asian communities in Canada. Historical development of various Asian communities will be explored. Other topics include ethnic economy, ethnic media, ethnic churches, and ethnic voluntary organizations in Asian communities. Experts in related topics are invited to present their research findings. Non-sociology students may seek departmental permission to enrol.

Exclusion: SOC 342Y1/394Y1

This is a Social Science course.

UNI218H1  Voices in Canadian Writing  26S
A study of the variety of voices in Canadian fiction. Issues such as marginalization and the formulation of the Canadian canon are discussed.

This is a Humanities course.

UNI220Y1  Understanding Canada Today:  52L, 26T
Re-Imagining the Nation
An introduction to key events and issues in contemporary Canada. This course provides a multi-disciplinary perspective on a wide range of topics such as constitutional reform; multiculturalism and immigration; social welfare; environmentalism; globalization; economic policy; gender and sexuality; arts and culture.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course.

UNI221H1  Culture and the Media in Canada  26L
An exploration of the encounter between culture and mass communication in Canadian society. The course includes a consideration of the major institutions affecting culture such as the CBC, the NFB, and the granting bodies, and largely focuses on particular instances and case studies in the arts and media. Emphasis is placed on the changing role of nationalism, and the relationship between political concerns and Canadian culture.

This is a Social Science course.

UNI304H1  Beyond Multiculturalism:  26S
Ethnicity and Race in Canada
A multidisciplinary examination of the emergence of new approaches to identity and community that go beyond official bilingualism and multiculturalism. To include cultural/literary works as well as historical and social scientific analyses illuminating relations between cultural and racial communities in post 1960's Canada, with an emphasis on Toronto.

Prerequisite: UNI 220Y1 or two courses on the study of Canada.

This is a Humanities or a Social Science course.

UNI305H1  Topics in Canadian Studies 2  26L
An in-depth study of selected questions in contemporary Canadian culture and society. Content will vary from year to year. Specific course information will be available on the Canadian Studies web site at www.utoronto.ca/canstudies.

This is a Humanities or Social Science course.

UNI307Y1  Asian Cultures in Canada  52L
An exploration of the cultural histories and creative production specific to a wide range of Asian communities in Canada. Content will present humanities perspectives according to the instructor’s specialty. Experts in specific areas —literature, dance, drama, film—will be invited to present their work.

Recommended Preparation: UNI 220Y1

UNI317Y1/317H1  Politics of Aboriginal Self-Government  52L/26L
A survey of some of the main issues surrounding the politics of aboriginal self-government in Canada. Proceeding historically, the course examines the legal and political conditions that have fuelled the call for self-government. (Offered in alternate years)

Prerequisite: ABS201Y1/POL102Y1/103Y1/UNI220Y1 or permission of the instructor

This is a Social Science course.

JUG320H1  The Canadian Wilderness  26L
The idea of wilderness permeates narratives of Canadian national identity, while policy-makers seek to manage and contain natural areas. This course compares and contrasts historical and contemporary wilderness narratives in literature, painting and film with policies in areas such as conservation, urban planning, land claims and tourism. (Offered by University College and the Geography Department.)

This is a Social Science course.
UNI320Y1  Canadian Questions: Issues and Debates  52L
An in-depth study of selected questions facing contemporary Canada. Students are encouraged to examine topics from multiple disciplinary perspectives drawn from the Social Sciences and Humanities. Issues addressed in recent years include: multiculturalism in contemporary film; residential schools; African Canadian culture; North American integration; citizenship and global cities; genetics and cloning.
This is a Humanities or a Social Science course

UNI420Y1  Senior Essay  52S
Students select an appropriate research topic and, in consultation with the Program Director, make arrangements with a suitable supervisor. Research projects must be approved by the supervisor preferably by April of the preceding academic year. Students meet periodically during the year in seminar to participate in peer evaluations of: statement of research, literature review, methods of analysis, and to share reports of progress in research.
Prerequisite: Open only to Majors and Specialists in the Canadian Studies program

UNI430H1  Senior Seminar: Special Topics in Canadian Studies  26S
An upper level seminar. Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor.
Prerequisite: UNI220Y1 or two courses on the study of Canada

Cognitive Science & Artificial Intelligence Course

UNI250Y1  Introduction to Cognitive Science  78L
(formerly JUP250Y1)
An introduction to the problems, theories and research strategies central to the interdisciplinary field focusing on the nature and organization of the human mind and other cognitive systems. Interrelations among the philosophical, psychological, linguistic and computer science aspects of the field are emphasized. (Offered by University College and the Department of Philosophy)
Exclusion: JUP250Y1
This is a Humanities course

UNI301H1  Exploring Artificial Intelligence  13L, 26P
(formerly JUP301H1)
A hands-on course for students with some programming background to enable direct understandings of programs in traditional AI, neural networks, genetic algorithms, artificial life, dynamic systems, and robotics. Simple and classical algorithms are demonstrated, and students will learn to operate and extend them. This course gives second- and third-year students experience of working models that they have read about, and can also serve as an introduction to programming in artificial intelligence and cognitive science.
Prerequisite: CSC107H1/108H1 or Instructor's permission
Co-requisite: UNI250Y1
Exclusion: JUP301H1
This is a Science course.

UNI302H1  Bases of Cognition  39L
(formerly JUP302H1)
Extending the depth of understanding of conceptual issues in cognitive science, including intentionality, semantics, mechanism, and consciousness. Students study primary literature, including Descartes, Turing, Chomsky, Brooks, Dennett, Searle, et al. and they elaborate their own conceptual frameworks in cognitive science.
Co-requisite: UNI250Y1
Exclusion: JUP302H1
This is a Humanities course.

UNI401H1  Advanced Cognitive Science  26S
(formerly JUP450H1)
A seminar on the following questions: “What is consciousness? What does it take for a creature to be conscious? What is objectivity? How may a creature be objective?” Students bring to bear on these questions their diverse background in analytic philosophy, anthropology, artificial intelligence, connectionism, linguistics, neuroscience, phenomenology, or psychology.
Readings cover visual perception, spatial navigation, attention, working memory, reference, object permanence, evolution of language, the frame problem, the binding problem, and the qualia problem.
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Cognitive Science or Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence Program, and permission on the instructor
Exclusion: JUP450H1

Health Studies Courses
Enrolment in UNI courses listed under Health Studies is restricted to students enrolled in the Health Studies program.

UNI200H1  Introduction to Research Methods in Health Studies  78L
(formerly UNI200Y1)
This course will offer students in Health Studies a basic understanding of research design and data collection on health topics and the usefulness of data collection in the formation of health policy.
Exclusion: POL 242Y1, SOC 200H1, UNI200Y1, WDW 350Y1
This is a Social Science course

UNI210H1  Introduction to Statistical Analysis in Health Studies  78L
(formerly UNI200Y1)
This course will offer students in Health Studies a basic understanding of statistical data analysis, data interpretation, and the use of such data in the formation of health policy.
Exclusion: POL 242Y1, SOC 202H1, UNI200Y1, WDW 350Y1
This is a Social Science course

UNI300Y1  Introduction to Social and Health Care Policy  52L, 26T
(formerly UNI202Y1)
Health care is increasingly contentious with aging population, advancements in medical technology, government fiscal restraints. How to achieve best health care given limited resources, and ensure fair, equal, accessible health care. Overview of current policy issues and its relationship to social inequality, gender, and race, provide analytical tools for understanding.
Exclusion: SOC 351Y1
Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI370H1  Psychology of Physical Activity and Sport  39L
(formerly UNI351H1)
This course develops the students’ understanding of individual behaviour towards physical activity, sport and play. While the focus is on the individual participant, the course also examines the basic psychological theories underlying behaviour.
Exclusion: PHE 300H1
Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI371H1 Physical Activity and Social Inequality 26L, 13T Opportunities for physical activity are profoundly affected by the social structures of Canadian society and persistent inequalities. This course enables students to study the effects of class, gender, race, and sexuality upon opportunities, programs and practices and the means by which social equity might be more effectively pursued.
Exclusion: PHE 301H1
Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI373H1 Population Health 39L
This issue-oriented course will extend students’ understanding of the broad definitions of health and its determinants, and population-based strategies of health promotion in Canada.
Topics include: variations in health status as affected by population patterns, class, gender, ethnicity, employment, and family composition; the major causes of morbidity and mortality; the concept of “community health”, and the opportunities and constraints facing public policy.
Exclusion: PHE 312H1
Corequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
This is a Social Science course

Note
The following 400-series courses are open only to students enrolled in the Health Studies program or those who have received approval of the Program Director:

UNI400Y1 Practicum in Health Studies TBA
Individual field placement with a health research or administration professional, in which the student applies theory and skills to a specific project. Culminates in an oral and written report.
This is a Social Science course

UNI409H1 Special Topics on Health Research 26S
The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular health researchers and scholars. In a given year, the course may focus on AIDS, tobacco addiction, nutritional issues in low-income countries, and the persistence of infant health problems in poor
Canadian communities.
This is a Social Science course.

UNI410H1 Communities and Community Health 26S
This course is about the formation and growth of communities – about their social organization and the problems that small and vulnerable communities often face. There will be a focus on problems of poverty, social marginality, and powerlessness, and the health consequences of these for community members.
Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
Recommended Preparation: UNI 300Y1
This is a Social Science course.

UNI440H1 Epidemiology 26S
This course aims to provide an introductory understanding of the basic concepts and methods in epidemiology. The emphasis will be on descriptive methods and study design. Computational techniques, measurement problems, and issues that surround the drawing of inferences from area-level or other aggregate data will be discussed.
Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
Recommended preparation: UNI 300Y1, UNI 373H1
This is a Social Science course.

UNI446H1 Health Care 26L
Cultural dimensions of health and illness and their significance for health professionals; cross-cultural communication; assessment of clients from culturally diverse backgrounds;
delivery of culturally sensitive health care.
This is a Social Science course

UNI462H1 Case Studies in Health Policy 26L
Formulation and implementation of public policy using studies focused on theoretical concepts; comparisons of policy alternatives.
This is a Social Science course

UNI464H1 International Health 26L
A course intended to widen the horizons and learning opportunities of future health system managers through international and intercultural learning, and to provide a learning environment for understanding different ways of approaching issues and problems related to health sciences management.
This is a Social Science course

UNI471H1 Physical Activity, Health and the Media 26L, 13T
This course draws upon communications theory, political economy, semiotics and sociology to examine the ways in which meanings about physical activity are produced, distributed, and consumed through the media. Topics include:
the social marketing of health, advertising and the “body politic”, media advocacy, sports and fitness marketing, and the production of sport as a media event.
Prerequisite: PHE 301H1/UNI 371H1
Exclusion: PHE 402H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI472H1  Body, Health and Culture  26L, 13T
This course examines the body as a terrain of complex cultural politics. Drawing upon a variety of sources, especially post-modern theory, cultural anthropology, and philosophy, it will consider the ways in which the “body” has been conceptualized and the ways in which discourses on bodies have led to important political struggles, particularly in the social construction of health and sickness.
Exclusion: PHE 403H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI473H1  Physical Activity in the Ancient and Early Modern World
The ancient Greeks and Romans were intensely interested in sport, physical education, and the maintenance of physical strength and health. The Renaissance revived this interest and transformed physical pursuits from marginal activities into structured components of the social system. Our contemporary concepts of sport, health, and physical culture were first formulated at that time. The readings (in English translation) will be taken from original ancient and early-modern documents.
Exclusion: PHE 423H1
This is a Social Science course

UNI474H1  Health Topics in Literature  26S
The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular scholars to offer the course. Its purpose is to take advantage of the occasional availability of a prominent humanist in the health field. In a given year, the course may focus on changes in the perception and portrayal of illness or death or disability in the poetry, prose or drama of a particular country: England, France, and so on.
This is a Humanities course.

UNI476H1  Historical Approaches to Health  26S
The specific content of this course will vary from one year to another, depending on the availability of particular historians to offer the course. In a given year, the course may focus on the Black Death epidemic in Europe, problems of sanitation in ancient Rome, nutritional issues in pre-industrial China, and so on.
This is a Humanities course.

UNI480H1  Independent Research in TBA Health Studies
This one-semester course will permit students to gain academic credit for health studies pursued independently under the supervision of a University of Toronto faculty member; or to participate in an ongoing health research project under the joint supervision of the project’s Principal Investigator and the Director of the Health Studies Program
Prerequisite: UNI 200H1, 210H1
Recommended Preparation: UNI 300Y1
This is a Social Science course.

Peace and Conflict Studies Courses

UNI260Y1  Introduction to Peace and Conflict Studies (formerly UNI110Y1)
A review of the full range of theories explaining the nature and causes of conflict and possibilities for its resolution; provides students with a set of theoretical tools for effective analysis of interpersonal, civil, and international conflict.
Exclusion: UNI 110Y1
This is a Social Science course

UNI360Y1  Topics in Peace and Conflict  52L
An in-depth exploration of selected issues introduced in UNI 260Y1. Topics may include: negotiation theory; ethnic and group-identity conflict; feminist perspectives on peace and war; mathematical modeling of arms races and war; decision-making theory and conflict; environmental change and conflict; and traditional perspectives on statecraft.
Prerequisite: UNI 260Y1 or permission of the instructor
Recommended preparation: POL 208Y1
This is a Social Science course

JUP460Y1  Contemporary Issues in Peace and Conflict (formerly UNI 460Y1)
A colloquium (fall session) and research seminar (winter session) on the changing meanings of security. Concepts to be considered, and to be applied in research, range from the conventional (feminist theorizing, the GAIA hypothesis) to the familiar (collective security, deterrence). (Offered by University College and the Department of Political Science)
Exclusion: UNI 460Y1
Prerequisite: POL 208Y1, UNI 260Y1 and UNI 360Y1, or permission of instructor and Program Director
This is a Social Science course

Sexual Diversity Studies Courses

UNI255H1  History and Perspectives in Sexual Diversity
An interdisciplinary examination of sexuality across cultures and periods. How are sexualities represented? How are they suppressed or celebrated? How and why are they labeled as straight, gay, lesbian, bisexual, queer, or perverse? How do sexualities change with ethnicity, class, and gender?
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI 256H1  Sexualities: Social, Organizational, and Legal Contexts
A social sciences approach to sexual diversity across societies, and of the increased visibility of that diversity in such settings as the family, the workplace, and the law, as well as the role that such contexts play in shaping sexual identity.
This is a social science course.

UNI354H1  Theories of Sexuality I: The Foundations
A survey of classic western theories of sexuality; each theory is examined in terms of the practices it allows and prohibits. Under consideration are not only the descriptive and/or prescriptive aspects of a particular framework but its epistemic grounds, and implications for understanding identity, body, community, and state.
Prerequisite: UNI 255H1
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI355H1  Theories of Sexuality II: Contemporary Perspectives
An integrated survey of some ways in which sexuality has been theorized recently. How have desire and its identities been conceptualized and deployed? What are the implications for psychoanalysis, feminism, and cultural production? What interconnections are yet to be made between sexuality and the markers of gender, race, and class?
Prerequisite: UNI255H1 or permission of instructor
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI365H1 Sexuality and Law  26L/S
An overview of the points where sexuality and law intersect, through surveying ways of thinking about how law interprets, regulates and defines sexuality, and how communities and groups oppressed on the basis of sexuality fare under the law in Canada and elsewhere.
Prerequisite: POL315H1/UNI255H1/UNI256H1 or permission of instructor
This is a Humanities course

UNI375H1 Special Topics in Sexual Diversity Studies  26L/S
Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor. This seminar is intended to expose students in the Sexual Diversity Studies program to topics that may not be covered by permanent university courses. See www.utoronto.ca/sexualdiversity/special.html for descriptions of current topics.
Prerequisite: UNI255H1/UNI256H1 or permission of instructor

UNI455H1 Special Topics in Sexual Diversity Studies  26S
Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor. This seminar is intended to expose students in the Sexual Diversity Studies program to topics that may not be covered by permanent university courses. See www.utoronto.ca/sexualdiversity/special.html for descriptions of current topics.
Prerequisite: UNI 255H1/UNI256H1
Recommended preparation: POL 315H1/UNI 354H1/UNI355H1
This is a Humanities or Social Science course

UNI475H1 The New Queer Visibility  26S
This interdisciplinary course critically examines the socio-political cultural context that has produced a new queer visibility. The course assesses many of the post-Stonewall changes in the North American public sphere and the interrelationship between the new queer visibility and the North American public sphere.
Prerequisite: UNI255H1 and UNI355H1 or permission of the instructor

Other University College Courses

JUM202H1 Mathematics as an Interdisciplinary Pursuit (formerly JUM102H1)  26L, 13T
A study of the interaction of mathematics with other fields of inquiry: how mathematics influences, and is influenced by, the evolution of science and culture. Art, music, and literature, as well as the more traditionally related areas of the natural and social sciences may be considered. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM102H1
JUM202H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM203H1 Mathematics and Poetry (formerly JUM103H1)  26L, 13T
A study of games, puzzles and problems focusing on the deeper principles they illustrate. Concentration is on problems arising out of number theory and geometry, with emphasis on the process of mathematical reasoning. Technical requirements are kept to a minimum. A foundation is provided for a continuing lay interest in mathematics. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM103H1
JUM203H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

JUM205H1 Mathematical Personalities  26L, 13T (formerly JUM105H1)
An in-depth study of the life, times and work of several mathematicians who have been particularly influential. Examples may include Newton, Euler; Gauss, Kowalewski, Hilbert, Hardy, Ramanujan, Gödel, Erdős, Coxeter, Grothendieck. (Offered every three years)
Exclusion: JUM105H1
JUM205H1 is particularly suited as a Science Distribution Requirement course for Humanities and Social Science students.

UNI299Y1 Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

UNI393Y1/ University College  TBA
394H1 Independent Studies
An opportunity to pursue at the 300-level an independent course of study not otherwise available within the Faculty. A written proposal, co-signed by the instructor, must be submitted on the appropriate proposal form for approval by the Vice-Principal of University College prior to registration.
Prerequisite: Permission of University College Vice-Principal

UNI495Y1/ University College  TBA
496H1 Independent Studies
An opportunity to pursue at the 400-level an independent course of study not otherwise available within the Faculty. A written proposal, co-signed by the instructor, must be submitted on the appropriate proposal form for approval by the Vice-Principal of University College prior to registration.
Prerequisite: Permission of University College Vice-Principal

Victoria College offers Vic One, a first year sequence of courses, and interdisciplinary programs and courses listed below so that students have an opportunity to examine important themes and problems of our culture from a variety of points of view. Most of the courses introduce ideas and methods from various disciplines; in this way students can explore areas of interest they otherwise might overlook, and also gain insight into comparative studies.

Several of the courses have a place in the established programs of study indicated below. In addition, the courses are designed to serve the interests of those who, whatever their intended field of specialization, wish to introduce variety into their program, or who have not decided on a discipline, and wish to examine different approaches to humane studies.

VIC One
Victoria College offers first-year Arts and Science students an opportunity for a unique educational experience that draws upon the college's history and identity. Four streams with differing emphasis are available in this foundation year program, known as Vic One. They are named in honour of four respected Canadian leaders, all Victoria College alumni. The Frye stream, named after former Victoria College professor and renowned literary critic Northrop Frye, focuses on the humanities. The Pearson stream, named after former Canadian prime minister Lester Pearson is concerned with the social sciences. The Augusta Stowe-Gullen stream, named after the first woman to graduate from a Canadian medical school, is of interest to students wishing to pursue studies in the life sciences. The Egerton Ryerson stream, named after the first Principal of the College who was a pioneer in Canadian education, is an opportunity to introduce first year students to issues in education and teaching.

The four streams feature seminars, lectures, small tutorials and informal conversation, and are enriched by guest professors, visiting artists, writers, ambassadors and other public figures.

Each Vic One stream comprises three first-year courses out of the five courses taken by most first year students. Two courses in each stream are seminars courses given by Victoria College. They have a limited enrolment of 25 students in each class. The third course is selected, in the Pearson stream, from the first-year offerings in history or political science; in the Frye stream, it is JEF 100Y: The Western Tradition; in the Stowe-Gullen stream, it is BIO 150Y: Organisms in their Environment, and in the Egerton Ryerson stream, it is PST 100H1, Introductory Psychology.

Vic One enrolment is limited to 150 students. It requires an application that is found on the Vic One web site (www.vicu.utoronto.ca). All first-year students in the Faculty of Arts and Science, regardless of college membership, are eligible for admission to Vic One. Admission decisions are made based on extra-curricular activities, a short original essay and the student's entering grades.

VIC First: Pathways for First Year
The Vic First experience is created by a Pathway that links together two stimulating first year courses, at least one course or section with limited enrolment; delivered by outstanding lecturers. Vic First also adds extra value in additional out-of-class activities. Each Pathway combines one of the popular large courses offered on the Vic campus with a complimentary smaller enrolment course that will offer students a sense of being in an academic cohort. The Pathways will provide an excellent foundation for a student's subsequent studies. Priority will be given to Victoria College students at the beginning of registration. Thereafter Vic First will be open to all first-year students in the Faculty of Arts and Science.

The Literary Studies Program
(Major, Minor and Joint Specialist with Philosophy) will be attractive to students who wish to read major works drawn from a variety of languages and cultural contexts. The program combines close attention to literary texts with theoretical reflection on relations between literary and non-literary works (for example, philosophy, art, film, history). Contemporary debates in literary and cultural theory will play a key role.

The Renaissance Studies Program
(Specialist, Major and Minor) studies one of the critical periods in European and world history. The Renaissance witnessed
The Semiotics and Communication Theory Program (Major and Minor) investigates the science of communication and sign systems, the ways people understand phenomena and organize them mentally, the ways in which they devise means for transmitting that understanding and for sharing it with others. It covers all non-verbal signalling and extends to domains whose communicative dimension is perceived only unconsciously or subliminally. Knowledge, meaning, intention and action are thus fundamental concepts in the semiotic investigation of phenomena.

Victoria College Programs

Literary Studies (Arts program)
Consult Professor J. Levine or Professor J.W. Patrick, Victoria College
Enrolment in the Literary Studies program is open to students upon completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-level course)
1. JEF100Y1 or approved equivalent.
2. VIC 201Y1, 210Y1, 310Y1;
3. At least 1.5 full courses from VIC 300H1/Y1, VIC 301H1/Y1, VIC 311Y1, VIC 401Y1, VIC 410H1/Y1, VIC 411H1/Y1, JNV 300H1, and if appropriate.
4. A maximum of 1.5 full courses, chosen in consultation with and approved by the Program Coordinator, from the offerings of the university's departments and college programs.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ level course)
Four courses from: JEF100Y1, VIC 201Y1, 210Y1, 211Y1, 300H1/Y1, 301H1/Y1, 311Y1, 401Y1, 410Y1, 411H1/Y1, JNV 300H1 and a half-course chosen in consultation with the Program Coordinator.

Literary Studies and Philosophy (Arts program)
Consult Professor J.W. Patrick, Victoria College, or Professor R. Comay, Department of Philosophy.

Specialist program:
(14 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 400-series course)
1. The seven courses of the Literary Studies Major program (above)
2. Six Philosophy courses, at least three of them 300+ series
   It is strongly recommended but not required that courses in the following areas be included:
   One Introductory
   1/2 Logic
Two History of Philosophy
1/2 Ethics/Social and Political Philosophy
One Epistemology/Metaphysics
1/2 Aesthetics/Philosophy of Literature
3. Normally the 14th course will be a senior essay (PHL 490Y or VIC 490Y) written under the supervision of faculty members from Philosophy and Literary Studies or a faculty member approved by Philosophy and Literary Studies

Renaissance Studies (Arts program)
Consult Professor N. Terpstra, Victoria College.
Enrolment in the Renaissance Studies program is open to students upon completion of four courses; no minimum GPA required.

Specialist Program
(10 full courses or their equivalent, including at least three 300+ series courses and one 400-level course):
1. VIC 240Y1
2. Six additional full course equivalents from the Major program.
3. One Research Course (a 299Y1, 399Y1, or Independent Studies course on a topic in Renaissance studies approved by Program Coordinator)
4. Two full course equivalents in a language (only one may be at the introductory level).

Major program:
(6 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)
1. VIC 440Y1
2. Equivalent of two full credits from: VIC 240Y1, 341H1, 343Y1, 344H1, 345H1, 346H1, 347Y1, 348Y1, 349H1/Y1, 440H1/Y1.
3. One full course equivalent in Literature from: ENG 220Y1, 243Y, 301H1, 302Y1, 303H1, 304Y1, 330H1, 332Y1, 333H1, 440Y1, 455H1; FRE 320Y1, 359H1, 420H1; ITA 249H1, 312H1, 325H1, 332H1, 356H1, 370H1/Y1, 409H1, 426H1, 470H1; PRT 351H1; SPA 352H1, 452H1, 454H1.
4. One full course equivalent in History or Economics from: ECO 301Y1; HIS 243H1, 303Y1, 309H1, 357Y1, 362H1, 403H1, 412Y1, 438H1, 441H1, 443H1/Y1.
5. One full course equivalent in Art or Music from: FAH 274H1, 277H1, 306H1, 307H1/Y1, 308H1/Y1, 324H1/Y1, 325Y1, 326H1/Y1, 332Y1, 333H1, 335H1, 339H1, 341H1, 342H1, 352Y1, 355H1, 428H1, 432H1, 438H1, 440H1, 439H1, 442H1, 450H1; MUS 208H1.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course)
1. Equivalent of two full courses from: VIC 240Y1, 341H1, 343Y1, 344H1, 345H1, 346H1, 347Y1, 348Y1, 349H1/Y1, 440H1/Y1.
Semiotics and Communication Theory (Arts program)

Program Director: Principal D. Cook, Victoria College.
Program Coordinator: Professor M. Danesi, Victoria College.

Note: Enrolment in the Semiotics program is limited to students with a CGPA of 2.8 in at least four full courses or their equivalent. Achievement of this minimum CGPA does not guarantee enrolment in the program.

Major program:
(7 full courses or their equivalent, including at least two 300+ series courses)
1. One course from: ANT 100Y1, LIN 100Y1, PHL 100Y1, PHL 102Y1, SOC 101Y, RLG 101Y.
2. Three full course equivalents from: VIC 220Y1, 223Y1, 320Y1, 323Y1.
3. Three full course equivalents from at least two different disciplines from Groups A-E.

Minor program:
(4 full courses or their equivalent, including at least one 300+ series course)
1. One course from: ANT 100Y1, LIN 100Y1, PHL 100Y1, PHL 102Y1, SOC 101Y, RLG 101Y.
2. Two full course equivalents from: VIC 220Y1, 223Y1, 320Y1 and 323Y1.
3. One full course equivalent from Groups A-E.

Note: JFV 323H1 is a recommended Group E course.

Women and Gender Studies provides an interdisciplinary and culturally inclusive approach to gender that critiques, interrogates and expands the parameters of traditional disciplines.

Students in the Undergraduate Program in Women and Gender Studies (UWGS) have access to a wide range of courses in a rapidly developing, intellectually challenging field. The program offers integrated, interdisciplinary courses that reflect the cutting-edge research of our core and cross-listed faculty as well as the most current national and international Women and Gender Studies scholarship.

Students are also offered a wide range of support services through annual events such as the career workshop, the one-day student workshop, the International Women's Day celebration, and community and research seminars which are designed for students who will be working in fields related to Women and Gender Studies.

The Undergraduate Program in Women and Gender Studies seeks to inform and transform traditional forms of knowledge and provides a physical and intellectual space to conduct anti-racist feminist scholarship.

Courses numbered WGS330H1 - 339H1 are reserved for Special Topics in Women and Gender Studies offered each year by visiting scholars. Topics will change according to the interests of the instructor.
Women and Gender Studies

Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1/NEW261Y1/WGS261Y1/permission of the instructor
Exclusion: NEW369H1

WGS372H1 Women and Psychology/ Psychoanalysis 26L
An interdisciplinary analysis of the relationship of women to a variety of psychological and psychoanalytical theories and practices. Topics may include women and the psychological establishment; women’s mental health issues; feminist approaches to psychoanalysis. Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1/NEW261Y1/WGS261Y1/permission of the instructor

WGS373H1 Gender and Violence 26L
Gendered violence in both historical and contemporary contexts including topics such as textual and visual representations of violence against women; victimhood and agency; legal and theoretical analyses; resistance and community mobilization. Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1/NEW261Y1/WGS261Y1/permission of the instructor

WGS374H1 Feminist Studies in Sexuality 26L
Sexual agency as understood and enacted by women in diverse cultural and historical contexts. An exploration of the ways in which women have theorized and experienced sexual expectations, practices and identities. Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1

WGS375H1 Colonialism, Sexuality, Spirituality and the Law 26L
This course examines the challenge of indigenous knowledges posed to colonialism by analyzing Spanish and British legal codes. Focusing on the links between sexuality and spirituality, we explore how gender shaped the social dynamics of conquest and resistance and draw out the implications for contemporary colonialisms. Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1/NEW261Y1/WGS261Y1

JNV 300H1 Gender, History and Literature 26L
The study of a selected group of creative writers from at least two national literatures whose texts raise issues regarding gender as either an historically or culturally variable construct. Texts will be chosen on the basis of a shared historical era, a literary genre, experience, institutional categorization, or project. Prerequisite: One course in Literary Studies or one course in Women and Gender Studies

400-Series Courses
Students wishing to enrol in 400-Series courses must fill out a ballot form available from the Women and Gender Studies Program Office, Room 2036, Wilson Hall, New College, 20 Willcocks St. This form must be signed and approved by both the course instructor and the Undergraduate Coordinator for the Women and Gender Studies Program. Students cannot enrol in 400-Series courses on ROSI.

WGS425Y1 Women and Issues of International Development 52S
Provides a gender analysis of the political economy of development and globalization, and a critical overview of related feminist theoretical, policy, and strategy debates. Issues explored include feminisation of labour, gender mainstreaming, trafficking in women, poverty-alleviation strategies, and transnational feminist organizing. Recommended Preparation: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1, POL201Y1 or another course addressing development issues, and a half course at the 300+ level in Women and Gender Studies.
This is a Social Science course

WGS434H1 Advanced Topics in Women and 435H1 Gender Studies
An upper level seminar. Topics vary from year to year depending on instructor. Recommended preparation: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1, one full course at the 300+ level in Women and Gender Studies

WGS440H1 Gender and the Sacred 26S
This course examines how gender illuminates the sacred by focusing upon the forces of nature within the Vodou and Yoruba cosmological systems. We will explore how these sacred knowledges disturb the secular parameters of feminism through close attention to the conceptual and ceremonial practices among practitioners in the diaspora. Prerequisite: NEW160Y1/WGS160Y1/NEW261Y1/WGS261Y1
Exclusion: NEW435H1/WGS435H1, winter session 2005.

Woodsworth College sponsors programs in two areas - Criminology and Employment Relations. The specialist and major programs in Criminology provide students with a foundation to begin the study of crime and the administration of the Canadian criminal justice system. The programs in Criminology may be combined with programs in Political Science, Psychology or Sociology.

The specialist and major programs in Employment Relations provide students with the opportunity to study the employment relationship in a Canadian context, from the perspectives of a number of disciplines such as economics, history, law, management, political science, and sociology. Students enrolled in the Criminology and Employment Relations programs are given priority when registering in WDW courses.

Enquiries: Program Office, Woodsworth College, Room 236 (416-978-5783), or at www.wdw.utoronto.ca.

Woodsworth College Courses
See page 31 for Key to Course Descriptions.
For Distribution Requirement purposes (see page 25), all WDW courses are classified as SOCIAL SCIENCE courses.

Criminology Courses
For all WDW Criminology courses, students must be enrolled in the Specialist or Major Program in Criminology.

WDW200Y1 Introduction to Criminology 52L, 26T
The nature of crime and the Canadian system designed to control it. Introduction to major approaches to understanding crime and the development of criminal law, significant research on crime and the criminal justice system, laws and procedures related to crime and crime control in Canada. Not open to first year students.
Prerequisites: Four full credits including one full credit in ECO/ HIS/PHL/POL/PSY/SOC, and a CGPA of 2.5

WDW220Y1 Introduction to Criminal Law and Procedure 52L, 26T
An introduction to criminal law and the criminal process. The essential elements of criminal liability, including defences to criminal charges, the general characteristics of offences against the person, sexual offences, regulatory offences, and 'victimless' offences. The criminal process, from investigation to sentencing, and the implications of the Charter of Rights for both substantive criminal law and criminal procedure.
Co- or Prerequisite: WDW200Y1

WDW300H1 Crime: Theory and Policy 39L
Major social and political theories of crime, law and justice, and their implications for policy development in the criminal justice system. The origins of central ideas that influence criminological theory and policy, seen in an historical context. Students are encouraged to develop the analytical skills needed to think critically about criminal justice policy.
Prerequisite: An average of at least 70% in WDW200Y1 and 220Y1 combined, and a CGPA of 2.5. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW310H1 Crime and Society in Canadian History 39L
Criminal justice history in the context of Canada's social, political and economic development from the 18th to the 20th centuries. Topics covered include: colonization and resistance, gender and sexuality, policing and punishment, and the development of criminal law.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW320H1 The Prosecution Process 39L
The historical evolution of the modern prosecution system. The exercise of discretion, and accountability for prosecutorial decision-making, recent adaptations and alternatives to the existing prosecution process, including current concepts of diversion, 'reintegrative shaming' and 'restorative justice.'
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW335H1 Policing 39L
A theoretical framework is developed to examine the nature of policing, its structure and function. Attention is given to the history of policing and to its public and private forms. An examination of the objectives and domain, as well as the strategies, powers, and authority of contemporary policing; including decision-making, wrong-doing, accountability, and the decentralization of policing.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW340H1 Penology 39L
The study of punishment from historical and philosophical perspectives, with a focus on contemporary Canadian policy issues. Topics covered include penal theory, prisons and non-carceral forms of punishment, and the goals of penal reform.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW350Y1 Research Methods in Criminology 52L, 26T
An introduction to social science research methods used by criminologists. An understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of published criminological research is developed. Specific technical issues of sampling, measurement and statistics are taught in the context of examining alternative ways of answering research questions.
Exclusion: SOC200Y1, 200H1, 202H1
Prerequisite: An average of at least 70% in WDW200Y1 and 220Y1 combined, and a CGPA of 2.5. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW360H1 Law and Psychiatry 39L
The increasing involvement of psychiatrists and other mental health professionals in the criminal justice system over the past 150 years, including contemporary Canadian practices. Emphasis is placed on understanding and evaluating competing interpretations of this phenomenon.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW365H1 Crime and Mind 39L
Legal, psychological and sociological understandings of issues in the criminal justice system, through a consideration of topics including: criminal intent, the insanity defence, the concept of ‘psychopathy’, the use of ‘battered woman syndrome’ as part of a self-defence, issues of transcultural psychiatry, and jury screening for bias.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW370H1 Youth Justice 39L
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1
WDW375H1 Young Offenders 39L
Historical and contemporary definitions of illegal conduct by young persons. The nature and extent of youth crime, and an analysis of theories which attempt to explain it. Assessment of the effectiveness of treatment and other strategies for preventing and responding to youth crime.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW380H1 Crime and Gender 39L
Theoretical and policy discussions of the ways in which criminal law and the criminal justice system regulate gender and sexuality. Topics such as violence against women, abortion, prostitution, pornography and sexual orientation are considered, leading to an analysis of gender issues in modern states by feminist, legal and political theorists.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW385H1 Representing Crime & Authority 39L
Cultural constructions of crime, disorder, dangerousness and risk are integral parts of the criminal justice system. A critical analysis of how police, crown attorneys, judges and the media construct their authority through symbols and images, in order to "explain" and manage crime, and how these representations are regarded in public discourse.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW 387H1 Legal Regulation of Morality 39L
Regimes for prohibiting and regulating consensual activities such as drug use, pornography, prostitution, abortion, assisted suicide and gambling. Historical evolution of the law, current substantive elements required for conviction, philosophical and criminological perspectives on the decriminalization or legalization of these activities, and an examination of how other countries regulate them.
Prerequisite: WDW 200Y1, 220Y1
Exclusion: WDW 391H1 in 2002

WDW390H1 Topics in Criminology 39L
391H1/392H1/393H1/394H1
Topics vary from year to year, but the objective of the course is to explore emerging issues in Criminology, and their social, legal, ethical and political implications.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1

WDW395H1 Independent Study TBA
Independent study under the direction of a Criminology faculty member.
Prerequisite: WDW200Y1, 220Y1. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW400H1 Current Issues in Criminology 26S
An advanced seminar exploring in detail current issues in Criminology. Topics vary from year to year, but the objective of the course is to discuss current issues and their social, ethical and legal implications.
Prerequisite: Two 300-level WDW half-courses in Criminology. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW405H1 Risk, Uncertainty & Criminal Justice 26S
An advanced seminar exploring how new conceptions of risk and uncertainty are transforming responses to crime. Leading edge theories and empirically based studies of how risk and uncertainty are addressed in law, the contemporary criminal justice system, and other social institutions.
Prerequisite: Two 300-level WDW half-courses in Criminology. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW410H1 History of Canadian Criminal Justice 26S
An advanced seminar exploring themes of Canadian criminal justice history, from the late-eighteenth to the mid-twentieth centuries. The course does not concentrate on the "facts" of history; rather it examines how historians interpret and present historical material. Critical analytical skills are developed through the exploration of historical writing.
Prerequisite: WDW300H1, 310H1, 350Y1, enrolment in the Criminology Specialist program

WDW415H1 Crime and Politics 26S
An advanced seminar examining the development of criminal justice and penal policies in Canada, the United States, Western Europe and Russia; the way authorities in those countries define and manage political deviance and the intrusion of politics into the administration of justice, especially in non-democratic settings.
Prerequisite: WDW300H1, 350Y1, enrolment in the Criminology Specialist program

WDW420H1 Current Issues in Criminal Law 26S
An advanced seminar exploring in detail current issues in criminal law. Topics vary from year to year, but the objective of the course is to discuss current policy and case law developments in the criminal law, and their social, political and ethical implications. The role of Parliament and the judiciary in the development of the criminal law is considered.
Prerequisite: Two 300-level WDW half-courses in Criminology. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

WDW435H1 Seminar in Policing 26S
An advanced seminar examining the policing function from an historical, social and legal perspective, with emphasis on changes in the organization, structure and control of policing, and the implications of the different forms of policing for crime control, maintenance of order, and social control.
Prerequisite: WDW300H1, 335H1, 350Y1, enrolment in the Criminology Specialist program

WDW440H1 Seminar in Penology 26S
An advanced seminar examining contemporary issues in criminal punishment. Theories of punishment and the development of prisons in the wider system of social control in Western societies. Modern penal systems from social and legal perspectives.
Prerequisite: WDW300H1, 340H1, 350Y1, enrolment in the Criminology Specialist program

WDW450H1 Criminology Research Project TBA
An individual research project under the direction of a Criminology faculty member. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.
Prerequisite: WDW300H1, 350Y1, enrolment in the Criminology Specialist program
WDW480H1  Interpersonal Violence  26S
The meaning, purposes and sources of interpersonal violence, including an examination of debates over defining and documenting violence, and a review of the research on the relationships between illegitimate, interpersonal violence and state-approved or state-initiated violence. Cultural, social and individual correlates of interpersonal violence; law's violence; and how violence is justified and denied. Exclusion: WDW 400H1 in 2004-2006
Prerequisite: Two 300-level WDW half-courses in Criminology. Approval of the Undergraduate Co-ordinator is required.

Employment Relations Courses

WDW244H1  Labour Relations  39L
Introduction to the institutions, issues and legislation affecting the employment relationship in the public and private sectors in Canada, with emphasis on collective bargaining. The economic and political environment, history of the labour movement, union organization, certification, contract negotiation, strikes, dispute resolution, contract administration and grievances. Exclusion: ECO244Y1, WDW244Y1
Prerequisite: Four courses and a CGPA of at least 2.0

WDW260H1  Organizational Behaviour  39L
Introduction to nature of organizations and the behaviour of individuals and groups within organizations, including topics such as culture and diversity, reward systems, motivation, leadership, politics, communication, decision-making, conflict and group processes. Not recommended for students in Commerce programs.
Exclusion: MGT262H1
Prerequisite: Four courses and a CGPA of at least 2.0

WDW344H1/ 345H1/ 346H1/ 347H1/ 348H1/ 349H1  Topics in Employment Relations  39L
Topics vary from year to year, but the objective of the course is to discuss current employment relations issues and their economic, legal, political and social implications.

WDW367H1  Compensation  39L
The theory and process of developing and administering compensation systems. Through the core compensation principles of efficiency, equity, consistency and competitiveness we consider such topics as: job analysis, job evaluation, pay levels and structures, pay for performance, benefits, and compensating special groups of workers.
Prerequisite: WDW260H1/MGT262H1

WDW 378H1  Employment Health  39L
The influence of legislation, the labour market and collective bargaining on health policies and programs in the workplace. The rights and responsibilities of employers, employees, unions and governments for the regulation and promotion of workplace health and safety; and the implications of evolving demographic, economic, and social factors.
Prerequisite: WDW 244H1, 260H1

Other Woodsworth College Courses

WDW299Y1  Research Opportunity Program
Credit course for supervised participation in faculty research project. See page 45 for details.

WDW396H1/ 397Y1  Research Participation TBA
Credit course for supervised participation in a faculty research project. Offered only when a faculty member is willing and available to supervise. Faculty members review proposals with the Program Director, then make the opportunity known to students as appropriate. Open only to third and fourth year students.
Prerequisite: Completion of at least nine full courses. A CGPA of at least 3.0 is recommended. Approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator is required.

Writing and Rhetoric: see Innis College
Writing at University

(Note: For courses in creative writing, see entries under "English" (ENG), “Innis College” (INI) and “Victoria” (VIC) in this Calendar.)

The ability to think critically and to write well-organized, clear, grammatical prose is important to your work in many courses. It will improve your chances if you apply to graduate or professional schools and will also give you an advantage in the workplace. To help you develop your writing skills, the university provides a range of instructional resources.

Courses

Departments and programs integrate instruction on writing into their courses, and some offer courses that concentrate on communication in their disciplines. Check the course listings by department. In any course, your instructors will provide guidelines for course assignments, and you may ask them to discuss written work that has been graded and returned to you.

In addition, the university offers a number of courses in writing non-fiction prose:

ENG100H1 (Effective Writing) and ENG269Y1 (Writing: Purposes, Strategies, Processes) are listed under “English” in this Calendar.

TRN190Y1 (Critical Reading and Critical Writing) is listed under “Trinity College”

Innis College now offers a minor program called Writing and Rhetoric. See the program website at www.utoronto.ca/innis/writingprogram.htm. Its offerings include the following courses, all listed under “Innis College”: INI203Y1 (Foundations of Written Discourse), INI204Y1 (The Academic Writing Process), INI300Y1 (Strategic Writing: Theory and Practice), INI301H1 (Contemporary Issues and Written Discourse: Rhetoric and the Print Media in Canada), INI304H1 (The Illusion and Reality of Evidence), INI305H (Modern Exphrasis: Word and Image in the Twentieth Century), INI311Y1 (Seminar in Creative Writing and Literary Translation), and INI412Y1 (Prose Style across Genres).

The University of Toronto at Mississauga (UTM) offers a program in Professional Writing and Communication. For more information, see the program’s website at www.utm.utoronto.ca/academic/profwp/index.html. Consult with your college registrar about taking courses at UTM. These are among the courses offered: WRI203H5 (Expressive Writing), WRI303H5 (Specialized Prose), WRI307H5 (Science and Writing), WRI310H5 (Social and Professional Languages), WRI320H5 (History and Writing), WRI325H5 (Community and Writing), WRI330H5 (Oral Rhetoric), WRI340H5 (Critical Reading and Listening), WRI390H1 and WRI391H1 (Independent Studies), and WRI392H1 (Research and Writing)

WRT Courses are CREDIT/NO CREDIT courses that provide opportunities for senior students to develop advanced writing skills in their disciplines. These courses count for degree credit but no grades are awarded and so evaluation will not affect GPA. There will be a tuition charge. These courses cannot be taken to fulfill the distribution requirement.

WRT306H1 Writing for Scientists 26L

Intensive practice and instruction for senior science students. Teaches the essentials of writing in science courses and scientific research. Examines individual and collaborative activities in academic and professional life, focusing on such genres as the abstract, research report, poster, proposal, and product documentation. Readings introduce themes applicable to written communication in the sciences.

Prerequisite: 9.0 courses completed; major or specialist enrolment in science program

Exclusion: CSC290H1, PST309H1, PSL497H1

WRT306H1 has NO distribution requirement status.

Writing Centres

The Writing Centres provided free of charge at undergraduate colleges will help you develop the writing skills needed throughout your university studies. They offer both individual and group instruction. See the webpage www.utoronto.ca/writing/news.html for announcements about group workshops and non-credit courses.

In individual consultations, trained writing instructors help you improve your ability to plan, write, and revise, using your assignments from any subject as examples. Some instructors specialize in the needs of students using English as a second language. You are entitled to use the writing centre of the college where you are registered or living in residence, or the department where you are taking a course. Here is a list of Arts and Science writing centres, including phone numbers and websites for obtaining further information and making appointments:

Self-Help Material

Campus libraries stock many reference guides on academic writing. Besides general handbooks on style and format, you will find books that specialize in the ways to write for specific disciplines. You can also consult the website “Writing at the University of Toronto” at www.utoronto.ca/writing. It offers over 60 specialized files giving advice on university writing, along with links to other useful online resources, and it gives current information on writing instruction at U of T.

While Departmental counsellors and the Registrars of the Colleges are always available to give advice and guidance, it must be clearly understood that THE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH THE STUDENT for completeness and correctness of course selection, for compliance with prerequisite, co-requisite requirements, observance of exceeded courses, etc., for completion of Program details, for proper observance of degree requirements, the Distribution Requirement and for observance of regulations, deadlines, etc. Students are responsible for seeking guidance from a responsible officer if they are in any doubt, misunderstanding, or advice received from another student will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, program or degree requirement.

Important Notices

Changes in Programs of Study
The subject POSs, or programs of study, that our Calendar lists and describes are available for the years to which the Calendar applies. They may not necessarily be available in later years. If the University or the Faculty must change the content of programs of study or withdraw them, all reasonably possible advance notice and alternative instruction will be given. The University, however, will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such changes might cause.

Changes in Courses
For each program of study offered by the University through the Faculty, the courses necessary to complete the minimum requirements of the program will be made available annually. We must, however, reserve the right otherwise to change the content of courses, instructors and instructional assignments, enrolment limitations, pre-requisites and co-requisites, grading policies, and timetables without prior notice.

Changes in Regulations & Policies
The University has several policies that are approved by the Governing Council and that apply to all students. As well, the Faculty has rules and regulations that apply to all students registered in courses and programs offered by the Faculty. The Faculty's rules and regulations are presented in the pages that follow and applicable University policies are either fully displayed or listed in the subsequent pages of the Calendar. The University and Faculty assume that each student has become familiar with the policies. In applying to the Faculty the student assumes certain responsibilities to the University and the Faculty and, if admitted and registered, shall be subject to the rules, regulations, and policies cited in the Calendar, as amended from time to time.

Calendar and Registration Handbook & Timetable Limitations
The University makes every reasonable effort to plan and control enrolment to ensure that all of our students are qualified to complete the programs to which they are admitted, and to strike a practicable balance between enrolment and available instructional resources. Sometimes such a balance cannot be struck and the number of qualified students exceeds the instructional resources that we can reasonably make available while at the same time maintaining the quality of instruction. In such cases, we must reserve the right to limit enrolment in the programs, courses, or sections listed in the Calendar and Registration Handbook & Timetable, and to withdraw courses or sections for which enrolment or resources are insufficient. The University will not be liable for any loss, damages, or other expenses that such limitations or withdrawals might cause.

Copyright in Course Lectures
If a student wishes to tape-record, photograph, video-record or otherwise reproduce lecture presentations, course notes or familiar materials provided by instructors, he or she must obtain the instructor's written consent beforehand. Otherwise all such reproduction is an infringement of copyright and is absolutely prohibited. In the case of private use by students with disabilities, the instructor's consent will not be unreasonably withheld.

Person I.D. (Student Number)
Each student at the University is assigned a unique identification number. The number is confidential. The University, through the Policy on Access to Student Records, strictly controls access to Person I.D. numbers. The University assumes and expects that students will protect the confidentiality of their Person I.D.'s.

Registration
Details of the procedures by which students of the Faculty of Arts and Science register and enrol in courses for which they are eligible, and pay or make arrangements to pay fees, are found in the Registration Handbook and Timetable, which students receive from their college. (Any student allowed to register one day after the end of the first week of classes is charged a late fee of $43.00; for each day thereafter the fee is an additional $5.00.)

Passed Courses May Not Be Repeated
Students may not repeat any course in which they have already obtained a mark of 50% or higher. The only exceptions occur when students require a course with a specific grade for entry to a limited-enrolment Program. Students may repeat such a course only once as an "extra" course, which will have no effect on status or Grade-Point Average. There are no supplemental examinations or provisions to "upgrade" a mark. All courses taken, except those officially cancelled, remain on the record.

Degree Courses and "Extra" Courses: Chronological Principle
Courses are credited towards a degree chronologically. For example, if a student has already passed six 100-series courses and then enrols in further 100-series courses, the more recent courses are counted as "Extra" courses. An exception occurs when a student who has completed 5.5 100-series courses enrols in a full course at the 100-level in a subsequent session; the most recently taken half-course becomes "extra."
Rules & Regulations

Taking Courses Outside the Faculty

Courses at UTSC and UTM

Students registered on the St. George campus of the Faculty of Arts and Science may enrol in most courses offered by UTM and UTSC, provided that they meet the enrolment controls and prerequisites established by those divisions. These courses count towards the 20 credits required for a St. George degree and are included in the CGPA. These courses may also count towards St. George program requirements; students should check with their program office before enrolling.

However, there are some courses offered by UTM and UTSC that may not be counted towards St. George degree credit or the CGPA. A full list of these courses is posted on the Arts and Science web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/ofr/calendar/utmutscc.htm.

A student who wishes to enrol in one of these courses should petition through his/her College Registrar’s office. If the petition is granted the student will be permitted to enrol in the course but it will be marked as “EXTRA” on the transcript and will not be counted for degree purposes nor included in the CGPA calculation.

Courses of Other Divisions

Students should select their courses from those offered in the Faculty of Arts and Science. If, however, they identify a course(s) offered in another division, faculty or school of the University that may be appropriate for inclusion in their degree program, they may petition for permission to register in the course for degree credit. In the petition, students must establish that the content and aims of the course(s) are valid for a specific Arts and Science program and cannot be met by courses offered within the Faculty of Arts and Science. The students should initiate the procedure well in advance of the beginning of classes, so that they may choose alternate courses should the request is denied. The Faculty will not accept as reasons for taking courses in other divisions the wish to satisfy requirements to qualify for programs and organisations outside the Faculty or to prepare for non-academic or professional purposes.

Graduate Courses: Acceptance of petitions to take graduate courses is further subject to the requirements of the School of Graduate Studies (CGPA of 3.0).

Non-degree students may enrol through this Faculty in courses given by this Faculty or the University of Toronto at Mississauga or the University of Toronto at Scarborough only.

See the section on petitions and appeals starting on page 463 for more information.

Courses of Other Universities (Letters of Permission and Transfer Credit)

Degree students with a cumulative grade point average of at least 1.50 before studying elsewhere may take a maximum of 5.0 full-course equivalents elsewhere for transfer credit. Students admitted with transfer credit may be limited in the number of courses that they may transfer after admission and should consult the chart available on the web at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current/tc. Prior to taking courses at another Canadian or American university, students are advised to request a Letter of Permission to confirm acceptability of those courses for transfer credit. Otherwise, students may submit a request for transfer credit after completing courses elsewhere. Permission obtained from an instructor or from a department for program purposes, however, does not obligate the Faculty to grant transfer credit. There is a $25.00 non-refundable charge for each request. Assessments of transfer credit may take several weeks to process depending on the time of year and the nature of the request. Applicants are responsible for submitting requests well in advance of any deadlines they must meet and for obtaining the appropriate counselling concerning the Letter of Permission and/or Transfer Credit process.

Note:

Only one transfer credit may be used to satisfy the requirement of 300+ series courses for the degree. Please refer to the Letters of Permission and Transfer Credit (Post-Admission) Guidelines on the Registrar’s Office web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current/tc.

Cancelling Courses or Registration

Cancelling Courses

Students who do not intend to complete a course or courses must use the Student Web Service to cancel the course before the final date to cancel courses from the academic record (see Sessional Dates, page 6). Students still enrolled in a course after the final date to cancel the course will receive a grade for that course. Not attending classes or ceasing to complete further course work or not writing the examination do not constitute grounds for cancellation without academic penalty from a course; the course remains on the record with the grade earned, including “O” for incomplete work.

Cancelling Registration

Students who wish to cancel all their current courses, and do not intend to enrol in any other courses for the rest of the session (Fall, Winter or Summer) must cancel their registration by using the Student Web Service at www.rosi.utoronto.ca or in writing by notifying their College Registrar. The cancellation of registration must be completed by the appropriate deadline in order for the student not to incur an academic penalty. Before any refund is authorized, they must:

1. Pay any outstanding fees;
2. return any books to the Library and pay any outstanding fines;

Corrections to the Academic Record

The Faculty will accept requests for corrections to an academic record of the Fall-Winter Session up to the following 15 November, and corrections to their record of the Summer Session up to the following 28/29 February.

Note:
Students are responsible for ensuring that they provide a valid mailing address to assure that they receive a Statement of Results at the end of the Fall-Winter and Summer Sessions. The mailing address must be kept up-to-date on the Student Web Service at www.rosi.utoronto.ca. Students who cease attending a course without officially cancelling or after the cancellation deadline will be considered to be enrolled in that course. It will be included in their official Statement of Results.

Fees

Fees are subject to change at any time by approval of the Governing Council. Tuition fees normally consist of academic fees (including instruction and library) and incidental/ancillary fees (including Hart House, Health Services, Athletics and student organizations). Additional ancillary fees may also be assessed for enrolment in some specific courses. Consult the Student Accounts web site at www.fees.utoronto.ca or the Bursars of St. Michael's and Trinity Colleges.

Fees Invoice and Payment

Students receive an invoice by mail or in person at Students Accounts or their college bursar’s office (St. Michael’s and Trinity students) detailing fees for their specific program and selection of courses. Payment is made at a financial institution — consult the instructions sent with the invoice. You can also pay your fees using telephone or online banking if your bank offers this service. Refer to the Registration Handbook & Timetable for further details.

Payment Deadlines

Deadlines are available from the Student Accounts Office or from the college bursar’s offices (St. Michael’s and Trinity students).

To avoid delays, students are advised to pay fees early.

All fees and charges posted to your account are payable. If not paid in full, any outstanding account balance is subject to a monthly service charge of 1.5% per month compounded (19.56% per annum). Outstanding charges on your account from prior sessions are subject to a service charge as of the 15th of every month until paid in full."

Students with outstanding accounts may not receive official transcripts and may not re-register at the University until these accounts are paid.

Fees for International Students

In accordance with the recommendation of the Government of Ontario, certain categories of students who are neither Canadian citizens nor permanent residents of Canada are charged higher academic fees. Refer to the Student Accounts web site at www.fees.utoronto.ca for details.

Further information on fees may be obtained by students of Innis, New, University, Victoria and Woodsworth Colleges from the Student Accounts Office, University of Toronto, 215 Huron St., Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A2: 416-978-2142. Students of St. Michael’s and Trinity Colleges should consult their College Bursar.

Financial Assistance

A limited number of in-course bursaries, scholarships and awards is available to students who need financial assistance or who qualify for them on the basis of academic merit. Information on these, and the Ontario Student Assistance Program, is available on the following web sites:

Faculty of Arts & Science web site: www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca

Admissions and Awards web site: www.adm.utoronto.ca/afa/or the College Registrars’ offices and web sites.

Sanctions on Account of Outstanding Obligations

The following are recognized University obligations:

(a) tuition fees;
(b) academic and other incidental fees;
(c) residence fees and charges;
(d) library fines;
(e) loans made by Colleges, the Faculty or the University;
(f) Health Service accounts;
(g) unreturned or damaged instruments, materials and equipment;
(h) orders for the restitution, rectification or the payment of damages, fines, bonds for good behaviour, and requirement of public service work imposed under the authority of the Code of Student Conduct.

The following academic sanctions are imposed on Arts and Science students with outstanding University obligations:

1. Official transcripts of record will not be issued;
2. Registration will be refused to continuing or returning students.

Payments made by continuing or returning students will first be applied to outstanding University debts and then to current fees.
Rules & Regulations

Course Marks

Term Work and Term Test Regulations

The following regulations summarize the Faculty's implementation of the University's Grading Practices Policy, Parts I and II of which are reprinted in full starting on page 467 (Part III is an administrative appendix and is available upon request from the Office of the Vice-President and Provost; however grade scales may be seen on page 461 of this Calendar).

Marking Schemes

Both essays (or equivalent work) and examinations (including term tests) are normally required for standing in courses. In courses where only one form of evaluation is used, a single piece of work cannot count for all of the final mark.

Self-evaluation by individual students or by groups of students is not permissible unless the specific consent of the Committee on Academic Standards is received.

As early as possible in each course, and no later than the last date to enrol in courses, the instructor must announce in a regularly-scheduled class the methods by which student performance will be evaluated, their relative weight in the final mark, including any discretionary factor, and the due dates. These methods must be in accord with applicable University and Faculty policies (See TERM WORK and TERM TEST below, especially bold-faced items.) Instructors must file a copy of their marking scheme for each course with the Departmental or Program Office at the beginning of the term.

Once the weight of each component of the course work is given, it may not be changed unless approved by a majority of the students present and voting at a regularly-scheduled meeting of the class.

After the last date to cancel the course without academic penalty, no change in marks weighting may take place unless there is unanimous consent of all students present and voting, and notice must be given at the regularly-scheduled class meeting previous to that at which the issue is to be raised.

Students may petition for deletion of the course from their record and receive an appropriate fees refund, should an infraction of the Grading Practices Policy occur. Petitions must be filed by the last day of classes, before all course work has been completed.

Term Work

Instructors MUST assign, grade and return at least one significant assignment as early as possible, and at the latest BEFORE the final date to cancel without academic penalty.

All term work must be submitted on or before the last day of classes in the course concerned, unless an earlier date is specified by the instructor. Students who for reasons beyond their control are unable to submit an assignment by its deadline must obtain approval from their instructor for an extension of the deadline. This extension may be for no longer than the end of the Final Examination period. If additional time beyond this period is required, students must petition through their College Registrar before the end of the examination period for a further extension of the deadline.

Students are strongly advised to keep rough and draft work and copies of their essays and assignments, as these may be required by the instructor.

All written work that has been evaluated should be returned with such detailed comment as the instructor deems appropriate, and time made available for discussion of it. Any enquiries about a graded piece of work must be made within one month of the return date of the work. Instructors must keep unclaimed term work for at least six months beyond the end of the course.

Term Tests

No term test or combination of term tests held in the last two weeks of classes at the end of any term may have a total weight greater than 25% of the final mark.

All term tests must be held on or before the last day of classes. No term test may be held during the “Reading Week” in February, during the “Study Week” in April, or during Faculty Examination Periods, except for those in F or Y-courses scheduled by the Faculty in December.

Missed Term Tests

Students who miss a term test will be assigned a mark of zero for that test unless they satisfy the following conditions:

1. Students who miss a term test for reasons entirely beyond their control may, within one week of the missed test, submit to the instructor or department/program a written request for special consideration explaining the reason for missing the test, and attaching appropriate documentation, such as a medical certificate.

2. If a written request with documentation cannot be submitted within one week, the department may consider a request to extend the time limit.

3. A student whose explanation is accepted by the department will be entitled to one of the following considerations:

   a) In courses where there is no other term work as part of the evaluation scheme, a makeup test must be given.

   b) In other courses, the department/program may either give a makeup test OR increase the weighting of other graded work by the amount of the missed test. In no case may the weighting of the final examination in a 100-level course be increased beyond 2/3 of the total course mark.

4. If the student is granted permission to take a makeup test and misses it, then he or she is assigned a mark of zero for the test unless the department/program is satisfied that missing the makeup test was unavoidable. No student is automatically entitled to a second makeup test.

5. A student who misses a term test cannot subsequently petition for late withdrawal from the course without academic penalty on the grounds that he or she has had no term work returned before the drop date.

* Note

This means that if a department is persuaded of the student's grounds for missing the makeup test, it may decide to compensate for the missed test in whatever way it chooses, which could be by giving another makeup test; the student cannot demand another makeup test.
Faculty Final Examinations

A Faculty final examination common to all sections of the course and counting for between one-third and two-thirds of the final mark must be held in each 100-series course, unless exemption has been granted by the Committee on Academic Standards. In 200-, 300- and 400-series courses, the Departments will decide whether or not an examination is appropriate, and report to the Committee. The ratio of term work to examination mark will be the same for all sections of multi-section courses that have final examinations. The relative value of each part of a written examination must be indicated on the question paper.

Final examinations are held at the end of each session or subsession. Students taking courses during the day may be required to write evening examinations, and students taking evening courses may be required to write examinations during the day. Examinations may be held on Saturdays. Students who make personal commitments during the examination period do so at their own risk. No special consideration is given and no special arrangements are made in the event of conflicts.

Students who are unable to write their examinations due to illness, domestic affliction, etc., should contact their College Registrar (see "Petitions Regarding Examinations", page 464). Students who have two Faculty final examinations at the same time, or three consecutive Faculty final examinations (e.g., morning, afternoon, evening; or afternoon, evening, next morning) should contact the Office of the Faculty Registrar well before the examination period begins. Information regarding dates, times and locations of examinations will not be given by telephone; for the most up to date examination timetable consult the Faculty Website.

Rules for the Conduct of Examinations

1. No person will be allowed in an examination room during an examination except the candidates concerned and those supervising the examination.
2. Candidates must appear at the examination room at least twenty minutes before the commencement of the examination.
3. Candidates shall bring their student photo identification cards and place them in a conspicuous place on their desks.
4. Bags and books are to be deposited in areas designated by the Chief Presiding Officer and are not to be taken to the examination desk or table. Students may place their purses on the floor under their chairs.
5. The Chief Presiding Officer has authority to assign seats to candidates.
6. Candidates shall not communicate with one another in any manner whatsoever during the examination.
7. No materials or electronic devices shall be brought into the room or used at an examination except those authorized by the Chief Presiding Officer or Examiner. Unauthorized materials include, but are not limited to: books, class notes, or aid sheets. Unauthorized electronic devices include, but are not limited to: cellular telephones, laptop computers, programmable calculators, MP3 players (such as an iPod), Personal Digital Assistants ("PDA" such as Palm Pilot or Blackberry), pagers, electronic dictionaries, Compact Disc Players, and Mini Disc Players.
8. Candidates who bring any unauthorized materials or electronic devices into an examination room or who assist or obtain assistance from other candidates or from any unauthorized source are liable to penalties under the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters, including the loss of academic credit and expulsion.
9. In general, candidates will not be permitted to enter an examination room later than fifteen minutes after the commencement of the examination, nor to leave except under supervision until at least half an hour after the examination has commenced.
10. Candidates shall remain seated at their desks during the final ten minutes of each examination.
11. At the conclusion of an examination, all writing shall cease. The Chief Presiding Officer may seize the papers of candidates who fail to observe this requirement, and a penalty may be imposed at the discretion of the instructor.
12. Examination books and other material issued for the examination shall not be removed from the examination room except by authority of the Chief Presiding Officer.

Special Accommodations Fee

Students who request permission to write an examination outside the normal examination arrangements must submit a petition making their request at least three weeks prior to the beginning of the examination period. Late requests cannot be accommodated. A non-refundable fee of $30.00 for each examination is charged at the time of application. Students who have been granted permission to write a deferred examination will pay this fee in addition to the deferred examination fee of $70.00 per examination.

If permission has been granted for the examination to be written at an "Outside Centre", students are also responsible for all costs for invigilation, postage, etc. charged by the centres involved. These costs can reach as high as $100.00 per examination; students are advised to determine the total cost before petitioning. Such permission is granted only in the most extreme circumstances.

* The grade point values above apply to marks earned in individual courses; grade point averages are weighted sums of the grade points earned (see below), and thus do not necessarily correspond exactly to the scale above. For example, a B+ average would include grade point averages from 3.20 to 3.49, while the lowest B- average would be 2.50.

Note:

In order to “obtain standing” in a course, a student must receive at least a passing grade (50%) in that course. A Grade of “F” is a failure. There are no supplemental examination privileges in the Faculty.

Other notations, which have no grade point values, and which may be authorized only by petition, are:

AEG

Aegrotat Standing on the basis of term work and medical evidence

CR/NCR

Credit/No Credit; is not in general use in the Faculty

NGA

No Grade Available

GWR

Grade withheld pending Review

IPR

(Course) In Progress

SDF

Standing Deferred granted by petition

WDR

Late Withdrawal without academic penalty after the relevant deadline. Removal of a grade for incomplete work when withdrawal before the end of the course has been caused by circumstances beyond the student’s control, arising after the last date for course cancellation. Changes to the record will be authorized by petition only in exceptional circumstances.

XTR or X

Extra Course not for degree credit; course has no effect on status or grade point average.
Grade Point Average

The Grade Point Average is the weighted sum (a full course is weighted as 2, a half-course as 1) of the grade points earned, divided by the number of courses in which grade points were earned.

However, courses noted “AEG” are not included in the average, nor are transfer credits, courses taken elsewhere on a Letter of Permission, nor courses designated as “extra.” Courses taken as Non-degree students and Non-degree visiting students are included in the CGPA.

Three types of grade point averages are used:
1. The Sessional GPA is based on courses taken in a single session (Fall, Winter or Summer);
2. The Annual GPA is based on courses taken in the Fall-Winter Sessions;
3. The Cumulative GPA takes into account all courses not marked “extra” in the Faculty.

A Sessional, Annual, and Cumulative GPA is also calculated for all Non-degree and Non-degree visiting students. For Non-degree students who have completed a degree in the Faculty, the Cumulative GPA includes all courses taken both as a degree student and as a non-degree student.

Academic Standing

There are four kinds of academic standing: In Good Standing; On Probation; On Suspension; Refused Further Registration

Academic standing is assessed twice a year:
1. At the end of the Winter Session; the GPAs used for this status assessment are the annual and the cumulative GPAs.
2. At the end of the Summer Session; the GPAs used for this status assessment are the sessional and the cumulative GPAs.

In Good Standing:

Students are described as In Good Standing if they are neither On Probation, Suspended nor Refused Further Registration; these terms are explained below. For students with particularly noteworthy academic results, there are three specific forms of recognition, which are described in the “Student Services & Resources” section starting on page 12.

Probation; Suspension; Refused Further Registration

The following regulations apply to students who have attempted at least four courses* in the Faculty.
1. A student shall be on academic probation who
   a) has a cumulative GPA of less than 1.50 or
   b) returns from suspension.
2. A student who, at the end of the Winter or Summer Session during which he or she is on probation
   a) has a cumulative GPA of 1.50 or more shall be in good standing
   b) has a cumulative GPA of less than 1.50 but an annual GPA of 1.70 or more (Winter Session)/sessional GPA of less than 1.70 (Summer Session) shall continue on probation.
3. A student who, having been suspended for three years, is again liable for suspension shall be refused further registration in the Faculty.

* Courses attempted are those in which a student remains formally enrolled on the last date for cancellation, unless the academic penalty normally attached to a later cancellation is removed by petition.

Grades Review Procedure

The Committee on Academic Standards administers the Grading Regulations, and reviews course grades submitted by Departments. The Faculty, through this Committee, is responsible for assigning the official course grades, which are communicated to the students by the Faculty Registrar.

Each Chair appoints a departmental review committee to review grades submitted by instructors. The committee may ask for clarification of any anomalous results or distributions, or disparity between sections of the same courses. Both the departmental review committee, through the Chair, and the Faculty review committee, through the Dean, have the right, in consultation with the instructor of the course, to adjust marks where there is an obvious and unexplained discrepancy between the marks submitted and the perceived standards of the Faculty. Final marks are official, and may be communicated to the students only after the review procedure has taken place. Grades, as an expression of the instructor’s best judgment of each student’s overall performance, will not be determined by any system of quotas.
Rules & Regulations

Appeals and Petitions

Students are responsible for observing sessional dates, course prerequisites, and exclusion, satisfying the degree requirements and following the rules and regulations in the Calendar and the Registration Handbook and Timetable; failure to inform themselves of the preceding information may result in academic and/or financial penalties. Students should always consult their College Registrar immediately for guidance if anything happens that interferes with continuing or completing their courses, or that appears to be contrary to rules, regulations and deadlines.

Departmental Appeals

Issues arising within a course that concern the pedagogical relationship of the instructor and the student, such as the organization of a course, grading practices, or conduct of instructors, fall within the authority of the department or college sponsoring the course. Students are encouraged to discuss any issues regarding the academic aspects of a course with the instructor. It is recommended that if appropriate an issue should be documented in writing. The successive stages of appeal after the course instructor are as follows: the Undergraduate Secretary; the Chair of the Department or the College Program Director; then the Dean of the Faculty. An appeal must have been reviewed at the departmental level before referral to the Dean; appeals to the Dean MUST be in writing.

Petitions to the Faculty

Issues relating to degree requirements and administrative regulations may be petitioned to the Faculty within specific time limitations. The Faculty considers petitions to have regulations waived or varied, if a student presents compelling reasons; however, students must convince the Faculty that they have acted responsibly and with good judgment in observing Faculty regulations. The Committee on Standing routinely denies petitions that in its view do not present a valid reason for an exemption from the regulations. Students are encouraged to seek counselling and, if necessary, to initiate a petition through the office of their College Registrar.

Petitions must 1) state the student’s request; 2) the reasons for the request in a clear and concise manner; and 3) be accompanied by relevant supporting documentation. The petition is considered in confidence by the Committee on Standing, which is charged with interpreting and administering the regulations of the Faculty. The Committee has the authority to grant exceptions and to attach conditions to its decisions.

It is the responsibility of the student to provide an accurate address to which a petition decision may be sent. Non-receipt of a decision due to postal error or incorrect address is not grounds for reconsideration.

Deadlines to File Petitions

Term Work

The last day of the examination period

Examinations

Within one week of the end of the examination period; end of first week of classes in January for the December examination period

Withdrawal

Fall-Winter Session courses: the following 15 November Summer Session courses: the following 28/29 February

All supporting documentation must be submitted within three weeks of the date of initiating the petition. Late petitions and petitions with late documentation will not be considered.

Documentation in Support of Petitions

The Faculty seeks documentation that provides pertinent evidence for decisions determining whether or not an exception should be made to regulations that are designed to ensure equitable treatment for all students.

Medical Documentation:

The University of Toronto Student Medical Certificate must be submitted in support of a request for an exemption from Faculty regulations, if illness is being used as the reason for the request. The claim of illness, however, is not sufficient grounds in itself to guarantee approval of the request. This certificate is available online at www.utoronto.ca/health, or at the Health Services (Medical and Psychiatric Services), the Office of the Faculty Registrar, College Registrar’s Offices, departments and other offices of the University as well as in the Registration Handbook and Timetable. The certificate is titled as follows:

University of Toronto Medical Certificate

Other medical notes will not be accepted. Note that the physician’s report must establish that the patient was examined and diagnosed at the time of illness, not after the fact. The Faculty will not accept a statement that merely confirms a report of illness made by the student for documentation by the physician.

Petitions Regarding Courses in Other Divisions—see page 457.

Petitions Regarding Term Work (see also page 459)

Matters concerning term work normally fall within the authority of the instructor. Students unable to comply with given deadlines must contact their instructor prior to the deadline if an extension to the deadline is requested. All term work must be submitted by the last day of classes, unless an earlier date has been specified. Instructors may grant extensions beyond their own deadlines or beyond the last day of classes up to the last day of the examination period provided that a student presents reasons of illness, etc., with appropriate documentation. Extensions beyond the last day of the examination period interfere with the Faculty’s schedule for the submission of final grades and must therefore be approved by petition. These petitions for an extension of time for term work must be initiated by the last day of the relevant examination period. Late requests will not be accepted. Students must file the petition after consultation with the instructor regarding a suitable extension date. The Committee on Standing consults the department concerned for information about the status of the course work, and the steps, if any, that must be taken to complete the course. Students seeking an extension of time for term work are expected to continue their course work while they await a decision. They will not be granted additional time after the petition decision has been issued.

Petitions Regarding Examinations (see also page 460)

Students are expected to write examinations as scheduled. Only in cases of documented debilitating illness or legitimate conflict should a student request a deferral of a final examination. Students who are too ill and/or incapacitated at the time of the examinations should petition to defer the examination they are unable to attend due to their medical condition. Petitions based on travel, employment, or personal plans will not be considered.

A deferred special examination at a subsequent examination period or the regular offering of the examination when next taught may be granted at the discretion of the Faculty. Satisfactory evidence in the form of the University of Toronto Student Medical Certificate (see above) must be provided to corroborate the illness. Students with chronic illnesses must provide medical documentation for the specific date on which the illness was acute. Students must submit a petition within one week of the end of the examination period through their college registrar. There is a fee of $70.00 per deferred examination (maximum $140.00). In the petition decision students are notified of the examination period in which the deferred examination will take place, and if the examination will be a regular or special examination. They must register and pay the fee by a given deadline, in order that arrangements can be made, an examination requested, etc. The faculty will notify those who do not register by the deadline that they have lost their privilege of a deferred examination and will revert the grade to one that includes a “0” for the final examination. No further consideration will be given. The Faculty sends written notification to the students who have registered for deferred examinations of the specific date (within the already specified examination period), time and location of a deferred examination, as well as the reserved seating (if a special examination). Note, letters are mailed as early as possible, but due to the constraints of scheduling with the regular examinations, the mailing will occur five working days after the release of the regular August examination schedule, and ten working days after the release of the April/May and December examination schedules. Those who do not respond lose the privilege of a deferred examination and their grade reverts to one that includes a “0” for the final examination.

Final Deferred
Examination Examination

April/May June examination period, if course is offered in Summer Session May to June; August examination period for all others

June August examination period, if course offered in Summer Session May/July - August December examination period, if course offered in Fall Session August examination periods for all others

August December examination period

December April/May examination period, if course offered in Winter Session Reading Week for all others

Students who must write a deferred examination in a course that serves as a prerequisite for subsequent courses may enrol in those courses with the approval of the department concerned and provided that the term mark in the prerequisite (deferred) course is at least 60%.

Notes:

N.B. Students who are granted Deferred Standing (i.e., the notation of “SDF”, for an extension of time for term work or for a deferred examination) and who have earned a Cumulative Grade Point Average of less than 1.50, will not be permitted to enrol in further courses until the outstanding course work has been completed and final cumulative and sessional GPAs and status for the session have been assessed.

If students decide to write an examination which does not go well, they MAY NOT PETITION FOR A REWRITE. Post hoc arguments claiming an inability to function at full potential or to exhibit full knowledge of the subject matter will not be accepted as grounds for consideration of a petition concerning performance on an examination. Furthermore, students who choose to write an examination against medical recommendation should do so knowing that they will not be given consideration after the examination has been written. Students must not only take responsibility for making appropriate judgements about their fitness to attend examinations, but also must accept the outcome of their choices.

Students who miss a deferred examination receive a grade of “0” for the examination in the calculation of the final grade. If the Faculty accepts the student’s reasons for missing a deferred examination as legitimate, a further deferred examination may be permitted; however, the “SDF” notation will be replaced by the original grade. Students are charged a further fee for each subsequent deferred examination. Note that in such situations of further deferrals the Committee on Standing regularly prohibits registration in further sessions until the outstanding course work has been completed.

Appeals Against Petition Decisions

Appeals against petition decisions progress as follows:

1. First petition to the Committee on Standing by appropriate deadline submitted through College Registrar (see Deadlines to File Petitions);
2. Appeal to the Committee on Standing within ninety days of the first decision; second petition submitted through the College Registrar;
3. Appeal to the Faculty Academic Appeals Board within ninety days of the second decision; written request for a hearing submitted through the College Registrar;
4. Appeal to the Academic Appeals Committee of Governing Council within ninety days of the decision of the Faculty Academic Appeals Board; written request for a hearing submitted directly to the Governing Council Office in Simcoe Hall, to the attention of Mr. A. Gray.
Reassessment of Marks

Reread of Final Examination

If a student believes that a final examination has been incorrectly marked in its substance, he/she may request a “reread.” The student must first purchase a photocopy of the final examination from the Office of the Faculty Registrar, for a fee of $13.00 per course. The student must then fill out a “Request for Reread of Final Examination” form, which is available at the Office of the Faculty Registrar and on the Faculty Registrar’s web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current/exams. The student must demonstrate that his/her answers are substantially correct by citing specific instances of disagreement, supported by such documentary evidence as course handouts, textbooks, lecture notes, etc. The student must do more than simply assert that “I disagree with the marking,” or that “I believe I deserve more marks.” The Department concerned will reread the examination in light of the arguments presented. There is a $35.00 fee for this procedure, which is in addition to the fee of $13.00 charged for the photocopy of the final examination. The fee must be submitted, with the completed form, to the Office of the Faculty Registrar within six months of the final examination period. If the mark is changed as a result of this review both the photocopy and reread fees will be refunded. It should be noted that when a course is failed, the examination must be reread before the mark is reported.

Recheck of Course Mark

If a student believes that there has been an arithmetical error in calculating the course mark, he/she may request a “recheck.” This can be done with or without purchasing a photocopy of the final examination. The student must fill out a “Request for Recheck of Course Mark” form, which is available at the Office of the Faculty Registrar and on the Faculty Registrar’s web site at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/current/exams. The student must indicate precisely where he/she thinks the error has occurred. The Department concerned will check that all answers have been marked, and that the marks have been added correctly; the examination will not be reread. The Department will also check that all term work marks have been correctly calculated. There is no charge for this procedure. The completed form must be submitted to the Office of the Faculty Registrar within six months of the final examination period. If the mark is changed as a result of this review, the photocopy and recheck fees will be refunded.

Note:

A reread or recheck may result in a raised mark, a lowered mark, or no change.

Deadlines for requesting a photocopy of a final examination, a reread or a recheck:

February examinations: the following August 31
April/May examinations: the following November 15
June examinations: the following January 15
August examinations: the following February 28/29
December examinations: the following June 30

Student Records

The “official student academic record” is maintained by the Faculty, which shall designate the document, form or medium containing the official version and how official copies of such information will be identified.

Student academic records refer to information concerning admission to, and academic performance at, this University. The “official student academic record” contains:

1. personal information which is required in the administration of official student academic records such as name, student number, citizenship, social insurance number;
2. registration and enrolment information;
3. results for each course and academic period;
4. narrative evaluations of a student’s academic performance, used to judge his or her progress;
5. basis for a student’s admission such as the application for admission and supporting documents;
6. results of petitions and appeals;
7. medical information relevant to a student’s academic performance, furnished at the request or with the consent of the student;
8. letters of reference, whether or not they have been provided on the understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence;
9. personal and biographical information such as address, and telephone number.

Access to Student Records

1. Access by a student.
   (i) Students may examine and have copies made of their academic record as defined above, with the exception of those portions of the record which comprise letters of reference which have been provided or obtained on the expressed or implied understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence. A student may, however, be advised of the identity of the authors of any confidential letters contained in his or her official academic record.
   (ii) Students’ requests to examine any part of their “official student academic record” shall be made in writing and shall be complied with within thirty days of receipt.
   (iii) Students may challenge the accuracy of their academic record with the exception of the materials specifically excluded above and may have their record supplemented with comments so long as the sources of such comments are identified and the official student academic record remains securely within the custody of the academic division. Reference to such comments would not necessarily appear on official academic reports such as the transcript or the Statement of Results. (Note that access to medical information shall only be granted to members of the teaching and administrative staff with the prior expressed or implied consent of the student and, if applicable, in the case of a medical assessment, the originator (physician, etc.) of such.)
   (iv) It is assumed that all documents relating to petitions and appeals and not provided on the understanding that they shall be maintained in confidence will be retained within the division, and when needed by the student, will be made freely available. In addition, The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, 1971 of Ontario requires that where the good character, propriety of conduct or competence of a party is in issue in any proceedings in a tribunal to which the Act applies (such as the Academic Appeals
Rules & Regulations

Board of the Governing Council, the part is entitled to be furnished prior to the hearing with “reasonable information” of any allegations with respect hereto.

2. Access by University Staff.
Members of the teaching and administrative staff of the University shall have access to relevant portions of a student’s academic record in the performance of their duties.

3. Access by U of T campus organizations.
Student organizations in the U. of T. may have access to all information available freely to persons outside the university and to the residence address and telephone number of the student, for the legitimate internal use of that organization.

4. Access by Others
a) By the act of registration, a student gives implicit consent for a minimal amount of information to be made freely available to all inquirers:
   - the academic division(s) and the session(s) in which a student is or has been registered,
   - degree(s) received and date(s) of convocation.
b) Any other information shall be released to other persons and agencies only with the student’s prior expressed written consent, or on the presentation of a court order, or in accordance with the requirements of professional licensing or certification bodies or the Ministry of Colleges and Universities for an annual enrolment audit, or otherwise under compulsion of law. A record shall be kept of permissions granted to any persons or agencies outside the university for access to a student’s academic record.
c) General statistical material drawn from academic records not disclosing the identities of students may be released for research and informational purposes.

Refusal of Access
The University reserves the right to withhold transcripts of students who have outstanding debts.

Custody of Student Academic Records
Academic records are normally under the custodial responsibility of the academic divisions. Seventy-five years after a student has ceased to be registered, all such records become the responsibility of the University Archivist and become open to researchers authorized by the University of Toronto.

Personal Information
Personal information is a vital part of the student’s official University record and is used to state issues of results, transcripts, graduation information, diplomas and other official documents. The University is also required by law to collect certain information for the Federal and Provincial Governments; this is reported only in aggregate form and is considered confidential by the University.

Any change in the following must therefore be reported immediately to the College Registrar:
1. legal name;
2. Social Insurance Number;
3. citizenship status in Canada;

Mailing Address
Address information (mailing and permanent) must be viewed and changed on the Student Web Service (at www.rosi.utoronto.ca) or in your College Registrar’s Office. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that the mailing address is kept up-to-date on the SWS.

E-Mail Address
As a student at the University of Toronto, you have automatic access to the Information Commons, which is your passport to e-mail, the library and the Internet. Once you have your T Card, you must activate your University of Toronto e-mail account. Setting up a UTORmail account is mandatory.

T Card
The T Card is a wallet-sized card bearing the student’s photograph, and serves as evidence of registration in the Faculty and as a library card. It is used for identification purposes within the University, such as exams, student activities, and Athletic Association privileges. The loss of the card must be reported promptly to the College Registrar and the card must be surrendered if a student withdraws from the University or transfers to another College or Faculty. There is a fee for the replacement of lost cards.

Statement of Results
Statements of Results are sent to students at their mailing address as it appears on ROSI at the end of the Winter and Summer Sessions. Students should expect to receive their Statements within six weeks of the end of the examination period, and should contact their College Registrar immediately if the Statement of Results has not been received. Statements of Results are not issued at the end of the Fall Session. Results for “F” courses are available on the Student Web Service in January for the Fall Session and in July for the first subsession of the Summer Session.

Transcripts
The transcript of a student’s record reports courses in progress and the standing in all courses attempted along with course average. Information about the student’s academic status including record of suspension and refusal of further registration, and completion of degree requirements and of subject POSt(s).

Final course results are added to each student’s record at the end of each session and Summer subsession. GPAs are calculated at the end of each session. Individual courses that a student cancels within the normal time limit are not shown.

Copies of the transcript are issued at the student’s request, subject to reasonable notice. In accordance with the University’s policy on access to student records, the student’s signature is required for the release of the record.

The University of Toronto issues only a consolidated transcript, including a student’s total academic record at the University. Students may request consolidated transcripts on the Web at www.rosi.utoronto.ca. Requests may also be made in person or by writing to:
University of Toronto Transcript Centre
Room 1006, Sidney Smith Hall
100 St. George Street
Toronto, ON M5S 3G3.

A fee of $10.00 (subject to change), which includes GST, is charged for each transcript. Cheques and money orders should be made payable to the University of Toronto. Students must indicate at the time of the request if the purpose of the transcript is for enclosure in a self-administered application. Such transcripts are issued in specially sealed envelopes.

The University of Toronto cannot be responsible for transcripts lost or delayed in the mail. Transcripts are not issued for students who have outstanding financial obligations with the University.

University Grading Practices Policy

Purpose

The purpose of the University Grading Practices Policy is to ensure:

a) that grading practices throughout the University reflect appropriate academic standards;
b) that the evaluation of student performance is made in a fair and objective manner against these academic standards;
c) that the academic standing of every student can be accurately assessed even when courses have been taken in different divisions of the University and evaluated according to different grade scales.

Application of Policy

The Policy applies to all individuals and committees taking part in the evaluation of student performance in degree, diploma, and certificate credit courses (hereafter referred to as courses).

Amendment to Policy

Amendments to the Policy shall be recommended to the Academic Board. Changes to the divisional regulations on grading practices shall be forwarded to the Committee on Academic Policy and Programs.

Distribution of Policy

A copy of the Grading Practices Policy as well as the description of the grade scales and the substance of divisional regulations indicated in Part II of this Policy shall be published in the Calendar of the division. Similarly a copy shall be given to all students upon initial registration and to all instructors and others, including teaching assistants, involved in the evaluation of student performance. The Policy is in three parts: Part I deals with grades, Part II outlines grading procedures to be adhered to in divisional regulations adopted as part of this Policy, and Part III is an administrative appendix available upon request from the Office of the Provost.

Part I: Grades

Meaning of Grades

Grades are a measure of the performance of a student in individual courses. Each student shall be judged on the basis of how well he or she has command of the course materials.

1.1 A grade assigned in a course is not an assessment of standing within a program of studies. To determine the requirements for credit and standing in a program of studies, the academic regulations of the division in which the program is offered should be consulted.

1.2 Grades for each course shall be assigned with reference to the following meanings (which may be expanded in the divisional regulations under Part II): Excellent, Good, Adequate, Marginal, Inadequate.

Grade Scales

1.3 Once a judgment on the performance of the student has been made, the following grade scales are to be used:

b) the numerical scale of marks, consisting of all integers from 0 - 100; and/or
c) for graduate divisions only, a truncated refined letter grade scale in which FZ replaces the C, D and F grades in (a) above.
d) the scales Honours/Pass/Fail and Credit/No Credit.

Grades vs. Scores

1.4 Grades should always be based on the approved grade scales. However, students may find that on any one evaluation they may receive a numerical or letter mark that reflects the score achieved on the test or essay. The cumulative scores may not be directly identified with the final grade. Grades are final only after review by the divisional review committee described below. (NOTE: A table of correspondence and a translation table are defined (under “Grading Regulations” on page 461) for each of the letter grade scales referred to in 1.3(a) in order to allow the conversion, when necessary, of a grade assigned from one scale to the corresponding grade in another. It should be noted that these tables are not to be used to translate a score to a grade directly.)

Grade Reporting

1.5 Grades will be assigned according to the numerical scale of marks referred to in 1.3 (b) above, and converted to the refined letter grade scale of 1.3(a) above. The H/P/FL and CR/NCR scales of 1.3(d) above may also be used. However, the grades assigned in a course must all be from the same scale.

1.6 All non-grade designators used in reporting course results must correspond to the University-wide standard. A list of the currently approved designators and their meanings is given in the Appendix A.2.

1.7 The information in grade reports and transcripts must be communicated to the user, whether within or outside the University, in a clear and meaningful way. To that end, transcripts must include:

a) an enrolment history, which traces chronologically the student’s entire participation at the University;
Part II: Grading Procedures

Approval of Grades

Grades shall be recommended by the instructor to the chair or division head. The grades shall then be reviewed and approved following the divisional review procedure. Grades shall not be reported or released to students as official until the divisional review procedure has been carried out. The divisional review constitutes final approval of grades except when grades are changed on appeal.

Divisional Review Committee

II.1 In each division, a committee chaired by the divisional head or designate, and where appropriate, an additional committee structure, with the chairs (or their designates) of departments or other academic units of divisions serving as chairs, shall:

a) administer the implementation of the University Grading Practices Policy at the divisional level and oversee the general consistency of grading procedures with the division;

b) approve and administer the University’s specific regulations concerning the grade scale or scales to be used, the assignment of non-grade designators for course work, classroom procedures and approval methods of evaluation;

c) review, adjust and approve course grades recommended by instructors. The grades recommended for any individual student in the professional faculties may be adjusted according to his or her performance in the course or program as determined by the committee. The divisional committee has the final responsibility for assigning the official course grade.

Classroom Procedures

II.2 To ensure that the method of evaluation in every course reflects appropriate academic standards and fairness to students, divisional regulations governing classroom procedures must be consistent with the practices below.

a) As early as possible in each course (and no later than the division’s last date for course enrolment) the instructor shall make available to the class, and shall file with the division or department, the methods by which student performance shall be evaluated. This should include whether the methods of evaluation shall be essays, tests, examinations, etc., the relative weight of these methods in relation to the overall score, and the timing of each major evaluation.

b) After the methods of evaluation have been known, the instructor may not change them or their relative weight without the consent of at least a simple majority of the students enrolled in the course. Any changes shall be reported to the division or the department.

c) Student performance in a course shall be assessed on more than one occasion. No one essay, test, examination, etc. should have a value of more than 80% of the grade. Criteria for exemption may be determined by the division.

d) In courses that meet regularly as a class there shall be an examination (or examinations) conducted formally under divisional auspices and worth (alone or in the aggregate) at least one-third of the final grade. Criteria for exemption may be determined by the division. The relative value of each part of an examination shall be indicated to the student. In the case of a written examination, the value shall be indicated on the examination paper.

e) Commentary on assessed term work and time for discussion of it shall be made available to students.

f) At least one piece of term work which is a part of the evaluation of a student performance, whether essay, lab report, review, etc., shall be returned to the student prior to the last date for cancelling the course without academic penalty.

g) Grades shall be recommended by the instructor in reference to the approved grades scales on the basis of each student’s overall performance.

In formulating their own regulations divisions may add to items (a) to (g) and may adopt fuller or more specific provisions, for example in place of such terms as “a simple majority” (b), “one-third of the final grade” (d), or in particularizing the evaluation methods referred to in (a) and (b).

Procedures in the Event of Disruptions

II.3 The following principles shall apply in the event of disruption of the academic program:

(i) The academic integrity of academic programs must be honoured; and

(ii) Students must be treated in a fair manner recognizing their freedom of choice to attend class or not without penalty.

Procedures:

a) The Vice-President and Provost, or the Academic Board, shall declare when a disruption of the academic program has occurred. The Provost shall take steps to inform the University community at large of the changes to be implemented, and will report to the Committee on Academic Policy and Programs regarding the implementation of the procedures and changes to the status of the academic programs.

b) Individual instructors or multi-section co-ordinators responsible for courses that are disrupted shall determine, as the disruption proceeds, whether any changes to classroom procedures are needed to complete the course.
II.4 Divisions may make reasonable exemptions to the classroom procedures described above in circumstances such as field or clinical courses where adherence to these procedures is not possible. Nevertheless, it is obligatory that the assessment of the performance of students in clinical or field settings should be fair, humane, valid, reliable and in accordance with the principles enunciated in the University Grading Practices Policy. Accordingly, where a student’s performance in a clinical or field setting is to be assessed for credit, the evaluation must encompass as a minimum:

a) a formal statement describing the evaluation process, including the criteria to be used in assessing the performance of students and the appeal mechanisms available. This statement should be available to all students before or at the beginning of the clinical or field experience;

b) a mid-way performance evaluation with feedback to the student;

c) written documentation of the final assessment.

In addition, for such clinical and field experiences, divisions must ensure that:

d) clinical and field assessors are fully informed regarding University, divisional and course policies concerning evaluation procedures, including the specific assessment procedures to be applied in any particular field or clinical setting.

Any exception from the above would require a divisional request with explanation for approval by the Governing Council.

Grade Review and Approval Process

II.5 The following principles and procedures shall govern the grade review and approval process.

a) The distribution of grades in any course shall not be predetermined by any system of quotas that specifies the number or percentage of grades allowable at any grade level.

b) However, a division may provide broad limits to instructors setting out a reasonable distribution of grades in the division or department. Such broad limits shall recognize that considerable variance in class grades is not unusual. The division may request an explanation of any grades for a course that exceed the limits and hence appear not to be based on the approved grade scales or otherwise appear anomalous in reference to the Policy. It is understood that this section shall only be used when the class size is thirty students or greater. Each division shall make known in the divisional Calendar the existence of any such limits.

c) The criterion that the Divisional Review Committee shall employ in its evaluation is whether the instructor has followed the University Grading Practices Policy. The Review committee shall not normally adjust grades unless the consequences of allowing the grades to stand would be injurious to the standards of the University, or the class in general.

d) Membership on the Divisional Review Committee may include students but should not include members of the divisional appeals committee(s).

e) Where grades have been adjusted by a divisional committee, the students as well as the instructor shall be informed. On request, the students or the instructor shall be given the reason for the adjustment of grades, a description of the methodology used to adjust the grades, and a description of the divisional appeal procedure.

f) Where a departmental review committee changes course grades, the faculty office shall be so informed. Having done so, the faculty office shall relay this information, upon request, to the students or the instructor with a description as to the reason for the change and the methodology used.
Rules & Regulations

g) Past statistical data, including drop-out rates, mean arithmetic average, etc., should be provided to the Divisional Review Committee as background information where available. The committee will not use this information exclusively to judge whether a specific grades distribution is anomalous. Rather, the information should provide part of the basis for an overall review of grades in a division.
h) Where class grades have been changed, or when the Divisional Review Committee had reservations about the grades, the issue will be taken up with the instructor by the division or department head, with a view to ensuring that the Grading Practices Policy is followed in future.

Appeal Procedure

II.6 Every division shall establish divisional appeal procedures. Students may appeal grades according to the procedures established for that purpose in the division. The appeal may be made whether marks have been altered by the review process or not. These procedures shall be outlined in the divisional Calendar, and available upon request at the faculty or registrar's office.

Student Access to Examination Papers

II.7
a) All divisions should provide access to copies of the previous year's final examination papers and other years' papers where feasible. Exemptions may be granted by an appropriate committee of the division or department.
b) All divisions should provide students with the opportunity within a reasonable time to review their examination paper where feasible. A recovery fee should be set to cover administrative costs including photocopying.
c) All divisions should provide, in addition to the customary re-reading of papers and the re-checking of marks, the opportunity for students to petition for the re-reading of their examination where feasible. A cost recovery fee should be set and returned where appropriate.

Conflict of Interest

II.8
Where the instructor or a student has a conflict of interest, or is in a situation where a fair and objective assessment may not be possible, this should be disclosed to the chair or division head who shall take steps to ensure fairness and objectivity.

Discipline: Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters

The Governing Council of the University of Toronto has approved a Code of Behaviour, which sets out clearly the standard of conduct in academic matters expected of members of the University community. The Code is enforced by the Provost and the Disciplinary Tribunal. Below are extracts from the Code, covering offences, sanctions and procedures as they apply to students. The full text is available from the Office of the Dean, and the Offices of College Registrars.

The University and its members have a responsibility to ensure that a climate that might encourage, or conditions that might enable, cheating, misrepresentation or unfairness not be tolerated. To this end all must acknowledge that seeking credit or other advantages by fraud or misrepresentation, or seeking to disadvantage others by disruptive behaviour is unacceptable, as is any dishonesty or unfairness in dealing with the work or record of a student.

Wherever in the Code an offence is described as depending on “knowing”, the offence shall likewise be deemed to have committed if the person ought reasonably to have known.

B.I. Offences

1. It shall be an offence for a student knowingly:
a) to forge or in any other way alter or falsify any document or evidence required for admission to the University, or to utter, circulate or make use of any such forged, altered or falsified document, whether the record be in print or electronic form;
b) to use or possess an unauthorized aid or aids or obtain unauthorized assistance in any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work;
c) to personate another person, or to have another person personate, at any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work;
d) to represent as one's own any idea or expression of an idea or work of another in any academic examination or term test or in connection with any other form of academic work, i.e. to commit plagiarism;
e) to submit, without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course or program of study in the University or elsewhere;
f) to submit for credit any academic work containing a purported statement of fact or reference to a source which has been concocted.
2. It shall be an offence for a faculty member knowingly:
a) to approve any of the previously described offences;
b) to evaluate an application for admission or transfer to a course or program of study by other than duly established and published criteria;
c) to evaluate academic work by a student by reference to any criterion that does not relate to its merit, to the time within which it is to be submitted or to the manner in which it is to be performed.
3. It shall be an offence for a faculty member and student alike knowingly:
a) to forge or in any other way alter or falsify any academic record, or to utter, circulate or make use of any such forged, altered or falsified record, whether the record be in print or electronic form.
b) to engage in any form of cheating, academic dishonesty or misconduct, fraud or misrepresentation not herein otherwise described, in order to obtain academic credit or other academic advantage of any kind.
4. A graduate of the University may be charged with any of the above offences committed intentionally while he or she was an active student, when, in the opinion of the Provost, the offence, if detected, would have resulted in a sanction sufficiently severe that the degree would not have been granted at the time it was.

B. II. Parties to Offences

1. a) Every member is a party to an offence under this Code who knowingly:
   i) actually commits it;
   ii) does or omits to do anything for the purpose of aiding or assisting another member to commit the offence;
   iii) does or omits to do anything for the purpose of aiding or assisting any other person who, if that person were a member, would have committed the offence;
   iv) abets, counsels, procures or conspires with another member to commit or be a party to an offence; or
   v) abets, counsels, procures or conspires with any other person who, if that person were a member, would have committed or have been a part of the offence.

2. Every member who, having an intent to commit an offence under this Code, does or omits to do anything for the purpose of carrying out that intention (other than mere preparation to commit the offence) is guilty of an attempt to commit the offence and liable upon conviction to the same sanctions as if he or she had committed the offence.

3. When a group is found guilty of an offence under this Code, every officer, director or agent of the group, being a member of the University, who directed, authorized or participated in the commission of the offence is a party to and guilty of the offence and is liable upon conviction to the sanctions provided for the offence.

C.I.(a) Divisional Procedures

NOTE: Where a student commits an offence, the faculty in which the student is registered has responsibility over the student in the matter. In the case of Scarborough and Erindale colleges, the college is deemed to be the faculty.

1. No hearing within the meaning of Section 2 of the Statutory Powers of Procedures Act is required for the purposes of, or in connection with, any of the discussions, meetings and determinations referred to in Section C.I.(a), and such discussions, meetings and determinations are not proceedings of the Tribunal.

2. Where an instructor has reasonable grounds to believe that an academic offence has been committed by a student, the instructor shall so inform the student immediately after learning of the act or conduct complained of, giving reasons, and invite the student to discuss the matter. Nothing the student says in such a discussion may be used or receivable in evidence against the student.

3. If after such discussion, the instructor is satisfied that no academic offence has been committed, he or she shall so inform the student and no further action shall be taken in the matter by the instructor, unless fresh evidence comes to the attention of the instructor, in which case he or she may again proceed in accordance with subsection 2.

4. If after such discussion, the instructor believes that an academic offence has been committed by the student, or if the student fails or neglects to respond to the invitation for discussion, the instructor shall make a report of the matter to the department chair or through the department chair to the dean. (See also Section C.I.(B.1).)

5. When the dean or the department chair, as the case may be, has been so informed, he or she shall notify the student in writing accordingly, provide him or her with a copy of the Code, and subsequently afford the student an opportunity for discussion of the matter. In the case of the dean being informed, the chair of the department and the instructor shall be invited by the dean to be present at the meeting with the student. The dean shall conduct the interview.

6. Before proceeding with the meeting, the dean shall inform the student that he or she is entitled to seek advice, or to be accompanied by counsel at the meeting, before making, and is not obliged to make, any statement or admission, but shall warn that if he or she makes any statement or admission in the meeting, it may be used or receivable in evidence against the student in the hearing of any charge with respect to the offence or alleged offence in question. The dean shall also advise the student, without further comment or discussion, of the sanctions that may be imposed under Section C.I.(B), and that the dean is not obliged to impose a sanction but may instead request that the Provost lay a charge against the student. Where such advice and warning have been given, the statements and admissions, if any, made in such a meeting may be used or received in evidence against the student in any such hearing.

7. If the dean, on the advice of the department chair and the instructor, or if the department chair, on the advice of the instructor, subsequently decides that no academic offence has been committed and that no further action in the matter is required, the student shall be so informed in writing and the student's work shall be accepted for normal evaluation or, if the student was prevented from withdrawing from the course by the withdrawal date, he or she shall be allowed to do so. Thereafter, the matter shall not be introduced into evidence at a Tribunal hearing for another offence.

8. If the student admits the alleged offence, the dean or the department chair may either impose the sanction that he or she considers appropriate under Section C.I.(B) or refer the matter to the dean or Provost, as the case may be, and in either event shall inform the student in writing accordingly. No further action in the matter shall be taken by the instructor, the department chair or the dean if the dean imposes a sanction.

9. If the student is dissatisfied with a sanction imposed by the department chair or the dean, as the case may be, the student may refer the matter to the dean or Provost, as the case may be, for consideration.

10. If the student does not admit the alleged offence, the dean may, after consultation with the instructor and the department chair, require that the Provost lay a charge against the student. If the Provost agrees to lay a charge, the case shall then proceed to the Trial Division of the Tribunal.

11. Normally, decanal procedures will not be examined in a hearing before the Tribunal. A failure to carry out the procedures referred to in this Section, or any defect or null
[B.] Offences

The following offences constitute conduct that shall be deemed to be offences under this Code, when committed by a student of the University of Toronto, provided that such conduct:

(i) has not been dealt with as failure to meet standards of professional conduct as required by a college, faculty or school; and

(ii) is not specifically assigned to the jurisdiction of the University Tribunal, as in the case of offences described in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters, or to another disciplinary body within the University of Toronto, as in the case of sexual harassment as described in the Policy and Procedures: Sexual Harassment; or to a divisional disciplinary body, such as a residence council or a recreational athletics disciplinary body; or is covered under these policies but which is deemed by the head of the division to be more appropriately handled by the Code of Student Conduct; and

(iii) except as otherwise provided herein, occurs on premises of the University of Toronto or elsewhere in the course of activities sponsored by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions; and

(iv) has not been dealt with under provisions for the discipline of students with respect to University offices and services whose procedures apply to students in several academic divisions, such as University residences, libraries or athletic and recreational facilities.

1. Offences Against Persons
   a) No person shall assault another person sexually or threaten any other person with sexual assault.
   b) No person shall otherwise assault another person, threaten any other person with bodily harm, or knowingly cause any other person to fear bodily harm.
   c) No person shall knowingly create a condition that unnecessarily endangers the health or safety of other persons.
   d) No person shall threaten any other person with damage to such person’s property, or knowingly cause any other person to fear damage to her or his property.
   e) No person shall engage in a course of vexatious conduct that is directed at one or more specific individuals, and that is based on the race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, creed, age, marital status, family status, handicap, receipt of public assistance or record of offences of that individual or those individuals, and that is known to be unwelcome, and that exceeds the bounds of freedom of expression or academic freedom as these are understood in University policies and accepted practices, including but not restricted to, those explicitly adopted.

(Note: terms in this section are to be understood as they are defined or used in the Ontario Human Rights Code. Vexatious conduct that is based on sex or sexual orientation is considered an offence under the University’s Policy and Procedures: Sexual Harassment. If the Sexual Harassment Officer believes, after consultation with relevant parties, that a complaint based on sex or sexual orientation would be better handled under the Code of Student Conduct, the Officer may refer the matter to the appropriate head of division.)

f) (i) No person shall, by engaging in the conduct described in subsection (ii) below, whether on the premises of the University or away from the premises of the University, cause another person or persons to fear for their safety or the safety of another person known to them while on the premises of the University of Toronto or in the course of activities sponsored by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions, or cause another person or persons to be impeded in exercising the freedom to participate reasonably in the programs of the University and in activities in or on the University premises, knowing that their conduct will cause such fear, or recklessly as to whether their conduct causes such fear.

(ii) The conduct mentioned in subsection (i) consists of:
   a) repeatedly following from place to place the other person or anyone known to them;
   b) repeatedly and persistently communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;
   c) besetting or repeatedly watching the dwelling-house, or place where the other person, or anyone known to them, resides, works, carries on business or happens to be; or
   d) engaging in threatening conduct directed at the other person or any member of the family, friends or colleagues of the other person.

2. Disruption

No person shall cause by action, threat or otherwise, a disturbance that the member knows obstructs any activity organized by the University of Toronto or by any of its divisions, or the right of another member or members to carry on their legitimate activities, to speak or to associate with others.

For example, peaceful picketing or other activity outside a class or meeting that does not substantially interfere with the communication inside, or impede access to the meeting, is an acceptable expression of dissent. And silent or symbolic protest is not to be considered disruption under this Code. But noise that obstructs the conduct of a meeting or forcible blocking of access to an activity constitutes disruption.

3. Offences Involving Property
   a) No person shall knowingly take, destroy or damage premises of the University of Toronto.
   b) No person shall knowingly take, destroy or damage any physical property that is not her or his own.
   c) No person shall knowingly destroy or damage information or intellectual property belonging to the University of Toronto or to any of its members.
   d) No person, in any manner whatsoever, shall knowingly deface the inside or outside of any building of the University of Toronto.
   e) No person, knowing the effects or property to have been appropriated without authorization, shall possess effects or property of the University of Toronto.
   f) No person, knowing the effects or property to have been appropriated without authorization, shall possess any property that is not her or his own.
   g) No person shall knowingly create a condition that necessarily endangers or threatens destruction of the property of the University of Toronto or of any of its members.
Rules & Regulations

4. Unauthorized Entry or Presence

No person shall, contrary to the expressed instruction of a person or persons authorized to give such instruction, or with intent to damage or destroy the premises of the University of Toronto or damage, destroy or steal any property on the premises of the University of Toronto that is not her or his own, or without just cause knowingly enter or remain in or on any such premises.

5. Unauthorized Use of University Facilities, Equipment or Services

a) No person shall knowingly use any facility, equipment or service of the University of Toronto contrary to the expressed instruction of a person or persons authorized to give such instruction, or without just cause.

b) No person shall knowingly gain access to or use any University computing or internal or external communications facility to which legitimate authorization has not been granted. No person shall use any such facility for any commercial, disruptive or unauthorized purpose.

c) No person shall knowingly mutilate, misplace, misfile, or render inoperable any stored information such as books, film, data files or programs from a library, computer or other such information storage, processing or retrieval system.

6. False Charges

No person shall knowingly or maliciously bring a false charge against any member of the University of Toronto under this Code.

7. Aiding in the Commission of an Offence

No person shall counsel, procure, conspire with or aid a person in the commission of an offence defined in this Code.

8. Refusal to Comply with Sanctions

No person found to have committed an offence under this Code shall refuse to comply with a sanction or sanctions imposed under the procedures of this Code.

9. Unauthorized Possession or Use of Firearms or Ammunition

No person other than a peace officer or a member of the Canadian Forces acting in the course of duty shall possess or use any firearm or ammunition on the premises of the University of Toronto without the permission of the officer of the University having authority to grant such permission.

[C.] Procedures

1. General

a) The University shall establish a centrally appointed pool of trained Investigating and Hearing Officers, who shall be available to the divisions, at the discretion of the head of the division, if that is considered appropriate or preferable for any reason.

b) Each division shall appoint an Investigating Officer and a Hearing Officer, who may be a student, staff or faculty member from that division.

c) Whether the incident is investigated locally or centrally, every effort shall be made to conclude the case through to delivery of a final decision within the University within one year from the alleged incident or misconduct.

d) Pursuant to the provisions of Section D., interim conditions may be imposed by the head of the division.

e) For purposes of confidential and central record keeping, a one-page summary of the outcome of all investigations, whether or not they have proceeded to a Hearing, shall be copied to the Judicial Affairs Officer in the Office of Governing Council.

f) Whenever possible and appropriate, informal resolution and mediation shall be used to resolve issues of individual behaviour before resort is made to formal disciplinary procedures.

2. Specific

a) An Investigating Officer shall be appointed for a term of up to three years by the principal, dean or director (hereinafter called “head”) of each faculty, college or school in which students are registered (hereinafter called “division”), after consultation with the elected student leader or leaders of the division, to investigate complaints made against student members of that division. Investigating Officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed.

b) A Hearing Officer shall be appointed for a term of up to three years by the council of each division to decide on complaints under this Code made against student members of that division. Hearing Officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed.

c) If the Investigating Officer is unable to conduct an investigation, or the Hearing Officer is unable to conduct a hearing, or where the head of the division believes on reasonable grounds that the appointed officer is inappropriate to conduct the particular investigation or chair a particular hearing, then the head of the division shall seek an appointment from the central pool for that particular case. If the head of the division intends to request either suspension from registration or expulsion from the University as a sanction in a particular case, or if the case appears to the head of the division to require a Hearing Officer with legal qualifications, then the Senior Chair of the University Tribunal may, on the application of the head of the division, appoint a legally qualified person as Hearing Officer for that particular case.

d) Where the head of the division has reason to believe that a non-academic offence as defined in this Code may have been committed by a student member or members of the division, the Investigating Officer will conduct an investigation into the case. After having completed the investigation, the Investigating Officer shall report on the investigation to the head of the division. If the head of the division concludes, on the basis of this report, that the student or students may have committed an offence under the Code of Student Conduct, the head of the division shall have the discretion to request that a hearing take place to determine whether the student or students have committed the offence alleged.

e) The hearing will be chaired by the Hearing Officer. The case will be presented by the Investigating Officer, who may be assisted and represented by legal counsel. If the right to a hearing is waived, or after a hearing, the Hearing
[E.] Sanctions

The following sanctions or combinations of them may be imposed upon students found to have committed an offence under this Code. In addition, students found to have committed an offence may be placed on conduct probation for a period not to exceed one year, with the provision that one or more of the following sanctions will be applied if the conduct probation is violated.

1. Formal written reprimand.
2. Order for restitution, rectification or the payment of damages.
3. A fine or bond for good behaviour not to exceed $500.
4. Requirement of public service work not to exceed 25 hours.
5. Denial of access to specified services, activities or facilities of the University for a period of up to one year.

The following two sanctions, which would directly affect a student's registration in a program, may be imposed only where it has been determined that the offence committed is of such a serious nature that the student's continued registration threatens the academic function of the University of Toronto or any of its divisions or the ability of other students to continue their programs of study. Where the sanction of suspension and/or expulsion has been imposed on a student, the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) shall have the power to record that sanction on the student's academic record and transcript for such length of time as he or she considers appropriate.

A sanction of suspension shall be recorded on the student's academic record and transcript up to five years. The following wording shall be used: "Suspended from the University of Toronto for reasons of non-academic misconduct for a period of [length of suspension], [date]."

A sanction of expulsion shall be permanently recorded on a student's academic record and transcript. The following wording shall be used: "Expelled from the University of Toronto for reasons of non-academic misconduct, [date]."

6. Suspension from registration in any course or program of a division or divisions for a period of up to one year.
7. Recommendation of expulsion from the University.

[D.] Interim Conditions and Measures

1. Interim Conditions: Ongoing Personal Safety

In those cases where the allegations of behaviour are serious and, if proven, could constitute a significant personal safety threat to other students or members of the University community, the head of the division is authorized to impose interim conditions that balance the need of complainants for safety with the requirement of fairness to the respondent student. The interim conditions are in no way to be construed as indicative of guilt, and shall remain in place until the charges are disposed of under the Code's procedures.

2. Interim Measures: Urgent Situations

In some circumstances, such as those involving serious threats or violent behaviour, it may be necessary to remove a student from the University. Where the head of the division has requested an investigation by the Investigating Officer and the investigation is pending, the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) may, on the advice of the head of the division, suspend the student or students temporarily for up to three working days if, in the opinion of the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate), there is reasonable apprehension that the safety of others is endangered, damage to University property is likely to occur, or the continued presence of the student(s) would be disruptive to the legitimate operations of the University.

The student(s) shall be informed immediately in writing of the reasons for the suspension and shall be afforded the opportunity to respond. Any such temporary suspension may be reviewed by the Vice-President & Provost (or delegate) within the three-day temporary suspension period, following a preliminary investigation, and either revoked or continued. If the suspension is continued, the student(s) may appeal to the Senior Chair (or delegate), or the Associate Chair (or delegate) of the University Tribunal, who shall hear and decide on the appeal within five days.

About the University, the Faculty and the Colleges

Governing Structure of the Faculty

The Faculty of Arts and Science Council
The Faculty of Arts and Science Council considers the future policy of the Faculty and reviews the action of its Standing Committees and sub-committees, chief of which is the General Committee. The Council consists of all professors, full-time lecturers, senior tutors and tutors appointed to departments of the Faculty of Arts and Science, together with the student members and ex-officio members of the General Committee.

The General Committee
The General Committee is the major committee of the Faculty Council and is responsible for the formulation of policy for the Faculty of Arts and Science. Full details of its membership, and that of its Standing Committees, are in a brochure “Faculty Structure and Rules of Procedure”, available at the Office of the Dean.

The Faculty has been exploring changes to its governance structure, some of which may be implemented in spring 2006. Please see the online description of the Faculty’s governance structure at www.artsandscience.utoronto.ca/governance/ for the most up-to-date information.

Elections to Faculty Committees

Students
A nominee may run for only one office (although elected members of the curriculum committees and the Committee on Study Elsewhere shall also be seated on the General Committee). Each student may vote for nominees from only one College in the elections to the General Committee. Each student may also vote for nominees to the Committee on Study Elsewhere. A full-time student may also vote for the eligible number of nominees to the respective Curriculum Committee, except that in the election for the Committee on Social Sciences, the representative for Commerce and Finance will be elected by students in that program; other full-time students will vote for three members. Part-time students may also vote for one nominee to any one of the curriculum committees.

Nominations
Nominations to fill vacancies at the beginning of the winter session are made in the last half of September. Nominations may be made for the following academic year at the beginning of February. Nomination forms will be available from Departments, Registrars’ Offices and from the Office of the Dean. Advertisements appear in The Varsity, Voice, and The Bulletin, as well as on placards posted in various buildings.
Innis College offers its 1,600 students high academic standards, a dedicated faculty and staff, and a vibrant undergraduate community within the University of Toronto. Innis contributes four interdisciplinary programs to the Faculty of Arts and Science, listed under “Innis College” in the calendar: Cinema Studies; Urban Studies; and Writing, Rhetoric and Critical Analysis. College academic services include the library, the writing centre, and the math/stats centre and are designed to ease the transition to university and support Innis students throughout their university careers.

Founded in 1964 and named in honour of the late Harold Innis, political economist and pioneer in communication studies, Innis College is housed in a unique three-story building that blends old and new styles by incorporating a substantial Victorian home into a functional modern structure. At the core is the Town Hall, a forum-style auditorium. Classrooms and offices for the 25 professors associated with the College and its programs occupy the second and third floors. A library, a café with an outdoor patio, a rooftop garden, and study, lounge and student union space complete the facilities. Across the street, the Innis Residence is a modern apartment-style complex featuring 327 single rooms in four- or five-bedroom suites. The residence houses a diverse community of Innis students and students from professional faculties.

Innis is the only undergraduate college at U of T that ensures equal representation of faculty and staff and students in its decision-making process. With its parity governance structure, innovative academic programming, independent community living, civic outreach, and informed activism, Innis College has created a community in which students can flourish academically and socially.

New College, established in 1962, is open to students of all Faculties and Schools in the University. Approximately 4,300 of its students are in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and 400 in other divisions. Members of the College, whether in humanities, social science, science or professional programs, may broaden their university experience by meeting others from different fields and subject areas.

Arts and Science students have the full range of the Faculty curriculum open to them. The College takes part in their instruction through University courses taught by cross-appointed staff; and also through interdisciplinary courses (listed with the prefix “NEW” in the Calendar) designed to interest students in all Faculties. Individual tutoring is offered in Mathematics and Statistics, and the Writing Centre gives help with written assignments and reports. The College Registrar’s Office provides academic, financial, and personal counselling.

The College’s three modern, conveniently-located buildings provide academic, library, computing, dining and social facilities for all members, and also house the College residences. This creates an atmosphere of community, promoting contacts among students and staff and encouraging non-residents to become involved in college life. The residences accommodate approximately 860 students and welcome applicants from the Toronto area as well as from out-of-town. Residence application is made through the University Office of Admissions and Awards; further information about residence may be obtained from the Dean of Students, New College. For further information about the College, please contact the Registrar.

St. Michael’s College was founded in 1852 and is situated on the historic east side of campus in the heart of Toronto. St. Michael’s provides an oasis within the University of Toronto and the city itself. St. Michael’s is located just minutes from public transit, libraries, Bloor & Yonge Street shopping, museums and theatres. St. Michael’s is rich in tradition and has some of the most spectacular architecture on the University of Toronto campus.

Building on its distinguished tradition of academic excellence, the College is committed to enhancing and enriching the academic and personal growth of all of its students. There are approximately 4000 full-time and 500 part-time students registered in a variety of programs leading to a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Commerce degree.

St. Michael’s College is rooted in an intellectual Catholic tradition. At the same time, it welcomes students, staff and faculty from every faith and background. The College actively seeks to build a community in which cultural and other differences are appreciated and celebrated.

St. Michael’s students have access to all of the facilities located at the University of Toronto; however, the facilities and programs within St. Michael’s College are second to none. Facilities such as the John M. Kelly Library with its 400,000 volumes and over 1000 periodicals, the student centre, Chaplaincy program, the various clubs and sports, Mathematics Aid and Writing Centre, Debating Union and Theatre groups are just a few examples. Programs offered at St. Michael’s College are Book and Media Studies, Christianity and Culture, Mediaeval Studies and Celtic Studies.

Residence accommodations are available for both men and women. Applicants interested in visiting the residences should contact the Dean of Students, St. Michael’s College Residence at smc.residence@utoronto.ca OR Dean of Women, Loretto College at loretto.college@utoronto.ca.

All prospective students are encouraged to see the Associate Registrar for information, counselling and a visit. You may contact the office at stmichaels.registrar@utoronto.ca. The Registrar’s office is in Room 207, Alumni Hall, 121 St. Joseph Street. College mailing address is 81 St. Mary Street, Toronto, ON M5S 1J4. Trinity College opened its doors as a university on Queen St. East in 1852, graduating students in Arts, Music, Medicine and Divinity; in 1904 it federated with the University of Toronto, building a near-replica of its original building when it opened on this campus. The College enrols approximately 1,700 students in Arts, Science, and Commerce. It has established interdisciplinary programs in Ethics, Society, and Law; Immunology; and International Relations. The College maintains particular library strengths in these areas as well as in English, History and Philosophy.

The College's limited enrolment fosters a sense of community among faculty and students. Its resident Academic Dons, (senior graduate students who offer tutoring assistance in the Humanities, Life Sciences, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences and Commerce), along with the Registrarial staff facilitate informal contact for students with College Fellows who are faculty members drawn from many Arts and Science departments as well as from other Faculties. The College also provides the services of a Writing Centre (978-3530), and a Math Aid Centre.
About the University, the Faculty and the Colleges

(978-8454). The College includes its Library, Chapel, cafeteria, dining halls, common rooms, theatre, and sports facilities. Nearly 24% of the College students live in residence. Both residences, at St. Hilda’s and around the Trinity Quadrangle, house women and men, usually allocated by floor. The Gerald Larkin Academic Building, on Devonshire Place, includes the theatre, a new Centre for Ethics, lecture rooms and offices of many of the teaching staff, together with the Math Aid and Writing Centre. The International Relations Programme and its faculty members are housed in the north building of the Munk Centre for International Studies. The Buttery provides eating, lounge, and study space that is ideal for group discussions and computer use, as well as offices for “non-resident” students and the adjacent theatre. For further information about the College and for residence applications write the Registrar, Trinity College, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1H8. The Registrar will see prospective students by appointment.

University College was established in 1853 as the Provincial Arts College (the successor to King’s College, founded in 1827); it still occupies its original building near the centre of the St. George Campus. The College’s students may enrol in any of the courses offered by the Faculty of Arts and Science. In addition, University College offers seven interdisciplinary programs, including Aboriginal Studies, Canadian Studies, Cognitive Science and Artificial Intelligence, Drama, Health Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, and Sexual Diversity Studies. College courses in these and other areas are listed in the Calendar under Aboriginal Studies, Drama and University College.

University College offers residence accommodation for 700 undergraduates in both single and double rooms in its three co-educational residences, the Sir Daniel Wilson Residence, Whitney Hall, and Morrison Hall. Enquiries should be addressed to the Residence Office, 79 St. George Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 2E7. University College offers the services of a Computing Centre, a Math Aid Centre and a Writing Workshop. Other amenities include the University College Library, which comprises a circulating collection supporting UC programs and a spacious reading room; the U.C. Union with its dining hall and common rooms; the Playhouse, a theatre for student productions; the Junior Common Room; and the University College Literary and Athletic Society, Canada’s oldest student government, which sponsors a great variety of athletic, intellectual and social activities.

Victoria College, founded in 1836 as Upper Canada Academy, was granted a university charter in 1841 and federated with the University of Toronto in 1892. The college is located on a 15-acre site at the north-east corner of Queen’s Park opposite the Royal Ontario Museum. It offers many facilities to its students, including the E.J. Pratt Library with its 220,000 volumes, the Wymilwood Student Union, and a playing field. The Victoria College building, opened in 1892, contains classrooms, some faculty and administrative offices, Chapel and Alumni Hall. Northrop Frye Hall, completed in 1966, also provides office space for most of the administrative and teaching staff and contains classrooms and a large auditorium theatre. The Isabel Bader Theatre opened in 2001 offering a 500-seat state-of-the-art lecture hall with excellent facilities for the performing arts. Academic advising and support is provided by the Registrar’s Office. In addition, the College has a Math Aid Centre, a Writing Workshop, and tutorial services in a wide range of subjects.

Residence accommodation for approximately 800 students is available on campus. Annesley Hall, Margaret Addison Hall and Burwash Hall provide accommodation in single and double rooms for chiefly undergraduate students. The Lower Houses of Burwash Hall and Rowell Jackman Hall, an apartment style residence, house upper-year undergraduate and graduate students. All residence students take their meals in Burwash Dining Hall. Non-residence students may purchase meal tickets for Burwash or take light meals at Ned’s. Further information about residences may be obtained by writing to the Dean of Students, Victoria College, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1K7.

Woodsworth College is named in honour of James Shaver Woodsworth (1874-1942), minister, pacifist, social activist and Member of Parliament who was strongly committed to broadening educational opportunities for all. The College traces its roots to 1905 when a part-time program leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree was established at the University of Toronto. In 1920 the Department of University Extension was organized to offer credit and non-credit courses.

Woodsworth College was formally constituted in 1974 to offer credit courses primarily for part-time students in a number of faculties. In 1999 the College opened its doors to students proceeding directly from high school to full time studies. Woodsworth College is now home to over 3500 full time students and 3000 part-time students, who enrol in the full range of Arts and Science courses and programs - day and evening, summer and winter. The College also offers undergraduate degree programs in Criminology and Employment Relations; the Academic Bridging Program; international summer programs in Australia, Central Europe, China, Ecuador, England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Jordan and Mexico; and postgraduate certificates in Human Resource Management and Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

A special feature of Woodsworth College is the academic support program which includes academsc counselling, financial aid, study skills seminars, the Academic Writing Centre, and the Mathematics Lab. In co-operation with the Commerce Program, the recently expanded Computer Lab has thirty work stations with web access, word editing software and printing facilities. The Computer Lab is available to students enrolled in the Commerce Program or Woodsworth College, and is open extended hours. For further details e-mail wdwregistrar@utoronto.ca or check www.wdw.utoronto.ca.

Our new residence at the corner of Bloor Street West and St. George Street accommodates 371 students in air-conditioned suites with private single bedrooms. Each suite accommodates four to six students, with a shared living area, a full kitchen and two washrooms. There is twenty-four hour security, high speed internet access, common areas and laundry facilities. In addition, we offer a Residence Life Program of social and educational activities. The Woodsworth College Residence provides students with an exceptional residential experience in a modern building that is conveniently located, close to classrooms, libraries, athletic facilities and the subway. More information about the residence can be obtained at www.wdw.utoronto.ca/residence.
